King of Zobah] A large country in Syria, beyond Tenarus, between the two Armeniaes, inhabited by a people, called Sapheni, as Josephus reporteth. Against whom Saul formerand maketh war against him, knowing how dangerous it was, that the Syrians and their King, who were professed enemies to the Ifraclites, and dwelled to neer nato them , should grow fo powerful and puissant.

as he went to receiver his border at the river Euphrates] That is, as fome understand it, when David went to enlarge and fettle his dominion in those utmost limits of it, which God had given to his people, even to the river Euphrates, Joh. 1.4. Deut. 1.7. & 11.24. Others (and very probably) understand it of Hadadezer; that when he went to offablish his dominion sowards the river Eughrates, and must needs passe strongh part of Dawids country, or neer u to ir, which could not be, without dan-ger, in refect of his hoffile intention, and the enmity that was between them and their nations, he raifett forces, and fend-eth them under the conduct of Joab, and Abilhal, to fight with him, and to hinder his pailinge; as appeared in the title of the he, with that part of the army under his command, began 60 Pfalm. The which is the more likely, because it is faid, the battle, and made way for a full victory, by routing the 1 Chr. 18. 3. that the end of this expedition was, to establish his dominion; which might be understood of Hadadezer, that both Joab and Abishai were but his agents and inflruments, had reigned there; but not fo well of David, the bounds of and fought under his conduct and command, as being their whole kingdom, did as yet extend fo far.

whose singulation as yet extend to lar.

V. 4. And Doubt took from this torce teening quite energy and suppression Lord. Anot thus torce teening quiterness, men, and a coco fostener 1 f.e. Seven hundred decuries or ansist accordinate to the people that continue to the people that continue the people that continue the people that the like expression, ch. 10 17.

and David boughed all the chariot horses Whereby he made them unserviceable for war, though they might be of some use for other employments, and reserved only so many as were fit for an hundred chariots, four horses going to one chariot, 1 King. 10, 29, wherein he had respect to Gods commandment, forbidding the Kings of Ifrael, to multiply horfes

25.43. even as that other prophecy, that Elaus pollerity flouid to themselves, lest, leaving their trust in God, they should place break bis yoke from off bis needs, Gen.27.40. was accomplished in their confidence in their own firength, and warlike preparations. The which, alfo, was put in execution by Jofhus, at Gods command, Josh. vi. 6. and by David here, referving out of a thousand, and hundred only, for his own use, which was not a number exceeding the necessary occasions of a

King.
V. s. And when the Syrians of Danieleus] Which were the chiefest part of the Kingdom of Syria, and Damascus, the metropolis and chief city in it.

V. 6. The Syrians became fervants to David, and brought gifts] i. e. Pavd him tribute, by way of homage.
and ibe Lord preserved David ] i. e. Prospered his attempts,

V. 8 And from Belab, and Berothy ] Called also Tibhath, and Chun, I Chr. 18.8, either because they had double names, or because their old names were changed upon some occasion, when that biftory was written.

V. 9. when Toi King of Hamsth | Called also Tou, 1 Chr. 18.9. See Num. 13.21. A City of Syria, and (as some think)

V. 10. Then Tei fent feram bis fon] Named alfo Adoram, 1 Chr. 18. 10.

the victory, Gen. 43. 27.

V. 11. Which alfo King David did dedicate unto the Lord The training of Handship his fon Jorean be confected all of this training of Handship his fon Jorean be confected all of this training the Handship his fon Jorean be confected all of this training through the Handship of the Temple. Wherein the West artiple of Chriff; who having vanquind a Stann and the world, confectated the flayly of this conquefit, to Gods glory, and the finding and administration of the Charles; converting and whaking fome of the Wood above the Mandship his fon of globyladds reas our best the near the Handship for the Charles; converting and whaking fome of the Wood above the Mandship his fon of globyladds reas our best the near the Handship for the Charles; converting the form of globyladds reas our best the near the Handship for the Charles and the Leichners White his converting the form of globyladds reas our best the near the Handship for the Charles and the Leichners White his converting the form of globyladds reas our best the near the Handship for the Charles and the Leichners White his converting the form of globyladds reas our best the factor of th his many and great victories and conquests, he became renow- mine. Some think that they were called Cherethites from the ned for a great warriour, and famous conqueror, having all Hebrett word Charath, fignifying to be cur off; because at his expeditions and enterprifes erowged with profperous fue-vice Abishai was his chief Commander under Toab. See r Chr.

From finiting the Syrians in the valley of Salt | Scituate on the enfend of Mount Seir, without Syria, on the South of the dead Seas 2 King, 14.7. where David, in his return with his army, did by his Commanders, Abifhai and Joab, obtain anbeing grown sgain to great firength, David taketh notice of it, mics. Now whereas it is faid, that he fmote of Edem in the valley of Salt, 12: 00, in the title of the 60 Pfalm and 1 Chr. 18, 12. and here they are faid to be 18000, and called Syrians; it is to be conceived , that thefe two nations of Edom, and Syria, joyned together in this warlike expedicion; and whereas it is faid, I Chr. 18. 12. that Abifhai flew thele enemies ; and in the title before the 60 Pfalm, this victory is alcribed to Joab; and whereas in the Pfalm it is faid, that Joab flevy but 12000, and here there are numbred 18000, and in 1 Chr. 18. 12. also; it is thus to be understood, that Joah got this victory by Abifhai, (who was under his command, he being his General,) in the beginning of the fight, when as he fler 6000, and then, that Joab feconding him, by coming in with the whole body of the army, flew 12000 more, in all, 18000, which in the Chronicles, are faid to have been flain by Abifhai, in the full number of eighteen thouland; because ranks of the enemy; and bere it is afcribed to David, breaufe King and Supream Lord. And thus three feeming differences.

> conquered them, he placed garrifons in all their frong helds. to keep them fill under subjection and tribute , placing over them a vicercy, to govern them as his Deputy, which conti-nued unto Jorams time, 1 King. 22.47. & 2 King. 8.22. And thus that prophecy concerning Efau and Jacob, with their pofterity, that the clier fould ferve the younger, was fulfilled, Gen. the dayes of Joram.

> V. 15. And David executed judgment and justice] By which his throne was established, Jer. chap. 22. ver. 15. Prov.

And Joab the son of Zerviabawas over the host ] i.e. General of the army; to which honour he was preferred by Davids promile, for his taking from the Jebusites the strong Fort of Zion, 1 Chr. 11.6.

V. 16. And Teholashas - was recorder ] Or , remem. brancer, or writer of Chronicles and records; or, as it is with us, mafter of the Court of requests, to take notice of, and prefer the fuites of the fubicets.

and the Letter prepared 2014 of 1.6. Protected an attempts.

V. 7. And David took the fields of golf.] And fo laid them of his Temple, v. 12. which shreets, that David did not make were chief Priefs in David since, not that there were then to the repiper, 1.11 which interesting to David did not make the warrist of coveroning to enrich hindle; but chiefly, the there is a principle of the property of the pointing only one, that he might be a type of Chiff, our alone being and searning of the Temple. high Prich; and therefore would not have been permitted by holy David, as it was afterwards, under the corrupt government of Pilate and Herod, when there were two at once, Annas, and Caipbas; but thefe were two chief Priefts of feveral families, which had command over the reft of the Prieffs of these two families, according to that division made by David, t Chron. chap. 24. ver.3,4. which he did, to compound a controverfie between them, contending about the Prieffhood. But in the mean time, Abiathar only was the high Prieft, who fled from Saul to David, 1 Sam. 22, 20. and 19 unto King David bis fon to falme bim ] Heb. to ask bim of continued till Solomons time ; when , for his fiding with peace, i.e. To understand of his welfare, and to congratulate Adonijah, he was deposed, and Zadok put in his place, I King. 2, 25, 27, 35. Some think that the father and the fon had double names, and the one, and the other, called both Ahi-That is, having received this congratulatory Prelent from Toy, melech and Abiathar; and fo promifcucusly, Abimelech is faid

V. 18. And Benajab the fonof gebojadab was quer both the Chresbites and the Pelethires] Which were old, expert, ftrong, reflest of graze, and his fulfield phofiles and sendors and and utilizen men, (the the Preterion Sculdiers among the causing those precious are which had been abused formerly, to the advancing of Satran Kingdom, to be of freed in the for the Building of his Church,

V. V. Design of Building and Satran Kingdom, to be of freed in the for the Building of his Church,

V. V. Design of Building and Satran Kingdom, to be of freed in the for the Building of his Church,

V. V. Design of Building and Satran Kingdom, to be of freed in the for the Building of his Church, Satran Sa V. V3: And David gas bim a name when he verunned] i.e. By were so called, and whence they were, is not so costs to deter-

Chap. x.

the Kings command, they executed offenders: and the other pofferity, to do them good; and in them, to require his kingPelechites-from the word, Flant, which fignified the other produced the control of the severe excellent, because they were excellent when his father was flain, chop. 4, ret., and at this side when his father was flain, chop. 4, ret., and at his tries, then from their office; and that the Cherethites were fuch valiant and expert fouldiers of the Ifraelites, as were put in garrilon, into the towns and Cities of the Cherethims, in the country of the Philiftims, after David had subdued them, when dwelling at Ziglag, he made in-roads into their counwhen dwelling at Ziglag, he made in-roads into their coun-try, 1 Sim, chap, 30, v.14. Ezek, 25, 16. Zeph, chap, 2, ver, 45. And the Pellehitiss were also garrifon Souldiers, living among the Japhlethites, in the lot of the children of Joleph, John, chap, 16, v. 2. From which, being vallant and exper-souldiers, the King chofe his guard to attend his person. Yet did not all of them, and at all times, live at Court, but only gave their attendance by course, upon the King, as may be gathered, chap. 15. 18. and were also used as garrison Souldiers in warlike expeditions and employments, for the defence

And Davids fons were chief rulers ] Or, Princes; or as it is expressed, 1 Chr. 18. 17. were chief about the King, The which policy, or paternal affication in David, was not crowned with good fuccifie; two of his fons at least, Abialom and Adonijah. good missers, two or instons at reary Advancion and Adontian having their fiviris for arise to be their perferements, that they ambitiously affected Soveraignty, and one of them fo angled the hearts of the people, by calling before them the baits of the arouns, that being impattent of any delay, he would needs prefered to the people by the sound of them the baits of the people by the people fently usurp the Kingdom, though he could no otherwise flep into the throne, then by making his father his foot flool, not obtain his defire by any other means, then by his dear fathers death, and utter ruine.

CHAP. IX.

Ver. 4 Nd Dovid faid ] That is, enquired of his fer-

I hyants.

Is there any left of the boule of Saul 1. That is, is there any remaining of that family, which are fit objects of my love and kindnels? for other wife, he could not but know that divers of them were fill alive. that I may flow bim kindneffe for Jonathans fake ] Now David calleth to minde, the great love which had been between him & Jonathan, and the covenant of the Lord contracted in his prefence, and confirmed by folging path, that he would fiew kindmels to him, and his pofferity after bim, 18am. 18.3.& 20.14,15. netts to mm, and his potternly after oftm, 1840.10.3, & 20.14.15.1.

And indeed, a prent wonder it is to me, that he had not thought of it all this while, (being a man of fuch piety and morality, in respect of that incomparable love which his dear Jonatha had alwayes fin-wed unrohim, and the manifold fruits of his had alwayes fin-wed unrohim, and the manifold fruits of his favour received, which had concerned him as much as the prefervation of his life; all which he was bound to requite, not only by Covenant, but even common humanity. The which his neglect is not only excused, because David, before wanten in regiret is nor only execute, because here's and fabriatine, being buffed in felting his Kingdom at home; and fabriating his exemies abroad, had no leifure to think of their brivate affaires, but alfo highly commended; in that being felted in his Kingdom; he doot now, at laft, think of being felted in his Kingdom; he doot now, at laft, think of recompensing Jonathans love; though ( faving other mens better judgments, and alwayes, referving a most bonourable and deserved respect to holy David, for his true worth, and incomparable goodnesse, piety, and justice,) I do impute it unto David, as one of the chief errours of his life, that he did not anifwer Jonathan in his love, before this time; and afterward; failed, not only in his triendfhip, but also in his fullice, in his carriage towards poor Mephibofheth, the only fon of his de arest Jonathan. And the best that I can fay fom of hil de ared Jonathan. And the belt; that I can fay, in excelle folhis fault, is, that he was it King, and of, this jet to Kingly, errours, that is, jet outer, and inspirious, in things that cancera their Groom and Kingdom. For Inholenth Stale, fom, and it is very likely, with him, all their Family, fiding in that cause, had raifed war a gainful Dayle, precubing a right to the Crown, by lineal delector, and impleading his tilte vir, which God birnleft had given him is in which the be problem from the first fine all constants features infliciently exceeds. The problem is him all locations features infliciently exons the cure, which soon nomers and given num; in which re-fred, he might think all Jonathans favours inflictionly re-compended, if this rebellion were pardoned. And it may be, that fome old reliques of former jealouties full remained, of their plotting, to revive their title to the Crown; asit anpeareth by his easinesse and readinesse, to hearken to the falle pearett by no camero and resources; to senter to declare and foolish calumnies of treateness Zibig; and by his being for forward in passing that unjust features?, of dividing the land between them, left poor Methibolecus (tolding the care interest to Sulls lands), might in time, grow too great in wealth, and in the favour of the common people, who are in weath, and in the rayout or the common people, was are soft to millike the grievances of the prefent government, though never to good and july) and to afpire to the Crown and Kingdom. And thefe (as I conceive) were the chief caufes sehr David fo long delayed to think efficacionly of I onethans

(sitis likely) had not now been thought on, had not David now been fecurely fetled in his kingdom, and fo wholly freed from all fears and jealcufies.

V. 2. And there was of the house of Saul, a servant, whose name was Ziba From whence fome probably gather, that he was Canaapite, or a ftranger of some other nation, seeing the Ifraclices could ferve only for feven years, unleffe they would themselves; and then, it they preferred bondage before liberty, their ears were to be nayled to the door-post, and fo they were to remain fervants for ever, Exod. chap. 21. ver. 6, whereas Ziba had been fervant to Saul, and fo still continued in that condition; although it feemeth, that he was not an ordinary fervant, but in fome fpecial place of credit and employment, feeing he himfelf had twenty fervants belonging

o him, v. 10. V. 3. That I may fbew the hindueffe of God unto bim i.e. Either great kindnesse, as the phrase is used , or such kindnesse as I am bound by covenant to flew, which I have contracted in the presence of God with Jonathan, to his posterity; or such kindness as the Lord useth to show to the fatherless and distressed, whose example we ought to imitate. And thus he expresseth himfelf, that he might not conceal it, if he knew any fuch, as fearing, that he thus carnelly enquired after them, out of fome ill mention of doing them burr.

V. 4. Behold, he is in the bonfe of Machir, the fon of Ammiel in Lodebar] Who was, as it feemeth, a potent man, under whose protection Mephibosheth had put himself, of the tribe of Manasseh, Num. 26.29. & 32.39. who dwelled in Lodebar, which was in Gilead, in the tribe of Gad, on the other side of Jordan, not far from Mahanaim, ch. 17.27. where Ishbosheth for a time had reigned; whither he was brought, and commited to the care and truft of Machir, for his better fafety and feed to the care and trutt of Macing, stor his better latery and te-curity and there lived (as it feemeth) privately, and feereely, as thinking (perhaps) there was fome danger, in respect of the present time and state, to be known, being one of Sauls poster-

Then King Dovid feat and fet bind i.e. Caufed him to be brought unto him by his meffeogers whom he employed.

V. Now when Mephiofical the for of feat and more come! Who is also called Mevi bada, I Che. 8, 34 which (as fome think) was fits proper name; and the other name Mephibotheth his firname, given him, because of some deformity in his face or body.

was come unto David, be fell on bk face] Uling (as it is likely) this adoration and aweful reverence out of fear, that David, who had power in his hand to use him as he pleased had fent for him, had power in his hand to use him as he pleased, had sent for aim, intending him lone evil, which David perceiving, speaketh comfortably unto him, and promiseth to shew him kindnesse.

V. 7. And will refere thee all the land of Saut thy father? Or, grandfather. Which ufually in the Scripture are called fathers, Dan. 5.13. wherein he fhewed kindneffe to Mephibofheth,becaule it was conficate by reason of that war railed against him cause it was confined by featon or tent war rained against film by Sauls family; and in that tallo, be gave bim not only that land which was due unto him by inheritance, from his father Jonathan, but all to the whole lands that belonged to the board of Saul; unto which he added a further great kinderfie, that he would repute him as one of his own fons, and entertain him as westin repute aim as one of an own tons, and anterior with his daily guest, to dyer with him at his own table.

V. 8. What is thy forward that then shoulds look upon sub a dog as I am?] Which is an hyperbolical experision, whereby he humbly acknowledgeth his base condition, in respect of Davids royal eminency; and how far unworthy he was of his high and undeferved favours; and that because his family was rejected of God, and David chosen in their room; and in that alfo tiley were all dead in law, for rebelling against their Soveraign King, whom God had fer over them, and because (in versign king, whom soon man are over elem is must obe unit respect of his own person he was a lanne, contemptible, and forclorn man; and so, though a sit object of pity and mercy, yet not of homostrable respect, and kingly munificence. And thus David humbled himself formerly to Saul; acknowledgetous Lavia summered animent to many to Sau 3 assessment sign, that is camparifon of his royal dignity, he was but as a flea, or a partridg on the mountains, or as Mephibosheth here calleth himfelf a dead dog. 1 Sam. 14, 14, & 26, 20. chap.

5. V. 9. Then the King called to Ziba Sauls fervant] i.e. Who in former times had been fervant to Saul; but now belonged to Mephibosheth, ch. 29. 26.

I have given to thy mafters fon ] i. e. Mephibotheth, the Nephew, or grandion of Saul.

V. 10. That thy mafters fon may bave food to cat ] s.e. Either Micha, Mephibosherhs son, and those that belonged to him; leeing himself was to have, his daily dyet at the Kings table; on elfe, be meaneth Mephibutheth Sauls fon, of whom he fpeaketh under this name, v. 7. 10. namely, that Ziba should till sjudged that they were elike malicious towards them, and there-his land, and busband his estate for his use, and the provision fore that there could be no reality and sincerity in their profesfor his family; though in respect of his own person he had ston of friendship. And the rather, because (it may be) they not in the text; and because he was lame, he had the Kings Hebrew writers think he did ill, and therefore had fuch ill fucprovisions sent from his own table to bim. But it is plain in cess in the action. But things must not be judged of to be good the text, that it was the Kings speech, and so well expressed in our resultation, by adding, fast the King, unto use original, feeing it is added in the raw, be fast ear my table, as one of hip and leagues; yet in common himanity and civility, he feeling it is added in the raw, be fast ear my table, as one of hip and leagues; yet in common himanity and civility, he feeling it is added in the raw, be fast earning to the results of the feeling the feeling of the feeling the feeling of the feeling the feeling that the feeling the words kine he heartened.

with the king himicit,

V. 1. And Mephicoshith bad a young sou, whose name was Mitah Who is mentioned, I Chr. 8. 35. & 9. 40,41. who had sour sons, and these many others, in whom the samily of noble Jonathan was continued.

fo Mopbibofbeth dweit at Jerufalem ] Though his lands and inheritance were at Gibenh-Saul; both becaule he lived a fedentary life, being unfit to travel to and fro, by reason of his lameneffe; and also was to be Davids daily gueft, to eat at his

and was lame of both ble feet] Which is added, to thew what an honourable favour David did him, in that, though he were lame, and fo unfit to fit at the kings table, yet out of his love to Jonathan, he gave him this priviledg.

CHAP. X.

Verf. 1. And it came to paffe after this ] Compare this chapter with 1 Chron. 19. where the same flory is related. the King of the children of Ammon dyed | i.e. Nahafh, who had nam (a) it teenees) courteous entertainment; toougn not 10gg a nature; teening tory were the captive-spot titlet. Arbiffa-formuch for any flow to David, as out of his barter to Saul, load, and was sichiffed by God on the Chaldeane, say who was a common enemy to them both, baving given the one a great defeat before Jabez-Gileda, and perfected the prefixed of the property of the p the fafeguard of his life.

flould first himself to efficious to him, seeing, chap. 8, ver. to confort and cloath them. 11. It is laid; that among other nations, he had poyled the datase they grade, (namely or the mitingers whom he tent) children of Ammon, To which, the answer is ease, that it Tarry at Jerish vill your bearth be grown 1.e. In some village, is here spoken by way of anticipation, both of Ammon, and some of the other nations, upon the occasion of his spoyling before it was defleved; for Jerisho it self was not re-built, till Hadadez r, whom he conquered there, that he might fum up the time of Abab, I King, chapter 16, ver. 34. But the together the nations, whom he had vanquissed, as well as him, more obscure and private the place appointed for their consecrating their spoyls, for the building of the Temples, residing was, the more suitable it was for men in though the Ammonites were not then conquered and spoyled, their condition, who could not be seene without but now, upon this foul affront which they had put upon David shame. and his messengers; for till now they had lived in peace and unity one with another, as appeareth by their flewing mutual before David Thetis, had made themfelves odious and about kindneffe on both parties.

Hanun i e. Out of meer jealcufie, having no true ground, they mif-interpret Davids kindneffe, to be craftily diffembled, and not fincere, pretending, that he fent thefe meffengers to honour his father; whereas he intended them as spies, to horsemen out of Mesopotamia, amounting to that walk number fearch their country, and to discover some advantages for the of 32000 chariors, which they hired with a thousand taconquering of it, as he had done other nations. And thus letts of filver, 1 Chron. chap, 19. ver. 6. All which people fome polititians think, that they are then most wife, when were willing to joyn with the Ammonites in this war, as being they are most suspitious, though their wisdom becomen tol- all alike common enemies, whom he had lately subdued and ly, and oftentimes bringeth upon them those evils which they tear, and would prevent, as appeareth in this place.

bath not David fent bis fervants unto thee, to fearch the City, and to fie it out, aud to overthrow it] Where they measure Davids foot by their own lafte ; and because they bad falle perfidious bearts, and full of rancor and malice towards bim and his people; the which, upon all occasions, they were ready to shew, the metropolis, or chief city, was Reheb, ch. 8. 5. which was a as we fee in their carriage towards them, when they were in city at the foot of Libanus, feituate in the utmost bounds of Sy the Wildernef ; for which they were interdicted from coming ria, towards Palelline; of which, mention is made, Numb. into the Congregation unto the tenth generation, Deut. 23.1, 4. in the history of the Judges, ch. 10.80 11. and in the fiege of Jabez-Gilead; therefore, measuring them by themselves, they knew that they were bound by their law, not to feek their profperity, all their daye, for ever, Deur. 23, 6. And indeed, their rable.

V. 11. As for 90c0biolistis, fail the King, be shall est as my table! Which some Expositors understand, as the speech of a like being true, it may seem strange, that David, an holy stable! Which some Expositors understand, as the speech of a like observed of the sky, should shave founds respect to a like observed to the sky, should shave founds respect to the stable of the sky should shave founds respect to the stable of the sky should shave founds respect to the stable of the sky should shave founds respect to the sky should shave founds respect to the sky should shave founds respect to the sky should shave the sky should shave the sky should be sky should shave the sky should shave the sky should be sky should shave the sky should be sky should shave the sky should shave t Hanun, as to fend meffengers to comfort him; wherein the or evil,by their events, Ecclef. 9.1,2. And though it were un-

the one balf of their beards ] Like a foolish young king he hearkneth to the ill counfel of his ill advised princes, and rashly taketh order to have it put in execution; as Rehoboam to his young counsellors. And first, he caused the one half of their beards to be cut off and fhaven, partly to deform and diffrace them, that all, who fay them, might deride and jeer them; and partly bereby, to put a feorn on their religion and profession, leeing by the law they were forbidden, even in their mourning, to round the corners of their heads, and to marr the corners of their beards, Levit. 19.27. In respect of which law the linacites forbare to fhave their beards at all'; for if this had been in ufe among them, they should not have needed to have stayed as Jericko, till their beards were grown, seeing they might have cut off the other part which they had left, and so have presently returned home. And then again, whereas they used in those countries to wear long loose garmenss, both for case and ornament, comeliness and modefly, to bide their nakednesse, and to keep their uncomely parts from the open view; he cauled them to be cut off in the middle, even to the buttock, that those unfeemly parts, which nature it felf teacheth men to hide, might formerly befieged Jabeth-Gilead, as appeareth, 1 Chr. 19. 1. lye open to their fhame; herein also crofling the law of God, Sam. 11. . which so carefully provided, that such nakednesse might not be V. 2. Then said David, I will seem kindnesse unto Hanun Da-discovered, that they were sorbidden to a scend unto the alter. was, the Scripture mentioneth not, nor when it was shewed the law of God, of nature, and nations 3 and thereby delerved unto him. Jerome thinketh, that it was when he fled from most severe punishment. The like despite and digrace the Achifh King of Gath, to Nahash King of Ammon, who gave king of Affyria offered unto the Egyptians, though not in so him (as it seemeth) courteous entertainment; though not bigh a nature, seeing they were his captives, but the school hambassa.

c fifeguard of his life.

And David fers to comfort him] It is questioned, how David unto David, by some messegers, he personny dispatched some and the King faid, (namely by the meffengers whom he fent)

V. 6. And when the children of Ammon favo that they flank minable, as a loathlome carrion to the fenfe of fmelling, by V. 3. And the Princes of the children of Ammon faid unto their horrible fact, in abufing his ambaffadore, So Gen. ch.

> they bired the Syrians of Beth Robob, and the Syrians of Zoba] And the reft here mentioned; and with them, chariots and brought under tribute ; hoping hereby that they flould finde an opportunity of revenging themselves on David and his prople, for all their former damages and harms received from them, and free themselves from all that bondage in which they now lived, under them, ch. 8. 9. Syrians of Beth-Rebeb] i.e. Out of that part of Syriagin which

13. 21.
and the Syrians of Zoba] See ch. 8.3. ZZZı

Chip, ki.

and of King Massab] King of one part of Syrias a Chron. 19.

6. neer Gilead Traconnites, Deut. 3. 14. And of I biob 12000 men] Which was the country where Tephthab dwelt. See Jud. 11. 13. And befides thefe, they had fome help from Aram-Nabaraim, mentioned in the ricle of the

16. Pfalm. V. 7. And when David heard of it, be feat foib, &c. ] That v. 7. Ann auton about the year year, occ.) a may be an apparing susquent any jorners toury trousants societies pradently, he did not flay ull they meated his land, but me mentioned, the 17. 18. For which flush buge multi-metch his army under the command of load to prevent them, tudes of men, the Syrians, and other nations in those dayes, by invading their country, and fo to make it the feat of array before the gates of their own city; that if they were braten, and put to the worfe, they might fecure themselves by a safe retreatanto it; and caused the Syriams, and their other auxiliaries, to pitch their battle in the field, that fo they might environ the [Gathiegs, both in the front and rear, when they control top quartines, total an interior and teats when they confidence from the made peace with Ifree, and freed the came to fight, 33-11 is very 0, they were pleased in the field in form different from the city, because they held, it designed to have them, being mercenavies, too neer their city, especially being fuch a numerous multitude, left they should surprize it if they got the merous munitate, ter they mean any life in the better of the day.

V. o. its choic all the choice men of Ifrait, and put them in array gainst the Syrieus.] Because he thought that they being but mercenaties, would not fund to it, if they were body charged 5 and it they were beaten and routed, the Ammonites would quickly besutto flight, being discouraged and discomfitted by

V. 10. And the reft of the people he put under the hand of Abi[bai] i.e. He appointed them to be under his command and conduct in this battle.

V. 11. And be faid, If the Spriens be too firong for me ] Because the lasety and prosperous success of an army, doth much consist in the concord of the Commanders, and the right understanding one of another, he prudently maketh this agree-ment, before the fight, with his brother; and less he should be ment of vacour in all the army to be under his conduct, he cen-time all the Summer following to befine their cities, and to gageth both himfelf and him, by a mutual promife, that in the battle they flould relieve one another, as occasion should interest the property of the flooding of their case-require.

V. 12. Let w be of good courage, and play the men] Here (if V. 1. Les us of good connege, and lays be men! letter (it were) Joah herveth himidit a valuare, prudents, and pious General, putting life and vigour into the heart of his army, by a well-gregarded encounsquenten namely, that why wret to fight in a good coule, and in a jud quarren, spainly the Ammer was a consideration of the property of the lays of the property of the lays of the property of the lays of name and office and difference by them in their ambediation of the people from the world name and for the prefer the world until with delitory. the rage of their malicious enemies, who would interly deftroy the rage of their milicious enemics, who would unterly defitory them, it they prevailed and got the viftory; and to keep their crites and native country, given unto them by God for an interrupter, and which he had also referved unto himself for his inheritance) from utter ruine and vallation; not doubting if they did their part, that God would be wanting, on his, in gi-

V. 15. And when the Syrians fam that they were fmitten befor I free! they gathered themselves together] i.e. having no hope that David would make peace with them, because they drebelled and joyned with the Ammonires, to make war against him , they recruit their army ; and recollecting their against aim, they rectain their army; and recombining their fearces of orces, they prepare for a new expedition.

V. 16. Hadaregy fen and brought out the Syrieus that were beyond their their fen and brought out the Syrieus that were beyond their their first agents, and hired the Syrieus. that inhabited beyond the river Euphrates.

and Shobach] Called also Shophach, 1 Chron. chap. 19.

V. 17. And when it was told David, be gathered all Ifrael totneoursgement.

V. 18. And David flew the men of feven bundred chariots o the Spriane | Which had ten fighting men in every chariot, and fo make up the number of feven thousand, mentioned, I Chr. 19.18. Seech. 8. 4. or feven hundred troops of berfemen in chariots, confifting of ten in a troop, as Junius would have and fourty thousand hersemen] Besides fourty thousand foottudes of men, the Syrians, and other nations in those dayes, used to go cut to battle, I King. 20. 10. And for this cause, David going to fight with them, is faid to have gathered all War.

V. 8. And the children of Amono. came out and put the battle internet, a type enting in of the gash. To wit, of Medeba, as lapraseth, 1 Chro. 19, 7.9, which was acity feituate in the bottle internet, at the mono, of which mention is made, Numba. 1

30. And here the Amono, fer which mention is made, Numba. 1

30. And here the Amono, fer which mention is made, the battle in limited for the control of the control of the control of the made in the control of the co reigned in Damalcus, in Solomons time, 1 King, chap. 11.

13,24. V. 19. Who were fervants to Hadereger ] That is, who had been in his pay, and fought under him in his quar-they made peace with Ifrael, and ferved them] i.e. Came under Verl. 1. And it came to pass after the yeer was expired, ] Heb.

Agier the return of the yeer, ] To wir, after the former bartle was fought with the Ammonites, and the writer of that yeer ended.

as the time when kings go forth to battle] That is, in the fpring when the earth yieldeth her fruits, ferving for food, provant, and forrage, necessary for the relief of an army, both man and horse. So 1 King. 20.22. 2 Chro. 36.10. when the former yeer being expired, the yeer following is faid to begin or return, because the Sun then returned to the same place where it begun its course the former yeer. And then David having been hindred from persecuting his victory, by the approach of winter, the fpring coming on, he fendeth again Joab with his chief commanders, and the whole army of Ifrael, against the children of Ammon, to compleat his conquest, because in that scalon they had all provisions fit for an army, and had

1 Chr. 21. 1. That is , they wasted their country with fire and fword; and fo having removed all ftops out of their way, they laid fiege to Rabbah, which was afterwards called Phitrey late nege to Kaddan, which was afterwards called Phi-ladelphia, and was not the metropolis, or chief city of the Ammonites, lying on the mountains of Gilead beyond Jor-dan, by the head of the river Jabbok, chapter 12, verie

26. 27.

But David tarried at Herufalem] Which is added, (as I conceive) to imply, that David did begin to grow flack, in executing the duty of a King, in being their General, to go out cuting the outy of a hing, in being their sciencial, to go out and in before them, in time of war; whereby in former times, he had purchalfed fuch fame and honour, both at home and abroad; and now begun to give himfelf to eafe and plea-if they did their pare, that God would be wanting on his, in girl (ince. V. 2). And it came to paife in an econing-tide, that David ving them victory; but how flower, quietry fubuniting them felves to be difficated of a this good pleature. So David, chaps, 151, 26.

V. 14. So finds returned from the children of Ammori] That is, having, by this famous withou, brough them under, he time of did not, for the preferent, any future puture shem, the time of the pare of the day, which is air dots not be freen the year (as it fremeth) being path, of keeping the field, chapter wealth, and various employments, for the good of the whole State; fo, much lefs did this cafe and idleness become David at this time, when the army of Ifrael was in the field, and daiat this time, when the armyel timet was in the bette, and datherprofice to danger, to give himself to fecurity and floth. And this is here related, as a chief cause of Davids fearful fall inco his find of Adultery. For whereas in his former dayer, when he was perfecured by Suil, and afterwards being King, impliyed himself in the wars, and in fetting the flate and government Euclefaltical, and Civil, lee was never tainted with any fcandalous fin, but walked in Gods fear, baving respect And they came to Helam ] A City ( as some think ) in the to his commandments, Pfal. 119. 6. now entertaining one of Sprinna country, but twenty miles diffnat from Jerusche sias of Sodom, which was idlenes and sloth, Ereck 16, 49, leas.

Leas. cleanueste, which are feldome severed the one from the other; even as the heathen Poet, who was skilful in the very art of loving and lufting, did observe, oria fi tollas, 600.

and walked upon the roof of the Kings boufe] Which in those v. 17. And when it was that David, or general as 1/100.

The Refine year a publisher and numerous survey and walked upon the roof, of the Kingt boule[] Which in a thole of a great a runy out of all lifest 4, and in his own perfon, led very with buttlements about them, Deut. chap. 22. ver. 8. them forth, as their Generaling this reposition, for their better.

See John 2. 6, and the general about them, Deut. chap. 22. ver. 8. ver. 25:

And from the roof he fam a moman mashing ber felf] To wit, ling eye of God, which beheld his clote-afted fig, nor his fallice that the might be purified from her legal uncleanneffe, con-tracted by her monethly and menticual difease, according to the Law, Levit. 15. 19. 8c 18.19. So ver.4. And thus he faw her walking her felf, either in her garden, which was neer adjoyning to his palace, or otherwise be could not have discerned her beauty, if she had been at a surther distance,) and then the was not free from faultineffe, in taking no more care to hide those beauties, which being discovered, were a bait for luft : especially, being so neer the Kings Court, where usually, had some weight and worth in themselves, yet were idle and they are at most leifure, and take most liberty, to gaze after wanton objects, their rafe and idlenels being accompanied wanton objects, their eale and talenels being accompanied with fulnels of bread, Ezek. 16.49. Or as others think, (judging her to be a vertuous, wile, and modest woman, as the Scriptures report of her, Prov. 1, 8, & 6, 20, & 31, 1.) that fhe walhed her felf in ber ebamber, and that fome calement nie want dier tert in der Gaander, die Gaste Gene Carender opposite to be Kings Palace, being zeckdentally open, David with the quick fight of a luffel eye, gazed opon het, and was enfoared with the rebauty, wherein he forgot his own prayer, Pfal. 19, 37. And thus in the old world before the flasod, the fons of God, which were of the posterity of Shoth, giving their eyes liberty to gaze upon the beauties of the daughters of men, which were of Cains progeny, were enfoared with lufful defires, and took them to be their wives, though never fo wicked.

V. z. And David (out and enquired after the woman) That is V. 3. And David join and enquired after the words! I hat its, whereast, when his warnon eyes had betrayed his heart, and in-filamedit with unlawful luft, he should prefently have quenched his wild-free, or fuddenly east it out, by mediatizing on the greaments of the fin, and the grievoulors of the punishment; have displeasing it would be to his good God, and how dishonourable to himself; contrastwife he revolvest it in his minde, and fo giveth his confent unto it with delight; he firft never is at reft, in plotting and contriving, til, at laft, he pro-

And one faid, Is not this Bathfbebs ? That is, one of the fer vants, of whom he enquired, 'flrongly affirmed, and perempterily told him, that is was Bathfheba whom he had feen. the daughter of Elizm Called alfo Ammiel 1 Chron. 2. e

Who is thought by Jerome, to be that Worthy of David, mentioned, 2 Sam. 23 34. who was the fon of Ahitophel the Gileonite, Davids great Counfellor, the wife of Maiab the Gittite | So called, because he was so by

Nation, and now a Profelyze to the Jewish Religion. See 1 Sam. 26.6, and the note upon it. Or, as others think, be-cause he was born in in a place, called Heth, near the place of Abrahams burial; and hence called a Hittite, though he were a natural Ifraelite, because he was borne in that country, Gen. 23. 3. And he also was one of Davids Worthies, 1 Sam. 23 39. So that Bathineba was an honourable woman, both by parentage, and also by marriage; and therefore David more faulty in abusing her, to fatisfie his wanton lust, especially being another mans wife, and he having to many of his own, and was at his liberty to have taken more; as Nathan afterwards, speaking from God, doth aggravate his fin, chap. 12.

3, 4, 8. V. 4. And David fent meffengers and took ber] That is caufed her to be brought unto him; not fignifying (it is like) by them the end of his fending for her, (for this had been the proclaiming his fhame) but pretending some other business, when the came he allured and perswaded her to commit this folly and filthiness with him; and the wanting grace, and the fear of God, and that conjugal love and faithfulness, which the owed to her dear and worthy husband, conferred unto him being better pleafed to be the harlot of a King, then the loya wife of an boseft fubrect.

for the was purified from her uncleanness] Or, when the had purified her (of. That is, from the ceremonial uncleanness of her monerally fickness, Levit. 15.19, and 18, 19. (whereby the was aprer to conceive) but hereby defiled her felf, with moral filthiness, of body and foul,

V. 5. And the woman conceived, and fent and told David, and faid I am with child. ] That is, either fhe wrot unto bim, becaufe Laters bloth not; or, the fent before, to fignife her coming, that the might have the more free and private acces; and when the taute, told him fecretly, that the was with childe. Which the did to this end, that they might advile together, of the likeliest means, whereby they might hide their sia and sharie. And also, that the neight avoyd the rage of her husband, at his coming home; and escape the punishment, by the law, due unto ber, which was no leffe then death, to be indicted on the adulterefs.

V. G. And David fent to Joah, faying, Soud me urich the don, he might have peace with God, he falleth, in the hardness fields, that I should go home to my mansion and dwelling and power ready to punish it. And to this end he fendeth for 11rish, that coming home, and lying with his wife, he might father his baftardly brood, and fo clear him from all diffrace ; in the mean time, not caring, most unjustly, to thrust in his own fon to be Uriah's heir, and to rob his children, if after he had any lawfully begotten, of their inheritance.

V. 7. David demanded of bim bow Fash did and how the people did and bow the war professed] Which questions, though they frivolous, in respect of being the occasion for which he caused Uriah to be fent unto him. For why fhould he withdraw for great a Worthy from the fervice of the war to answer such queltions, as he might be (and no doubt was) daily refolved in, by Letters, and Pofts that paffed, to and from between bim and the Camp. Which frivolous inquiries, might juffly make Uriah suffer (and who knows but that they did >) that there was fome other cause of his sending for, by David, befides this which was pretended, and foto grow jealous of his beautiful wife, which might be the true cause, why he could not be perswaded to go home and accompany her.

V. 8. And David [aid to Urish, Go down to thy bonse, and wash thy feet | That is, after he had answered him to his questions. be difmiffed him, under this pretence, that it was fittor him, after fuch a journey, to refresh himself, and take his case; but intending, indeed, to have him go home and lye with his wife, that fo his fault might be cloaked and covered. So that when he biddeth him go and wash his feet, which after a journey they used to do, in those hot countries; it was as much, as if he had said, Go, recreate and refresh thy self after thy and there followed bim a mefs of meat from the King \ Which he fent after him in fhew of kindnels, but with a purpofe, that committed adultery with her in his heart, Matth. 5. 28. and being made frolick and jolly, by receiving fuch a favour from bong made-froited and Jolly, by receiving fach a favour from the King, and allo faring more plentifully onfuted dainties, he might be the more speto defire his wives company. V. 9. But Italy for at the down of the Kings badge, with all the fervants of the land 3 Which were appointed to fitchere, to guardehisperion. And this God, by a fecter, and all-rulling providence, inclined his bearet to do, that Davids, fin might come to light, noverthillanding all his policies and perforations to the contrary; and (as it may, more then probably, be thought) though his fair (but falle) wife, had come her felf. and used many intreaties, and much importunity to draw him to his own house; seeing it did so much concern her, to enjoy his company, to cover her fault and hide her fhame.

V. 10. And when they had told David To wit, they who were appointed, by him, to observe his course and carriage. and fo to make relation to him of what they faw.

cantest thou not from the journey? Thus when his counsel postulation: as if he had faid. It might well have befeemed thee to have taken mine advice, feeing, I not onely required thee to do it, as thy King, but as a friend, perfusaded thee to do nothing but that which was for thine own eafe and wel-fare, namely, to refresh thy felf, after folong a journey. For Rabhab (as some of the Learned think) was so far distant from Jerusalem, that it was a journey, for a foot-man, of thirty

V. 11. And Ilriah faid unto David The Ark, and all Ifrael and fudah abide in tents | It is very probable, that the Ark was at this time with Joab, in the Camp, ; leeing, they pled in great and dangerous wars to bring with them the Ark into the field, and that both for their better encouragement, it being a visible sign of Gods presence, and also that they mighe confult with God, in their great doubts and difficulties, as appeareth, Sam. 4 4. and 14.18. Neither (as I conceive) doth he underfland it of the Arks being in the tent which David had prepared for it; feeing it being fixed there, not only at this rime, but also before and afterwards, he should upon the fame reason bave forborn to lye at his own house when the war was ended : and faying joyntly, that the Ark, and Ifrael, and Judah, did abide in tents, it feemeth to imply, that they were all alike in tents, and in the fame place; though it is not much material of what tent we understand it.

and my Lord Foab] And some think, he so calleth him in- a more peculiar relation he had to him above others, as being his armour-bearer. But because for this we have no Scripture grounds, it may be understood, thathe calleth him his lord loab, in a common relation, as he was General of the (ball I then go to mine boule to cat and to drink, &c. ] As if he had faid, how unfitting is it, when my Lord and General, so far my Superiour, and the whole army of the God of Ifrael, yea the Ark of God it felf, doth abide in tents, in the open officart, to plot and contrive means to conceal it from the houle, and there foliace my felf with variety of delights; Which amovined of man; in the mean time, not regarding the all fee- fire, to fit his, night have been a loud peal to awaken David danger: when as Uriah on this occasion, made conscience of dangers when as Mrah on this occasion, made conticence of enjoying those deligibts at this time, which otherwise in themselves, were lonest and lawful. But it pleated God to leave David to himself; that by his fearful fall, her might be humbled; and that by his canople, others might be admonsibled, norto trust in their own frength; a forif Cedars fall, what will become of thinks are himself, the might he confined and the confin trut in metrown itengun; tor it vecars rais, waat win de-come of finubs? or, being fallen, might be comforted, and encouraged to rife with him, by true repentance, in hope and affurance, that they also, as well as he, thall have their fin pardoned, seeing God is no accepter of persons, but alike graci-ous to all, that are alike qualified to receive mercy and for-givenels. As then liveft and as thy foul liveth I will not do it &c. ] Which as not a double oath, but an earnest aftiveration; Or, more pathetical expression of the same thing: as if he had said, It is pathetical experision of the time tability: 28 is no that faid, it is as certain at thou are alive; or as faire, as I define that thou miself faillity, that no perfeadions shall ever more me to do this thing. All which pious and conficionable care and carage in Units, did but read no aggravage Davids sin, in practising against him; seeing he was nothing affected with it, nor moved at all to defift trom bis purpole. See 1 Sam,

Chap.xij.

Annotations on the fecond Book of Semuel.

20. 3. and the note upon it. V. 12. And David faid to Wrigh, tarry here to day alfo] Having V. 12. Ana David lata to Head, strip our to any app 1 Having the fact hardned, through the deceiptuines of fin, he observeth not the passes of Gods providence, crofling him in his default it little that against the stream, and will not suffer U-12h to depart, till he had tried another finful conclusion, for the attaining to bis end. attaining to ois end.

V.13. And when David called him, he did eat and drink before him, and he made him drunk] Hereby intending, both to make him to forget his oath, that he would not go home to his house; and also more apt to defire his wives company, being inflamed and intoxicated with wine; to which becould not perswade him whilest he was sober. Where we have, in Uriah, an example of humane frailty, if he be left to himfelf; for ne doubt, he who fo refolutely refuled to enjoy his wives company, and to take his case and lawful pleasure, in his own houle, did much more abhor to use excess, and drink himself drunk, in the presence of the King ; but now he is made so frolick in the pretence of the Kingi, pur now ne is make to troited and jorial, by the apprechasion of this special favour from his Sovereiga, that forgetting his former auftere resolution, he falleth into the fine of dundernates; David (as it feemeth, prefling him to drink more than he desired) steing it is said, prefling him to drink more than he desired) steing it is said, (not that he allowed him plenty of wine but) that he made him drunk, by caufing him to be plyed with cup after cup. And we have, in David, an example of that extream and horrid wickedness, which even Gods dearest servants are apt to fall into if he leave them, in the time of tentation, to their own frengeh; who, though, in the whole courfe of his life, he was a man according to Gods own heart, and had respect to all his commandements, doth now, to avoid the deserved shame of his sin, not only, to cover and hide it from the sight of men, draw his faithful fervant into the bestial fin of drunkenness but alfo the impious fin of periury, as much as in him did lye if God had not, by a strange and strong providence, preserved him from it. The like example, also, we have in Peter, who being lest of God to his own strength or, rather, weakness, did for fear, with curfing and swearing, deny and abjure his Lord and Master. Which may teach the best to pray often and earneftly, that God will not lead them into tentation ; Or at leaft, that he will deliver them from evil.

but went not down to bis boufe] That is, notwithstanding all Davids devices and practices he remained firm and conftant is

V. 14. And it came to pass in the morning, that David wrote V.1.4. And it cames to play in the merung, that Davis were learn by find). That is, when all his plots and politics failed, for the effecting of his defign, which was to hide his fin of adultery, bed by a letter call in Josh to his findlance, that by his hip he might take away Uriahs life, by fluch means as might not come to light, and for high that his his hid and comecaled. Whereit is forth Davids fearing properhis fin. conceases. Whereas her form Davies tearns progress in in-from one degree to another, and from a leffer to a greater. First, having given way to stoath and idlentie, unbeforming a King,he fallesh into wantonness and lust; and this fire being ang, are must not wantoners and may a me the nee oring kindled, and he using no means to equech it; it flameth out to the aft of adulery; and not repenting of it, he onely taketh care to hide his shame, but not to be learned from his sin, and for seeken hy wicked policigs to attain his said. And first, he drawesh Utiah his faithfull servant to commit the fin of drunks that the said of th drawin Uriah his faithful fervant to commit the in or drunk-emele, that he might frogt and follife his oath, and by lying with his wife, might polliare his adulerous filthinets. And when this would not take, rather then he would fail of his ond, he now contriveth his death, and byfuch means as tended to the heartning of the enemy, by the ruine of divers others of the Army, in a treacherout way, their fellow fouldiers much dej. Cted with this lofte. and communder, deserting them in the fight; and baying looking Y. 26. And when Mriabs wife beard that Uriab ber bunbend out of his deep fleep of fin and fecurity; feeing be wallowed himfelf in unlawfulfulf and pleafure; in the time of common himfelf in unlawfulfulf and pleafure; in the time of common maze of wickedness, and being grown flupid and batched moze of wickedneis, and being grown nupra and patone de with the decidinates of in, he lysth fleeping and fineruse; in his spiritual lethangie, a long time together, till God was pleased to the minister, of the Propher Nathan, to waken him out of it, and bring him to repentance. And thus Daniel of the state of the propher has his heart flat. nim out or it, and oring nim to repensance. And thus Darid, who had fuch a tender conficience, that his heart finete him for cutting off the lap of Sauls garment, being left of God, groweth fo hard-hearted, and fencelle in finning, that he ferupleth not to murther his faithful and innecent lervant, (yea becaufe he was innocent and simple hearted) and together with him divers others; and also draweth on Joab to partake with him in the same wickedness; as though it were not enough to go alone in the way of death and destruction, unless others, by his perswaften, did bear him company; so great unitis others, by his perivation, and tear that company, to great caule we have to pray daily unto God, not to lead, or at leaf, not to leave us in tentation, feeing holy David, being thus left of God, finneth more fearfully then wicked Ahab a for he left of God, finneth more tearfully then wicked Ahab 4 for he covered but the vincyard of his fubject and neighbour; but David the wife, yea, even the life of his faithful and valiant fervant and fouldier, and that because he could not draw him from his fingleness and fimplicity, to serve his own

V. 16. And it came to pale when Josh observed the city ] To wir, that he might finde out in what part of it the floutest foul-diers manned the walls. No fooner had be received commands from his king, but presently he putteth them in execution, not caring whether they were right or wrong, nor how unpleafing caring whether they were right or wrong, nor how unpleafing to God, foke might place his foverage, upon whole favor he wholly depended, for his worldly preference. It may be, David in his letter pretended that Uriah was guilty of fome foult, for which he deterved death; though for fome reasons he was unwilling to have it known; but Jook knew well ne was unwining to nave it known; our joar knew well enough, that no offender cught to dye upon the Kings com-mand, but a legal tryal; nor unleft he were convicted by two or three witnesses; or if thinh deferred to dye, yet not in this manner, wherein others that were innocent must dye with bim. And therefore it may well be thought, that Joab herein bad no other aym, then to please the King, and (it may be) to recover his favour to the full height, which he had lessened and abated, by the murther of Abner, when as himfelf was as gulty as he, of the like f. ct. V. 17. And the men of the city went out ] To wit, those valiant men which Josh had oblerved, fallied out of the gate of man men water Joan had oblerved, fallied out of the gate of the City, where the affault was given; and fighting with that part of the army, in which Urah was placed in the front, they flew forme of them, and Urah with the reft.

V. 20. Then Foab fent and told David] i. e. He deviled and put into the meffengers mouth a form of forech, fetting a fair colcur on a foul cause; and dawbing over a rotten ruinous building with untempered morter, to please David; he found him to be displeased with the losse; but it seemeth, that howforver the meffenger delivered the main subitance of the mater, yet be left out the enlargements ,as fuperfluous and needcr. you've left our the eating meant as uperitious and need-left, feeing David made no fook objections again his fervier, but was well accough planfed with the flughter of others, when as he hard that Unitah was falls with them. V. 21, 17/26 former Administrative before of gradually judg, 9, 13. That is, the fon of Gidden, called Jesubbash Judg, 7, 1. But here Jerubh flath, because the Hebrews, in deterflation

But here Jerubbus fasth, herauft the Hebruw, in detesfiation of fidols, did expunge the word Baalo out of their gamets, and put Bestheth, or Beethal, in the place of it, figuisting an infamous thing, as the field was, Hof. 9, 10. See and compare 1 Car. 4, 373 with a King, a. 8, & x Chr. 8, 34, with a Sam. 4. 4, where Ethioland, and Mentibusal, in the one place, are called (libolatics and Mentibuskal, in the other.

V. 33, Sarry ji her mep resulted agginf at ji 4. The valiant Souldiers of Rabbas, that was besinged, fallyed out upon us, and flew forme of us. them to retire, pursuing them to their very gates, and so in heat of war, came too neer the wall, and lost some of our

V. 5; Then Denid faid unto the muffinger fay so flash, Let us this thing difficulties? Where he differed bette with the confilence, and dispetation he lampherer oh its men, to this end, that mether his bloody and creul commandment, nor Joshs wicked obedience, might be discovered. the fund devorations or and account of the control of t the [word devourab one, as well as another] i.e. The event of nes personales para la menta atamera j. 1. e. por evento war is various, and men are fain, fomentimes on the one fide, and fometimes on the other; and therefore we must be con-tent, and bear with patiente, finel period not when they happen, feeing it is in vain to [trouble our felves too much with fuch things a cannot be prevented.

**and excourage shoutes*

| and excourage shoutes*

| my name, encourage and comfort him, that he be not too was deal fie mourned for ber burband] So Gen. 20 3. The times 41. Now in expounding of a parable, we are enietier to look of mourning, as Josephus writeth, lasted but seven dayes. So Gen. 50.10. 1 Sam. 1 112. Ecclef 22.12. though in their more folema mournings they tafted thirty dayes, Deut. 24.8. The which, though it might be in her a merry mourning, onely in a formal, ceremonial and counterfeit thew, to bleer and blinde the eyes of the people, because, by his death she was not onely freed from his wrath and rage, and the punishment hope to become a Queen; yet the had cause enough of grief, and even of heart bleeding and heart-breaking mourning, when his confidered, that by her fin he had caufed his unsiniely death. Although Davids fin was much more haynous, who being a King and a Prophet, had allured her to uncleanness, and had also plotted and contrived Uriahs death, by the Iword of Gods enemics.

V. 27. And when the time of mouraing was past. David sent and fet ber, &c.] Which, no doubt, was as short as might be, that by taking her to wife the sooner, she might be thought so be with childe by him, after they were married.

But the thing that David did, diffleafe the Lord That is, his whole carriage in the matter of Uriah. For though David were a manafter Gods own heart, and greatly in his love, in refpect of his perfon, yet be bated and abhorred his fin, as haynous and abominable, and did feverely correct him for it; love of the person to bate their sig. and in the greatest batted of fin,to love the person.

CHAP. XII.

And the Lord sent Nathan unto David ] Or, wherefore the Lord, &c. That is, Because David. who was beloved of God and belonged to his election. had committed haynous fins, which were displeasing unto God, and had now long continued in them without repentance, even for the space of ten moneths together, from the conception to the birth of his childe; notwithflanding that he did, in a formal manner, use and enjoy, all this time, Gods ordinances, and means of his worthip and fervice; and fo would have lived full in his impeniency, to his perdiction, if Sou use the left with the mean to the left and the sate himfelt?) therefore the Lord, of his free Grace, when ordinary means persalled not, feat his holy Propher, to rouze him out of this dead fleepsand by convincing him of his fig, to bring him to repentance; feeing all the care that David took for himfelf, was onely to hide his fin, and to avoyd the fhame, and not to be clean ed and freed from the guilt of it; even as men fick of that lethargical difeafe, apprehending no danger, and being infensible of any pain, are willing to continue fleeping still, and are loath to be molefted I v being awakened.

and be came unto him, and faid unto him. There were two men in one city the one rich, and the other poor | His main end is to convince him of his fin, and to bring him to rependince; and to this purpole, God is pleased to put into his mouth this parable, as the fittell means, when he was to deal with fuch a person. For though God, in his absolute power, had been able by plain and dired tearms, to have done what he pleafed. yet ordinally he uleth the ordinally means, which are most likely to take eff. a. with the persons to whom he applyeth them. And thus here Nathan, by Gods direction, maketh ule of a parable, to bring David to a true fight of his fin, as bring molt efficacious for this purpole. For thefe forms of fpeech do ulually fir men upto more attention, being more apt to liften after new thing , or, propounded in a new manner, then when they are (poken in a common and ordinary way a ps alfo to be more equal and indifferent in hearkning unto what is faid: Forgenerally, men are very partial judges in their own causes, being blinded with pride and telf-love; and though they can fee motes in other mens eyes, yet they connot differn beams in them own; or, if haply they fee them, yet they are bardl brought, ingeniously, to confess them, without mincing, excusing and extensioning them, unlesse they be prefented unto them in the persons of others; which, in a more special manner, is the property of great men. Princes and Kings, who think it baris and uncivil usage, to be told and reproved of, and for, their faults and fallings, by their fubicets and inferiour. But when fin is brought to the bar, and arraigned, in other mais persons, they, in a fort, retain the power and priviled gof judicature, belonging to their place, in their own han a and where they have passed the sentence of in their own hard; and where they have paired the features of [lances. And thus this rich mass their being not becopy to condemnation inpurately against other; then either con-ficience it fell, or when its all sp, being a wakened by fome with transcendent cutchy and opperflow, which was a breath Nordan, being and bounced another it their own cafe, as in [of the fixed, might be july possible by the Magilitarate, even this place. And thus God dealeth with the Jews, Ifal. 44 3. Jotham with the Ifractices, Judg. 9. 8. 16. and our Saviour at the main scope and destrimended in it, and norto ever circumftantial paffage, which is (as it were) but the outward drefs and ornament to deck and beautifie it. As kere, in this parable, Nathans chief aym and fcope, is to awaken David our of his deep fleep of fin and decurity, by causing birn, unknow-ingly, to pais an unpartial femiliare against birnlelf, in the perfon of another, that fo he might be brought to unfeigned repentance.

V. 2. The rich man had exceeding many flocks and berde ? Where, by the rich man, he understandeth David, whom God had inriched with abundance of bleffings, and permitted him to enjoy many wives and concubines, which best pleafed him, having power in his hand to make lawful choice where he would.

V. 3. But the poor man had nothing, faving one little ewelamb V. 3. But not poor man bad maining, fatung one interest table J by whom is meant Urish, who was but poor; in comparison of his King, and had but onely one wife, though, as some write, he who another before, by whom he had divers children; with whom Batbliebab, his young and tender wife which he had lately married, did live together with him, as the words following feem to imply, a though, I think, rather they are added, to let forth and formalize the parable. And the is here compared to a little ewe lamb, or to a young Cade, which wanting a dam to fuckle it. is brought up by band ; which he is faid to have bought, because, in those dayes, they gave dowries to their wives, and had not (as in our times) portions with them. The which be is faid to have fed with his own meat, or as it is in the original, with his own morfel; whereby is meant, that he dearly and tenderly loved it. as if it had been his own and only daughter; so as though he had so little; that it was r. even (as it were) our of his own mouth and flomack to nourith his dear beloved lamb.

one little ewe lambe | And this also did the more indear his love and affection, because he had only one. For as a ftream divided runs more weakly, forcis with affections. An only fon, or wife; having the whole and fole interest in the love of the father or his band, are more dearly beloved of them, then they, who enjoying many fons or wives, have their love divided amongst them.

and lay in his bofome ] i.e. It was as neer and dear unto him. as his own young and tender childe. By which finishtude is fet forth, that Bathfieba the wife of Uriah, being his only jewel, and chief delight, he made her parener and pareaker with

V. 4. And there same a traveller to the rich man ] By which, fome Expositors understand fleshly lust and concupiscence. which David feafted with this lamb; others, the devil, who was as well pleafed by Davids entereatning his tentations, and committing adultery, as if he had made him a leaft. But it is not much material, whether of them is meant, feeing they are both alike pleased with finfal entertainment; and befides, it is but a complement und formality of the parable, tending to fet forth the main end of it; which was to thew Davids me cileffe cruelty and oppression of Uriah, his faithful fervant, in taking and abusing his dear wife, to feast the devil, and to feed and foment his own filthy lust.

V. 5. And Davids anger was greatly kindled] To wie , because, with a just and unpartial eye, he looked upon this fin in another mans person, as horrible and hareful, though himfelf had committed it, and bugged it in his bolome, with much

As the Lord liveth, the man that hath done this thing, thall furely dye ] Oc, h worth to dye. So Eph. 1.3. Which fentence (as some think) David passed, being transported with some choler and indignation against fuch a coverous and griping oppreffor. For by Gods law, the thief was to reffore five oxen, and four theep, for one, Exo. 22 to and not to dye for the offence. Or, that he thus speaketh, only to aggravate the heynousne's of the fact, and not to determine the punishments as if a Judge, to flew how greatly he abhorred the malefactors haynous crime, foould fay, that he deferved to be twice hanged, or many deaths, though it be not in his power to inflict more then one. But in the execution of politive laws, it is in the Judges power to alter the penalty and punishments and though he may not (as some think) lessen it, less he might seem to arregate unto himself more mercy than was in God, that did appoint it; yet he may increase and beighten it, according as the fin is aggravated, either in refeet of its extraordinary degree, or elle, in respect of circum-flances. And thus this rich mans theft being not barely so with death it felf.

V. 6. And be [ball reftore the lamb four-fold] Which word with the Priefts and Pharifees, Luk. 7. 41, 43. Marth. 12. 33. being of the dual number, fome underftand ewice four, that is, eight fold, doubling his penalty upon him, because he | marriage, by the murther of her husband, to cenceal your adulhad no pity; for fo it feems, that the penalty of theft varied, feeing in Solomons time there was required feven-fold reftineung in Solomous time energy as requires reveneund fetter tution, Prov. 6.31. under it may be meant there that the shief shall make still and perfect restitution, in which sense that he shall both dys and also restore, it is to shew his greater abhorrency of fo foul a fact feeing he adjudgeth him, not onely worthy of death, but also worthy to make restitution to the poore man thus damnified, because his death, though it might latisfie bis minde, yet it could 'not repair his effate, which was damnified by him, unless also there were made some confiderable restitution.

Chap, xij.

V. 7. And Nathan (aid to David, Thou art the man] That is. who haft committed this haynous offence, and on whom thou baft paffed this beavy fentence of death.

thus faith the Lord. I have aunointed thee King over Ifrael ] Where he purteth him in minde of all his former benefits, to aggravate his disobedience and unthankfulness, that hereby aggravate and supportance and unmanaturates, that offerly he might bring him to unfaigned repertance. Nether doth this crofs that of the Apollle, Jam. 1.5. where he faith, That Ged gireth and men liberally, and uphradeh to man, feeing that may with be underflood of prayer, tutto which he there exhorteth, in the frequent use of its feeing he doth not chalenge. any for their often asking, nor deny their fuits, because he hath already done much for them ; as it is the manner of men, to upbrayd men with former benefits, when they feem too bold in importuning them to grant new fuits; for thus God up-braideth none, but the oftner they come the better welcom; and the more importunate men arc, the more like to fpeed : Or elfe, God doth not upbrayd men with his benefits, to shame and reproach them, but onely putteth his servants in minde of them, when they ungratefully forget them, that he by this means may bring them to repentance, as he dealeth with David in this place.

V. S. And I gave sheethy masters bouse That is, the Kingdom of Saul, who was thy lord and master.

and thy masters wives into thy bosom ] Not to marry them, for that had been incest, Levit. 18.8.15. Seeing David, having married Michal Sauls daughter, his wives becamelhis mothers in law; neither do we read, that David ever took any of his wives and concubines to become his; nor had it been his wildom to take any that were some in it also that were some in the solution. Neither is it likely, that he should defire it, in respect of their age. Nor do I think, that by this plrast, of giving them into his bosom, is onely meant, that he had his choyce of all the women that were under Sauls fubication; for fo all the women in the land had been his subjects whileit he reigned; and so any other might, in that sense, have taken Sauls wives, as well as David; that is, such as had been under his government. But, as I conceive, the meaning is, that he had exalted him to fuch regal power and dignity, that all, generally, atted nim to tuch regal power and anginity, that all, generally, that belong a to Saul, were at Davids dipoling 3 yea, even his wives and concubines, which were most neer and dear unto him, were so, in any lawful way 3 yea, in respect of his Soveraige power, he might have taken them into his own bo-fom and bed, leeing there was none that could hinder him, if he, in his own conscience, could have dispensed with Gods law. Neither doth God, herein, approve of fuch a fact of taking of Sauls wives, no normet of polygamy; for it was not a gift of allowance, but of providence, tollerating, for a time, this plurality of wives. And to Shimei is faid to have curfed David, not by his allowance, but by his fufferance, chap. 16.10. though it be there faid, that God had bidden him. So verle and if it had been soo little, I would moreover have given thee fuch and fuch things That is, as I am able, fo I would have been willing to have fatisfied thy hearts defire to the full, by giving unto thee, in a lawful way and by lawful meanes, more giving unto thee; in a familiary and by small constraint the sace, more and greater things then all theft, Pial 3.7-4.

N. 9. Wherefore half thou delpifed the commandement of the Lard, That is, by transgreffing the facond Table of the Law, the furn whereof is, that we should love our neighbours as our felves, give every one his own, and do to others, as we would have them to do unto us; which Law David had grievously transgressed, by his sins of adultery and murther, hoping by policies and shifts, to have concealed them, though God, who feeth all fecrets, did behold him; for which contempt he is whou haft killed Uriah, the Hittle, with the [word] That is, not an ordinary man, or, one worthless and wicked, but one of thy great Worthies, who feared God, and did thee faithful fervice, whom, inflead of rewarding him, thou haft fhamefully murthe red. For David was the chief contriver of his death, and he was flain by his command, Joah, an accessary and a willing actor, in this fearful tragedy, and the Ammonites, but onely, and that unknowingly, their inflruments.

and haft taken bie wife to be thy wife ] Making way to this | me, and fhame more then fin.

tery and cover your flame. and balt fain bim with the fword of the children of Ammon't

Which is added as a great aggravation of his fin, both because he was most treacherously bettayed into their hands, and together with him, divers others of the Army; and alfo because hereby Gods people had some cause of discouragement, and their enemies, being hardned with this victory, would the more fland on their ftrength, and make the more desperate refiftance , yea, would take occasion hereby to insult over Gods people and their Religion feeing he had given them no better

V. 10. New therefore, the [word feall never depart from thine boule Where God threatneth to punish and correct him by retaliation, or law of requital, like for like, that by the punishment, he might be led (as it were) by the hand, to the fight of his fin ; as a dog is beaten before the fivep, which he hath worried. He had finned, by killing Uriah with the fword; and therefore, those of his family, must with the sword kill one another, which must never depart from his bouse, according to that of our Saviour, Math. 26.52. All that take the [word, fall perifh with the fword, So Gen. 9. 6. Rev. 13. 10. By which fome understand, unto the coming of Christ, the King of fied by this phrase; and so this threatning should relate, not only to that blood and flaughter which was in Davids time. but also to the wars which followed his daves, in his posterity. between them and the ten tribes, with many other enemies, as the Edomites, Moabires, Ammonites, Affyrians, and Chaldeans. But I rather conceive, that by never, here is meant, a long time, or as long as David lived, as the word is often used. Gen. 43. 9. 1 Sam. 1. 22. Deut. 18. 17. and that the threatning bath reference to the fword, sheathed in the blood of Davids children, Amnon, Absalom, and Adonijah; and those civil and unnatural wars raifed against him by trayterous Abfalom, who came out of his own loyns, because thou hast despised me] To wit, by wilful violating of my law, not caring for my al-feeing prefence beholding thy in, nor my justice, in punishing it, but only to hide thy wick-educife from the fight of men.

V. 11. Behold, I will raise up evil against thee out of thine own boufel i. c. For thy fins, I will afflict thee with many evils, by means of thincown children, giving them over to commit rapes, murthers, and unnatural rebellions; the which was verified in Amnon, Abialom, Adonijah, and others of Davids posterity, who perified by the fword. For though God was not the Author of thefe evils, as they were fins'; yet he had an hand in them, as they were punishments, according to that, Amoa 3.

6. 16. 45. 7. And as they were firs, the power of acting was from him, for in him we live, and move, and have one being, Act, 17. 28. Though the malignity of the actions was from the agents, as the rider maketh his horfe go, but his halting is from himfelf. Yea, his providence hath an band in the evil of finit felf, not in acting it, for that is impossible, feeing be is the supream good, and the fountain of all goodnesse, from whom no evil can spring and flow, but in ordering and dispowhich is good; as appeareth in Josephs brethrens fin, in felling him into Egypt, whereby Jacob and his family were preserved in the time of famine; and in that grand fin of Judas, the God made to be the means of mans redemption. Yez, God Comerimes aunisheth one fin with another, not by infuling of finful corruption, but by an active permiffion, leaving men to the corruption of their own hearts, and withdrawing his grace; and fo the objects of fin being prefented unto them, they lay hold on them, and being enfinared, they fall into fin to their perdiction, the which is the greatest punishment that God inflifteth on wicked men in this life ; and that whith David imprecateth against his desperate enemies, Plalm, and I will take thy wives ] i.e. Thy concubines. before thine eyes] i. e. In thy life-time, which thou thalt as certainly know, as if thine eyes did fee it, ch. 16.22.

and give them to thy neighbour ] i.e. To one that is most neces unto thee, not only in habitation, but also in blood and confanguinity; i. e. his dear Abfalom, which did much aggravate Davids affliction, Pfal. 55. 12.

vate Daylor americion, Plat. 55, 12.

And be flall lie with sly wives in the fight of the Sun, i. e. In the open day and light of the Sun, which shall discover this foul and silthy fact to the fight of all Israel. For Absolom did act this villany, not in a fecret corner, but in the open view, a Tent being fipread for him on the houle-top, for this purpole, chap-16 12. And it is not improbable, on the top of his fathers Palace, from whence David, esping Bathsheba, lusted after her,

V. 12. For thou didft it fecrety] As fearing men more then But

But I will do thu thing before all Ifrael, and before the Sun] to the third and fourth generation of them that have him, with That is, openly and at goon day, in the publike view of all temporal punishment, and even death it felf; not only bethe people, that I may purp fely bring upon thee, that fhame cause children are accounted parts of their parents, and their and differace which thou didft more carefully avoyd, then my displeature. And whereas he laith, I will do it, it is as if he had faid, I will justly give over thy fon to his own ambition, and base lutts, and not restrain him, as I could, Hof 4.14. and will with my providence, fo order his fins, that they shall become a just chaftilement of thine, though he hereby shall be no whitesculed, feeing herein, he will act his own part freely, wickedly and rebelliously, and to his own wretched ends, with out any respect at all to my secret counsel.

V. 13. And David faid unto Nathan, I have finned against the Lord He had alfo finned against Uriah and Baththeba, and as the prodigal fpeaketh, againft heaven; but here he faith, he had finned against the Lord, and Plal. 11.4. Against thee, against thee only have I finned, because fin, against whomsoeverst be committed, is the transgression of Gods law, which maketh it to be fin ; and allo, being the supream Magistrate, he had no Superiour Judg to call him to an account, or punish him for his fin. The which confession of Davids fin, though it were very thort, yet it was effectual, and accepted of God, because it was joyned with true contrition, and unfeigned repentance in the fincerity of his heart, which God respecteth more then verba expressions; yea, it may be, Davids confession was therefore so thoreand abrupt, because his heart was so oppressed with grief, and are talkative, when great ones are filent, or expressed in a few words. But afterwards, when his heart was a little unburthened and eased, forrow having found a vent, he at large expressed it, purposely penning the one and fiftierh Plaim, to lay open his fin and forrow ; yea and to proclaim his shame which he had formerly fo carefully covered; and not content-ing himfelf to pen a Plalm on this subject, he also prefixeth a title, to shew the occasion; nA Plalm of David, when Nathan the Prophet came unto him after he had gone in to Bathfeba neither doth he think this enough, unleffe he commit it to the chief Mulician, to be fung publiquely in the Congregation, as one of his penitontial Pfalms. Whereas Sauls contession. though more full and large in words, 1 Sam. 15. 24. was not regarded, because it proceeded not from a true penitent heart, but was in meer hypocrifie; and alfo, because he was a man rejected of God, and David beloved, and in the state of grace, by free election.

and Nathan (aid unto David. The Lord alfo hath but away the [in] To wit, out of his fight, and bath fo covered it, that it shall never be imputed unto thee, to hinder thine eternal bleffedness, Pfal. 2 . 1. yet bowfoever he hath fully pardoned it, in respect of the guilt, he will notwithstanding chastise thee for it as a loving father, for thy spiritual and everlatting good, Num. 23.21. Micah, 7.18 Rom. 8.28.

thou (halt not dye] i. c. Neither everlaftingly , nor by any fudden stroke of a temporal judgment, as thou mightest have cause to sear, because the Lord hath threatned, that the (word fall not depart from thy house, ver. 10. and also, because thy fin bath deferved it according to thing own fintence. And here we have a lively representation of a flat opposition between the fentence of the law and the Gofpel; not in themfelves, but in respict of the fubirets upon whom they are pronounced; for the law faith, to wit, unto them who are under the law, The Adulterer shall dye the death; But the gospel saith, he shall not dye; to wir, if by a lively faith he be in Christ, and under grace, who hath paid his debt, and sain Christian uncer glace, who had pan als ucot, and in tisfied for his fin, by dying for him.

V. 14. Howbett, because by this deel thou hast given great occasion to the enemies of God to b'alpheme] i. o. Not only the Ammonites, unto whom thou ball given caufe to triumph and infult in their victory over Gods people, as though he was unable to defend them, Ifa. 32. 5. but alfo, to all other heathen nations, and even to all the wicked among their own people, when they shall bear, or see, that one, whom I have chosen King, and so much savoured, bath committed as soul and heynous fins, as the very heathens, or as Saul himfelf whom I rejected; and thereupon, will be ready to censure me as unjust and partial, conniving at those fins in mine own fervants, which I punish in others. Yea, hereupon they will take occafion to blafpheme my true religion, and the professors of it, as though either it taught and favoured fuch wickedneffe; or at leaft, that the professors were all hypocrites, making only a thew of godliness and honesty in their lives, denying the power of it, as fuch examples of their wickedness did make it manifest, seeing they are all alike. So Rom. 2.24. And therefore, by my corrections inflicted on thee, I will vindicate my justice, and the truth of my religion; and first, by the death of his childe, begotten in adultery.

the childe also that is born unto thee, Stall surely dye ] Which is only to be understood of a temporal death, feeing no childe dyeth eternally for the fin of his parents, according to that, Ezek. 18. e.the foul that finneth, foall dye; though God punitheth children for giving him patience to lubmit unto his correcting hand goods, which may justly fuffer loss for the owners fake : but chiefly, because the parents are only the occasion of their childrens punishm mes, but the cause is in themselves : to wit their original fin & corruption of nature, in which they are conceived. and which in it felt deterveth death, which upon any occasion. when God pleafeth, may jully be not ded upon any occasion, when, and how he will. But in the death of this childe, there was mercy mixed with judgment; feeing as long as it lived, it would have been unto them a continual grief, lecing it would daily have represented unto them their fin and shame.

V.16. David therefore be one by God for the shille it'e. Henraved. fafted, and humbled himself with inward contrition of heart. and outward afflicting of his body, that he might obtain the life of the childes not only because it was dear to him and his wife, but because they looked uponits death, as the punishment of their fin. Wherein he fought not to oppose and crofs Gods Will; for when it was by his work cleerly revealed unto him, he fubmitteth unto it with all meekneffe and patience. v. 10. But not knowing whether Gods threatning was abfolute, or conditional, if he did not use these means to avert the judgment, he thus humbleth himfelf before God by unfeigned repentance. And that he did it with this minde, it appeareth plainly by his own words, v.a. See Jer. 18.8. Ezek-22.10,11. According to the example of Hezekiah, and the Ninevites, Ila. 38.1,5. Jonas 3. 9,10. And this David did, hoping for good fucceffe, because God, in his rich mercy, had pardoned his fin, and comforted him with his promife, that he should not dyc.

And went in To wit, into his inner chamber, or closet, V. 17. And the Elders of bis house arose | t.e. Like faithful subects and fervants, they addrested themselves to comfort him in his mourning, but he refused it.

and it came to passe on the seventh day, that the childe dyed Which some understand from the fickning of the childe; and others, from the birth of it; and confequently, the day before it was to have been circumcifed. From whence they gather, that fince this childe dyed without circumcifion, and yer David was cheered and comforted after its death, therefore he was not of their minde, who think, that children dying before they receive the Sacramentt, he outward feal of the covenant are in dangerous and damnable condition, when as it is not neglected, but cannot, according to the inflitution, be rightly admi-nifted, the childe being taken away by fudden or unexpected death. But otherwise, God is displeased when we neglect his ordinance which we may enjoy in a right manner, as we fee in the example of Moses, whom the Lord threatned to kill, because he had neglected to circumcife his fon, Exo. 4 14.

we flake unto him, and he would not bearken | i.e. If he were impatient of any comfort, when yet the childe being alive, there was some hope, how will be torment him with grief, when the cafe by the death of the childe is become quite define-

V. 19. But when David fam that his fervants whifeered] To wit, fecretly one with another, that be might not bear , be uspected that the childe was dead, and that they kept it secret, for fear of grieving him.

V. 20: Then David arofe from the earth, and washed ] i. e. When he saw Gods Will by his work, he patiently submitted unto it, and cealing to mourn, and pray against that which God had revealed to be his good pleafure, he changing his babite, and with it his heart, he addreffeth himfelf to do God that fervice, unto which he now called him.

and came into the house of the Lord, and worshitted] i. e. The Tent which he had erected for the ark, By the law it was provided, that when a man dyed in a tent, all that came into that tent, and all in it, should be uncleen seven dayes, Numb. 19. 14. and whileft he was unclean, he might not come into the Sanctuary. But David, who was a careful observer of the law, prefently upon the death of his childe, washed himself, and went into Gods house and worshipped. Whereby it appearoth, that either this uncleannesse was not contracted by being in the fame boule wherein one dved, if they were not also in the fame room : or that this childe dved in fome other house neer the Kings, into which it was put, that the King might not be further grieved, by being an eye or car witnesse of this poor infants pain and mifery, who was already too apprehensive of

And so being free from this legal uneleannesse, be hasteth to Gods house, es being the fittest place for receiving comfort in this great affl. and that he might there worthip God, (whom we are bound to bleffe with Job, for taking away his temporal bleffings, as well as for giving them, and receiving evil, as well as good, Job 1.21. & 2.10. ) and that for many causes, and in divers respects, as to praise him for all his rich mercies, which he still enjoyed, for the pardon of his great fine. and preferving his life from death, which he had justly deferved,

Chap.xiij.

ed in his fin and impenitency. And alfo, to pray mato God either that, in his mercy, he would lighten and leften thois panishments which he had threatned against his family; or at puniliments which he had threathed against all rainly so the icast, landtife; them to their bie, and give strength and patience to him; that he might be able to beat them.

shen he came to his own house, and when he required, they fee bread before bim, and be did eas ] Though he had taited feven dayes whileft the childe lay fick cating only fome finall re-past in the evening ; yer fo earnest be was to perform these holy duries of Gods fervice, and to ratifie his peace with him, that he would not cafte of any food, before he had first been at Gods

. V. 21. Then faid bie fervienes, what is this that then haft done? Though David had done nothing but that which was agreeable to reaton and religion; yet being contrary to the corrupt cu-Rome of those times, (avit is also of ours,) his fervants queftion him for it, as being a thing ftrange, in their sporeben-

V. 2.1. While the chitde win yet alive, I fafted and weps] i. e In hope that God would reverse his feutence of death on the childe, if it were conditional.

For I (atd ) That is, I thought within my felf, that it was not known to any many whether upon my repentance God would frare the childe, or no ; feeing it was doubtful, whether the threatning were absolute, or conditional, till God had revealed

V. 23: Gan I bring bim back again] i.e. Restore him to life.
I shall go so bim] i.e. Into the state of the dead, but he shall not return to me,in the flate of the living. But why, if he did not think it fit to mourn for the death of his childe, did he fo la ment the death of Saul, Jonathan, Abner, and Abfalom? activer because, in some of them, the Common-wealth had loss by their death; and others of them, dyed in their fins.
V. 24. And David comforted Bab-shebabis wife] As he had fo now, the being troubled and grieved with this great affliction, like a good and faithful husband, he endeavoureth to communicate unto her fuch comfort, as he himfelt had been com-forted with: As that God in mercy had pardoned their fin, freed them from that death, which by their fearful fall they had deferved, and that their childe was in a flate of bleffedneffe, and freed from fin and forrow.

And the bare a fon, and be salled his name Bolomon ] That is, pesseable, because he was to enjoy a peaceable reign, a Chr. | he was now degraded of his royal diguity, and David invested 21.9. 21 at 1970 of Chrish, she Prince of Pesse, [Ia. 9. 6. which | with it, which was a just punishment inflicted on this wicked name, David gave him by Gods own appointment, I Chron, and the Lord loved him Or, for the Lord loved him. That is, of his free grace, before he had done either good or cvil. Wherein alfo Solomon was a type of Chrift, the fon of Gods love, in whom alone he is well pleased; by whom all his sleet being re-conciled unto him in the body of his flesh, through death, he bath made peace with them, given them, in this life, peace of a the weight whereof was a talent of gild Which if it were reckeconficience, and will perfect their peace in his heavenly Kingund according to the weight of the fanctuary, it weighed above dome, r. Col. 1.21, Rom. 5.1. & 15.17. Luk. 2.14. Joh. 14.

And thus he called him, because the Lord, by Nathan, appointed this name to be given him. And because also of the Lord Chrift, Gods best beloved, in whom alone, Solomon was, and all the elect are beloved of God, Math. 3.17. V. 16. And Joah fought against Rabbah of the children of Am-mon] i.e. Assaulted it hercely, that he might take it, having now continued the fiege the greatest part of the year; wherein he had more flow successe, then the Israelites usually had in their expeditions; of which the cause might well be Davids sin: their expectations; or water the cause might well be Davids in: for how could his atmy prosper abroad, when he at home was guilty of to much wickednesse; But having now by true repen-tance made his peace with God, he beginness to give him and his army good fucceffe in their undertakings.

And took the royal city ] i.e. That part of the City, in which the royal Palace flood invironed with waters, both for fafety

N. 17. And have taken the City of waters From whence fome gather, that this Rabbah, the chief City of the Ammonites, confifted of two parts, which were like two Cities con-Joyaed, as Ramathaim. Zophim, 1 Sam. 1. 1. And one of them difgrating Davids ambasadors; and had stirred up, and hired was called the toyal City, because the Kings Palace stood in it, all the nations round about them, to make war against Gods was take City of wasters, because it was environed with waters, people, with a purpose, atterly to destroy themsand besides, were as wit, with the river Jabboks, the which Joab had now taken, abonigable idolaters, who facified their gwn children. to wit, with the river Jabbok; the which Joab had now taken, and was also in a good forwardnesse to take the other; and

and the grace of repentance, when as he was so fearfully harden- | therefore sent unto David, to come with an army that he taking it, might bear the name of it. Others (and upon good grounds) think, that he had not taken already this royal Circ. but that mine, coar ne mun not cagen aircray turk royal. City, but that he was in taking it, and ready and neer the taking of it, as the vulgar latine readeth it, and as the words here used, may fignific and bear this fence; for if he had already taken the royal City, how should Davids coming prevent his baving the name of that chief part which he had conquered ; and if the royal City were taken before Davids coming, then it is very likely that the King alfo was taken, and with him, his Crown, feeing his toyal Palace was here; whereas it is faid after, that David at his coming, took the Kings Crown from off his head, v.30.

V. 28. Now therefore gather the reft of the people together, and V. 28. Now involve gather the rejs of the people logatine, and encourage gather in The fittingth of Joshs army was able to have done it alone; for they had already taken the fittinged piece, or at leaft, were neter the taking of it; but because he would bave him to have the glory of the victory, he advied him to bring new forces to calcut his conquest. And this he did, becaule Kings are jealous of their honour, and cannot with pa-tience brook it, that their subjects should dazzle their glory, as he before had experience in Saul, 1 Sam. 18. 8. Whereby we alfo may learn, when we get victories over our spiritual enemies, that we do not arrogate the praise unto our felves, but met, use we do not arregate the plant came out circles but that we afferibe the whole glory unto our King and supream Soveraign, Jelus Christ; in whole strength, alone, we over-come, in deed and truths and not in semblance and she w, as David in this place; for he is jealous of his honour, and will not give it to denother, 18.424.8.

and take it To wit, that thou may the bave the honour of taking it, and not I, feeing the conqueror, usually, hath the glory of the conquest.

V. 19. And David gathered all the people] That is, having made his peace with God, he thinketh himlelf fit to fight against his enemies; and having recovered his former courage and valour, which was weakened with the guilt and filth been a means to draw her to fin and uncleanneife, and fo to of fin, be cheerfully undertak eth this expedition, and acted bring, upon them this judgment, of lofing their fon by death; the part of a valiant General, in fighting against, and facking the City.

V. 30. And David sook the Kings Crown from off bis head] Which either he had put on purpotely upon Davids approach, that he might maintain, as long as he could, his royal magnificence and flate; and thus appearing like himfelf, as a King to King, be might use him with more respect, or at least, leffe lifgrace; or elfe it was put on his head by others, and at Davids coming, taken off his, and put on Davids, to fhew, that King, for his dishonouring Davids Ambassadors in a disgraceful manner : the which his degrading was accompanied (as it is very probable) with his death; and that he being deposed and slain, his brother Shobi the son of Nahash, was by Davids appointment, substituted in his place, which was the cause why he afterwards shewed such great kinddesse to David, when he was purfued by Abfalom, ch. 17.27,28.

100 pounds, and fo was as heavy as the golden candleftick, spoken of Exo. 29. 29. but if according to the ordinary talent; it V. 25. And be fent by the hand of Nathan 1 i.e. He used the weighed 44 pounds 8 onnecs and a quarter, of Troy weightest-ministry of Nathan to comfort him, by bringing unto him ther of which, especially the fift, was too heavy to be worn or takis joyful tydings, whom he had formerly fern to convince him dinarily by the King, or David-hur was a Crown of State, or a of fin, and to threaten against him and his family his heavy royal Crown, which was held, or banged over their heads, fitting this joyd laydings, whom he had formerly tern to construct any offer, and to thereties against him and his family his heavy offer, and to thereties against him and his family his heavy digeneries, and fo cured and healed him with the fame hand lineer, that had given the wound.

and lineer, that had given the wound.

The hadden and control of the lord o

And he brought forth the people that were therein] i e. So many of them as he thought fit to be made exemplary in thefe fevere punifinments, i.e. their Elders and rulers, which were the chief ring-leaders in all their wickednesse; although Josephus affirm-eth, that the whole people were exposed to these severe punishments. And yet it is manifelt, that though the most were thus uled, yet many were exempted, as Shobi the fon of Nahash, who was put in Hanuns place; and if he were made King, he muft have a people of that nation over whom he must rule and put them under fawes and barrowes of iron ] Such examples f great feverity exercised on Gods enemies, we read of in the Scriptures, as on Adonibezek, Judg. 1.6. and the men of Succoth, Judg. 8. 16. which are not to be condemned as cruel, either betaufe God commanded them, or their heynous crimes deferved them. As the Ammonites, who were bitter and malicious enemies, extreamly cruel, when they had them at an advantage, as at Jabez-Gilead, and had put many of them to the like cruel deaths, when they fell into their hands, Amos 1.3,13. So Heb. 11.27. And had now violated the law of nations, in

And made them to paffe through the Brick-kilne]. Some think | terfeited, that his fickneffe had fo far prevailed, that he was that this was the furnace of Molech, or Milchom , the idol of fain to keep his bed , and thus (like wax to the feal) no foonthe Ammonites, where they had made their children to paffe through the fire, 2 King. 16, 3, & 23, 10. Levit. 18, 21. And if forthen was it a fit and fuitable punishment for such abominable wickednesse.

And this be did to all the Cities of the children of Ammon ] i To almost all their Elders of every city, who were the chief offenders, and corrupted those that were under them, by their wicked example.

CHAP. XIII.

Ver. t. A Balom the fon of David, had a fair fifter Though among the reft, because they had all the same father; yet the is faid to be Abfaloms fifter in a foecial manner because they two were both born of Maacha, the daughter of Talmai the King of Gefhur, ch. 2.2. and he had the relt by other wives. Who being an idolatrous King, David did ill to match with his daughter, having choyce of wives enough, among his own people. her left alfo, was a Queen, as is expressed, Prov. 31, 1, 10, to the that pofterity which he had by her.

And Amnon the fon of David leved her ] Which Ahinoam the Jezreelitels bare unto him, i.e. he lufted after her, being innared with her beauty.

V. 2. And Amnon was fo wexed, that he fell fick for his fifter Thamas i. c. His heart was so distracted and distempered, being fet upon the rack of his passions, the groff it and most fenfual parts of the foul; which being in their nature neerest to the body, do affect and work upon it, and making the whole more reftleffe breaking his florp, and taking away his appetite to his meat, do fo cause lingring and languishing diseases.

For the was a virgin, and Amnon thought it hard to do any thing unto ber li.e. He was out of hope of enjoying his love, and fatisfying his luft with her, not only because being a virgin, the was according to the commentant entition or tube times, and manner of these countries, kept from gadding abroad, and firitly observed, (which distipline Dinah taking liberty to di-spence with, was cavified by Shechem, Gen. 34.) but also, because, being the kings virgin daughter, she had tome appointed to take care of her, and to wait upon her daily, whitherfoever the went; especially, the being (for ought we know) his only daughter among to many tons, and withal, very fair and beausiful, and therefore, no doubt, most diligently attended, as a rare and precious Jewel, and her fathers deareft darling.

1.3. But danon had a friend whose name was Fonadab] i. e. A friend, in respect of that neer relation of kindred that was between them, and intimacie of their counfels, but not in refoed of true friendfhip, which adviseth only to that which i good, and to compatie it by good and lawful means. and Fonadab was a very fubrill man 1 i.o. Politique and crafty wife to do evil, but to do good having no knowledg, as the Prophet Speaketh, Jer. 4.32.

V. 4. Why are thou, being the Kings fon, lean from day to day i.e. Difcerning by his carriag: , that he was rather fick in mind then in body, he asketh him what should be the cause of it; or rather implyeth, that he could have no just cause at all, thus to languish and pine away; feeing he being the Kings fon, yea, his eldeft fon, and heir to the Crown his prefent condition and furure hopes, might make him easily to dispence with small matters, though they might be grievous to others of a low con-dition; and besides, he was of that power and authority, if he would make use of it, that there was no stop or grievance lying in his way, that he might not callly remove when he plealed. will shou not tell me ?] i e. Wilt thou fmother thy griefs in thy own breft, till they eat out thine heart, and kill thee? and not impart it unto me, who will be faithful to keep thy fecrets, and ready and willing to give thee advice?

And Amnon (aid, I love Tamer, my brother Abfaloms fifter) As if he had faid, though it be a fault to love in a luftful maner. Tamar, that is fo neer in blood to me, yet it is not fo great as it may feem, feeing the is only my half fifter, by the fathers fide, whereas the is Abfalonis fifter by father and mother, though afterwards, when he was upon another defign, which was to perswade his father to fend her unto him, he calleth her whis filter Tamar, v. 6.

V. 5. Let my fifter Tamar cone and give me meat, and dresse the meat in my fight] Where he adviseth him to call her filter, the rather, to avoid all jealousse and suspicion of so soul a fact to be intended by him; but withal, implying, that the was fuch a dear fifter unto him, that he conceived and fancied (as men are apt to do in a languishing discase,) it would do him more good to have his meat of her cooking, and given unto him by her own hand, then if it should be drest, and brought unto him by any other.

V. 6. And Amnon lay down, and made himfelf fick ] He was er had Ionadab given this wicked counfel, but Ammon was ready to receive the impression, and to imbrace and put it in profrife

Let Tamar my fifter, come and make me a couple of caker | i. c. Some hearty cordial thing, or pleasing with, for one in my languishing condition, as the word may figurale. Whence we may observe the simplicity and humble plainnesse of those times, wherein the only daughter of a great King, forned not to put her hand to fo mean an office, as being a nurle to drefs meat for her fick brother; which furely the could not have done, if the had not been taught and trained up to it, and fometimes exercifed in fuch employments. So Sarah, Gen. 18. 6. Which might be a good prefident for great Ladies in our times, that they should not think themselves too good, or great, to act that part for which they were created, i.e. to be helpers unto men in ficknesse and health, and to play the part of a good hulwife, as it is described by a great and glorious King; and (as he professeth) taught him by his mother, who,

V. 7. Then David out home to Tamer, Being a most indulgent father to his fons; and now feeing him fick who was his eldeft, he prefently fecketh to fatisfie him in his longing defire; and not having the least jealousie (as there was just cause) that he had any ill intention in his fuite, (for none are leffe fuspitious of ill in others, then those, who are innecent , and have in their hearts, no fraud, or guile; ) he fendeth her unto him, as the oxe to the fhambles, or the innocent fleed to the ravenous Woolf, which doubtleffe, added much to his grief, when he face what mischief came of it, and that his dear daughter fell into this great mifery, by obeying his commands.

V. 9. And the took a pan, and poured them out before bim ] To wit, out of the baking, or frying pan, into a dilb.

And Amnon [sid, bave all menous from me ] Being resolved.

now, to act that filthinesse, which he had before plotted . he would have no eye, or ear-witnesse of his villany, for every one that deth evil, hateth the light, Joh. 3.20.

V. 10. And Annon faid unto Tamar, Bring the meat into the chamber i.e. Out of that room where they now were into an inner chamber, that he might act his villany with more fecrecies and that none might hear her, and breake in to fuccour her. if when the rape was in acting the cryed out for help.

V. 12. Nay my Brother doe not force me ] where fhe uleth divers arguments which might have diffwaded him from his wickednes, had not blind luft been also deafe. And first the calleth him Brother, both to convince him, that the foul act which he was going about, was an inceftuous rape, and fuch which be was going about, was an incentions rape, and ruch unatural lithinefte, as might work abberrency in the heart of a brother, who should be fo far from thus dishonouring their fifter, that they should be ready, even with the hazard of their lives, to protect them, against any other, who would ffer them fuch an indignity.

donot force me] Where the ufeth another reason to deter him; as if the had faid, it were a great fin to intice me, being thy fifter, to commit this filthinefic, but a transcendent villany, to compel me against my will, seeing unto incest thou wilk add a rape, both which, by Gods law, are to be punished with death, Gen. 34. 7. Levit. 18.6.9. Deut. 22.29.

for no fuch thing ought to be done in Ifrael ] Who are by profellion, Gods own preuliar inheritance, and an holy people; in which respect, such an example of abominable wickedness committed amongst them, and that by one of such eminency as thou art, would bring a great feandal upon the whole nation, and cause religion, and even the Name of God, to be blasphemed, by all the beathen that are round about us.

do not thou this folly ] For though thou haft ufed all thy wir in the subtile contriving of it; yet as the greatest sin is the greateft folly in it felf, as transgreffing the law of a dreadful God, who is both able and willing to punish it with all feverity, it will, in the iffue, prove extream foolishmesse in thee, and make thee ridiculous to all who shall hear of it, that thou, who may fi have chorce of wives where thou pleafeft, with their love and liking, thouldft force me with violence, to commit this loathed act, who am thy own fifter.

V. 13. And I, whither shall I cause my shame to five That is, which way, or by what means shall I cleer thy self of this dishoneur and reproach ; or, how thall I be ever able, for thames and responded 2 of sum and the creates for maning to there my face in any place where I come 2 and as for thee, show first be as one of the fools in Ifrael i.e. eftermed among all men, notoriously infamous, a fon of Belial. desperately vicious, and to branded and stigmatized with folly and wickednesse, that all men will think thee most unworthy to facceed fuch a glorious and gracious father, in the government of the Kingdom, who are to unable to govern thy lelf.

I pray thee fpeak unto the King, for he will not withhold me from vered before with a pining ficknelle, v. 1. but now he coun- thee ] This fle faith, not because there was any hope, that the 812 2 ame who was a time contract of the man, about the best per 1 joint attention of the man and the man an his violence, knowing, that if this brunt were part, her father would take order to keep her from him, fush a march being incestuous; Levir. 18, 6, 9,11. V. 14: Hembett be would not hearkess to ber voyce] That is the louder cry of his luft; did fo out-cry her whollome counfel, and the devil fo hatderied his heart, that he was flark deaf to her periwalious, and fo purfited his wicked purpole.

V. 15. Then Amien hated her exceedingly] As it often hapmeth to thole, with these fold themselves to work wickednesses. when one luft is fatisfied, to run into the contrary extream. For now his eyes being opened, which luft had blinded, he is filled with horror of conferences and feeing plainly what shame and reproach he had brought upon tilmfelt, by his abominable flithineffe, he hated her, becaulie her Beauty was the bair that had allured him to fall into this frare of fhame and milery. Yet this did not befall him as a' necessary concomitant of the Yechnidd nor befall link six needfary concomitant of the finding up in link of we fee the quite contrary (feet in Sachardyung kind), (of we fee the quite contrary (feet in Sachardyung kind), (of the property of the property of the find the find the first partie, by six play a feet of the first partie of feet, by six play the first partie of feet in fill find of the first partie of the first parties of the first parties of the first parties of the first parties of the first parties threatned against David, to oring upons stamp, our of mirriber and adultery.

And Ariman fall unto be, Ariffe, and be gond I Where the rigge of last is until a time to five of folly; and definests including a while in the five of folly; and definest including a which no report to his create, who can be found thank and redvoach. Ever whereas, the after he with falling the deviations to withereas, the after he will be found to be a first he will be found to be a first he will be a first the direct of the second o again all firme and second. "This being commence, might be teemplary punishments a unto which hone would be brought, stored and the final property of the second and the first and the f ed among his occuliar people; his true religion, and the true professors of it leandabized; their fathers heart extreamly grieved, Ablolom her brother, enraged and extired to take gusven. Autonom ner brouter, enraged and extired to take presence. Al which midlichte in high be dwoyded, by conceiling in the feet and the feet and the feet and fee

V. 1. Then he taked be from the minister age to him Who did prefessly execute his command, v. 18. For cell fronthes feldon wint evil fervaint, to humber them in all their wicked couldes and defigues.

V. 18. Zin fin he had garness of divers colours who him I t. e.
Of wrought and industried work. For as in all their much and on wronger and tunor oldered work. For as in an age-square and women have been by God, differenced from the smother in their chares and degrees, To allo the colline it and meannels of their dabits and appairel. So Gen, chap, 37, v.3. Judg.

7. 30.

And Thinks puri after liphn her bead, and that there executed As they wild to expected their bitter mountains, and beare guinning grief. See Joth. 7.6. & Ch. 12. and the note upon

King, who was a strict observer of the law, could ever be per Jonly brother, both by sather and mother; and combilined as that the had not willingly condented unto it. Though , for the prefent, (it may be) the old not particularly expresses these the action, or the fact, to those whom the passed by; till flie did ir to Ablatom, upon his enquiry.
V. 20. And Ablatom ber bresher fald unio ber, Harb Amues.

the broiber been with thee] i. c. Abufed thre in that foul manier, as theu relateft ?

But bold now thy peace my fifter, be is thy brother] And therefore this fact of his were belt to be concealed; feeing the publishing of it, would redound both to the dishonour of the King, and allothe fhame and diffrate of our whole family repard not this thing | i. e. Set nor thine heart too much tipon ir, to be thereby vexed and tormented, feeling it was forced upon thee, and done against thy will; which will make all mear excule thee. And what is done, cannot be lielped; and that which is past dure, ought to be past care. And thus lie seeketh to women space are, ought to be part early sing this be recently partie his fifter; though, at the fame time, his own heare where energed, and breathed after revenge.

for Tamar remained defelate] i. e. In a forton and mountiful the state of the state of jo Tamar remained acjointe] 1. 6. In a toitum and mouthlest condition, none being able to give her comfort.

V. 21. But when King David heard of all the bings, be was very wrath] Not only because his elder son had committed such very pressor) 1,000 only occasine his caser ton has committee likes at helpons fin, as had exported firm to finant and oblooply flut affo, because it treached upon his own honours, who had bred him no better. But this was not enough, for David to be adery, feeing he was the fupream Magistrate, who coght to augy, teeing he was the inpream magniture, who ought to have feet the law of God executed upon the offender, without partiality, or respect of persons. Which he neglecting to do, did hereby shew himself to be an indulgent father, like Elvin Bad dbuffel het, had ufielder evirly nich feindly, keiping het partiality, or respect of persons. Which he neglecking to do, full mins chamber; till ber gird had been binnerheit diegelt de, the might have been pletfended obth for fin, and her own de, the might have been pletfended obth for fin, and her own de, the might have been pletfended obth for fin, and her own de file care, and moved God, in his just dipletative, to pull the creation of the control of the contr out hereby there himselve to be ast indulgent rather, the Elvi and the like cate; and moved God, in his just displication; to pull the fewer door of his hand, for neglecting his dury; being his vicegorous, and himself to fee justice extend those his pitch an executioner, as afficient his foul with double grief. The and summer to all the world; will be indeed; who side end as which God aymed, in this giving his over to be in impressed in this property of the control of from more there bushes out inhumanity, and farage crucity; whole Common-wealth, to keep others from offending by from more there and reason. This being committed, might be exemplary businesses a unto which none would be brought, and knowing, that proteined batted leaveth no place for re-verige, feeing the party fore-warned is also fore-armed signifi-any intended mischief, he spake action less on more when him, concerning this abuse offered ware his filter less the thould (ufpect that he intended revenge; and to should prevent it; neither was he fullenly filent, lest he should thereby littlect nettees was as meany ment, see no mount mereby imped that he bare a grideg, burifpake occasionally unto him, as it other mines, though not about this matter.

V. 23, And it chartle spille direct world years] Which dime is purposely broad, to thin we be invested as trainer and malice that war all that while lodged in Abilitains Heart; seeing follows that was at took wear it out, or mitigate it.

Abiliam bad free, fleaters in Baal Hater of Or, the Plan of Fator. Scituate on the bookers of Epitatin, and Empianin, John 15,25, upon which occasion, he made a feath, as the manner was in those times, to entertain their friends, and to encourage their fervants and workmen. So I Sam. thap.

And Absalom invited all the Kinge sould is e. Because hat Saybelded thus long, and saw that his tather, out of this footi-tiest of affection towards Amon, 'negliched to 'execute ju-lies, and to publish his heynous crime, he was hereby formuch incented, that he would no longer wan, but refolved himfelt to take reverge. And to this end, he layeth hold of this op-Manual bit Mind jobs for Wang. To 'esprelle her forröw 'wad the streetings. And to this conduct by legate hold of this conduction to the standard by the hold of this conduction is set bodys in a clarked to the conduction to the standard by the streetings. And the streetings is the streetings of the bortunty, they not impressed thee, and bis ferentis; go with N. 24. Let the King, I be feeth thee, and bis ferentis; go with the ferential Where he invites the King and all his tone, with their string.

Chap.xiii. their retique, to avoid all fulfition and itsloufic of any ill ! V. 32; And Jongdab the fon of Shipsah their retunns, to even dat integration and pressure of any inj V, 3.8. erran, Johann une por qu'oppeau——(46.5). But-issemmon against Action. Notation est a titude, is forme fishe fluide man was able, above all others, nightly to judge of the politors imagine) that he in tranth deficie due Kingis prefences; accident, becaule, by this countel and contributor, and because he would have him a feet above of distinum nutters; in regard than be himfulf had follow, no great on the country of the counter of the country who had power in his hand to punish his heymous crume, or to defire his prefence, which would have been an hinderence to his intended flight, after he had committed fo foul a

V. 25. Howbeit be would not go, but bleffed bim] i.e. wifhed that he might have much joy in his fealt, and gave him thanks for his kinde invitation. So ch.14.22.

V. 16. If not, I pray thee let my brother Amnon go with us ] Which he fo much defired, under colour, that being the kings eldeft fon, and by lineal defeent, to faceed him as her to the Crown, he would (in his absence) represent the Kings person, and so much grace and honour his seast; whereas otherwife, his earnest preffing and importuning him, to have omerwine, as camer preming and importaning aim, to have binnin particular, to bear them company, might well have made both David, and Ammon, in respect of former carria-ges, jenlous and suspitious, that he intended him some mischief had not God deprived them of prudence and understanding for the bringing them both to punishment for their former

V. 17. But Abfalom pressed bim] i.e. Was importunate, and would take no denyal, and fo in the end, prevailed and obtained his fuite.

V. 28. Mark ye now, when Amnons heart is merry with wine? Of this time he maketh choice, to perpetrate this bloody defign, and treacherous villany, that it might be the more fecretly acted, when Amnon being intoxicated with excels of wine, was destitute of counsel and strength, to make any rewhite, was deficute of counter and irrengin, to make any re-fiftance. And here Davids fin is punished by retalization; for as he had diade Urish drunk; that he might work his defigu upon him; to doth Abfalom deal with Amnon, to the fame

And when I fay unto you, [mite Amnon, then kill him] Where he maketh his will to fland for law, yeelding no reason for his bloody command. Howforver, it might well be judged, that he did it in revenge of his fifters wrong, whom he had defiled andravished, though, it may be be had a further end, being proud and ambinious, to make way for his afpiring to the Crown, by taking his eldeft brother out of the way.

[sar no], have not I summanded you 2] As if he had faid, is not my wafrant fufficient to bear you out, and excuse you, who am fo potent in my felf, and fo highly in the Kings favour. that he will never question either me, or you; seeing it is done in the just revenge of so foul a fact, and seeing also when he is removed out of my way, I shall be Prince , and as heir to the Grown, succeed my father, and fit upon his thromb

V. 29. And the fervants of Abfalom did unto Amnon . as Ab-[slom had commanded] i. c. Like wicked men, they obeyed the command of a wicked mafter, being more willing to please command of a wicked maller, being more willing to placife him, then cither God, er their King.

then all the Hings [our stofe, and every man get him upon his male and Heal]. I.e. Not knowing how far Ablaloms bloody treathery might evend, shey halted away to fecure their owns lives. And hir lind, that they get them upon their males, which great men that commy ufect or ide upon, it king. I.

3. For though the Hinchier might not breed them, by caufing beafts of divers kindes, as the horse and the affe, to gender together, Levit. 19 19. yet they were not forbidden to make ufe of mules, which were fo engendred. See Gen.

V. 30. And it came to puffe while they were in the war i.e. Pofting from Abfaloms house to the Court.

roung from Andalons house to the Court.

Thing roun for Davil, sping, Affelon half flat all the Kings fins] The which flying frame was increased in her flight, God ordering it by his fixed providence, that David might be the more daroughly humbled, by hearing the report of float in flexay judgenen; and yet afterwards, single be made more capable of comfort in the true loffe of his eldeft fon, when it proved far leffe then be expected:

V. 31. Then the King drofe, and tore his garmente] See chap.
1.11; and 12.16, and the notes upon them. And well might David thus express his great grief, when being such a tender loving father, as placed much of his happiness in his children, be faw one of them murthered by another ; yeat fai it was re-lated) ill of them by one, and that in fuch a bale and treach erous manner, and withal looking back to his own fin, as the fountain and cause of all this mischief and milery; and also becaule, both by his fin and punishment, he had given occasion to Godsenemes to blassheme.

Amnon, and his purpose of revenge, and therefore limited it here to him alone, Where the impudence of this Court-favorite. and his impenitoncy for his fip, notwithftanding he faw what and his imperatory for missin, norwithintanding he haw what milebiefs it had produced, appeareth, in that he could thus talk of Tamars rape, which himfelf had plotted, without any bluthing, as if it had been a matter that nothing concern-

V. 33. Les unt my lord the King, take the thing to his beart] That is, to mourn exceffively, above that for which there is iult caule.

V. 34. But Abfolom fled ] He was before, the fin committed, fo couragious, that he would have his fervants to act it without fear ; now it is done, is fo purfued with the guilt of an evil confcience, that himfelf fleeth to escape the fword of justice, ready to pursue him for his fin.

the young man that kept the watch lift up his eyes and looked] And having discovered the people approaching, brought word of it to David.

there came much people by the way ] To wit, which did lye beneer came value people of new way. To wit, which did lye be-tween Baal-hazor and Jeru'alem.

V. 35. As thy fervant faid, fo it is I Heb. according to the word of thy fervant. To wit, that all the Kings fons are alive. and onely Amnon is dead.

V. 36. the Kings four came and lift up their verce and meet I Bewaiting the great lofs that hapned in their family of two of their eldeit brethren, the one being loft by an horrid murther. and the other loft himfelf, having forfeited his life to the hand of juffice, by his treacherous cruelry.

V. 27. But Abselve fled and went to Talmai] Who was his mother fathers, from whom he hoped for protection, or, to get pardon from his own father, by his mediation, chap, the son of Ammibud] Or, Ammibur.

and David mourned for bir son every day ] That is, for the death of his fon Amnon, who was fo treacheroully murthered by his own brother, and also was so dear unto him, whose unnatural and untimely death he bewailed for the space of three years every day, having no intermission in his mourning.

V. 38. went to Gelber, and was there three years ] Where he stayed so long, in hope that his fathers displeasure would be worn out, in process of time, as it also hapned.

V. 29. And the foul of David longed to go forth unto Abfolong Or, was conjuned. That is, he to vehemently longed to tee his beloved Abfolom, that even he languished in his defire. Or, be fo much defired to have him return unto him, that he could willingly have found in his heart to have gone for him himself, or, to have met him in the way; or at least, to have sent for him some other to seach him home, if he could have fent for him foure other to fetch him bothes, if he could have done it for tear or financy fe tening he was guilty of for for district, the could be received to the form of the country o ner of execution.

CHAP. XIV.

Verl. v. Ow feak precived the the Kinge beer met courts abplant | Dan in house of the beer met courts abplant | That is, housed to flow hire fetthed home; whereby it appearent, that all his following endeavours to reduce Abfolom into his favour, did not proceed from any true love, or faithful friendfhip towards Abfolom; but meerly out of felf-love; because he looked upon Atfolom. ior onely as beir to the Crown, who might do him tither s pleasure or displeasure, when he came to reign; and therea pleature or dispersions, when he came to reign; and there-fore perceiving that he was now likely to recover the Kings Layour, he thought it good policy to purchate his lowaby fifth-ing himself forward; and a chief means in working his reconciing numer row arous a true means in working as recon-firm to his alogas upon David jewel gind duft favorite after whom his keart now earned and longed, not being able and longer to induce his cities and ablenced histories, like a cunting. Courtier, he applyets himfelf to pleafe the Kings heimory-sade operfunded thank in might be fent for honely, because his law that David much defired it; which plainly appeareth by this in the apprehention of Gods wrath upon his house, before the apprehention of Gods wrath upon his house, before the apprehention of Gods wrath upon his house, before the apprehention of Gods wrath upon his house, before the apprehention of Gods wrath upon his house, before the apprehention of Gods wrath upon his house, before the apprehention of Gods wrath upon his house, and the second house of Gods with the apprehention of Gods wrath upon his house, and the second house of Gods wrath upon his house, and the second his wall would not for a land time.

Chap.xiv.

yea, would not come at him, though fent for, till he was

And Josh fent to Tekesh] A city eight miles distant from Jerusalem upon a hill, on the North borders of Judah, 2 Chro. 11.6. where the Prophet Amos lived, Amos 1.1.

V & And feub thence a wife woman ] That is, he made choyce of one there, in such a distance, rather then of one dwelling at Jerusalem, or neer hand, because coming with a fained tale; fhe might not be fo easily known and discovered and because also he knew her to be prudent and politick, witty, active, and of ready speech, and thereby fit for such an imploy-ment, being able to deliver her minde and message, and to anment, being able to deliver her minde and meisage, and to an-fwer the King upon the fudden, as any oceafion should be offered. And be thought fitter to use a woman then a man, and a widow, rather then a wife or maid, because the parable and a widow, rather then a wite or maid, because the parable was to fully with a woman, and of fund a condition; and that fexe being more puffionate, was the more apt to move compafition, and more fit to aft the part of a mourner, having seares and lamentations are command; and that, being a leastes and lamentations are command; tesses and hamentations are command; and that, being a window, the might (being unable to help herfelf) the better caves and implore, from David, his affiftance, who being Gods vierg general world administer juffer on all, but offercially to the function and widows, with all lawful favour, feeing they had from Godd special promised his proceedings they had from Godd special promised his proceedings and anyone set by self-initio op! To with in token of monimated anyone set by self-initio op! To with in token of monimated anyone set by self-initio op! To with in token of monimated anyone set by self-initio op! To with in token of monimated anyone set by self-initio op! To with in token of monimated anyone set of the self-inition of the se

ing. For otherwile, they used to anount their faces with oyl, to make them feem more cheerful, Judg. 9.9. Ruth. 33. 3.

to make them treat more taken, you're you.

N.3. So 36th juit the words into her mouth ] That is, the whole form and frame of speech, which he would have her preak to the King, is the which he would have delivered, (not plainly and directly, but) darkly, and by way of parable, which plainly and directly, but) was usual in those times, because they moved much, and left behinde them a firong and deep imprefilion; and thought to be the more fit, upon this occasion, because, being an evil cause, is needed to be masked and difguifed under oblique and indirect colours and shews, seeing it would have appeared to be an unlawful and dishonest suit, if the had defired, that he, who bad murthered his brother, fhould be protected.

V. 4. and faid, Help O King ] Heb. fave. That is, succour v. 4. and jain, richy. O Aing. 1 stee. jave. 1 mar 18, income and relieve me, that I may be delivered out of this differed and danger; in which now I am, according to thy place, and that power which God hath been pleased to put in thine hand, that power which God hush been pleafed to put in thine band, and hush appointed three to exercite, for the relified cidil trellical and oppretfed widows, Edit, 1-y. Deut, 2-y. 19.

V.5. And liverifuered, I am indeed a sydney sensor.] And therefore more need to be privide and relieved in my differfice conditions, feeing I am not able to bely my felf, and want an insuband, to proceed and affilt me which int left is milery emough. But how much more intollerable, if I should, with more in the processing of the proc him, loofe also both my fons, as I am now in danger to do, unless thou wilt be pleased to help me, feeing I am unable to deleis thou wite e pleate to help me, feeing 1 am unanted de-fend my felf, gainst those that are riften against me. V. 6. dud thy band-maid but me fan, and shey firout together in the fidel] That is, they quarrelled with one another, upon fome fudden occation accidentally offered, and not upon any pretended malice before this bapned. and there was none to pare them ] And confequently, no witpels to prove the fact as the law requireth, Deut. 17. 6.

bus the one [mote the other and flew him] As the avengers fay, bur cannot prove.

V. Z. And behold, the whole family is rifer against thine hand-V.7.. And hebold, the whole family a rigin againgt some Dain.

midd] That is, the kindred, who have adoptionted by the law to be the avengers of blood, are rifen to profecure juffice againft the offerader, Numb. 30: 9.5 Pett. 19. 12. which the by pre-end as not refors of fitte fam; but doingie (as may well be though) out of fell-love, knowing that my flous inherizance, by last crash, fault comes the chem, as their own words import, but crash, fault comes the chem, as their own words import, but crash and the first all of the comes who have a first come words import, but crash and the first all of the comes who have a first come who have a first come who have a first come who have a first comes who have a first come which we have a first come when the first comes who have a first come who have a first come who have a first come when the first comes when the first comes who have a first come which we have a first come when the first comes when the f as ceats, san come onto teen, a cast own come and to find faying, that they would define a their allo, and fo fault they quested my coal which is left]. That is, till mine conely remaining (on, by whom mine husbands name and family may be continued and preferred, even as a five ready almily may be continued. most to go out, may yet be revived and kindled by a coal, that yet lyeth hid under the after, being kept alive and blown enst yet syste mu uncer too aires, oeing sept aires and nown soon; but if that also be put out and quenched, then no hope remaintely Deut. 25. 6.10.

V. 8. And the King said— I will give charge concerning thes To wit, that thy cause may be heard and examined, and thy son may be preserved, if that which thou saich appear

V. 9. The iniquity be on me and on my fathers boule, and the Ring and his throne be guiltleft] That is, I am fo well persona, ded of my fons innocency, that I am content, if there be any fault in protecting him, to take it wholly upon my felf and mine that the King and his Kingdom, may not lye under the from death, of what degree foever be be.

quest, let the guilt be upon me and mine. So Matth, 27, 24. Which though it were not a found argument, to move the Which though it were not a found argument, to move the King to grant her fuit, because, if it were unjust, dod would, punsh, both her for making it, and him for giving way unto it; yet, it might be some kinde of motive to make him think, it; yet, it might be some kinde of moutve to make him think, that her requelt was good, feeing the was so confident of the goodness of it, that the was willing to bear the whole burthen and blame of it, if it prove evil, and might comewhat incline his heart to favour her fuit; feeing out of her great care of his good, the would rather fuffer in her felf, and hers, any evil, then that any barm should redown to the King,or his Kingdom. And thus Rebeccab, perswaded Jacob, to hearken-unto her, in getting his fathers blessing by deceit, Gen. 27.

V. 10. He fall not touch thee any more] That is, not put thee. to any more trouble.

to any more troupie.

V. 11. Then faid fibe, I pray thee, let the King remember the Lord thy God? That its, how the Lord, by his law, hath provided, that they who have flain a man at unawares, should be preserved from the avengers of blood, Numb. 35. 12. and iceing there were many that sought her sons life, she defireth that the King would be pleased to take order, that he might be preserved against the persecutions of them (all. Others take it, (and that very probably) that she, in these words, desireth its, (and that very probably) that the, in their words, defineth bint, that he would renumber his promite, now made in the preference of God, which he might haply forget, through the multitude of his other weighty occasions, and lecretly moved him to ratife what he had faid, concerning her fon, by an oath, unto which he condefecadeth in the words follow-

And he faid as the Lord liveth, there fhall not one bair of thy for fall to the earth | See I Sam. 14. 45. that is, I will take order, that thy fon shall not be hurt in the least degree or manner. that thy ion insilinot be mire in the field the easy was very unlawful, feeing, by the law of God, her fon, who had flain his brother wittingly and willingly, though it were in hear of blood. ought to have dyed, Numb. 35. 10,17, 21. But it was now his own cale, in respect of Absolom, which maketh him so favourable in paffing this sentence, and fo ready to ratific it by luch a folemn oath.

fuch a folemn oath.

V. 13. Wherefore then haft than thought fach a thing against the popel.] Where the fubrilly applyed the parable to the Kingsparticular cafe, taking fo much as lerved her turn, and feaving out all that made against her. For their were divers and great differences, between the cafe of her fom and his brother, as the differences, between the cale of her lon and his brother, as the propounded it, and that of Absolom and Amaon. For he five his brother fuddenly in the heat of blood, But Abdolom killed Amnon after a long mediation, and in a treacherous manner; one of them affiolied the other, in a duel or equal fight, but Ammnon was flain at a feast, where love was pretended, and for the prelent, no offence given. There no witneffes were prefent, but here all the Kings children and their nells were pretent, out nere au ne amgegenidere and taetretinue. She pretended that this was her onely fon, who being cut off, there remained no heir, nor any remembrance of her deficated husband, to preferve his hould from being utterly extinguished: Bur Abfolom had many brethren, and much better then he ; and therefore, if be were taken away, there would have been no loffe. But herein they agreed, that they were both, the one and the other, wilful murderers, and therefore could have no benefit or protection, by the cities of refuge, which were appointed onely for those that killed another at unaware,

for the King doth stock this thing, as one that is faulty, in that the King doth not facia home his baniford! That is, as one who having given a just feature, in the case of another, doth fail in the execution of it, when it is his own. For David, who say the chargesh him) would have no rigour used against hee for this this broken with would case the chargesh him. fon, for killing his brother, which would extend to her great non, nor kning and protect, watern would extend to ner great grief and lots, could be contented, that it should be exercised towards his own so a Notion, though it redounded much to the grief and detriment of the whole Common-wealth, steing they looked upon him as his heir, who should fucceed him in the Kingdom, and as a light that should shine unto them, when as he, who was now their fun, fhould fer. And all this for kilas se, who was now near manmon see. And all this for silf-ling Amnon, who, by committing an haynous crime, had de-ferved death, and highly provoked Ablolom to inflict it, by ravishing his fifter, and thereby dishonoured him and their whole family.

V. 14. For we must needs dye, and are as water spile upon the ground]. That is, we take his absence so much to heart, that we can no longer fubfift without him, feeing we shall be desperately loft, (even as water spilt upon the ground which neither doth God reffect any perfon] To wit, to exempt him yet doth be devife means that bie banifbed be not expelled from guilt of blood for preferving my son chartes alive; or, if there yet doth be devisse means that his healisted be not explained by the barb also be appropriated to the many institute to the many bis lefe, be barb also be appropriated to the many institute to the ma devifed meurs, &cc. That is, it is a fign that it is Gods will he ! drayles meurs (ecc. 1 marts 5, 1132 mgc marter 5 Jones win m of hould fucced three, in that he haft preferred thim all this time of his banishment, and no wufeth means to perferred the that he may be reftored. Others underftand it of our finte of mortality and the necessity of death; feeing such is our condition, as that we must all needs dye fift or last; and when we are dead, there is no returning, like water full which cannot be gathered up again ; and therefore it is in vain to ratio Abiolom away before his time, forkilling Amnon; done this thing. That is, I have graved thy fair, which by feeing, by his death, the other could not be revived for broughe back into the world. Or, it may thus be means,

This foring all men are mortal, it must need be the case, also, This fisting all men are mortal, in muth acceds be the cafe, alloi, both of David and Ablolomy, and if David flowed dye, what was now, whitelfher lived, the light and life of lifact; yearly Ablobion furious bin lib would, as a bing coal, again kindle the fire ready to go out, whereas if David flowed flowed hippers to dee, ('sit there is no describately a mans mortal condition), and Ablobion allo finel afficiency, through given, before his time of the plant of the condition of t and happines would be quite extinguillied.

W. 15. It is because the people have made me affraid] That is, either that thou are so much integred against him, that thou are fully refolved to continue him in his baniflyment or, that they will be fo enraged to have their hope cut off, of enjoying fuch a defired facceffor, when shou are gon, that they will rife up in rebellion, and bring him back against the will. Or it may be, by the people, it is thus puffively underftood, that fhe was our of opposite, it is une pountery under the control was a latt, and nevert in a tanktutele for having it granted, that affirmed for the fields, that there might fonce attempts to made his chief latt, that the wijs of investion, by Absilom, affilted by his love towards his children, and how careful he was of their his father in latt, the King of effection, and how careful he was of their his father in latt, the King of effection, and how careful he was of their his father in latt, the King of effection, and how careful he was of their his father in latt. A children is one like the control of the co be corrupted and to corrupt the people in their religion, when he came to reign over them.

And the hand-maid faid. I will now fleak unto the Kine ] That is, fearing that some mischief would ensue, if the Kings fon continued in banishment, I resolved with my felf, to use the best means I could to prevent it, and to speak in his behalf to the King that he would cause him to return hoping that when he heareth what dangers will arrie, both to him and the Common wealth, by his flill remaining in exile, he will hearken unto me, and grant my fuit.

V. 16. For the King will bear to deliver his hand-maid, &c.] That is, knowing that the King is fo just, that he will be alwaies ready to hear the cause of the oppressed, and to right their wrongs; I thought it beft, in a parabolical way, to procount wrongs; the the state my own, hoping, that when he faw the equity of the caule, in my person, and had judged right, concerning meand my son, that we ought to be delivered from those that pursue ms; he would be no lettle equal and just, to himself and, his own son, when he should see the parable brought home and applyed unto them, conside-ring how dear he is to the people, which are Gods inheri-

V. 17. Then thine handmaid faid, the word of my lord the King faill now be comfortable ] That is, upon this ground, the concluded with her felf, that the thould receive from the King a gracious and comfortable answer to her fuit, concerning his

For as an Angel of God fo is my lord the King ] Where the infinuaces het felf into his favour for the obtaining of her foit, by her commending and extolling him; and because there was none on earth to match him, fire compareth him to an Angel of heaven, both in his wildom, in differning between right and wrong, good and evil; dexterity in judging, and uprightness in judgement; perswading her self, that like an Angel, he would judge, without passion or partiality, of her fuit which the made unto him, and confinntly observe his promife, which he had made unto her, under the name of her fon, for the reducing of his own Absolom.

therefore the Lord thy God fall be with thee \ That is, cause thy Kingdom to flourish, and prosper thee in thy government, and give good fucceffe unto all thy undertakings; because thou are wife and upright in thy judgement, and wilt now approve thy felf fo to be, in this particular cafe, between thee and the fon.

V. 19. Is not the hand of foab with thee in all this ?] That is, half thou not spoken and done all this, in this business, by Joabs counsel and direction >

uone cau turn to the right or to the left, from ought that my lord the King bath spoken That is, thou half judged to right, that mone can decline from that which thou half spoken, and not be put all thefe words in the mouth of thine hand-maid | That is. he gave me special directions for all that I have spoken.

V. 20. To fetch about this form of [peach] That is, to fpeak thus unto thee in a parabolical manner, propounding the marter in my own case, that thou mightilt the more unpartially radge of it, being applyed unto thy felf.

and my lord is wife, according to the mifden offen Angel of eafily condescend unto her fuit. As if the had faid, Thou are of fo deep a reach, to dive into the fierers of all pur counfels that thou excelleit others in wildom, as far as Augels excel

V. at Ant the King fuid nuta foab, Beholdwom, & have the woman of Tekoah, thou half moved me in.

V. 22. And Fosb-thanked the King | Heb. bleffed. Than is, with all lowly reverence, he gave him thanks for granging his fuite; and withed sinto him all happineffe and prefperid

To day thy fervant knoweth, that I have found grace in thy fache That is, I know it experimentally, and am further confi-

I had its a known experimentary, and am privace communed and affured of thy favour, by granting my luit. in that the King hab fulfilled the request of his fervier ]. Joah well knew, that it was Davids defire to have Ablolom brought home, which was the chief motive inducing him to make it his request, because he knew that it would be very pleasing unto him, to have it preffed upon him, by the importunate fuir of the General of the Army, who was in high place, and func of the General of the Army, who was in high place, and favour of the people; effectivily when the knew nor how, that which he so much defined, could be better done, for his own credit; yet taking no knowledg of this, he maketh it his own fuit, and showeth his shankfulnessee to having it granted, that wel fare and prosperity.
V. 23. So Josb arose Than is, addressed himself with all fpeed, to fet upon his journey , that he might fetch Abfalom home.

V. 24. And the King faid, Let him turn to be own boule, and let him not fee my face. I te. Not be admitted into my prefeace, as being reconciled, and in my favour ; for otherwife, it is more then probable, that in the whole space of two years, Abfalom faw his fathers face; for elfe he could not at that time have come arthe place of Godspublique worthip; from which it was not Davids purpose to have him banished. And this he did, partly, to bring him to a fight and sence of his fin; and to keep him for the time to come, from falling into the like, as in the pride of his spirit he would have been com abt to do. if he found his fathers favour eafily recovered. And to deter others also by bis example, from doing the like; and partly, to avoid the scandal of casie remitting so foul a fact. And it may be also, that herein be had respect unto Amnons friends, avoyding to give them just offence, by his easie admittance of him that had murthered him, left they fhould hereby be provoked to feek revenge

V. 24. But in all I frael there was none to be fo much praised as Ablalom, for his beauty ] Which is here brought in, either to commend Davids gravity, and power over his affections, that could moderate and reftrain bimfelf, from thewing any countenance, or love, to lo lovely a fon; or it is prefixed before the flory of his rebellion, as being one special cause of it, because his beauty made him insolent, proud, and ambitious; and being admired of the people, he became thereby popular, and highly in their favour. In which respect, one comparers beauty to a goodly Oak, which bringeth forth no other fruit but malle and akornes, fit to feed and fatten

V. 26. And when he polled bis head - he weighed the bair - at two hundred flekels after the Kings weight | To wit. common and civil shekels, which weighed a quarter of an ounce, or two drams, that is, fifteen pence apeece of our

V. 17. And unto Abfalom there were born three fons, and one daughter] All which dyed before him, as appeared, chap.

V. 28. And faw not the Kings face 3 See v. 24.
V. 29. Absalom sent for Josh, to have sent him to the King 3 Namely to mediate in his behalf, that he might be admitted into his grace and favour. And when he fent the focund time, he would not come? There-Don't won the first the first three forms that the second in the first three forms to act in his businesse, then shoot with the favour of the King. And therefore, fearing (as it may be thought) that the King might sufficient former fector countels and practifes between them, he fhunned to come acer him , that be might avoyd fuch jealoufies. V. 20. See, Joshi field is neer ___ go and fet it en fire] To the end, that he that would not come at his requelt, out of love, might be forced to do it for his own fake, to expostulate this injury,

V. 31. Then Feab arofe] i. e. Made all the hafte herould, to come unto Abialom.

V. 32. Wberefore am I come from Gefbar?] Thus he would nave nim with an earnetment, to expolitinate with the name, put the mainter out or all doubt, he returned, was noticed to concerning his withdrawing from him his face and levour; as coll, to get prefent peffetilon; and to this purpole, he putteth concerning us windrawing from him his face and rayour; as though he were fo full of love-towards him, that he was now grown impatient of any further delay; whereas contrariwite, being discontented with his restraint, he grew ill-affected to-wards his father, and entertained thoughts of rebellion against thither, to raife: a party; and make friends by his: popular who are much taken with novelitet, and appearances of glory and greatenille and been better for me to have remained there full I, then come bonte to be tunified our of the Kings (gibt, and to live out of his favour; the which is the life of my life, and the want of it will be the compared to the which is the life of my life, and the want of it will be the compared to the which is the first far to my first, and the want of it will be the want of it will be the want of it will be the want of the life of the compared to the want of the life of the compared to the want of the wan it more tendeth to my difgrace and reproach, when the people, by my beeing heere, take notice of his dif-favour in debarring me to come into his fight, which they would not have been to apt to do, if i had lived from him in a further difference. And there also I had more liberty to come to the Court, or go whither I pleafed; whereas now I am confined, by the Kings command; to mine own boule, or, at least, banished from the Court ; forit,is not likely, that the King restrained him from Court; 100 11,13 not likely, to at use King reftrained him from the place of Gods publike worfhip, though be, in his propha-selfe, makerin o account of enjoying fach a priviledgy, which he was wholly, deprived, of, whileft he lived at Gethur.

V. 32. And if there be any iniquity in me, lat bim kill me] Where he justifies himfelf, as though he had done nothing amiffe in murthering Amnon, feeling, thereby, he had juftly revenged that wrong and diffeonour which he had offered to revenged that wrong and diffeomer which he had offered to 174841 alone by the had a failt, that their caule was jide and good, though this filler. Or, if he had failed in the minute of executing that had a failt, that their caule was jide and good, though guide, he was content, for that go fuller, because he had rather were never to bady, and would make them fair pagnalies of his judice, he was content, for that go fuller, because he had rather were never to bady, and would make them fair pagnalies of his justice, he was content, for that to fuffer, because he had rather dye,then live in fuch difgrace; But then he defired that his father should sentence him to death, who was supream judge, because be knew that he had fuch intereft in his favour, that that he interacto heart, another he was to muce given to the being excluded out of his father specifice, that he choic rather to dye then to live; whereby David, deluded by his hypocrific, and out of his own indulgency. being perfunded that he work lower lower hearth of the father his fin, yielded to his fuit, and to admit him to come into his prefence; though there was in him no true repentance, nor heavy defire to recover his fathers favour, but onely that he might come unto the Court, to worke his own mischievous and ambitious ends, by gaining the love and applause of the people.

And the King kiffed Abfolom To give him full affurance, that now he had forgiven his offence, and was throughly reconciled unto him.

CHAP. XV.

Vetl. 1. And it came to pass after this That is, after David had thus reconciled himself to his wicked son, and again received him into grace and favour, neglecting to execute justice, by inflicting upon him that punishment which Gods law required, and his bloody fin deserved; God, in his righteous judgement, begun to execute upon David that heavy doom which he had threatned against him, for his sin of adoltery and murther; that is, that he would raife up cult fies he had no respect of persons, but onely symed at justice, adultery and murther; that is, that he would raise up cull againg birm in the own band, chapt. 1.1.1. And to this purpose the gives up his greatelet fion, out of his pride and ambition, to plet and practice gainst him; that detheroing him he might reign in his flead. And though being now his cleaff flon, he reign in his flead. And though being now his cleaff flon, he might be not attain his define, if he would have flaid his term when they are the work of the term of th till his fathers death, which now, in respect of his old age, could not be far off, yet be was fo impatient of any delay, that nothing could content him but prefent possession, though he could no otherwise ascend into the throne, then by making the dead karcase of his father a step unto it. Of which his haste dead karcafe of his frater a flep unto it. Of when his batter a flep unto it is considered to the state of th whom he thought unfortay to come into his preference wanted he was living. And another cause might be, his real-ouse of Solomous functeding his father, though he were the elder brother, because he was so well beloved, both of his father and Carl his real. Goddinelle, ch. 23. 24, 25. 23 de was a true lifecilie, both by, father and motor; whereas he defended of Mascal, which is use if the state and motor; whereas he defended of Mascal, which is use of the state and motor; whereas he defended of Mascal, which is use to the head of the state of have him with all exmellineties to expollulate with the King, put the matter out of all doubt, he refolveth, whatforver it fign; and first, to have a princely retinue to attend him, as

ing and driv, to have a princely retinue to attend film, as it followeth in the next words.

Ablolum prepared him chartots and horse-men, and fifty men to run before him ] Which he did to this end, that by taking upon wards his lather, and entertained thoughts of rebellion against him, and afpring to the Crown; and not feeing any means of compating his draftin; which he was banished from the Conte, he, whemently defireth, that he might be reflored to the Conte, he, whemently defireth, that he might be reflored. much commend him to the popular effeem of the vulgar fort. who are much taken with novelices, and apt to admire and gate] To wir, of the Kings Court out of the city; (which was appointed to be the place of judicatory: ) the which pains and diligence, he ufeth as another politick means to infinuate bimfelf into the hearts of the people; feeing he was fo zealous of their good and wel-fare, that he spared for no pains, to inform himfelf in their causes and fuits, that they might have then Absolom called unto him] That is, he was so forward to gratific them in their suits, that he did not stay till they made their addreffes unta bim, but prevented them, by fhewing his their addresses unto him, but prevented them, by firewing his reading to do them good.

thy feroun is of one of the tribes of Ifree! That is, of this or that city, scituate in such, or such a tribe:

V. 3. And Abfolom faid unte bim, See thy matters are good and right That is, thus it was his manner to fay unto any man affiftance, though he never intended it, but onely aymed, our of a foothing flattery, to gain their love, which was an easie purchase, colling him no more then the price of his

he was fure enough to be out of danger. And thus wicked men judicic chamilers in their evil actions, especially when they performed the properties of the pr care to execute juntee numerious or naving it uone sy vaters under him 5 either not appointing them to do it, or not calling them to account i they neglected it. Which was a finan-leffe flander of a graceleffe (on feeing it is faid, that De-vot reigned over all lifest, and executed judgement and justice unto all the people, ch 8. 15. V. 4. Absolem said, moreover, O that I were made Judge in the land ] So Gaal, Judg. 9. 29. where he plainly sheweth, that his end in traducing his fathers government, was to advance himself, though the eyes of the common people were so dazled with his glosing glosses, that they could not discern it.

V. s. And it was fo, that when any man came nigh anno bins to do him obselface.

While the third with a limit of the size of the conwas to inveigle all the people with his allurement, he puts no great difference between one and another, rich or poor, but used the lame human sity and stiffshipty to all allies and putting forth his hand pulled them to him, imbraced and killed them, which was that common complement, that was used in those times, for the expressing of their love. And this he did, to flew how unpartial he was, and that in all these curre-

V. 6. So exception from the matrix of the method primer; from David his lather, whole they were by right and dudy, as being their lawful King and Sovereign lord, unto bindle, to whom they be longed not, in that relation for though they might lawfully love and honor him as their Prince, yet not fo as to let the Crown on his head, which was only his fathers right. In which respect, he is said to have stolne their hearts, because he sought to take away that which was due only to his father; and in that he did it ferretly, and deceifully; so as neither the people, nor David himself did discover it. Though could hardly be kept from the Kings ears, by the relation of one, or another, had not their love filenced their rongues, and Davids fondneffe Ropped bis ears, that be had neither power nor will, to hearken to any reports against his fon. But prinChap. xv.

period of time thele fourty years are to be computed, it a great question among Expositors. For the determining whereof, Il drawing the people to his party, who were already too. much call let passe divers of their conceits which have no probable ground, and instit only upon two, which are most like.

"The first is of those, who think that this account is to like." Adjains rigingth in Helvin II When the Trumpers shall be the state of the state years in all, it doth not feem unto me very probable, that this reckoning can fland, which taketh up his whole time, from his first anounting at Hebron, to his death. And though from an arti anoyating at recoros, roan deato. And though it be faid, that the things afterwards related from Abfaloms rebellion, to the end of Davids reign, were all transfered in a thort time, and as they conceive, in the laft year before his death; yet it feement to me to be far otherwise, and apparent ly contrary to the plain text. For besides the time required to the raising of the rebellion of Absalom and Sheba, and the to the railing of the rebelis, we read of a three years faminine that fullowed in the days of David, inflicted upon the land for the fin of Saul and his bloody house; of execution done upon Sauls fons, and of Rifpahs attendance upon their dead bodies, which were hung up in the bill all the time of the harveft, chap. 20. ver. 10. mention also is made of warsrailed by the Philiftims three feveral times, and of Davids victories over them; intums caree reverant utimes, and or Davids victories over them; for the obtaining whereof, he went out and fought against them in his own person, and was in danger to have been shin, had not Abishai succoured him, chap. 21. ver. 15.16. which furely he could not have been able to do, when the same year turely ne could not nive neen anic to do, when the laune year natural heat was fo wholly (pent, that he could by no means have any warmth procured, but lay (as we fay) bed-ridden. Befides, there were almost ten moneths taken up in numbring the people, chap. 24. ver. 8. And in this very time of Abla-loms rebellion, it is related, that David was so strong and healthy, that he fled away on foot; yea barefoot, and not only on plain ground, but by climbing up by the aftent of mount Oliver, yer. 30. And alterwards, was refolved to have gone Oliver, yer. 30. Ann atterwards was retored to use goin-out with the people to battle, had they not diffuseded him; and because he was old, important, and decrepit, but only because they would not have him to indeager his perion, chap. 18. ver. 6, 3. All which things confidered, I cannot but wonder, that so many learned and godly Expositors, should entertain such a groundsesse conceit, that all those things were done in a very short time before Davids death. And therefore I much rather incline to their opinion , who reckon thefe fourty years from the time of Davids first anounting by Samuel, whereby he had from God just title and right to the Crown and Kingdom; though he had not actual possession for divers years after. Against which computation, there is but one only objection of any weight, which I do not doubt, but that I can eafily answer; namely, that Davids anoynting being done privately, and in a fecret manner, could not well be a rule of the publike account; for though this action were fecret and private when it was done, yet long before this rebellion of Absilom, in all the former part of Davids reign, it was famous and noto joufly known to all men , and fo now became a fit period of time, for the raifing from it this prefent computation of fourty years, Let me go and pay my wow which I have vowed unto the Lord in Hebrail Or, pay my wow Butter a Darte worker unto the Lord in Hebrail Or, pay my wow in Hebrau, which I have owned white! I abude at Gelbur! Where, like a leunning by poortie, he maketh religion to be the cloke for his rebellion, because he knew that his pious father would not be an hindrance unto him in any act of devotion and religion. And he maketh choyce of Hebron, because it was a place famous, as being ancient, and one of the chief Cities of Israel, where was the Sepulchre of the Patriarks, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and a principal high place whereunto they reforted to offer facrifices, especially gratulatory oblations and peace-offerings , which might be lawfully done in other places besides the Tabernacle, before the building of the Temple. See 1 Sam. 9 12, and the note upon it. The place also where his father was fift crowned king, and where himfelf was bern and bred, and where his kindred, friends, and acquaintance lived, which made him chiefly to defice to go thither, as being likely there to finde the best

V. 8. If the Lord Shall bring me again indeed to Fernsalem then will I ferve the Lord ] To wit, in a publike manner , by offering unto him gratulatory oblations and peace-offerings;of which fervice he maketh choyce to propound it to his father ; not only because he knew that it would rejoyce his heart to fee his fon foreligiously devout to shew his thankfulnesse, and fo make him willing to condescend to his fuir, but also, because at fuch factifices they used to make great feafts, unto which they invited their friends and acquaintance ; under which colour he had a fit opportunity to affemble as many as he thought meet to come together , for the railing of this rebellibring upon ibim 'thole judgments, which he bad by Nathan V. 10. But obligation fent files throughout all the tribes of If-threatned againt him, for his adultery and murther. red! To wir, to this end, that he might discover how the chis V. 7. And it came to paffe after fourty years ] From what of every tribe flood affected towards him; and withal, that period of time these fourty years are to be computed, is a great they might prepare a way for his rebellion, by perswading and > agreed upon and appointed by Abfalom , then, at the hearing thereof, when the people wondred what it should mean, the fpies and others, which were to be fent for this purpose should inform them , that Abfalom was ancyated King in Hebron , with all regal ceremonies and folemnities , and was so accepted and proclaimed by the people. Or elfe, when these trumpers sounded in every tribe, they were appointed to tell them the cause of it; namely, that it was to summon ed to tell them the caule of r; namery, that it was to immon them to refort unto Hebron, to give their approbation and ac-clamation to their new crowned King in Hebron, and to cry out, as it was usual in such inaugurations, God see King Ab-

V. 11. And with Abfalom went two hundred men out of Jerufalem, that were called, and they went in their fimplicity, &c. 1
That is, Abfalem invited two hundred special men of notes to come to the feast of his peace-offerings, whom he acquainted not with his conspiracy, and were therefore wholly innocent in the point of his rebellion. Of which he made choyce, as being eminent men, and fo fit to grace his action, and by their example, to draw on others to joyn with them; and because he had conceived good hope, that having drawn them from the Kings party at Jerufalem, to come among his own friends at Hebron, they might easily be perswaded to be on his side, feeing they could not with any fafety, now they were there, thew their diflike, by forfaking the faction, and returning home; especially, considering how generally he was beloved of the people, ver. 6. But how sever, though he could not fo far prevail with them, as to withdraw them from David, vet now at leaft, they were in his power; and under reftraint, that they could not give him their affiltance, though they should much defire it.

V. 12. And Absalom sent for Achitophel the Gilonite Davids comfeller] Who it feemeth, though he had been formerly in great efteem with David for his wifdom; yet now there was ome breath between them; either because David had, upon good experience, discovered him to be a crafty unconficionable polititian, and a wicked man, or fome other quarrell; and as politizan, and a wicked man, or tome other quarters, among of one think, (though I fee no reason for it,) for abufing Bathfieba, (upposed to be his grand-childe, seeing he had made her large amends, by taking her to wife, and making ber a Queen. But howsoever manifest it is, that he proved unfaithful to David, and became Absaloms Counsellor, in plotting his conspiracy; though at this time he was gone home to his own house, that he might more easily disguise himfelf, and not be known to have his hand in this rebellion.

From ble City even from Gilob] Which was a City in Judah.

John 15. y1.

whileft be offered facrifices To wit, his peace-offerings, unto which he invited Achitcphel, as one of his guests. the confirmacy was firing, for the people increased continually with Abjalom ] Which was no small wonder, that a King with Abjusm I write was no imal wonder; that a Aing fo pious, just, and prosperous in all bis undertakings; should be so ungratefully foriaken by his people, who notwithstanding made prosession of Gods true religion. But this came to palfe, party, from the fickle and unconfinited and inconfinited disposition of the common people, who are foon weary of the prefer government, if at least they finde any warms and weakneffes in it, which cannot wholly be avoyed in the and weakerlies in it, which cannot maonly be avoyed in the tery bell, and partyly because they were great with childe of those twelling hopes, which Abfalom, by his fair thews and flatteries, had begot in them) and partily, because the Conspirators had blacked and blafted David, by divulging Conjurators and blacked and matted David, by diverging and aggravating all the errours and faults of his life and government; as his adultery with Bathlinba, the murther of Uriah, with divers others of the army, his pardoning of Amon for his inceftuous rape; to which, they might have added, his not puntihing of Abfalom, as a treacherous Pararicide, but that it would have made against their cause; which because it did not make for, but against them ; therefore it is likely, that instead of that, they justified Absaloms fact, as being an act of his just revenge for the abuse of his fifter; and contrariwise, laid it as a great fault to Davids charge, that he had dealt barshly and rigorously with Absalom, in traine usa acuit pariny and rigorouty with Abialom, in differeding and difcounternacing him to long a time for fo good an action. But principally, this came to palle by Gods special providence, who chiefly ruleth all the affaires of men, and their events, by ruling and inclining their hearts which way he pleafeth; and so here, the hearts of the people, in turning them from holy David, to impious Absalom ; that hereby ned.

V. 14. And David faid unto all bis fervants ----arife, and tesm flas | Though David were very valiant in himfelf, and now in a place of great strength, the Fort of Sian, and had a strong party to make it good, and defend him against all y rear, or directive flower and provinence; for it is lor extent on provinence as a smalled by the daird Filing, which is filed to have been presented, by complying with the new King, upon this oreafice, that by faith the relyed upon God as his v. 10. Whereas threatening the filling the pass the frequent and provinence and the filling that the filling upon his firenging and protections, he peroferve Gods providence, as being the likelieft way to escape Abialoms fury, and not certainly knowing how they in the City flood affected towards him, nor whether there might not be many in this fearful diffraction and rebellion , that would defert him, and adhere to his fon: feeing it is usual with the common prople to adore the Sun rifing, rather then the Sunfetting : he thought it his wifest course to decline the present danger, by departing for a time, till he faw to what party they danger, by departing for a time, till he taw to what party they were inclined; and in the mean while, might life the best course to allay the rage of his rebellion; and either to regain them that were disaffected, or to strengthen his own party. that they might fubdue them. Besseles, his care of preserving the City from being spoyled and plundered, if they stood on the city from being spoyled and plundered, if they stood on the city from being spoyled and plundered, if they stood on it. by the malignant party within , made him willing to fecure it by his departure, preferring (like a good King) the common west before his own personal interest. But chiefly, this came to paffe by a powerful providence over-ruling him, and incliming hisheart to take this courfe, that hereby a way might be made, for the bringing that judgment to passe, which God had shreatned, of giving his wives to be defiled by his gracelesse

V. 16. And the King left ten women which were concubines to keep the boufe] Which he did , thinking that they would not be lo harbaroully inhumane, as to offer any violence to them, being of the weaker fex, and unable to make any refiftance a and much more, that they would out of reverence forbear to do it to them, who were in fo mere a relation to their King. But principally, this came to paffe, by a fpecial providence aver-ruling bis heart, that being thus left behinde in the houfe, they might become the fubbects of Abfaloms filthy laft.

V. 17. And the King went forth, and all the people after bim] i.e. Not only his houthold, with his Courtiers and officers, but allo the Cherchites, and Pelebites, and Gitties, that were his chief guard, and with them all the Citizens that were known to be his faithful fitteds and fubricks, who would have been endangered to the rage of Abfaloms party, if they had flayd behind him.

and tarryed in a place that was far off ] That is, when he had gotten him alf in tome good diftance out of the city, he made there fome flay for a time , both to reft and repose himfelf and his weary followers, and also as a randevour for his friends to refore sento, that being collected into one body, they might be the better able to fland in their own defence, if they were attempted by their enemies a and also, that he might chap, 9, ver. 22. & chap, 15, ver. 11. And the cause of this abserve what course and counsels Absalom and his party would service of carrying the ark with David at this time, was that in take, shat he might accordingly use means to prevent or fru-

Reas their proceedings.

V. 18. séand all bis fervants pafful on bifides bim, and all the Chestibies. and all the Pelebines. See chapter 8. ver. 18. and the note upon it, and I King. chapter 1. verse and all the Gittites ] Which were (as Junius thinketh,) the garrilon Sauldiers, who were appointed to keep Gath, which David, not long fince, had taken from the Philiftims, shap. 8. ver. s. which were valiant men, and long experienced in warlike affaires, and fo the fitter to guard Davids perfon in

Then faid the Hing to Insti the Gittite Who was Captain over the fix hundred Gitties that came from Gathand as some suppose, the King of Gaths son, who was become a Proselyce to the Jewish religion; and being highly in the Kings favour; as one of his great Worthies, and a wife and valiant Captain, be committed unto his conduct, a third part of his Army in that bettle against Absalom, chapter 18, ver. 2. Others think, that he was a native Ifraelite, but called a Gittits, commandeth it to be carried back, as more relying upon and a firanger, as likewife all the fix bundred over whom he Gods powerful prefence and affiftance, which was the and it radge?, as usewer an tee in sudared ever woom set spoots powerful presence and animance, weine was the commanded, beautiful officers and train, their Captain. But if downfirs, which were the Arts, which was but a fign and he as the garmin or that a City, and the but in a fign and the captain. But if downfir. And this he did, partly, because he cold increase this mill are then the captain the captain and the captain and the Arts, untiled he had all the Dright had been all the captain and the captain a ftranger, but alfo an exile , who (as it may feem) was fled he might chassise his sine, by bringing anon him that from the Phillistians, and left all his lands and means in their punishment which they had deferred, and he had threat- Country; and (it may be) for confirence take, hatting their idolatry, and defiring to become a Profetyte to the true religion; to which purpole be came to live with David, and for the fame caufe was much efteemed of bim.

V. 19. Wherefore goeft thou with us, return to thy place ] As if he had faid, Thou haft no reason to expose thy felf to such the forces of his trayarous son, yet he resolveth not to flay troubles and dangers, as thou art likely to meet with, if thou by it, but to flee away with all speed. Yet not out of cowardly fear, or diffrust in Gods power and providence; for it is to return to Jerusalem, and to endeavour thine advancement, failets, that he would not be attail of ten thoulands of people coming but very lately to my Coster, there is no read feming themselves against him round about, Pill 3, ver. 3, why thou findolls put by fell to lo such trouble; as no men to particle withing, I have made where no men to particle withing, a loaw was where no no how long; in all my miferies and afflictions. Whereas , if thou returneft to the new anounted King , he will receive thee , and not fuspect, or hurt thee or thy followers, seeing ve are stran> and take back the brethren i.e. The countrymen and followers who are under thy command.

mercy and truth be with thee ] i. c. As thou haft fhewed thy felf merciful in commiferating my mileries, and a faithful and true friend, who is best known in adversity; so the God of mercy and truth recompence it unto thee and all thy followers. with his chief and choycest bleffings.

V. 21. As the Lord liverb, and as my lord the King livetb ] See 1 Sam. chapter 20. ver. 3. and the note up-furely in what place my lord the King fhall be ] That is nothing thall make me leave thee profperity, or advertity, life or death.

V. 22. And David faid to Ittai, Go and poffe over] i.e. The river Kidron, v.23. which lay between the city and the mount

V. 23. And all the country west with a loud vorce ] i.e. All the people inhabiting about Jerusalem, lamented the woful and afflicted condition of their good and gracious King. and all the people west over ] To wit, which accompanied Dawid in his flight the King alfo himself passed over the brook Hidren] Called also Cedron, Jos. chapter 18. ver. 1. which was a small river or torrent, running in a dark shady valley neer Mount Oliver, and without Jerusalem, into which the good Kings of Judah, in the times of reformation, used to cast idolatrous reliques; and over which our Saviour is faid offen to have passed, when he with his Disciples resorted into that garden , in which he was betrayed and apprehended, Joh. 18.

towards the way of the Wildernoffe] Which was Eastward from Jerufalem, between it and Jordan

V. 14 And lo, Zadok alfo, and all the Leuites with him bear. ing the Ark] i. c. He, who was fecond Priest, and next the gh Priest Abiathan, joyned with the Levites, in carrying the bigh Freix AGMENTS JOYNEM WHO DE LEVIUS, IN CATYING, LIE Ark, as they fonetimes used to do in weighty and folema oc-casions, John chap, 33, ver. 6. (for otherwise, ordinarily, the Levius were appointed to bear ir, Numb. chap, 4, ver. 4, 1 Chr. chap, 15, ver. 15.) And to Zaddek mrn, it seemeth, this fervice now fell, according to that distribution of atten-dance, which David had made on this holy ministry, I Chr. his troubles and dangers they might pray to God, and confult with him before it, to cleer their doubts and difficulties, and to crave his direction.

and they fet down the Ark of God ] To wit, in the place where David purposed to rest and repose himself, with the rest of his

And Abiather west up] That is, to the top of the mount of And explainer were wy 1 that is, to use they or the mounts of Oliveria (as it slikely) to this end, that they might from thence take a view of the people, as they palled by with David out of Jerulalem over the brook Kidron, to the place where they had fet down the arks and that slio from thence he might difhad fit down the arks and that alio from thesee he mugat ant-core when they elic coming out of the City.

V. 25, And the King fail naw Zadek, Comp but the Arks of Cold, are being! Though David highly ellemend the ark of God, as being the vilhel fign of his prefences; before which link prace wonders had been veryoghts former simes, as the drying up of Jordan, and the falling fits of the wells of Jirideo, and nover more needed the comfort of its prefence, then in this his great affliction and diftreffe; yet he attend it', whom he was loth to expole to Ablaloms fury; forg cause he might from thence turn himself lowards Moulab Ston. deferring him, having had former experience what had befallen where the Tent was pitched; the which was the rotate of the them in the dayes of Saul upon his displeasure, for adhering to David. And partly, he was willing to leave them behind him, because he knew none so faithful and able as they, to do. him fervice in his absence, by observing all the passages, counfels, and courfes of the revels, and acquaining him with them from time to time, as they got any fit opportunity. And this caufe is expressed, v. 35,36.

if I hall finde favour in the eyes of the Lord, &c. ] Where David (weetly and meekly lubmitteth to Gods good pleafure; and wholly denying himfelf and his own will, he refigneth up his person, crown, and state, to be disposed of, as it should feem good in his eyes, knowing that he is infinitely wife, and underthood what was bell i omnipotent, and able to do what he pleaseth, and incomprehensibly good and gracious to his children that love and fear him; and therefore will convert all to their everlatting good. Wherein he left himfelf an example to all future ages, of relyance upon God, and of sweet and comfortable contentation in all conditions, unto which he shall be pleased to call us.

and them me both it and his habitation] i. e. His Tabernacle, or Tent, in which the Ark stood, the fign of Gods grace and

V. 26. But if he thus fay, I have no delight in thee] i.e. If he doth not accept of me, because of my fins and great unworthineffe, but is pleafed to correct and try me further , I wholly fubmit to his good pleafure.

V. 27. And the King faid to Zadok the Prieft, Art not thou a Seer ] I Sam. 9. Whereby is meant, either that Zadok had the extraordinary gift of prophecy; or rather, in respect of his near approaches unto God in his office and ministry; he saw more into Gods fecrets then ordinary men, and fo accordingly was able to teach and instruct the people in the knowledg of his Will, Mal. 2.7. Who more needed at this time his prefence and guidance, then at others; and therefore he could not now be well miffed, especially, confidering, that it was (as it is very likely,) his course to give his publike attendance at the Tent or Tabernacle, according to that order which David and Samuel the Seer, had ordained; I Chr. givi. And in this. respect, he being a publique Minister, who was bound to attend the Ark for the fervice of the whole Church and people David chose rather to dispence with his absence from him, then he would withdraw him from his publique fervice; feeing allo, in some respects, he might by his staying, behinde, be very Gruiceable unto him.

V. 18. Uhill there come word from you to certific mel i. c. Till you give notice of what thall be done in the City, and in the Court of the new King.

V. 29. Zadob therefore and Abiathar carried the Ark of God again] Not taking their fons Ahimazz and Jonathan with them, as David directed them; but caufing them to flay, upon some special occasion, at Enrogel, in some distance from Jetufalem, that lying there in obscurity, they might receive their fathers inftructions, and fo acquaint David with them, as occafion was offered, ch. 17. 17.

V. 30. And David went up by the afcent of the mount of Olives, and wept as he went up] Not to much bewaiting his prefent mifery and affliction brought upon him by his ungracious and unnatural fon, whom he renderly loved as because he had moved God in his just displeasure; thus to correct him for his grievous fins of adultery and murther. rieyous fins of adultery and murther, and bit head covered] In token of mourning and deep humiliation, according to the manner of close mourners, ch chap 119. ver. 4. Helth. chapter 6. ver. 13: Jar. chapter 14 ver. 3. Who used to cover their heads, that men might not see their faces blubbered with means and to keep their own eyes from wandring and gazing after fuch outward objects, as would divert and hinder them in their mouru-

And he went barefoot] As a fign of forrow and fhame, Ifai.

20.3,4.
And all the people that was with bim, covered every man b beat] i.e. Partaking with the King in his affictions and for rowes, they conformed themselves to his example, in the like expressions of their mourning.

V. 31. And one told David, faying, Achtrophel is among the Conspirators Which report was brought to him by a special providence, the more to humble David, and to make him to feek unto God with more fervent prayer, to defeat his policies, because he was well acquainted with his deep reach, and great wifdom.

O Lord I pray thee, turn the counsel of Achitophel into foolishness] Which prayer of faith and fervency God heard and granted, ch. 16, 21, & 17,14,12.

morfhipped God ] i. e. The mount of Olives, from whence lie | they came. took this present occasion of worthipping God, not only be-

Atk, the fign of Gods presence and type of Christingto which when they prayed, they used to turn their faces, a King chap. 8. wer. 44; 48. Dang chap. 6. wer. 10. But because al-fo. he might at this time behold the Ark in its passage it as it was carrying thither, and thereby be moved to pray with more fervency of affection, feeing he knew not how long it would be, e're he should again enjoy this sign of Gods presence; of which by his slight he was now deprived.

Behold nufhas the Archite, came to meet bim] So called from the place, either of his birth or habitation, which was Arheis in the borders of the children of Joseph; of which, mentions is made. Jofh r 6. 2. Wherehy David had the first return of defeating Achitophels counfel, according to his prayer, which was no fooner made, but God prefently provided and fent-Hushai to meet him, whom he had qualified with such wisdom. that he was able to do it.

with his coat rent, and earth upon his head \ See chap.1.2. and the note upon it. By which ceremonies, they used to expresse their deep humiliation, Josh 11. 6. 1 Sam. 4. 11. and chap.

V. 33. Unto whom David said, If thou passest over with me, thou shalt be a burthen unto me] i.e. Altogether unprofitable and troublefome; to wit, because thou and thy company will but add to my care, in protecting you from danger ; and it will be but an unnecessary charge also, to provide for you victuals and necessaries , of which I am as yet feanted , having little enough for the company that already attend

V. 24. But if thou return to the City, and far unto Abfalom? Where he teachern Hufhai to diffemble himfelf to be Alfaloms friend and fervant, though it were his chief intention to defeat all his counfels, and to hinder him in all his traverous. courses and proceedings. Wherein he discovereth humane-frailty, which putteth men, in their extreamities to use unlawful means, as diffimulation, lyes, and equivocations, to compaffe their end and defires, as northinking the fimple truth fo fufficient, as they may fately rely upon it, without thefe

V. 35. And baft theu not there with thee Zadok and Abiathar That is, thou fhalt furely have them there to affift thecwith their counfel, and all their endeavours. See Judg.

V. 26. Behold, they have there with them their two fons To wit, as David thought, who fent them away to the City together, not knowing that upon their fathers command they flay ed at Enrogel, ch. 17. 17.

CHAP, XVI.

Verl. t. And when David was a little past the top of the worshipped God, ch. 15. 32. and was going on towards the Wilderneffe.

Zibathe [ervant of Mephibofheth met bim] Though David for the prefent, were in an afflicted condition, and dethroned by his ion, yet Ziba was willing to make an adventure, by pre-ferting him in the time, of his extreamity and lucceffing with gifts of some value and more use, in hope of his reflitution to his former flate and dignity, because he had long experience of Davids piety and justice in all his reign, and how God had prospered him in all his encerprizes; and considered also Absaloms wickednesse and rebellion, in which it was not likely, that God would give him good fucceffe. Which if it came to paffe', he then affured himfelf ; that he would bountifully require all his kindnesse in his pro-fperity; who had thus helped and relieved him and his followers in their adversity and want. Wherein (as I connowers in over averany and want. Wherein (483-4 conferies) the adventure was not great, being compared with his hopes; feeing it is very probable; that he, who had the managing of all his mafters ethate; and all his goods at his dipolang, did furnish this Prefere out of Mephibotheths treats and flore, and took advantage by thus using his goods , to betray his mafter, and enrich bimfelf. Seeing I look upon him as a falfe, faithleffe, and treacherous fervant, who being deflitute of the fear of God, made conscience of nothing, but only aymed at his own gain.

V. 2. And the King faid unto Ziba, 18/hat meaneft thou by shele? Though he might eafily perceive , that Ziba brought thefe things as a Prefent's yet because he was but a fervant, with whom it was not ufual to prefent things of fuch value, he supposed that he might be fent unto him by his mafter , and that he only was appointed to bring them, as his Mellenger; and therefore he propounders V. 32. When David was come to the top of the mount - be this question, that he might be more fully resolved from whom

E hafret mid wat belrebdy beauff it berge britist ded

Chap avi.

companing the imminant of the gift with his greathing, as on the first his opporations before a fail to worthy for great a King 3, though upon find a finded noccasion, thus, it king 2.1. the might be followed in the finded noccasion, the might be followed from the forth is followers; in which reject, the might be followed; the first followed in the first followed in

3. And the King said, And where is thy masters son; 1. e. the borrible wrongs and indignities.
ibolineth, the son of Janathan. For seeing he had spoken V. 7. And thus said Shimet — come out, come out, thou Mephibolheth,the lon of Jonathan. For feeing he bad ipoken nothing of him, as he might expect, in answer to his former queftion, but took upon himfelf alone, the Prefent which he had brought, he taketh occasion to enquire further of him , what was become of Mephibosheth in those troublesome

And Ziba Said - be abiderb at Ferufalem; for he faid, To das faul the house of Israel restore me the Kingdome of my fisher!
The which was a shameless and improbable stander, both because of this poor cripples unfitneffe to reign, as King; and occase os mas poor empires unamente to reign, as a.ing; a and allo, because all the peoples beares were for upon IAbialom, whom they had already chofen to be their King, and applauded him and themselves in their choyee: And yet David, our of a Kingly inabouse, ( which make he does very render and crea Kingly jrakolite, (which makets them werytender and cre-dulous in things that concern their Crown) dosh over-readily, and easily, believe the bale flander of this raishelfe Sycopham, upon the weaked furniles, and flighted grounds; as that he assured to Soverzigaty, because he was the next heir to the Crown, of Saulshime; though it were apparent, that God rejected him and his posterity from being kings, and had flablifhed Davidson the throne; and though that race had not blithed Daviston the throne; and shough that race had not been cured, yet this poor importer man was far militely to lay any claim vurso it; foising he was fo macapable and unfer, take on any field by and magledred before; and filtrofiend (chough man of no great worth, and having no juit title), was prestrated before him. And another poor ground of his fulfillion maight he, becauft, all this time of his trouble, he had not been considered to the man and the same considerable of the same was a whole the man and the same considerable of the same was a whole the same considerable of the same was a whole the same considerable of the same was a whole the same considerable of the same was a whole the same considerable of the same was a whole the same considerable of the same was a whole the same considerable of the same was a same considerable of the same considera sufpition might be, because, all this time of his trouble, he had neglected to see him, when as those that were his faithful friends, had reforted unto him, to do him fervice , whereas he was a poor creeple, who could not come on foot, and his fer-want had abused and hindred him from coming, by depriving wan had abulah and handerd him trom commey, a yeepriving him of the tiple of his sale. On 1, 20, 20 dold, these et all the president by Right et 25 hs, 20 dold, these et all the president by Right for 10 him, and that for rathy, you had he will be said to really a head with the real said his market, in his hittere, not for mark as bearing that he could for for finished, without exempting the easile, or prohibit the said of the real said his market. ne count say for inteners, without examining the cases, or pro-ducing of two or three withesses, according to the law. But much more unworthy, David was, it dus to censure the only fon of his dearest Jonathan, to whom he had been so deeply fon of his deared Jonathas, to whom he had been fo deeply and fixegile religiously his mass worth incomprastly love, and fingular laware; yet, by covenant and oath, folganily made again, and again; in a bep cofenence (God. All which David now forgetteth, being transported with pattion and high displeating concrited, many and great taxous, which he had formerly finewed their part of the contribution of t that affired, to the Crosss and Kingdoms which admitted not of co-parages, or corrieds. The which fault of David is much orners, more comment for symmetry a summarized a central sys-herical chief (side, Limmin) in factor than the Lamp finder grace in side field, and Limmin the comment of the comment of the Lamp through bounds may broth the King for this boundy, in conferning upon mes for great a gift, for the A final ferrice, and do with all bumblet thankfulinesse accept of its; yet I do not to much defire so be enriched with my mailters goods, as to deferve the continuance of thy grace and favour towards me, in ferve the continuance of thy grace and lawout towards two; in which therefore, "Best desays to Behavioral. A City Sci-custer on the froncises of ladels in the cribe of he Resignation, an houses is our cry bryond Rechange, do, 2-16.

These comments around the figurity of the heart of four! Who there do not a music the figurity of the heart of four! Who therefore multigred David, because Soul was repeted, and he

And 21he feld, the after me for the Kings builhold to vide upon, at thinking that he would wholly fink under it, though it were ac.] Hough he intended them chiefly for Davidsule, yet with the extream hazard of his own life, whereas being but comparing the familhatfic of the gift with his greatnafit, he is on fingle man, he incented all Davids irrinds and followers, him, who were able, at their pleasure, to revenge upon him

bloody man | Where he redoubleth his words, to expresse his page mass; where he reconnected his words, to expertite his rage and indignation. Where (according to his fence) he chargeth him most fally with cruelty and blood thed, as impating unto him the death offshbosheth and Abner, and the blood that was fied in the wars against them, that he might get the Kingdom; of all which David was most guiltless and innocent, feeing they were flain without his privity, and fore against his will; and the wars begun by Abners provocation, when Joab did not intend it, ch. 2. 14,27. For no other blood had been yet spile of the house of Saul, unto which only, his speech had reference, v. 8. But God, in his secret providence, otherwise intended it, namely, to direct those shafts, shot at rovers, home, to the wounding of Davids heart with true grief, for the him , of which David was guilty, and defired to be cleanfed from it, Plaim, 51. ver. 14. Deliver me from blood-guiltineffe, and thou man of Belial 1 i.e. One, who being defocrately wicked had thaken off the yoke of government, and would be under no law. See Judg. 19: 22, wherein he shamelessly slandereth David, who being an holy and just man, was a firit observer of all Gods commandments, Pfalm 119.

V. 8. The Lord hash resurred upon thee all the blood of the house of Saul | i.e. Doth now justly call thee to account for all the blood of Sauls family, which thou haft unjuffly foils that thou mighteft afpire to the Kingdom. Where he most falsly char-gets him, that he had gotten the Kingdom by ambitious usurgeth him, that he had gotten the Kingdom by ambitious tuffraphina, and made way usore is, by flungering the flor of Sauls houde, who had right into it. Whereas David never afpired unot it; have when he leaft thought of it, was called and cho-fee by God, and anonned King by Samuel, and did after wards patiently wait upon God, till Sauls death, for the pofitting of is, though he bed diverse times opportunities put in to his hand, of cutting him off.

and the Lord bath delivered the Kingdome into the hand of Absalanthy for Docalling him, the more to fling and vex his heart, in that his own fon thould be appointed by God, to be the means and influment to supplant him; which had some them of teach, its respect of the secret acting of Gods Will and providence, and the prefent event; but utterly falle, in respect of Gods revealed. Will, which condemned Absaloms act, as horrible and unnatural rebellion, Bebald, theu are taken in thy mischief] i.e. By Gods juft judgment, punished for all thy wickednesse, and that in a way of resaliation; for as thou halt rebelled against thy father in law, and usurped his Kingdom; to thy fon bath rebelled against thee, and usurped thine:

Vu q. Then aid Abifbai - Why should this dead dog cure ms Lord } & a.) Why thould this bale and contemptible wretch be fuffered to go unpunished for reproaching the Lords apoyntnet uncreate of go unpunined, for reproxeding the Loras anoyated to his face, and before all his followers, feeing he buth juffly deferred death, and we have power fufficient to revenge these wrongs upon him; See I Sam. 24.15, and chap. 3. 8. & g. 8.

V. 10. What have I to dee with you ye fent of Zerviah] That meddle nor with my matters which belong nor unto you, for I regard not your counfel in this way of revenge. Where he speaketh in the plural number, though Abishai onely had offered his service, because, as it is likely, his brother Jose had given the same counsel, though Abishai alone had offered to execute it. The which counsel David rejected, novas unjust in it felf, feeing he well deferved death for reproaching the it was no time to revenge his personal quarrel, when he was in this afflicted condition, and greatle humbled under Gods cor-recting hand; and because, in this time of commotion and reballion, this private revenge might haply exasperate the minds and heares of some of the people, especially the tribe of Benjamin, of which Shimci was, which now needed to be rather composed and won unto David by his humanity and clemen-bezaulethe Hord hath laid unto him, coole David To wit, not by his word or law, which expressly forbiddeth, to revise the by his word or law, which expressly forbiddeth, to revise the idegificate, entering the Reservative people, Exod. 22, 28, but by a finere command of providence, so ordering and disposing and harred sgainst David, when he fam bien in this affiction, of Shimei his malice, that it might be a rod of correction, to chastife David for his fins, and for the time to come might be | had faid, I have greater trason to serve thee, then any other, acquie of his own ruine. So I King, 2, 21, 22, compared with feeing the Kingdom is translated by common confert of the s Sam. 24.1. and 12.1.11.

Who fall eben far, Wherefore haft thou done fot ] That is, Who can then expostulate with the Lord, and call him to account feeing be hath justly corrected David for his fins chap. 12. 10,11. Though Shimei finned haynoufly in curfing and reviling the Lords anointed, and was afterwards by Solomon called to account, and juffly punished for it, 1 King. 2.9.

44. 46. V. 11. Behold, my fon which came forth of my bowels, feeheth my life That is, if my fon which had his being from me, and of whom I have fo much deferved by my intirenels of love and innumerable favours, doth not onely ambitiously usurp my Kingdom, but flicketh not, for the compassing of his defire, to take away my life, which heavy croffe God hath given me fome firength to bear it; How much more may I with patia francer; yea, in respect of his relation to Sauls family, an a tranger; year, in respect or an relation to Saut samply, an enemy, from whom I might expect fuch ladignities.

Let him curfe, for the Lord bath bidden bim! That is, hath fo disposed of it, by his providence, that he should, out of his own malice, thus curie and rail, to correct me for my fins.

V. 12. It may be the Lord will—requite good for his curfing this day | That is, turn his curfings into bleffings, when by his famerly chaftizement, he hath humbled me and fitted me for them. The which his bose is not grounded on any thing in himfelf, as though, by his patience in bearing this affiction, he had deferved it; but on the observation of Gods ordinary dealing with his children, whom he usually exalteth after he bath humbled them, as appeareth in the examples of Joseph, Joseph, and many others. The which he speaketh not out of an in-Jond, and many others. He which he peaketh not out of an in-fallible confidence, but doubtingly, as having no expresse pro-mise from God of these temporal bessings.

V. 13. Shimsi went asset on the hils fide—and curses as went.] Where is the week.

malice, in that he continueth to provoke David and his followers with fach reproches and indignities, notwithflanding it was with the extream bazard of his own life; and Davids admirable patience being now supported by God, who being tuous lust, as in the case of Anmono but out or an admittion and lately in the case of Anmono but out or an admittion and lately in the assignment of the building and admirable and appropriate is fin. And yet, lighter trial) left to bimielli, discovered much impatience and lusup this wicked man scened to much to abbox Amnons impotent weakneffe.

V. x4. and refreshed themselves there] That is, at Bahurim, ver. 5. V. 15. And all the people, the men of Israel That is, all that adhered unto him in this confpiracy and rebellion.

V. 16. Hufbai faid to Abfolom, God fave she King Heb. let the King live. Where Hushai, to curry favour with Absolom, to bring about his defign, wifheth unto him all health and happineffe, but, in the mean time, deludeth him with amphibologies and donbiful speeches, which he applyed to Absolom with his tongue, but to David with his heart, as here, God fave the King; which though spoken to Absolom might be intended to King David, and fo in the reft; but foch equivocations and mental refervations, howfoever they may filence the cry of a carnal conficience, yet they are but shifts and shuffles, which have no watrant out of the word of God V. 17. Is this thy kindness to the friend > 7 As if he had Gid V. 17. 1810s top grammer to top process 2 1 vs 11 oc can sara, if thou be no more farefull to David thy friend, who hath done thee so many favours, hwo should Lespect fidelity from thee, who have not so much deserved, it? Where it is observable, that he doeb not fay, is this thy kindne fe to my father, but to thy friend; both because his minde was alsenated from him. that he would not fo much as acknowledg him for his fathers and allo, because he should have secretly raxed and condemned himfelf of far fonler diffoyates then that which he reproved in him; for if it were an harmons fault to reach from a friend in his advertiey, how much more for a fow to rebel against fuch a father as had been fo indulgent unto bon, and thereby so bring him into fuch affliction and mifery, as made his other friends to defere and leave him . But this he flippeth over, and frameth onely fuch an expostulation, as might ray him; whether he would be returned him, or no; it his; prefer ke and; and then not earing whether he loved or loathed true friendship, fo he would ferve his prefere curn.

And Hufter full - nep, but whom the Lord and this people fhell chufe, bis will I be ] And that was none but David and Sulomon after him; but he pretendeth this of Abfolom, that he find made choyee of films, and would addere to his canle, thou this real of the choice of films, and would addere to his canle, thou this real on, because it appeared by the event, that God had cholen film, and the people alfo, to be King, and therefore no private obligation ought to blinder him from yielding atto him all thus further than afterivite as his leige lord, fleshing that the man of the choice of the choi If he did otherwise, he should, being but a private man, resilf God's ordinance, and the publice decrees and fanctions of the whole Common wesleh

V. 18. Should I mt free in the prefence of bit fen ? ] As if he people, not to a firanger of another family, but unto thee, who are his fon and next beir to the Crown, as being the eldeft of thy brethren. And thus Hutbai, to avoyd the fulpition of treachery, upon thefe reafons, tendreth unto him his fervice, that fa, being neer unto him, be might dive into his fecrets, and defeat bis counfels and intendments.

V. 20 Give counfel among you what we shall do ] i.e. How for to carry on this whole businessee, as that we may promise unto our felves proiperous facceffe.

V. 21. And Achisophel faid to Abfalom, Go in unto the fathers concubines] i.e. Lye with, and defi e them in a publique many er, to as all men may take notice of it.

and all Ifrael fiall hear that thou are abborred of thy father] i.e. That thou hait made thy felf odious unto him by this act, and utterly without hope of being ever reconciled.

then [ball the bands of all that are with thee be fivong] That is,

They will, with all refolution, go on with thee in this rebellion. when they are offured, that thou haft hereby cut off all hope of any reconciliation between you. Whereas, if the leaft hope should remain of making thy peace with him, if thy war should prove unprosperous, they would be fearful to proceed, left being deserted by thee, they should be in dasiger to be punished by thy father, for rifing against him.

V. 21. So they fpreid Absalom a tent upon the top of the bouses e. The flat root, or terrace of the Kings Palace. See Deut. 22. 8. From which place, it is very probable, that he efpyed Bathsheba washing her self, and lused after her, chapter 11.

and Abfalom went in to bis fathers concubines, in the fight of all Ifrael ] Wherein , though Abialom committed an act most abominable, vet was his fin fo ordered and over-ruled by Gods providence, that hereby his righteous judgment was executed, which be had by Nathan denounced against David for bis adultery and murther, ch 12.11,12. But this did not at all leften Abfaloms fin, seeing it was on his part committed, not by any compulsion of his will, by this Divine providence, but free ly and voluntarily; and that not fo much to tellifie his impethough this wicked man feemed fo much to abhor Amnone rape, that nothing but his blood could quench his influmed rage; doth here himself make nothing of it, to commit, even in the fight of the people, an higher degree, and much more beyong inceft with his own fathers concubings; and only to facisfie bis proud ambition, and to ftrenghthen himfelf in his rebellion and ulurpation.

V. 23. And the counfet of Achitoshel - was, as if a man had enquired as the Oracle of God] i.e. Was highly effected and applauded, as if his countels had been of Divine authority and truth, because the event commonly answered with suitable facceffe! to his counfel and advice ; and not because je was in it felf Divine and good; for here it was most damnable wicked , but yet, in the policy of it, most perillous and peffic

CHAP. XVII.

Vers. 1. A Chitophel said to Absalom; Let me now shufe our himself to forward in Absaloms cause spaint his Loud and king, that he is not content to be only his counfellor to plot his mildneyous defigue, bet also offereth himfelf, in his own person, to act and execute them;as a Captain and Command-perion, to act and execute them, as a Captairi and Communder, to draw out, and bead in writy to hipriga bim, and I witharife, and purfue after David this alght! He doth not continue him his King, for to his mouth should have pro-claimed him felf a robol, but called him only David; as a man depoted by the people, who had now no right to the kingdom. Neither would he have the execution of his delign deferred, but ir must be presently undertaken that night, both because be would prevent David by his fpeed, from gathering more for case or from entring into fome City and place of firength. where he could not be safely superized; and after, becaufe, feet-ing upon him fuddenly in the night, he might, by firlking their hearts with turror and amazement, obtain a more case with

V. z. And I will come upon him whileft be is weary and weakhanded ] it e. When he and his company are tyred and ipent; with their fudden and long march, which they have been forced unto, to get our of reach, that they might nor be supplanted with thine army, and have neither counsel nor courage to make any refillance. See chap. 4. ver. 1, and the note upon it.

and will make him afraid i.e. I shall strike terror and assorting in the followers, coming upon them suddenly and unexpected.

taketh motion of it, and calically afpying them, reporteth it to I fequently the daughters of Jeffe, whole fons were coulin ser-Ablitum.

But they were both of them easy quidity] i. e. Perceiving by fome figure, that they were observed and in danger to be discovered, they have away, that they might hide them.

and came to a mans baula in Baburins ] See ch. 4. 16.

V. 19. And the woman took and foread a covering over the walls, seekers were took and prove a country over the suggested with the state of the houle, being quick of wir. (a thing: ultud with many of that less being put to it on the fudden, as we fee in the example of Rababa, in the like cafe, John 2.6.) and the imposes to hide them by letting them go down into a well, in which there was little or no water, and covered the mouth of it with a cloth, on which the foread ground corn or meal, under precence that it which the spread ground corn or men; mouse presence war in meached drying, their granted reverse great growth to trook of V. 10. And the mouse field, they are goes over the brook of water). Where the telleth an officious legs, to prefere them from danger to being apprechanced by Asholom mellangers, which though it were unlayiful and numeershay, because God wash mongs in the to prifere whom he pleately yet he is pleated to accept of the bent lot the minds and heart to do his will, though there he a failing in the 10s of the means, as we lee in the manner of the Rayprian midwires. and Rahab, ice in the analyse of the any pure innumers, and comes, Exed. 1. 31. John 3. 4.

V. a.s., and pell quickly sure the water I a wit, Jordan, for the hate Achieshed, counfelled I than is, to pursue there in all hafte, even in the sight.

V. 22. By the morning light there lacked not one of them Which was a fingular comfort to David in these his extrean troubles, that by Gods special providence, they were al thus preferred in fuch a dangerous pallage, and that in the

W, 23. And when Achtrophel fam that his counsel was not follow A service and prisorred Husbard that Abbolom neglected his advice, and prisorred Husbard better these her precised has a been neglected his advice, and prisorred Husbard better his grew desperace and disponsepted; partly, our of pride, when he saw another better effectived they have high a not partly because the far his neglect sended to the run of Abbolom and all his friends, and 15. 12.

And pur bis brospoid is order? That is, distinging that Hulfart his examined through the preferred before his, which jit increded would be a distingent so him, who had oppoid it; and make him to hive taglorosilly for the time to come, who had been fo highly anguisted or he wriden and policy; but thirth, because he shought that Abvilona and his followers, for angulating his advirt, would be overly runned, and court to manghe; and fo fearing, that if David prevailed, he though the control of the court of the cour wife politician than he might another to use dead, by a significant wife politician than he might another to was dead, by a significant of following might another to the measurement of following the started following and the everlating filtration of his foul.

**Add begind homiful? Seading, that if David prevailed, (as is was mad like he would) he flooded he put to exemplary in was mad like he would) he flooded he put to exemplary in huma and puntilment for his bafe strately; wherein he was a type of Judas, who hanged himself, after he had betrayed his Maller delipairing of marray.

V. za. And Devidente to Mehaneira | Sec ch. z. ver. 8. and the note upon it.

ner son upon it.
And distinct piles our firsten 1 Let not immediately after David, but after he had gathered a great Army, secording to Huthlete sounded; higher spears since, niving bits opportunity of collecting a firengenery of his statebul frience and subjects, to encounter Absolute in a set battel.

V.24. which Antese was a ment, san whose yame was Isbra ]

Who is also called Jether, of whom Absolute made shoice to be General of his Army, in Joahs Bead, r Cheon, t. ver an Maelite) Who is faidft, in Chronicles, so have beer an ifmaelite. And to either be was an Ifmaelite by birth, and called an Uraelice, heaven the want a tradelice by setting the religion, and to by protesting and life; or elle he was by bight religion, and to by protesting and life; or elle he was by bight an idealize, and galled no Uraelite heavel lived among that were in re Abigell | Whereby is implyed, that he was finitious and see Swillin begoest in in accinge.

It is delighter of Nahajh | Whom I one think to have been the wite of leffe, and salled her for, as Josh and his brettern were called the fans.of Zervink, taking their denomination from the mathematics. And others kuppeds that this Nabath was leffe himlelf called bere by another name as is mas ufual with other men to be called by two divers names. But howforver mani-feft it is, that they were both of them Davids fillers, and conmaines one to the other.

V. 26. 60 Missel and Absolom pitched in the land of Gilead 7 In which also Mahanaim was feituate, where they prened to caviron David with their numerous Army, or to provoke him

V. 27. And it came to pale when David was come to Mabamum ] To wit, by Gods good providence, who railed up friends to relieve hum in his extreaming and necessities, and to Supply all his wants of necessaries, for the comfore of him and his followers. Wherein they approved themselves to be most faithful friends, by performing fuch duties of love, in fuch, a manner, at fuch a time, and when he was in fuch a condition. For they did it voluntarily, our of their ruse love, when as their belp was not required. They did it in a most featonable time, belp was not required. I ney did it in a mott teatonable time, when they were in necessity, hungry, thirty, weary, harbourlesse in the wildernesse, and quire unturnished of all necessaries; and that when they could not thus expresse their love, without incurring much danger from Abfoloms firong party, who were at hand, and ready to fall upon them for relieving their Shohi the son of Nahash of Rabbah] Who was (as some pro-bably think) the brother of Hann, the son of Nahash, whom David, after he had deposed Hanun for abusing his messengers, whom he feat to comfort him, made King of Ammon in his flead. Who now, in token of his thankfulnesse, sheweth his kindnesse to David by supplying his wants, ch. 10. 1, 2.

and 11.30.

and Machin the fon of Ammiol of Lodebar Who Accretive neertained Mephibotherh when David came to the Crown, fearing left he would not deal well with him, because he was of Sanls family, and by lineal difcent, next heir to the Kingdom, ch. 10. 4. But finding afterwards, when he was discovered and called to the Court, that David used him with all kindnesse, he was fo much taken with his unexpected love and bounty, that with all willingneffe he miniffreth to bis prefent neceffity, and fupof Lodghar] See ch. 9. ver. 4. and the note upon it. and Barzillai the Gileatite] Of whom, read ch. 19. 31, 32.

I King 2. 7. Theie there, as principal unn, are mentioned; whom God, watching over his children in all their extreamities, by his special providence, raised up to relieve and comfort David in his great affliction, even when his own fon most uncaturally persecuted bim, escat to the taking away of his life, had not find prevented him. Wherein David was a type of Christ; for as these who were firangers noto him, and of other Chritt, for as these who were assurers aground thus and to constitute, an inflighted to his wonds, when so his man kindred of the uribe of juda, yes, his own fon purified him; so did it are with Christ, who, shough be were the great Propher, was not aftermed in his own country, and arely confused by his own kindred ; when, in the meantime, God raifed up ftrangers.

highly so aftern and minister unto him.
V. 18. Brought beds, and before, and earthen welfels, &c.]
Theris, all toanner of furnitus and houshold fluit, with neceffery load firser their present use, and for the relieving and fatisfying his hunger, and of the rest of his followers. Where we have a botable example of the mutability of earlily things. He that notlong fince, commanded; Kingdom, and abounded with plenty, befitting a Regal flate and digoity, is now deprived of all, wanting bod to by each passing and carefup veffelo, prive or all walling locus to lye encyshins and express virices, year-encysted to put into plain mouther, wrating the help of transpers of purply their need flaties. Which is a fit mirrow, wherein Printer and Postentace may behold the ficklendic and quartership of their condition, and how exit a thing it is for God, when they are in their highest pitch of poup, pleafure, and plenty of all things, to pull them down, and bring them into luch a flate of indigency that they may need the help of their triends for Supplying of accessaries , yea, alfo, (if to be pleafe) may deprive them of friends, or, their friends of hearts to administer to their wants.

CHAP. XVIII.

Yeif. 1. And Devid numbed the scople that wate with bim]
This is, mustred all historyes, which were much increased by choic that reformed unto him out of the two tribes and an half, which inhabited beyond Jordan ; who being far diftant from Jerufalem and the Court, had not been inveigled operate from permission as the cover, pass no been present with Abilions disteries, not extended in their affections from David, by those afpartious which were equility cast upon his government, and looking upon his great affections require with his innocease, and the fourth, and timasturist rebellion of while the state of field, and put their just cause (in hope of Gods protection) upon the trial of a pitcht hattel. What Davids number was and I will finite the King only ] i.e. When the people pollefied entertain any jealousie or fear, which is grounded upon his inth sudden fear, are put to flight. I will let them go, and spend prudence and valour. with sudden fear, are put to flight, I will let them go, and spend no time in pursuing them, but only my work shall be to kill their King, which is the thing chiefly to be defired; for the fetling thee in the quiet possession of the Kingdom,

V. 3. And I will bring back all the seople unto thee] i.e. The King being flain, I will found a retreat, and proclaim a ceffation of arms, and peace, and fo reduce them to be under the government; for the man whole life thou feekeft, being flain and taken our of the way, it is all one, as if all, were done, feeing all the people being destitute of a head to lead and guide them, will peaceably fubmit themselves auto thy government. V. 4. And the thing pleafed Abfolom] Whereby it appeareth that this bloody rebel and graceleffe fon, defireth nor onely the Kingdom, but alfo the death of his father, who had ever been fo loving, and even too indulgent towards him. Where also the wife and powerful providence of God, is clearly manifefled, indefeating and bringing to nought their wicked counfels, by over-powering and inclining Abfoloms heart to millike afterwards this counfel of Achithophels, which now, for the present, much pleased him. V. S. Then [aid Absolom call now Husbai, ____ And let wa bear likewife what he [aith] Though the countel of Achithophel much pleased bim, yet because, in a weighty businesse, in the multitude of counsellors there is fafety, he would no rest upon it alone, but would, at least, hear what Hushai could say. whom he reputed to be a wife man; that so according to his pleasure he might make his choyee. God so over-ruling his heart, by his providence, that he might turn Achithophels wife counfel into foolithnesse, according to Davids prayer.

while counter into roominnene according to Davids prayer.

V. 6. Shall needs after his spring; If not, Speak theil That is, Dust thou think this the belt course nurs which he adviseth, that if it be fo, we may follow it; or if otherwife, speak thou thy minde, and let us know the reasons, why thou diffentest trom them.

V.7. Aud Hushii said to Absolom, The counsel which Achithopath but given is not good as this time! Where, though it were bis main drift to crosse. Achithophels, politick and permicious counsel; yet confidering how great and gracious he was with Abfolom, he carrieth on the matter with as much respect towards him, as would fland with his purpole; as if he had faid, Though I acknowledg Achithophel to be fo prudent and politick a man, that he, commonly, giveth fuch good counfel as is accompanied with prosperous successe , yet at this time, and in this patricular cale, he is, as I conceive, much miftaken.

to the patricular care, no 15, as a conceive, much militaren.

V. 8. Thy fabre and his men are mighty men, and they be chafed in their minds! That is, to wife and valiant, that they will not be eafily daunted and difinated with any danger; and befides their ordinary courage, they are at this time fo bitterly enraged with this affront of their being forced toffee, and to leave their wives, children and habitations, that they will redouble their firength and resolution to recover what they bave loft; and like a Bear robbed of his whelps, will put themselves upon the extreamest hazards and uttermost of their endeayours, to recover those things that are so dear unto them.

and thy father is a man of war, and will not lodge with the people] That is, a prudent and old experienced fouldier, who will not, especially in the civil wars, wherein men of all con-ditions and dispositions are mingled together, intrust himself to lodg in the camp, because, among many friends, there may be fome enemies and traitors, info great a number, that will watch for an opportunity to betray him, and do him mischief : So as it will not be fo eafie a matter to furprize the King, as Achithophel would make it.

V. 9. Bebold, be is bid in some pit, or in some other place ? Which either may have reference to that which went before, aud then the meaning is, that he would be hid in some secret cave, well known unto him, ever fince be uled to hide himfelf when Saul purfued him; and therefore would not be fo eafily found out and furprized, as Achithophel supposed; Or, it may related to that which followeth, and then it is thus to be underfloed, that David being an old experienced fouldier, and well tood, that David being an old experienced foulders, and well acquainted with war-like firstagems, would lay an ambufth in forme cave or fetter place, and from theace, fuddenly, affault Abfoloms men, as they marched by them, and give them fome defeat; which if it fhould happen, then prefently it would be divulged among the people, that a part, at leaft, of the men of Abfoloms 12000, army were overthrown, from whence would arife fuch a general, disparagement, as would leave no hope of any good fucceffe.

V. 10. mbofe beart is as the beart of a lyon, Shall utterly melt That is, those of thy followers that are now most valarous and couragious, will grow faint hearted, and will be diffolved with fear, even as the hardeft and ftrongeft mettal, groweth weak, together, from Dan even to Beerfbeba | That is from the utmost limits of the land in the length of it, from the North to the South. See Judg. 20, ver. 1. From which his following speech, we may in the general observe, that he fitteth his counsel to the proud humour of a vain-glorious Prince, fluffing and filling up the empirical of it, with the bombast of lefty and hyperbo-lical flourishes; And first, he pusseth him up with the vain thought of being King and General over a numerous and invincible Army, and that he himself should go out in his ownperson, and so have the honour, both of command and victory. The main end of which his counfel was, to make him to fpend time by delayes, that David, in the mean while, might gather ftrength and increase his forces, by his friends coming and joyning with him, feeing fuch a numerous Army, as he speaketh of, could not in any short time be gathered toge-

V. 12. And we will light upon him as the dew falleth upon the ground] That is, as the dew falleth at once in all places, fo thou with thy numerous Army, wilt over-foread the whole country, to as he shall not be able to escape whithersoever he goeth. V. 13. Then shall all Ifrael bring ropes to that city and we will draw it into the river ] That is, with engines of war fathred with ropes, they shall draw it, either into the river, because cities ulually had their rivers running along by their walls. Or, ditches and trenches filled with water, which encompassed the walls of the city for their defence. Which is nothing elfe but a hyperbolical and glorious expression used by fouldiers boafting of their own ftrength, in respect of their multitude, So I King. 20. 10.

until there be not one [mall flone found there] That is, until it be utterly destroyed , Plalm. 83. 14. Matth. 14. 2.

V. 14 For the Lord had appointed to defeat the good counfel of Achithopuel ] It was not good in it fell; (for no counsel is good which is not honest and agreeable to Gods word) year contrariwife it was evil and wicked, as tending to the firengthning of graceleffe Absolom in his rebellious course, and the ruin of his holy father; but it is called good, that is, very jubile, politick and effectual, if it had been followed, for the attaining of Absoloms end, to wit, the overthrow of David, if he had presently pursued him, and had given him no time to ue nau preiently puriued num, and nau given num no time to raife and gather an army; but God, in his wife and over-ruling providence, had otherwise appointed it, using Hushaies counse! to defeat Achitophels. Which is here given as the onely reason, why it took no effect, I Cor. 1. 20. and 3.

V. 15. Then faid Hufbat to Zadek and Abiathar ] That is, having by his counfel defeated Achitophels defign, he taketh present care, as before David and he had agreed, to send him word of what was done, that he might make use and have the lodg nor this night in the plains of the wilderneft, but fpeedily pafs over, &c. ] Which advice Hufhai prudently giveth David because he observed the ficklenesse of Absolem, who, vid occame ne observed are negatives or Anoisem, who, though he had appliated the counfel of Achieophel, yet atterwards, miliked and fell from it, and hearkned unto his; and therefore, thinking that he might do to again when Achitophel, being a politike man, and holding it a great difgrace to have his counsel rejected, would, in all likelihood. preffe it harder on with new arguments and perswafions, land discover the weaknesse of Hushaie's advice , he now for more certainty and fafety, counfelleth David to be speedily gone out of his reach, over Jordan. Where it pleased God to exergist the state of the state o cife David, by bringing him into these affictions and trou-bles. For after he and his company had tyred themselves all the day with a long and redious march , when night cometh, he must have no time to rest; but with much anguish of mind, be muft go on to Jordan, and spend the whole night in passing over himself with his army, even to the very dawning of the next morning.

Now Fonathan and Abimasz flayed by Entegel | Signifying the Fullers fountain, Scituate in the borders of Judah and Benjamin, neer unto Jerufalem, Jofh. 15.7. & 18. 16. where they flayed by their fathers appointment, to hear all the news, and bring it unto David, ch. 15. 27.
and a wench went out and told them] i. e. Because they durit not be feen in the City, as being known to be of Davids parrys and fo Zadok and Abiathar could not come to fpeak immed ately with them, they fent by a maid their meffage, that they might report it unto David, because she might safely go out of the City, under the colour of going to the Well, either to wash clothes, or fetch water.

V. 18. Neverthelesse, a lad fam them, and told Absalom J Who when he is the court with the court of the c

Chap, xviii.

is not expressed and therefore men have their various opinions | gent a father, that his excesse of love would make him dispence about it. Josephus faith, that they were in all but four thou-fand; Others hold that they were seven thousand; Others Somewhat more. But for my own part, I conceive, that (though victorie confifteth not in the multitude of an Army) though victorie consistent not in the mutitude of an Arthy) yet there were many more of Davids party; focing it is faid, that he fer Captains over them by hundreds and thoufands; and the people with him would notlet him go out to battel, becaute he was worth ten thousand of them; the former words feeming to imply, that this number was but one half of their Army : to fay nothing of his dividing the Army into three parts, and placing over them three Generals. Which to interprise, and princing over them three Generals. Training themselves, and all the reft, by the report of thele, who were many Expolitors make it. V. 2. And the King faid - I will furely go forth with 700 my [clf aife] The which offer he maketh, (though he were now grown in years) partly, to approve himlelf a wife and valiant General, whole office it is to go forth with his Army, both to govern and direct them, and also to hearten and encourage them by his prefence and good example; partly alfo, because they fought, and ventured their lives in his quarrel, and therefore he thought it not fit that they should run all the hazard, and that himfelf, in the mean while, should be exempted from all danger ; but especially (as it may be probably though by that charge and motion which he made to deal gently with Absolom) it might be a chief cause why he defired to be present at the battel, because he would take order, being there in person, to have him favoured and spared.

V, 3. But the people answered, Thou fhalt not go forth ] Which they do not speak, as leeking to crosse and over-power his will, but out of their love and reverence towards his person, which made them careful to provide for his lafety ; and by way of counsel and advice, which they grounded upon good

For if we flee away they will not care for me ] As if they had faid, Thou are the onely mark at which they aym in this re-bellion; and if they could cut thee off, they have their defire, which is to fet up Abfolom in thy flead, chap. 17. 2. And therefore if they should know thee to be in the field, they dom; by whose death the Common-wealth would sustain more lode; and the common enemies, who chiefly aym at thy ruin, would more rejoyce and triumph, then if ten thousand therefore it is better that thou fuccour ut out of the city] That is, Mahanaim, to wit, as there fhall any occasion be offered, according to the feveral occurrents and cafualties of war; as chicfly, by thy prayers which are prevalent with God; by thy direction and counsel, as we shall have occasion to defire it: why kidd then not faire that be need a by refcuing and relieving the Army; if being too weakto hald out, they found be forced on make a steered, and for how the court of the army to the army the army to the army the army to the tena trein tuppires, it we trans is need of tonic crep.

V. 4. And the King flood by the gate fide. To wit, that he might observe their marching out of the city, their order and discipline; and (as it is likely) to speak unto them, as they paffed by, and to encourage them to go on, in this expedition, valiantly, in affurance of good fuccesse, though this, in particular, be not expressed.

And the King commanded Josh [aying, Deal gently, for my sake, with the young man, even with Absolom] Where, relying of a young man,out of the heat of youth; and if he were spared, my life to Davids revenge; or if I had made a lye to fave my that he might live till be came to be older, age and experience would make him wifer, and to repent of what he had done. But howfoever though his crime were fo horrid, that it would admit of no excule or extenuation, nor fuffer him to be in any request a terring error in quiner, yet; was in eather; and, it would nave eren yan and nounter; steading to have different yound fair him, and five his life for his fake, own ruine; feeting the King by his widdom would have different gain death would be very grievous tune him. Which covered it; and fo have punished both his fast, and his fallood capacity of receiving favour in himself, yet it was his earnest camefinelle David pleth, not onely because ho was fo indul- in denying it.

gent a tenner, that his excess or love would make him disperice with the greatest fault, in one that was so dear unto him, but also because he had respect to his souls eternal salvation, of which he was like to make an uncer and hopelesse forfeiture, if he should be taken away in his fins without repentance. And not only so, but because also he looked upon his own sin of adultery and murther, as the prime cause which had moved the Lord to give Absolom up to his own lufts and wicked courses. that he might take occasion thereby to inflict upon his house those heavy judgments which he had formerly threatned, chap.

and all the people beard ] That is, many of them immediately ver they make it probable, that his Army was not fo fmall as | car-witnefles of it, when he gave this charge to his Captains and Commanders.

V. 6. So thepeople went out into the field against Ifrael That is, Davids Army went out of the city to fight with that Army which Abfolom had gathered out of all Ifrael which Ablolom has gathered one or an arrait and the battel was in the wood of Ephraim I Lying on the Eaft fide of Jordan, in that part of Gilead which belonged to the tribe of Gad, nor far from Mahanaim; but was called Epraims wood, from that great defeat which was given to this tribe into wood in in the great coreat would war given to that fried there, Judg. 1. 4, 6, though it was no part of the lead belonging to Ephraim. Others (though not to probably) think that it was fo called, becaute lying on the other fide of Jordan, right over against the tribe of Ephraim, the Ephramites fed night over against the tribe of Epiram, the Epiramites that there their carted which they did drive over Jordan.

V. 8. And the wood decoured more people that day then the food decoured. That is, Being didordered and roused in the barrel, they field into the wood among the buther and trees, hopping there to hide and fecure themselves. But being purfued thither, by their enemies, they were easily flain there in that diforder and fear; and besides all those that fell by the fword, there were many of them that perified by falling, in their hafty flight, into marifles, pits and ditches.

V. 9. And Absolom met the servants of David ] That it, whilest in great fear he sought to flee from them, he suddenly and unawares fell upon them; and feeking to decline the danger, riding on his mule, he left the open and common-way, (as it feemeth) and rode among the buthes and trees, till at therefore if they should know thee to be in the field, they would be and all their strength against thee, a Kinga. 3.3. It is strength and to the strength against the strength a nus price to the treatment of his roine; and his nair, he which he fo- much gloried, to be his halter; and fo referred him from falling among others by the fword, to a more ignominates and curled death, Dout, 21:23, castleg him to hang between the heaven and the earth, as unworthy to live in either

V. 10. And a certain man faw it, and told Foab] Not daring himself to hurt him , because of the Kings command , ver-

V. 11. And Joab faid - Wby didit thou not fmite bim carmy ann a recel.

and I wail about prime the sta fields of falor? That is, the common stackel, which was in weight and worth, but half so much as the stack of the Sanduary, that is, a quarter of joince of falor, which amountes to about 14 or 15 pence ferling and a girdle] i. c. A military belt, to be worn by him, as an honourable enfigu and reward of his valour.

V. 12. Beware that none touchesh the young man. Abfalom] life, the King is fo wife, that examining the matter, he would foon have found it out, and fo have punished me for wome toon nave round it our, and to mare pointing and transgressing his command. Others understand it thus, that if he had used falshood, in hope, by his lying, to conceal the fact, it would have been vain and boustesse, tending to his and thou thy felf wouldft bave fet thy felf against me] i.e. Thou; continued or renewed, in respect of that use which the Kings of wouldth have been for far from flanding for me, that thou Judah did afterwards make of it.

wouldth have been one of the first to halten my ruine, laying for he said, I have no son to keep my name in temembrance ] Wherethe whole guilt and blame upon me, to cleer thy felf, and avoyd the Kings displeasure. Others read the words by way of interrogation, thus; Wouldft then have frove against me ? i.o. continued his name, and in whom after his death, he should in have flood up in my defence, and pleaded my cause, opposing thy felt against the Kings sentence? as thinking that an ordipary Souldier would not fo unmannerly have charged his General to his face.

V. 14. Then [aid Joab, I may not thus tarry with thee ] i.e I may northus fruitlefly spend my time in arguing with thee about this businesse, and so let slip this opportunity which is now offered, of putting an end to the war, teeing the matter in band more needeth execution, then confulration, or differte. and he took three dars in his hand? To wit, to make fure work annue two torce wars in ms mana. To wit, to make ince work for his quick diparch, that if one failed or broke, lighting on some rib or privy coar, he might make use of another.

and thrust them through the heart of Absalom. i.e. The middle of the body neer the heart; for there was fill fome life remaining in him after thefe wounds received; which Joabs ten young men afterwards did wholly take away, v. 15. The which fact of Joabs some condemn, as being exarely against the Kings strait charge and command, & think that he did it out of spleen, either upon an old quarrel he had against him, for burning his teorn, or, which is more likely, because Absalom had lately catheered him out of his Generalthio, and our Amafa in his room: But others jullifie and commend him. For though he did that which was contrary to the Kings personal command being transported with indulgency and topdnesse of affection; yet it was not against his legal authority, which required that justice fhould be done and executed, even in the field, according to martial law. For which he had good grounds and reafons; for firft. be had no hope of Abfaloms amendment, feeing after he hith, be not no nope of non-norm amenoment, teeing area in was reconciled to his father, and that by his mediation, he had falfifyed his faith, and was now become a dangerous trayer against King and State. Secondly, because he had murthered Ammon, and now was the chief cause of the flaugheeting 20000 Amon, and now was the enter cause of the Intigatering 20000 of the Lords people, whom he had first led into rebellion; and therefore, as General of the army, he might lawfully put him to death, being fallen into his bands, and execute mattral law upon him, Thirdly, because he knew that, in all likelihood, Ab-salom, if he lived still, would be a dangerous enemy to the whole State ; and therefore he thought it best to cut him off, prefering the fafety of the Common-wealth, before the private affection of the King. Upon which grounds, it seemeth, David was so convinced of the lawfulnesse of Joabs sach, that he did not, after the battle, blame him for it, nor maketh it any part of his charge, when afterwards he accused him to Solomon for killing Abner and Amafa; although it may be probably thought. that it was not the least part of his quarrel against him, in that, contrary to his express command, he had flain his beloved Ab. falom, that through his fondnesse of affection was too dear

V. 15. Smote Abfalom and flew him ] i. e. Killed him out. right, who had be fore received divers morral wounds, by the hands of Joab.

V. 16. And Fosb blew the trumpet, and - beld back the people] i.e. He caufed a retreat to be founded, and a ceffation of arms, after the arch-rebel was cut off, who had mif-led all the refl, like a good General, pitying their feduction, and being loath and fairing, like a wife Common-wealths-man, to bave any more blood unneceffarily fpilt.

V. 17. And they took Abfalom - and laid a very great heap of fones upon bim] As it was their manner when they meant to fuit an ignominious death with the like burial. So they did to the King of Ai, Josh 8.29. and the five Kings, Josh 10.27. and Achan. See Jofh. 7.16. and the note upon it as a materactor, in an ignountness manner, which is in the hings date! A place neer Jerufalem, called also the valley, of Cedron, or of Jebosaphat, Joel, a. 3. lying between Jerufalem and the mount of Olives; which was named the kings dale, as some conjecture, because, being very pleasant and fruitful, it was a place fit for Kings, and accordingly used by them for their sports and recreations. And therefore made charge of by Ablalom, as the fittest place for his monument, in respect of the great refort of noble personages that did frequent it. Some think it to be the same with that which is called the valley of Saveb, where the King of Sodom, and Melchizedek the king of Salem met Abraham, when he rejurned victorious, baving vanquished the four Kings, and recovered the prey, Gen. 14.17. and that upon this occasion it had first its name , though it might be by it appeareth, that those fons mentioned, ch. 14 27. were now all dead, God justly cutting off his potterity that should have a fort have lived, begause he dishonored his father by his rebellion, and fought to take away his life, from whom he had received his. V. 19. Then faid Abimase the fen of Zadok, let me now run and bear the king tyding! Because he and Jonathan were appointed by the King, to bring him the news from time to time, how things went and were carryed with Abfalom and his followers . he now offereth himfelf to do him this fervice; and having joyful tydings to relate unto bim, he defireth to be the first man that should report it, because he thought it would be very acceptable to David, who all this time, whileft the fight lafted. could not but hang in suspence, and therefore must needs long to hear the iffue.

V. 18: Now Ab alom in bis life time had taken and reared up for bimfelf a pillar] Like one of the Pyramides of the Kings of Egypt, that it might ferve after bis death, as a monument to exernize his memory to after-ages. Which is here inferted, to thew his pride and vain glorious ambition to perpetuate his name, and how God was pleased to croffe his proud humor, by caufing him to be buried in a great pit under a heap of ftones, as a malefactor, in an ignominious manner.

V. 20. And Foab faid unto him. Thou falls not bear tydings this day, Sc. ] Joab out of his love to him, denyeth to let him go, becaule there was in the news a mixture of joy and grief, and he would have him to be the messenger of glad tydings only, and promifeth, that he should then be the meffinger before any other, when fuch an occasion should be offered other, when turn an occasion inound be observed, but this day then shalt bear no tydings, because the kings son is dead.] Jonb out of much experience well knew, that such was David's indulgency and extream fundnesses over his son, that the news of his death would fo imbitter the joy of his victory, as he would have but a cold welcome that fhould report it unto him ; and therefore loving Ahimaaz, he was unwilling that he should for fo great pains, be rewarded with no better entertainment.

V. 21. Then faid Foab to Cullit, Go tell the king what thou haft [cen] Who this Cushi was, it doth not appear. Somethink, that he was not only the Kings fervant, v. 20, but also his footman. and to fit for fuch an employment; and because of his name. they gueffe that he was a Chushite, or an Ethiopian by nation, as the word is taken, Jer. 13, 23. but a Profelyte to the Jewish religion; whom because of his blacknesse, Joah made choyce of, as thinking him the fitter to be the meffenger of fuch fad and mournful news, as he supposed this would be to David. concerning Abfaloms death.

V. 22. Then faid Ahimaaq — but how foever let me I pray thee alfo run, &c. ] Heb. be what mry i s. Come on it what will; which earnetheffe he useth, as defiring to be the first messenger of Davids victory; and now upon his second thoughts, bring able to take away Joabs objection about his running, he refolveth to report the best part of the news himself, and to leave the worst to be related by Cushi.

wherefore wilt thou run my fon, feeing thou haft no tydings ready? To wir, none that will be pleafing to the king; and befides all that, Cufhi that is gone before will relate all that is, before thy

V. 23. Then Ahimaaq ran by the way of the Plain, and over-ran Cushi] There were two wayes from the wood of Ephraim to Mahanaim; the one mountainous and uneafie for a race; the other fair and plaingthat Cushi chefe, as being the shorter ; this other Ahima z,in bis prudence, choofeth, though the longer , knowing, that fometimes the neerest way is furthest about,

V. 24. And David fate betweenthe two gates] To wit, of the eityMahanaim, which for more firength, ufe, and ornament, ufed to be double; one outward to the high way, and the other in-ward towards the city, between which they had a fair and large entrance (and a chamber over it) where was their place of judicature, and transacting publike bufineffes. And here David fate waiting to hear the news, and having heard it with much grief, could flay there no longer, but ascended into the chamber, that he might take his ful liberty to vent his forrow. So I Sam.

and the watchman went up to the roof over the gatel i.e. The turrer, appointed to the watchman, that from thence he might

V. 25. And the King faid, If he be alone there is tydings in bis moutb] For they that are braten in battle do flee by troops, whereas the victors use to dispatch one or two to carry news . being otherwise busied in pursuing their victory, and taking and the King faid, He is a good man] i.e. One who ufeth to bring me good tydings; and befiles, he is a valiant Souldier, and therefore would not be one of the first that did flee, if the battle were loft, but purpolely cometh after it is won, and all danger paft, to bring news of the victory.

V. 28. All is well] Heb. pette ; or, pette be untothe: under which phrase, the Hebrews fignisie all prosperity and happi-

Blessed be the Lord thy God which hash delivered up the mentic. The men that did rife up in rebellion against thee, to be flain by the Kings fervants. So 1 Sam. 24.19. & 26. 8. where he ccc of it to Joab, the other Commanders, or the whole army. V. 29. And the King faid, Is theyoung man Abfalom fafe? ] He was not fo much rejoyced to hear of the victory, nor thankful for it, as follicitous for Abfaloms lafety, thereby discovering his extream indulgency and fonduels over an ungracious fon. when Foab (ent the Kings (ervant) i. c. Pofted away with all hafte, Cushai, to carry the news of the victory.

Chap. xix.

I saw a great rumult, but knew not what it was ] Ahimaaz, 60 doube, knew well enough of Abfaloms death, for Joab gave it as a reason why he would not have him run and carry the news; but through humane frailty he fpeaketh an untruth, that he might conceal it from David, upon these reasons; (if at least any reason can be rendred for lying.) First, because he reat any tensor can be sentred for synthy. First, we was to the origine being by telling him ill news; the end of his coming being to rejoyce his beart with glad tydings. Secondly because he defired to be accepted of David, and therefore would only relate to much of the news sahe knew would pleafe. would only retace to muca or the news as ne knew would please him, leaving that which was bad, to be reported by Cuthi. Thirdly, because he thought it not fit, that the King all at once, on the fudden, should be sold of his death whom he dearly loved, left he might be oppreffed with grief, but held him in fulpence, that he might by degrees, be the better prepared to bear it, and bear it with patience.

V. 2. The exemies of my lord the king _____ be as that young men it | i.e. Overthrown, and dead.

and the King was much moved ] To wit, upon those grounds which are touched in the note upon the fifth verfe, as Absaloms desperate and lost condition, dying in his sin without repentance; and withal, remembring his own fin of adultery and murther, which had occasioned his fons mifery; both which, and other motives were fet on, as the greatest aggravation of his grief, by his excessive love and unbounded affection towards his dear Abfalom, which doth so wholly engross and take him up, that he doth not fo much as mention other and far greater causes of grief, as the flaughter of twenty thousand of his subjects, who perifired also in their rebellion without time of repentance; who were mifled and feduced by his flattery and and went up to the chamber over the gate] i. c. He was fo full and were my to the comment over the goe! I.e. It was to tun of grief, that it must need share a vent, or elle break his heart; and therefore being utterly unable any longer to refrain, and re-ffrain his passion, and lock also that those in the gate thould discover his weakneffe, he doth not go home to his house to case himfelf there, but goeth up into the chamber over the gate, there to vent his grief; yea fo much was he transported with the violence of passion, that he could not hold out follong, till he eame thither ; but in his very paffage up the flaires to that room, he brenketh out into fuch woful lamentations, that thole in the gate wers ear-witneffes of it.

would God I had dyed for thee] David could not chuse but know what miseries and mischiefs would have befallen the whole State and Common-wealth, and especially those that were godly and religious, when they law and were brought under fuch a woful change as would have been, if Abfalom had out-lived his father; bur either the violence of his paffion maketh him to forget this at the prefent, or elfe in this comparison, he hath only respect to his own death, as temporal, seeing he was fire of Gods favour, and dying fo, thould have no lofs, but gain; and to Absalomans connal, seeing in all likelihood he dyed in Gods displeasure, having so affurance of his falvation. In which regard he was willing (if it had been possible) to have prevented and redeemed his Ablalom from this danger of everlasting misery, by dying for him a temporal death .

CHAP. XIX.

Verf. 1. And it was sold Jeab] le is not expressed by whom, though it be likely, that Ahimazz and Cushi reported it when they returned unto him, and so it came to be ported it when they returned and only, that the king thus immo-derately mourned and lamented the death of his lon, v 2. and the victory that day was turned into mourning] i. e. Where as they expected joy and triumph for fo great falvation and deas they expected joy and triumps for lo great taivation and de-liverance by for glorious a victory; contrariwite it came to paffe, that the kings mourning caused all the people to mours, the body sympathizing with the head, and not enjoying its health, body i propatizing with the heed, so do copyring its health, when the head actic, Prov. 16. 15; R 19. 21.

V. 3. And the people get them by faulth into the Griff; i. e. They came not like a videorium surmy with joy and criminals, but factoring themselves here and there, they feeredly considered themselves into the Grir, as they could, not defring either to fee the Ring, or to be form of him. Others take its in another fence, therein following (as they conceive) the text in another tence, therein following [13 they conterved the text. as it is in the Hebrew, thus, The people field enter in entring; and so the vulgar latine readeth it. The people declined that day to enter the City, even as people flexing before their ententes, i.e. they came not iato the city at all , but withdrew themselves into passions, and think of chasing another King, who is more other places, through fhame, grief, and discontentibeing about moderate in himself, and juff to them ; and then thy cafe to cater, when they heard how beavily and heynoully the King al cribeth the whole glory of the victory unto God and no part, rock the death of his fon. The which Josh observing told the King shat if he did not forthwith cance his mourning, and go our and ipeak comfortably to the people; there would not aim one and these commortancy to the perme y there would not any one of them tarry with him that night:

V. 4. But the king covered by face! To wit, after the meaner of close mourners. See the 1.5, 3.0, and the note upon it.

V. 5. And Jako came into the busis to the king! i.e. Either into the chamber into which he afounded when he first heard the news of Abialoms death, or into houle in the City whither he had now retired himfelf.

and faid, Then heft flamed this day the faces of divery forward ?
The which speech of Joah, though it were very hardh and fauane which speces of Joads, thought were very shafth and lau-cy, proud and peremptory, and in respect of the manner, much to be condemned, as far unbeferring a subject to his Sove-raign; and in part also, very falle, and wrongfully applyed to David ; yet thus far it admitteth of some excuse and extenua-LANTO 3 Yet thus the it admitted by time exemile and extension, that it was for the most part true, injectified of the matter and fundamen of its and for therefo, though he failed in the manner, yet what he fable, was out of toye and faithfunding, to prevent greater miliciale which might have followed, if Dates and the faithfunding the second prevent greater miliciale which might have followed, if Dates and the faithfunding the wid had held on in his courfe of mourning, and utered by a friend, whom David had alwayes found faithful, true, and trufly to his perform and caufe, and no more gas it femrets, (all cir-cumflances confidered, compared with the event and iffur or it,) then was profitable, and even, actuit time, almost necef-lay. For David was so deeply and dangeroully suck and fowced into a gulph, and even (as it were) a very whirlpool of paffion, that he could have been no otherwise pulled out of it, and preferred from linking deeper, then by luch a rough and rude band. So that though the fauce was over tart and fowr. and far unfitring the palat of a King, yet the food it felf was whollom, and fit to firengthen and recover him out of his languithing patition. And first he telisth him, that be bad bassed the faces of all bis ferosans, that is, had so discountenanced them by dificipecting their fervice, that not daring to come into his prefence, they were, in great discontent, ready to leave and forfake him, as not deferving their future fervice, feeing he had no better rewarded their former ; by which both himfelf and all his fone and daughters, wives, and concubines, had been preferved from utter ruine. So also he had confounded their faces with finame, by disappointing them of their hopes, in not accepting of their faithful service, which they had performed with the extream bazard of their lives; nor any wayes encouraging them with praise or reward, as they well

V. 6. In that theu loveft thine enemies, and bateft thy friends ] i.e. Haft expressed so much love to Abialom, who was an enemy HARE expressed to muce love to ADIAIOM, who was an enemy, and traytor, by thy mouraing and bitter lamentation for his death; and somuch harred to thy friends and followers, by withdrawing thy person, and discountenancing their service. Where he chargeth David with that which was untrue, and figifterly milinterpreteth both his paffions and actions , for he nanterly mil-interpreted note mis panions and actions 1 for he between Abfalom, not as an enemy, but as a fon; nor with drew himfelf from his friends and followers, out of any harred to them, but because he would not discover trato them his wraknesse, in his excessive mourning, which for the present he was unable to temper and moderate, being transported by the vehemence and violence of his inordinate affection, and unruly for this day I perceive, that if Abfalom had lived, and all we had djed - then it had pleased thee well Which words, is they were extreamly harfb and bitter to be untered by a fubject to his Soveraign, especially, being wounded already in his fpirit, and dejected with grief, so also they were interly falle; for David defined the life and welfare of all his friends, but of for Davis defined are the same with a control at his tircus, so not Afaljam allo among the reft, though he had thewed brandled his mortal enemy. Neither dots Joah moderane and qualific this there credure, by faying, that if he went on in this course, the would fear to his Princes and people to be thus ill-affected towards them, but posturely affirmeth out of his own knowledg, that it was so indeed.

V. 7. M. wiberefore arise, go forth, and speak comfortably to thy fevents] i.e. Congratulate their victory, give unto them due honour and praile for their well deferving, in fighting and our noncur and praint for their wen deferring, in inguing and ventring their lives in thy caufe, and encourage them, by giving or promiting unto them rewards for their good ferrice. Where he giveth unto film wholfome, good, and faithful counfel, but ac given unto the monitoring on a rational country of imbittereth it is a proud and peremptory manner, not liweer-ning it with humble intreaties, but making it difficult by included the monitoring a fully of to bit King, like a good potion or pills, profitable for the cure; but not fo prepared and (weetned, as that the patient might take it without great loathing and reluctancy.

for I femar by the Lord, if then go not forth, there will not terry one with thee ] That is , all thy people will forfake thee as unfit to govern them, who art not able to rule thine own will be miterable, though thou recained the title of a King , mp flelb] Who was Davids Nephew, as being fon to Abigail, feeing is the multime of the replic, it the Kingt homes; but all Davids filter, it Chr. 3.16.17, and by Abilholm made General was all the replication of the Prince, Province, 12.8.3, And of this army, the 17.2.5, thus to whom David lendeth, see Series this Joab confirmeth by a folemn oath, the more to flartle and defired to gain him, and make him firm to his fervice, because move the King to follow his counsel, though he had no certain move the thing to tonow an country, mough it had no extend a way power was the people of the many and the could, having for would be by probable conjecture, which was no fufficient war- highly offended him, he might despair of partion, or at leaf, or rant for an oath.

and that will be worse unto thee then all the evils that befell thee from thy jomb, till now ] i. c. Though thou haft gone through many troubles, and endured great afflictions in former times. especially through Sauls persecution, and Absaloms late rebellion . vet this will exceed them all, when in thy old age, thou shalt be deposed, and exposed to contempt and desperate

V. 8. Then the King arofe, and fate in the gate i.e. He addrefted himself to follow and act loads countelebecause though he difrelified it as barth and tart, yet he faw that it was profitable and necessary. And therefore, for the present, he shakes off forrow; and that he might win the peoples hearts, by fliewing himfelf graciously unto them, he face in the gate, which was the ordinary place of Judicature, and publike affemblies, and they told unto all the people | i. e. Davids friends and followers, who were appointed for this fervice, did give notice lowers, who were appointed ror this letrice, and give notice hereof to all the reft of the people, to wit, all those who were of Davids party for as for liracl, who followed Abfalom in his re-bellion, and were all those of his party that had cleaped out of unworthy requital of him, by rifing against him with his son, in that horrid rebellion; God wo. king a great change in their hearts, they begin to repent and condemn that course which they had formerly taken; yet none being willing to bear the whole blame of it, every man was willing to put it off from one to another; and now milliking their own flackneffe in making him fome amends, they begin to think and speak of hafting his return with bonour to his own bome at Jerusalem, that he might be re-established on his throne ; and to this end, provoke one another, and call upon their Magistrates and Elders to haften the work.

the King (aved us out of the hands of our enemies ] To wit, the Moabites, Ammonites, Idumeans, Syrians, and especially the Philishims; and therefore little reason had we to rebel against fuch a King, by whom we have had so many and mighty de liverances; but feeing we have done it, great cause we have to make him some amends, by basting his return, that we may peaceably fubmit to be under his government.

V. 10. And Abfalom whom we another over 103, is dead] As if they had faid, though there had been reason that we should (if Abfalon had lived) have liked our courfe, and proceeded in it; (a it feemeth there was none, feeing God hath fhewed his diflike by rendring it unproferrous and fatal, both to him and us ; yet now it were madneffe to proceed in this rebellion, and no to fubmit to David, as our King, feeing he in whom we trufted is taken away.

and King David fent to Zadok and Abiathar the high Priefts Whom he had left at Jerufalem, as most able and faithful to negotiate his bufineffe.

Speak unto the Elders of Fudah, faying, Why are ye the lift to bring the King back Because they were the first and chief that had itrengthened Abfalom in his rebellion, they were more apr to despair of pardon and reconciliation, and so were (as it feemeth) afraid, and loath to addresse themselves to the King. facing they were fo highly in his displeasure. Therefore, to take off this fear and jealousie, he sendeth to the Priests, and giveth them commission to acquaint them with his minde, and tendernesse of affection towards them, notwithstanding their former errour, if they now repented of it, sceing they were in a neerer relation to him then any other tribe, as being his friends and kinfmen, who had encounted him for their King, whileft the other tribes adhered to another. Wherein David was a lively type of Christ, who stayeth not till his enemies seek unto him, but fendeth his Ministers unto them to feck and fue, that they will be reconsiled, 2 Cor. 5.20.

fering the speech of all Ifrael is come to the King ] To wit , ex proffing their refolution of coming to fetch him back to his house from Mahanaim.

V. 12. To 670 my breehren, ye are my bones, and my flefb] i. o Stand in a moft intimate relation, and neer conjunction with me; and therefore no more possible it is, that I should remember former wrongs, and revenge my felf upon you, then that I thould have or burt my own firth and boses. And fo this phrase is used , Gen. 2, 23. Judg, 9, 3. Eph. shap. 5. 29, 30. Y. 13. And fay ye to Amifi, Art unt thin of my bone, and of

he was potent with the people, having been their General, and being received into his favour, that this might not hinder his defien in bringing him in, he affureth him, that he was not only ready to forgive and forger all that was paft, but was willing in respect of that neer relation that was between them, to advance him to the highest honour.

God do fo to me and more alfo] See Ruth x, x2, and the riote

If thou be not Captain of the holt before me cominually in the rosm of foab] Though Joab had incurred Davids just displea fure by diversacts, as the killing of Abner and Abfalom contrary to his express command, and by his harsh and infocontrary to his expres command, and by his harth and info-lent species, and percemptory exposulations, unbeferning al subject to his Soversign; yet considering how faithful he had almaies been unto him, what good and successful service he had ever done 3 and that in these particular failings his main intention was to promote the good of the King and the whole Common-wealth ; and contrariwife, how faithleffe, differviceable, and rebellious Amafa had been unto him, I cannot fee how it could stand with Davids justice, to advance Amasa, who had fo ill deferved, and to turn Joab out of that place which of right bellion, and were an itole of his party teat of a ceaped out or the battle, but were fled, and returned to their own boules.

V. 9. And all the people were at first[] To wit, recounting now in their fecond thoughts, the great and manifold benefits which they had long employed by Davids government, and their less that the property of se bad formerly done to Abner with like fucceffe. Nor can E ne had formerly done to Aoner with like fucceite. Not can a but (as I conceive, juftly) fulpect, that his chief quarrel against Joab, was the death of his deatest Abfalom, though it broughs to much good both to him and the whole Common-wealth, feeing he pardoned greater faults in Amasa and others; yea, instead of punishing, did reward and advance them. But though David were on holy and just man in his ordinary courie, yet be was but a man, that had his failings, and this among the rest. Nor can I think, (as force do ) that he did this by a fecree inflinct of Gods Spirit : (for what were this but to by a terrer intime of Gods spirit; (for what were this but to make it the vail to hide mean failing?) and it is like, that if he had done this by an inward spiritual motion, he should have had better successe both in Abners case, and in this of before me continually] i. e. As long as thou and I live. V. 14. And he bowed the heart of all the men of Julab] i.e. David by this friendly meffage, and gentle fpeech, delivered by the Prieft from him to the men of Judah , inclined their hearts with unanimous confent towards him. Some underfland it of Amafa, that he having received from David this comfortable meilage concerning himfelf, perfwaded the men of Judah to fetch him home, V. 15. So the King returned, and came to Fordan 1. e. The other fide of Jordan towards Mahanaim.

And Jadab come to Gilgal Ji.e. A place on this fide Jordan, neer Jaricho, where Joffma first pitched his camp after he came over and circumcited the people, from whence it had its name. See Jofn. 5. 9. and the note upon it. Hither now the men of Judah came, and paffed over the river to fetch the King homewards from the other fide.

V. 16. And Shimei ----bafted and came down with the men ffudab] Taking this opportunity of reconciling himfelf to the King, and obtaining pardon for those groffe abuses which he had offered unto him, hoping to speed the better, because the men of Judah also came to make their peace, and to obtain pardon for their rebellion.

V. 17. And there were a thouland men of Benjamin with bim 1 Which he brought to intercede in his behalf for the kings favor. Whereby is implied, that he had fome relation to the houle of Saul, and that he was a potent man in that tribe.

And Ziba the fervant of the boufe of Saul] Who being guilty of his treachery in flandering his innocent mafter came among others, to fee how things would go, and to make the best shift he could for himfelf, to retain the Kings favour if he were que-Rioned, though Davids partiality made this care needleffe. and they went over fordan before the King ] i.c. To meet him on the other fide, and to conduct him over.

V. 18. And there went over a ferry-boat to carry over the kings boufbold, and to do rebat be thought good] i.e. To bring over fome of the chief of his family, as his wives, children or whom he pleafed; or to be imployed for fuch other ules as he thought good, the reft and groffe of his company making thift as they could to passe over by the fine and foords ; or as Josephus will have it, by a bridg made of boats.

and Shimeah fell down before the King | Not to excuse his heynous fault, which was altogether unexculable; but to make humble acknowledgment of it, efave pardon, and deprecate ( time of his reign. Yea but how could it fland with Davids deferved punishment.

Chap, xix.

more adorneth a King then clemency; neither do thou only did nor think it juft, that it should be wholly remitted . left more adorated a king dath citemency; netter to dud on the like a forgive, but also forger it, that thou mayst not fill harbour others should be encouraged by his immunity to do the like a control of the like and therefore he leavesh it to his successfor, to call him to an hard thoughts in thine heart against me , as my fault defer-

V. 10. For thy fervant doth know that I have finned ] That is, the guilt of my fin to overburtheneth my confcience, that it preffeth from me this humble acknowledgment, not any wayes extenuating or exculing my fault, but wholly relying upon thy mercy and clemency.

**Berefore behold, I div come] i. c. Not wholly despairing of grace, but preluming on thy goodnesse, I have not run away, bur have raken the boldneffe to preffe into thy prefence, that I our aye taken the ownheine to prese and toy presence, that it may obtain mercy and forgiventle, the fift bit day of all be bough of figled) i.e. Out of an earnest ell delire to regain thy favour. I have with my care and diligence, prevented others has necess to this place then I, to wait upon thee, and to finde grace in thy fight. Where he names the house of Juleph, not because he was of that family, either Ephramite, or Manaffice , for it is plainly faid, that he was a Benjamite ; but his meaning is, that he came first of all the tribes of Iliael, Judah only excepted. For it is usual in the Scriptures, to divide all the tribes of Ifrael into thefe two. Judah, and Epraim ; Judah having Benjamin joyned to it; and Ephraim comprehending under it the ten tribes, which are all called by its name, because it was the chief of them all, all called by its name, because it was the care of them and had fill the preheimine above all the reft, having all the rights and priviledges of the primogeniture and birth right by Jacobs bleffing divided between it and Judah. So Zach. 10.6. Jacobs bleiting druben between the land bloom be might be fail to flave; to fail to flave come first, and before all the house of Joseph, because he came now with the men of Judah; before any of the ten tribes came. Judah shad Benjamin were so joyned and mixed together, that they were accounted bat as one tribe. Now Shimes maketh use of this precedency, as of an effectual aigument, to move David to pardon him; seeing by his aiguineiri, so níove David to pardon him; fecing by his coming in, labimillion, and reliance upon Davids mercy, he had given a good exámple to all others for their initiations and lite, an fo dange, found good facerelfe, it would be a fingular encouragement for them have had riten against him to do the like; whethers, it the flould deal with him in the ripour of justice, it would decer and different others, that that been in the refellion; to come it has and bloust themlelves, feeting there was no hope to finde mercy.

V. 21. Shall not Shime be put to death for thu? ] As if he had faid. furely be cannot in juffice be fpared, feeing the law of God condemneth it as a great fin, Exo. 22.28. 2 King. 11.

10,13. What have I to do with you ye four of Zerolah] As if he had faid, why do you so over-bushly interpose your selves into my regal affaires, hindring me from exercifing my king-ly preregative, in pardoning and shewing mercy to whom I pleafe. See ch. i. 6.1. and the note upon it. sharpon feeld this day be adverfariet nine me] i. e. Howforver you would feem friends, and thus sovile me out of your zeal to mine honour, yet your counsel is so ill at this time, (all circumilances confidered,) that you could not have given me worle, had you been my enemies; hindring me in that which is good, and exciting me to evil, to wit, the telephonable revenge.

Ball berie dry man be put to death this day in I/rael?] That is, feeing God, by giving me victory over mine enemies, and refloring the to my kingdom, bath made it unto me, and all that love me, day of rejoycate and thank giving should I have it, by shedding of blood to be unto any a day of mourning and famentation. So i Sain 11. 13. See the place, and the note upon it.

for da I see know that I am this day King over Ifree ? ] That is, that I am as if I were newly created King, my lott Kingdom being reflored; and what better beforeneth and more adorneth a King, or winneth and knitteth the hearts of his Subject; unto him, then clemeacy? especially in the day of his inauguration, or reflicution to his Kingdom, when the eyes of all are upon him, and read his disposition in his actions? or what more alienateth their hearts and affections from him, then rigour and feverity, which are at this time fo unfeafon-

V. 23. Therefore the King faid unto Shimei , Thou fhalt not light, And the King [ware unto him] Which is not fimply and absolutely to be understood, but in reference to his former faules, for which now he craveth pardon. For if he commited my new offence, this oath would not priviled him from deferved punishment; heither could David undertake for fugue tipes girer bis degth, but only for his own life , and the der, bur to his prelent fentence of dividing the land ; as it is oath, to give order to his fon Solomon , to put him to death deterved puntament.

V. 19. Leaves m Lordsimpate iniquity into me] i.e. Though my fault be heynous and capital, yet do not (as in justice thou not build be heynous and capital, yet do not (as in justice thou not build be income to ricing, i.e., and it is a fair may fine to the came to ricing, it king, i.e., and it is not did did my fault be heynous and capital, yet do not (as in justice thou not build be informed with was to beynous and fraudelows, that he is defined, which was to beynous and fraudelows, that he is defined, which was to be ground and fraudelows, that he is defined with the safe being the safe in account for it, and not hold him guiltleffe. For though repecting feafonable circumftances, and the prudent carriage of things, with reference to State policies and purpoles , he had fworn, that he would not put him to death with the fword . as he speaketh in his charge given to Solomon, t King. 2. 8, g. Yet he ferteth him at liberty to execute justice. Yet not directly ly to punish him for that fault, which he had remitted, but upon the committing of some new transgression, into which he forefaw (knowing the malice and wickednesse of his heart ) that ie would readily fall, if in his prudence be would lay any law or injunction upon him, and firetly hold him to the keeping of it. And if fo, then he might take occasion, thereby, to put him in minde of his former wickednesse, and punish bim for one, as well as the other.
V. 24. And Mephilosheth the son of Saul ] i.e. The nephew.

or grandfon of Saul, father of his father Jonathan.

and had neither dreffed his feet, nor trimmed bis beard, nor walbed bis clothes ] That is, come in all respects of habit and deportment, as a true mourner for Davids long absence and many when he was come to Ferufalem to meet the King ] Where it feemeth, that this paffage in the flory is trainpoled; feeing it is afterwards faid, that the King was not come to Jerufalem, but was fill at Barzillai's neer Jordan junlefs we will read the words thus, as others do , when the King was coming to Jerufalem. Mephibosheth met hi m., wanting (as ir feemeth) pportunity of coming fooner to him , through Ziba's treanery.

Wherefore wentest thou not with me Meshibosheth To wit, as the rest of my friends and followers did, being willing to partake with me in my condition ? Which queffion he asketh. to fee how he would answer to those things which Ziba had laid to

V. 26. My lord, O King, my fervant deceived me] Though he knew that Ziba had most unjustly slandered him, yet he doth not charge and accuse him for doing him this great wrong, until he was necefficated by Davids question, to make his just

For the fervant faid, I will faddlems an affe] i.e. I made known my purpole to Ziba, and commanded him to make ready my affe, and he neglected to do it , carrying him away for his own use, and so disappointed me.

V. 27. But my lord the King is as at Angel of God ,] That is, of excellent wisdom, to discern truth and faithcod, good and evil. See ch. 14.20, and the note upon it.

and evil. See th. 14.20. and the note upon it.

do therefore what h good in thine eyer ] i.e. If thou judgest me faulty, punish me how thou pleaseft; for thou mayst justly do it, feeing all my fathers house have deferved to be possished with loffe of goods and life, by rifing against thee our lawful

King ? ] i.e. To make further complaints of my fervauts ill any (1). Let no make turner companies or my tervalus in dealing with me; though thereby I flouid lofe both my honour and lands; feeing thou who haff given them unto me of they free love and bourry, without any of my deferts; may fe at the pleafure, judly take them away, and diffuse of them as thou thinkest good. V. 29. And the King faid unto him, Why speakest thou any more of thy matters? I have faid, thou and Ziba divide the land ] Which fentence of Davids some excuse, and justly, as if this were his meaning, that he should not need to trouble the King or him felf, in making any long apology, feeing he did accept of his excule; and was content, that how feever upon Ziba's information he had paffed an hard doom , now to revoke it, and that his first featence should sland, to wit, that he should enjoy the right and inheritance of all the lands of Saul wholly to himfelf, and that Ziba should till and husband them to the balves; and for his care and pains, should have an equal mibity with him in the profits, according to that, ch. 9.9,10, though no fuch order of husbanding the lands to the halves appeareth in that place, but only, that as a fervant he should do his bufinefle, and for his pains have a forvants reward. But howfoever, to justifie David, I would willingly subscribe to this Expolition , yet I fee not how I can do it, feeing it cannot (as I conceive) fland with truth , for it is manifelt that David doth not here fpeak of dividing the fruits for tillage, bur the land it felf; as alfo Mephibotheths anfiver plainly implyeth , jes let bird take all, i. e. both lands and fruits. And therefore thofe words, I bave faid, cannot bave any relation to his former or-plainly expressed. As if he had find ano able me no more with | cifely, the just half, but either those three had not reballed, or. plaintly expected. As a no man account not no more wise a control of the matters, being at this time will for veiglary ballingly that a land reconciled themselves to the King, or so many of them, as concerns the State 3 for I have passed my Comence, and am're- in that great halfs, could make themselves ready to so our to folved to have it fland, that the land thall be divide I hereveen you. Where David, though a stort just king, paneth and ra-rifieds a most unjust sensore, being now blinded with Ziba's tified a most unjust tension, pring new numeer voir zours 1 may 1 marts, have recount need commercial measures to us, flyes, Sprophancy, thereig, and unitarities, and utilized inhighly feet loude of his Crow and Kingdon, and corrected to purfailing unitarity or the model, and the property or grant propriating to themselve, and contrary to law, asive formerly had twent the implementations of the contrary to law, asive formerly had twent the implementation of the contrary to law, asive formerly had twent the implementation of the contrary to law, asive formerly had twent the implementation of the contrary to law, asive formerly had twent the implementation of the contrary to law, as the former of the contrary to law, as the contrary to law, as the former of the contrary to law, as the contrary to law the contrary to law, as the to the contract of the contrac he claim in though other were no colour for it; namely that [Uperfoots, (Suche no y mail in Mephlobinch, pour cripple, final-dispite to the covenshough it might appear to David by his hishit; deportment, and urter this pand develod amount of the control of the would be now, though the cause were to important, vouchfafe to give it a new hearing, for the receiving his judgment, but flubber it over, as relolving to fand to his fentence, whether flubrer (over, a retolvung extend to mi entence; ymencer | mine | max | cule. The which unjuffice of David was much aggravated, if we consider the perion upon whom he did exercise it, even the far greater part of time Kingdom. In which contention, the only fon of his dearest Jonathan, who even to the hazard of his life, had done him so many favours; all which he now ungratefully forgetteth, and with them, his covenant and oath allo, which in Gods prefence he had made with him, that be firve vibo fliculd have the greatest interest in him; even a would for ever shew kindnesse, both to him, and all his posteric contrariwise the Jews dealt with our bleffed Saviant one day. ty after him. So frail and infirm are the beft men, if in the only in their own firength.

V. 30. Tes let bim take all, for as much as my lord the King is and State, it joyeth me fo much, that I can eafily dispence with my own private life.

V. 31. And Bargillai came down from Rogelim] A City beyond Jordan where he lived.

V. 32. For he was a very great man ] That is, in power and riches, feeing he was able to long to luftain the King and all his numerous followers, ch. 17. 27.

his numerous to lowers, ch. 17. 27.
V. 23. Come thou over with me, and I will feed theo] Where David the weth his humanity and grateful edfe, by his readiness to require Barzillais bounty and kindnesse, though he, in respect of his wealth, needed it not. V. 14. And Bargillas faid to the King . How long bave I to

14. Machine Jano in the figure price of the live? ] I.e. I cannot, in respect of my great age, live long, and therefore have no reason to change my labitation and course of little a time; especially being uplit, by reason of age, to enjoy the pleasures of the Court. V. 35. I am this day four [core years old] And therefore it i high time to prepare for death, rather then delight and folace; and yet, if I would, I am not arthis age capable of it.

can I dicern besween good and evil! To wit, in means, drinks, and other delights?

wherefore then should thy ferwant be yet a burthen to my lord the King]. To wit, being unable to do thee any fervice in this my decrepit age.

V. 16. And why flould the King recombence it me with fuch a reward? That is, My poor kinduelic, in supplying thy late wants with so rich a reward, whereas all I did, was but my duty.

V. 37. Let the feroust resum that I may dre is my own commy] Asit he bad sid, It becometh men of my age to think ratect of their death and burtal, then of enjoying courdy delighter; and the fore the belt way to gratife me, if to thouser pleaked, is to give me leave to return unto my own home, where, for the their tenhander of my life, I may enjoy relt and retirednelle, fit my felf for, death ; and after I am dead may be buried in the sepulchre of my father and ancestors, which as to all a thing acceptable.

Behold thy fervant Chimbam shall go over with thee ] That he might not feem to fight and neglect his kind offer, he enterble and profitable, namely, that Chimham, one of his ions, might be taken into his favour, and preferred, by him, as he should think good. The which motion David entertained; and in his old age, when he could not live to fee it done, he commendeth him unto Solomon his fon, 1 King.2. 7. Of this Chimbam we read, 41. 17.

V. 38. Ghimbam hall go over with ma To wit, to the other fide of Jordan, and so to the Court.

V. 39. The King hiffed Bargillai and bleffed bim] That is, taking his leave of him, he gave him thanks, and wished unto him all peace and prospersy. So ch. 14.22. V. 40. and also half the people of Israel That is, not pre-meet him

V. 1. Why base ohr unabreages and of plants you to the a-tray] That is, have feed an then domestered there are to us,

V. 42. elecatife the King it a er of hin auro as ] That is, of our hand to a sense of the state of former valuedes ?

V. 43. And the men of afenet aufwered-we baus ten parts in the Ring ] As if they had faid, If David be confidered as a two, though Benjamin be also reckened with you; and so are between Judah and Ifrael, the mutability and unconflancy of the common people, is very observable; seeing they who lately rejected bim and rebelled against bim, do in a hor contention, contrariwife the Jews dealt with our bleffed Saviour, one day finging Holanna unto him and bleffing him, and the next day crying out, crucific him, Matth. 21.9. and 27.23.

no fin fo foul, into which they are not apt to fall, if they ftand And the words of the men of Judah were flercer then the words of the men of Ifrael ] That is, they were more rough and flout, prefuming upon their priviledges, that the King, was of kin to come again in pacted i.e. Both fruits and lands; and goes part them, and the Royal dignity feled on their tribe, that they only, but the whole; for feeing it goeth well with the King vere the greatest and riched of all thereis, and in their wats had precedency before the other tribes. The which contention the King hearing, and faying nothing to compose it, because he was loath to displease either party, it afterwards broke out into a further and greater inconvenience; and because Judah challenged the greatest part in the King, Ilrael impatient of fuch a disparagement, refused afterwards to have in him any interest at all, chap. 20. 1.

CHAP, XX.

Verf. 1. A Md there hapned to be there That is, when the ten tribes contended with Judah , which is mentioned as the occasion of Sheba's rebellion and commo-a man of Belial] See Judg. 19. verf. 22. and the Note up-whose name was Sheba the son of Bichri, the Benjamite] Who being a chief man of that tribe, and (as it is like) of Sauls family, was the more aptto raife sedition, having gotten this op-portunity, cut of his barred to David, and his title to the Crown, with great defire and fome hope to reduce it back again to that tribe and family, and particularly to himfelf, as bring the chief head and Gaprain in this rebellion, be blem a tramper Namely to affemble the Ifraelites, who were now discontented ; and to ffir them up to rebellion, chap. 47.41.43. Unto which they were the more apt, becaule, as yet they were not well fetled in their alleigeance; like a broken bone, newly fee, before it had time to knit together. And thus God was gleafed to correct David for his fins and to exercife his faith and patience, with a new affliction coming in the neck of the former, as one billow followeth another, not allowing him any time of reft or breathing.

and fail, We have no part in David Which was a form of speech used by the Hebrews, whereby they professed that they would have no commerce with those who had displeased them. So 1 King. 12. 16. Act. 8. 21. But here occasionally taken up, because judab had claimed a chief interest in the King.aboye Ifrael; as if he had faid, feeing Julah challengen the whole interest in the King, therefore let them wholly have him, and let us make choyce of another, unto whom we may have as good right as they.

actiber have we inheritance in the [on of Feffe] So calling him in a way of contemptain respect of his mean parentages where-by he discovered the spleen and scorne, of a proud Benjamite. who had high thoughts of themfelves, because they had formerly, the Crown and Scepter, worn and weilded by Saul, who was a man of their tribe.

every man to his tents, O Ifrael ] That is, defift from profecuting your purpole in bringing David home, and return back to your own houses and tribes, that you may there advise and confult what is to be done.

So every man of Ifrael went up from following David] That is,

Chap. xx.

him the whole way from Judah to Jerufalem.

nm ne waoie way trom juona to Jerussem.

V. 3. And the King took he ten women bis contabines ] To wit, which Abfolom had defiled, the 16.32.

and put themia ward, and fet them ] That is, provided fit fourthment, and all excellences fitting for them. Wherein he mountiment, and an exertaines nating for tuent. Vaccinf the deale gaziculty with them, if they were defiled by, voluntary confent; feeing when they had juilty deferved death, yet he favoured and fpared them, because they had been his wives, and contented bimleft onely with their confinement; yea, they demonstrate the property of the contents a numer ones was near consumers; yea, tasy de-ferved little leffs, though they were in fome fort, unwilling to be thus abufed. If they did not, to the uttermoft of their power, make refilance; a bufing rather to dye, then to be-come the fobjects of fact an borrid and shamelesse villany. come the tubicits of fuch an borrid and thamcicile villany. Yea, it they were wholly innocent, and meer patients to Abloloms violence and wicked lufts, yet David dealt pioully and prudently with them, (especially if it were done by their confent) to put them in ward, and never more to company with them, because they had, in an inceftuous manner, been defiled with his own fon, and could not go abroad without fhame to themselves, and some difference to him; whereby also, they themleives, and some originate to him; whereby and, they should have renewed the memory, as oft as they were sen, of Absoloms fithium lie and wickednesse, which he rather, out of his tender assection, defined should be forgotten and buried living in widowhood] For though their lord, and husband fill lived, yet they were, in a fort widows, because they were divorced, and perpetually separated from him, and so he was to them as if he had been dead.

V. 4. Then the King said to Amasa, Affemble the men of Ju-dab] That is, having appointed him to be General of his Army instead of Joab, to ratifie his grant and confirm him in his place, he putteth him into present imployment; sutable unto it; that is, to raise an Army to pursue Sheba, and prevent his within three dayes] Which though it were a great work to be done in so short a time, yet David thought this expedition necessary, lest, if Sheba had longer leifure, he would have necessary, sett, it oned not conger senue, as would have encreased his number of mutiniers, and grown too frong.

V. 5. 50 Amala went—but be flated longer then the time.

That is, either because the time was too short for such a dilpatch; or, because most of the people were so much addicted to Josh, their old General, under whom they had formerly such to loab, their old Central, under woom they nan commerly liked good flucteffe, that he could hardly perfunde them to follow him who of late had profipered no better. But what foever was the cast e, this delay might work form jealouffe and furfi-tion in David, he being but a reconciled enemy, that he was not true to bim and his castle, and fo make him think it ficto imploy another in that fervice, which required fuch quick dif-

V. 6. And David [aid to Abifhai] Though David were impatient of Amasa's long stay, being resolved not to restore loab to the place of Generalship, as fearing that if he should use him in this fervice, he would encroach upon him, and by gain-ing the peoples favour, would usurp it into his hands, he chuleth rather to imploy Abishai, in this expedition.

Now stall Sheba do us more harm then did Abselom That is, will raife up against us a more dangerous rebellion if he be not speedily prevented, seeing many that would not adhere to Absalom, because he was Davids son, would now follow. Sheba, because he was of Sauls tribe and family, and Take then thy Lords fervante and purfue after him] Which fome understand of Joab, who had been General of the Army; and others, of Amafa, who was now in his place, ch. II. II. But most probably it is meant of Davids own servants, and chiefly of the Cherethites and Pelethites, who were of his guard, with others of his faithful followers that were mighty men, and now about him, as it is expressed, v. 7. V. 7. Joshs men] So called, because they had been under and the Cherethites, and the Pelethites ] See ch.8. 18. and the pore upoh it.

and when they were as the great firme] That is, when Abifini and Joab, with the refl of their company, were come to this great flone, which as a land-mark, flood neer Gibeon, they discovered funds and part of the army going before chemical to Joab hafted to overtake him, with a full refolution to kill him, as afterwards it appeared.

And Joans garment that he had put on, was girded unto him] i. Ana years garment tons to that was grant the offer of this Stolliers coat or caffock was yet close to him, that it might not hinder him to at his defign.

and with it a girdle, with a fword faffined spon he loyue ] i. c.

Hanged on the out fide of his coat in a Souldiers belt, that he might readily use it upon any sudden occasion.

and as be west forth, it fellows i. s. Purposely going with imbracing Shtbu's counfel they forfook David, not accompany.

Abifhai, with a full refolution to kill Amafa, as he had formering him any longer or further, but leaving him wholly to Juliaghim any longer or further, but leaving him wholly to Juliaghim to him, and conducted eth), by his impunity, he put his foot atto a wide feabbard, dab, who fill unanimoully affected unto him, and conducted eth), by his impunity, he put his foot atto a wide feabbard, dab, who fill unanimoully affected unto him. ly done Anner tor the imm caute; being encouraged (In ferm-ch) by his importity, he put his fivered into a wide featbard , that being gilb in the fiteath; it might upon the moving and bending of his body, fall our; and that to fallings, he might, without Amala's folleding sup doing, floop to take it up and in his rifing, neight deadly wound him, whiled he imbraced him, and took him by the beare to fainte and kiffe him.

And Foab [aid to Arnafa, Art thou in bealth my brother] i. c. Ann youn that we remain, are two in terms of two or it. 6. My dear kiniman; for he wascourin-german, or fifters fon; acd it was the manner of the Hebrews, to call their kiniman their brethren, 1 Chr. 2. 16,17. Mark 6.3. Nath. 2.47. Joh.

and Joab took Amaja by the beard _____ to hiffe him ] As their manner was in faluting. See Gen. chapter 19. ver.

V. 10. But Amafa took no heed to the fword that was in Jeabs band] i.e. He suspected nothing, when slipping our of the scabbard, he stooped to take it up, thinking that it had slipped out by accident, and not by any defign.

(o be finote him therewith onthe fifth rib] i.e. He flabbed him into the body under the fifth tib, neer his belly , fo that his bowels came out. See chap. 2. ver. 22. and the note up.

on it.

And firske him not again] Heb. doubled not ble firske. Because he had made sure to kill him already, and had given him his deaths wound with the first blow. See a Sam. chapter 26.

ver. 8.
and be dyed] i.e. Received a mortal wound, [10] Jobb and Abifical bis brother, purfued after Subba That is, having thus taken A mafa out of his way, he refumed his office to being General over the army, and as their Captain, led them out against Sheba. V. 11. And one of Joabs men flood by bira] i. e. By the body of Amala, appointed by Joab (as it feemeth) to fland there, to make the following proclamation to the Souldiers, as he he that favoureth Joab ] i.e. Who loving him, defireth to reflore him to his place of General, Amala being dead. and that is for David, let him go after Joab ] That is, who deand then k for David, are firm go after year) I hat is, who defireth that David and his party should have good successe whis expedition against the common enemy, and the traitors that joyn with him in this rebellion, let not this accident hinder from pursuing them.

and Amasa wallowed in bis blood ] To wir, being in the pange

And when the man faw that all the people flood fill That is, when that man that was Joahs friend and follower mentioned in the former verfe, observed that notwithstanding his proclain the former verie, observed that notwinstraining his process-mation and encouragement to march on under Joabs con-duct, many of the Souldiers as they were passing by, shoot still to gaze upon Amala's dead body, as a strange and formi-dable fight, he removed is out of their way, that they might

V. 13. When he was removed ____ all the people went on after foab] Whereby it appeareth in what high favour Joab was ler food) Whereby is appeareth in what high favour Loab was with all the Millian and Army, in that notwith/ladning Davids displacture, and this bloody and tracherous fick, in murther-ing Amafa, none of the Soudilers, no not those who were lately under Amafa's conduct and command, refuted to fol-low him. Which may flower that recarde David for see pushing him for this foul fack, height in the following him for this foul fack, height in the fact of the 11; though the may published records him for his far feet.

it; 3 though he may juilly hear the blame, in total atter hard-turn he did not for much as flassity regrove him for it, if a leash, the floory reportest wholly all that was faid and done. V. 14. And he went through all iter rities of plast aims Abrill I i.e. Joah and his army puritud Sabes with his followers, who went through all the triber, to perlowed and fift them by no loys with him in this rebellion; that it, all those that old by between Jevichiens and Abril, to wit; plasting, Mannifel's

[fachar, Zebulon, and Naphrali. unto Abel] Scittate in the tribe of Naphrali, in the North unto Abel Scittate in the tribe of Ivapozati, in the Avoita border of Canan towards Syria, where were valleys called Maacks; From whence it is named, Abel Beth-maachah here, and a King. 15, verf. 25. and Abel Maint, Cabron.
16.4. to diffusydh it from another City of this name, not far from Gadats, in the tribe of Judah. Some think that this Abel Mascah was a town feituate in the tribe of Manafich, and that it was fo mamed from the wife of Machar, who was called Maachab, and was of Manaffeb, 1 Chron chapter 7.ver. 16. and all the Beriter] That is, the inhabitants of the land and City of Beeroth, in the tribe of Benjamin, neer Abel, Josh;

8. 25. and they were gathered together] i.e. The Ifraelites, which were the inhabitants of the fore mentioned places, not hearkning to Sheba, followed after Joab.
V. 15. And they came and befreged him] That is, Sheba the rebel

and it flood in the trench ] Or, it flood against the outmost and all the people that were with foab, battered the wall to throw it down Heb. warred to throw down. To wit, with engines, and as the word implyeth under-mined the wall.

V. 16. Then cryed a mife man out of abecity | That is, from the city was.

V. 12. They were wone to freak in old time, foring, They field furth and compile as which and fo they could the matter. Or, they plainty finds in the regimine, foring, Surely they will ask of their and formed as and According to, the former reading, forme made thanks in the state of this city, in former times, sepured very just and prudent, were, in weighty affaires, retorted unto for countel; whence it grew into a proverb. That they, who needed advice should ask at Abel. And vero, I have they be wed receive advice thouse and a cause. And, and when they had be eard it, they for the definite, that the controver, for was ended and determined, and all was well make peaceably concluded. Which course if Joah had taken before the feige, he conclused. Where course is 1020 but there perove the trige, he might have fixed that labour, and the city have been preferred from danger. Others think according to the fecond, reading. That the putteth him in mind of the old law, which command. ed that before they befreged a city they should furnmen it and ed,hat siedre they builtede a city, they finceld funament, is, and defir unto it conditions of pates; po which, if the cityzans yielded, then finceld, he a celfaino so darens, Deut, 20, 20, 11. Wherein tractively, the chargeth John but he had distilled, (an irroth he had done, and therein offended by trangreefling Gods ham) for it by the anticepars, he ade four first conditions of pates unto Abel, before a chief first to they had yielded to them, said Do the work by celled.

V. 19. I am one of them that am peaceable and faithful in Ifea. V. 19. Lam wee 9 Hoom was an particular and jestiffing it of its city, who are not sell as I, of a perceable diffolition, and not feditions and mutinous, and faithful to the King, and not app to rife up against him in rebellien; though it may feem otherwise, seeing Sheba, a rebel and a feditions person fled hither for hardpur, Sbeba, arebel and a feedirious perion fleet hitter to rharboor, in here fichtered, and the gater flux against the and thisse Arroys bur chart is, secasils for either, fieldessly remains upon more of the control of th have been left open, there being in every Army forne unruly fouldiers given to plunder and prey, they might have done us a milchief, and we should have had the amends in our own

Thou feeheft to deftroy a city and a mother in Ifraci | Which the fpeaketh in the name of the eity, that it was a mother or head city, having other towns and villages under it, which had ever city, maving other towns and vallage angeler it, which had even been peterable and loyal to the Kings. And this the left had nother drawness to differed Josh from, defitoving or huttings of it, feeing it would be an act beforest injultion, and very differ viceable to the flate, in that it would be much weaked the bad faid, If thou uleft this unjul rigour, in ruining this city and the inhabitants of it, thou fhalenot onely much pr. iucity and the inhabitants of it, thou shale pay onely much prises dies and endanges the whole Common wealth, by cutting off such adoption member; so we also done with hereby deal important and the prises of the such and the prises are such and longest and principle and in the case of the common and the case of the cas up the Lords jehtritates, to intimate unto him, that if in fury and pafflou he proceed in his courfe, he would not they himfelf aman, who leifurely thems what he eats and difgefts, but refemble a bruit and ravenous wild broft, who, out of greedinede and hunger, devours his prey at once, and as it were, [wallowes it down whole.

N: 20. Far be it from me that I fould spollow up or destroy] Where Joad wholly, dischanceh all that which this wise womed had laid to his charge, and proteffeth in a redoubled firecondit his end and aym was not to deftroy the city, and to endamage the Common-wealth, but rather to preferre both, by curring off and taking from among them a common path; which would telect all that came ager thin, with the conregion of his fedition and rebellion, if he were fuffered to live any longer. (1) V. de. But & man of minute Ephrelin, Speles by name ] Who was by blick a Benjamite, but here faid to be a man of motion Ephraim, because be dwelt in the confines of Ephraim. Witeritas properly the Beerothices of which Sheba was, were of

and stey eaft up a bank | To wice for this end, that found of subsecure the wall. The phich this wife woman thus cond, upon it, they might fight with, and bear off those that distind, deathy promistich, either begulet the already knew the minds of dethe city will. ot hie Elders and chief Magiffrates of the city, who had fulficient power in this phand to officifi, and (immy be) had put her upon this imployment, at heing wife, and fo fir to manage it; and a yournam, and hatesfore more likely no be heard with pity and compation: or city, because the thought it a thing for exclasable, that they should, out off a rebel, to preferre the whole city, which was now in extreamity of danger; a that the doubted and, but that widely and prudently prefining the matter, the should cashly perfined them all no, because in successions.

V. 22, the woman went to all the people in her wifedem] That is, the perferaded the citizens generally, as well as the Elders, with her wife reasons, to give Sheba's head to Toab, as the had promifed and by there arrampet, and they retired from the city every man to his tent.] Where again Joah shewed his wife moderation, and that he was, a lover of the peace and welfare of the Comnon-wealth, and a prudent General, keeping bis Army and fouldiers in good order and discipline, feeing when they were fo neer the taking of this mother-city, and rich in booty, they, upon his bare command were content to retire themfelves, and upon his bare command were content to retire themselvies, and conferred that in bloom to lost their expected prey, and spike translated to spike statement to spike themselvies there is all to have reprehended or reproved this for killing Amusia, over-draing binnelly in the Generaliship, against his moder and without his conferr, which, it is likely, would not have been contract, if it has been done tereoutly, and feverely, much and the conferred within the conferred within the conferred and the conferred to the conferred within the conferred and the conferred facts good furcerell in this expedition, as grained house of the couldings a mod partly he for what he could not well swon to the could not a well swon to well swon to well swon to the could not a well swon to well swon to the could not a such as the could not a well swon to the could not a such as the could not a well swon to the could not a such as the could n the fouldiers , and partly, he faw that he could not we'l want his fervice for the time to come, especially when as Amala was taken away; for Abishai would have been incensed against bim, if he had offered any hard measure against his brother; and parely also, because he durst not displease Jonb, who was now fo potent and powerful, and therefore he in a pru-dential and politick way, thought it in vain to reprehend that dential and politick way, thought it in vain to reprehend that which he was untable to reform or punish, but chulch rather a better opportunity, and if he scould not do it himself, he thinketh it best to give it in charge to his son.

V. 32. Now Joah was over all the boffe] Here the names of Davids, third officers are experted as they were, when he began to reign over all liracl, ch. 8. 16. because this new readshiftment was, as if he had been again anonated and cowned. And first, Joab is faid to have been full General over the Army, being reftored to his place after the death of Amala; not that David defined it, but because another could not be fubflituted without danger of commotions. See chap.

3. ver. 29.
and Benaidh - was over the Cherethites ] Who was formerly also named. See ch. 8. 16. but here again repeated, with di-vers of the rest: because upon Davids restoring to the Kingdom, though there might happen many great alterations, yet thefe, for the most part, remained still the same. Se chap. 8. ver. 16. &c. and the notes there.

V. 24. And Adoram was over the tribute] Which office and officer, were not mentioned before, chap. 8. But now it seemeth, were added to the rost, because David had use of them, there being many Nations, by region of his conquells, become tributaries unto him.

V. 25. And Shevah was Scribe ] Called Serajah, ch. 8. 17. as fome think, the fame man, having two names, as was not unufual with the Hebrews. and Ira alfo the Fairite | Of the Country of Jair in Gilead.

Num, 3:44, Judg. 10.4, 1

CHAP, XXL

Verf. s. Hen there was a familie in the dayes of David] i. e. After the things related in the former flory conended, God fenta grievous familie upon Ifrael, which conti-nued three years one after another. Some Expositors think that this fory of the famine, and Davids victories following, toat this wory of the samine, and Davids victories following, against the Philiftims, is transported, and that thefe things were done before the rebellions, grounding their conceit upon those fourty years mentioned, thirt, 7, which they reckon from the beginning of Davids reign, when he was anoysted. King at Hebroni but freing it may be better taken from his anoyste ing by Samuel, as I have shewed in my notes upon that place, the Benjander. See ver. a. and do. 4.2. John 9. 24.

and so the things which followed, might be done in that order Med the woman said ante stab. Beepeld his bead fould be thread as they are set domain the Apry 1 there is no region to admit continuance of it, he conceived there was fome supernatural eaute of it, above time or country courte of nature 3 in time to first year (like a good King, who was careful of the welfare of his tubjects, and that they might no longer lye under these calamittes) he enquired (as it is most likely) by the high Priest, with the breft-plate, and Urim and Thummim, what was the cause of Gods wrath, which moved him to fend this famine, that he might use means to appeale it, and so the famine might ceale, Numb. 27 2 1.

It is for Saul and for bis bloody bouse, because be flew the Gibconites] To wit, contrary to covenant, confirmed by oath, John 9, 3, 15, 18. The which was an baynous fin in Gods fight, both because they had violated their oath made in his presence, and broken their covenant; and also, hecause they had used this bloody cruelty towards them who were Profenau uted this oloody cruerly towards them who were refor-lytes to the Jewiff Religion, and by the long prefeription of divershundreds of years, were invefted into the fame priva-ledges with Gods people, being of the fame faith, and by their calling and profettion ferviceable to the fanctury. The which fin is imputed to Saul and all his bloody house, and punished, both in them, and all the people, because they were accessary to his bloody sace, either by their advice and counsel; or, because they liked and approved it, or at least, did not seek to hinder and diffwade him from it.

V. 2. Now the Gibeonites were not of the Ifraelites ] To wit, by teu, yet) many te men mere compense and mereningred with content or void, bour in respect of the angioun, and an own all the reft, on both fides of Jordan; therefore unitary all the Jordan, with his posting-spectrum and all his respect of the allaboration of Canana, are in the Scriptures called Amorites, Mcfflab; of whom David was a figure, and in him eternally into the content of the content as Gen. 15. 16. Josh. 5. 1. and 10.5,6. and 24. 8, 15. as in elected, many other places, they all go under the name of Canaanites, many other places, they all go under the name or Cananuces, though, they who were properly (o called, did inhabit but one pare of the country, which did lye upon the coaft of the medi-terantean fed, Gen. 13.7. and 2.4.2. Numb. 1.4.15. And Saul jongby to flay them] That is, utterly to destroy and root them out of the land.

in his zeal to the children of Ifrael and Judab] That is, not in a true and holy zeal, ayming herein at Gods glory, (for it tended much to his dishonour to have them destroyed, who were now Profelytes, and professing his true religion, had put thentselves under his protection) but in a blinde and bloody bypocritical and prepoferous zeal, ayming, as he pretended, at the welfare of the Common-wealth of Ifrael: though indeed his main end was popular appliance, and to gain their favour, by seeming to be so zeasous in promoting their good; In which respect he is said to have done it in his zeal, and not infpired by God. And therefore in this blindezeal he would feem to envy these Gentiles, and curfed nations, that they should be incorporated into Gods people, and enjoy all their priviledges; and thinking here to rectifie the errour of Joshua, and other Rulers, and to being the Kingdom into a right frame, when none enjoyed any pare of it, but onely the Ifraelites, to whom it was given ; he endevoured to have all others rooted out from amongst them. And this is called zeal, because he seem-ed berein to respect the law of God, which commanded that thefe curfed Nations should be utterly destroyed, Exod. 22.22. 23. Deut. 7. 16. Where, by the wav, we may observe Sauls groffe hypocrific in that being expresly commanded to destroy the Amalekites, he spared Agag out of a seeming pity, but here useth barbarous cruelty in seeking to root out the Gibeonites, who were to be preferved by oath and covenant, for no other fault, but because they were ftrangers ; the which he did under pretence of zeal.

V. 3. Wherefore David fald to she Gibconites, what shall I do for you] That is, what fatisfaction will ye require, that you may jørjunj laakis, was latistaction win ye require, tuas you may you complain unto God of his peoples cruelly, and fo draw down his judgements upon them; but contrativité, being fatisfied, may pray for their peace and proferrity. Whereby may feem, that when David confulted with God about the may leem, that warn David conducted with what it was, but also required that he should use this as a means to give fatisfaction for the wrong which they had received; for otherwife be would have done what himsef thought beft, and not have per would nave done what himse thought, each, and not mave put it to their choves to demand what they pleafed.

1. 4. We will have no fitter nor gold of Saul, nor of his boule, neither for me shalt thou hill, any man in Ifrate! To wit, saving those onely whom we will now name unto thee. Where they thew that their ends and ayms, in the fatisfaction required, upon any, bur only for their own fins. And therefore of were not bale and coverous, for they defired no money; nor Annotations on the fecond Book of Samuel. of finds a trainfontion in the Scriptures, fleing it is never fafe to allow it; but when it is necessary, and cannot be avoyded.

And Devidenguired of the Lord] That is, when by the long much for private revenge, as that by their death an attone-ment might be made unto the Lord, and fo the familie remo-

> V. s. The man that confumed us and devised against us] That is, who deffroyed a great number of us, and not lo contented, plotted ftill and contrived to root out utterly all the

V. 6. Let feven of bis fons be delivered unto ma] That is, of his pofferity, for he had none of his own living immediately descended. In which their demand there was an over-ruling band of providence, that thus inclined and directed them; that Sauls posterity being rooted out, Davids Kingdom might be estabhshed, according to Gods promise; who, had they lived, would upon all occasions, have been alwaies ready to disturb the peace, by aspiring unto the Crown. and we will hang them up unto the Lord That is, devote them unto him to appeale his wrath, incenfed againft the land of Ifrael. So Numb. 25.4. which execution was sometimes used, to make attonement for some publike misseeds, Deut. 21.

in Gibeab of Saul ] To wit, for their greater difhonour, being the place of their habitation, among their kindred and friends; and to the end alfo, that by their example, all others, trienos; and to the end allo, twat by their example, all others, and especially they of their family and tribe, might be deterred from attempting the like bloody design, whom the Lord did chuse! Namely, to be the first King of

V. » New the Gibennites were use of the Installed 1To wit, by Nation and brith, shough they dwelt among them, Nation be a dwelt, and the Miller peeply, Nation be a dwelt, and a special prepared to the state of the Miller peeple of all those the chief, and most packed they are grace, to be King, becurred vyiant, and inshoused his temperature of the words thus, O dell' like peeple of all those the chief, and most price of the state of the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all those the words thus, O dell'
like peeple of all th ted, yet) many of them were dispersed and intermingled with | choice of God, both in respect of the Kingdom, and his own

And the Ring faid, I will give them] That is, being appointmanter King jast, a wing give nome i has its being appointed by God to give them! attifaction, be promifient ordeline few of Sauls from into their hands, to be hauged by them. Where it may be demanded, how this could find with Davids patitice, to pushfish the children for the fathers find, contrary to the piraftice of Amaziah, which was grounded on Gods Law, 2 King chap. 14. ver. 6. Dent. chapter 24. vids fact was lawful, yea necessary, sceing he had Gods warrant and direction for it, who hath power, when he pleafeth, to dispense with his own laws. But then how will this fland with Gods juftice, to have Sauls posterity punished for his fin, contrary to that which be protested? Ezek. chapter 18. ver.

contrary to that which he protested it exek. casper 18, ver. or. Taifferer, thus though it he fail, that God will visite the fifth of parents upon their children unto the third and fourth generation, that if is not to be usefulfood simply and abfoliutely, without any reference to the fin of the children; for principally in his punishments , be bath respect to their own fin; as in this place, Sauls pofferity are punished for his bloody fin; but it is not fimply for his fin alone, they being proofly in a full result in the state of the quital, taxt as bau! and finn the Chibonics and their po-iterity, so they also should flay his. Yea, but God often punished the fins of parents, upon their children, though they be not guilty of them. I answer, though they be inthey be not guity of them. I aniwer, though they be in-neemed their parents fins, yet they have fins enough of their own, which God may juffly punith, when, and how he pleafeeth a though he may take occasion of fo doing; by call-ing into remembrance the fin of the parents: and this he may do justly in little infants, who are often involved in the fame punishment with their parents, though they never comname punnment with teel parents, mough they are under the mitted any actual transferession, seeing they are under the guilt of original sin, which deserveth death. And again, punishments are to be distinguished into those which are temporary, or eternal. In the former, children, and thole that are innocent of thole fins for which the punishment is inflicted, are usually involved, because they live in the fame mutacto, are usuary invoived, pecasite tief; use in the same community and corporation, and (as itweet) members of the fame body; and therefore they rejoyee and mourn together; and as they participate and communicate in temporal blef-fings and benefits, to also in outward croftes and calami-fings and benefits, to also in outward croftes and calamities; like the members of the same body, which though they be found and healthy in themselves, yet sympathize with their fellow-members, if they be diseased and pained. But as for those punishments which are eternal, they are never inflicted these chicky the Prophet is to le understood, Ezek, chap, 18, from the heat of the day, and malignant influences in the nielin

Chap, xxi.

that they bore one to another. For he had likewife fworn to Saul, that he would not cut off his feed after him, t Sam. 24. eath, and it was at Davids choyce to appoint to death which them. feven he wou'd, of all Sauls potterity, he spared Mephibosheth above all the reit, because of that special covenant that was between him and Jonathan, which was contracted and grounded on that great mutual love which they bore one to another, 1 Sam. chapter 18. verse g. and chapter 20. verse 8, 16,

42. V. 3. But the King took the two four of Rizpah] i.e. Sauls

Concubine, ch. 3.7. and v. 11.
and the five fons of Michal the daughter of Saul ] i.e. Of Merab the fitter of Michal, and wife of Adriel, 1 Sam. 18.19. who being educated and adopted by Michal, are called here her fons. See Gen. 16 2. & 303. & 50.13 Rund 17. Some think that here is used the figure eclips, which in a curt and short man-er of speaking according to the Hebrew idiome, cutteth off the name of the one fifter, and expresseth it by the other. So ver. 19 of this chapter, the Gyant called Golish, for the brother of Goliah: and Jer. 32. 12. Jeremiahs uncle is put for his uncles fon. Howfoever it is manifeft, that Merab, and nor Michal. was married to Adriel, and the first to David, and afterwards eo Phalti, and then again was refumed to David, but had no children to the day of her death; or if fhe had born any to him. they mult have been reckoned rather the posterity of David, 31, ver, 12, then of Saul, I Sam. chapter 18. ver. 19. 2 Sam. chapter6.

whom the brought up for Adriel | Heb bare to Adriel, Which maketh me to prefer the eclipfis, Michil, for Merab Michils fifter; for otherwise it should rather have been said, that she educated them for Adriel, and then they could not be called her children, feeing they were not fo, either by nature, or adopthe fon of Barzillai the Mebolathite] Who is fo called, because he was of Abel-Meholah in the tribe of Benjamin, Judg.7.22. to diffinguish him from Barzillai the Gileadite, chapter 19.

and they hanged them in the bill | i.e. In fome eminent hill in Ginch Stul, v. 6. that all might took upon and bis bloody cample of Gods high displacture against Stul and bis bloody from attempting the like crucky.

Softer the Lord J. c. To appeale Gods wrath, and to before the Lord J. c. To appeale Gods wrath, and to have an arronnement for the people, that the samine might have a soft of the control of the con les harveft ] Which was, in Causan, in the moneth Nilan, of which, part was in March, and part in April. See Ruth 2,27. had their name, Raphites, v. 22. which part was in March, and part in April. See Ruin 2.17, lead their mane, (spantes, v. 22, where they were to hang from this time, till God, by finding tain, did firm, that his wrath was appeared. Whereby it has the first head, See I Sam, chapter 17, appeared, that he cultef this famine was a great and long drought, which was the utilial cause of it in the land of Camaan, as we fee in the like famine in the dayes of Elias, I King. the note on that place. nand, a we tee in the time rapidle in the copyes or know, I know, I know, I know the copyes of know, I know that I know the copyes of know think) he had now armed himself, beyon it is manifell, that it was much longer then the ordinary could be was called to form place of military honour and compared to the copyes of the copyes of know the copyes of the time, steing they were to bigg from the beginning of barley mand, as a Centurion, Tribune, or Captain; and in token-barress, till the time the Lord by sending rain, testified, that Buttle, from March to September, which was the ufual time affaire David, that he might hereby give fome proof and trial. of their latter rain , (for in an extraordinary cafe , God had of his valour. lent rain in an extraordinary time, or elle it would not have been so manifest, that his wrath was pacified;) yet certain it which oath they make, not in a compulsor way, to re-is; (as it appeareth by Rizpahs preparation and attendance) strain him against his will, but as faithful and loyal subis (du i sepecirch by Riepals perparation and attendance) | floain him against his will, but as fistball and loyal flobulations are deep reported by Goldin the law, for the hanging of dead bodies or a trie, Pour, chapter as, 19 ver. 13, And therefore David could not let them hang without manifelt transgrafing of Gold-stepreife Commandment, but that the hald begin forcial interdionation Gold, who when he pleaseth, may dispense with the commandment, but that the hald begin forcial interdionation Gold, who when he pleaseth, may dispense with the commandment of the layer of float perils with these. For good Kings are called the post participation of the country of the layer of the layer of the layer of float perils with these. For good Kings are called the spons their will come the layer of layer of bealts; but feeing tite faid to the text, that the spread it not nation. In which respect, good Kings are called lights and for them, but for her selfs and not upon their bodies, but lamps, as Davidhers, and others in other places, 1 Kings.

tate clarey to propose is the unactrood, places, comp. 1.5 from the bear or to anyman amagium tonucties in a engag, 4.50. The set king parts Neghishpub — beausy of sektlohir tarker then other clost, to cellift the more than the bodies, and for this purpose under Luds only the work between them And allo out of enter love is tenenth the bodies, were not covered, but hunge from open ayr; feeing it is faid, that they remained there until the water dropped upon them from heaven, and that the watched them, to keep off the birds and bealts from preying upon > from the beginning of barvest , till water dropped upon them? For though by Gods law, bodies were to hang but to the fer-For though by Gods Iwa, nones were to mang out to the ter-ing of the Sun the fame day, Dutt, 11.2, yet because the fa-mine came by drought, the King, by Gods direction, would have them bang till rain came, that lot in might be a fign that Gods wrath was appealed, and mercy obtained; for which end they were hanged up.

> and it was told David what Riggah - had done] Who, > no doubt, approved of her natural and pious affection towards her fons, manifelted in her taking this care and pains her felf, to preferve their dead bodies from renting and devouring, when in all likelihood, the bad fervants whom the might bave imployed in this fervice.

and David went and took the bones of Saul - and Fongthan] i.e. Commanded it to be done by his fervants and officers; being (asit feemeth) put in minde to do it by the example of Rizonh.

from the mon of Fabez-Gilead | See I Sam. 31 10.11.12. and the notes upon the place.
V. 13. And he brought up from thence the bones of Saul, &c.]

To wit, after they had been long buried. See i Sam, chap.

and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged ] That hereby he might give fome comfort to their alflicted mother; in providing for them an honourable burial, to make some amends for their ignominious death. Now whereas it is faid, makets me to preter the eclipits, outcut, por varue example amonts tor turn recommons care. Even mureus it is easy fifter; for otherwise it should rather have been faid, that she their bones were gathered, hereby is implied, that either this adopted them to her self, or her husband, then for Adrich, who was not done soon after their death, but some good poor was their natural father, unlesse we would say, that she only time after; or rather, that they had used their bodies, as the men of Jabez Gilead formerly had done the bodies of Saul and his fons, which being fo putrified, that they could not be enbalmed, they burnt off the fielh with fweet odours, and buried the boncs. See I Sam. chap. 31. ver. 12, 13. and the note upon it.

V. 14. Of Benjamin in Zeleb] Which was a place in the tribe of Benjamin, Josh, 18, 28, where was the Sepulchre of Kish, Sauls brother.

and they performed all that the King commanded To wit, all youth and firength.

V. 16. And Ishbi-benob, which was of the sons of the Gyant]

Called Rapha, who dwelt at Gath, from whom other Gyants

V. 17. Thou fhalt no more go out with us to battle! The upon the rock ; I rather with others conceive, that the foread chap, 21, ver, 38, and 15. 4. Pfal. 3. 17, a Chrog, chap! this fack-lock upon the rock, 38 a tent for her, to defend her at, ver, 17, Annotations on the fecond Book of Samuel.

was citiaare by Gezer in Ephraim, upon the borders of Benjamin, towards the country of the Phillitims. Whereupon it is faid, that this battle was fought at Gezer, because Gob was meer unto it, 1 Chr. 20. 4.

V. 18. Then Shibbsebai Who was one of Davids Worthies 2 Chr. 11. 29.

V. 10. Where Elbanan | Another of Davids Worthies, r Chr.

the fon of Faare-Oregim I Called alfo Jair, 2 Chr. chap. 20 ver. 5. To which name (as some would have it) Oregim was added, because the spear of the Gyant whom Elhanan slew, where, occasing use spear of the vyant whom Essanan sew, was like a Westers beam, as the word fignifieth. The which might have been probable, if the name Oregin had been added to Elbanan, who had fain this flyant, and not to Jair, who was his father, and had his name before this battle was fought.

Rew the breaker of Goliah] Hob. Goliah. Where by an eclipfis or figurative speech, used sometimes in the short idiome of the Hebrews, the brether is left out; and in our translation rightly supplyed. So ver. 8. Michal, for Merab, Michals filler. For David himfelf flew Goliah, 1 Sam. 17. Bur this Gyant here was his brother, and called Labien, 1 Chr. chap.

V. 10. And there was yet a battle in Gath] i. c. Neer unto Gath, one of the five famous Cilles of the Philiftims, neer unto the mid-land Sea.

that had on every hand fix fingers, &c. ] And so was not only a Gyant of a vast growth and statute, but also a Monster, and therefore the more terrible.

V. 21. aAnd when he defied Ifrael To wit, as Goliah had formerly done, that is, reproached, dared, and challenged them with fcorn and delpight, 1 Sam, 17. 10,25,26. See the notes on that n'ace and be alfo was born to the Grans | Or, Rapha. So called, in a way of eminency, because the other Gyants descended from

Jonathan] Whom fome think to have been the fame man who is before called Jonadab, that gave that wicked counfel to who is before called jouaday, that give that wicked counted to Amnon, ch.1.2, 3.5. And fill, then it appeared that he was a man of more wit, fitrength, and valour, then of piery and bonefly, as the most art, of bis profession, the just 3 binned also Shammah, a Sam, chap, 16

V. 12. These four - fell by the band of David and - bis V. 22. Their four - year of the date of but as heard was feruants] i. e. Not by his own hands, but as heard King and General, to whom the victory of bit Souldiers and Comman-ders is aferibed. Or we may add to the c, Goliah, who was than by David himfelf, 1 Sam. 17. all which were fons to this Gyant. And so taking one with another, they may be said to have all fallen by the hand of David and his servants.

CHAP. XXII.

Verle r. And David space unto the Lord the words of this praise and glory of the Lord, this Plalm, to restlice his thank-fulness for his many and great estimates, without the standard than the same and the same an in the day that the Lord bad delivered him out of the bands of in section to the count of consumers the country of the security of the security? I That is, in his old age, and the last year of his reign, when having variouished all his enemies, both forreign and domestical, he enjoyed a fetted and fecure serreign and communical, as employed a terred and recurrence. Not frending the remainder of his dayes in eafe and idlemeffe, pleafure, and voluptuous infife, as it bath been the manner of many kings and Conquerours in the like case and manper of many Kingg and Longurous in the literate and condition 3 but devoting himself to pious and religious exerci-fes to the glory of God, who had been the chief canle and au-ther of all his deliverancet and victories.

and are q to passed of safe! Whom he i percase y attent above obers, because his perfections of him were med firete and every designerors, and of longest continuance.

V. 2. And he faid! That is, in penning this long of the helpiting and praising God, he thus expertifed himself in the following words. The which are all one with the eightceenth Plaim, faving that there are in them fome variety of experience, and here, and there, fome final padages left our craded in the one, which are not in the other. And this (as one conceive) was done by reason this long, recorded in the Book of Samuel, was the first draught, and that in in the more of Samue, was the first observed at the table in Pfalm, it was by David Attendands revised, put into the volumn of his Pfalms, and committed by him, to be fung by the Levites. Although I cannot see how this can well stand with the immediate infigration of Gods Spirit, there was again a battle with the Philifims at Gob] Which ( fubliance, and not circumftantial words and expressions, as indicance, and not circumitantial words and expressions, as freements to appear plainly, by comparing parallel places of the Scriptures, as the books of Samuel, Kings, and Chronicles, and the four Evangelith; all which agree in a fweet harmony of truth; in refrect of the fonce and subfiances though harmony of trute, in respect of the tence and inditance, though they vary in words and saprefitions, with fome other circum-flactial differences. And first hear those words which are consisted in the beginning, I will love the O. I of any fittength. Which is the propession of the whose Psalm, all the rest that follows, being bur reasons of this his ardent and intimate affection towards him, who had vouchfafed him to many and great deliverances, with fuch miraculous victories, over fuch malicious and po tent enemirs.

The Lard & my rock, and my fortresse, and my deliverer Where David users wariety of expressions, to set forth to Gode praife, in a more lively manner, the experience which he had found of Gods al fufficiency, in the many kinds of his deliverances from great variety of innumerable evils and enemies, ances from great variety of innumerable evis and enemate, and to raife up, and even rayish his spirit with unfergned thank-fulnesse to God, who had so multiplyed his favours towards him, that he could not finde words enough sufficiently to expreffe them.

myrock ] i. c. A fure, firong , and immoveable foundation of all the good which I enjoy, or expect, and a place of fafety against all the machinations of my enemies, either by hiding against an us machined on in hystates affect me, to me in the caverns and caves of it, when they feek after me, to definoy me, as in the dayes of Saul; or fecuring me when I fland upon my defence against their affaults and fury, as being a place impregnable, and unnacessible, a Sam. chap. 33-ver. 6. Judg. chapter 6. ver. 2. By which allusion David sheweth, that though be had formerly used the rocks, as helps and means to ferve Gods providence for his deliverance from his enemies, yet he had nor relyed chiefly on them, but on God his Saviour, who had used them as means of his safety, and falvation. Now this in a peculiar manner , may relate unto Chrift, who is the rock upon whom his Church is built, Math. 16.18, and the fole foundation of all its comfort and falvation, unto whom that alone, may rightly be applyed, v. 32. Who is a rock, fave our God ?

into u stock, face am God?

my fortrefle, and my deliverer] i. e. My firong hold, and place of protection, to defend me againft all the affaults of my encuries; and my Saviour, to deliver me in time of danger, from falling into their hands.

V. 3. The God of my rock, in him will I sruft] Which is otherwise expressed, Pfalm 18. ver. 2. My God, my strongth, in him will I truft. That is, both at be girdeb me with firength, is him will I stuft. I have it, your as we grants we want present when freeketh. Plal. 18. 32. and coducth me with firsh whose and fortitude, as that I am able to refift all the encounters of my enemies; and also, as he is my firength, who supposeth and furthaineth me, when in my own dirangth, I am ready to be is my [hield] i.e. A ftrong defence, to repel all the encoun-be im field] i.e. A liteng defence, to rept all the encourage of the manufacture of the encourage of the enc is called, the bars of aur labation, Link 1. 69.

my bigh tomer and my refuge] That is, an invincible Fort, flrong both by, art and nature, unto, which retyring my felf in the time of dauger, I can fafe from the violence of all my. enemies.

my Saviour, then faveft me from violence] i. e. When I was fo circumvented and infinared with the plots and power of to circumvented and minated what we produce, mine enemies that there appeared no way not hope of cleaning, thou contrary to the opinion of all, and mine own expectation, didft provide a means of my deliverance, from the violence f mine enemies.

V. A. I will call upon the Lord who is morthy to be praifed &c. ] i.e. Seeing all my firety and failvarion is from God, who, whether terpear his goodnessel in himself, or his graciousfulle towards me, deserved; all praise; therefore, in all my difficulties and dangers, it will have recomb quite him by prayer, being afficied that he is both able and willings to fave and deliver me.

out of the hands of my most potent and malicious entering to V. 4. When the waves of death completed me | Octabe and malicious entering and foreures, Pfal. 18. ver. 4. Thanks, when I was before on all fides with fo many and malicious enemies , on threatned imminent death and defituation, without any hope of effecting, calling upon thee; I found deliverance: Where he compareth his enemies, and the evils which they threstned to bring upon him, to buge ware relayed of down and decr-whelen him, and even to findless thin apquirit; as this ar-profile, Plan 1-1, ver. 3, 4-5, both in relock of their spal-tisted which came again him, from all parts of the kingdom-an their follows. wenten will fay, that it chiefly respected the matter and and of their fudden and frequent attempts ; which like waves

Chap. xxii. and billows came one in the neth of another; and of their do, as we ale to fay, put and huffther breath out of their, unrefiltable ftrength and violence, like a violent torrein bear- unfirils. And here by this (moak, he underflandeth thick, vaing all down before, them is but withally intimating, that they pours and clouds, railed up by the fun; and carried with the were like land-floods, but of fhort continuance ; which for the time they lasted, put him in fear, like land-floods and forrents, paffengers, when they fee and bear them with an hide-ous noyfe: (coming against them from the mountains, upon ous noyle; { coming against them from the mountains; upon the melting of the frow, lying upon them; or fone fudden and hideous from of rains) but these sears lasted not long; and whilest they continued; were turned to his good, by driving hist unto God by ferrent and effectual prayer for help inings, which are figured Gods power and wrath.

and deliverance. Others read it thus, When the cords of coals were kindled at tt] Whereby is fignified the death compaffed me ; that is , when I was in great conflernation and fear , like those that have present death before them, and being bound fast with cords, are led out to exe-

The floods of ungally mon made me afreid ] Heb. Belial, that is, the outragious attempts of graceless and lawless men struck fuch terror into me, that I could fee no hope of escaping their might and malice, if thou in thy goodneffe didft not fend deliverance. See Judg. 19. 22, V. 6. The forrower of hell compassed me] i.e. I was inclosed on all fides with the forrows and fears of death and the grave, like a man, who lying on his death bed, that hath no hope of recovery; yea like one carrying to the grave, and bound with grave-clothes, who hash no firength to come forth out of the graye.

the [nares of death prevented me] i.e. My enemies had fo cuningly and clotly plotted and contrived my death and ruine, clike cunning fowlers, or Forreflers, that lay feerer fnares, to catch and kill birds and beafts, that lay feerer fnares, to circumvented by their plots and policies, and fo fallen into their michievous gins , waleffe thou hadlt discovered them, and fo made way for my cleape. ... V. 7. In my diffresse Lealled upon the Lori, and cryed unto my God | By which repetition he theweth, that he prayed unto God not feldom, but often and frequently, sgain and again, in the rime of his ftraits and troubles, and that not flickly and flightly, but with all fervency and carriefineffe,both calling and crying for help and deliverance and be did hear my voice out of bis Temple] i. e. Either when David prayed unto him out of the place of his publique worfhip, where in a special manner, God is present; or rather, it is to be understood of the place from whence God heard his prayers a that is, heaven, the place of Gods habitation, which is called his Temple, because it was a type of it, both in re-fpect of his special residence there above all other places ; and also of its purity and holines, seeing no unclean thing, may enter into it: and finally, because God had made his special promiles, that he would hear the prayers of his fervants, calling upon him from his Temple, the place upon which his name was called, and where his honour dwelt, 1 King, chap. 8. ver. 29. 2.Chro. chap. 7. ver. 15. And hence it was, that though they were abfant from the Temple, yet thry prayed with their faces towards it. Dan. chapter 16. werf, 10.1 Wherein the Temple was not only a type of heaven, but also of Christ himfelf; in reference to whom , all our prayers are heard and granted.

V. 8 Then the earth flook and trembled J. In this verse to the seventeenth, he setteth forth Gods vengeance, which he exercifed upon his enemies; in deftroying them with fudden, fearful, and inevitable plogues and punishments; by comparing them to an hideous and horrible florer and tempest, raised suddenly and mesons and normal competitions and dealy and mesons by his Almighty power, which is a lively manner he here deferibeth. And heurin, he alludeth to Gods former works and wonders, manifelted in delivering to your sormer wars and wonners, manucated in depending them out of the Egyptian bandage, at the red fea, in Monne Sinth, and upon the suifed nations, bringing on them, in Jo-fhunds time, swife and sudden definition; all which were evident demonstrations of Gods prefence, providence, and power in protecting his Church, and destroying his enemics.
And first he saith, that the earth shook, and trembled; alluding to Exed. 19. 16,18. By which man festations of his power, God fo terrified Davids mighty and malicious enemies , that they durft not proceed in their mischicyous intentions against and the foundation of between moved and flook ] i. c. The high him. mountains, which feemed to touch the heavens, as though they were founded upon them : Even as Atlas, an high hill in Batbaria, compared by the Poets, to an high hugo Gyant, is feign-becaufe he was wroth] i.e. Gods power and displeasure in de froying of my enemies, was as plainly evidenced, as when be fuddenly fendeth fuch horrible florms and tempelts.

winds, which darken the heavens, and hide the fun and flars from the earth. and fire out of his mouth devoured ] Where he alludeth to a mark inflamed with wrath and rage, which is fald to fair, fice out of his mouth, when he threatnesh ruine and defruction against thole with whom he is offended. And bere in the metaphor is meant hot and fiery exhalations, caufing thunders and lights coals were kindled at it ] Whereby is fignified the durablenels and continuance of Gods wrath against his enemies; which did not fuddenly vanish like a flash of lightning ; but like that fulgurous and groffe lightning, which taketh hold on follid substances, renting trees and houses, and ferting them on

V. 10. He bowed the beavens alfo, and came down ] Where he alludeth to fuch a thick and foggy mift or cloud, as maketh the heavens feem to defeend and come neer unto our heads t whereho is meant, that God did to visibly exercise his vengeance against Davids enemies, that he seemed to come down from heaven to the earth to this purpole. Not that God properly can move from place to place; for being infinite and immenfe, he fileth at once all places ; but he is faid fo to do, when as he doth manifelt his power and prefence in one place, more then in another, as he did here in the destruction of Da-and darkneffe was under bis feet] i.e. Thick and black clouds, whereby is fignified his fecret and invisible wayes, in which he came to refeue David out of all his troubles, and to deftroy

V. II. He rode upon a Cherub, and did flie ] i. e. On the wings of the wind; where he alludeth unto the Cherubims over the mercy feat, in the holy of holieft, which bad wings, to fignifie the speed of the holy Angels, in executing Gods commands: And here he refembleth God to a triumphant king. riding in a winged Charlot, descending (as it were) with a swife motion, to bring deliverance to his servants, and deftruction to his enemies. See Pfal. 18. ver. 10. and withal fheweth, that he was the fame God, who dwelling in the Sanctuary, as a chief place of his refidence, was in covenant with his people, and ready, according to his promile, to give speedy help and deliverance to his servants; and to bring de-Bruction upon their enemies.

and be was feen upon the wings of the wind] i.e. Did manifelt his power and providence in his feedy coming in to the refeue of his fervants, when their enemies did bend all their firength against them.

V. 12. And be made darkneffe pavilions about him ] i.e. Either to keep men from prying into the secrets of his judgments, or to show his displeasure against his and his servants encuries, like a King that retireth himself to his secret closer, when as he will not youchfafe fo much as to be feen of those who are in his difpleasure. Or elfe he may seem to allude to the cloud which went before the Ifraelites in the Wilderneffe , which was dirknesse to the Egyptians, but gave light to Gods people.

V. 13. Through the brightnesse before him were coals of five kindled Which is otherwise expressed, Plal. 18-12. At the kindied] Which is otherwise expressed, Plat 18-12. At the brightneffe that was before bim bis thick clouds paffed, hill-flower, and coates of fire. 13. The Lord also shundred in the beavens, and the highest gave bis wrice, hailflower and coats of fire. Which is a defeription of the lighting, breaking out of dark and thick cloude; and here events between the dark and thick cloude; and here events between the dark and thick cloude; and here fielden, plecody, and unrefibilible.

mere scales of fire kindled! See v. 9.

Vo.14. The Level thumbered from because, and the mighting units the dark place of the dark place of the dark place.

tered bie voyce] i.e. By fending thunder and lightning, be daunted and terrified his enemies, as he did Pharaoh, Exod.g. 28. and the Ifraelites on mount Sinai, Exed, 19 & 1 Samthat terrible Earthquake at the giving of the law, which 10, according to Hannabs prophety, 1 Sam. 2.10. So Plaide and the Mount allo to flake and tremble, 17, 18. And this scalled the voice of God, to flow the terribleness of it, and to admonish us, that we do not wholly ascribe it to natural causes; but acknowledg, that it comesh by Gods special providence and command, for the terrouse of his proud enemies, when they exalt themselves against

V. 14. And be fent out arrowes and feattered them, lightning and discomfitted them, ] Or, be shot out lightning. As it is exq prefied, Pfalm 18, 14. That is, thunderbolts and hailifones, as he did upon the Cantanites, Josh, chapter 10. ver. 11. which are called Gods arrowes, Heb. chapter 3. ver. 11. The which the Lord shot and fent, to scatter and discomfit his enemies, and to comfort and deliver his servants, and parnuescopy teneties unen persone torons ante tempera.

- where your a dange east of the neighbor of the control o

are terrible to the wicked, are comfortable to Gods fervants, / lyproceeded in them; but fill the bent of any will, and my as being means of their good. And therefore, when feeing thefe things, meas hearts shall fail them with fear, it is faid, that the faithful fhall look up, and lift up their heads , because their redemption draweth neer. Luk, chapter at. ver. 26.

V. 16. And the channels of the [ea appeared] i.e. By reafon of this raging tempeft, the waters and waves were fo railed sio, even (as it were) from the bottom of the Sea, that the very earth was discovered, which is the foundation and center of the world. Which is an emphatical and hyperbolical exprefition of a terrible tempest; wherein, withal, he fremeth to allude to the drying of the red Sea, and Jordan, that the Ifraelites might paffe over.

V. 17. He less from above and took me, be drew me out of many waters 1 s. e. He delivered me in a mirraulous manner, out of deep dangers, and desperate calamities, which threatned to drown and deftroy me ; even, as it were, with his hand firetched out from heaven, to pull me out of them. And thus it is usual in the Scriptures, to compare great calamities unto waters, Pfal. 32. 6. & 69. 1,2. & 130. 1. Job 22. 12.
And here he sompareth the rage of his enemies to deep waters. from which he was delivered, not by his own, or any bumane prudence, policy, or power, but only by Gods Divise and Onnipotent band.

V. 18. He delivered me from my fireng enemy] Which may be underflood, either indefinitely of any of his greater enemies, as Goliah, Doeg, Achitophel, &c. or more particularly of Saul, who aside matched any of the reft in malice, so he exceeded them in power. Where David beginneth plainly and particularly to apply and explain those things which before he had spoken figuratively concerning his enemies, their rage and malice, and Gods wonderful deliveraces of him out of their hands.

for they were too ffrong for me] Which he addeth, to magn fic Gods Almighty power, who was able to conquer and quell fuch potent entenies, and taketh delight to interpole his might in affilling his fervants when they are over-matched, and to manifeld his power in their weaknetie, when they are ready to faint and fink.

V. 19. They prevented me in the day of my ralamity] That is, they had fo fuddenly and fubrilly plotted my deftruction, beto preventit, that notwithlanding all humans counsel and firength, they had furely supplanted me, unlesse the Lord had succourted and suffained me.

be brought me ferth alfe into a large plate ] t.e. Whereas I was hertofore in many firaits of forrowes and troubles, difficulties and dangers. like a man in prifon bound and hampered with fetters and chains, he bath freed me from my forrows, and fetters and thanks, a chairm need the troub any follows; and fet me at liberty ont of my reftraint, giving me a time of brea-thing, and enlarging my heart with joy and gladnesse. And all this heddd, not for any other cause in me, but out of his free

V. 21. The Lord remarded me according to my vighteenfreffe Whereby we are to understand, not a reward of merit, for f he should contradict his hast words, that God had done all, because he delighted in him, out of his good pleasure; but a reward of meer grace, there being no proportion between the work and reward. Neither doth he fpeak of his rightethe work and reward. Neither doth he forsk of his righter of fitted from the condition of t hearts, did know his sateget y and innotency in all thefe things which they did lay to his charge. So Pfalm 7. 3.

according to the cleannelle of my bands | i.e. The purity of my actions, and mine innocency in all my courles and dealings in reference romy enemies. In all which be fhowerb , that God had jullified and approved him in that he had fo richly rewarded him, notwithstanding all their oppositions, out of his rich grace and bounty.

and have not wichedly departed from my God] i.e. Howfoever constant endeavour, bath been to keep my felf clofe with God and to plcafe him, by walking conftantly in the waves of his Commandments Commandments.

V. 23. For all bis judgments were before me ] i.e. I have fet the whole law of God before me, as the rule of my life, and all my actions, and have not wittingly and willingly di-(penced with any one of his Commandements, but have endeapoured to observe them all, one as well as another.

V. 24. I was allo spright before bim] i. e. Howfoever I had many failings and stetches, even in my best actions, wer what I have done in his fervice, bath not been in hypocrific and diffinulation, but in the fincerity and uprights effect of my heart, in fingleneffe and fimplicity, as he beft knoweth who feeth and tearcheth into the feerers of the heart and for I kept my felf from mine iniquity ] i.e. I cellrained my felf from commuting that fin, unto which otherwife I was by nature prone to fall 3 as revenging my felf upon mine enemies in an unjud way, when they fell into my band, and particu-larly upon Saul, both in the cave, and in his camp, 1 Sam, 14.

V. 24. Therefore the Lord bath recommended me according to my righteonfuesse; i. e. Seeing I did not seek to right my self in a way of private revence, but left it to the Lord to plead my cause, to whom alone vengeance belongeth, therefore he bath rewarded me aboundantly, according to my sprightness and just dealing, by bringing mide reemies to destruction and giving me deliverance.

giving me deliverance.

according to my cleanucle in his eye-fight] i. e. To that innocency and uprightants which he taw in me; who judgets all things according to truth; though mine enemies judged otherwife of me; and condemned me to be ambitious, keditious, ungrateful, turbulent, and cruel.

V. 46. With the merciful then will flew thy felf merciful ] Where he refects from the hypothesis, to the thesis; and from his own particular experience, the gathereth a general observation, that God would deal thus graciously with all his fineere on, reat Gots women these greatening with a men morre-and faithful fervants, the wing merry to tole who were meri-ful to others, and dealing rightening and faithfully, in reward-ing thole according other factions promising, who had walked before him inside uprightness of wheir hearts. And control-wisk, would pushfi and pull down thole who had fixwed them-wisk, would pushfi and pull down thole who had fixwed them. wise, would pumm and pull down those who had fixwed them-folves in all their couries, hypocritical, unjust, and cruels as throw appeared in the example of himself, whom he had exalted, and of his enemies, whom he had dejected and de-

V. 27. And with the freward thou will frem thy felf unfavevj] Or, fraumd. Asir & Pial 18. ay. That is, those that wells serverily and crofic unto God in all his wayes, prophase contempers of holineffe, and purity, either wholly neglecting contempers of womening and purity, cause mount ingening his fervice, or not ferving him in fincerity and integrity in the formality and bypocrific; with fuch unfavoury fak; as are to diffailful into God, he will then himfelf unfavory to them, to antaness once coo, se will there is index starter, or fich as she is in his own nature, or fich as she is would have him to be, but fuch us they have deferred so finde him, that is, properior and diffaffful to their appetite.

Or, he will fire himself froward to those that dealfroward. Or, he will then binnied from the cothoic that centarous ap-ple and perceively with him; that is, not according to his own nature; who their good; doth good to all these are in a negacity to partner of his good neife, Palls 119, 68, but, and full Judge, putiling them according to their denerities, had laying allot the startled of his more, which is his own and natural work, doth his finance work; as the Prophet ex-preferries in E. 83. ht. The like behalf we have, better 1.65.

And malitious enemies; but wilt take special notice of their prond oppressions, 30 bring them to consulton and defination on in due time. Where he seemeth to meet with a secret objection, that in the ordinary dispensation of Gods providence, it may feem, that the godly are utilifted, and the god-lefs flourish. To which he answereth; that howfoever it may fo fall out for a time, yet it shall not continue so for ever; but in the end. God will approve himself to be true and just in kis promite and bounty.

It is good bounty.

I

and become switched descried from my Gold 1.c. Howlevers the complete the statement, and the control of the con

Chp.xxij. rance, and refloring them to a professors condition, and joy 1 cm, and thy govelengs buth made magnets. That is, thou half rance, ana removes stem to a prosperous contamen, ana 400 and contain in the tin the Serimpure, highe and a Camble, or Enripedoth antemporically fignific productive and felicity, and for an experimental plantable in the futures of its, because mauratively, sight doth chear and constor the bear govern as contravivile. 39, signt done care and connect the dean, even as contractive each nefe doch make it fed and lumpith. So. I rov. 13. 9. The light of the right cone rejenceth, but the tampaf the wicked flall be par one; Job. 18. 3. Herth, B. 19. So that his meaning is, that God did both comfort him in his affictions whilest they lasted, and by delivering him our of them, and bringing him into a profesous condition, did replenish his heart with joy and gladneffe.

V. 20. For by thee have I'van through a troop; by my God bave I leaved over a mall | Where he alcribeth all his good fucceffe his valour and victories unto the Lord alone, as being the chief author and giver of them; by his affiftance he had prevailed against his enemics, both in the open field, in the day of battel, breaking through their troops, and fo routing and discomfitting them, and affaulting them in their fortifications, cities and walked townes; which though they feemed impreg-nable; yet, God affifting him, he castly (caled them, and that with much relevity and speed; as he implyeth by that phrase of leaning over their walls

V. 2'. As for Got, bie way is perfest, ] Where he returneth from his own particular experience to a general doctrine, thewing that God was not onely to to him, but that unto all the faithful, who put their truff in him, he was perfect in all his wayer, not failing in any of his promites; nor dealing at any time deterifully with them, but thewing himfelf upright, freere and just in all his performances.

the word of the Lord's tryed ] Or, refined. Not fo much in Pialon. 19 8.9. Bur it is laid to be pure and refined in respect of us, when, in our experience, we finde it to be certain and conftant without any droffe of deceit, fickleneffe or unfaith.

he is a buckler to all them that eruft in him] That is, protection, and a fore defence in all difficulties and dangers, who repelleth all the alfaults of their enemies that truft in him, repoling themselves under the factor of his power, promiles and

V. 22. For who is Ged, fave the Land ? ] That is, though there be many faife Gods among the Nations, 1 Cor.B.f. yet there is no true God, who is able to help or give being to his promifes, faving Jehovah onely, Ifai. 45. 22. and therefore none but he alone in whom we may put our eruft.
who is a rock face our God > That is, there is none fave he, who is a fure foundation, on whom we ensybuild our hopes, nor any elfe, but he, muy whom we may retire for fafery and and any case, out or under whom we may reture sor latery and defence, when we are purficled by out entering to. S. is a God she V. 13; God is my freegib and passer] Os, is a God she graded the with freegib and set S. Plainet, S. 2. I has its, it is a long from whom I have all my freegip and valous, whereby I have been Wickersows. Where he allowstatu or the fooldiers belt or girdle, wherewith he girdeth his loyes for the firengthening of them; or, to the loyns and reins themselves in which the Scriptures do fornetimes place a mans frength, which are faid to be girt, when as men put forth their vigour and ftrength, to act and atchieve Jome noble exploit, Job. 38. verf. 3. and 40. ver. 16. Ifei, 47. 10. Nahum. 2. 1. Prov 31. 17.

2.1. Prov. 31. 17. He maketh by perfeld? That is, God by his bleffing prosperets me in all my attempts, and giveth good faceth to all my attempts, fo as I finde by rubs and impediments to hinder them,

V. 34. He maketh my feet like bindes feet, and fetteth me mon my high placer That is, he hath endued me with much aglality and celerity, to act all martial affairs, cliap. 1. vor. 2. I Chron. 12. 8. and enableth me wich much fpeed and eafe to feale and mafter high Cuffles, and impregnable bolite; hereinlike unto Hindes and Goars, which, with much facility and fafety climbe up and clamber upon the eraggie rocks, which are unacceffible to other beaffs.

V. 35. He teacheib my bands to war ] That it, all my skill, in managing martial affairs, I have learn'd from

So that a bow of fleel is broken by my unne ] That is, he hard endined inc with futh fingular firength, that I am able, nor onely to draw the fliffelt and flrongest bow against my case. mies, butalfo. if I be fo pleafed, to break it in peaces. Where he dott nor, like other great Souldiers and Commanders, arres-gare the glory of his strength to himself, but afterbeak it wholly to God alone, from whom he had received it.

my felf, but the gracious and free gift.

firengesened and supported me in the day of battel, that I have not fatered and failed in any of my warlike superprises. have not essated and thused in any of my warrier paterprise. Neither do k afribe my prosperous faces of whereby Lan-azatted, auto sny thing in my fell, but to thy free frace and tender kayour, which thou half sweetly and graciously energy ded towards me.

V. 37. Then haft entarged my fleps under me, fo that my feet V. 37. The optimization of the control of the contr fed. Where he leemeth to allude to the time when Saul caufed his house to be watched and befer, and his wife let him out of a window; or, when being purfued by Saul, and almost apprehended, he was taken off by the news of the Philiftims invasion, 1 Sam. 19. ver, 11. 18. and 23. ver. 26, fo that my fost did not flip That is, I had a fair, lafe, and fure passage in all my undertakings, effecting what I took in the panage in an my undertaining, executing mount took in hand, without incurring much danger. V. 38. I have purposed mine exemier, and destroyed them? Where he sheweth, that God had made him prosper in all his warlike expeditions, even to the utter ruin of his enemies ; which though he had executed with all feverity, yet he was not to be taxed with injustice and cruelty, feeing he had done nothing herein but that which God had appointed and railed bim unto, and nor out of malice and private revenge, but chiefly ayming at Gods glory, and the prefervation of his people, by rooting out their desperate and implacable enemies, whom he was bound to hate with a perfect hatred, as he profelleth. Pfalm. 139. 21,12.

V. 20. And I have confumed them and wounded them, and they could not arife; yes, they are fallen under my feet ] That is, A have utterly destroyed them, they not being able to make any refittance, and have trampled them under my feet, which is a fign of their extream dejection, and unrecoverable ruin. Josh

V. 41. Thou haft given unto me the necks of mine enemier To wir, that I might behead them, flay and cut them off. Or as others, that I might subdue and subjugate them, bringing their mecke under che yoke of tribute.
V. 41. They tocked, but there was none to fave ] Ot, they cryed, but there was none to fave them, as it is l'ialm. 18. 41. cycle, our fore was none to law toem, as it is l'aim, 16. 41. That is, in their trouble and miferies they cryed unato the Lord, expecting from him help and deliverance; but he regarded not their prayers, because they were not of mith, non garded sort their prayers, because they were not of finith, now accompanied with true representace, but in hypocrify, and exa-tored from them with pain and suggists. Not crying usage 500 with their hours, when they broad to statch which, as he is Body, vect, is, which feements not to be meant of his heari-tenshift and kolderion termiers, but of the hypocritics of his own anxion, who called upon; Odo with their lips, when didt bears were fat from limit lake their plotter of, filia-

V. 43. This did I bear them as finall as the duft of the earth; Or, the duft before the wind, Pld. 18. 42. I did fiamp them as the myre of the firests, and did firead them abroad i or, I did caft them out as the dirs in the firests Plal. 18, 42.]. By which hyperbolical expressions, he thewerh, that he had not only wholly subdued and ruin'd them; but also had in a differential manner trodden and trampled upon them , as filth and dirt. because of their abominable wickednesse. The which we (re verified in the defiraction of the Mosbires and Astinip-

V. 44. Then also haft delivered me from the firtuing of my peoste] i. t. From the plottings and confpiracies, the infurrettihad it a creation spectrum and computates, the interrection of and the belliont of mine own people, over whom thou had let me at their king, and that both in the time of Smits reing, and that on the single of Smits reing, and that over the smit of the single of the smit of the smit

this successful same agains we by nouse and me-philosheth, Abidaton, and Sheba.

sheat helf they there he bead of the beather] That is, thou hast are only elabilished me in a peaceable government is misse own stated, he will have been their all the heathers a visual that expended my dominion over the the heathers round about the. And whereas formerly they had been grevous oppreffors of thine own beople, now being vaniquishat, they have submitted themselves to like in subjection, and become my tributaries. And fuch were the Monbites, Ammonites, Philiffims, and Syrians, a people which I haven not fhall ferve me ] That is , ftempere and alicus, whom I never owned as mine, or any wayes tic-longing to the, are now become my subjects and servents. God aloise, from whom he had received it.

Wherein Darielwas a notalic speed Child; whose slowed and the speed Child; whose slowed and the speed for the centre of the centre of the speed for the centre of the cen is, all the means whereby fam laved and focused, see got of and Gentlies; Plata 2. 6, % Gen chapter 49, ver, 10 Hag. 2. 7. 11301 ...

and the gentlemes bulb made me great! Which is einer voand the gentlemes bulb made me great! Which is einer voand the gentlemes bulb made me great! Which is the confidence of the confidenc and flewerb mercy to bis anointed, unto David, and to bis feed for 18. 44. As foon as they bear me , they foot obey me, the firangers evermore] Where he magnifisch Gods favour and goodneste, in that it is extended, not onely unto himself, but also to his foel submit themselver unto me; That is; the fame of my many victories shall to spread it self abroad, that many nations, against when In spream it ten sorous man many intuities, against when Interte warred, shall voluntarily stabinist them-felves unto my government. The which most fitty agreets to Christ, of whom David was a type, store whose government the Nations and Gentiles have submitted, and received him the Nations and Gentiles have submitted, and received him nut ivations and ventures nave insumities, and received with for their King, onely by the hearing of the ear, and the presch-ing of the Golpel by his faithful Miniflers and Ambassadors, Rom. 1. 16. and 10. 17, 2 Cor. 5, 20. Espect. 1, 3. 2 Cor. 10. 45. But many of those Nations submitted themselves to take upon them Davids yoke, not freely and cordially, but out of fear and felf-respects; so also is it with Christs subjects, amongst which, there are many carnal worldlings and hypo-crites, who professe that they receive him as their King; but do it onely in outward them, for their earthly ends, as is implyed ht onely in outward them, for their earthal ends, as is implyed by the words here uled, which may be thus read, as it is in the margine of our Bibles, As fook as they hear, they fold yield fained obsistics. And thus the word is uled, Plalm. 66. ver. 3.

Chp.xxiii.

and 81. 15. V. 46. Strangers shall fade away That is, hearing the fame of my many victories, they shall be so amozed and terrified, that their hearts shall faint and sail them; and all considence in their own firength, to make any refiftance, being taken away, they shall moulder and come to nothing, like flowers, or untimely and blatted fruits.

or untimery and protect remes.

and they feall be affraid out of their close places That is, shough they have retired themselves for safety, either into seeret dens and caves, that there they may be bid, and fo escape cret cens and caves, that there they may be not, and to eleape danger; or elle into their Calles, Fortifications, and firing Holds; yet all this fluid not tree them from fear, till they have fubmitted themselves unto me, and covenanted to become nave tuomittea themielves unto me, and covenantea to become hy fubicits. The which was typified in David, but verified in our Lord Christ; from whole rod of iron, none, living in their fias, can secure themselves frem being crushed in peeces as a potters veffel, with any finites and evadous, but are fill policifed with fear, and the firit of bondage, till thereby they are wholly brought out of themlelves, and willingly acknow-ledg that he is their King, and they his fubjects. V. 47. 100 Lora (price), and origina nows [rest] venter the concluded the Pfalm with thanking ving, and praying God for all the benefits, formerly rehearled, especially because he had been a rock of refuge in all his difficulties and dangers, and a fure foundation, wherespon he had built all his

V. 48. It is God that avengeth me ] That is, who hath, by giving me courage and ftrength, made me victorious over all mine anemies, and hath delivered them into my hands, giving mine anomus, and and delivered them into my bands, giving upon one first power, as to execute upon them fitch plusifisments, as they have deferred for their fins, and for carrying them trives as malicious tennies to God again speople. And here he again repeateth what he had often before faid, that he might algebrate whole glory of his good incertification, that he might algebra the whole glory of his good incertificaging his enemies water Good alone, and not any part thereof to his own prudence, power and skill in military affairs.

V. 43. And that bringeth me forth from mine chemiss] That is, delivereth me out of their hands, notwithstanding all their policie and power. i shou half lifted me up to a hingly flate and firength, out of the reach of their malice and might, like a man feated and fetled in an impregnable Fort, might, like a man feated and fethed in a unpregnante bort, can the cape of an high and mancefuller cock.

**bishigh delivered me from the violents of me mighty seamint; or, more particularly, tones Souls powerful violente.

**U-50. Therefore I will get the adapt and abo, U-50. Therefore I will get the adapt and abo, U-50. Therefore I will get the adapt and abo, U-50. Therefore I will get the adapt and abo, U-50. Therefore I will get the adapt and abo, U-50. Therefore I will get the adapt and about the access and the adapt and about the adapt.

**The adapt and the adapt and the adapt and a soul and the adapt a soul and the adapt and a soul and the adapt and a soul and the adapt a soul and the adapt and the adapt nerous, even unto use seaves relations that eare not known there, this they taking motice of the Grace and goodseft towards they people, and today fell in particular, may be brought in to thy Church, and the proficion of thy true Religion; and to being made partalers of the like secries, may magnife thy glorious name, and together with thine own magnute: thy glorious name, ane congener was noted we fromle, may flug aloud; shy prairie. And this David fore-celled by the fourie of prophecy; having herein reject to the salling of the Gentiles; and their adjoyning to the Church of the Jews, to which purpose this place is cited by the Apostle,

Rom, 1 4. 8, 9. I will fing praises unto the name ] To wie, that I may glorify thee, by in gnifying thy favour and mercies towards me and West, He in the tower of informing from King Ji Ban Lu, the section reason not many or july, primary assignment of fireign and defense from which a nomines. Where he name the hinds which the of docking, or julifice julified against the obloquies and cultumies of his exemines, feeing the ways and control of the control o V. St. He is the cower of [alvation for bis King] That is, the

in that it is extended, not easily usto bimiletis, but allo to his feed unto all generations; and more of specially and chiefly unto Christ, of whom David was a type, chap. 7, 13, though his father, according to the Eigh, Rem. 1, 2, Act. 33, 32, 18 whom Code favour and low's farmly ethablished for eyer; and set onely to himfelf, but in and through him to all the and set onely to himfelf, but in and through him to all the faithful, who are his feed, and by the ministry of the Word and faithful, who are his feed, and by the ministry of the Word and Spirit, are begotten unto him, and united into one body, whereof he is the head, by a true and lively faith. For lo the faithful are called his feed, Ilai, 53, verf. 10, and his children, IGE 8.18. Which prophecie, the Apolile particularly applyeth to our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, Heb. chapter 2, very

CHAP. XXIII.

Verl. 1. Now shele be the tast words of David ] That is, not the very last words which he spake before dyed, for he spake many other words after these, concerning civil and demeflical affairs, and the administration of the Kingdom, in the next Chapter, and the first of the Kings; but Kingdom, in the next Chapter, and the first of the kings; but the last which be faske by the infpiration of Gods Sprit, as a periman of holy Scripture, after his Palans and other works, for the publi ke use and constants of the Church.

for the publi ke ule and coffication of the Church.
Devidite (on of Juffe faid) Where he deferibeth himfelf by divers titles, and first by his stock and parentage, that he was the son of Jesse; the which he doth first, to show that he was not (though a great King) sinamed of the meaneft of his Fahimleit, by his high advancement, from a low and mean etiate, to Soversign digaily, and to be King of Gods own peculiar people; the which he mentioseth, to magnific Gods free Grace and mercy towards him, in raising him from furth a wran efiate to this Regal dignity the extinct of the God of Jacob Whereby he defertible himself by his calling, which he had from God himself, who chose and appointed him to be King over his own petulist people [frat], and herein to be a type of the Mediah, apolitied people lirat, and herein to be a year to be supported by God to an overlading Kingdom.

the [reat P[almif] 6] [frest] Which he fetteth down the last, as being highest of his titles, in that God bad called him, as being highest of his titles, in the Road man of holy, and indipited him, by his Spirit, to be a Pen-man of holy, and indipited him, by his Spirit, to be a Pen-man of holy. and infpired him, by his Spirit, to be a Pear man of boly, Scripture and use onely indicine plants and fighting that and finging them for the own comfort and folarce, tur's life publishing them for the fevire of God in the Church's and withil, appoining the fingers, and muffec of influenciats, and the tunes inting for them, Amost. 4. 2 Chro. 16. 45,7 which commendation of limited might well finand with Davids mocommencation on numer usigns wen name wan Dayses, modefly, because where he fook was truth, and his intention therein, sac his own praise, but to glorifie God, who had of his free grace endured him with the gifts; and because he fook in the grace and the same with the gifts; and because he fook in the grace and the same proper to the his free grace endued, him with their gints and or his own private fipite, then is no undianty manner, out of his own private fipite, here as he was, being herein a pen-math of holy Scripture, immediately infigired by the Spirit of Socia, an appearant in the next words following.

V. a. The Spirit of the Least fifte by me] i.e. God the Eachter, and God the Son, (who is called the rock of Miral, because he is the only foundation upon which his Church's insulia, fipske unto him by his holy Spirit. Whate we have appetful. He Trinsity of perform; and allo, that they are all three his one God, of the finne nature and lublance, because the second of the finne nature and lublance, because the second of the finne nature and lublance, because the word was in my torgun! i.e. I spake upoining of the which followed by the vincin of Gods. Spirit, and when the second of t

Act. 4.25.

V. 3. The rack of I first lights unto me! i. 6. God, and his Vo. 3. The rack of I first lights unto me! i. 6. God, and his Vo. G. Chrift, who is the immovement of mudarion upper which all the hopes and comfort of his Church and people are highly sad the only place of referse, unto which they reture them; edites in all dangers. So Deut, thep, 32. ver. 4. Pfalon be isker releth over men muft be just, ruling in the feer of Gedl.

That is, it is fir, that be who give h laws and commands to order and guide others, should himself be just and straight and

him. Although fome think that this is meant of our spiritual their several Regiments, all under the conduct and command King, the Lord Christ, of whom David and Solomon were of Joab, the lord General; who though he be not free manned, rypes, Pial. 2. 8. and 110. 2. & 72. 2,3,8. Jer. chap. 23.5. Zach. 9. 9.

V. 4. And he fhall be an the light of the morning ] That is he that ruleth jultly, and in the fear of God, firall itill increase in glory and all prosperity; like, herein, to the morning tight, which fineth more and more, unto perfect day, Prov. 4. ver. 18. having no cloudes tu obseure and hide it from the fight of men.

as the tender grafs springing out of the earth by clear shining after rain. That is, be shall grow and flourish like the grafte and hearbs, which have the benefit of the fun and feafonable showrs. Which are to be understood of David, and the good Kings that succeeded him, and the fruits and benefits that did accompany their just raign, as the types; but principally of the Messiah our Lord Christ, who was typised by them, Pfalm. 110. ver .3 Ifai. 60. ver, 11, 2. Hof. 6. 3. Mal 4. 2. Luk. 1. 78.

V. s. Although mine boufe he not fo with God] That is, though I have not been my felf, nor my fucceffors will be, fo exact and perfect in our rule and government, as we ought, and as God requires, ver. 3. but are subject to many errours and failings, and have often broken covenant, and through humane frailty, are like to do fo ffill.

yet he bath made with me an everlasting covenant] That is durable and immurable, being grounded, not on our worthinesse and perfections, but his own free Grace and goodneffe, chap. 7. 15,16. Jer. 31. 32, 33, 34. and on the promifed Meffiah, as the onely fure foundation, which is to come out of my owner in all things and fure ] That is, by his eternal and gracious deerge to disposed, both in respect of the end and means, that it cannot fall, but will, notwithstanding our unworthineffe, continue firm in all his promifes, both to me and mine houle, even for his own names fake, and for his Chrift, the foundation of the Covenant.

for this is all my falvation, and all my defrel i. c. The onely ground of all my hope concerning falvation, and all that I can although be maketh it not to grow] i. e. Although for our fins and upworthinesite, he do not grant unto us that flourishing prosperity, expressed in the former verse; yet all this will ing profictivy. exprediction the former weite yet all this will not further the inter-promise; gooded on the Methib, and make them of none effect, Room. 3, 3.

"U. 6. But belon ary Blattle flash to all 6" them as theres string many] i. 6. Wicked and exproduce mean, who being quite opposite to the just and faithful, have flushen off the yole of Christia Kingly government, See Judge, 19, 22. Their because they are unerfalable, and cannot be deals with, nora-cost test yet unerfalable, and cannot be deals with, noramended by any fair means, or more gentle corrections, but rather are ready to prick and burt them who come neer, or have any convertation with them; they shall be used like thoras, that is, cut down, or flubbed up by the roots, by God:

V. 7. But the manthat fhall touch them, muft be fenced with iron] i. e. Muft have his hand, either armed and defenced with fome fron glove or gauntlet, or hold in it fome iron infroment, to cut them down, or root them up, to preferve it from keing burt by them.

matthe first of a fear! i.e. Must thrush them irom him and keep them aloof that they may not prick and hurt him, with a flast or pole, like the flast of a spear.

nan of posit, live us not a pray.

"addiby field be untary hunts with fire in the [amoplace] i. e.

Belfroyed by the hand of the Magistrate, or some extraordinary judgement; or at least being emost by the hand of God, before their time, shall be call into everlating fire of hell, like thors which are burst and consumed in the same place where they grew and are rooted up. Where as fome think, he pro-phetically alludeth to the defirmation of the oblinate Jews, who were by the Romane Army destroyed, in the same place, where they by wicked hands, had crucified the Lord of life; and their City burnt and utterly ruined.

V.8. Those be the names of the might men, whom David had i. e. Of his thirf Worthies, Captains and Commanders, who as they were mea of great valour and forthude, to allo most faithful to him, both in his afflicted condition before he came to the Crowe; coming in to him, and giving him their affifance, for the making him King, I Chro 11. 18. and af-referred doing him fervice in all his wars against his cramics, built forming and domedical. And therefore having fo well deflived of David for their faithful fervice, they were worthy to bave their names registred and eternized, by having them kept upon this facted and honourable record. Now thefe Worthies are faid to have been (as they are here recorded) thirty and feven in all, which are divided into two ranks; the first fix, the chief Colonels and Commanders over so many Brigades (it may be) of the whole Army; containing in them yet must neessarily be understood, and supplyed to make up the full number of thirty feven. The other thirty (is may be) Captains over shoulands, or the like number. And the fix great worthies are divided into two ternions. The first three being moft emineut and famous for their flrength, valour, and noble exploits a the other three, though exceeding valourous; yet not matching the full in their bright of fortistide and mag-nanimity, or at least their thrength, in their wallike atchieve.

ments.
The Rachmonite thes fare in the feat, chief among the Captainil Or, Holobuffebes the Tafilmonite, head of the three. Who is also called Josheveam an Hachmonite, or son of Hashmoni, i Chri 11.11. thafame was Adino the Equito. Where he is defcribed : First, by his proper name, which was Adino. Secondly, by his country, where he was born or bred, the Eznite. Thirdly, from his parentage, from which he is called the Tachmonite, or Hashmonite, as being the fon of one Tachmoni, or Hash moni. And fourthly, he is called Joshebeam, or Joshebbasmont. And tourthy, he is caused Joineneam; or Joineneam; feber, from his honourable place which he had in the Army, being next unto Joab the General, and the Chair-man, and chief Prefident in the Counfel of War, unto which his name chief among the Captaines ] To wit, among the fix Colonels here fpoken of, who in Davids Army were let over the thirty

Captains, after mentioned, verl. 23, 24.
be lift up bis feer against eight bundred, whom he flew at one weigh in the pear negama eiger unsarea, wohn he pear newe item? That is, be fought a spainft eight hundred, or fer upon them to flay them: though he flew only three hundred, with his own hand, who the place, as first, a Chron, is, ii, yet in this fence it may be faid, that he flew eight hundred, because, by flaving three hundred, he discomfitted all the rest, and fo routing and putting them to flight, he exposed them to be flaughtered by others of the Army, which are therefore said to be flain by him, not onely because he was the chief Commander and principal actor, unto whom the glorie of the victory is usually ascribed, but also, because he exposed, them to be flaughtered by others; when as, by his valour flaying three hundred of them, he discomfited, routed, and put to flight all the rest. Others think, that this place, and that in the Chronicles, speak of two several victories, though, as I conceive, it is not fo probable. V. 9. And after him was Eleazar the fon of Dodo the Abobitel

Who is here described by his name. Secondly, by his paren-Who is here deferibed by his same. Secondly, by his paren-age, that he was the fin of Dodo, who was an Achochite, defeended of Ahosh a Benjamite, z Chr. 8.4. Thirdly, by that honourable place which he had in Davids army, he was the fecond of his three chief Worthies. And finfly, by his fa-mous exploit in Giving the Phillium hintelf alone, when the refl of the Army had left him, and were field away. The which flory is fomewhat enlarged, I Chron, chap, 11. ver. 13. Where it is fald, that at this battle he was with David at Dafdammim, and in a parcel of ground full of bar-when they defied the Philistims | i.e. He was one of Davide Worthies, who defied the Philiftims, and afterwards, fmote and fubdued them, when the men of Ifrael were fled away, Others think that the word, Charaph, here used, is thus to be taken, that they exposed their life to danger in this service, as taken, that tray exposes uses an account in figurities, Judg. 5: 18.

and bis hand clave unto bis fourd. i.e. Either because it was bilifered with his fast holding it; or with the blood of those bilifered with his fast holding it; whom he had flain; or being benummed, and fu flupified by griping it fo long and fast, that he could not open his hand to take ir off from the hilt.

and the people returned after him only to [boyl] i. e. The people amane people returned aprices on only to poor! 1.4. The people that had field, returned notes fight, (for he himfelf had gos the victory,) but only to take the fipsyl.

V. 11. And after him was shammab the for of Ager the Handrie Which was Davids third Worthy, of the first, and chief rank, called alfo Shammoth, 1 Chr. 11. 27. Though others think, that that Shammoth is not the fame with this Shammaha and that he is not there mentioned at all, and that the fame exploit which is here aftribed to Shammah, is there attributed. to Eleazar, as the defending of a corn field against a troop of Philiflims, whom he had routed and flew after his men were fied, faving only, that this is faid to have been in a field of Lentiles, and that in a field of barley. From whence Some Expotites, and coat in a new of oursely. The manager space expo-ferors do probably conjectures, that this exploit, against the two of of the Philitims, was atthieved joyntly by their two Wor-thies, at the fame time, and therefore this splid, in the plural number, that they determine in the middle by the pared; spec-ditured it, 2 Chr. 21, 12, 4 And there being short barley, and lenniles, in the same given field, blenza is blighten have defended the barley field from the Philiftims ; and Sereman that part of the field in which the lentiles were es. W. .. meo the m. all of Sreigene !

Chap, xxiñ,

V. 13. And obsecof the thirty thief] Or, the three Captains his refcuing him when he was in danger, and flaying the Gy-V. 13. Ann appec of the surry long | Or, the spree Coptains over the thirty. That is, those three fee over the thirty, which are here omitted, because they probably thought to have been the first three chief Colonels, were before cleared, to wit, Adino, Elezzar and Shammah, because these three cleared.

V. 19. Howkeis be attained not to the first bree | That is, to wit, Adıno, Elezzi and Snamman, became these times of the state of expressed in the superlative, must, in all probability, point out the first three and greatest Worthies: So ver. 17.

Josh. 15, 21.

be flew two

came to David, in the harvest time, unto the cave of Adullam From whence some conjecture, that this, here related, was done in Sauls time, when David hid himself from his persecutions, ig this Cave of Adullam : But this cannot be, feeing the Philiftims, at that time, had no wars with David, but with Saul onely. And therefore the things here related, are rather to be referred to the beginning of Davids raign over all liftael, when as the Philiftims are faid to have come up to

V. 14. And Data was teen man hotal 10 wit, that notal (as it is probable) mentioned, chaps, 17. which may be underflood, either of the strong Fort of Sion; or rather, that of the Cave of Adullam, because that is here named, verf.

13. and the earifon of the Philiftims was then in Bethlehim] O in the country adjoining unto it. Through which thole who would come to the well, must necessarily passe before they would come to, the west, must necessarily paid serior they brould draw and bring away the water; the which is added, re intimate the great difficulty of the following action.

V. 1. And Dend larged That its, by reason that he was thuch affliced with heat and thirft, he earnefilly defined to drink of the water of this well. drink of the water of this well.

and faid, Ob that one would give me drink of the water] That is, some one or other, onely hereby signifying his defire to have it, if it could be had with a wish; but not requiring, or so much as intending that any should fetch it with the hazard of their lives. Things the wishes and defires of good and gracious Kings, have in them the fliength and vertue of a law, or command, with their loving and loyal subjects, as appearcth in this place.

V. 16. And the three mighty men brake through the helfe of the Philipsian I To wire, which hay, forced abroad, in the valley of Rephain, and derw waiter out the Well of Benkheten, norwithflanding the garifon of the Philiftims there; so venement and business their Workins were to give David Stringthion, even in the leaft with, though it were by running eth in this place.

the extraemest hazard of their lives.

nevertheles be would not drink thereof, but poured it out unto the neortheles to would meet arms threes pur parce at our announce.

[mil] Hereby, in a religious manner, tellivigous, by this oblation, his thankfulneffe usto God for giving fuch valour unto these Worthies, and for preferving them in the great danger; and thereby also to etchies, how turnilling he was that they finded have run sived an hazard, for the pleasing of his appearance.

V. 17. Is not this the blood of the men that went in jeopardy of sheir lives ] That is, be it far from me, O Lord, from drinking of this water, which was purchased by the bazard of their blood of this water, which was purchased by the bazard of their blood and lives. Wherein he left 's good example to Princes, retaching them hereby, that they should not buy their pleasures by indengering' the lives of their thospicats. And it David, in this respect, might city call the water, blood, that was purchased by the bazard of the blood of his Wordnes, why might not Christ call the wine in the lacrament, his blood, of which it is Corne call the wine in the incrament, sit blood, or which it is a fig., feing he did cutly thed it for our redemption? the fethings did the three mighty men. That is, the first three great Worthita before mentioned.

V. 18. And Abiflut the broiser of Josh — was chief among three] I Chron. 11. 20. That is, not the first three, but the second ternatile of Colonels, whereof two only are here named to wit, Abishai and Benajah. Who the third was, is not corrowtt, nothing and pengjan. Who the third was, is not certainly known. But fome conjecture that it was Afabel; other shink that he was one of those before mentioned, who flew the Gyant; that is, either Sibbechai or Elbanan, or Jonathan, Chap. 11.18, 19. 21. for fo do men vary in their opinions when they have not the Spirit of God, las their guide to and he life up ble frear against 200. and stem them ] That is, he affacted and fought against three hundred, and vanquished and shew them... Which is here mentioned as his chiefe act of valor, though he had done many others, as namely, his going with David into the midtt of Sanla camp, I Sam, a6. 6. and be flew two lion-like men of Moab. ] That is, which did re-

femble lions both in their courage and strength.
he went down also and slew a lyen to the midft of a pit, in the time of (now ] which it feemeth was at unawares flipt into the pit being covered with fnow; and this is added to commend his valor, in that he voluntarily adventured himfelf, to fight this duel in a place of great difadvantage, that is, in the midft of a pit, where being in such a narrow strait, he must necessarily milcarry, if he did not overcome and master the lion by his Ifrael, when as the Philiftims are faid to have come up to milearry, if he did not overcome and mafter the lion by his feek kim, and to have pixthed in the valley of Rephaim, as the placety, if the placety of out to war, in respect that they have then placety of out to war, in respect that they noght be the cast of Daforegre, which being an observed many the placety of the place hem, which out of his old acquaintance with it, in regard that (for then it had not been commendable in him, as being a nem, which out or also has acquisitance with it, in regard that it for them it has not been commendative to him, as being at the was there been and brech he might bink fitted to refrech him by quichting his thirt.

V. 14. And Date is was then it as held | To wit, that hold |
V. 14. And Date is was then it has no held | To wit, that hold |
(as it is probable) mentioned, chap, c. 17. which may be ca-

his expleit is enlarged 1 Chr. 11. 23. Where it is faid, that he was a man of great flature, five cubits high, and that his ne was a man of great straure, her cubits high, and that his forar was like a Weavers beam; and yet Benajsh adventured to encounter him, and by clean through overcame him, though her fought with him upon great difadvantage, having only a flaff in his hand, and the Gyant this great forar, which he pulled from him, and flew him with his own weapon. It is alfo added, 1 Chr. 11.25. that David fet him over his guard; or (as the Hebrew hath it) over his audience. By which it is not meant that he was his Secretary, notary, or mafter of requests ; for Jehoshaphat and Sheva bad these places, chap. 20. 24, 25. But that he was fet over the Chere-thites and Pelethites, as it is there, ver. 23. who were the Kings guard that daily attended upon his person, and so were ready at the first hearing, to execute the Kings commands.

V. 24. Afabel the breiber of Jeab, was one of the thirty ] And (as some think) the last of the second order of Davids chief Colonels and Commanders; and the more probable it is,beconfess and Commanders; and the more probable (15,000; caufe in the following caralogue of Worthies there are thirty named befides him; which had oversery five of the thirty, one of the fix Colonels fet to command them; for the fervice of Elbanan the fon of Dodo] By comparing this place with Chr. 11. it appeareth, that there is great difference both in the names and number of Davids Worthies, as they are here the names and number or Davids wortness, as they are they and there recorded. The which partly arifeth from benes, that divers of them had two names, (as it was usual among the Hebrews,) and so were diversly called in the one place; and in the other; and partly, because divers are there reckoned, which were either added to this number, or else substituted in the places of those who were dead. All which notwithstandng, Davids Wortlies were Rill called thirty, iu refpect that there were just so many in his first constitution and choyce; there were just to many in an inst continuous and enoyed; though afterwards they might be fewer, or more. As they were called fill the twelve Apollies, when Judas was taken from them, and so also when. Paul and Barnabas were added, to them, Joh. 20.44. I COT.15.5.

V. 2. Shammah ibe Harodital Shammah, and the 'other Shammah the Hararite, v. 33. 48 they were divers one from the other, Jo both of them from him between the work of the state of the that was the third man of Davids firkt and chief three Worthies, who was the son of Ager, v. 11.

Halet the Palitie Or, the Pelonite. 1 Chr. chapter 11.

27. The Anethorbite] Sce Jofn. 21. 18.

v. 17. 10e Ancissotte) See Jefn. 21. 18. Aebumai Called also Sibbecai, 1 Chr. 11. 29. Beb Hushabite | Of the tribe of Judah, 1 Chr. 4.4. V. 39. Oriab the Histite | The hushand of Bathfaeba, whom David caused to be flain by the sword of the children of Am-thirty and feven in all ] To wit, the five Colonels being ad-ded to the thirty one Worthies here mentioned; and either Joab who was General of the Army, or elfe the third man of the fecond rank of the great Worthies, who is not here named, but conjectured to be one of those before spoken of in the note upon the 18. verle.

CHAP.

againt them. Where anger improperly is attributed unto God: for he is, in his own nature, free from all humane pallisons, but by a speech borrowed from men, he is faid to be angry, when as he doth that which they use to do, when they be angry, that is, punish those who justly have incurred their be angry, that is, punish toole who justly have incurred near experience much miscaus early watering or occurred recording for the property of David and the people, and not implying west, is nother expected, but conjectured to be their price area if a certain for a profit of their own filtered, though to God all things are possible. (firength and number, accompanying their pleasy and profits—

But why dash my Lard the King delight in this thing] Wherecarusa recurity, and self-connectice, in respect or their own frength and number, accompanying their plenty and profes-rity, which they enjoyed after their famine, befides their for-mer rebellion and infurrections against their lawful King, under the conduct of their Captains, Ishbosheth, Absalom, and And be moved David against them ] i. c. To bring upon them that just punishment which their fins deserved, and tended to the hurt and ruine of many among them, he let loofe Satan upon David, to tempt him to commit this fin, of numbring the people, that he might take occasion hereby , robring upon the people that judgment which he intended, and their fins juttly deferved. And therefore it is plainly and therefore it is plainly feat, and therefore it is plainly feat, it Chron. chap. 21. ver. 1. That Satan flood up againft Ifratl, and provoked David to number Ifratl. Whereby we are to understand (not that Satan had any absolute power in himself, to make David commit this sia, but ) that God ( that hereby he might take occasion to punish Davids and (that hereby he might take occasion to punita Davius and the peoples final, did give him over to be tempted by Satani, and withfield his grace, whereby he might have been inabled to withfiand the tentation; and to David being left to himfelf, committed this fin of numbring the people, which did artife out of his pride and confidence in his own through, no arife out of his pride and considence in his own irregion; you have been expected by performing the most only to out off enerce things the most of the control of the contr amptes, both in former and future times. Exod. chapter 30. verf. 11. Numb. chapter 1. ver. 3. Nom though this num-bring the people was a fini in David, yet it may be truly faid. Att. God moved him again the time, 1649, Go mombe Iffeat, because he had a foecial hand in disposing of it for his own rich, that is, infilling upon him and the people, these puniti-ments which the limit of the property of the contraction of the con-traction of the people of the contraction of the con-traction of the people of the contraction of the con-traction of the people of the people of the contraction of the con-traction of the people of the contraction of the con-traction of the people of the contraction of the con-traction of the people of the people of the con-traction of the people of the people of the con-traction of the people of conceive, that God hath only an inspection and permiffive providence about fins which are committed, but bath also in divers respects; a special hand in it. For first, the power whereby the act of sin is done, is from him alone, in whom we live, move, and have our beeing; though the malignity and evil of the action, is from the wicked agent. Secondly, by just allot, these the action is telfs in numbring the people was punishing one fin with another, no to by infulfing pickedentle in a cultural transfer to me; that logist and corruption, but by withdrawing his grace, whereby one, the properties of the comparison of the comparis evil of the action, is from the wicked agent. Secondly, by 10.11.

V. 2. For the King said to Joah Go and mm. ber ye the people, that I may know the number of the people. To wit, not raduring of God, or having his command to warrant him in fo weighty a matter, nor upon any just caule, either Ecelefiaftical, or Civil, but meerly out of his own curiofity, that of Canaan, North and South. and member je the people] i. c. From twepty years old and

CHAP. XXIV.

Vetl. 1. A Nd again the anger of the Lord was kindled gainft familes, where You God formely, in this just dipletare, had punished liracly, be was again by their fan incended to anger and the property of the tribulative, had punished liracly, be was again by their fan incended to anger and the called the tumber there were prefixed, v. 9. and that this might be well as the property is attributed unto God; for he is in his rown nature, free from all humans and the monthy above the age of twenton. The control of the results of the distribution of the control of the results of the distribution of the control of the results of the distribution of the control of the results of the distribution of the control of the results of the control of the results of ucral.

V. 3. And Joab faid unto the King. Now the Lord thy God add unto the people ____ an bundred joid] Which was a with, to expresse how much his heart was enlarged, to desire the good by he implyeth, that there was no just cause of this tedicus and troublesome work, but only the Kings Will and pleafure, te fatisfie his curiofity. Other reafons are mentioned sure, to latine discutionty. Other realons are institution, which he used to distinguished the King from putting him to this task; Asfirsh, that they were all the Kings servants and subjects, and therefore alwayes ready, how many forther they were, to be at his command: And secondly, that he would be a cause of trespasse to Israel; to wir, either by drawing them, through his example, to pertake in the same sins of pride and felt-confidence; or feeing the vanity of it, to murmur against their King for doirg of it.

V. 4. Neswishianding the Kings werd prevailed Than's, notwithflanding all that Joab could do, or tay; the king would have his will to it and for reason, and his bare command to go

And Foab and the Captains of the bofte] Who, it feemeth, at this time were altogether attending upon the King in their course with their bands of twenty four thousand men , which came in, and went out moneth by moneth, in their feveral turns throughout all the moneths of the year; to be imployed in the Kings fervice as he pleafed, as it is plainly expressed, the action was van and troubletonic, or coargeable and but-thenlome to the people, by reason of the officers exactions; for the King by seme poll-money, or themselves for free, and to affift him in this tedious and troublesome businesse.

went out from the presented of the King to number the people ]
The which his act of obedience to the Kings command, was as I conceive ) juftifiable; though orders think otherwife. tas a concree y juminators i mongo others think otherwife. For though he might very probably lufped, that is was evil in the King; yet because he had no certain knowledg of it; seeing the Lord only trysth and pondereth the hearts, Prov. chap. 17, ver. 3, and chap. 21, ver. 3, and the hearts of Kings especially are unfearchable, Prov. chapter 25, ver. 3, and feeling also, that the action is self in numbring the people was fions of wickdenlie, which are not imply eval wickdenlies, being my and to leaving them to their own or imply eval wickdenlies, being my the control of the total control of the on, on ongo ter monutents or an windown are goodness, (cassay, and the experience de and or as lange pley satisfate makes them to ferre bis providence for the producing of great good, annely his own glory, the good of lendy finful to have resisted this commands; and therebis Church, the exercise of his graces in his children, and for the lend to the exercise of his graces in his children, and for the producing all of the whicked; as we fee to the example the force file. And foundating all of the history of longth perfects, folling him to ggray; a Similar his car of Joseph between, folling him to ggray; a Similar his car of Joseph between, folling him to ggray; a Similar his car
of Joseph between, folling him to ggray; a Similar his car
of Joseph between, folling him to ggray; a Similar his car of Joseph between the sequence without any control, though in fing of David, and the Jewecucifying of our lord and Sa. David its deeply condemned as a great fin. Men forer, I. wour Jelin Christ, the which God so ordered, that the confesse, it had been much better for Joab, it be had not rous prime donnis and waten don to ordered, that the content, than ocen much better for Jobb, it he had not greated good came of it, even the evertal favarion of all inferred himelfet be afted with an errosator conclusion.

12. and chapter 4. ver. 10, 12. 18. chapter 9. ver. 14. and have humbly fearched out the depth of the matter with further. 63. 17. Exod. 7. 3. and 10. 21, 27, and 9. 16. a Theff. 2. exposulations, so far as it might shand with his duty and alleigeance. Seeing if we have onely the guidance of an igno-rant and erroneous confeience, we fitall eafily fall into fin, whether we do an action, or leave it undone.

V. 5. And sheypaffed over Fordan ite. They first began their journey towards the East fide of Cansan.

and pitched in Areer ] A city of the Gadites, Numb. chap. 32. ver. 34. feituate between the two rivers of Arnon; the he might know their number.

From Dau even to Betefinha] i. e. From the numoft bounds one of them running into Jordan, the other into the dead Sea, Deut, chapia. ver. 36. whole coalt belonged to the tribe . deet in giri deet of Reuben. See Joth. #3, #5, #6. and fo lyeth between both pride and carnal confidence, for which his conficience accused the tribes; and hereof this river of Arston is bere called the land condemned him, as liable to guilt and punishment; and river of Gad.

Chap.xxiilj.

and towards Japer ] Semuate on the river Arnon. V. 6. And to the land of Tabelm Hodfel ] Or, to the Netherland newly inhabited ; and recovered in the dayes of Saul from the Hagatites, by the Reubenites, I Chr. c.10.

and they pone to Dan-tant i. e. ( As fome think ) the city Dan, the North limit of Canaan, named also Laish and Le-them, Josh 19.47. Judg. 18.7. But commonly called Dan, without any addition.

and about Zidon] i.e. By the grounds and fields of Zidon.

For the city it felf the Cananatus poffeffed fill, as also they did Nytos, Joffin 19, 19.

V. 7. And so cante to the firong bold of Tyre] i.e. They compassed all the West coast along from Tyre by the cities of the Hivites and Canapaires. and they went out to the South of Judah] i. c. They turned Southward to Beerfheba, and fo came to Jerufalem and finished their journey. In which furvey Joab fpent (as it is faid in the next verfe.) nine moneths and twenty dayes; whereas the fpies in their learch ipent only fourty dayes, because they went only to discover the land, whereas he was forced to make people.

V. o. And Ford gave up the fun of the number --- there were in I/rael 800000 valiant men] In 1 Chr. 11.5. There prementioned an eleves handred thousand. And for the reconciling the feeming difference in thefe two places, fome think that Davids ordinary Souldiers, or Trained bands, are not here computed, because serving in ordinary every moneth in their turns, there was no need that Joab should take an account of them, because their names were alwayes kept upon eth. 1 Chr. ar-ver.1. to the 1 c. over which were fet fo many all are expressed, which were numbred by Josb with their Commenders, which were eleven hundred thouland, and that here only is fet down the number which Joah gave up to David, namely, eight hundred thousand, which came so far thort of the other sum, because, whilest he was making up norro the cuter into, because, whilet us was intang up the account, the plague was begun in Jerufalem, which made him bare little lift to follow his businesse extention is implyed, t Chr. 27. 24. But against this it is objected, that it is expressly list, t Chr. 21. 5. that Joab gave up to David the full (um of eleven hundred thouland; and therefore this reason isrejected, and the former way of reconciliation pre-eight bundred thousend valiant men that drew [word] Whereby it is implied, that only those men were numbred which were of fuch years and frength, as were fit to manage their weapons, and were ferviceable for the war, because that which David chic fly intended, was to know the firength of his Kingdom, and bow many be was able to bring into the field of able fighting men, it he had any occasion to use them in an offenitive or de-fensive war, which was that in which he prided himfelf.

and the war of funds were few bushed thousand men! Where the men of Judah in this numbring were fer apart from the men of Ifrael (as they are in many other places of Scripture,) as exteeding and extelling any other of the tribes, both in their number and diguity, the Crown and Scepter being entailed upon them. Now in 1 Chr. 25. 5. the men of Judah are faid to have been box four hundred threefcore and ten thoufand and here, that they were five hundred thousand, that is, thirty thoufand more here then there. For the reconciling of which difference, it is faid, that here are reckoned the ordinary Souldiers ence, it is take, to at nere are recovered uncorainary solutions of Davids Army in Judah, which are computed to have been thirty thousand, every one of choic thousands having one of those Colonels or Commanders for over them, mentioned, their Coorses or Commanders let over them, mentioned, i. 33,813,33. The which are left out in the computation, i. Christis, 'and only four hundred and teventy thouland men-tioned; to which their things thouland being added, make up-the number of the hundred thouland here expected. Others think, that according to the number related, a Chr. 21.5. Josh did not at his return recken the tribes of Benjamin, and Levie and Jerufalem it felf, because he was weary of his work, and the Kings command was abominable unto him, as appeareab,

V. 101 And Davids bears frante bim after be had monthed the eple] I.e. After he had lyen in his fip inne monoths and so this was done, either by the immediate operation of Gods Spirit in him, or the ministry of Gad, purposely fent by God to rit in him, of the minitury of Jac, purposely sent to your wo convince him of his fin, as may be probably gathered from ver. 11,11. and 1 c hr. 21. 9. & 11. at least being read ac-cording to our translation; especially confidering, that it is Gods more usual way to convince men of fin, and to bring them to repentance by the ministry of his prophets, then by the immediate working of his Spirit.

And David (aid unto the Lord. I have finied evenily, in the Y And David late into the Lord, I have prints greatly, in that I have done! No fooner is David by the tellimony of his confeience, acted by Gods Spirit, throughly convinced of his fin, but laying afide all excuses, he humbly confesseth it with all aggravations, as knowing it to be the only way of obtaining metry and forgivenesse, Prov. 26. 13. 1 Joh. 17.

**Ale away the iniquity of thy fervant ] i.e. Forgive and forget sace samy the enquiry of thy fervism 1. t. e. longing and longet it, sa a thing that a put out of lights or call in the bottom of the Yea, Micah y. 18,19, Sec ch. 12.13, for I keek can very fosliph) 1. e. Howfever in this action of numbring the people, I learned to my felt very prudent and politique, y enter well plainly feet, that it was no better than ex-tream folly, letting I learned out of the way of thy command-ments, through pride and carnal confident.

V. 11. For when David was up in the morning] And allo had received from Joab the accompt of the people which he had numbred; then God fent his Prophet unto him when his fin was now fully compleated. the Prophet Gad Davids Seer | See 1 Sam. 9.9, and the note

V. 12. I offer unto thee three things , chufe thee one of them] i. c. I propound unto thee three judgments, with all the cala mities which usually do attend and accompany them that thou count of them, because ones names were awayes appropriate the roll, And yet they are reckond in that numbers. I Chr.1.

Now the number of thefe in ordinary was 18808. For conflict. Where God, like a gracious father, being refolved there were a 4000 the freede every months, and twelve in correct fishers, do hay control his pity and compalition, give intents this number amounts to 382 thouland, And this appear—his laws to make choyee of his rod, because we bear those croffes and afflictions with more cafe and patience . in which ttn, 1 out. 27 retails to the 15 over white wheel to many consease amicspeaving melocyte, then those which are prefi-chief officers, 28 made up the number of twelve thouland, edupon us with violence and enceffiny. And though God base which all not are menioned, e. Cler, 27, a. All which in the whole, amount on a cleren hundred thouland. Others do would fend she pellilence, and approfice the menioned the controllers be clerent and purposed, that among their three judgments he whole, amount to an elevan hundred thouland. Others do would fend she pellilence, adopted an approfice of an appropriate the places are own; that in the Carcincides be leaved Davide to shope, as he found he directed by his wildom and prudence, but fo, as that in the mean time it was enlightned, and his will inclined with the fecret motion of his enigament, and als wan actined with the electer minution of our Spirit. Whereby it appeareds, that the determination of our wills, by Gods detree, may well fland with their liberty, as it we switch David in this place, who freely chole that which God.

> V. 13. Shall feven years famine come upon thee in the land 1 In 1 Chr. 21-11.12. there is mention only of three years famme: but here he fpeaketh of feven years famine. For the reconcihig of which feeming difference, we are to reckon in this number the three years of famine, ch. 1, 21. inflicted for Sauls bloody fin, now already past, and the present year wherein God blood fin, ow already pall, and the prefin year wherein God and fen fealonable rais, and fome pleaty a mow which, three years of famine being added, they do allegether make up their feven here mentioned. Some by feven, under flared many, according to the utual Hebrew phrafe. Burit is not probable, that puring David to his choyer, he would feel of an indimite numbers, which should end he keep now them.

or wilt thou fite three monaths before thine enemies, while they purfue thee] No wite, they also overtaking thee, and flaughtering thee and thy people in thy flight. See I Chr. a. I. z. or that there be three deep spelitente in the land! Or, as it is exor not correct precupits population not construct the forest of the forest of the Lord, even the petitions in the land, and the Angel of the Lord defining through all the coofts of Ifract. That is, the found of the Lord in the hand of his Angel. Which is added, to thew, that this peftilence came not in an ordinary manner, from the infection of the ayr, or other natural causes, but immediately from God by the ministery of his Angel; that so, when this judgment was inflicted, they might not ascribe it to any secondary means, but look to him that fmote them, and be humbled under his mighty band.

V. 14. And David faid unto Gad , I am in a great ftrait] Though not fo much, in respect of making my choyce, as that I am so encompassed with these three beavy judgments, that there is no hope, God having determined it, that I should escape let as now fall into the band of the Lard ] i.e. Seeing I mult necessarily, with my people, be corrected for our sus, I define that Gord will so it immediately by himself. For though the other two punishments of sword and famine, come also from God, 2 Chr. 6.24. & 7.13. yet that more immediately, and thefe by the mediation of focundary causes, as men, locults, catpopled M.e. After he had lyen in his fip 'mnesmoneths and no respillars, immoderate rain, or drought. And therefore, Dadwys, it pleafed God to give him a true light of his fins, of vide days to be controlled, and pure his chorce, what so plants.

measure, and not according to the merit of our line, axa grafpleafed him.

and les me not fall into bands of man] Who, when Gud perand it is the six is that so y man y Woo, when God per-min them, do execute his judgements, with out mercy, snal-with all rigour and cruelty, Ida. 47.6. Zach. 1.15.1. Like an Executioner, who being to infild death, according on the fun-tence of the Judge, doth in his aking of it, out of his malica, add tentinest us more. But here with all we may oldered Davids cander, impartiality, and love to his people, it making copiec of forth a purithment, as he had no priviledge of ex-emption from, more then the meaned? of his floyetty for whereas he might against famine have provided for himfelf, by laying up flore of scovisions; and against war, by retiring himself to foine impregnable Casses or the strong Fort of Sion ; in the judgement of the peftilence, he had no privilede above others : effecially this which was to paffe through the whole land; and therefore he could not fecure himfelf by flightmor have any benefit of antidotes, prefervatives and cordials, (reing they were immediately fmitten with the fword of the Angel. But if this be fo that David made fuch a of the Angel. But it this be to that Livid mide lich a wife and pious choyee, how doth this agree with that of the Apolle, that is is a fearful thing to full into the hands of the living God, becauge he is a confirming first field, 20, 31, and 22, 29. To this I answer, that it is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of God, as a just Judge incented with those grievous and unpardonable fins, of fearful apostatie, despiting the Spirit of Grace and trampling under foot the precious blood of Christ. of which the Apolile speaketh; but not to fall into his hand, as a gracious and loving Father, who correcteth in mercy and measure and that for amendment. V. 15. So the Lord fent a peftilence upon Ifrael, from the morning, even to the time appointed | That is, from the morning in which he had fent the Prophet Gad unto him, until it was the latter part of the third day, which was the time that God had appointed, to wir, three dayes, verf. 13. yet it did not continue the full term of three dayes; for then it could not have been faid that the Lord repented him of the evil if nothing of the former featence had been revoked; neither should the Lord have needed to bid the Angel to hold his hand, if the term of three dayes had been fully expired, feeing his com-mission extended no farther, beyond which he might not go. But the Lord, to fhew that in wrath he remembred mercy, taking compassion of the people, and as if he had been forry for their calamities, moderated the rigour of his former sentence, by not fuffering the Angel to proceed in punishing throughout the whole third day, but flayed him (perhaps) about the time of the evening facrifice; wherein there was no change in God, but onely in his action; nor any alteration in the truth of his Word and fentence, seeing it was not absolute but con-ditional, like all other temporal judgements threatned upon the acting or neglecting of repentance, as it is expressed, Jer. 18. 8, 10. and was verified in the example of the Ninivites, Ion. 2.10

vices, jon. 3.10
V. 16. And when the Angel stretched out his hand] That is, when the Angel, whom God had appointed to destroy, 1 Chro.
21. 15. addressed. himself to persist in the execution of his commission, for which end God had senthin; and to destroy the inhabitants of Jerusalem, as he had done of other parts of the Lord repented him of the evil] That is, did as men do when they repent, coafing to proceed in his action of punishing the people. For otherwise that is true, that God it not as man that he can repent, Numb. 23.19. Neither was there any change in him or his decree feeing he was purpoled to ceafe punishing, when by his fatherly chasticement, he had brought David and the people to unfained repentance. See 1 Sam. 15. ver. 11. and the note upon it.

and the Angel of the Lord was by the threfling place of Araunah the Febufite] Called alfo Ornan, 1 Chron, 21 16. where this flory is enlarged. And he is faid to be a Jebufite, that is, by birth, one of the curled Nations, descended from those Jebufites, who were of old the inhabitants of Jebus, arthis time, called Jerusalem, Judg. 1. 11. 2nd 19.10. but now, being converted, a Proselyte, and professour of Gods true Reli-

V. 17. And David fpake unto the Lord, when he faw the Angel To wit, in the visible shape of a man, between heaven and earth, with his fword drawn in his hand, and together with him the Elders, who were clothed with fackcloth, and being throughly humbled with this terrible fight, were all fallen upon their faces, as it is to be supplyed out of t Chron. 21.

like alowing childe, chusets to be chassisted by his faster him-tele, rather then by the hand of a sluve, or servant. (whom he calisted there, because God had placed him over for him raties are great j. e. So great and infinite, that even in his weath he will remember mercy, and will correct us in they judily deserved this and sar greater pandiments. taking notice that this particular judgment was inflicted for his fin, he doth, as much as in him lyeth, acquit them, and take the whole blams woon bimleft, earning in his bowels with bitter grief, that he should be the caufe of bringing such a great case grief, hat he should be the cause of bringing sinch a great cap, burnly algon his propely, who were food dear unto him. Its blint bank I prij the the gainfil me and an failure thou[c]. i. e. Let were, and though the hold pour own on and my failure thou[c] i. e. Let were, and though the hold pour own on and my failure thou his the punishment which I have capited by my sin, rather then this poor people, who that we hand in: Where Davidskie a good shepheard, effective to high down his life for his sheep; whoseis the was a type of the great Shepheard of our fouls, Jettus Casifi i. faving that herein be came far thort of him ; for he not only offered, but freely gave his life for his fleep, and that when they were his enemies, and had by their fins deferred everlafting death, he himfelf being wholly innocent. Fobn

V. 18. And Gad came that day to David, and faid unto bint gen, tee an atter may the Ard 1.1. c., the Propher Gad by Gods command, came was on time, when he faw him and the people thus humbled, and discretibling in the means whereby an atonement might be made, and the playue flayed, as it is expected, the Chrast 48. For David and the filters had humbled to the comment of the co expressed if Contain as a feet payto and the successors numbled themselves, and prayed unto the Lord for the removal of this judgment; yet he would not flay the plague till he had reared an Altar, and offered facrifice. And this was done, to teach him and us, that there is no merit in our humiliations and repentance, which may move the Lord to pardon out fine. and remove our punishments, but only in the facilitie of our Lord Christ, typified by these legal sacrifices, the vertue and efficacy thereof being applyed unto us by a true and lively in the threshing floor of Araunah the Febusite] Which place was defigned by Gods special appointment; chiefly, because it so

pleated him, though divers things might concur, which are subject to our apprehensions. For it was upon the mount Moriab, where Abraham offered to facrifice his son Isaac and was a type of Chrift, who offered himfelf as a propitiatory fawas atype or certar, who offered nimerias appropriatory in-crifice, even in the fame place, for the taking away both the fins and punishment of all his elect. The place also where the Temple was afterwards to be built, 2 Chr 3.1. which also was a type of Christ; and was now to be consecrated to this facred use, by having this altar there built, and hereby to be brought into an higher esteem among the people, as being the place where they received fuch a fingular benefit, as the flaying on. And being now in the polleting of the Gentiles, among the would have among the Gentiles among the Gentiles, among the would have being now in the polleting of Arausah the Jebutiles, God would hereby typife the calling of the Gentiles, among the would have been supported by the Gentiles, among the Mongater the coming of the Melliah, be would have his Church, and place of refidence, where he would be wor-hipped and ferved. And finally, God would have this altar erected in this place, because the Tabernacle was at this time in Gibeon, whither David durst not go to enquire of God, and so intermit or defer the means of making atonement, for sear, left this Angel which he faw with his fword drawn, should in the mean while proceed in this dreadful execution ; and this reason is rendred of his not going to Gibeon, 1 Chr. 21. 29,30. Peanon's renored or ins not going to Guesan's Court. 23, 33, 33, 34. Neither could here be a filter place to make intercellion in, then this; chiefly, Secatific it was of Gods appointing, and was allot the place, where it pleated God, the Angel thould appear with his fword in his bland, that for there David might by his interceffion, thut thindelf, as it were, between the living and the dead, for the staying of the plague., as fometimes Aaron had done in the like case, Numb. 16.47.48.

V. 20. And Arannah bowed himself before the King ] Giving unto him that civil adoration which was due unto him, as being his King and Soveraign, t Chr. 29.20. V. 21. Wherefore is my lord the King come to his [ervant?] As if he had faid, it is very ftrange that my Soveraign should fo far condescend from his greatnesse, as to come to his subject; yea, the King of Ifrael, to one that was, by birth, of an heathen to build an altar to the Lord \ i. e. Both by the Lords appointment, and for his fervice, and likewife for the welfare of the whole Common-wealth, as being the means ordained for the flaying of the plague.

V. 22. And Arannab faid ____ Behold , here be oven for burnt facrifice, &c.] Unto which is added, 1 Chron. 21. 23. wheat alfo for a meat-offering , all which he offereth, (knowing to what use they were to be employed) to haften the work of making an attonement, because they were all ready at hand; the Oxen to tread out the corn, and the wooden instruments which were used about them for this fervice, which being dry and fear, were fit to take fire, and fo to expedite the buinelis to I have finned and done wickelly, but thefe fheep what have they and the wheat it felf all ready trodden out for the meatecc s

Chap. j.

feives for fear.

all these bings did Aramah, as a king, give annothe king.

That is, offered to better upon him, out of a Kingly bounty and maniferent. From whose some collect, that he had been formerly king of the Jebuffes of beer David inhibated them, and the rather because the Hebrer Text thus hath is, Aramah (Ring did givernato he King.

The whole is a bount of the Surface it by affault, and bad it not furrendred by this King, as they suppose, for which cause he was with David in this speciall

V. 23. The Lord thy God assept thee] That is, become pro in a district in the conthought state, the The second section of the second section is a second section of the second section of the a Mark Dengal er, i inn opligebau.

- + / E101

A provided by the second of th erið rum skikn efternaumfr tini sales en commitant i man and the graph of the a de la companya de l The artist of the administration of the manager of the confidence of t which the District Control of the Co of fluor) That is, the very floor it left in which they this shed, and the cozen and threshing infiruments, he bought for fifty shelped of floor. But for the whole place or plot of ground, wherein the threshing short and the houses about it, with the

4 377

V. 25. Exind Devid unit interesting as he might saw-fully do, even for burnt offeringes as well as meat-offerings, though the ordinary altar was to be onely in the tabermade; because he had Gods special command for his warrant. So the Lord was intracted for the Land, and the plague was flayed from 1[1541]. That is, he excepted the facilities, as he

V. 23. The Lord thy Gold decays thee] That is, become propietous by this thy facelines, and remove the pretent judgement from these and thy people.

V. 24. And the King Jainto Fassad, May, had Will Jainto Payrid of the Lord, and the king Jainto Fassad, May, had Will Jainto Payrid of these a princip White David Predents, not enely out the payrid of these as princip White David Predents, not enely out of the suggested and free-hearted thirties, but also out of the thread one confidence in the because he would not did not unto off the William of the Confidence occeeding to that, Prov. 2, ver. 9.

Hence the Lord, and the key large was a princip which was defined and the confidence occeeding to that, Prov. 2, ver. 9.

Hence the Lord, and the key large was a princip with the was defined in a princip was a princip with the provided of the confidence occeeding to that, Prov. 2, ver. 9.

Hence the Lord was the first place of the Lord, and the facility of the David Cellian by first from heaven. It will was the large was a princip wa

ANNOTATIONS

On the first Book of the KINGS.

Commonly called

The third Book of the KINGS.

The Argument of the two Books of KINGS.

He Books of Kings record an History of four hundred thirty eight yeers, whereof Solomon reign ded fourty over all the twelve Tribes; but after his reign, those Tribes were divided into two Ringdoms: Two Tribes (Judah and Benjamin) made one Kingdom, called Judah; wherein the posteritie of David and Solomon reigned three hundred seventy and two years. In which time, sine-teen Kings of the same stock succeeded, each other: Only one interruption was made for the space of six geers, by Atalia an ularper, 2 King, 11. 3. Of the Kings of Judah, some were very good, other idolaters. The other two Tribes made another Kingdom; called Ifrael, which continued but two hundred thirty and seven yeers, till the fixth of Hezekiah, when Hoshea the last King of Israel was carfield away captive, 2 King.18. 6. In that time there were twenty Kings of Hiael, and ten fewerall flocks, whereof one deflroyed another. For first, Jeroboams slock was destroyed by Baassha (1 King. 16.11.) thirdly, Zimri's, and fourthly, Tibni's by Omri (1 King. 16.17,18,22.) fifthly, Omri's by Jehu (2 King.10.11.) fixthly, Jehu's by Shallum (2 King. 15.10.) feventhly, Shallum's by Menahen (2 King. 15.10.) feventhly, Menahen (2 King. 15.10.) feventhly, Menahen (2 King. 15.10.) hen's by Pekah (2 King. 15.25.) minthly, Pekah's by Hoshea (2 King. 15.30.) tenthly, Hoshea was carried away captive by Salmaneler (2 King, 17.3,6.) In this time of twenty Kings over II-rael, there were eleven over Judah: Whereof one (namely Ala) reigned in the time of eight sevevall Kings of Israel (I King. 15.9. and 16.29.) of which were the first five severall stocks: And rall kings of Itical (I King, 15,9, and 16.29.) of which, were the first five several stocks: And another (namely Azariahor Uzziah) reigned in the time of six other Kings of Israel (2 King, 15. V.27.) of which were four other stocks: From the division of the ten Tribes to the captivity of Israel, there was not one good King of Israel. That Kingdom remained idolatrous from the beginning to the end. The Kingdom of Judast continued one hundred thirty and five yeers after the captivity of Israel, from the sixt of Hezckiah (2 King, 18.10.) to the last of Zedekiah (2 King, 25,3.) Twenty six yeers after the captivity of Zedekiah, mention is made of lifting up Jehoiachin (2 King, 25.27.) which fill up the History of sour hundred thirty and eight years.

The Argument of the first Book of KINGS.

The first Book of Kings records part of the forementioned History of Kings, from the end of Davids reign to the end of Jeholaphats, which was the space of one hundred and eighteen years, wherein we have Davids last. acts : Solomons glorious reign ; the division of the twelve Tribes into two Kingdoms ; the reign of the first four Kings of Judah, and eight of Ifracl, after the faid division.

The Title.

First] So in the Hebrew Title. Kings] It containsth an History of Kings.

Third The LXX, the vulgar Latin and old English Translators, call the two Books of Samuel, KINGS. because they set down the History of the two first Kings, Saul and David. After that account, this is called

CHAP. I.

ed unto.

geycars old, as appears, the thirty years old before he came to the Crown, and he held the Crown fourty years. This has areaseft age that any King of Judah and stricken in years] Heb. empticd into daies. The dayes or time of departing out of this world are here meant, and they covered him with clothes] This they did, to increase MOW King David was old I He was feventy hear much decayed in him. For clothes may increase hear, years old, as appears, 2 Sam. 5.4. He was thirty years old before he came to the Crown, but the gat no hear] His natural heat was spent by travel but he gat no heat ] His natural heat was fpent by travels, lahours, and afflictions. Otherwise he might longer have rewas the greatest age that any King of Judah tained heat and strength, as well as others. For many others, or Ifrael, from David to the captivity, attain- even in Davids time, lived much above feventy years, and yet retained good vigor and firength.

V. a. Wachefers

V. 2. Wherefore his fervants faid unto him] Thefe his fervants [ nor elder years. were, as fofephus faith, Physitians. Physitians, by reason of were, as grycoms ratin, raymtans. Paymtans, by cann of their fludy and experience, can beft tell what is fitted; as for others, fo for old men, in any kind of malady. Because Kings use to have certain peculiar Physicians to attend their persons, and on an occasions to give advice about their bodily deaths, and to minister physick unto them, they are called his servants. We use to call them the Kings Physicians.

Let there be sought] Heb. Set them seek. Them who are officient of the second of the cers, and appointed meffengers of the King 1 Sam. 16.16. for my Lord the King ] This was a title of reverence given to a King, in testimony of his fovereignty; and expressed in the fingular number, though bis fervants, in the plural number, faid it; because it was the minde of every one of them.

and on all occasions to give advice about their bodily health, laid it; because it was the minnee of every one of them.

ayong Virgin Heb, a damfel, a virgin. The Hebrew word which fignifieth damfel, is well translated young. For the heat of young maids, doth most naturally work heat in old and cold bodies, when they embrace one another. Davids wives and bodies, when they embrace one another. Davids wives and concubines, now living, were all ancients, and in that respect to first purpose, for which this damsel was provided. As the was to be young; fo also a virgin. Because married women, by bearing and nurshing children, do impair their natural hear. Besides a virgin was sitrest in this manner to be affociated to the King.

and les her stand before the king ] To minister and to do service and to the prain a toporture wing 1. To minister and to do tervice unto him. So is this phrafe expounded, verl. 4.15, Deut.10.8. Son. 16.2.1 King.10.8. Prov. 22.29.

call the be devily bird! Heb., be a diverliner unto him. By providing and bringing to the King fuch favoury and pleafant things, as he thay well-well in and tafte delight in 2 and also by limit to had with him. lying in bed with him.

ying in bed with him.

and lee her he in thy bofom] This was a wives priviledg.

Gen. 16. 5. Deur. 13. 6. Blich. 7.5; It is supposed that she was married to David, before she lay with him.

that my lord the king may get heat ] Nothing could do it V. 3. So they fought for a fair damfel ] They fought till they found one first their purpose, throughout all the coasts! They could be first their purpose, throughout all the coasts! They enquired not for fuch an one: at least, where they had cause to seatch. Or by a proverbial ariear, where they man came to realist.

feffined] They would not go out of the Church, to feek a fit nurse for the King of Israel.

and found Abiling a Shunamite] Of the city Shumem, which was in the tribe of Iffachar, Jofh. 19. 18. There was another woman fo fliled, and that upon the fame ground, 2King.4.8,25. and brought her to the king ] For this was the end of their feeking.

V. 4. And the damfel was very fair ] This made the King to take the more delight in her.

and cherifhed the king | See verf. 2.

and ministred unto him | By doing the office of a Nurse-but the king knew her not ] By reason of his frigidity. This is a modelt and seemly phrase, whereby both matrimonial, and alfo all other copulation of man and woman is fet out, Matt.

and an other copulation of man and winning set one patter 125, Judg. 19.15. Y.2, it is used to fer out the fishly fin of man and with man, Gen. 19.5, Judg. 19. 21. Set Gen.41. V. 5. Then Adonija the fun of Haggith) This was the cldeft fin of David then living, 2 Sam. 3. 4. There were indeed three fons of David eller then Adonijah, namely, Amnon, Chileab and Malion, a Sam. 3.3, Sitt. Amnon was flain by his brother Ablaloms fervants, a Sam. 13, 29, and Abla-lom as flain by his brother Ablaloms fervants, a Sam. 13, 29. And Abla-lom was flain by Joabs fervants, a Sam. 13, 29. And Abla-lom was flain by Joabs fervants, a Sam. 13, 4, And it is longer than the contraction of the cont is fet down for diftinction fake. The Mothers of all Davids fons born in Hebron are by name expressed. They were six in number, and had each of them a feveral mother, 2 Sam. 2. 2. &c. There is nothing any where faid of this Haggith, but that she was Davids wife and Adonijahs mother. The former was a great honour to her: The latter, if the were living at this time; or if the had fore-feen this act of her fon, would have been a great grief unto her.

exalted him elf] Though he were the eldest fon, yet in afpiring to the crown, he exalted himself: because David had declared Solomon to be defigned King by God himsef, 1 Chro.

22.10.

[Aying I will be king] Heb. reign. This he did while his Father was yet living. His plot and practife therefore was treason, though he had a right to the kingdom after his Fathers and be prepared bim chariots, Sc. ] Herein he did as Abfalom had done before in a like case, 2 Sam, 15.1. The particulars mentioned were evidences of an afpiring haughty minde. Of these words see chap. 9.19.

V. 6. And his Father had not displeased him? By any rebuke, or otherwife reftraining him from his undue courfes.

at any time ] Heb. from his daies ] Neither in his younger faying, Why haft thou done fo ? These words shew, that David failed in reproving his son, when he had just cause so to do. Here also may be intended Davids failing to punish his son, when he committed notorious crimes. This was Eli's fault,

And he also was a very goodly man] He as well as Absalom 2 Sam. 14.25. He was goodly in that he was fair in face. comely in countenance, and proper in body. This questionless was one cause, yea, a principal cause, that David lo doted on those two wicked sons, Absalom and Adonijah.

and his mother bare him after Abfalom] Another mother then Abfaloms, is here meant: for Abfoloms mother was Maacah. Addatoms, is nere meant: for Addatoms mother was Maach, and Adonijahs, Haggith, 2 Sam. 3-34. Now becaute David had no fon by any wife or concubine betwist these two, Adonijahs mother is said to bear him after Abfalom.

V. 7. And he conferred with Joab Heb. his words were with Joab He consulted with Joab and others, how to bring the plot to pass. The same Hebrev word which is here used, is in fuch a fence used, Numb.31.16. and translated counsel. Feab the [on of Zerviah] 2 Sam. 2.3. 1 Chro.2.16. & 11.6. This Joab was General of Davids army, 2 Sam. 8.16.

and with Abiathar the priest ] He was high priest: Therefore Solomon when he put down Abiathar, instituted Zadock in his room, chap. 2.35.

and they following Adonijah, helped him] Heb. helped after Adonijah. They hearkned to Adonijahs motion, verf. 5. 2 Sam;

V. 8. But Zadock the prieft ] He was prieft next in order to and Benaiah the fon of Jeboiadab] This man was chief Captain and Commander over choice fouldiers. See 2 Sam. 8.18. fec 1 Chron. 1 1.22. and Nathan the Prophet ] Nathan was a man whom David was wont to confult with about the things of the Lord, 2 Sam, 7.2. and by whom God used to declare his minde unto David, . Sam. 12.1.

and Shimei] This Shimei may be he who curfed David, (2 Sam. 16.5. &c.) and whom David pardoned, 2 Sam.19. 23. That great favor which David therein flewed him, might move him to cleave close to David, and to refuse to associate himself with those who sought to take the Crown from the King in his life time. Or, that Shimei may be here means who is mentioned, chap. 4.18.

and Rei] This was fome States man, of whom there is no other mention made.

omer mentom mace.

and the mighty men which belonged to David | These were the gurd or garrier fundbles ones. Beneath, called Cherethies and Pelethies (2 Sam. 20, 32), who remained faithful to David in Absaloms rebellion, 2 Sam. 18. Of these, see 2 Sam. 8. 18. See also of them ver. 38.

were not with Adonijab] They could not be seduced, to take part in this treafon.

V. 9. And Adoniijab flew [beep and oxen] Under these two kinds may be comprized all manner of cattel, whether of the gocks or of the herds, which were fit for a facrifice or for a fealt : for they were flain for both thele ends. So Gen. 31.54. and fat cattel This clause is added, to shew that they slew the best they had. Under the fore-mentioned kinds, may be comprized all manner of clean fowls. by the stone of Zobeleth, which is by En. rogel ] Or, the wel Rogel. This was without Jerusalem, (2 Sam. 17. 17.) on the East-side, Josh. 15.7.

and called Invited to his feast, thereby to win them to his fide: for this is an ordinary way of infinuating ones felf into all bis bretbren the hings fons ] All except Solomon. It feems that all Davids fons here mentioned more respected Adonijah then Solomon.

and all the men of Judah the hings servants ] Out of this general must be excepted the mighty men, verl. 8, and the fer-neral must be excepted the tangary many varies hereafter mentioned, yet; 33

V. 10. Bit Nathan the Prophet, and Benaish and the mighty men, and Solomon his brother] Of thele, fee yet; 8,12. be called not ] For he had no hope to win any of thele to his

V. 11. Wherefore Nathan stake umo Bathsheba the mother of Solomon, saying Nathan knowing that God had appointed Solomon to be King, useth means to bring it to pass. That Nathan knew that Solomon should succeed David in the throne, will evidently appear, by comparing 2 Sam. 7. 12,13.

with 1 Chron. 22. 8,9,10.

Hast thou not heard, that Adonijah the son of Haggith 2 Sam. 3, 4. He names his mother, to enflame the zeal of Bathsheba the more : and for that end, he propounds the matter interto-gatively : for certainly she had heard of it.

dothreign Hath taken upon him to be King, and goeth about to fettle himfelf on the throne.

Chap. i.

ont to furth himself on the throne.

"would not ready to accept that stands to the next and paid and the formeth it will David being so week, as the formeth it will be ignorant of those things to the next and he is faid to be ver. I. might well be ignorant of those things which fell out, though they were publickly done. But this Nithan addeth, to thew that all that was done might be undone, because it was done without the consent of the living that thou maift [ave thine own life] Heb. foul.

usurpers would do what they could, to destroy such as have a fhould direct them unto.

and fay unto him ] No bodyes words could more prevail with David then Bathfheba's, especially, in this case, wherein David had engaged himfelf unto her, verf. 30.

Didft not thou, my lord, O king ] This title the ufeth as a fubject and as a wife, Sce 1 Pet. 3. 6.

pict and as a wife. Oce 1 eVe.3. 6.

freat? We do not read of any field oath made by David in his former hiltory. But all particulars concerning David were be benefit himfulf before the king with his face to the ground; not written. See Jub 20.50, David himfelf entilefted that he Lalls the lowlist manner that he could, according to the cultome Bathsheba. For to swear that Solomon should succeed him in the throne, must needs be a great comfort to her.

unto thine handmaid ] This is a title of reverence, I Sam. 25. 24.41. fee ver.16. Though the were his wife, yet being his Subject. the was his handmaid.

(aving afforedly solomon thy fon shall reign after me, and he shall fit upon my throne > 1 This was the fubiliance of Davids oath. The former phrase of reigning, sets out the substance of the promife: the other of fitting on the throne, the evidence there-

Why then doth Adonijab reign > 1 This being contrary to Davids promile, she is adviced to let it down so, as it might make him the more earnest in putting down Adonijah. V. 14. Behold while then yet talkeft there with the King, I alfo will come in after thee] Nathan fo disposeth the carriage of this bufiness, as the King might not differn it to be a plot.

and confirm the words? Heb, fill up. He promifeth to ratifie the truth of what she should say, and further to add what he thould conceive requifite to be added.

V. 15. And Bethlieba went in unto the King into the chamber and the king was very old ] See. ver.1.

For the King then kept his chamber.

and Abifbag the Shunamite ] See ver.2. ministred unto the king] See ver. 4.

V. 16. And Bathshiha bowed and did obeisance unto the king]

She presented her self to him in such an humble and reverent gesture, as became a wife and subject. See ver. 13.

and the king faid, what wouldest thou? ] Heb. what to thee. This implyeth a readiness in the King, to grant what she should defire.

V. 17. And she said unto him, my lord | See ver. 13.
thou (warest by the Lord | Such as fear God, use to swear by no other, Deut; 6.12. This will make them more careful to keep their oath and fearful of breaking it.

the God This relative is to be taken inclusively, not excluding others. fee Joh. 20.17. She thus applyed this relation to the King, to move him the more to make good his oath. See clap. 8.18.28.1 throits. 2. think handmad failing affliredly (90.1) See ver. 13. V. 18. And now behild. Adomysh vidgately Lindeavoureth to reign, and carrieth himfelf as King.

and now my lord the king ] See, ver. 13. thou knowest it not ] This she addeth, to free her self from undue suspicion of Davids consent to that which Adonijah had done, and to aggravage Adonijahs usurpation the more, in that he prefumed to fit on the Kings throne without the Kings

V. 19. And he hash flain oxen, &c.] See ver. 7,8,9. but Solomon thy fervant ] As the fliled her felf Davids handmaid, verf. 13. fo here fhe ftileth her fon Davids fervant, in way of reverence, and to reftifie both her and his subjection to

V. 20. And thou ] Or, and now. my lord o king | See verf. 13.

the eyes of all Ifrael are upon thee . Go. 1 All expect whom thou wilt declare to be thy fucceffor in the throne. Thus they who expect any favors from God, are faid to have their eyes on God, Pfal. 25, 15. & 123. 2. This the addeth to put and heart David in minde, that if he once declared his will, and directly See v. 17. fet down who should succeed him in the throne, the people would be ready to accept and acknowledg that man to be their (hall fleet ] Shall be dead and laid in grave, Gen. 47. 30. fee with his fathers As his Fathers and Predeceffors before him that I and my four Solomon field be accounted effenders Heb.

"That I and my four Solomon field be accounted effenders Heb.

"That I and my four Solomon field be accounted with the accounted field be accounted traitors and configurators against him who had a just title to the crown, being the eldest surviving fon of and the life of thy fon Solomon Nathan well knew, that the King; and in that respect be put to death: so as both infarny and violent death might be feared.

numpers would not with a day counts of unitely lead a state of the proper would not write the day of the crown reflect of notation and the tild form of the crown reflect of notation and that all the people would be ready to follow that courie which he them: though indeed it was for reflect the matter to be before hand plotted between them: though indeed it was for reflect the matter.

V. 23. And they told the king, faying, Behold Nathan the Propher They who attended the King, gave notice to him of the Prophets coming, before he himlelt faw him. They might well think that fuch a Prophet came upon some special errand. Of Nathan, fee v. 8, and when he was come in before the king ] As Bathsheba was did to fwear, ver. 20. and this onth may be comprized under of those times, be yielded civil obetinance to his Soveraign, that phrase that is used, 2 Sam. 12. 24. of Davids comforting A Prophetical function exempts not from civil subjection, V. 14. And Nathan faid, my Lord, O hing ] With gesture and speech he manifesteth his dutiful respect to his So-hast thou faid > ] I cannot let it fink into my minde, that half tom fant 3] . I camer ter te ma men my minas, tast thou shoulded give approbation to that which is done.

Adonijah shall reign, Ge. ] See v. 13.

V. 25. For he is gon down this day ] They went from Jerusalem, which was on a hill, and therefore may be faid to go and bath flain oxen, &c. ] See v. 9. and behold they eat and drink before him] They feast together. Sec v. 9,41.

and fay, God fave king Adonijab] Heb. let king Adonijab tion of a King, v. 34. 1 Sam. 10. 24. 2 Kings 11. 12. V. 26. But me, even me thy fervaut | This doubling of the word, importeth, that Adonijah had no good meaning in paffing by the Lords Prophet. Here again the Prophet acknowledgeth his fubjection unto his Sovergien, under this title fernant.

[grushin. 2 adol; the prieft, and Benalah, 69.6.] Ke v. 8.
and Zadol; the prieft, and Benalah, 69.6.] Ke v. 8.
and thy ferouse Solomosi Solomon was before this defigend King, yee while the old King luved, he was his fallejed and fervarit. Yadhan here given him this title, to thew that Solomon had no depring minde, hus was willing to continue a loyal fingless, to long as David thould live.

Mills has the first the first the hirst the hist.

V. 27. Isthis thing done by my lord the king He propoundeth this question, the more to stir up Davids indignation 2gainst Adonijahs fact.

and thou haft not showed it unto thy servant | David was wone to communicate his weighty counfels to Nathan, 2 Sam. 7.2. and thereupon Nathan feems to wonder, that David should conceal fo weighty a matter as that from him.

who should fit on the throne, &c.] see v. 13.

V. 28. Then king David answered, and said, Call me Bath-[heba] By Nathans preffing the same thing upon David that Bathsh ba had done, v. 17 &c. the King is made the more forward to give Bathsheba satisfaction.

toward to give banneou intraction.

and fluctame into the kings prefence? Helb. before the king, and fluctame into the king specific pathibits and Nisthan came in course to the king one after another, as appears by comparing ver. 149, 223, together. It is probable, that Nathan was he to whom David faid, call me Babliphets: and that he went out to call her in : who, being come in, flood before the King, to expect what he would determine concerning Solomon and Adoniish.

mon and Adonjan.

V. 29. And the hing frare, and fail, as the Lord liveth I

Heb. the Lord liveth. This was an usual forme of an oath, Judg. 8. 19. Forms of oaths use to be concise. The fift Judg. 8. 19. Forms of oaths use to be concue. The first particle, as, is prefixed by our English, to make up the fenfe, The next verse shewesh, that this oath is a confirmation of a former oath, which he had made to this yery purpose. He dorh hereby manifest his unalterable resolution concerning Solomon: the rather, because Solomon was appointed even by God himfelf to succeed David in the throne, 2 Sam. 7.12. Chro. 28. 5. Hereby alfo David doth more fettle the minde and heart of Bathfheba, and frees her from her former fears.

that hath redeemed my foul out of all diffrefs | He means here-Aaaa 2

by, temporal deliverances from external dangers: which he Amen] This is an Hebrew word which importeth an approdorb the rather mention in this his oath, to show the great and weighty reasons that he had, to performe what he had fworn to the Lord.

vorn to the Lord.

V. 30. E. mas I [ware to the ] See v. 17.
by the Lord God of I [red] See chap. 8.15. faying, A [fured] Solomon 19 for, 60. ] See v. 13.
even [owill Lectainly do this day] David understood that Adonijah had proceeded fo far, as no delay, for determining the question in hand, must be made : and therefore he affures her that he will do what the defired inftantly, and not put it off one

V. 31. And Bathsheba bowed, @c.] See v. 16.23.

V. 31. And Businghed towers, Gr. J See V. 10.23. Let my lord king David J See v. 13. live for ever J Very long. This was an usual falutation given to Kings, Nehem. 2.3. Dan. 6.21. It is here used by Bathsheba, to shew that she preserved Davids life and reign before

V. 32. And hing David faid, call me Zadock, &c. ] See v. 8. It appears that Nathan being fent to call in Bathsheba, left her alone with the King, that they might not feem to plot together. David here cals for a Prieft, a Propher, and a great Commander in war, that the Priest might declare the mean-ing of the Law, and the Prophet the special minde of God, and the Commander in war might put their advice in execution. The King cals for those three, because he had ever found them faithful to himfelf, and perceived that they had not followed Adonijah, as others had done.

lowed Aconsjan, so others and other and they came before the king | They were the more ready to come, because they all agreed in the lame case.

V. 33. The king alp aid unto them | This copulative, alp, hath relation to the Kings calling them in. He did both call them in and also give them direction

Take with you the fervants of your lord] He means such as abode faithful to David, and were special attendants on him, and his guard, v. 8. In the Hebrew it is, your lords, in the plural number: whereby he may mean his own and his fon Solomons fervants. Becaufe, many Nobles, souldiers, and common-people did accompany Adonijah; David wifely adwifeth to take a fufficient company of faithful and valigat foul-diers, that might be able to defend Solomon against all Adonijahs company: and also for the greater honor of his son.

and cause Solumon my sonto ride upon mine own mule.] Heb.

which belonged unto me. It was a royal honour to ride upon a mule. Helt. 6. 8. and David would have Solomon fet upon his own mule, to fhew that it was with his own confent. Of mule, fee chap. 10.25.

and bring him down to Giben | Gihon was a famous place. To called, by reason of the river Gibon, 2 Chro. 32.30, and 33. 14. It was fo far diftant from En-rogel, as the two companies might be a good diffance the one from the other. Gihon was on the West-side of the city over against En-rogel, v. 9
V. 34. And let Zadock the priest and Nathan the prophet]

Both these are used for the greater solemnity of that which was annoint him there king over Ifrael ] This was an ufual rite of inaugurating Kings: especially in troublesome times, 1 Sam. 10.1. & 16.1. 2 King. 9.1. & 23.30. It was used in doubtful cases, to shew that they were deputed of God to that high calling: and that God would pour his Spirit upon them, and inable them to that whereunto he appointed them.

and blow ve with trumpers | This added much to the folemnity. See 2 Sam. 15.10. 2 King. 9.13. & 11.12,14.
and fay, God fave king Solomon] Heb. let king Solomon live.

V. 35. Then ye [hall come up after him] As attendants upon him, and maintainers of what is done.

that he may come and fit upon my throne] To be declared there-that the may come and is upon my throne [10 be declared there-people be the depended King.

for he full be king in my flead.] When I am taken out of this world, or and dished from ruling any more.

and I have apointed him to he ruled.] What better warrain could they have I twas before faid, (v.10.) that the eyes of all If ael were upon David, that he should rull them who thould fit on the throne after him. This they did the rather expect from David, because they knew him to be a wife man: fuch an one as could best judge which of his sons were fittest to fucceed him: and also because he had before this told them.

that God had chosen Solomon to succeed him, I Chron. over Ifrael, and over Judab ] Judah is diftinctly named, for excellency fake: and the rather, because David was of the tribe of Judah. Besides, there were emulations betwirt the ten tribes and Judah. (2 Sam. 19.41.) before the division of the Kingdoms, 1 King. 12. 19. V. 36. And Benaiah the [on of Jehoiada] Sce v. 8. answered the king and said In his own and the others name.

bation, ratification and earnest desire of all that whereunto it is annexed : thereupon it ufeth to be added to pravers.

the Lord God of my lord the king This is not to be taken ex-clusively, as if the Lord were onely the God of David, and not clulively, as if the Lord were onely the God of David, and not of others: but it is thus applyed to David, to flew, that the King and all his people might be affured, that God would ratific and blefs what he had done, because, the Lord had by many evidences shewed himself to be in special manner the God of David, and David was one of Gods peculiar people, and special confederates.

fay fo 200] These words are an exposition of that title,

Amen: that God would accomplish that which the King had endowed with many excellent gifts, and bath received many special bleffings from God, to pray that his son may be more excellent, and more aboundantly bleffed of God, then he.

V. 38. So Zadock & C.] See v. 8.
and the Cherethites and Pelethites went down These were the mighty men and Kings fervants, before mentioned. v. 8,10,33. fuch as waited on the King to guard his person, a Sam. 8. 18. & 15. 18. The Cherethites and Pelethites have their names from certain places, where they or their progenitors had their abode. The Cherethites were of the out-coafts of the Philiftins, as appears, Ezek. 25 16. Zeph. 2.5. 1 Sam. 30.14.
16. The Pelethites also might also be of some bordering coafts. The forementioned out-coafts of the Philiftins, were brought into the confines of the Ifraelites, being subdued by them. It appears that they were very valiant men, and taken to be attendants upon the Kings person, and proved alwaies close to David, a Sam. 1 5.18. They were fent against Sheba the fon of Bichri, another traitor that role against David, 2 Sam, 20.7. And here they here Adonijah and remain with David. The Chaldee Paraphrase taketh the Cherethites for David. The Chaldee Paraphrate taken to a Cheremies for Bow-men or Archers, and the Pelethites for flingers, fuch as the Benjamites were, Judg. 20. 16. 1 Chro. 12. 2. and caused Solemon to ride upon the kings mule, &c. ] See verf. 22.

V. 39. And Zadock the prieft took an horn of oyl] An horn was a fit veffel as to hold oyl, to to pour it foilly on ones out of the Tabernacle] To thew that it was holy oyl, as Pfal.

one of the Advances | See yet Rings, 8. 4.

and amointed Solomon | See yet. 34. Solomon was after this annointed again, see the reasons thereof, 1 Chron. 29.

and they blew the trumpet ] See v. 34.
and all the people faid, God fave king Solomon ] See v. 25. This shews that the peoples hearts were so set on David, as they rejoyced in him whom he should appoint his successor.

V. 40. And all the people came up after him] They would not leave him after he was annointed.

and the people piped with pipes Or, flutes.

and rejoyced with great joy There was a special work of Gods Spirit in them, that so quickned up their spirits. See Chro. 13.40.

fo that the earth reut with the found of them ] This is an hyperbolical speech, to amplifie the exceeding great rejoycing, and loud acclamations of the peole. Reports of great cannons will make mountains shake and cleave: so will great thunderclaps. By this exceeding great rejoycing, they restified that high esteem which they had of Solomon, and their good affection to David: and also, a perswasson that Solomon being proclaimed King in his Fathers life time, all contentions and civil wars about the crown would be prevented, and that they should live in quiet and enjoy many blessings under Solomon. Their acclamations might be the greater, to affright Adonijah and all that took part with him the more.

V. 41. And Adonijah and all the guest that were with him, heard it.] This is an evidence of the peoples extraordinary as they had made an end of eating : ] After the forefaid acclamations, their feafts were foon ended, and their rejoycing was foon turned into terror. This found was like the hand-writing which appeared to Belfhazzar, at his riotous feast, Dan.5.5.

and when feab heard the found of the trumpet, J Sea, 24, be faid, Wherefore is this no feet the city, being in an upper 12 to belonged to Joaks office to supperfer tumults, as AC 21, 31, 32. For Joak was the General of the army, I Chron.

V. 42. And while he yes spake, behold, Jonathan the son of A-bisther the priest came, ] Jonathan was a nimble man, and of a 1 from punishment. At least, Adonijah thought that he might parms to priors stands.] Jointain was a minime main, and or a trous parameter. At early, Aconjian imonger that emight quick fpirts, and oft imployed to inquire after news, and bring things. This was he, who together with Ahimaza, the vs. 15, 33, and feel mercy of God, as Joab, chapt. 20.

Vs. 1. And it was told solumon, figure, I Solomon had ings, and to declare the fame to David, 25mm 17, 17. Now those that edged what was done on Adonijah sparts, as well as that Abiathar is turned from David to Adonijah, it is probable that he appointed this his fon to remain about king Davids court, to elpy what he could about the cafe in hand. For we may observe, how he punctually tells the particulars that passed not onely openly in the city, but also privately in Davids chamber, v. 43, &c. and Adonijab (aid unto him, Come in, for thou art a valiant man,] Heb. a man of vertue, or, a vertuous man. The word is translated vertuous, being applyed to a woman, Prov. 12. 4.

Such a man is ftiled a good man, 2 Sam. 18.27.

and bringeft good tidings.] Adonijah herein flattereth himfelf with vain hopes.
V. 41. And Jonathan answered, &c. ] At the first he telleth

Adonish the main substance of the matter, which was clean contrary to the good tidings which he expected, namely, that David had made Solomon king.

V. 44. And the king bath sent with him Zadok, &c.] Sec

v. 34, 60°C.

V. 45. And Zadok the priest, Go. ] See v. 34.

and they are come up from themse rejoycing, ] Both those whom king David impleyed about fetting Solomon on the throne, and the people also that were present thereat gave apparent evidences of their joy therein, which could not but much damp the foirit of Adoniah, and the foirits of all that took part with fo that the city rang again, ] This is an other proverbial speech, whereby the greatness of their rejoycing is amplified. We say of loud sounds, That they make a place to ring this is the noise that ye have heard. This is a direct auswer to that question which Joab propounds, v.41.

V. 46. And also Solomon fitteth on the throne of the kingdom. He bath an actual possession of the kingdom, whereby he sheweth, that their endeavors to make solomon king, was not

V. 47. And moreover, the kings fervants ] He means hereby, thole who had great offices and commands under the king, and were imployed about crowning king Solomon.

came to bless our lord king David] That is, to falute him, to pray for him, and to praile God for the fucceffor who was appointed to raign after bim. See v. 7.

God make the name of Solomon better then thy name, ] This was the substance of the bleffing where with they bleffed David. By name, they mean such vertues and graces as had made David famous; and fuch an increase of them in Solomon, as might make him more famous.

And make his throne greater then thy throne.] By throne is here meant royal pomp and glory, together with dominion. See

And the king bowed himfelf upon the bed ] This he did in a religious maner, worthiping God, even in his bed, and praifing him, as Gen. 47. 31.
V. 48. And also thus said the king, Bleffed be the Lord] This thews that he bowed to God. God of Ifrael, See chap 8, 15.

which hath given one to fit on my throne this day,] Though Nathan plotted what was done, and David gave advise for the doing of it, yet David ascribeth both plotting and acting all to God; for menspurpoles and performances are ordered by mine eyes even seeing it.] This phrase implyeth the acting of what was done in his life time; though it is also probable, That they brought Solomon in his royal robes to David, and in that respect David may be said to see it with his eyes. Seeing with eyes is an hebrew pleonalm, and importeth em-

V.49. And all the guefts that were with Adonijah were afraid ] Joy may foun be turned into fear; which quickly feizeth on and rose up.] This phrase importeth speed and diligence.

and west every man his way.] To his own house and affairs, leaving Adonijah and his cau'e.

V. 50. Then Adonijah feared because of Solomon, ] By rea-Ion of a guilty confcience, he feared left Solomon should take away his life; knowing that he had finned against God; who appointed Solomon to be king; and had gone against Davids minde, who had manifested the will of God therein.

and arose, and went, ] See v. 49. and caught hold on the horns] The alter was made with four horns, Exod. 38. 1. To them they used to tye the facrifices, Pfal. 118. 27. On them a man might lay fast hold.

of the altar. I They supposed that the altar was a place of refuge, Exod. 21. 14. and that it had a priviledg of immunity as a forcible motive.

V. 52, 53.) and teek mercy or God, as Joan, chap.z.30.
V. 51. And it was told Solomon, faying, ] Solomon had those that espied what was done on Adonijahs part, as well as Adonijah on Solomons part. See v.42.

Behold, Adonijah feareth king Solomone ] See v. 50. for lo, he hash caught bold on the horns of the altar, ] This was an apparent evidence of fear.

[aying, Let king Solomon] Here he acknowledgeth Solomon to be king, and thereby beareth witness against himself, that he was a traytor, in aspiring to the kingdom.

[wear unto me to day,] His guilty conscience could be satisfied with nothing but an oath.

that he will not flay ] Herein he acknowledgeth himfelf guilty of death, his fervant with the [word.] This title fervant is an acknowledgment of fubjection. But this acknowledgment arofe from fear. Fear doth not ordinarily work a true and found fubiection : it appears by the request that Adoniah made to Solomons mother, (chap 2. 13, &c.) That he fill retained a turbulent minde and a trayterous heart, affecting the crown; though at this time he faw, that in his fathers life time there was no hope of obtaining it.

V. 52. And Solomon faid, T Solomon was ready to forgive his brother.

if he will shew himself a worthy man, ] Heb. a son of vertue.
If he will carry himself so as becomes his place, and shew himfelf a leval i ubject; he is pardoned upon his future good there shall not an hair of him fall to the earth : ] This is a proverbial speech. The loss of an hair is the smallest loss that a man can have: Hereby is implyed. That the least evil should not befal him for what he had done before. See 1 Sam. 14, 45. 2 Sam. 14. 11 Acts 27.34.

but if wickedness shall be found in him, he shall die. 7 No hope of elcaping hereafter thall be given him. See chap. 2. 23. V. 52. So king Solomon feur, ] A message of pardon. and they brought him down from the altar, ] Into the presence of Solomon. There were afcents up to the altar, and therefore he is faid to be brought down from it.

and he came and bowed himfelf to king Solomon, ] By an external complemental behavior, he verified that subjection whereof he made acknowledgment under this title fervant , v. 51. Hypocrites in outward flew, can carry themselves as those who are indeed true hearted. and Solomon faid unto bim, ] He graciously accepts his

Go to thy houfe.] Attend on thy own affairs, and meddle not with the affairs of the kingdom,

CHAP. II.

V. 1. Ow the dayes of David drew nigh.] Life is in Scripture very frequently fet out by days, to note out the brevity and uncertainty thereof, Gen.3: 14,17. and 5.5. that he flouted die,] Words of dying men make deepest impressions, Gen.49.1. Deut.33.1. John.23.2. John.19.26,27.

2 Pet. 1, 14,15. and he charged Solemon ] He appointed fundry particular things to be done by Solomon after he should succeed him on the throne; and withal laid a fatherly command upon him, not to fail in the performance thereof. The generals of this charge are expressed, verse 3. and fundry particulars, verse

"his fon.] Being defigned to fuceed him in the kingdom, chap!
1.39. And by vertue thereof, he had power to perform what was given him in charge.

V. 2. I go the way of all the earth, ] Of all men living on earth, John 23.14. For it is appointed unto men once to die be thou ftrong therefore, ] Heb. be a man. Of a valiant mindes couragious; not fearing any opposition that should be made for doing the things that were given in charge. See James and shew thy felf a man. ] Though thou be young in yeers? chap. 3.7. 1 Chron. 22.5.) yet fhew thy felf a man in underitanding, 1 Cor. 14. 20.

V. 3. And heep] This implyeth faithfulness: Now faithfulness to God makes valiant.

the charge of the Lord ] That which God hath given in charge to be kept. This is a general duty under which the particulars following are comprised. That it is so, is evident by the maner of inferring the duties following, thus, to walk, co.

thy God, The Lord by choosing Solomon before all his brethren to be king, (1 Chron. 28. 4, 5.) fhewed himfelf to be in special maner his God. This therefore doth David press his curfing of David, as an aggravation of his fault. By bloud be put, is filled a bed, Hai, 57.2.

and was buried in the city of David This city was called mon had built the temple, and therein fer the ark, chap. 8.1.

By reason of the arli being in this city, it was stilled the city of God. Gods holy hill: and it was a type of the Church of which was for the foace of almost two thousand years.

ivere forty years ] 2 Sant. 5. 4. 1 Chro.29. 26, 27

Ifrael is put for all the tribes.

addreffeth himfelf to her.

Father was dead, Gen. 27.41.

foever his intent was.

V. 11. And the dayes that David reigned over Ifrael] Here reigned he in Hebron Hebron was an ancient city. In it Abraham had his abode when he came first into the land of Canaan, and there crefted an altar to the Lord, Gen. 13.18.

Canasan, and there erected an attar to the Lord, Gen. 13.18. There was that famous busying place, wherein the three great Partiarits and their wives were builed. Gen. 23.2. & 49. 31. This being conquered, and to taken from the Canaanites, Joh.

10.26. it fell to the lot of the tribe of Judah, and was given to Calch, John 14.13. & 15.74. It was on a mountain, and it was an habitation of Gyants, before Caleb subdued them, Josh. 14.12. Here David had his throne till his kingdom was throughly fetled. When all the tribes of Ifrael, as well as Judah, came in and subjected themselves to him as to their King, then he fet his throne in Jerufalem. In this respect it is faid, and thirty three years reigned he in Fernfalem.

rChron. 29. 23. Herein was Gods promife accomplish-

1 Sam. 16.4. His former practice made ner ftill fuipect him :

and he faid peaceably ] Heb. peace. This he pretends, what-mine] I being the cldeft son surviving, after my Father, by birth-right the kingdom belonged to me. See chap. 1.5. Yea, and that all Ifrael jet their faces on me] That I thauld reign :

it was mine also by the peoples approbation, chap. 1. 25.

V. 12. Then fate solomon upon the throne of David his Father] he means the fword of jultice.

to walk in his mays, ] To observe that course of life which | and put the blood of war ] A bloody sweed used in war.

he hath preferibed. See chap. 3. 14. to keep his statutes.] Such rites and ceremonies as he had enjoyned. and commandments,] Contained in the moral law.

and his judgments, ] For governing the flate.

and bis seffimonies,]. These were figures of the covenant be-twixt God and them. Notwithstanding this distinction of the forementioned feveral points, they are oft in Scripture promiscuously used.

as it is written in the law of Mofes, Deut, 17. 18, 19. It is called the law of Mofes, because God used his ministry in delivering the law to the people. that thou mayeft proffer ] Or, do mifely. Deut. 29.9. Jofh. 1.

7. To observe the forementioned charge, was the ready way to bleffing. See 1 Chro, 22.11.

in all that thou doeft, ] Gods bleffing extends it felf to all good things that a man takes in hand.

and whither sever thou turnest thy self.] Whither to worship

God, or to exercise thy kingly office. V. 4. That the Lord may continue] To thee and thy posterity, age after age.

his word ] Or, promife. Gods word is oft limited to his promife, especially when his word is of some good thing to come.

which he space concerning me, ] Or, unto me. That good which is promised to one, for the benefit of his posterity, doth much concern himself; especially when it is made as a recompence of reward unto him.

pence or reward unto him.

fajing, If thy children J Promiles of reward extended to children, upon Gods accepting and approving their parents, are limited to childrens answerable disposition and conversation, chap. 8.25. and 9.4. Pfal. 132.12. It was Gods promife with such a limitation, that king Hezekiah pleaded, 2 Kings take heed | So prone are men to fwerve into by-courfes, as there is great need of much circumfpection , to keep them in the right way.

to their ways, By a way, the course of ones life is set forth and that course which properly belongs to men, by vertue of their calling, is, their way.

to walk To walk is a natural action of the body; it intendeth motion and progress therein: For they who walk go on then after thep. It fets out a continual doing of a thing.

befereme] As in my prefence, fetting me in their fight, and confidering that I behold and take notice of them within and without : and thereupon not daring to do any thing that may difnlesfe me.

intruth,] Sincerely, uprightly; not deceitfully, not hypowith all their heart, and with all their foul, ] By heart and foul, the feveral and diffinct inward faculties of a man are meant; as understanding, will, and affections. All and every part of these must wholly be given to God, and no part of them to any other thing, Deut. 6. 5. Job. 22. 5. 2 Kings 23.3,25.

there (hall not fail thee (faid he) a man on the throne of Ifrael.)

Heb. to be cut off from thee, from the throne, 2 Sam. 7. 12. Thy children shall by a lineal descent one after another, succeed thee in thy kingdom. This fuccession long continued in his posterity after the fiefh: But in that Chrift, who also descended from him, bad given unto him the throne of David, (Luke 1. 32.) most properly and fully was this promise accomplished. mon his immediate fon reigned over Ifracl, and Judah both; but the pofferity of Solomon reigned onely over Judah, chap, 12. 19,20.

V. S. Moreover thou knowest also ] Here begins the first particular that David gives in charge to Solomon. See v. 1.
what foab the fon of Zerwah ] See chap. 1. 7. and 1 Chron did to me, ] By breaking the agreement which David made with Abner, 2 Sam. 3. 13. and with Amala, 2 Sam. 19. 13. Joabs murdering these two might have tended to Davids dishonor and danger.

and what he did to the two captains of the hoft of Ifrael ] Under this word Ifrael, all the tribes except Judah are comprised ; for, when Souls fon held the kingdom against David , Judah held cloe to David, 2 Sam. 2. 4, 9. Judah also fiest brought David to his kingdom after he sled from Absalom, 2 Sam. 19.

0,41.
unto Abner the son of Ner,] 2 Sam. 3.27.
and unto Amasa the son of Fether,] 2 Sam. 20.9, &c. whom be stem]. This hash relation to them both. and fhed] Heb. put. This bath relation to the laft clause of the blood of war in peace, ] By doing hostile actions to confederates in time of peace, even when David had entred into covenant with them; fo as there was peace betwirt David and them, 2 Sam. 3.17. &10.9,10.

upon his girdle that was about his loyns, ] Into the scabbard that was on his thigh.

that was on his tugo.

and in bis ploces that were on bis feet. ] While he embraced the two captains aforefaid, he flew them, so as their blood ran into his shoots. His infolency is further fet out by thele phrases, in that he carried a bloody (word, and walked with blond in his shooes, as if he had done a worthy deed.

V. 6. Do therefore according to thy wifdom, | Wifely observe him; he is of a ftirring fpirit; fo as thou mayeft fometime or other take just advantage against him. See v. 9.

and letnot bis bost bead] This phrase implyeth old age; and and tenot bit boar betad I has parate implyed on age; and Joab must now needs be very old, having been a General all Davids time, 2 Sam. 2. 32. Yet would not David have him spared for his old age take. Old age gives no dispensation or immunity from punishment to those that justly deserve it. David himself gives the reason why he himself executed not vengeance upon him, 2 Sam. 3.39. David at the times wherein those murthers were committed, was in great troubles, and Joab being General of the host, had a great command over many fouldiers. Besides his brother Abisha was also a great man in those dayes: fo as prudence kept David from executing that vengeance in his own time : which now he faw might featonably be done by his fon. Joab had also now given another just occasion for Solomon to take away his life, namely, his conspiring with Adoniish.

go down to the grave in peace] By a natural death without revenge: but cut him off by the fword of justice. See v. 9. fee alfo, Gen. 42. 38. V. 7. But shew hindness to the sons of Barqillai the Gilea-dite. As Barzillai desired and David promited, 2 Sam. 19. 37.38 and let them be of shofe shat eat at thy table: ] This was a testi-mony of great kindnesses, especially when it was done by Kings. See 2 Sam. 9.7.

for to they came to me They brought all manner of provision to David, 2 Sam. 17. 28, 29. & 19. 32. Therefore David thinks it not enough, that he himfelf had shewed kindness to Barzillai's fons, but he requires his fon Solomon also to con-tinue the like. A grateful heart is never fatisfied in recom-penfing good turns.

when I see because of Abstatom thy brother. I see because of Abstatom thy trother. I see a se fon was, but was forced to flye from him, and that for fear of his life, 2 Sam. 15.12,14. & 17. 2.

V. 8. And behold, thou hast with thee Shimes the son of Gerab; a Benjamite of Baburim 1 2 Sam. 16, c. His name, parentage, tribe, and place of abode are exprellely mentioned, as for diflinction, lo for aggravation. For by that terrible fact of his he brought shame and disgrace upon his name, upon his father, upon his tribe, and upon the place of his abode. Bahurim was a city in the tribe of Benjamin, about the out coasts thereof. 2 Sam. 3. 16. & 17,18.

which curfed me with a great curfe. Heb. firing curfe. The curfe wherewith Shimei curfed David, may juffly be laid to be grievous or ftrong : for therein moft horrible and deteftable crimes were laid to the charge of a most innocent person, Sam. 16. 7. 8.

2 Sam. 16.7.8.

in the day when I went to Mahanaim: ] This was a city in the tribe of Gad, feituate beyond Jordan, Joh. 13. 26. The first reason and ground of this name is rendred, Gen. 22.2. See the notes there.

but be came down to meet me at fordan,] This he did after Abfalom was flain; fo as it might be fear that moved him to come in and acknowledg his fault, 2 Sam. 19. 18,19. &c. and I fware to him by the Lord, This David did to make him to reft more confidently upon the Kings mercy. See chap, faying, I will not put thee to death with the (word. ] Heb. if I jaying, 1 min not put thee to death with the furth. I he had a form of imprecation, wherein the permitted to death. This is a form of imprecation, wherein the permitted to underflood, Gen. 24.23.2 Sam. 19. 12, Hereby we are given to underfland, that men should be very tender of making mprecations against themselves.

V. 9. Now therefore hold him not guiltless: Though I for my time pardoned him, yet thou maiest rake some occasion of punishing him; and then put him in minde of what he hath done to me. So did Solomon, v. 41.44.

thou art a wife man Though God had not yet given unto Solomon fuch an extraordinary measure of wisedom, as he did afterwards, chap. 3-12. Yet David observed in him much un-derstanding and wisdom; even above the ordinary fort of young men, and thereupon gave him this commendation, and referred the managing of the cases propounded to him, unto his own discretion.

and knowest what thou oughtest to do unto him] David would not have him do any thing against his own judgement and conChap, ii.

Appropriations on the first Book of Kings.

but his bust head.] Seev. 6.

King. When men have an earnest defire after any thing, they bring then down to the grave with bload.] David supposed ule to turn their faces towards it, and to fix their countenance. one more than 10 the grave with bload] David tuppoles the comment than 100 the grave with bload the carriage upon it, Iuli, 9,33, Jer. 4247, that Solomon might finds if the marrowly observed the carriage upon it, Iuli, 9,33, Jer. 4247, the solomon might finds if the marrow the live and the add by broading the fings of a tunned about] It is diverted another scutting of David, as an aggravation of his fault. By bloud way, means the fword of fulfice.

V. 10. So David, they with his faihers] He died. Death is and it becomes my brothers] My younger brother is now fer

V. 10. So David, they with his faihers] He died. Death is and eltablished upon it.

a kinde of ficep, Deut. 21. 16. compare Act. 2. 29. with 13. for it was his from the Lord | By Gods appointment, I Chro. 36. death is fiely refembled unto fleep in fundry respects. 22. 10. & 28.5. That which he here acknowledgeth, was 2 hirst, sleep hath power on the body onely and outward seales. certain truth: and questionlesse it was known by him to be First, Heep hash power on the body onely and officers became the second of the power of the body.

I freed in man from labour, trouble and acre. 3. It reinfreshes the body.

I for the man from labour, trouble and acre.

I freel, and it yet it is much to be doubted, whether he in trulu and freshesh the body.

I for they dath are onely allow used to wake the control is mother, y. a., formen to imply the contrary. Ceragain. Thus death feizeth on the body onely; the foul is tainly Adonijah in feeking the crown before, v. 5. since daimmortal; and the dead reft from their labours, and are freed | gainst his knowledg.

V. 16. And now I ask one petition of thee? This was it that from all worldly troubles and cases: and they final rate again, he intended, v. 14.

And being raided, made incorruptules and plotters. By reason and being raided, made incorruptules and positions and being raided, when the second property of the propert quest is denyed, he is made ashamed; and in shame turnath away his face. See v. 20. When ones request is granted, his and fle faid unto bim, fay on Plainly make known thy Pe-and two control times upper Lambers | 118 city was content.

Ston, David word it and built it, 5 sans, 5, 79, 7 (Sun was a fitting hold, Force Caffle, which the Jebuites held till Davidstung; C (Inon. 11.5; David showing tran it from the Jebuites, 5 inlarged it and built about it, as he made a fair city there, and there built a place for hindels, 2 sans, 7, 25, 18.

The state of V. 17. And he faid, fpea [ I pray thee unto Solomon] Without for he will not far thee nav? Heb. not turn away the face. See thefe respects it was called the city of David, 2 Sam. 5. 7. v. 8. 16.20. 2 Chro. 6, 42. Pfal. 122.10. Thither he caused the ark to be brought, and there pitched a that be give me Abishag the Shunamite See chap 3. V. 1. tabernacle for it, (1 Chron. 16.1.) where it abode till Soloto wife | See v. 22.

V. 18. And Bathsheba said, well, I will speak for thee unto the king. She was herein too forward to gratifie him. Though Chrift, Pfal. 2.6. & 48.1,2, &c. & 87. 1. &c. Here was the fire were a wife woman, (Prov. 31. 1. &c.) yet fire dived not Curity, P101. 2.6. & 26.1.1.6. & C. & 19.1. & C. AFEC WAS 100.

Intrinsic pulse, how posts both David and allo the fueindicated David, that were of any good note or name, were brind, chap 1.1. 3.2. Climo 1.2. 1.6. & 1.4. 1. & 1.6. 1.1. 4. 1.

**E21.1. Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

**Left Davids fepulder was made of find dutable materia.

* centors of David, that were of any good note of thate; were buried, chap. 11. 43. 2 Chron. 12. 16. & 14. 1. & 16. 14. & 21.1. Davids fepulcher was made of fuch durable materials, and fo well kept and repaired, time after time by his posterity, asit continued till the Apofiles dayes, (Act. 2. 29.) and from thence he role to foon as he ofpied his mother com-ming to him.

and borned himfelf unto ber To tellifie his reverent respect to his mother as the had done to David, chap.t. 16.

and fate down on his throug] This he did having conducted his mother thither. Of Solomons throne, fee chap. 10.18.&c. feven years] The word feven, and thirty three following, are and canfed a feat to be fet for the hings mother] This he did to to the full thus expressed for round reckoning sake; for he reigned feven years and fix moneths in Jerufalem, 2 Sam. 5. 5. honour his mother. and she saie on his right hand ] This was the highest place next to the king, who fate in the midlt, 2 Chro. 18. 18. Neh. 8. 4. Pfal. 45. 9. & 110.1. Mat. 20.27.

V. 20. Then the [aid] Being fate down.
I delire one mut perition of thee] Being ignorant of the importance of the thing, and dangerous confequences that might have followed thereupon, the cals it final.

I pray thee fay me not nay Heb. turn not away my face. For menule to make thole turn their faces from them, whole requests they dislike, See v. 17.

And the king faid unto her, Ask on my mother ] This fices his readiness to gratifie her.

for I will not fay the nay] Supposing that that which his mother defired, had been just and face, and but small, as she faid. So as even Solomon himfelf was fo forward and rash in binding himfelf by promife, to grant his mothers request, before he knew what it it was.

V. 21. And she faid, let Abishag the Shunamite ] See: chap. 1. 3.

be given to Adonijab thy brother] They were brothers by Father, but not by mother. See chap. 1. 10.
10 wife] Abishag had been as his Fathers wife, and lain in and his kingdon was eftablished greatly] For uone now durst attempt any thing against him, that might disturb his quier possession. See 2 Chro. 1.1.

V. 1.3. And Admish the sen of Haggish See chap. 1.5. came to Bathsebathen musher of Salomon! He know well that his bosom. This was one thing which incensed Solomon ; for a mother may prevail much with her fon; thereupon he first t was an incestuous defire that Adonijah had. V. 22. And king Solomon answered, and said unto bis mother] and she said comest thou peaceably ] Heb. is peace thy coming?

This he did in displeasure. and why doft thou ask Abifhag the Shunamite for Adonijah] and faccould not but fear, that David his Father being dead, This interrogation implies an aggravation of Solomons difhe might work some new mischief against his brother Solopleasure. mon: as Efau thought of killing his brother Jacob after their ask for him the kingdom also It might have been a means for Adonijah to have gained many of the people, if Abishag (much admired for beauty and feemly behaviour in ministring to David, and so honored as to be Davids bed-fellow) had V. 14. He said moreover, I have somewhat to say unto thee] Heb. aword of meto thee. I have a request to make to thee, been his wife. Solomon discerned an intended plot to get the kingdom by the motion which Adonijah had made to Bathfheba, v. 17. & fhe to Solomon, v. 21. and she said, say on The would try what his request was, befor be is mine elder brother] See chap. 1.5. This may give fore the granted it.

V. 15. And he faid, Thou knowest that the kingdom was him a fliew of title. even for bim | This doubling of the person, sheweth, that

Solomon deeply apprehendeth the plot, and for Abiathar the prieft ] See chap. 1.7.

and for Joab the for of Zerviah.] See chap. 1. 7. & 1 Chro. they expected, and that with a defire, that I fhould be their 2, 16. By joyning of those three together, it is implied, that Adonijah, Abiathar, and Joab were all as one: all intending and plotting the fame thing. This firred up Solomon the more to execute the feveral judgements following on them all,

v. 25;27;34-4 No. 27; And thing Solomon froze by the Lord His deep apprehension of the plot, made him binde himself by outh to cut them off who first made the motion. See chap. 8. 27. faying, God do fo to me and more alfo] Heb. And fo add. This is a form of imprecation, whereby more fevere vengeanceis wished for, if the thing sworn be not performed. See the notes on Ruth. 1.17. if Adonijah have not spoken this word against his own tife] Heb. foul. To cause it to be takenaway. See v. 24. Because the foul is the fountain of life, and life no longer abideth in a man, then his foul remainsth united to his body, the foul is frequently put for life, as Gen, 9.5. & 32.30. Exod. 4. 19. & 23.28.

1 Sam. 1955. 2 King. 14.3. V. 24. Now therefore as the Lord liveth, See chap. 1.29.

which hath established me in my kingdom ] See v. 12. infleed of David, who is dead. A throne is the proper feat of a king, Gen. 41.40. Deut. 17.18. 2 King. 10. 3, 2 Chron.

23. 20.

and who hath made me an house? A fair and royal family, 1 Sam. 2.35. & 25,28, 2 Sam. 7. 27. Exod. 1. 21. as he promifed] 2 Sam. 7. 12,13. For God is faithful who promifeth, Hebr. 10, 23.

Admirab shall be put to death this day? Because Solomon obferved Adonijahs ambitious and feditious spirit still to abide in him, and to remain reftlefs, he thought it not meet to put off in him, and to remain retities, no enough it not meet to put on his judgement one day; or to fuffer him any longer to live. V. 25. And him Solomon fent by the hand of Bensiah the fon of Jeboiada] See chap. 1.8. He gave charge and power to Be-naith to flay Adentiab. and he fell upon him that he dyed \ It was of old the custome for Captains and great Officers, in cases of apparent treasons and other capital crimes, upon the kings word, to flay malefactors, as 2 Sam. 1.15. & 4. 12. V. 26. And unto Abiathar the priest See chap. 1. 7.

faid the king, ] Solomon observing a new plot, begins to restrain all the Plotters.

Get thee to Anathoth unto thine own fields ] An thoth was one of the cities in the tribe of Benjamin that belonged to the priefts; and the fields thereabouts were in that respect the priests fields. Solomon commands Abiathar to get himfelf thither, fields. Solomon commands Abstante to get himself timers, the date in dilluke and natted of solomon, for he could not that there he might live a private like and medde no more with the priefs office. By this means was he kept from intermed-ling, as with cell of attail matters, so with all public affairs; and that here whe had fallen into apparent treation by joying with others.

with others.

for thou are worthy of death]: ] Heb. a man of death. Because he conspired with Adonitah, thap. 1. 7. and 2. 22.

Eut I will not put thee to death.] Here Solomon mixeth mercy with justice; and dealeth more favourably with him then with the rest : the reasons hereof follow. Because thou barest the ark of the Lord God before David my chap. 6.19. & 8.4.

And because thou hast been afflicted] Heb. thou hast afflicted thy

in all wherein my father was afflieted] Thou haft had a part and flyre in all my fathers troubles, by thine own voluntary and majorin an my rathers troubles, by theme own voluntary following of him, 1 Sam. 22.23. & 23.6,9. & 2 Sam. 15.24. Solomons piety to God and to his father David, moves him to spare Abiathar: To God, in that he was Gods prieft: To David, in that he was an ancient follower of him, above forty years, 1 Sam. 22 23. He might have allo respect to Davids promise, 2 Sam. 22 23. Solomon in mitigating Abiathars punishment, did as God himself oft doth, to such as in the ordinary course of their life do many good things; If in some cases they deserve severe punishment, he either mitigateth it or putteth it off to future times, 2 Chron. 19. 3. Efai. 39.8.

V. 27. So Solomon thrust out Abiathar from being priest unto the Lord | If priests or other ministers of the Church unwarrantably and unlawfully intermeddle in the great affairs of State, and commit capital or other crimes contrary to the good laws of the kingdom where they live, they make themselves hable to the penalties of those laws, and to censures of civil Magistrates. Of putting Abiathar from his place, see ver, 35.

that he might fulfil the word of the Lord, ] I Sam. 2. 31, 35. God oft in his wife and fecret providence, caufeth his word to be fulfilled by many that ayme at no fuch thing, as Gen. 42.9. & 50.20. compare,2 Sam. 12. 11: with 2 Sam. 16. 21. Act. 3. 17,18. But this manner of expressing the point, (that he might fulfil) implieth that Solomon aymed at this very end : and that he was induced thereupon to take this occasion of thrusting Abjathar from the priest-hood.

. . which he spake concerning the bouse of Eli] Abiathar was the fourth from Eli : for he was the fon of Ahimelech, the fon of Ahitub, (1 Sam. 22. 20.) the fon of Phineas, the fon of Eli, 1 Sam. 14.3. There is a Metonymie in the word boule: for house is oft put for them that dwell in the house, or appertain thereunto : as, for a mans family, flock, or posterity, Gen. 39. 5. & 45. 2. Judg. 4.17. Pfal. 115. 12.
in Shileb Shiloh was a city in the tribe of Enhraim. where the tabernacle was for many years, and where the tribes were wont to affemble together in Josias and the Judges times, Joh. 18.1. Judg. 21.19. 1 Sam. 4 3.4.

V. 28. Then tidings came Tidings of what befel Adonich and Abiathar, for such publick affairs foon spread fair and to Toab | For Joab lived not at the court. In fome copies is is read, to Solomon: but corruptly.

for Foab bad turned after Adonish This was a traiterous turning, chap. 17. though he turned not after Absolom J Vulg. Lat. after Solomon. So the Septuagint, and Josephus, but all corruptly. It is true indeed, that Toab turned not after Solomon, But that is not fo pertinent to the prefent point : for there are two, among other weighty reasons, why mention is here made of Joabs not turning after Abfalom. One to prevent an objection, which is this, Joab remained faithful to David when Abfalom, Achitophel Davids counfellour, and others, conspired against David.

herefore it is meet that Joab be spared, notwithstanding this last fact. The manner of expressing the cale, thus, though he turned not after Absalom, implyeth, that he is not thereupon to be spared. For though a subject in sundry particulars shew much faithfulness, yet if afterwards he prove a traitor, he may be dealt with as a traitor. If it be faid, Abiathar was not so dealt withal; it may be replyed, 1. That Solomon discerned a different disposition in the one and the other. Joab was of a more firring spirit, and a man of war- 2. Abiathar had not grieved David as Joab had done, 2 Sam, 3, 24, 25, 30, &c 19. 5,6. 3. Joab had in two other cases committed willful murther, 2 Sam, 3, 27. & 20.10. Another reason of this claufe, though he turned not after Abfalom, was to appravate his came, some or intra me after Anglaum, was to aggravate his conspiracy against Solomon. For it gives evidence, that Joab had his hand in this conspiracy against Solomon, not simply upon a feditious disposition; nor simply in dislike of Davids government; for then he would have manifested such a dispofition in Abfaloms case; but it appears, that what he now did, he did in dislike and harred of Solomon. For he could not ted a place of refuge. It is faid, (chap, 1, 49, ) of the confpirators, that every man went his way, namely, to his own house.

And Joab might think, that as David had passed by his murthers, fo Solomon might pass by this conspiracy, and he quietly live a private life. But when he heard that Adonijah was flain, and Abiathar put from his prieftly function, he thought it high faiber, 1 Chron. 16. 11,12. 2 Sam. 15,24,29. This was a time to shift for himself. It seems, he knew not where to sed duty proper and peculiar unto priests, Josha 3.6. The ark, see the altar: the rather, because Adonijah had there found favor. chap. I. 52. Of other reasons, see chap. I. 50. Of the raberacle, sec 1 Sam. 8.4. and caught bold on the horns of the Altar.] See chap. 1.50.

V. 29. And it was teld King Solomon] Kings use to have many eyes and ears, and matters of confequence are foon brought to their knowledg.

Then Solomon sent for Benaith, &c.] See v. 25.
V. 30. And Benaith came to the tabernacle of the Lord] He was fear thinter by the king.

and faid unto him, Thus faith the king.] No grudg of his own, but the kings charge put him on to do what he did.

Come forth.] Namely, from the tabernacle. Though it be not expressed in the kings speech, that he should call him forth. et the king might fay as much, or at least intend as much, to eep the altar, if it might be, from being polluted. See Exod.

And he said, Nay, He feared that if he came forth, he should not be spared.

but I will dye bere. He faid this, either in hope that they would not flay him there; or in a superstitious conceit of the lace, that it might be fome advantage to his foul to dye there.

And Benaish brought the king word again, faying, For he was loath of his own head to fined bloud at the altar. Thus faid foab, and thus he answered me. ] This intends the

V. 31. And the king faid unto him, Do as he hath faid, and fall pon him, ] These words may have a general reference onely to the taking away of his life. In this fence do many take Solomons charge, and Benaiahs execution thereof, because it is not Annotations on the first Book of Kings.

Chap. ij. expressely faid, he was flain at the altar : and because they s might pull him thence by force. For it was counted a kind of pollution of the altar, to fired mans bloud thereat. The law commands to take from the altar him that is to be put to death, Exod. 21. 14. So they dealt with Athaliah. 2 Chron. 23. 14,15. Chrift aggravateth the murthering of Zachariah. by this circumstance, that he was flain at the altar, Matth. 2 ? 35. Hereby alfo is Pilats cruelty aggravated, Luk. 12. 1. If he were flain at the altar, it was because it is better that bloud bethere flied (which was but a ceremony) then murther and treason be not punished, which is a moral matter. and bury him. ] For the honour of his place, (2 King. 9. 34.) and for his former fervice. Decent burial may be allowed to fuch as are not worthy to live.

that thou mast take away ] This is an especial reason, why Solomon took advantage from Joabs late confpiracy to cut him off. For bloud defileth the land; and the land cannot be cleanfed of the bloud that is shed therein, but by the bloud of him that flied it, Numb. 35 33. Certainly, David had it in his minde to revenge the bloud of Abner and Amala, whom Joab flew. The reasons why he did it not are rendred v. 6.

the innocent bloud which Forb fred ] Abners and Amala's bloud is stilled innocent, because they were nor worthy of death, in that cause for which Joab flew them. If it be objected, that Abner had flain Afahel Joabs brother, (2 Sam. 2. 23.) I answer, 1. He killed him in war, and that provoked thereunto by Asahel, 2 Sam. 2. 19. &c. 2. Joab did it not therefund by Alanet, 2 cam. 2. 19. 85. 2. Joan did it not in a right and legal way, 2 Sam. 3. 27. 3. It was another matter for which Joah flaw him: namely, a fear that David would prefer Abner before him, and make Abner General of the army. Upon the like ground Joab flew Amafa, 2 Sam.

from me, and from the house of my father, ] By this phrase, he meaneth all that came from his father, or should come from him, the posterity of both.

V. 32. And the Lord Shall return his bloul upon his own head. The vengeance of the bloud which he fied, fhall fall, even upon himself. See v. 37. His unjust and treacherous shedding the bloud of others, hath deferved that his bloud be shed. 3 Because the head is the principal part of man, is by a Synecdoche put forthe whole man. The phrase is used in conterring blef-fings, (as Gen. 49. 26. Deut. 33. 16. Prov. 10 6.) and inflicting judgements, as ch. 8. 32 .1 Sam. 25.39. Pfal.7. 16.

who fell upon two men more righteous and better then he] In that case, they were more righteous and better then he: for he was a murchose, and they moreous, for they were unjustly flain. That may be comparatively true, which is not imply. Abner and Amala were more righteous then Joab though they themselves were in many things unrighteous. Abner knew that God had appointed David to be king, 2 Sam. 3.9.10. Yet he did what he could to fet up Ishbosh th the fon of Saul, to be king, 2 Sam. 2.8,9. & 3.6. And Amasa took part with Absalom against David, 2 Sam. 17.25.

and flow them with the fword] 2 Sam. 3 27. & 20. 10.

my father David not knowing thereof] David knew nothing of Joabs purposes in those case, till Joab had executed the fame, 2.5m, 3. 26,37.

to wit Abure the saw of Mers 1 2. Sam, 3. 27.

captain of the boff of signal. As Joah was the General over the army of Judah, so Abner over the army of Israel,

2 Sam. 2. 8. and Amafathe son of Fether, ] 2 Sam. 20. 10. He is faid to be Captain for that time; because David had made him Ge-neral over the army of Judah, 2 Sam. 20, 4.8c. V. 33. Their bloud shall therefore return upon the head of

Foab] He means the vengeance of their bloud, as v. 32. and upon the head of his feed for ever : ] He means his posteridia apparate to the state of the feet of the term of the state of the

him. and upon his throne] Upon his kingdom. Shall there be peace for ever from the Lord. ] By peace, he meaneth all manner of bleffings. By executing judgement on the murtherer, the guilt is taken from the Magistrate. V. 34. So Benaiah the fou of Jehoiada went up] Benaiah being now the General of the army, is used as an inftrument to execute just vengeance, v. 25. He is said to go up, because the altar whither he fled was on the side of an hill.

and fell upon him and flew him, ] See v. 25. and he was buried in his own house] See v. 3 1.

in the wilderness.] A place in which there are but few inhabitants,is called a wilderness, Matt. 3.1. Act. 8. 26. In this respect, Joah might suppose that he could not besafe in his own house, and therefore fled, 25 y. 28. V. 35. Aud the ling put Bengiah the fon of Jehojadah | See chap. 1. 8. & 1 Chron. 11,22, in his room over the host] He made him General. and Zadok the priest did the king put in the room of Abiathar.] Zadok by lineal descent came from Phinehas: to shom the covenant of priesshood for ever was confirmed, Numb 25.11, 12.13. See Zadoks pedigree, i Chron. 6.3. &c. See his lolemn inauguration, 1 Chron. 29. 22. Zidok shad a double rightto be high priest, one by birth, another by special promife. By birth he was in a lineal descent the surviving heir to Aaron, as appears by the genealogy mentioned, 1 Chr. 6.2. &c. The special promite was made to Phinchas and his feed, Numb, 25. 13. But Zadok was the eldelt furviving feed, or fon of Phinehas. Abiathar came from Eli, as v. 27. How Eli came to be chief priest is not recorded in scripture. Solomon therefore had just cause to take the advantage that was given him by Abiathars conspiracy with Adonijah, to put him down, and to place Zadok in the priefts office. V.36. And the king fent and called for Shimei] This is that Shimei of whom David had given to Solomon a strait charge v. 8. This questionless was the cause that moved Solomon to feek advantage against him. It is the part of a child's piety test auraninge againt unit. It is the part of a unit of perty to be very careful in oblerving hisparents charge; especially when it is his last charge upon his death-bed, and said auto him, Build thee an house in Jerusalum and dwell there] Solomon gave this charge, that Shimei might be the more in his eye, and kept within compass. Though Shimei were not among those that conspired with Adonijah; but a-mong those at abode faithful to David, (chap. 1.8.) Yet Solomon might well reftrain him from abiding at his own house, because it was in the tribe of Benjamin, of which tribe Saul was : and thereupon many of that tribe might bear no good will to Davids house; but fir up Shimei against the king. Or the Philitines bordering there upon, he might by them be ftirred up against Solomon, and those that took part with him. Kings use to be jealous over all persons that may in the least degree be fufpected. and go not forth thence any whither.] This inhibition was that fnare wherewith he was taken. V. 37. For it fhall be, that on the day thou goeft out ] The inhibition is absolute, no limitation or exception granted. and paffeft over the brook Kidron, ] Kidron was a river be twixt Jerulalem and Bahurim, which was the inheritance of Shimei, (See 2 Sam, 16 5.) whereunto he could not go but over that river, 2 Sam. 15.23. Jer. 31. 40. Job. 18.1. This river Kidron was by that place where good kings did use to burn idolatrous monuments, 2 Chron, 15. 16. & 29.16. 2 King. 23. 6. It faid to be about a mile from Jerufalem : fo as Shimei had space enough to walk abroad for his recreation and health. He was not confined to close imprisonment. and heatth. He was not commed to close imprisonment, thou flath throw for certain. Held. Invaring thou flath throw, that show that fatch dye: I Heb, dying then flath size. Of this Hebrailm in deabling words, fee chap. 8: 13: thy bland flath be upon thine own heat.] None but thy felf shall be accounted guilty of thy death; thou wilt be the cause than he accounted gointy or try death; thou while the caule thereof, John 1:19. Matt. 1; 2.5; Ezek, 18,1; .

V. 38. And shined faid mue the filing, the faying it good: ]
It is just and equals, King. 20.19. He being conficusts to the wrong he had done to David, could not but acknowledg his confinement to be meet in its felf, and lefs then his defert. as my lord the king bath faid fo will thy fervant do.] Little did he think that he should have occasion to transgresse the fore-faid charge. He binds himfelf thereto by oath, v. 43. And Simei dwelt in Jerufalem many dayes.] He carefully observed the charge, till an occasion was offered of break-

V. 39. And it came to pass at the end of three years ] So long

Shimei had kepthimfelf free from danger.
that two of the fervants of Shimei ran away] Those two fervants had agreed in some evil, that made them to flye away.

unto Achifb] Is is probable that this Achifh was he to whom David went, 1 Sam. 2. 10 and with whom he abode a year and four moneths, 1 Sam. 27-7. Or he might be some other king of Gath. For kings use to hold their predecessors names. Thus kings of Egypt, one after another, were called Pharaoh :

and of the Amalekites, Agag: and of Tyre, Hiram: and of Syria, Antiochus: and of Pontus, Mythridates: and of Emperors of Rome, Casfar, See chap. 11. 40.

fon of Maachah hing of Gath: ] See the notes on 1 Sam. 5.8. There was then peace betwixt the Ifraelites and the Philiftines:

fo as one might freely pass to the other.

and they told Shimei saying, Behold, thy servants be in Gath. This might be told by fuch as knew the danger of Shimer's paffing over Kidron: and to it was an act of envy: or elfe by fuch as were willing to help Shimei to his fervants again: and fo it was an act of good will.

V. 40. And Shimei arose,] This implies his diligence and speed in following after his servants. and fadled his affe,] This was a means of greater speed in going and returning.

and went to Gath to Achifh to feek his fervants,] His covetous minde made him venture his life : at leaft much rafhnefs and unadvisedness was manifested herein. Shimei might well have suspected that Solomon had some cause or other to confine him; and that upon fo great a penalty as death; and withal be himfelf had cause to fear, that fome or other observing as he himself had cause to sear, that some or other observing his passing over the river Kidron, might inform Solomon thereof. They of whom a king hath any suspicion, should be very watchful over themselves, lest they give him any advan-

and Shimei went and brought his fervants from Gath.] He had what he went for, but it cost him dear, even his own

V. 41. And it was told Solomon, that Shimei was gon from Forusalem to Gath, and was come again.] Kings have more eyes then their own. This should have made Shimei the more circumspect. But surely all this was ordered by a divine providence : For howforver David, upon Shimei's acknowledgment of his fault, did not onely spare him for the present, but also Josh. 2. 9. Heb. 11. 31 (ware that he should not dye, namely, by him at that time, 8.) and sundry others. 2 Sam. 19.16. &c. Yet God so brought it to pass, that so hainous a fact as Shimei committed, (2 Sam. 16.5.&c.) fhould not remain unrevenged. Though notorious offenders may for fome time escape, yer vengeance will follow and over-take them, fooner or later.

V. 42. And the king fent and called for Shimes, and faid unto bim, ] The justice and prudence of Solomon, doth clearly appear in this, that he fends for Shimei, and fo reasoneth and appear in this, 'that he lends to Shimei, and to reasoned and expollulateth the case with him, as he makes him differen the equity of the kings proceeding against him: so as he is thereby put to silence, and hath nothing to object against what Solo-

Did not I make thee to fwear by the Lord, ] See chap. 1. 17. and protested unto thee, faying, ] This phrase implyeth a feri ous carriage of the matter.

Know for a certain, that on the day, &c. ] This was the very charge that Solomon gave him, v. 37.

And thou fields unto me, The word that I have heard it good. This was Shimei's expresse answer, v. 38. Solomon produceth This was Shimer's experfe anifwer, v. 38. Solomon production capped to the free evidences agained Shimer; the more to construce him of the Guern, difficilled from his own. This he joyned to his his fault, and of the juffnel's jot his pusifiment. One was his own, and therefore fift findlich his own. on the whore the bound himself to God, for performing what said belonger to End. 3 Chap, 6.37,38. By the house his fault, and of the juffices of his punishment. One was his oath whereby he bound himself to God, for performing what Solomon injoyned. Another, the kings strict charge and so-lemn protestation thereabout. A third, his own confession of creature could free him from that oath. Thus mens yows are verce restruct could ties him from that cath. Thus mens vows are recreative could like him from that cath. Thus mens vows are verce restructed by the control of the contro

V. 44. The king faid moreover to Shimei,] The king herein declareth the true and just ground of his proceedings against Shimei from the beginning to the end.

Thou knowest all the wickedness which thy heart is privy to,

He implyeth hereby, that he need no other witness against him, then the testimony of his own conscience.

zealous against injuries done to their parents as to them-therefore the Lord fhall return] Solomon puts him in minde of Gods just dealing with him, to justifie himself therein, and to bring Shimei to a more ferious confideration of the of- and not the tabernacle made by Moles. ffence, to deeper humiliation for it, and to more thorough repentance.

thy wickedness upon thine own bead.] He means the punishment of his wickedness.

V. 45. And Ling Solomon Shall be bleffed, ] Solomonis fo far from fearing any curfe to fall upon him for executing just shall in that reject be bleffed of the Lord Numb. 25.11,12.

and the throne of David That is the kingdom which David for his life time held, and was after continued to his posterity. A throne being the proper feat of a king, is here Synecdochi-cally put for the whole kingdom.

[lall be established] Execution of justice establisheth a king dom, Pfal. 106. 30.

before the Lord | That is to remain firm and stable in the fight of the Lord, and through his watchful care and provi- to Benjamins lot, Jofh. 18. 25. but was given to the Levites to dence over it.

for ever ] Both in Solomons time and in future ages, generafor every both in Solomous time and in future ages, genera-tion after generation. See chap. 8. 13. V. 46. And the king commanded Benajah] See v. 24. which went out and fell upon him.] For it was not usual to fall upon malefactors in the kings prefence.

that be dyed, ] Sec v. 25. Herein Solomon accomplished his fathers charge v. 9.

and the kingdom was established in the hand of Solomon, I 2 Chron. 1.1. For now the contrary faction was destroyed. and there were none left to raife head against him.

CHAP, III.

And Solomon made affinity] This affinity was by Solomons marrying Pharaohs daughter. See 2 Chron, 18, 1. It is more then probable, that Pharoahs daughter professed the faith of Israel, was made a profeste and taken into the Church, as Zipporah, (Exod. 18. 2.) Rahab, John 2, 9. Heb. 11. 21.) Ruth. 1. 16. Maachah, ( 2 Sam. 2.

with Pharoab] See chap. 11.40. and Gen. 12.17.
king of Egypt,] Egypt bordered on the fouth of Ifrael, (Numb. 34. 3,4.5.) fo as the king of Israel and the king of Egypt, might have the greater familiarity one with another. And these two kings being the most renowned kings of all the world at that time, might thereupon be the more forward to make affinity one with the other.

and took phasahs daughter, He took her to wife and married her. So is this word uled, 2 Chron. 11, 20. Sometimes the word wife is added, as 1 King. 4. 15. Gen. 6. 2. Ruth 1.4. In this, as in many other things, Solomon was a type of Christ. As Solomon married Pharaohs daughter, an alien; so Christ espoused the Gentiles to himself.

and brought her into the city of David See chap. 2. 10. In this city was Solomons court; David built this city, and in it his palace, 1 Chron.11.7. until he had made an end of building bu own house, [ For this place was too firsit for fuch a Princels and her retinue. See chap. 7.8, There is intimation of a very fair sumptuous house of the Lord, is meant the temple, which was like an house, with foundation, wals, partitions, roof, &c. and it was dedirema protestation tractions. A landou air o'na Contention of the cuties was wholly in the power of the Lord to binde him to it, or to was Solomons zeal about building and perfecting this house as loofe him from it. Nor Solomon, nor Shimei, nor any other he would not think of a special house for the Queen, till this were perfected.

withflanding the commendation given him, ver. 3.) was brought into that common errour, as Jacob, David, and others, into polygamie.

because there was no house built, &c.] This reason (though is te implyeth acress, that is seen some confesence.

that thou didft to David my faither: Pieus children are as fact: for it intimated that they used the high places for more and better conveniences, as they thought.
umo the Name of the Lord ] See chap. 5. 3.

untill those dayes.] This phrase shews, that by the house before mentioned was meant the temple which Solomon built,

V. 3. And Solomon loved the Lord, This is the ground of all duty: and it comprises all duty under it, (Matt. 22. 36, 37. Rom. 13.10.) It also putteth a man on to all duty, 2 Cor.5. 14. This evidenced the fincerity and ardency of his heart to God.

walking in the statutes of David his father : ] Those wherein judgement on a malefactor, as he rather accounts himfelf bleffed therein. Such as execute veggeance on transgressors, to walk in, chap. 2.2. Of this relation of his father, see chap. 8. 15.

onely | See ver. 2. he [acrificed ] He offered facrifices by the ministry of and burnt incense ] See chap. 9. 25.

in high places.] See ver. 4.

V. 4. And the king went to Gibeon J Gibeon was that great city, which yielded to the Ifraclires, Joth. 9. 3. &c. and fell dwell in, Josh, 21, 17. There was the tabernacle of the Lord, Chap. iii. ( 1 Chron. 16. 20.) and the altar of burnt-offering, I Chro. schild for his fathers sake, may be accounted to be kest fur the 21.29. to facrifice there | See v. z.

to farifice there] seev. 2. for the mest be great high place used to be on an hill, whereon fair spreading trees grew; under which they erected altars for farifices, Ezek. 20. 28,29. Idolatrons II-raelites super-littions by used such bigh places, and the groves upon them, (1 King. 14.23. 2 Chron. 33.3.) and that in imitation of the heathen. But the true worshipers of God, imitation of the neathen. But the true worthipers of Goo, used them as convenient places, from the time that the ark and tabernacle were removed from Shilob. The first high place that we read of, to be used by the people of God, is mention ned, I Sam. 9.12. (See the note there) This is here faid to be the great high place, in fundry respects. 1. By reason of the spaciousness and fairness of the place. 2. In regard of the mulerude of people that reforted thereto. 3. Because of the choice titude of people mat reiotted tuereto. 3. Decaute or the enote perfons that frequented it, as the chief priefs and Levites, (1 Chron.16.30.) Yea, David and Solomon with their Princes and Courtours. 4. In relation to that tabernacle and altar which Mofes built, and was there pitcht, 1 Chron.21.29. Of groves, See chap. 16. 22.

roves, see camp. 16. 33.

a thouland [5 see chap. 8. 63.

burnt offering [] See v. 15. fee allo Gen. 8. 10. & Levit. 1.4.

did solution offer on that alta! See chap. 8. 64.

V. 5. In Gibson the Lord appeared to Solution [] He evidently manifested that it was God himself that spake to the King. in a dream] While Solomon was a fleep, as Gen. 28. 11. &c. fee ver. 15. Among the manifold waies whereby God of old made known his minde to his people, drams were one. In dreams sometimes men heard a voice, and conceiving the fence thereof, returned an answer thereto, as ver. 6. Sometimes visions and representations of things were set before their eyes, as, (Gen. 28.13. Yea, fometimes true, real objects, as, Gen. 31.10. Hereby God sheweth, that he can to admiration inftruct men, even when they are left capable of admiration infracts men, even when they are tert capacie of infraction: they being affeep, and all their fenfes bound from executing their functions. Though in dreams men of fancy and imagin things which are not, (as Ifa. 29.8.) and though the devil makes men in dreams to conceive falle things, (Zacch. 10.2.) yet the things made known by God in dreams were most true : and his servants to whom he made them known were affured thereof, Job. 33.15,16. So here in this dream.

by night] In that night, (2 Chron. 1.9.) after he had offered up his facrifices. Hereby God shewed, how acceptable Sored up as sacrinces. Hereby God thewed, now acceptable ob-lomons facrifices were. (o Gen. 8. 20, 21. Exod. 15, 13, 14. And God fata, anywhat I float give theel God propounded this question to Solomon, to try and manifest his disposition. The like, though not in such an extraordinary manner, is propounded to every believer, Matt. 7.7. Joh. 16.23. Jam. 1.5.
V. 6. And ] Prefently without further demur upon the matter. Solomon faid I In this sleep and dream, v.i.z. For hereupon he had high thoughts when he was awake, and Solomon had oft before desired such things as here he did of God: whereupon the answer was so ready in his dream. thou haft [hewed] Heb. done.

unto thy fervant David] This title is oft given to David, by reason of his faithfulness to God all the dayes of his life. See Pfal. 78.70,72. The like title is oft given to Moles, upon Pfal. 98,70,72. The like tutle is oft given to zeroes, upon the fame ground, Numb. 11,72, my Jinko ] See chap. 8.17, great meroj Or, bounty. That which in the foyalty of Gods minde, and greatness of the gift, may well be called bounty, may allo in regard of the freeness of Gods grace, and the need wherein we stand thereof, be called mercy.

according as] This fets out Davids answerable carriage to Godsmercy. God may order his reward according to mans able to God, if it be a true defire of heart. And God knows inward disposition and outward carriage, (as Rom. 2.6.) and yet in mercy do what he doth, Pfal. 62.12. For nothing in man, or done by man, can be the proper caufe of reward; but it may be a qualification, whereby God fitteth men for re-he walked before thee] See chap. 2.4. in truth ] Truth diftinguished from uprightness of heart, the state of the s

righteoufnels, Ifa. 48.1.

an inward finere manner of performing that which we do, to their hurs, Eccle. 5, 12.

(I Chron. 29. 17. All these must be taken of Davids inward | nor hast as (ed the life of thine counties, ] Heb. the foul. Their disposition, and of his outward conversation in the general ruine and utter destruction. Ruine of enemies may make men course thereof, so far as humane frailty suffered him. For we too insolent, secure, and careles, Plal. 14.29.

read of many failings in these, and thou hast kept for him ] The promise was made to David, father, Pfal. 89. 20, 28. & 132.11. 2 Sam. 7.15.

the great kindness So David accounted it, 2 Sam. 7.19. And as the fetting of Solomon upon the throne was great in it felf; so the rescuing of it from Adonijahs conspiracy, made it appear to be the greater.

that thou hast given him a son to six on his throne ] This was that gerat kindness which Solomon meant. as it is this day For even then, David being dead, Solo-mon his beloved fon, whom he defired to fucceed him, was

V. 7. And now, O Lord my God See chap. 8. 28. thou hast made thy servant This title he ascribeth to himfelf for honour fake, (for it is a great honour to be Gods fer-vant) and to binde himfelf to loyalty and faithfulness unto king] He truly acknowledgeth that God had conferred that royal dignity upon him.

syal cugnity upon min.
infleed of David my father] See chap. 8.15.
and I am but a little childe] He had now a fon, chap. 14.21. This therefore is here spoken siguratively, in relation to the great charge which was committed unto him. He was but a little child to fway fo great a Scepter as was put into his hand ; 10 1 Chron, 22. 8. &t 20.1. Ter. 1.6.

I know not how to go out or come in ] To order and govern the people. This is a comparison taken from Captains or Shepherds. See Numb. 27. 17. Deut. 31. 2. Jofh. 14. 11 1 Chron, 1. 10.

V. 8. And thy servant ] See v. 7.

is in the midft of thy people ] A supream governor, about whom they all stand.

which thou haft chofen.] To be thy church, thy peculiar people, Exod. 19.4,5. Deut. 7. 6. & 10. 14,15. Magistrates fet over Gods church need in that respect the more wisdom.

a great people ] In number, as the words following thew, Numb. 20. 20.

that cannot be numbred | This shews the accomplishment of Gods promife, Gen. 15.5. & 32.12. The phrase is hyperboli-

Sods promise; Sen. 15.5. 6. [2.12. Amp parameter suppersonant, call: fee 2 Chro. 1.9.

nor columed for multisude.] A pleanafin. By how much greater ought his care to be once change it, by for much the greater cught his care to be once change it, by for much the greater or coght his care to be once change in the factor of the property of the propert therefore] Because he was a governor over a great people ; therefore he defireth ability, well to govern them : fo as governors are fet over for peoples good, Pfal. 78, 7 s.

thy fervant ] See v. 7.

an understanding ] Heb.besting. For understanding comes by hearing: By an understanding heart he meaneth knowledge and wildom, 2 Chro. 1.10. fee v. 11. By knowledg men un-derstand and conceive matters; by wildom they well order and dispose them:

to judg thy people] Withour understanding a kingdom cannot be well governed; and understanding is given of God, and attained by hearing his Word.

and actumency by enaring in s Word.

that I may differen between good and bad : ] Herein a special part of understanding consistent. Thus may governors best know how to carry themselves towards every one.

for who is able to judg this thy so great a people? ] Without understanding and wisdom given from above, none can do it.

V. 10. And the speech pleased the Lord, Heb. In the eyes of the Lord. The greater the people is, the harder it is to govern that Solomon had asked this thing.] This pleafed the Lord that Solomon had asked fuch a thing. Defire of ability well to manage the talent that God commits to a man, is very acceptwhen a mans defire is fuch.

V. 11. And Godfaid unto bim, ] God foon manifestech his approbation of such things as please him.

Because thou bust assess this thing ] That which is mentioned, and haft not asked for thy felf | Such things as might feem most pleasing and profitable to thy felf; such as mens heart by neither haft asked riches for thy felf, ] Riches without underand in uprightness of heart with thee, ] This hath respect to standing well to use them, may be kept for the owners of them.

but hast asked for thy felf understanding : ] See v.g. to differn judgment. ] Heb. to hear. By hearing causes on and continued to Solomon. Now what is done to a mans both fides, men may the better know what judgment to give, ВБББ 2 Chap. ii).

By this God fhews how he taketh diftinct notice of that which | fometimes for retributions, as Plal 56.12. Ifai 19.21. In both men moft defire.

V. 12. Bebold, I have done according to thy word : ] Or, th defire, or, prayer. His words were untered in form of a prayer, and thereby the defire of his heart was manifested. Gods doing according to Solomons word, may move believers to reft on God, for obtaining what they defire according to his will.

1 Joan 5. 14.

by I have given thee] These two words, Behold, lo, are the same in the Hebrew. The repeating of them shews that this matter is very remarkable.

a wife and an understanding beart,] This was the thing Solo mon craved, v.o.

fe that there was none like thee, @c. ] Herein God went be yond Solomons express desire, whereby he verifieth, Thathe gives above what we ask, Ephe. 3. 20. See an exemplification hereof, chap. 4. 19, &c.

V. 12. And I have also given thee that which thou hast not asked] Marth. 6. 33. I have determined to give thee such and such things. Thou may he be affured in due time to have all.

inch tanings. In our may to entire a must that to sure all, both riches and bown : I had are those other things which are included in this promise. First seek the kingdom of God, and bis righton seet, and all these things soul be added anto you, Matth. 6.33. God granted in the former part a greater macfure of that thing which Solomon desired, then he desired; and in this latter part, he grants other things then he defired.

fo that there shall not be ] Or, hath not been. The Hebrew word may be applyed , both to time past, and to time to any among the kings like unto thee all thy days.] Nor before not any among to kings up a time none as so you any. I Not never not fince Soolmons time, was there any king in fired that exceeded him in the things here promifed; namely, riches and bonor. As for heathen monarchs, who may be thought to exceed him in riches and bonor, they wanted that true wisdom which Solomon had, whereby Solomons riches and honor were fo ordered, as they exceeded theirs.

V. 1 4. And if thou wilt walk in my ways, ] See chap. 2. 3, 4. God addeth conditions to his promifes, that men thereby may know how far the promifes do belong unto them.

as the faber David did walk.] Chap.15.5. Approved exam-ples are directions and incitations, which them what mult or may be done. They are as guides before us, effectally appro-ved examples of patents; which being imitated by children, the memory of worthy parents will remain precious and bleffed and the bleffing on children will thereby be multiply-then will I lengthen thy days. Long life in the way of righteoutnets (Pfal. 91.16.) is a bleffing.

V. 15. And Solomon amole,] God would have him fentibly discern the truth of what was promised.

and behold, it was a dream; ] A dream worth the heeding and become to ferufatem, 1 Of Jeru alem fee Josh, 15.8. & 18.28. Judg. 1.8. 2 Sam. 5. 6. Zion called the city of David (chap. 2. 10.) was within the compass of Jerusalem; so as the ark being in Zion, must also needs be in Jerusalem: in which respect Jerusalem is called the holy city, Nehe. 11. 1,18. Isai. 52.1. And it was an especial type of the church, Plal. 51. 18. 92.1. And It was an especial type of the caured, 1/21. 51. 18. Hai. 62. 1, 7. & 66. 20. Revel. 21. 2. Of the notation of Jerufalem, see 1 Chron. 11. 4. and fised before the ark of the coverant of the Lord, ] See Exod.

am prea sepre mear of necessaring to Lora, ) see Exod.

0, 3,20. Numb 10,33. In the ark was the Law kept (Deut.

10,1) which is filled the covenant: fee chap.6.19.

and offered up 1 In way of thankfulness to God; for the kindness of the Lord shewed to him.

burnt-offerings, The Hebrew word 77.10 translated burnt-offering, fignifieth, that which afcendeth: because it was all lift up upon the altar, and there being burnt, it afcended in all littly upon the altas, and there being sourts, it alternded in the vapor, of molecule thereof, unto heavyn. There is an other word alloufed for the fame thing, """ I that which he whole, or, all of it, it is in our Benjills remained the whole home-affering, Pilafs. 10, and whole home-affering, Pilafs. 10, and whole home-affering, plus, 33, 10. The Greek translations turn both words howedgestones, an holbeath, or, whole home-affering is for the whole heaft being flayed and ut in pieces, was laid on the altar and hum, Levitt, 18, 39, 13. It was officed up, to make anomemen for the officer (Levitt. 4, 9). and to procure reconciliation for him with God. It twoified and to procure reconciliation for him with Dool. I typhted Chrift offering up of his whole [61], and that to make atonement for us with God, Heb. 10, 5, 2c. In this relpect, God is lid to finellal Neter Garet. 2s. 1; Levit. 1, 9. It did allo morally let out the prefenting of our bodies wholly to God farvice, Rom. 1. 2. 1. That offering with was flited a fine offering, was allo for an atonement and to make reconstillation between God and the finener, Exod. 5, 10. No. 16, 10, 33. Of freewil-offerings. See Ezra 3.5.

and offered peace-offerings, ] The Hebrew word = 1270, is fometimes put for marters of peace, as Gen. 34. 21. and the had a childe.

these acceptions may the word, applyed to facrifices, be taken: For on Gods part, they did import grace, peace, bleffing obrained 3 on mans part, thanks and praife returned. In this refpect it is filled a facrifice of thankigiving, Levit.7. 12,13,15.

It used to be a voluntary facrifice, and therefore it might be of male or female, Levit, 3.1. But the burnt-offering was onely male or female, Levis, 3.1. But the bume-effering was onely of the male, Levit. 1.3, 3 and that was all burnt; whereas the fat onely of the peace-offering was burnt, Leviz.3, 3,95. All the fleth was for the Priefits, Levizes, and people, Leviz., 15, 19. The peace-offerings, being of beath flain, typified Chrill, who by his death became our peace, Ephel. 3.13, 14, 8c. They did also morally let out our duty of giving thanks and yielding praife to God, Heb.3.14, with facrifices, which were of living creatures, three tiefs to be joyned meat-offerings and drink offerings. Chap. 8.6, a. Chon. 29.21. These were fo called, because they were to be eaten and drunken. For as the priefts had a part of the flesh of the sacrifices to eat ; fo they had also of the meat-offerings for bread, and of the drink-offerings for drink. The mest-offerings were of fine flowre and oyl kned together, and thereof were made loaves, or cakes, or wafers, (Exod. 29.23.) and being feafoned with falt, were baked, or fryed, or broyled, and with incense were offered up to God, Levit. 2.1, &c. The meat-offering was an otiered up to Vool, Levil.2.1.cc. . He meat-ontering was an especial type of Chrift, the bread of life (John 6.3.7.) an-oyned with the Spirit, (Luke 4.18.) whose intercetion is a freeci mense, Revel.8.2. . It also fee forth faints, brought as a meat-offering to the Lord, (Iliaiah 66.10.) being fifted from the brand for coruptions, and made'as fine flowre, by faith and entance; being also anoyated and leasoned with the graces of Gods Spirit, offering up unto God the incense of their prayers in the mediation of Christ, Plal. 141, 2, Mal. 1, 11 Drink offerings were of wine, or other ftrong liquor. (Exod. Drink offerings were of wine, or other ftrong liquor. (Exod. 23-40-44). This ultid to be pomed out upon the altar, Num. 15.5. This was a type of Chrifts blood poured out for tus, which was drink indeed, John 6.5.5; in that our dry thirtly fouls are through faith retrefined therewish; which is allor re-presented in the flearmental wine of the Leftst logger. It also flearlessues, Phila. 47. Of their mean and drain-offerings. Carlisteaute, Phila. 47. Of their mean and drain-offerings. Central caute, Phila. 47. Of their mean and drain-offerings. General they were forbilded to drink wine and flrong drink, when they were about their ferrices. Legis. 10. a. Ext. 42. 24. when they went about their fervice, Levit, 10, a. Ezek, 44, 21 vet at other times they might dripk both wine and frrong drink. yet a tother times, they might drink both wine and ftrong drink, Jewill Expolificors Say. That they were not finply forbid to drink wine or ftrong drink, but rather fach a mealure of the one of the other, a might mile them unit for their fervice. This provision, which the Lord made for the ministers of the Law, did then, That they which preached the Golpel, fhould live of the Golpel, See 1 Corn. o. 7, 8c. and made 2 of pit to all the fervant.] Bry fervains are here and made 2 of pit to all the fervant.] Bry fervains are here meant subjects, amongst whom officers of several tribes; and all others that came to this folemnity, are comprised. This he did, to teftifie his respect to his subjects, and to quicken their spirits, See chap. 8.65. Solomons subjects had the greatest benefit of that wisdom which God bestowed upon him. He doth therefore most prudently quicken up their spirits to thank.

V. 16. Then came there two women ] After the forefaid dream, these came, that by an evidence of Solomons wisdom, it might be the better discerned, see v. 28. God hereby doth give assurance to Solomon of the accomplishment of his promile, v. 12. and allo gives evidence to Solomons subjects; yea, and to such of other nations as should hear thereof, of that extraordinary measure of wildom, which he had wrought in him, chap. 4. 31,34.

that were harlots, ] Either the law (Deut. 23.17.) was neglected; or these were concubines; or victualers, as some take Rahab to be, Josh. 2. 1. If they were wives or concubines, their husbands might be from home, about some special affairs.

If they were harlots, they had better affections to their children, then for the most part harlots now have: For in these days, they use all the means they can to make away their, unto the king, and flood before him. The king was now off his throne, ready to hear complaints; they therefore come be-fore him to have their case decided. The persons were mean but the case was very difficult, and they knew not to whom elfo they might flie for judgment in fuch a cafe.

- V. 17. And the one woman [aid, ] Namely, the true mother of the living childe.

Omy lord, This is a phrase of complaint. So v. 26. and

Gen. 43. 20.
I and this woman dwell in one boufe,] This was the ground of the deceit, and of the miftake.

and I was delivered of a childe, with her in the houfe.] So as the other woman was with this at her travel, and knew that 19. 11]. A minotations on the state of the s chamber. there was no firanger with us in the houfe. I she means no other woman , at left in the night time, when the one took a childe from the other; fo as there were no witnesses to prove or difprove the matter in difference. fave we two in the houfe.] This made the cafe fo difficult as it was; and was the reason why Solomon used such an unusual way of finding out the truth of it as he did.

V. 10. And this womans childe died in the night; I This circumflance made the case the more difficult; for there was no cummance made the cate the more diment; for there was no hope of any ones coming to them in the night, because she overstaid it.] By her arms, or some other part of her body lying upon the mouth of the childe, the smoothered it. Many children by the carelesines of heavy and drousse women, have in all ages been thus made away.

V. 20. And she anose as midnight, The darkest time of the night, and the time of deepest sleep, when sewest are stirring. Thus the takes her fittest opportunity to accomplish her milchievous plot, Job 13, 15,16,17. and took my (on from belide me. 1 Though the childe might feem fafe in the mothers bofome, yet unawares it was ftoln while thine handmaid flept, ] They against whom mischief is intended, oftentimes fleep securely, while they who work the evil. watch.

and laid it in her besome, and laid her childe in my besome. She had rather have a living childe, though anothers, then her own dead.

V. 11. And when I rofe in the morning to give my childe fuel, ]

She calls it hor childe, because the supposed it had been her own, knowing nothing a that timte to the contaxy whither the were an hardoor no; yet to give such was a nothers proper duty. See the note on Gent. 21.7. behold it was dead : 7 She means the childe that was laid by but when I had confidered is in the morning, I When the day-light appeared, the throughly viewed it. So much doth this word confider import. Plal. 119. 95. Job 37. 14. Islah 43: 18.

bebold, it was not my fon which I did bear.] Another can foon effey, and well different of rown cause.
V. 21. And the other woman feld, Nay 1 The falls mother contradicts the other, because there was no witness to disprove bus the living is my fon, and the dead is thy fon, ] She is as peremptory in her affeveration, as if it had been a truth. And this faid, Nay, but the dead is thy fon, & c.] She that had the truth on her fide, would not be overcome by the impudency

Thus they flake before the king. They contended one against

V. 23. Then faid the king, The one faith, &c.] The king rethat there was no apparent evidence to discover which party a tryal as he intended.

V. 24. And the king faid, Bring mea [word : ] This he called for, meerly for tryal, as Gen. 22.2. Lee v.27.

And they brught a fiscal before the king. They could not know the kings end in calling for a fword, yet they yield obedience to his command, which fubjects thay and ought to do in civil marters not unlawful.

V. 25. And the kine faid. Divide the living childe in two. The fequel flews, that he intended not to flay the living childe, but to discover the rute mother, as he did.

and give half to the one, and half to the other. ] His charge being so punctual, all that heard it, thought that he meant as he spake : Whence arose another contention Berwixt the

V. 26. Then hake the woman whose the living childe was unto the king.] She knowing the childe to be her own, could not in this case hold her peace for her bowels yerned upon her fon, ] Heb. were hot. Such compassion in such a phrase is attributed to God, Jerem.

and the faid, O my lord.] See v. 17.
give her the living child, ] She had rather that her adversary thould have the comfort of her childe, then the childe be flain. This thews her motherly affection.

and in no wife flay it : ] See chap.8. but the other (aid, let it neither be mine nor thine, but divide it.]

and in no wife flay it. Heb. flaying do not flay it. See chap.

8. 13. This thewrs, that he intended not to flay the childe when he called for a fword.

when he caused for a tword.

See the mother shereof. ] She hath plainly declared by her affection to the childe, that she is the true mother thereof.

V. 28. And all Ifrat! ] All forts of people in that nation, great and mean, good and bad.

great and mean, good and bad, bard of the indexions which the king had judged.] For it was a jud and rightenss judgment, given upon good evidence, and they feared the king. ] The before the king, face of the king. Good and jult men revenenced the king, upon expectation of rightenss judgment to be executed by him; but wrong doers heared left their early devices include be discovered by him. Thus respectively all feared him for they fare that the wifdom of God ] Most excellent and extraordinary wifdom, is filled, the wifdom of God, as Gen. 23. 6. and 30.8. P(al.36.6. and 80.10. 1 Chron.12.22. Ezek, 10. 5. It was also called the wildom of God, because it was wisdom given and inspired by God, Jam.1.5.

was in him] Heb. in the midst of him. Job 20.14, to do judgment. ] This is the most eminent grace that can be na governor as he is a governor , Deut. 1. 16. 2 Sam. 8. 15. Jer. 21.12.

CHAP, IIII.

CO hing Solomon was hing over all Ifrael] He means all the twelve tribes; over which no king after him did reign; no, nor David his father in the beginning of his reign, 2 Sam, 5, 5. At first, onely the men of Judah annointed David over the house of Judah, 2 Sam. 2.4. And there was long war betwist the house of David and the house of Saul, 2 Sam. 3. t. whereby David was kept from reigning over other tribes. When Abner and Ishbosheth were both slain, then, and not before, came all the tribes, and annointed David king over Ifrael, a Sam. 5.1,3. Solomons fon, who succeeded him in the throne, loft ten tribes, chap. 12.16. So as he and all his posterity reigned over two tribes onely chap, 12, 21.
V. 2. And these were the princes which he had ] By whose ministry he governed the kingdom, according to Jethro's advice, Exed. 18. 21. The number and order of the following governours are recorded, not onely to fee out Solomons riches governours are recorded, not entry to let out Solomors riches and glory, but allo his wildom. See class 10-25, If the variety of diffine functions, and benefits which redouned to king and filter threety, be duly observed, admirable wildom in ordering them, may clearly be differented. Azariab heiga of Zadely II Zadok the prieft, (chsp.3.35) be here meant, Azariah was his grand-childe, a Chrón 6.8.96.

But the Hebrew word 1773 fignifieth a fecular prince, as well as an ecclefiaftical prieft. This title is given to Davids fons. (2 Sam, 8. 18.) who are faid to be chief about the king, Chron. 18.17. It is also given to Ira Davids chief officer. 2 Sam. 20.26. And fo Nathan, Solomons principal officer, v. 5. And to Josephs father in law, (Gen. 21.45.) And to Moies his father in law, Exod. 2.16. It is therefore most probable that another Zadok is here meant; and that this Azariah was a vice-roy under Solomon, as, Dan. 6.2,3. and as Gen. 41.44.
the priest] Or, the chief officer.
V. 3. Eliboreph, and Abiah the sons of Shisha, Shisha the father of these two scribes, is supposed to be the same that is stilled Sheva, a Sam. 10. 25, and that he trained up his two fons in his own calling; and made them fo expert there-in as moved Solomon to chuse them to be his feribes. As Solomon retained many of his fathers officers in their places. fo might he chuse such font; as were fit to succeed in their fathers Scribes] Or, fecretaries, 2 Sam. 8. 17. Efth. 3.12. Such as our kings fecretaries are. Three forts of feribes are mentioned in scripture. 1. Kings secretaries, as here. 2. Publike notaries, Jer. 36.26. 3. Terchers of the law of God, Ezr. 7.6. Matt. (whose dominion was larger) had two.

Iebolhaphat the son of Abiltud] This man held the same office all Davids time, 2 Sam. 8. 16. & 20. 24. fo as he muft needs be an old man. See v. 17.

the recorder.] Or, remembrancer, 2 Sam. 8, 16, 2 King 18.18.
According to the derivation of the Hebrew word, it fignifieth a rememberer, or, remembrancer, as Jer. 41.9. Ifai.62.6. and 66.3. Such are masters of requests, whose office is to put the king in minde of petitions, and other like things. Some file This bewrays an envious disposition ; for all that the cared for, them chroniclers, fuch as Elth 2.22. & 6.1.

Chap. iiij.

V. 4. And Benaiab the fon of Jehojada] See chap. 1.8. V. 4. and Benaud no jong jack jack 1 see Calp. I. 5.

save the bift, I That is, as now field no one is filled, John 15:51. See V. 11: The fou of Abinadab I Or, Ben-Abinadab. V. 11: The fou of Abinadab I Or, Ben-Abinadab. 8. 16. But Solomon putting Joab to death, placed Benaiah in his room, chap a 35. Benaiah was a colonel over certain troops in Davids time, 2 Sam. 8.18. and Zadok and Abiathar were the priefts ] Abiathar was a chief priest when Solomon first came to the crown ; and so is he here joyned with Zadok, for David fo joyned him, 2 Sam. 20, 25. because David was an occasion of the death of Abiathars father; holfe, I Sam. 22. 22. 23. and because Abiathar still followed him, chap. 1.26. Besides, though Abiathar was removed from the superior place, yet he remained a priest, fee Mark 2.26. He might recain the title, though he executed not the function; from which he was removed, chap. 2.27.

V. 5. And Agariah the fon of Nathan was over the officers] He was over those officers that are mentioned, verl. 7. and 2 Chron,$.10. The Hebrew word 1273 translated officers, according to the notation of it, fignifieth fuch as are let apart, or deputed to fet imployments, chap. 5. 16. It is translated a deputy, chap. 22.47.

and Zabud the son of Nathan was principal officer, ] See v. 2.
This is the same word that is translated priest, v. 2.

and the kings friend.] So was Huthai, 2 Sam 15.37: He was the kings favorite, who had on all occasions free access unto him. By this he is diffinguithed from Azariah; for the other title is common to them both. It appears, that Solomon had Nathan in high esteem, in that he put two of his sons in the highest offices of his kingdom, next to himself, and accounted highelt offices of his kingdom, next to himlell, and accounted use of them his favorite. Well night he fod of for Nathan was to David a faithful prophet of the Lord, a Sam. 7, 1, &c. & 21.3, 7, 1, 3, 3, Am Nathan was the first that additionered Adoughan conspiracy against Solomon, and gave advice for feeling Solomon on the throne, chap. 1, 11. And its probable, that Nathans fons were trained up with Solomon, under the ruition of Nathan.

V. 6. And Abifhar was over the boufbold ] He was Treasurer of the kings house, or Governor thereof, chap. 16.9. & and Adoniram the fon of Abda ] chap. 5.14.

was over the tribute.] Or, levie, He was chief customer or receiver of the kings revenues, chap. 5. 14. & 12. 18. Such an office had one called Adoram in Davids reign, 2 Sam. 20.24. Another of that name in Rehoboams reign had also such an office, chap. 12.8. These three might be grandfather, father and son, These were questionless other interiour customers under fon. These were questionless other interiour cuttomers under Adomicam: for the king had tribute, not onely from his own bujects, (chap.9. 15,) but also from strangers that dwelt in his kingdom (chap. 9.21.) and from others out of other countries, v. 21. chap. 10.25.

V.7. And Solomon had swelve officers] These were for the ewelve moneths; such as might over-fee the inferiour pur-veyors; so as neither the people should be oppressed, nor the king defrauded.

over all Ifrae!] Thus all that did partake of the benefit of Solomons prudent government, did afford of their commodities to the maintenance of his royal effate : yet not fo, but that they had fome confideration for their commodities, at least at the kingsprice. Had the great flore which was provided, been gathered onely out of the places neer the Court, the people thereabout might have been over-burthened; and yet the king which provided victuals for the king and his boufhold: ] The weath provinces wissands for the ging and the proping it for fore of provision mentioned, v. 22, 23, fineweth, that Solo-mons bouthold was very great. Under it may be comprised his wives bouthold, and such companies of fouldiers as attended about the Court: yea, and fuch forreign Princes and Ambaffadors as came to him from other countries, and their retinue, v. 21,27. See v. 6.

cath man bk moneth in a year made provision.] These had their treasure-houses and other places, which at all times they replenished with commodities. But in their several moneths, they caused their store to be brought forth for the kings use. V 8. And thefe are their names : ] They were men of note.

and therefore their names are kept in memory.

the fon of Hur] Or. Benhur. So are the rest described by their fathers names ; because their fathers were men famous in in mount Eghraim] The divisions are not simply made according to the tribes; for so might some have been over-press, in that some tribes were neither so large, nor so fertile as others. The division is according to the commodities of the

V. 9. The son of Dekar Or, Ben-dekar. in Makat, Ge. These were cities in the tribe of Dan, Joih.19. 40. &c.

V. 10. The fon of Hefeb] Or, Ben-hefheb. in Aruberb] This is in the tribe of Judah. to bim pertained Soshoh, Ge. Thefe also were in Judah.

in all theregion of Dor] This was in Manaffeh, Joth. 172112

Judg. 1.27.

which had Taphath the daughter of Solomon to wife; ] This is here fer down by anticipation: for mention being made of the fon of Abinadab,occasion is thence taken to name the wife which he married many years after; to flew that he was a man of some worth, in that the king would bestow his daughter upon him, See v. 15. Solomon at this time could not have daughters marriagable.

V. 12. Beanah the fon of Abilud, to him pertained Taanach and Megiddo, ] These were in Manaffeh too, Josh. 17. 11. Judg. 1 27

ludg.1.7maid Belpicas] Joh. 17.11. mbich is by Zartanab] Joh. 3.16. beneath jeepeel] In Iliachar, Joh. 19.18.
from Belbheart o Abel-Mehaleb] Judg. 7.22.
even unto the place that is beyond Johnsam.] In Zebulon, V. 13. The son of Geber Or, Ben-Geber. in Rameth Gilead In Gad. This was in the country of Gilead, Deur. 7. 43 Josh. 20.8. 1 King. 22.3. By Gilead added to it, it is diffinguished from Ramoth in the tribe of Islachar, I Chron. 6.73.

10 bim pertained the towns of Fair the [on of Manafich] These towns were in the half-tribe of Manasich, (Numb. 32.41.) on the other fide of Tordan.

which are in Gilead, ] See chap. 17.1. to him also pertained the region of Argob, ] Deut. 3.4,14. whichk in Balban, ] Sec 2 King, 10.33 & 1 Chron. $.11.
threescore great cities with wals and brazen bars. ] The land of Israel was compassed about with many enemies, and or araci was compatica about with many enemies, and atterupon in every tribe they had cities very well fenced. V. 14. Abhinadab the fon of Idda bad Mabasaim.] Or, To Mabmaim. This was in GAJ, [Oh. 13, 16. See Gen. 21.2. V. 25. Abhinaca; was in Naphrali;] He was fome great was the manifest of the companion of th man, as that which follows shews.

he also took Basmath the daughter of Solomon to wife. ] This be also took Balmands the daughter of Seloman to wife. I This was another daugher, befiltes the former mentioned, v.11.

V.16. Basus to be for of fulls in was it a flow and in slabb : I This word taken appellaruley, signifieth upper parts or places; and implyets, high hilly grounds. This place lay by the fea fide in the land of Edoma, Chron. 8.17, Its imported to be the fame, that is called Elath, Deutz. 8.5.

V.17. 548/papints for four form 8.17, Its imported to be the fame, that is called Elath, Deutz. 8.5.

V.17. 548/papints for four form the Hendhahatt which it mentioned. Something the state of the first in Benjamin. I This distinguishes him from that Shimei who cutfed David; so the west of the trip of Benjamin, but of different parents. That were of the trip of Benjamin, but of different parents.

were of the tribe of Benjamin, but of different parents. That other was the fon of Gera, 2 Sam. 16. 4. V. 19. Geber the fon of Uri was in the countrey of Gilead .'I This was another part then that which is mentioned, v. 12. in the countrey of Sibon ] Of Sibon and Og, and their countries. See numb. 11.21. &c. Deut. 3.8. &c. he was theonely officer which was in the land. ] Over fo much of that land taken from Sihon and Og, as was not mentioned before, namely, over all the refidue.

V. 20. Hudah and Ifrael Though Ifrael confifled of ten v. 20. 34460 and 1/1861 1 arough iffaet conflicts of test tribes (in which respect it is set for the most part before Ju-dah) yet here, and verf. 25. Judah is set before Israel; be-cause, the king was of that tribe: And in Judah was Jerusalem the chiefest city of all the tribes; and it was the place where the king had his most frequent residency.

were many, as the sand which is by the sea in multitude, ] This is a proverbial phrase and hyperbolical, it is not rooffriely, o be taken. It implies an innumerable number, Jer. 33.22. Gen. 15.5. It hath respect to the promile, Gen. 22. 17. & 32.

Sen 15.5. I that reject to the promise,

2. Note, Prov. 14.38. Seev. 29.

eating and drinking, ] This is a description of plenty and peace. Men that have but little, may eat and drink is but to be eating and drinking, implyeth abundance, 1 Chron. 12.39.

Job. 1. 18. Idi. 22. 13. and making merry. ] This phrase shewesth, that they were freed from sear of troubles, oppressions, incursions of enemies, and otherlike matters, that might make them eat and drink with fad hearts and troubled fpirits. See 1 Sam. 30. 16.

V. 21. And Solomon reigned over all kingdoms, 60°6.] 2 Chro. 9, 26. He means all the kingdoms round about Ifrael. frem the river ] Euphrates, as it was promifed, Gen. 15.18. Exod. 23.31. Deut. 11. 24. John 1. 4. This river was their unto the land of the Philiftines, ] This was their coaft on and unto the border of Egypt : ] This was their coaft on the South, Numb. 34. 3, 4, 5. See chap. 8. 65.

Chap, iiii. they broughts presents, ] In testimony of featty. See 2 King, [

17.3. 2 Chron. 17. 5. & 32. 23.
and [crued Solomon] They did this as tributary nations: in which respect Solomon is said to reign over them.

all the dayer of his life.] As the truth of Gods promise (chap.

2.12.) was herein verified; fo his patience and long-fuffering was exceedingly magnified, in that, notwithstanding Solomons apostacsie, God continued his goodness to him all his dayes. Iadced God stirred up some adversaries against him (as appears, chap. tt. 14, 23,26.) but fuch as did more mifchief to his posterity then to himself. The like bleffing was granted to no king in Ilrael before him or after him. David his father had many troubles ; fo had Afa, Jehofhanhat Hezekish and Jofish, the most flourishing kings that succeeded

V. 22. And Solomons provision I Heb. bread. The bread and other provision which Solomon had for himself and his Court, was fo much, as the like is not read of in any other kings time. Much was that which was provided for Nehemiah, (Nehem. 5. 18.) but it was not comparative to this. See v. 7. for one day ] Every day new provision was brought to the

was thirty measures of fine flow, and threescore measures of measl. The word translated measure, is in Hebrew, Gor. One Cor conteined ten Epha's: for a Cor and an Homer are the fame measure, and an Ephah and Bath are also the same, But an Ephah or Bath is the centh part of an Homer, Ezek. 45.11, 14. An Homer of barley was valued at fifty thekels of filver, Lev. 17. 16. Whence it may be gathered, that an Homer or Cor was a very great measure, the greatest that is mentioned in Scripture. Some take it to be an asses load: as an horfe-load. An Ephah was about the measure of our bushel: by which account, one Cor was about ten bushels: fo as he had every day three bundred bushels of flour, and fix hundred of meal, See Exod. 16. 16. & Ifai. 5. 10. V. 23. Ten fat oxen | Such as were fatted in Italis, and twenty oxen out of the pastures, ] Such choyce grounds as made them very fat.

and an hundred theep. Oc. ] Under the particulars here mentioned, all maner of common and choyce, ordinary and extraordinary meats, are comprised. They shew, that his provision of fleth was answerable to that of bread, v. 22.

V. 24. For be had dominion over all the region on this fide the vives, This is fuch a description of Solomons dominion, as mass before set down, v. 21.

from Tiphfah] 2 King. 15.15. Jewish expositors take Tiphfah, and Azzah, for two towns on the borders of Euphrates. even to A 34 ] Gen. 10. 19. Azzah is oft put for Gaza, as Gen. 10. 19. Denc. 2. 23. Gaza is one of the principalities of the Philiftines, & Sam. 6.17. and it is called Azza, Jer. 25. 20. fo as those two, Tiphfah and Azzah, might set out the East and West borders of Solomons dominions, over all the kings on this fite the river | See v. 21. and he had peace on all fides round about him. ] For there were no enemies that durit oppole against him.

V. 25. And Judah and Ifrael | Seev. 20.

dwelt fafely,] Heb. confidently. Or, fecurely : without fear of invalion from enemies abroad : or tumults and oppressions of any among them, or over them.

every man under his vine, and under his figtree, I In his own poffession, Zach. 3.10. This proverbial speech is taken from fuch as have inheritances or farms in the countrie, where they use to plant vineyards and orchards, with vines, figtrees and other fruit-trees : and in times of peace, quietly enjoy them, receive the fruit of them, and refresh themselves under the findow of them, a King, 18.31, Mich.44, to South; from Dan even to Beer-fiebs, 1 From North to South; from one coaft to another, Judg. 20, 1, 2 Sam. 3, 10, 1 Chr.2., 2, all the days of Solomon, 1 See v. 21.

V. 26. And Solomon had forty thousand stalls of hoyses for his thaviors, ] 2 Chron. q. 25. By stalls he means divisions in flables: whereof there being ten in every of the flables, this division of forty thousand may stand with that of four thouchariots: and that as an evidence of Gods promife, (chap. 3. Prov.1.1, 2, 3. &c. 13.) and also of his wisdom in securing his kingdom. In what respect God forbid a king to multiply horses, See on Deut. sentences, accurately penned, as poems, and fitted to a melodi-

V. 27. And thefe officers | Mentioned, v. 7. &c. provided victual for king Solomon, ] For himfelf, and all that are mentioned, v. 7.

and for all that came unto hings Solomons table, ] Many came out of the feveral tribes of Ifrael, and also out of other nations to Solomons table, v. 34. chap. 10. 14. and sufficient provision was made for them all.

every man bie moneth : ] See v. 7.

they lacked nothing. ] By realon of the diligence and faith-fulnels of the many officers that were appointed in their cour-fes to make provisions. V. 28. Barley alfo and ftram for the horfes | Nor men, nor beafts were neglected and Dromedaries, ] Or, mules. Post-horses, Esth. 8. 10, 14.

Swif beafts, or beafts of price, Mich. 1. 13. brought they unto the place where the officers were ] To those feveral flore-houses that the officers had appointed for the provisions to be brought unto. every man according to his charge. ] This is the ready way for great matters to be well accomplified, that every man look to and largeness of heart, ] That is, an heart or minde capable of whatfoever might be known by man. The heart is here put for the whole foul; it comprifers under it, minde will, and affections. He that hath finall understanding, or is not capable of hearing much, is, in common speech, said to have a short understanding and a narrow heart.

V. 29. And God gave Solomon wifdom and understanding, ] Herein is accomplished Gods promise, chap. 3, 12. exceeding much, ] See this exemplified v. 31.

even as the (and that is on the fea shore. | See v. 20. This comparifon may be applied, either to the large capacity of his under-flanding, as the fea fhore is very large; or effect to the innume-rable matter which he understood; as the fands of the fea are

V.30. And Solomons wifdom excelled the wifdom of all the children of the East country, ] Men of the East were commonly reputed the wifeft in the world Matt. 2. 1. Such were the Caldeans, (Dan. 2. 2.) and other Philosophers and Afronomers. They of the East countrey were the first that found out the couries of the stars, and rules of Astronomy. Job and his three friends were of the East countrey, Job. 1.3. And they are noted to be wife men.

and all the wildom of Egypt.] Egyptians were also famous for wildom and knowledg in all sciences, Hai, 19, 11, 12, Act. 17, 22. Heathen Philosophers accounted the Egyptians very wife men. The wifest among the Grecians, professed they had their grounds of philosophy from the Egyptians, Many famous Philosophers went to Egypt for increase of learning and wif-

V. 31. For he was wifer then all men; ] In Ifrael, as the following inflances fliew. Much more, then all men in other then Ethan the Excelbite and Heman, ] These two names are mentioned, 1 Chron. 2.6. and faid to be the sons of Zerah, and fo may be Ezrahites. These were of the tribe of Judah: They were long before Solomons time; for they were the grandchildren of Judah, who was the fourth fon of Ifrael, I Chron? 2 3,6. Their name might continue famous for wildom, generation after generation. There were also two other of these names, (I Chron. 15.17, 19.) expressly stilled Extahites. P. al. 88. 1, St 89.1. Thele were Levites, Some take them to be the pen-men of 88. and 89. Pfalm. At least these being very skilful musitians, had fome Plalms committed to their compofing or tuning. Of Heman a fingular commendation is given, I Chron. 25. 5. They lived in Davids time, and had a great name for wildom. I take these to be here meant.

and Chalcol, and Dards, the fons of Mahol : ] Two like names are mentioned, I Chron. 2.6. and fet down as brothers of Ethan and Heman. But another name is here given to the father of Calchol and Darda: fo as they feem to be feveral perfons; vea. and to live in feveral ages : namely, Chalchol and Darda, whose father was Zerah. But the father of these here named was Malchol; and it is probable that they lived in Solomons time or not long before him, I finde no mention of them in any other place.

and his fame was in all nations round about.] Remarkable matters, whether good or bad, are foon divulged far and

V. 32. And he spale three thousand proverbs: Of these, some may be in the books of Solomon now examt: others, by cont invance of time loft. Proverbs, according to the derivation of fand, 2 Chron. 9.25. Solomon is the first among the Judges the word, fignifieth excellent, eminent speeches; which for and Kings of Ifrael, that furnished himself with war-horses and the approved and useful matter of them are in high account; and bis fongs were a thousand and five. ] Songs were divine ous tune, as the Pfalms, and Canticles. V. 33. And he fpake of trees, ] Of all maner of plants that grow out of the earth.

from the cedar tree that is in Lebanan, even tinto the by Bop, that [pringethout of the wall: ] This is a proverbial speech, which comprises all kinds of plants under it. See v. 25. & Exad. 11. 5. Isai. 1.6. The cedar is the tallest of trees. See chap. 5.6. The herb fintended under this word hystop, is the least and lowest of plants. It may be an herb not known to us. By the wall may be meant rocky and ftony places.

Chap.v.

manifested his divine learning; these his humane.

V.34. And there came of all people to hear the wisdom of Solomon] See v. 21. Report of Solomons wildom filled all the world, war. Solomons wildom is thus fer forth. I. To commend the greatnefs and excellency of it. 2. To shew the vertue and beauty over enemies, John 10, 24. Pfal. 110.1. Mal. 4. 3. As they of wildom, which allures all of all forts unto it. 2. To aggravate their perverse disposition, who regarded not the wildom of him that was wifer then Solomon, Matt. 12. 42. Herein or min that was where then 3000 most, material 44 Articles was Solomon a type of Chrifts drawing in all nations to the [Ia. 10. 6. & 6.3.]. Zach. 10.4. Rev. 11.2. was Solomon a type of Chrifts drawing in all nations to the V. 4. But now the Lord my God. See Chap. 8.28. Gofpel.

from all kings of the earth which bad heard of his wisdom. ] from all kings of the crito which has neard of his migrous.

Namely, by common report, or by their Ambashadors: for the victory which his father David gor, nor to his own prutings themselves the not to go and their own countery. Yet the Queen of Sheba was so taken with the report of his wishting themselves are not be faithfulness of those that stuck close to him; but to God from whom all promotion cometh, (Plal 75.67.) dom, that she her felf came to Solomon, chap. 10. 1.

CHAP. V.

V. 1. A Nd Hiram ] In 2 Chron. 2. 3. he is filled Hu-Aram. This was a name common to the kings of king ] This is added to diffinguish him from another Hiram, chap. 7. v. 13, 14.

of Tyre | And Sidon too. For the Sidonians were his fubjects, v. 6. Tyre and Sidon are of joyned together, as Jer. 47.4. Zach 9 2. Mart 11-21. & 15. 2 a. The lew rew of far is about. He cals tend contrary, on more gains, in tack when the 47.4. Zach 9 2. Mart 11-21. & 15. 2 a. The lew rew of far is about. He cals it cold contrary, local it could be nothing towns, (Idia 23-13-2) in Poamicia, bordering upon Galilee, but evil that thould hinder him: yea in that it hindred him it towards Lebanon. The people of these countries came in multitudes to Jefus, Mar. 3.8. and Jefus also went into their borders. Mar. 7. 24.

(ent ] To congratulate the king, and to renew a league, bu [ervants] Ambassadors, which kings and states use to fend one to another, 2 chron. 32.31. nuto Solomon ] It hath been usual in ages for neighbouring Princes, to congratulate each other, especially at their first coming to the crown. David did the like to Hanun, 2 Sam. 10. 2. Hiram did this the rather to Solomon, because he had notice of that wildom which God had given him, and of the par be usa besta that they had ambitted him king in the room of the Lord flade unto David my father, faring I Gods Word bis father I The great affaires of a kingdom, electedly about and promite is a good ground and a great encouragement for father than the strength of the control of the con for Hiram was ever] Heb. all daies. All the time that they lived together.

a lover of David. ] Ready to do all good offices to him, 2 Sam. 6.11. Their amity was firm and itable: not like the betwine Sennacherib and Hezekiah, 2 King. 18, 14, 17. It vants, to do what lawfull thing they require.

was felid on furer grounds. For it is more then probable, that they Namely the fervants of Hiram, fit for the work Hiram believed in the God of Irael, v. 7. and that upon an intrie, inward affection, he continued his league with David; bew me cedar and that piety helped on the fame. that he did. By that love and league which had been betwit. That he did. By that love and league which had been betwits that the did. By that love and league which had been betwits that the did. By that love and league which had been betwits that the did the did the did that the did the him. 3. By that ability which Hiram had to gratifie him in doth one King here fend to another, to build the first Temple therewith. And the Jews after their captivity, by a grant from nor 3. by tast some water firms not to goods from the first in 4. By the like contrels which Hiram had formerly the first in 4. By the like contrels which Hiram had formerly the form to David, a Sam 5.11. 5. By that need which Solo Cyrus the Perfan Monarch, protruct cedars from Lebanon, mon had of those things for which he fort to Hiram: for he to could not otherwise be lupplyed therevish. 6. By that use to be built by these, in this phrase, Why build ye not me an could not build an house ] By the common report that was every way spread thereof, Hiram might know that which Solo- mascus in Syria. It appears to have been in those daies, in the mon faith be here knew. Besides, there being intire amity be- dominion of the King of Tyre : because he from thence sent twist David and Hiram, David might communicate the mat- cedars to David, 2 Sam. 5. 11. and Solomon fent to him for ter; to Hiram: the rather, that Hiram might help Solomon cedars. There were alfofirr-trees, and Algum-trees in Lewith cedars, and fuch other things, as being requifite for Solomons work, were in Hirams nation.

V. 3. Thou I nowest how that David my father ] See chap.

unto he name of the Lord ] To his glory, Pfal. 76. 1. The temple, it is called the house of the Lord, chap. 6. t. See chap. Lebanon; yet might Solomons servants be very helpful in re-they afforded him not time enough to build so magnificent a encourage them, and to make them the more diligent careful, temple as Solomon did. Secondly, they occasioned him to and painful.

and painful.

and painful.

according to all that then shall appoint Meeb. [49. Solomon hearth.]

very defirous to build an house to God : but God would not wan may be meant rooty and nony places.

The particulars here fpecifished for the beffs, Rec. The particular here fpecifished for the beffs, Rec. The particular here for the beffs and decention of the beffs and fence of his father.

until the Lord put them! The enemies with whom he had under the feles of bis feet.] This phrase implyeth a full conquest who are overcome but live, patiently fuffer the conquerours to put their feet upon their necks; fo they who are flain in the field, lie on the ground to be trampled on by man and horfe .

hath given me] He ascribeth not his Crown and dignity to and by whom Kings reign, Prov. 8.15. reft on every fide; From all enemies: a fetled firm peace. By reason hereof, he had more leisure to attend this great work then his father had : and he would not let flip fo fair an opportunity. How he was herein a type of Christ, See r Chron. 22.

8,9.
[6 that there is neither adverfary] Who might detain me from this work, or hinder me therein.

nor evil occurrent] The word turned occurrent, is translated chance, Eccl. q. 11. It fignifieth any thing that a man meets with, standing in his way, or hindring him, in that which he was evil.

V. S. And behold I purpofe] Heb. fay. See 2 Chron. 2.1. & 28. 10. A purpose ariseth from an inward discourse of the minde (Mar. 2.6.) in which respect it is turned a saying. This phrase, They faid in their heart, is frequent in facred Scripture, Pfal, 14. 1. & 74. 8. Thus his purpose was grounded on Gods will and purpole, expressed indefinitely, without designing any particular person, Deut. 12.5, 11. and also determinately, expressing that son of David, whom God would have succeed him, 2 Sam. 7.12,13. Yea allo expressing Solomon by name,

1 Chron. 22.9.
20 build an bouse unto the name of the Lord my God] See one to attempt a thing.

thy for whom I will for open thy throne in thy room, be shall build,

&c. ] Solomons establishment upon the throne of David, was an evidence that he was the man defigned to build the temple. an house unto my name] See v. 3.

V. 6. Now therefore command thou] For Kings bave a power league betwixt Benhadad and Baatha, 2 Chron. 16. 3,4. Or in their own dominions to command their subjects and ser-bem me cedar trees ] These were tall, ftreight, large trees : the wood of them odoriferous; very durable : not knorty, not fub-V. 2. And Solomon first to Hirsm, faying, ] 2. Chron. 2.3 Solo-mon was many wates moved to fund to Hiram, for thofe things large beams, and also fair broad boards were made out of them.

could not otherwife be fupplyed therewith. 6. By that ute to be built of years, min. p.a., 7.7, where one to the family of the bruin, manely, bo build an where one to the name of the Lord. A greater and better use there could not be.

V. 2. Then knowes how that David my father] See chap.

North fide of Judea, bordering on Sidon. Geographers place. this Lebanon in Syria, but so as it lyeth on the confines of the land of Israel, and reacheth from Sidon to Smirna, or to Dabanon, 2 Chron. 2, 8. and my fervants fhall be with the fervants ] This he promifeth for help; that all the burden might not lye upon the Sidonians. name of God is oft put for God himfelf, Deut. 28. 58. And Though Hirams servants had best skill about the season, and because God did manifest his presence by fundry types in the manner of felling, hewing, squaring, and ordering the trees of moving, carrying, and doing other fervices about thefe his God, ] See chap, 15.3.

for the wars which were about him enevery fide, ] For, first, and unto thee will I give hire for thy served dilicent careful.

hereby fleweth, that he was as ready to give, as to receive; to are defired upon valuable confideration and recommence, are recompense, as to require a kindness; thus he keepeth his soon granted, and that to the full, betwixt friends; of Codar friend from being weary of shewing kindness, for thou knowest that there is not among as Neighbouring

Kingdoms commonly know what their neighbours can well

any that can skill to hew timber like unto the Sidonians. ] For the Sidonians were exercised in that work, for they continued therein, and so retained their skill from generation to generation. Their help herein was procured after the captivity, Ezr. 3. 7. Several countries have their feveral abilities.

V. 7. And it same to pass when Hiram heard the words of Solomen] Not out of the mouth of Solomon himfelf; for he fpake not unto Hiram mouth to mouth, but fent to him, v. 2. as 2 King, 18.19. Or he spake by letter, as 2 King, 19.14, this is the more probable, because Hiram answered in writing, 2 Chron. 2, 11.

that he rejoyced greatly] Hiram was far from an envious disposition, rejoycing in an others good.

and said, Blessed be See ch. 10. 8, 9. Such a stamp did God fet upon the gifts which he gave to Solomon, as made this king, the Queen of Sheba, and fundry others to admire the fame, and to acknowledg that fuch gifts mult needs come from God and thereupon to give the praise to the Lord , so did Jethro, Exod.

the Lord J chovah, who had by fuch wonders made himself known to be the true God; as the Heather had knowledg thereof, Deut 32.31. John. 2.11. 2. King 5.15. Dan 3. 2.8. & 6.16. 26. Belides Hiram had this benefit by his amity with David 50 know the true God. See ch. 8.41. this day, ] His heart was even then at that prefent filled with the praifes of God. which hath given unto David | The love that he did bear to his old friend, thus quickeneth his fpirit. a wife fon our this great people.] The bleffing that the Church of God received by Solomon, doth the more enlarge

Cantrol Goot relevant by Solomon; dots the more change
V. 8. And Hiram [ent to Solomon, faying, ] He manifelleth the reality of his entire affection, by granting Solomons requeft.

I bave confidered ] Heb. beard. See ch. 3,21, upon hearing a matter, follows consideration. It is the part and property of a wife man, to confider what he heareth.

the things which thou (enteft to me for ] Even those which are menrioned, v. 6. and I will do all thy define concerning timber of Gedar, ] See and concerning timber of first.] First trees also grew in Le-banon, 2 King. 19 22. Musical instruments were made of first. 2 Sam. 6.5. and ship-boords, Ezek 27.5. Firre was much used in the temple, ch. 6. 15, 34. 2 Chr.3.5. It was put to fuch uses as Cedar was, Cant. 1.7. & Zech. 1.2. V. 9. My servants shall bring them down from Lebanon unto the Sea] For it was too far to bring such store of timber, as Solomon had out of Lebanon, by land-carriages. and I will convey them by Sea in flotes ] He means flat-bottomed yessels, or boords fastned together, and towed with ropes. Word for word, I will put them in flotes; that is, I will fo faften them together, as they shall flote upon the water and be rowed. auto the place ] He means Joppa, 2 Chron. 2. 16. Ezra 3.7. This was an haven-town, John 1.3. John 19.46. Act. 9. 43.

that thou shalt appoint me] Heb. send. that is, by message or letter declare the particular place, and will cause them to be discharged there. There my men shall leave them with thy servants, that they may be discharged of them.

and thou shalt receive them] By thy servants.

and thou shalt accomplish my desire! He desires a recompence, as for the commodities, to especially for his servants pains.

in giving food] Heb. bread. All manner of provision, as v. 11. See ch. 4.22. Although Tyrus was stored with all manner of Merchandizes brought from other countries, Ezek. 27.3.&c. Yet the land was but barren, and brought not forth provision enough for it felf. It was nourished by Herods country, (Act. 12.26.) Therefore he defired food. The like recompense was given to them many hundred years after this, Ezra 3.7. the ordinary Merchandize, which from Ifrael was carried to Tyre, was wheat, honey,oyl, (Ezek. 27. 17.) which sheweth that Tyre wanted these commodities ; and that the Jews were able to furnish them therewith.

for my houshold \ For himself, and for his whole Court. See

V. 10. So Hiram gave Solomon Cedar trees, and Firre trees] Things just and equal in themselves, needful and useful to him ordinary should fail by sickness, death, or any other that defireth them, being in the power of him of whom they way.

trees, fee v. 6. and of Firre trees, v. 8.

according to all his defire ] So much he expressly promised, v.3. and in performing his promise he shews himself faithful.

V. II. And Solomon gave Hiram ] Solomon thews himfelf friendly and faithful to Hiram, as well as Hiram did to him :

friends will fairly deal one with another. twenty thousand treasures | Heb. Cors. See ch. 4. 22.

of wheat, for food to his bouffold,] There is a far greater quantity promiled, 2 Chron. 2. 10. but that might be for his houfhold and workmen too; and this for his houshold only. Or here Syncodochically one kinde may be put for the reft. There are promifed twenty thousand measures of beaten wheat. By beaten wheat he meaneth such wheat as was beaten out of the ear, and fevered from the chaff: We call it clean wheat. This made it to be a better prefent and a lighter carriage. Just fo much wheat is here given. But there is also promised twenty thousand measures of barley . Here he may comprize the barley under the wheat, and intend twenty thousand measures of each. Or otherwife, the twenty thousand measures of barlie might be for the workmen, and the wheat for the houshold. The like may be faid of twenty thouland baths of wine promifed. 2 Chron. 2. 10. but not here mentioned. There alfo mention is made of twenty thousand baths of oyl, and here but mention is made or tyrenty thousand datas or toy, and uter our twenty measures. Now one measure (which in Hebrew is Cor) contained ten baths. The twenty measures then make but two hundred baths. These twenty measures or two hundred to the contained to the conta dred baths, were of pure oyl, and for Hirams houshold. The rest might be of ordinary oyl, and for the workmen. and twenty measures of pure oyl] Heb. beaten oyl. That is;

the oyl of Olives well beaten and first coming out from the prefs, which ufeth to be the cleerest and freeft from dregs or lees. These two Epithites (beaten, pure,) are put together, as Exod. 27, 20. Such kinde of oyl was used in sacrifices, Exod. 29. 40. Numb. 28. 5. thus gave Solomon to Hiram yeer by yeer ] So long as they con-rinued to labour for Solomon. V. 12. And the Lord gave Solomon wifdom] Chap. 3.12. See and he premifed him | This is an instance of Gods faithfulness for faithful is he that promifeth, Heb. 10 23. and there was peace between Hiram and Solomon This thewesh that which the Pfalmist mentioneth, (Pfal, 83, 7.) of the in-habitants of Tyre to be enemies of Israel, is not to be taken of Davids or Solomons time, but of future time; for Tyrus re-membred not the brotherly covenant, Amos 1.9. and the faid against Jerusalem, Aha, she is broken, &c. Ezek. 26. 2. &c. and they two made a league together] They renewed that league that had been betwixt David and Hiram. V. 13. And King Solomon raifed a Levie Heb. tribute of men.

For they yeelded up themselves as a kinde of tribute to the king, to be disposed of by him.

out of all I[rat] If true Israelites were here meant, then they might be artificers, fuch as bad skill in fquaring timber and ftones; and to they might be joyned with the Sidonians in fuch works as they did.

and the levie was thirty thou[and men] Two hundred and fifty might be chosen out of each of the twelve tribes : Or else out of fome tribes, more might be chosen; out of others fewer: or this may be taken of aliens that were difperfed up and down in Ifrael, ch. 9. 21.
V. 14. And he fent them to Lebanon, ten thousand a moneth by courfes] That they might have some time to be at their own houses, and not be overwearied with continual labour.

a moneth they were in Lebanon, and two moneths at home The time of their being at home was double to their being abroad at work: for they might have wives, children, and families to tend; Of those that joyned with the Sidonians, there were but an hundred together at once.

and Adoniram was over the levie ] Of this Adoniram, fee ch. 4. 6. He had the charge of making this levie of men, of providing for them, and ordering their places and tasks.

V. 15. And Solomon had threefcore and ten thousand that have burthous? These were aliens. 2 Chron. 2.17.18. Thus service and toyllome works were laid on them. and fourfecre thoufand hewers in the mountains] They were hewers both of timber and ftone, for hewers of timber, fee Ifa. 10.15. for hewers of flone, fee 1 Chron.22.2.

V. 16. Befide the chief of Solomous officers, which were over the work, three thousand, and three bundred, ] There is mention made of three thousand and fix hundred, 2 Chr.2.2. The three hundred over-reckoned were over-feers of the officers; or elfe there might be three thousand and three hundred over-hewers of flone, and three hundred over-hewers of timber. Or there might be three hundred extraordinary, in case any of the

Chap.vi.

there are multitudes of workmen there is great need of many overfeers to keep them to their work, and that in good

V. 17. and the king commanded ] Solomon himfelf had his eyes and hands about this work to order the weighty things and they brought great stones, costly stones, and bewed stones Heb. flones of cutting. Such as were fit to be cut, hewed, and fquared. So I Chron. 22, 2, three forts of stone are mentioped: I. Great, that they might lie more fure. For fmall flones are ready to fall one from another. 2. Coffly (or pretions are ready to fail one from another. 2. Comy (or pic-cious) for the Hebrew word fignifieth precious; and so is translated, Isia 28. 16. 3. Hewed, that is, squared, and every way fitted, to lie close and firm. Whence it is, that neither hammer, nor axe, nor any tool of Iron, was heard in the house while it was in building, chap. 6. 7.

to lay the foundation of the house. Though the forementioned stones were hid in the earth, yet Solomon would spare no cost, but make them every way of the belt fort : and every way fit for such a glorious fabrick as was to be erected and fetled upon this foundation. Thus as the whole temple did fet out the whole mystical body of Christ, which is his Church; So the foundation here mentioned, doth fitly typific the foundation of the Church, which is Chiff, 1 Cor. 8, 10, 11. yea and that foundation also which the Apostle setteth out in these words, Eph. 2. 10. Te are built upon the foundation of the Apo-files and Prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner-stone. This is the foundation whereof the Prophet speaks, Is. 28.

V. 18. And Solomons builders, and Hirams builders, did how them, I Though they were of two nations, yet willingly they icyned together in this great work, which was in special maner the Lords. Thus shall Jews and Gentiles build up the Church of God.

and the flone-fquarers: ] Or, Giblites. These were inhabitants of Gebal, (Exek. 27. 0.) neer to Sidon; and were artificial stone-cutters. The Hebrew word, from whence this little Giblite is derived, fignifieth to terminate or limit a thing. the Oblite is derived, fignification terminate or limit a thing. Now Malons use to himit their flones to fluch a proportion as they may be even one with another in a building. The tran-lators therefore taking the word appellatively translate it flone-fiquarers; Others, Malons: In the Syriack the word fignifyeth, to form, or fashion; which in general makes to the same purpole. These Giblites, as the Sidonians before mentioned, were heathen. Yet because they were skilful in their workmanship, they were used about the holy temple. Thus abilities of men, out of the Church, may lawfully be used for helping on the good of the Church.

and they prepared timber and flowes to build the boufe. ] Preparation is of fingular use to go on with any great and weighty feafon, for building fuch an house as the temple was. Till Solomons time, Ifrael was fubject to many changes. David fubdued all the enemies round about, and fecured peace in Ifrael: thus that which is here fet down came to pass.

CHAP. VI.

thus that which is nere tee down came to pais. in the furn hundred and furnifuror seet? Bourty in the wilderneffe, Numb. 14 33. feventeen under Johua, fourty under Othniel, Judg. 3:11. fourfore under Ebud and Shamgar Judg.
3:30. fourty under Deborab, Judg. 5:31. fourty under Gideon, Judg. 8:18. three under Abimelech, Judg. 9:12. three & twenty under Tolab, two and twenty under Jair, Judg. 10.2,3. fix under Jephthah; feven under Ibzan, ten under Elon, eight under Abdon, Judg. 12, 7, 9, 11, 14. twenty under Sampson, Judg. 15. 20. fourty under Elie, 1 Sam. 4.18. fourty under Samuel and Saul, Act. 13.21. fourty under David, 2 Sam, 5. 4. four after the children of Ifrael were come out of the land of Egypt Then the Ifraelites began to be a free people, and a nation of themselves. Therefore the computation of times in that State began from thence.

in the fourth year of Solomons reign over Ifrael In the former years of his reign, he prepared and fitted all manner of materials for the work.

in the moneth Zif; ] The Jews began the year about the fpring Equinoctial. Their first moneth was called Abib, Exed. 12. Equinoctas. Their first moneth was caused now, exon 1.a. 2.8 21.4. This name fignified the Spring. Their fecond moneth was called Ziff, as here in this worse, and w. 37. Ziff fignifiesther brightness in their chiefest splendor. Their seventh moneth was called Ziff, min, chap. 2.a. which fignifiest reventh moneth was called Ziff nim, chap. 2.a. which fignifiest repends or strength; then struits are at their full ripends and ftrength. Their eight moneth they called Bull, v. 38. Bull figuifieth fading, then is the fall of leaves. Thefe four are where all forts of Priefts did their fervice, v. 17.

which raled over the people that wrought in the work ] Where | without question Hebrew names. There are two other which have an Hebrew notation; but because there is no mention of them, till after the return of the Jews from their captivity, they are supposed to be Chaldee names, as Chisleu, which is counted their ninth moneth, Zech 7.1. Neh. 1. 1. This title fignifieth variable, or tempefuous. So wheth the weather to be in that moneth: besides Chesit is put for Orion ( Job. 9, 9, & 28. 51. Amos 5.8.) a flar which rifing in this moneth. caufleth great tempest. The other is Schut, (Zech. 1. 7.) which fignifieth 4 dry flick, or staffe: for in this moneth are trees very dry. There are five other names of moneths used in the history of the Jews after their captivity, as Nifan , Neh. 2. 1. Sivan, Elth. 8. 9. Elul, Neh. 6. 15. Sebesh. Lith. 2.16. Adar. Ezr. 6. 15. Of all thefe fee those distinct places. These are all the names of moneths which are mentioned in facred Seripture. To the feven Chaldee or Perfian names before mentioned, five more are added in other Authors, as Ajar, Tamur, Ab, Tifri, Marchefuan. The order of these Persian names was this; 1 Nilan. 2 Ajar. 3 Sivan. 4 Tamuz. 5 Ab. 6 Ehl., 7 Tifri. 8 Marcheluan. 9 Chifleu. 10 Tebeth. 11 Sebat. 2 Adar. The ordinary reckoning of moneths in facred Scripture, was by numeral diffinctions; as the first, the second. thathird &c which is the second moneth | For in the first moneth, the Paffeover was celebrated, Ex. 12. 3. In the very beginning of this fecond meneth, even the fecond day, he fet upon this great work, 2 Chron. 3.2.

that he began to build] Heb. built. He laid the foundation. the house of the Lord | See v. 2. the temple. Of the place where his house was built, See Chron. 2. 1.

V. 2. And the boule which King Solomon built for the Lord ]
For the worthin of the Lord, and honour of his name, in which respect it is called the house of the Lord, v. 1.

the length thereof] From East to West. Of the difference be-twist the temple and the tabernacle, See 2 Chron. 22.5.

was threefcore cubits ] A cubit, is in length, from the elbow to the top of the middle finger, which, of an ordinary mans ftature, is eighteen inches. It is supposed, that the sacred cubite, stilled a great cubit, (Ezek. 41. 8.) after which the tabernacle and temple were built, was one and twenty inches, or two foot long at the most; for it was a cubit and an hand bredth, Ezck. 43.13. See the notes on Deut, 3.11.
and the bredsh thereof twenty cubits 7 Which was a third part of the length.

and the height thereof thirty cubits | This is to be reckoned from the pavement to the upper fieling. The measures here fet downshew, that this was a very large Edifice; 120 foot long, and 40 foot broad: taking a cubit in the largest fize, for two foot. Larger Edifices have in fundry ages and places been erected. We read of a temple built at Ephelus, 425 foot long, and 210 foot broad. Yet for coftly and choice materials, for curious and exact workmanship, for spiritual imployment, and for mystical fignification, never was there the like Edefice in the

V. 3. And the porch before the temple of the house ] This was Verf. 1. A Md it came to pair 2 Chron. 3. 1. By Divine no part of the fore-mentioned house; but added to the open providence it fell out, that there should be so fir a lend thereof for a more stately entring into the house. It was at the end thereof.

twenty cubits was the length thereof ] From North to South, all long the end of the temple.

according to the bredth of the house ] See v. z.
and ten cubits was the bredth thereof before the house ] Thorow and tensions was no weath narrey before the boile 1 Thorow his porch was the passage into the temple: the height of it far exceeded the height of the temple; for it was ninety cubits higher, 2 Chron-3.4. It hath been the manner of building sair Edifices, to make the entrance much higher then the rest of the building.

V. 4. And for the house he made windows of narrow lights ] Or, windows broad within, and narrow without; or skewed and clofed. The windows were narrow without, to keep out the weather: and broad within, to diffuse the light.
V. 5. And against the wall of the heuses Or, upon; or, joyning to. There were two thick wals that compafied the house about, for the strength thereof. Betwixt these wals, were chambers built for the Priests and Levites use, and for the treasure of the emple, which was, of first fruits, tythes, free-offerings and the like, 1 Chr. 28.11. 2 Chr. 2 1.11, 12 Ezr. 8.29. Neb. 10.37,38, 39. & 13.5. Ezek. 42. 13. The tabernacle afforded no fuch chambers, yet the Priefts and Levites had tents about the tabernacle, which ferved them for like purpofes, Numb. 2.28.

be built shambers Heb, floors. The floors, were the under part of the chambers, and by a Synecdoche are put for the round about ] The temple. against the walls of the bonse ] These latter words are added as a more full expression of the former. both of the temple ] The outward and larger part of the house, and of the Oracle: ] The innermost part: whereinto the high if these milt made from flattete, Sec. ] See c.1.3. Gods promited only, and that but once a yeer, might enter. It was less have their provides. See ch. 8. 25. By this provides, God answers or Oracles, Levit. 16.1. Exod. 30. 6. This Oracle was at the Welt end of the Temple.

and be made chambers] Heb. ribs. For as ribs compass a body, fo did thefe chambers the temple.

V. 6. The nethermost chamber was five cubits broad, &c. The chambers were three flories high, one over another; and as they were higher, they were also wider; for the wals were thickest at the bottom: the higher they aftended, the thinner they were, and the space betwixt them the wider. Every chamber was of one beight; namely five cubits, v. 10.

for without in the walls of the house he made narrowed rests ]

Heb. narrowings, or, rebatements. At the floor of the middle chambers there was a rebatement in the wall, a cubit thick; and at the floor of the highest chambers, such an other rebatement, On these rebatements the beams of the chambers were round about, ] Sec v. 5.

that the beams should not be fastned in the wals of the house. ] That no holes should be made in the wall, for the ends of the beams to be put into.

V. 7. And the house when it was in building, was built of flone,] Namely the walls thereof round about were only of itone; but wood also was used for beams and other like purpoles, ch. 5. 18. Both stone and timber were hewed, squared, and every way fitted for the building.

- made ready before it was brought thither,] This is premifed as a reason of that which follows.

fo that there was neither hammer nor axe, nor any tool of Iron beard in the houe, while it was in building.] Thele are all fuch instruments, as in their use make a noyle: The mentioning of thefe doth not necessarily imply, that fuch instruments as were ufeful to make the flones and timber lye firm, might not be used. That no instrument was heard in the building, was for the honour of the temple, and also for typical signification, in relation to the Church on earth and in heaven: To the Church on earth, to shew that schisines, contentions, and all manner of jars (which are as the knocking of iron instruments) must be avoided : To the church in heaven, to fet out the quiet and peaceable state thereof. As the stones and timber of the temple were hewen in the mountains, and fitted for the temple, to be there laid without knocking : So Saints are here in this world fitted and prepared for heaven; that there they may enjoy reft and glory.

V. 8. The door for the middle chamber, ] Or, middle was in the right side of the house, ] Heb. right shoulder. For the side of the house was as a shoulder to support it. As they went into the temple, the right fide is the North; for the entrance was at the East end. In Ezek, 41.11. mention is made of two doors, one towards the North, and another towards the

and they went up with winding staires These staires went up from the bottom to the uppermost story : and so by them they had a paffage into all the three flories. into the mid.lle chamber, ] Or, ftorie.

and out of the middle into the third.] Thus they went from one flory to another

V. 9. So he built the boufe, and finished it? He ceased not to go on with his work, till he had perfected the fame.

and covered the boufe ] The top or roof of ir. with beams and boords of Cedar ] Or, the vault beims, and the fielings with Gedar. The covering of the house with these, must needs be meant of the inward part of the roof. For boords of Cedar could not long keep off the weather; the temple was, questionlesse, covered over these, with lead : of Cedar, See

V. 10. And then be built chambers against all the house] On both fides thereof : yea and about the Oracle, (v. 1.) whereinto there was no entrance from without.

five cubits high.] Thus three flories of chambers made fifteen cubits in height: fo as above these chambers there was room enough for windows to let light into the temp'e, which was thirty cubits high, v. 2.

and they refled on the house with timber of Gedar. ] The beams whereon those chambers were built, did lie on the narrowed refts mentioned, v. 6.

V. II. And the word of the Lord came to Solomon, faying, ] It came to him by the meffage of some Prophet; for God him-Self appeared to him but twice, ch. 9,2. & 11.9.
V. 12. Concerning this boufe which thou are in building, ] This phrase sheweth, that God made this promise to Solomon before the temple was fully finished, and that it is not here inserted by way of anticipation; as if it were the fame promise that is mensioned ch.9.4,5. God would hereby encourage him, even while he was in the work, to go on therein cheerfully.

Print only and that out once a yet; a might emen. It was a restant their provinces, see (ii. o. 25, by tols province, socialled the Oracle, because there God used to deliver Divine draws Solomons mind from a superstitious considence in the external work, intimating that God had more respect unto Solomons faithful obedience to his Word, then unto that glorious building, ch.9.6,7,8,9.

then will I perform my word unto thee, which I spake unto David thy father.] 2 Sam. 7.13. 1 Chron. 22.10. It much lyeth in children themselves, to partake of the benefit of promises made to their parents, for the good of their posterity

V. 13. And I will dwell among the children of Ifrael As a tender father, and provident matter, I will abide among them and they shall have affured evidence of my gracious presence. Levir. 26.11,12. 2 Cor. 6.16.

and will not forfale This negative, as it addeth a confirma-tion to the former affirmative : fo it implyeth a perpetual confirmation of his grace and favour to them.

my people I [rael.] Those whom before God stiled children of Ifrael, in relation to their old father Jacob, he here fileth his people, in relation to himfelf; because he had chosen them to people; interaction to instant, be his Church, Exod. 19. 5,6. V. 14. So Solomon built, 6%.] See v. 9. This repeating of the fame matter twice, the weth, that God himfelf took special notice thereof, and so he would have others to do. V. 15. And he built the walls of the boule within He fieled the walls ; or, as we use to speak, he wainfcoted them; for this was the innermost visible building of the house. The building of stone within this sicling, could not be seen : all being coing of those within this seeing, come not be less an an above with the fiching with boards of Cedars.] Of Cedar, fee ch. 5.6. both the floor of the boufe! This was laid with Cedar boords, as now most use to lay their floor with firr-boords.

and the walls Or, from the floor of the house unto the wals, &c. and fo v. 16. The meaning of this phrase is, that the house was fieled with Cedar boords on the walls from the bottom to the

and he covered them on the infide with wood ] Namely , with Cedar. This he did, because he intended to overlay all with gold, (verf. 22.) and to carve knops thereon, verf. 18. neither of which could fo well have been done on the flone-and covered the floor of the house with planks of fire ] It was requifite that the boords of the floor should be much thicker then the fieling of the walls: wherefore he provided planks for the floor. Of firr trees See 1 King. 5.8.

V. 16. And he built twenty cubits on the fides of the boufe] The house here meant was the most holy place, which being twenty foot square every way, he sieled it on all the walls from bottom to top: for fo much he intends by building ,as both the floor and the walls with boords of Cedar ] The floor of the most holyplace was of better boords then the floor of the boly place : that was floored with Cedar , this with fire, to shew, that the glory of the triumphant Church is greater then of the militant.

he even built them for it within] He prepared and fitted them even for the Orate. ] See v. s. even for the most holy place ] Heb. holy of bolies. By this phrase he shews what he meant by the Oracle. This doubling phrate he thems what he meant by the Oracie. In sadubling of the word (holy of holier,) in fetting out excellent things, doth much amplifie the excellency of thems, as heaven of heavens, ch. 8, 27, Pial. 148, 4. See ch. 8, 13, This holy of holies was a type or the heaven of heavens, (Heb. 9. 11, 24.) Which is the most holy place that ever was. The innermost part of the temple was fo stiled, for diftinction from that other part, which was filled the holy place, chap.

V. 17. And the boufe that is, the Temple before it Both thefe words are Synecdochically used; for bouse being a general word; is here put for that particular house which is called the house of God; and Temple comprizing under it fundry parts is here put for one of them; namely that which by way of diffinction, is called the holy place, ch. 8.8.

was fourty cubits long.] The house which Solomon built, is faid verf. 2. to be threescore cubits in length, but there the house is put for both the parts, the holy, and most holy place, here only for the holy place was carved with knops ] Or, gourds. So is this word translated, 2 King.4.39.

V. 18. And the Cedar of the house within ] That is, of the inner part of the house.

and open flowers] Heb. openings of flowers. Such knops and pen flowers as were here carved in wood, were also cast in brafs, ch.7.24. When flowers are open they are the larger and fairer; and therefore they were carved open. all was cedar ] That is, all the wall every where was covered is there was no finne feen This flews the reason of the former on, his Interceffion. See ch. 9. 25.

phrafe,
V. 19. And the Oracle] See v. 5.
he prepared in the boufe within In the uppermost and innermolt part of the Temple; which was at the West-end : contr ry to the chancels in our Churches, which we to be in the East end of the Church.

to fet there theark ] Other things also were in the most holy place, Heb. 9. 4.5. But this was the most principal end for which the Oracle was made. Some of the other things appertainto the Ark, and fo may be comprifed under it: as the propitiato.y or mercy feat, which was the cover of the Ark, Ex. 25.17. See 1 Chron. 28.11. and the glorious Cherubims : they fhadowed it over Ex. 25.18. The rings and staves were in former times to bear the Atk, Ex. 25. 11. &c. The pot of Manna and Aarons rod were monuments of Gods special providence. The Ark it felf was the chiefest evidence of Gods presence, 1 Sam. 4.3.5.7 22 and it was the most principal type of Christ. Among and above other types the Jewes had this in highest account The word, translated Ark, in hebrew is 1778 Aaron. which is put for a coffin, coffer, or cheft. The coffin whereinto Toleplis dead body was pur, is fo ftiled Gen. 50, 26. The cheft Josepha dead dooy was pur, 1830 filed Gen. 30, 20. Include whento that money which was gathered for repairing the Emple, is also fo filled, 2 (ting. 12. 9. This showed that all the counsels of God, all the love and favour of God, all that God accounteth pretious, are treasured up in Christ: even as in a mans coffer, or cheft, his Jewels, Plate, coyn, treasure, and whatfoever he hath in ip cial efteem, ufeth to be put. Such a coffer or cheft fhall be in the house where he dwelleth, in the chamber where he lyeth, even by his beds head. For where 2 mans treasure is, there will his heart be also, Matth. 6.21. Thus in Christ are hid all the treasures of God, Col. 2. 3. Christ is in contrary and an use resources of God, Con. 1.3. Chrift is the fon of his love, Col. 1.13. Chrift is bis elect in whom his foul delighteth, Ifa. 42. 1. Chrift is ever at Gods right hand, Heb. 10.13. Therefore the Ark, that type of Chrift, is here in Gods houle in the innermost part thereof of th. Covenant of the Lord. ] See ch. 3. 15.

V. 20. And the Oracle in the fore-part ] Namely in the forepart of the Temple, which was the uppermoft part thereof.

was twenty cubit in length, This was half the length of the holy place, v. 17. and twenty subits in breadth, This was the full breadth of and twenty cubits in the height thereof: 7 Though the whole Temple were thirty cubits high, v. 2. from the foundation to the top ; yet there being fleps whereby they afcended out of the court into the porch , and out of the porch into the holy place, and out of the holy place , there is the porch into the holy place into the most boly place ; there might remain but twenty cubits betwixt the floor and top o the Oracle. Or there might be an inner roof covering the Oracle below the common roof which was over all the house and thus betwint the floor of the Oracle and that inner roof thereof, there might be but twenty cubits in height. and be overlaid it with pure gold.] Heb. fhut up. That which was thorowly refin'd and laid up, especially for that purpole, 1 Chron. 28.18. & 29.3, 4. 2 Chron. 3.6. See ch. 9.28. This was not gilt, but overlaid with plates of gold.

and fo covered | In like manner the Altar was covered, being overlaid with plates of gold.

the Altar | For incenfe, v. 22.

which was of Cedar ] It was first made of Cedar boord, then plates of gold laid over it. In this respect it is called the Altar of gold, ch. 7. 48. The Altar which Moses made was of tar or going cm. 7-40. In entire which in largeness, limothnesse, Shittim wood, (Exod. 20.1.) which in largeness, imountesses, lastingness, and other such properties, was lika Cedar.

V. 21. 80 Solomon overlaid the house within ] Namely the most holy place.

with pure gold: ] See v. 20.

and be made a partition, ] This partition divided the most ho ly place from the holy place.

by the chaines of gold before the Oracle, ] These chains were to hold up the vail, whereby those two places were divided,

2 Chron. 2. 14. 16. and be overlaid it with gold, ] There were Cedar boords, wherewith also the foresaid partition was made, and these were overlaid with plates of gold.

V. 22. And the whole boule he overlaid with gold, He means both the koly and most holy place.

antill be had inified all the houfe: ] He left no part thereof uncovered with gold.

alfo the whole altar, that was by the Oracle, he overlaid with gold.] any to wone after, too make your Orace, percentain want general the Altar of incenties here meant, as v. ao. This was elet in the holy place, (Exod, 40, 26), close by the entrance into the mult Holy, and it was overtaid with gold on the top, fides, horns, and every where elfe. So was the Altar of Incente which Mofes caused to the made, Exod, 37, 26. This Altar typified the person of Christ. The wood whereof it was made, his humanity: the gold his deity. The Incense offered there-

V. 21. And within the Oracle be made two Cherubims ] A v. 23. exam summation tractive measures (octiones) A Cherub was a repreferration of a young man with wings. The image of a man, first out their understanding the wings, their speed and twistness. Cherubims fee out Angels, Gen. 2, 24. These here were curved statues. As in the Tabernacle, there were two Cherubins of Maffie gold : and fundry other Cherubims wrought in the curtains and vail, (Exod. 36. 8, 35.) fo in the Temple there were these two great Cherubims more; yea and many other graven on the wals, on the doors, (I King. 6.29,32.35.) and on the bafes, I King. 7.29, 36. All thefe fer out the multitudes of Angels in Churches, as Epb. 3. 10. See Exod. 25.18.

of Olive tree Or, office. Heb. trees of offe. This kind of wood was bard, firm and lafting; and in these respects fit to make massie statues, (such as these Cherubims were) and to be for posts and doors, v. 31, 33. These Cherubians were very great, like Gyants, and thereupon the substance of them was of wood. The Cherubims which Moses made were far less, and might better be of beaten gold, Exod. 25.18. Thefe Cherubims covered the Chernbims of Moses, 2 Chron. 3. 10, 11, 12, and ten cubits high.] This measure shews, that they far eaceeded the Cherubins of Moles.

V. 24. And five cubits was the one wing of the Cherub, &c. ] The bredth from the uttermost part of their two wings, was as much as their height. The body of a Cherub was comprehended under the wings, so as the two wings, together with the thickness of the body, being stretched out, made ten full cu-

V. 25. And the other Cherub was ten cubites: ] So as each of them being ten cubites a piece, they reached from one wall of the Oracle to the other, which was twice ten cubites. both the Cherubins were of one measure. ] One as tall as another, and one as broad in bulk and wings as the other.

and of one fige. ] Thus were they every way uniform ; which is a great grace in things flanding together, and put to the fame use. Thus are the two ears, (yes, arms, hands, thighes, legs. and feet in a mans body. The Angels are every way unani-mous. O what a comely thing would it be, for Ministers of Christ to be unanimous and uniform, 2 Cor. 12. 18. So for other Christians also, Plal. 133. 1. Act. 2.46. V. 26. The beight of one Cherub was ten cubites, See v. 23. It reached up but to half the height of the Oracle, which was weenly cubits high.

and fo was it of the other Chemb.] Seev. 25.

V. 27. And he fet the Chembins within the inner boule: ]

That is, the most holy place. It was within the holy place, and therefore called the inner house, 2 Chron.4. 12.

and they stretched forth the wings of the Churuhims, ] The workmen made them fo far to ftretch. Or, the Cherubims firstched forth their wings, Exod. 25.20.

(6 that the wing of the one touched one wall, &c.] Thus they reached from one end of the Oracle to the other. V. 28. And he overlaid the Cherubins with gold.] As he had done the Incense Altar before, v. 22.

V. 29 And he carved all the walt of the house round about with carved figures of Cherubinn, See v. 23.

and Palme trees, These kinde of trees, at least the boughs of hem, were used to fet out peace; and therefore were fet on the walls of the Temple. and open flowers, ] See v. 18.

within and without.] If this be applyed to the partition betwist the most holy, and holy place, it signifieth both sides thereof: or otherwise it may be taken for the walls within and without the Oracle.

without the Oracle.

V. 30. And the floor of the boule 3 See v. 15.

be overlaid with gold, 3 See v. 20. Here this phrase is taken of the floor within and without the vall of the Oracle.

V. 31. And for the entring of the Oracle be made doors of other interests are to the second the interest and the posts, or the door to hang and fall upon, and the transome over them were a fift part of the wall.] Or, fift square. These were four tubits, which is the fift part of twenty cubits. See v. 20. Each fide was four cubits. The door had two leaves, and each leaf had two foldings, as v. 34. Ezck. 11. 22,14.

Olive trees, | See v. 13.

V. 32. The two doors] Or, leaves of the doors.

alfo] As well as the posts.

were of Olive tree, ] See v. 23.
and he carved upon them carvings of Cherubins, &c. ] See v.

and open flowers.] Heb. openings of flowers.
and overlaid them with gold,] See v. 20.
and Gread gold, egc.] There was nothing in either part of the Temple, which was not overlaid with gold, and the fame curious carvings which were on the fides of the Louie, were tree The Temple here is taken for the holy place, and the matter of the doors hereof was juch as of the doors of the a fourth part of the wall.] Or, four fquave. If this be taken apart pur of us not.] Of, feer plane. It can be easier from the first part, the doors of the Lourle pure the larger then the doors of the Oracle. These being the fit part (v. 31.) with three rones of based flow, and a rer of Cedar beam.] of twenty cubites, were four cubits; these being the fourth part, were five cubits.

V. 24. And the two doors were of firre tree : ] See chap. 5.8. Firr trees, not being every way to excellent as Olive trees. the Olive tree was used about the most holy place.

the two leaves of one door were folding, &cc. ] By this means the patfage was the larger. V. 35. And he carved thereon, &c. | Sec v. 29.

fixed upon the carved work ] That is, beaten to close to the carved work, as every part of the ingraven was distinctly difcerned through the gold. V. 36. And he built the inner cours | Solomon built the Temple antiverable to the Tabernacle, as in fundry other re-The word Court in the fingular number may feem to imply that there was only one Court: but by a Synecdoche, the fingular number is put for the plural; or elfe that Gourt was divided into two or more Courts. Courts in the plural number are in other places mentioned, as 1 Chron. 23, 28, and 28. 6. There is express mention made of two Courts, 2 King. 21. 5. and 23. 12. So much also is here implyed under this 21. f. and 23. 12. So much attots here mpayed unset use, note of difficient, minnt: Fore its a relative word. It hath relation to an miter, (Ezek. 10.35.) Or outward, (Ezek. 40.95.) Or outward, (Ezek. 40.95.) Or outward to the state of the defendence of the state o all the Courts appertaining thereunto were built on the fide of an hill. The Temple on an higher part of the hill then the Courts; and the Inner Court on an higher part then the utter: that fo they that were in the first entrance, or lowest place, might fee what was done in the upper places. That which here and in fundry other places is called the inner Court, is filled the Court of the Priefts, 2 Chron, 4.9. For therein Priests and Levites did their ordinary services. The other Court is called the great Court, 2 Chron. 4.9. For as the inner Court was greater then the holy place : to the utter Court was greater then the inner. Into the great Court came the people; thither they brought all their offerings; and there the Priest took them at their hands, Deut. 12.11. Thither they affembled to be instructed in the Law of God . Ezr. 10. 9. and there they frood while the Priests were offering their facrifices, yea and while they offered incense in the Holyplace: and there they used to pray, Zach. 1. 10. there also the word was usually preached to them, Act. 3. 11, 12. & 5, 12. In this Court was the great brasen Altar (whereof see 2 Chron. 4, 1.) This Altar was placed by the entrance into that Court, out of the peoples Court : that so the people might the better fee the facrifices that were offered thereon. For when a folemn facrifice was offered, the people in a femicircle flood round in their own Court next to the Priests and fo are faid to compais the Altar, Pfal. 16. 6. In this Court alfo was the great Sea; the ten Lavers, and all other holy urenfils that were of brafs. Many Jewish and Christian Expositors make three Courts: namely, the Priefts Court, the peoples Court, and the womens Court. Some there be that make the peoples and the womens Court to be but one and the fame Court: yet so divided, as the men were in one part thereof, and the women in the other: by reason of which division, they might be accounted two Courts. Another Court they make to be for fuch as were unclean, and for ftrangers or Gentiles: Yet so as there was a division therein, so as the unclean were in one part, and ftrangers in another. All thefe divisions may stand with that distinction of two Courts, which is expresly fet down , 2 Chron. 4. 9. Namely , the Priests Court and the great Court, The great Court compossed the Temple and the Priefts Court round about. In the former part of the great Court were fuch Ifraelites, as were accounted clean, and they both men and women: but divided one from another, as we heard before. In another part were unclean perfors and aliens; and thefe also divided one from another. This was it for which Paul was accused, that he had brought Greeks into the Temple, Act. 21. 28. They supposed that he had brought strangers into the Court of the Israelites, a general acception, under these phrases, Temple, and House | 2. The measures of the Temple are reckoned from inside to also on the doors; they were every way uniform, verse 29.1 of God. In which respect that place where oven and sheep were fold, and where changers of money fate, is called the 1. V. 33. So also made be for the doors of the Temple, posts of Olive Temple and House of God, Joh 2. 14, 16. In the Court of the Temple here is taken for the holy place, and the when by prayer and bleffing he confectated the Temple, (See Chron. 6. 13.) and wherein Joash was set, when he was first anounted Kins, (2 Chron, 23.13.) yet this place is cal-

This is a description of a wall. Now there were wals whereby the feveral courts were fevered one from another; and wherby also the Courts were compassed round about and inclofed. The former fort were but three cubits high; and they were made fo low, that all that were in any of the utter Courts, might over those walls see the manner of the Priefts offering their facrifices, and other things done in the Priefts Court. In relation to these walls, by the three rowes of flones, may be meant three forts of choyce flones laid even together: These are said to be hemed, because by hewing they were made fquare and even. Over these were a row of Cedar beams, that the stones might lye the faster under them; and that people might the better lean on them, and look over heefts, fo in adjoyning a Court thereunto. Of the Court them: or these Cedar beams might be for the gates, thorow iperts, foin adjoyning a Court mercanto. Of the Court, them; or meje coar ocausing new for the gates, under which Mofes added to the Tabernacle, See Exod, 27, 9 &C. which there were palfages our of one Court into another. That Court was far greater then the Tabernacle; fo was the The truermoul wall was a very high one; and to it were a Court which Solomon here built far larger then the Temple, i joyned chambers and galleries. The wall being built with three courses of squared and polished stones, Cedar beams were laid under those rooms to bear them up.

V. 37. In the fourth year ] Of Solomons reign. See v.1. was the foundation of the house of the Lord laid, ] That house was begun to be built, See v. I.

in the moneth Zif.] Sec v. 1.

V. 38. And in the eleventh year ] Of Solomons reign : This was the feventh yeer after the house was begun to be built. If the stateliness of the building, the curious workmanship therein, and the many things apperraining thereunto be duly weighed, we may conclude that Solomon used great speed and diligence in absolving the same. in the moneth But, 1 See v. 1 which is the eight moneth, ] This answered in part to our No-was the boufe finished throughout all the parts thereof, and according to all the fashion of it.]. Or, with all the appurtenances thereof, and with all the ordinances thereof. The house it felf, the feveral divisions thereof, all the courts, walls, chambers, galleries, inftruments, menfils, carvings, deckings, and all things elic appertaining thereunto, were finished.

So was he seven years in building it.] This is a round number, and therefore thus fet down alone. The like is used in fundry other cafes.

Six moneths, are in a full and just accompt to be added hereunto; for Solomon began to build the house in the fecond moneth of his fourth yeer, and finished it in the eight moneth of his eleventh yeer. Compare the first and last verfes of this chapter together,

CHAP. VII.

Verf. 1. Bur] This that is here noted in this verfe, is fee down by way of opposition to the last clause in the former chapter: and the opposition is in the difference of thirteen years | Ch.9.10, these thirteen years began after the comple was finished, he was fix veers longer in building his own house, then the house of the Lord not that his own house was larger or more curioufly built then the Lords house bur because he neither had such materials prepared for it, norim-ployed so many workmen about it. The house of Lebanon. v. 2. the porch for the throne, v. 7. and the house for the Queen, v. 8, were all built in this time.

Solomon was 'milding his own house ] That which he intended for himfelf and all his followers; commonly called the

V.2. He built alfo the house of the forrest of Lebanon This house was so called, because great store of trees, as in Lebanon, were planted about it; and gardens, or chards, groves, walks, and all manner of delightful things were added thereto, Eccl. 2. 4,5,6. It had also in other several stories of it above an hundred pillars of Cedar. Beams, boords; and all the timber whereof t was made, were of the Cedars of Lebanon; and as fome gather out of chap, 9, 19, it was framed in Lebanon.

ther out of chap, 9, 19, 1 was rained in Levation, the length thereof was an hundred cubits.] Whereas from this measure it may be objected, that this house was longer then the house of God, which is faid to be but fixty cubits long, and for not only the most Holy and holy places were called the twenty broad, chap.6.2. Ianswer, 1. That cubits after which Temple : but also the porch before the Holy place : yes and the Temple were counted, were facred, of four and twenty the Priefts Court, and the great Court are all comprifed, in inches; but thefe common of eighteen cubits: fee chap. 6.2.

infide the thickness of the two wals, and the space of the | had his residency for the most part. porch at the cotry, and of the chambers round about, are left porm at the entry, and of the chambers round about, are left out. 3. It is supposed, that the three houses, one for the king, an other for the Queen, a third for delight, are all comprised under the one humared cubits; yea, also the kings treasury, and the bredth thereof fifty cubits ] It was half as broad as. long.

and the height thereof thirty cubits ] This was every way larger then the temple. See chap. 6. v.2.

uton four rows of cedar tillars] Thele pillars were to support it, by reason of the bredth thereof.

with cedar beams upon the villars | The walls were of flone. v. 9. but the pillars flood in their ranks between the flone-walls. The first flory was supported with four rows of pillars following. for the greater strength. The ends of the beams rested upon the heads of the pillars. V. 3. And it was covered with cedar above ] He means cedar boords, with which it was boorded.

uponshe beams ] Heb. ribs. For beams in an house are as ribs in a living creature. that lay on fourty five pillars | This is to be taken of the higher flory. For the first story was supported by four rows of pillars fifieen in a row ] These three times multiplied make up the fourty five. V. A. And there were windows in three rows ] The three rows here intended were in three flories one over another, and light was against light? Heb. fight against fight. By windows light is let into rooms, and thereby men fee both in the room as on the other, directly opposite; and that for more light and delight. inthreeranhs One over another. By this it appears, that this f ir edifice was three flories high; there being three rooms, one over another.

V. s. And all the doors and posts were [quare] Or, spaces and pillars were square in prospect] They were all alike, all square; and they were so framed, as the doors fell more evenly and closely upon the posts. with the windows ] The windows also were made like unto and light was against light in three ranks ] See v. 4.

V. 6. And he made a porch ] This porch was before the houle of Lebanon, and that for the greater grace thereof : through it they entred into the house. So had he made a porch before the of pillars This porch had many pillars in it, and therein was answerable to the house it felfe; v. 2. It is probable, that there were upper stories also in this porch, which were supporred by the pillars. the longth thereof was fifty cubits ] This measure was answerable to the breath of the houle, (v. 2.) before which it stood; even for the porch before the temple was as long as the temple was broad, chap. 6.3. and the bredth thereof thirty cubits | This measure shews it to be a fracious entrance.

and the porch was before them ] Or, according to them. Every thing in the porch was answerable to the house before which

and the other pillars ] Namely, those which were in the porchand in the severall stories thereof.

and the thick beam ] Or, the main great fummer, whereon the floors of the upper rooms were laid. were before them ] Or, according to them. As the porch it felf, to the pillars and beams therein, were in fashion answerable to the pillars and beams of the boufe.

V. 7. Then be made a porch The porch here meant was be-fore the kings palace. This therefore was distinct from the former porch of the house of Lebanon.

for the throne ] That a throne might be fet therein. Questionless he means hereby that glorious throne which is described.chap.10.18. &c.

where he might judge ] Here the end of a throne is declared : namely, to be for a judgement feat. This porch was very convenient for fuch as should come to the king, sitting on his even the porch of judgement ] This is added for explanation fake. Kings of old were wont to fit on their throns to hear and determine causes, chap. 2. 16, 28. Prov. 20.8.

and it was covered with cedar It was boorded, (as ver. 3.)

with cedar boords. from on fide of the floor to the other ] Heb. from floor to floor. The words most properly fer out the whole porch to be boorded every way round about. Some take it for the fieling of the walls from the floor to the roof. V. 8. And bis boufe where he dwelt ] His palace, where he had another court within the torch ? This court was betwise the forefaid place of judgement, and the other rooms of the kings house. It is called the middle court, 2 Kings 20.4. which was of the like work ] Of fuch work as the kings palace

Solomon made also an house for Pharoabs daughter \This likewife was a fair spacious palace for the Queen and her retinue. Of Pharoahs daughter, and of the reasons why a special house was made for her, fee chap. 3.1.
whom hebad taken to wife | Of this also, fee chap. 3.1.

like unto this porch ] He means hereby the porch and other edifices, before mentioned : whereunto the Queens house was like in the materials and workmanship, specified in the verles

V. 9. All these He meaneth the fore-mentioned buildings.

were of costly stones] See chap. 5. 17.
according to the measures of hewed stones] Though they were in their kinde very choyce and coffly ftones, yet were they also s great as other ordinary flones : and every way fourred and fitted, as other stones. of hewed ] Heb. of cutting.

[awed with [aws] Malons use these instruments for fitting their stones, as well as Carpenters for cutting their timber. within and without, ] Every way on all fides.

even from the foundation unto the coping, ] By the coping is meant the top of the wall whereon the beams were laid. and fo on the out fide toward the great court. ] Thus he fnews what he meant by the former phrase, within and without. the room, and thorow these windows out of the room. By The great court was the place where all forts of people used to light against light, he means so many windows on one side of affemble: it was without the porch of judgement, For there was another court within it, which was betwixt the porch of indeement feat and the kings house, v. 8. Very fitly was that place of judgement fet betwixt two courts. One for fuch as came out of the kings house: another for all forts of people hat came out of other places. V. 10. And the foundation was of coftly fiones] Not onely so much of the building as might be seen above ground, but also that which was buried in the carth, was of colly stones. See chap. 5. 17. Costly stones were lasting stones, and by such as were well able to purchase them, fittest to lay for a founda-even great flones Being coftly and great, they must needs be of the more worth and better price.

fiones of sencubits] twenty foot fquare. This measure shews, that they were very massie stones. They made the foundation and flones of eight cubits ] These were fixteen foot square. Though they were not fo big as the other, yet even these were of a great quantity.

V. II. And above were coftly flones ] Upon or over the foundation; under ground and above ground, they were alike.

after the measure of bewed stones | See v. 9.

and celars] These cedars were for beams, boords, sieling, and other like ules.

V. 12. And the great court round about ] The context implyeth, that the great court here meant, was that which compaffed the kings house round about, and not that great court which compassed the house of the Lord, 2 Chron. 4. 9. whereof fee chap. 6. 26.

was with three rows of bewed flone, and a row of cedar beams]

See chap. 6. 36.
both for the inward court of the house of the Lord, ] His meaning is, that the walls of this court were like the walls of the inner court, appertaining to the temple, whereof fee chap.

and for the porch of the bouse. ] As there was a porch erected before the house of the Lord, chap. 6.3. so also there was such a porch before the kings house.

V. 13. And hing Solomon fent and fet Hiram out of Tyre. This Hiram here meant was not king Hiram (ato) 176. J but a workman deferibed, v. 14. Solomon had defired the king of Tyre to fend him a skilful workman; and the king commended this man to him, 2 Chron. 2. 7,13. thereupon Solomon fent and fet him, V. 14. He was a widows son Heb. the son of a widow wotowards a widow. For queflionlels fuch a fon was a great flay to her widowhood.

of the tribe of Naphtali, ] The mention of this tribe in this place, hath relation to the son, who was of Naphtali by his father : his mother was of the tribe of Dan, 2 Chron. 2. 14. Soashe was an Ifraelite, both by father and mother.

and his father was a man of Tyre] This is to be taken of his foster-father, who was an inhabitant in Tyre. This Hiram is fo called, of him who taught him his art, and adopted him to be his fon. See 2 Chron. 4. 16. He was educated in Tyre Chap. vij. when he learned his art. There also he dwelt and thereupon it two rows were of pomgranates, which hanging upon the necis faid, that he was fent for and fet from thence.

a worker in brafs, ] This may be applyed to him that is here faid to be Hirams father : for much more is faid of Hiram himself, r Chron. 2. 14. if it be applyed to Hiram himself, it is to be taken Synecdochically; skilfulness in one thing, is put for skilfulness in many things.

he was filled with wisdom and understanding.] These gifts are very requifice to make men skilful in workmanship : yea,allo to direct fuch as are skilful, well to order their skill and workmanship. The phrase of being filled, may be taken for a great measure of the gifts they had : and of such a measure as was attained by education, instruction, or a mans own industry and diligence. But most properly it is taken for such a work of the Spirit, as enables men after an extraordinary manner to do great things: as Exod. 35. 35. & 36.1 Dan. 1. 17. Luk, 2. 40. Neither of these are here to be excluded. For questionlefs this Hiram; by others inftructions and his own industry, attained to more then ordinary skill : yer, withal the Spirit of God wrought in him the more understanding, for this very work fake.

and cunning to work ] This is added as an effect of his wildom. For it implyeth, as a curious, fo a well ordering of fuch things as he did, by making them Iquare, long, round, or o-therwife fashioned, as the kinde of thing which he made required : yea, and by engraving any figures or representations all works in brafs : ] As he sheweth his skilfulness on this particular mettal, fo did he the like also on other mettals, as was noted before.

and he came to king Solomon ] This bath relation to Solomons fending for him, v. 13. and it sheweth his readiness to place.

mentioned, be duely observed, it will appear, that he shewed great skilfulness and faithfulness. V. 15. For he cast ] Heb. fashioned. Brass by the casting of it, uleth to be fathioned : and fathioning of brafs presupposeth casting : therefore the one may well be put for the other. twopillars of brafs] Pillars are to support things laid upon them, v. 2. and two pillars are needful to bear beams and such other things as are laid upon them; the one end upon one pillar, the other end upon another. They were of brafs, for bits, they could not have flood in the temple, which was but thirty cubits high, chap. 6.2. captivity : for then they were carried into Babylon, 2 King. 25. 13.

on the right name.

of eighten cubies high spices 1 I This measure is to be taken of the height of a pillar, betwire the foot whereon it flood, and the chapter on the bead of it: for from the ground to the top

Hebrew word whence this name is desired, figurities rectinate. 2 Chron. 3. 15. Besides, the eighteen cubites here mentioned firmness, were facred; but the thirty and five might be common cubites; and in that respect shorter by a third part, as is noted v. 2. Or elfe, here the height of one fingle pillar may be fet fpect, they did bear the greater compais.

V. 16. And he made two chapiters J Or, heads. They were fo called, because they were on the tops of the pillars, for grace and ornamenr.

to fet upon the tops of the pillars This confirms the reason gi-the height of the one chapiter was five cubites, ] This measure is to be taken of the whole chapiter from the bottom to the top : for so much of the chapiter as was wrought upon with curious works, was but four cubites, ver. 19. and the round and the height of the other chapiter was five cubites. ] This is added, to flow that they were both of an equal height.

V. 17. And nets of checker-work, and wreaths of chain-work] These phrases set out a very artificial kinde of work, whereby fundry sprigs, leaves, flowers and fruits were curiously enterlaced and wreathed together. This was very delightfom to the wreathed one into another, compassed a chapiter round bility of Gods Church, Matt. 16. 18.

and feven for the other chapiter] As the two chapiters were works, are faid to cover the chapiters : yet not fo, buft that the curious works on the chapiters were differend between the nomeranates.

and fo did he for the other chapiter. ] They were both alike. V. 19. And the chapiters that were upon the top of the pillane were of lilly-work The Lilly was a glorious flower, (Mar. 6. 29.) and odoriferous, (Cant. 5. 13.) fitly therefore are these added to beautifur the chapiters. For this end they were allo fet won the brim of the great fea, 2 Chron.4. 5.

in she porch, ] He means the porch that was before the Holy place. See chap. 6. 3. there the pillars were fet, v. 21.

four cubites. This measure of four cubites is to be applied to the filly-work, and reached from the fquare, whereon the belly and crown of the chapiter Rood. For the chapiter outfifted of these three parts: a square, a belly, a crown. All these were in height five cubites, v. 16. The three cubites mentioned, 2 King, 25.17. are meant of the net work thereupon s and the four cubits are to be taken of the lilly-work.

V. 20. And the chapiters upon the two pillars had pomeranates alfo above ] See v. 18. over against the belly ] Round about the midle part.

which was by the net-work The net-work being upon the faid belly.

and the pomegranates were two bundred, ] Oa both fides, For on the one fide were but an hundred pomegranates, Jer. 12. 23. 2 Chron. 3. 16. where the Prophet (Jer. 51, 23,) nameth but ninety fix, he fpeaks of the four parts of the border, there being twenty four on each part, which make up ninety fix. But there were four more on each corner, which four make up an hundred, expressed by the Prophet himself in that in rows round about the other chapiter] Heb. fecond. That is, and wrought all his work.] If the particular works, hereafter the one as well as the other; both alike, Jer. 52, 22,

V. 21. And he fet up the pillars in the porch of the temple | See chap. 6. 3, 2. Chron. 3. 17. This fliews that they were not in the Holy place, for therein was nothing but things of gold, as the altar of incenfe, the candlefficks and tables, whereon were laid fundry utenfils of gold, whereof fee, v. 48. &c. In this porch we read of nothing elfe to be fet but thefe two pillars, which flood close by the entrance into the holy place. If the height of these pillars were (as 2 Chron. 3.15.) thirty five cuthirty cubits high, chap. 6.2.

and he fer up the right pillar, ] Namely, the pillar which was

(Gen. 42.11. Pfal. 5.9. & 51. 10. Jer. 8.6.) as well 28

rmnels, and he fet up the lest pillar, ] Namely, that on the lest hand, and called the name thereof Boaz, ] that is, in it is strength. v. De elle, fiere une neight of one inight pount may be rec-down: but a Chron. 3, 13, the length of them both, and aline of inclove cubites that compass either of them about.] pillars to be ftraight and ftrong. So also ought they to be, who are as pillars in Church or State. But thefe two pillars had especial respect to Christ, whose continual power and faithfulness in his Church was typified thereby.

ets in his Cauren was typined inetery.

V. 22. And upon the pillars was filly-work: ] See v. 19.

6 was the work of the pillars finished. ] Though this phrase in general be used of the whole house of the Lord, (I King. 6. 38.) and of the kings houle, (chap. 7.11. and of all the works appertaining to the temple, which Hiram did, (2 Chron. 4. 11.) yet it is not applyed to any other of the particulars made curious works, was our court contest, yet any small resulting of positions appointment; not to the compass or pommel of the chapiter was but five cubites, Sea, not to the Candlefficks, not to the Tables; but onely to these Pillars: which shews, that they were remarkable marters. So they were in fundry respects: as, 1. In their height, 2 Chron. 3:15. 2. In their thickness and compass, Jer. 52. 21. 3. In the curious workmanship about them, verl. 17.

4. In their special use: for whereas other pillars are used to fuport edifices, (v. 2.) or to direct men in their way (Ifai. 19.19.) or to be a witness, (Gen 31.51.) or to be a memoriforthethapiters mbith were upon the top of the pillars, ] The forthethapiters mbith were upon the top of the pillars, ] The bang fuch things thereon as were to be taken notice of the pillars were plain and fmooth. The curious work. [17] and 15] The pillars were, 1. For an evidence of Gadas continue shifting a same his route. 2. Of the continue shifting a same his route. 2. Of the continue shifting the pillars were plain and fine pillars. 3. Of the continue plain and the pillars were plain and fine pillars were plain and fine pillars. 3. Of the continue plain and the pillars were plain and fine pillars. 3. Of the pillars were plain and fine pillars were plain and fine pillars. 3. Of the pillars were plain and fine pillars were plain and fine pilla Gods constant abiding among his people. 2. Of the coatinufeven for the one chapiter, ] Seven chain-works checker-wife ance of the temple and the ordinances thereof. 3. Of the sta-

V. 23. And he made a moulten Ses ] 2 Chron. 4. 2. This vesselled a fea, in regard of the largeness thereof, uniform in sheir beight and biguels, so also in their workman- and of the great quantity of water which it contained, see v. hap 18. And he made the pillars.] He adorated and decked and then cell, v. 46.

and then cell, v. 46.

test cables from the case brien to the other.] Hels, from this brien to the colors of the colors from the case brien to the colors. The colors from the case brien to the colors.

seem as usen manner as contowern.

and two rower round about upon the one net-work, (or. ] These to bis brim. This shews that it was exactly round. For a Chap.vii.

diameter, (that is a straight line through the midst of a cen-1 ter) is the third part of a perfect circumference or round it was round all about] Which shows that the compass round about it, was three times as much as a fraight line that directly ftrook it thorough.

and bis height was five cubits ] So as according to the meafure of the jacred cubit was ten foot deep.

and a line of thirty cubits did compass it round about] This flews a diameter to be the third part of a circumference, as

V. 24. And under the brim of it round about there were knops compaffingit] Of fuch knops mention is made, chap. 6.18 Oxen are named, 2 Chron. 4.3. For the hebrew word may import any figure. Or it may be, that there were the shapes, both of knops, and also of oxen, or bul-heads, cast thereon, tening subit.] Ten in every cubit, three hundred in all for it was thirty cubits in compass. compassing the sea round about 2 Chron. 4.3. It was that wormanihip of knops, or oxen, which were round about the

the knops were caft in two rows when it was caft ] At the first casting of the vessel it self, this workmanship was cast therewith; for it was made in the mould; it was not added after the vesicl was cast.

V. 25. It flood upon twelve oxen] Thefe oxen were not fe finall, as those which are mentioned, a Chron. 4, 3, but they were huge massic ones: not hollow, but solid thorowout, that they might bear the butthen of fo great a velici full of water.

three looking toward the North, and three, Sec.] These own

"V. 33. And the work of the wheels was like the work of a chawere so placed, as their saces were set to considerately part of visit wheel]. In such particulars as follow. the world : the twelve Apostles (who by reason of their pains were as oxen) were fent unto all nations every where, Mat. 28.27. fome towards the North, some towards the West, some towards the South, and some towards the East : there have alfo been Ministers of the Gospel, in all parts of the world, and the fea was fet above upon them ] The fea was fo placed on them, as they did bear it up from the ground.

and all their hinder parts were inward] Thus that great veffel was the better born; though the former part of the oxen were without, for the greater grace and ornament. And it may be, that passages were made thorow the heads of the oxen, to let water out of that fea. See v. 26.

V. 26. And it was an band-bredth thick ] That is, about four inches. It was not hollow, but folid throughout, as the

and the brim thereof was wrought like the brim of a cup] It was round and wider at the brim then any where elfe.

round and water at the time train; which was ordina-mith flowers of Lillies! Sec v. 19. it contained two thousand baths.] So much was ordina-rily purthereinto; burbeing filled up to the brim, it might contain three thousand baths, 2 Chron. 4. 5. A bath contained about eight gallons; by which account four baths make a barrel: fo as this fea could contain feven hundred and fifty barrels of water, and five hundred barrels full were or-dinarily put into it. This was for the Priefls to wash in, 2 Chron. 4.6. Not that the Pricfts went with their whole with the water, which by cocks, or other wayes, was let out offit, they washed their hands, arms, feet, legs, other parts of their body, yea and other things allo, which they had occasion towash. See v. 38.

V. 27. And be male ten bafes of brass? These were made to four cubits was the length of one base, and four cubits the bredth thereof] They were every one of them four fquare.

and three cubits the beight of it ] The bottom of these lavers was about two yards from the ground, though the bredth of the wheels joyned to these bases be comprized under these three cubits.

V. 28. And the work of the basis was on this manner, they had borders] These borders were broad places compassing the veiled round about; whereon were fundry images of Lions, and the borders were between the ledges] These ledges were plain places round about the veffel, flanding out further then the fide of the veffel.

V. 19. And on the borders that were between the ledges were Lyons, oxen and Cherubins That is, figures of these several creatures, which were cast with the vessel, as v. 24. The Lions put the Priefts in minde of courage; the oxen, of pains and industry : the Cherubims, of prudence and speed. and upon the ledges there was a base above ] He means by this bafe an under-propper. See v. 34.

and beneath the lions and exen were certain additions made of the work] By these additions are meant certain cutious works, which were engraven on the veffel, after it was caft,

V. 30. And every base had four brasen wheels] Their wheels were to remove the veffel from place to place, as occasion and the four corners thereof had under-festers ] Heb. foulders.

Thefe were as shoulders to uphold the vessel, and to keep it from flaking, or moving out of its place, when it should be under the laver were under-fetters moulten] They were not by beating fa(hioned to this or that proportion, but caft, See at the fide of every addition ] Sec v. 29, V. 31. And the month of it within the chapiter, and above, was a cubite, &c. ] The hollow place of the base, into which the lower part of the laver (called the chapiter) was put to the upper part of it, was a cubite; but the round compass of it was a cubite and an half: and though there were a round hollow place in the base, yet the base it self was square, and fundry gravings upon it.

V. 32. And under the borders were four wheels] Of the use of thele wheels, fee v. 30.

and the axle-trees of the wheels were joyned to the base] Heb. in the base. The base lying on the axie-tree, and the laver on the bases, the laver was removed from place to place, by help of the wheels into which the axle-tree was put, and the height of a wheel was a cubit and half a cubit. This was the measure of the wheel from one fide to another in a direct their axle-trees and their naves and their felloes, and their [poles] These are those particulars, wherein these wheels of brass were like chariot wheels. were all moulten] The brass of them was not first beaten out in their feveral parts, and after faftned together; but were all cast together, and fashioned like wheels in their moulds.

V. 34. And there were four under fetters to the four corners of one base] Secv. 30.

and the under setters were of the very base it self! Of the fame mertal, molten and east altogether.

V. 35. And in the top of the boule was there a round compals of half a cubit bigh] This is to be taken of a less base then that which was mentioned, v. 30,31, this was within that: fo as this might be but half a cubit, and the other half a cubit more. and on the top of the base, the ledges thereof, and the borders thereof ] Of these ledges and borders, See v. 28.

where of the fame | Of the fame mettal cast together. V. 36. For on the plates of the ledges thereof, he graved Cherubims, Lions | See v. 29, 30.

and palm trees | See chap. 6. 29.
according to the proportion | Heb. nakedness. The proportion of everything is best discerned when it is naked. In this place is meant a plain, clear, fit resemblance.

and additions round about] See ver. 29.
V. 37. After this manner he made the ten bales, all of them had one casting, one measure, and one size Frequent mention is bodies naked into that brasen sea full of water; but that | made of uniformity in such things of the temple, as were of one kinde. Uniformity about the things of God is duly to be observed : for all have one and the same rule,

De obierved : for all nave one and the lame rule.

V. 38. Then made he ren | Yet there was but one in the ta-bernacle, Exod. 30. 18. Befides, that the fea (v. 23.) far exceeded in quantity the layer in the tabernacle 3 there were v. 27. ana of mariest outs of mary 1 new were made to exceeded in quantity the layer in the cacernates; there were been formany layers, or great veifles to hold water in them, whereof-fee, v. 38, befiels the great fea before mention; the tabernatele; and had need of a greater quantity of waters. Yet further, God would thereby shew the encrease of his goodness. The like may be noted of the candlesticks and tables, whereof there were ten in the temple(v.49. 2 Chr.4.8.) to one in the tabernacle. There was also the like in other things. As the holy things in Solomons temple, exceeded the holy things in Moses tabernacle, in their number, mea-fures, weight, and other respects: so the holy things of the christian Church, in a spiritual consideration, far excel Solomons, Hag 2.10. 2 Cor.3,11. Heb. 8.1,2. & 9.23. lavers of brase These were vessels to hold a good quantity of water, to wash their facrifices therewith, 2 Chron.4.6 one laver contained fourty baths That is ten barrels. See v. 26. These lavers were to wall facrifices, and other like things in them, 2 Chron. 4.6.

and every laver was four cubits This shews that they were very broad; being four cubits in a diameter from fide to fide. Thus they were twelve cubits in compals on the brim, and in that respect, the more fit for the Priests and Levites, to put fuch things as they were to wash, into them. That great store of water which was in fore-faid Sea and ten lavers, fleweth the great need that man hath to be washed and cleansed :

and that in regard of his manifold pollutions and fins; yea, all the vessets Such as Moles had caused to be made before, it showed allo, that all things which he useth need cleansing: Exod. 37. 10,8tc. but far begger in quantity, and more in for he tainteth and defileth all. That which myftically and number, because the temple was far larger then the tabereffectually cleanfeth man, in regard of his pollution by fin, nacle, ice v. 38. is the blood of Chrift, (1 )oh.1.7.) which to that purpose can do much more then such a Sea, or many more Lavers full of warer can do.

and upon every one of the ten bases one laver] Thus were the feveral layers feverally fet by themfelves, one from the o-

V. 39. And he put five bases on the right fide I Heb. Shoulder.

of the house By the house, he here means the court of the priefts whereof, See chap. 6.36. For in the holy place were nothing but things of gold. These vessels were of brass. and five on the left fide of the house] As the golden candle-flicks and golden tables, were let in the holy place, (2 Chro. A. 7.8. five on the one fide, and five on the other; fo were thete braten vellels in this house the fea on the right fide of the house castward] That is, on the North at the entrance into the priefts court. They entring thereinto at the East, the right side must needs be the over against the fouth | This is mentioned, because five lavers flood on that fide, fo as there was flore of water on both fides, but most on the North; for the sea held much more then the ten baths. See v. 26,38. V. 40. and Hiram made the lavers | Sec v. 13,14.

and the [bouels ] These were to take away the ashes, and other things from the altar, and other places, and the basons These were to hold the sprinkling water, or blood. There is mention made of an hundred of these 2 Chron. 4.8. Under this Hebrew word, Bowls also may be comprized. See v. 50.

So Hiram made an end of doing all the work & c. ] He continued with Solomon, and left notto work, till he had finished what was required of him. that he made king Solomon] By Solomons appointment, and ar Solomons charge for the house of the Lord] The most holy place, holy place, porch, and all the courts are here comprized under this phrase house of the Lord.

V. 41. The two pillars ] Seev. 15. and the two bowls of the chapiters that were on the top of the two pillars | These bowls were the bellies mentioned v. zo. For each of the pillars had a belly or bowl, and the two net-works, (o'c. ] See v. 17. V. 42. And four hundred pomgranates, &c.] Each had two hundred, mentioned v. 20. So as these four hundred pomgranates were upon the two chapiters.

that were upon the pillars] Heb, upon the face of the pillars.
V. 43. And the ten bafes] See v. 27.

and ton lavers on the bases | See v. 38. V. 44. and one [ea] Sec v. 23.

and twelve oxen under the [ex] Sec v. 25. V. 45. And the pots | These were to boy! flesh and other things in them. Levit. 2.7.& 8.31. I Sam. 2.13. &c. and the shovels, and the basons | See v. 40.

and all the vollets which Hiram made to hing Selemen for the boufe of the Lord See v. 40.

were of bright brase Heb. made bright, or foured This fees out the excellency of the metal, whereof they were made. V. 46. In the plain of Fordan] This was an even piece of ground, that lay along by the river Jordan.

did the king ouft them ] Or, caused them to be cast.

in the clay ground ] Heb. in the thickness of the ground. Clay ground uleth to be thick and ftiff; and in that respect, the fitter to make moulds for brafs to be cast into, 2 Chron. 4.17 Every place, and all manner of earth, is not fit to cast great veffels of braffe withat: nor hilly, gravely, flony grounds. Plain moift grounds, and thick, tuff, fliny clay, are fitteft for that purpose, between Succesth] Gen. 33.17. This place was in the tribe of Gad , Josh. 13.27. and Zarthan This place was in the tribe of Ephraim, Joh. 2. 16. It is also called Zeredarhah, 2 Chron. 4. 17. Thefe are two names of one and the fame place. V. 47. And Solomon left all the viffels unweighed] See

I Chron.22. 3, 14. b:cause thy were exceeding many] Heb, for the exceeding mul-neither was the weight of the braffe found out] Heb. fearched. By fearching, weighing, or other usual means, they could not finde out or know the weight of the brafs, by reason of the multitude of veffels and greatness of some of them. How could they weigh fuch a veffel as the molten-fea was. See

V. 48. And Solomon made He caused to be made.

that persained unto the house of the Lord ] By the house of the Lord, is here specially meant the holy place, together with the most holy: as the particular vessels following do the Altar of gold] This Altar is fo called, because it was overlaid with gold, Exod. 37. 25, 20. The Altar it felf was of Cedar wood, Chap. 6. 20.

and the Table of sold ] In the fame fence that the Altar was faid to be of gold, is the table fo faid to be; there were ten of wheremon the shew-bread was ] Heb. bread of faces. This bread was so called; because it was continually set before the Lord, (Levit. 24. 6.) that is, before the Ark, which was the most principall representation of the Lord, that they had in the temple, see Exod. 25. 30. There was a centinual supply made of this bread. When stale loaves were taken away, new ones were put in the room thereot, Lev. 24. 8. In this respect it was called continually shew-bread. 2 Chr. 2. 4. Num. 4.7. This thew-bread was an especial type of Chrift, who was the bread of life, Joh. 6.35. Among the ten tables, there was one more excellent then the reft; because on it the shew-bread was fet, and this may here in speciall be meant. The other tables were for cups bowls, balons, fpoons, and other like things; whereof there was a great multitude: See Ezr. 1. 9, 10. Or, the word table, may here Synech-dochically be used, the singular number for the plu-

V. 49. And the candlesticks of pure gold ] This phrase is here used, as it was chap. 6. 20. These candle-flicks were all massie gold, as the candle-flick of the rabernacle was

Exod. 37. 17, 80.
froe on the right fide, and five on the left] See v. 39.
before the Oracle] That is, the most holy place, see ch. 6. 5.
The Oracle was as wide as the holy place; so as the candleflicks being on either fide of the holy place, might all of them be before the Oracle. with the flowers ] That is, ornaments to fet out the candleflicks, Exod. 37. 17, 18. The manifold deckings and ornaments about the pillas, fea, lavers, and other facred things, in and about the temple, did prefigure the manifold gifts and graces, which, as deckings of the inward man, are conferred on Saints: yea and the beauty also of Christs ordinances in his Church.

and the lamps ] These were vessels whereinto oyl was put. together with wicks, to give light, being put into the branches of the candle-flicks. and the tongs of gold ] These were to take coals, to burn the Incense of the golden Altar. V. 50. And the bowls ] These were for wine or beer, or fuch other liquor used in the temple. Some take them to be veffels for oyl and the funffers | These were to fourff the lamps, that they might burn more clearly, and the bsfors? The basons here mentioned were of gold.

Of these there were an hundred, 2 Chron. 4.8. There are also other basons mentioned, v. 45. which were of brass, and the spoons ] These were for broth or other liquid and the cenfers ] Heb. ash pans. These were for the Incense, especially when it was carried up and down. A Censer was an instrument of enduring metal, that would not easily melt; as of gold or brass, fit to hold fire in it, with a freel or a handle to hold it by. The use of it was to hold live burning coals on it, that incense being cast thereon, by the heat of the fire it might fend out a perfume of a fweet favor : The Priest carrying this from place to place, caused the sweet smell of Incense to disperse it self; so as it was smelt where ever he came. Some of these were of brass, (Num. 16, 39.) for the ordinary priefts to carry Incense on up and down thorow the tabernacle or temple. Others were of gold : thefe are here meant, there was one especially, with which the high Priest went into the most holy place, Heb. 9.4. of Incense, fee ch.9. 25.

of pure gold ] See ch. 6. 20. this phrase hath relation to all the particulars mentioned v. 48. &c. and the hinges of gold These were for doors, as is in the words following plainly fet down, both for the doors of the inner house | The Oracle is called the inner house, because it was within the holy place. It was the innermoft of all the places appertaining to the temple, that were divided one from another, themost holy place] This is added to shew what was meant by the inner house. and for the doors of the boufe ] This word house is here Sy.

Dada

Chap.viii.

nechdochically put for the holy place. The whole for a part. to wit of the Temple] The like Synechdoche is here ufed. V. SI. So was ended all the work that King Solomon made] ir, canted to be made: for the house of the Lord] See v. 40. and Selomon brought in the things which David] Heb. things of David bis/sixer] See ch. 8.15.

had desicated, even the filver and the gold, and the vessels note acestestees, even voe proof area use gous, and use weight!
2 Chr. 5.1. It was usual for Kings, Princes, Princis, and other great ones to dedicate filver, gold, and other things of price, to the house of the Lord, 2 Sam. 8. 11. 1 Chron. 26. 26, 27, 28. were Priefis, Deut. 31.9. 1 Chr. 15. 2, 14, 15. Besides the 2 Chro. 15. 18. 2 King. chap. 12. ver. 18. See 1 Chron.

did to put among the treasures of the bouse of the Lord There was in the Temple an holy treasury. Thicker did Solomon bring the fore-mentioned precious things, that in future times they might be, as need should require, for the use of the Lords fure they had for the house of God, as they had fundry treasuries or chambers , to lay up the fame therein; and fundry treasurers. See chap. 15. 15. 2 King. 12. 4. 1 Chron. 26. 20, 16.

CHAP. VIII.

Verf. 1. Hen] This hath reference to the beginning of the laft verse of the former chapter, fee 2 Chro

Solomon affembled] By meffengers or letters he fent to them as 2 Chr. 30. 16: and this for the greater folemnity, 1 Chron

33 . 1, 8c.

The Elders of Ifrael | Such as for age and prudence were rulers over the (fraelites, 1 Tim. 5. 17. Multitude of yeers teach wi(dom, Job. 12. 12. & 33. 7. Old men by experience attain the more prudence, ch. 12.6. Therefore ancient men ufed to be put in office. Jer. 10.1. Here they who were in office were called Elders. If young men had been in such offices, they would by reason of their offices have been called Elders.

and all the beads of the tribes ] All Ifrael was divided into twelve tribes, according to the number of the twelve fons of Israel. The highest in rule, and chiefest in dignity, of those tribe, were called hads, Numb. 1.4.16.
the chief of the fathers of the children of I [rael] Every tribe was divided into families, the chief men in those families were called fathers, Exo. 6. 14. And because in one house there might be many fathers, the chief of these were sent for.

chief] Heb. Princes. That is, principal governors.
umo King Solomon] Unto himfelf; a phrase proper to the Hebrew tongue, So ch.2.19. & 12. 21.

in feru[alem] For there the temple was erected.

in graphiam; for there the comple was exercted, that they might bring up For the temple was built on a mount, 2 Chr. 3.1. and the temple was a worthice place, the ark of the Covenant of the Lord See ch. 3.15.

out of the city of David ] Where David had fet the ark, 2 Sam

6.12,17. See the notes on I King. 3 1. which it Zion.] See ch. 2.10. Here Zion is properly taken for that particular city that David built. It is fometimes pur, by a Synechdoche of a part for the whole, for all Jerusalem; in which respect God is faid to build his Sanctuary in Sion, Pialm 78. 68, 69.

V. 2. And all the men of Ifrael ] Under this phrase not only the Elders, heads, and fathers before mentioned, are comprized, but also multitudes of the common people, who usually came up to the feafts at Jerulalem.

affembled themfelves ] Voluntarily, cheerfully came together. unto King Solomon ] To expect what he would have them to at the feaft? Of Tabernacles, 2 Chr. 5. 3. This was one o the great feasts in which all the males were to go to the house of the Lord, Deut. 16.13,16. And it was in the moneth here mentioned, Levit. 23.34.

in the moneth Ethanim | See the note on ch. 6.1.

which is the fewenth moneth] This answered in part to our September, it was in the autumnal equinocial. The most fit feafon of the year to travel in. It was the moneth of gathering in their fruits. The moneth wherein Gods bleffing was most manifested unto them, and wherein they had more Solemnities then in any other. For beside the new Moon, common to all moneths, on the first day of this moneth was the blowing of trumpers; on the tenth, the day of reconciliation; on the 14. the feast of Tabernacles, which continued seven dayes at least. In this moneth there used to be the greatest concourse of people at Jerusalem. Solomon therefore prudently took this occasion of dedicating the temple in this moneth. True it is that the house with all the appurtenances thereof, and with all the ordinances thereof, was not finished till the moneth Bull, which was the eight moneth, ch. 6. 38. but the whole edifice, and the most material things appertaining to the Temple, were finished: But what if that which is mentioned of the eight moneth, were in one year, and this dedication in the feventh moneth of the next year? V. 1. And all the Elders of Ifrael came ] Under Elders of Ifrael are comprized the heads and fathers mentioned, v.r. thefe being fent for accordingly came to the King. and the Priefts took up the ark | Indeed Levites are appointed to bear the ark, Deut. 31. 25. but they were fuch Levites as

Prieits may be faid to take up the ask, because they were to coverit, and to fet it on the Levites shoulders, Numb. 4.5. V. 4. And they brought up] From Zion, v. 1. where it was the ark of the Lord ] So was it called, because it was an especial evidence of Gods presence. Of the ark, see ch. 6. 19.

And the Tabernate That which Moses made, Exod. 26.

8. As a facred monument it was laid up in the temple, never to be removed again, as formerly it had been. For, I. In the wilderness it was carried up and down for the space of fourty years, Exod.40. 2. Secondly, it abode in Gilgal, Jefh.
4. 18, 19.) about fourteen years. Thirdly $1 remained in Shiloth till Samuels time, John. 18.1. 1 Sam. 4.4. Pfal. 78.60. somoti in samitest time, John 1811. I Sam. 4-4. Plal. 78.60-Jer. 71.15. Portlby Ir was in Nob. (1 Sam. 3.1.1) iill Saul de-ltroyed that place, 1 Sam. 32. 19. Fifthly. It was in Gibeon all Davids time, 1 Chr. 16. 39. Sxxbly. From tence it was brought into Zion, to be brought with the Ark into the temple. See further, 2 Macchab. 2.5: See the notes on 2 Sam.chap. 6.

of the Congregation] Where Priests, Levites, and the people of the Lord congregated or met together about matters of the Lord, See Exod. 40.2. Levit.1.1.

and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle? Those which Moses had appointed to be made before Solomon made those which are mentioned, ch. 7.23.8cc. Both the one and the other were used in the Temple.

even those did the Priest and the Levites bring up] Priests and

Levites in their function were counted holy, and none but fuch persons might meddle with the holy veffels

V. 5. And King Solomon and all the Congregation of Ifrate that were assembled unto him, were with him before the ark Thorce they presented themselves and their service to the Lord.

[acreficing [beep and oxen ] As had been done when David brought the ark to Zion, 2 Sam. 6. 13. Oxen and facep were the ordinary clean creatures used for great sacrifices, that could not be told nor numbered for multitude. This is an syperbolical phrase, which importeth an exceeding great number; and it puts a difference between Solomons folemnity here, and Davids, 2 Sam. 6.13. See the note on and the Priefts | To whom that office belonged, Deut. chap.

31. v. 9.
brought in the ark of the Government of the Lord] See chap. 3.

unto his place] He means the place appointed for it. See which is called the most boly; but in particular, that part of the most holy where the Cherubims were fet, even the midst of it.

into the Oracle of the house This was the formentioned place, whether the high Prices went to inquire of the Lord, and to receive answer from him, See ch.6.5.

to the most boly place ] Oracle and most holy place for our one and the fame thing, See ch. 6.16.

and the lame tung, See ch. 6.16.
even under the wings of the Cherubims He means the great Cherubims which Solomon made, chap. 6. 23, 24. The Cherubims which Moles made were fallned to the mercy-lear, wherewith the ark was covered, (Ex. 37.7. &c.) fo as those Cherubins with the mercy-feat and ark flood by these Cheru-

Checupums with the mercy-lear and ark flood by their Cheru-bims, See the note on 2 King, 19.15. V. 7. For the Cherubims freed forth their two wings over the place of the Ark, and the Cherubims covered the Ark. This is added as a reason of the arks being under the wings of the Cherubims. The wings of the Cherubims reaching thorow the midft of the most holy place from the one fide to the other , must needs be over the middle part of that most holy place where the ark was fet , and so co-and the flaver thereof ] The Ark had two flaves, or barres, on each fide, put into rings joyned to the Ark, where-by it might be born on mens shoulders, Exod. 37. 4, 5. Thefe flaves were never to be taken clean away from it, Exod, chap, 25, verf. 15. They were therefore here fet with the ark, and covered with the Cherubims, as the Ark above] Over the ark and the staves thereof. V. 8. And they drew out the flaves ] They did not clean pluck the staves out from the ark, and fet them away from it:

For that had been against the law, Exod, 25.15. But where- ( cipation, See Chapter, 19. 8. as the flaves were at each end in an even proportion longer then the ark, and that fo much as might be convenient to lie upon the fhoulders of the bearers; they were pulled out at the ends towards the vail, further then the other ends towards the remeteft part of the most holy place.

that the ends ] Heb. besds. For the upper end of a thing is called the head of the staves were seen out ] Being drawn out towards that end of the most holy place whereinto the high Priest came, beyond the Cherubims which covered the ark, fo much of the itaves as were drawn out, might be feen.

in the holy place, ] Or. ark. as 2 Chr. 5. 9. where it is thus expressed, the ends of the staves were seen from the ark before the Oracle. That is, the flaves being drawn further out then the ark, were feen in that part of the most holy place, which was immediately before, or joyned next to the most before the Oracle] At the entrance betwirt the holy and most holy place; to as they who flood at the entrance that was before the Oracle, might lee those staves.

and] Or, but. 2 Chr. 5. 9. For this is added in opposition to, or diffinction from that which was immediately before fet they were not feen without I Namely . by fuch as were without the most holy place, and not at the entrance there-and therethey are unto this day | Namely , the day or time and tore troy are used took and J Namely, the casy or time wherein this fory was penned. But this is an Hebrew phrafe, which implyeth a perpetuity, Gen. 26, 33, and 21, 22, chap. 13, 19. So long as the temple flood, they for remained therein. That which is fo diffinally fer down about covering the ark, and drawing out the staves, hath (as other rites) a myftery couched under it, which I take to be this. The ark was in fashion as a little chest. In chests or cabinets mens precious things use to be laid up : the ark was air especial type of Chrift. In him are treasured up Gods most precious things; the cover of the ark was the mercy-feat, Exod. 25.21. Into the ark the testimony, which were the two tables, was put v.g.

Exod. 25. 16. That testimony bare witness against us for our fins. and held out a curfe; but the mercy-feat kept this restimony in the ark, fo as it could not give evidence against us: the ark was covered with the Cherubims, to shew the unsearchable mysteries that are in Christ. But the staves were so far pulled out as they might be feen, to give evidence that there was an ark. Thus the types and prophecies and promifes under the Law did give evidence of fuch mysteries as are clearly revealed under the Golnel V. 9. There was nothing in the ark, fave the two tables of fione] Deut, 10. 5. This without all question was most true of the law, ( not the moral law that was written in two tables of flone, but other ordinances, written by Mofes, especially in the book of Deutronomy) was put in the fide of the ark, namely, in some coffer that was set by it, Deut. 31. 16. This might be it which Hilkiah found, 2 King. 22.8. The pot of manna was also appointed to be set before it, Exod. 16.33. tables of the covenant. The Apostles words are these, The holyest of all bad the golden confer, and the ark of the covenant o-vertaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pos that had Hebrews place much emphasis in doubling verbs; thereby manna and Aarons rod that budded, and thetable of the covenant. they fee out, 1. Certainty, Exod. 3. 7. 2. Aboundance, But this relative, wherein, may have reference to the holist fol.

| Gin. 23, 17, 3 Diligence, Exed. 2, 16, 4 Golder theall, first mentioned, as well as to the ask; and then this meaning will be, that all thofe things were in the most holy place.

| Sam. 27, 1 6 Finishing or perfecting at hing, as here, I
Or if the aver effective to the 2st, be may freek of the things | May | Proposition But this relative, wherein, may have reference to the holiest of that were in it before Solomons time, or after Solomons time, about the captivity: Thus though there were before and after Solomon, other things in the ark, then the two tables of stone, yet in Solomons time there might be nothing in the therein. Men use so do in their houses.

ark, fave those two tables which Mofes put there at Horeb] Horeb was a mountain in the defert of Sinai, where God appeared to Mofes in the burning bush, Exod. 3. 1,2. and where the Israelites abode in the third moneth, after their coming out of Egypt: whereupon it cases a should be propounded: to hear such prayers as should was also called, stourn Sinai, Exod. 19, 131. On this mountain God appeared in glorious majefly and great terror, Exod. 19. 16. &c. and on it he delivered the law, written in two as should be performed in that house. tables, Deut. 4. 15. and while Israel remained at this mounwhen ] Or, where.

The Lord made ] Heb. cut. This word cut, is in the Hea brew oft fingly used, without expression of covenant? but yet intends the making of a covenant; and therefore our english, to make up the fenle, doth add the word covenant; as here; and 2 Chron. 5. 10. 1 Sam. 20. 16. & 22. 8. The reason of using this word, cut, to that purpose, was be cause they were work in making a coverant, to cut a beaft in funder for confirmation thereof, Gen. 17, 10,28. Jer. 34.18.

a coverant with the children of Ifrael] The law is called a covenant, because therein obedience was required on their part, and a bleffing promifed on Gods part.

when they came out of the land of Egypt ] Mention is made of this circumstance : because then God began to make them a free people, and a peculiar treasure to himself, Exod. 19. 6. and also because that deliverance out of Egypt, was an especial type of our redemption from our bondage under Sa-

V. 10. And it came to pass when the priefts were come out of the holy place] By the holy place, is meant that part of the temple which was next to the most holy, where the priests executed their function, v. 10.11. Exod. 28.43.

that the cloud This cloud was an extraordinary one, ordained for manifestation of Gods presence, Levit. 16. 2. In a cloud did God oft manifest his presence, Exod. 13. 21. & 14. 19,24. & 19.9,15. Numb. 9.15. &c. In the next verse, it is called, the glory of the Lord, to shew that his Maietty is incomprehensible, and the brightness thereof, such, as if it were not clouded over, it would dazle men, yez, and utterly confound them, Matt. 17. 5. Act. 1. 9. Rev. 1.7.

filled the house of the Lord ] Throughout, in all the parts of it. from one end to another.

V. 11. So that the priefts could not fland to minifter, because of the cloud They could not continue or abide in the house where the cloud was: And that, first, for reverence sake : Secondly, by reason of a great amazement, 1 Chron. 21. 16, 30. Thirdly, for want of convenient light. If it be faid, that this phrase following, (the glory of the Lord) implyeth light in the cloud. I answer, that it doth not necessarily imply light. For in the next verfe, it is faid, that the Lord would dwell in the thick darkness; and though glory were fer forth therein, yet it might be, because the cloud implyed an incomprehensibleness thereof. 2. It might be a great brightness, and yet not give convenient light to do any work thereby. 3. It might dazle them too much. The like is noted. Exed.

for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of the Lord \ This flews that the cloud fer forth Gods glory. This the Lord thus did, to fanctifie to himfelf this place by this vifible figne, as; at that time, when Solomon fet the ark in this place. We read | Exod. 40.34. Lev. 9.23,24. and to shew his approbation of of other things fet by the ark and before the ark; as the book all that was done; as he did by other figns at other times, Gen.4. 4. 1 King.18. 38. See 2 Chron.7.1.

V. 12. Then fpake Solomon | Upon that manifestation of Gods glery, Solomon differning this to be a fign of Gods gracicus prefence, quickly makes known as much-

The Lord faid that be would dwell in the thicy darkness ] 2 Chr. 6. 1. Levit. 16.2. Pfal. 18. 11,12. & 97. 2. In that God oft manna was ann appointed to be red before it, Exon. 10-33. [6.1. Event. 1-1. 1781. 18.1.11.1. o. 897. 2. in time consent & Arons rot which budded. Numb. 17. 10. But nothing is middled himfelf in darking, it is as much as file he half, laid to be in it. fave the two tables of flone. Many fuppole he would dwell in darkings. Hereby is mean, that man cantatte Apolicie, Hebr. 9. a. placet the golden por that had manna, and Arons rod that hadded, in the ark, as well as the darkings of the in its brightness? Buryetthorow a myst or a thin cloud we may look upon it.

Thie] Or, for thee. Solomon directeth his fpeech to God, to testifie the great devotion of his foul.

An house to dwell in A temple to manifest thy presence a fetled peace ] Not to be removed as the tabernacle was, fee for thee to abide in To be as one that continually remaineth in a place. To be there ready on all occasions to resolve such be made: to grant fuch bleffings as should be craved: and to accept such facrifices as should be offered up, and such fervices for ever ] Or, ages. The Hebrew word translated ever, is tain. Mofer pur that have into the 24k, Deut 10, s. There food Gold when he gave them water from out of the cock, found a dwelft yelden, as for ages or time pall, Eccled. 11, 10, or for food Gold when he gave them water from out of the cock, found a great dime to come. In this latter feele it is ufed. (Evol. 17, 6.) which is called the finitual role, 1. Cort. 10-4. [Indinitively, for a long time, Dan. 3, 9, 10h. 8.] it is in one of these reflects, called the mount of God, then the control of the determination of the control o with Levit. 25. 40. Thirdly, For the continuance of ones life. but alfo of his flock, and posterity, 2 Sam. 7. 15, 27. Compare 1 Sam. v. 11. with v. 22. Fourthly, fo long as the conditions agnexed to a thing are observed, I Sam. 2. 30. Fifthly, for the continuance of a flate of policy, Numb. 10. 8. Sixtly, Till the truth of a type be exhibited. Compare Gen. 17. 13. with Gal. 5. 2. Seventhly, For an everlaiting continuance, Luk. 1:33. Eighthly, For that which never had be-ginning, nor ever shall have end: but is properly eternal, Psal. 90. 2. Here it is taken in the fifth respect, till the conditions were observed. Note cap. 9. v. 7,8,9. & 2 King 25. 9. And ready to direct such as through piety intend that which is also in the fixth respect, till the Messah, the true temple, should amils. be exhibited, Heb. 8. 1, 2.

Chap. viij.

V. 14. And the King turned bis face about | Solomon in the former verle directed his speech to God; and thereupon turned his face to the most holy place, where the ark (the evidence of Gods presence) was. Yea he had turned himself that way to behold the Priefts feeling of the Ark in his place. But now directing his speech to the people, he turneth about, because they were behinde him.

and bleffed | This hath relation both to his praying to the Lord for all bleffings on them, as Numb. 6. 23. Pfal. 1 18.26. and alfo to his praising the Lord for his mercy to the people, as v. 55,56. Indeed by vertue of the Priefts special function, it belonged to hem to blefs the people, Numb. 6. 23. Deut. 21. 5. So did Melchizedeck, Gen. 14. 19. Heb. 7. 6. So did Agron, Levit. 3. 2 .. A special promise was made to the Priests bleffing, Numb. 6. 27. Yet others also bleffed men, by wishing their good, and praying for it, as inferiors; Ruth 2. 4. an equals. P(a), 118.26. and fuperiors; especially such as have him. a charge over those whom they bless, as Parents, Gen. 31. 55. Mafters of families, 2 Sam. 6. 20. Governors over fubj ets, Josh 22. 6. 1 Chr. 16.2.

all the Congregation of Ifraci] Namely all that were come to Hierufalem and there prefent.

flood This fets out their geffure even while the Priefts were doing their office in the temple; but especially when the King turned and spake to them. They gave evidence hereby of their reverence, attention and observation.

V. 15. And be [aid] The King uttered the form of words bleffed be ] Or, praifed be. All that bleffing wherewith creatures can bleff God, is thankfully to acknowledg what he doth, and to praife him for it, Pfal. 115.17,18.

the Lord God of Ifrael] The first title, Lord, fets out his fupreant Soveraignty. The other, God of Ifrael, his special relation to his Church.

which Hake with his mouth] This is an Hebrew pleonafm, or redundancy of speech, as to see with ones eyes, Deut. 3. 27. To hear with his ears, '2 Sam, 7.22. This is attributed to God after the manner of man. It was by the ministery of Nathan that God foake this, 2 Sam. 7.6. For Prophets are Gods mouth, Exod, 4-15. Ifa. 3-16. 2 Cor. 13-3.

to David ] Concerning the building of a temple by his

my father | For his fathers honour and his own alfo, he mentioneth this relation. For it was an honour to be Davids fon, and a honour to be Solomons father.

and and notified in fairing [Such promises as Divine providence brings to pair by mans ministery, God is did to folfill with his band; because, all manner of instruments, men and others, are as the hand of Gods providence brings are as the hand of Gods providence brings and a content of the state of the

V. 16. Since the day that I brought firth my people Ifractout of Egypt From the time that I made Ifrael a diffinct, peculiar, and free people. They were before bond-flaves in Egypt ; therefore oft are the people put in mind of their deliverance from the fame.

I chofe no City ] As in my minde I determined not fuch a thing, so neither did I ever appoint any person to build an house, or any place where it should be built. So Psalm

Out of all the tribes of I fract ] Or, out of any of them, the whole nation of the Jews was divided into twelve tribes, according to the number of the twelve fons of Ifizel, Numb. 26.

55. Josh. 18.23.
20 build an boufe This act hath relation to the word City before mentioned; fo either the word City is Synecdochically put for the inhabitants thereof, or the act of building is to be taken paffively; as if he had faid, I chole no city to have one houfe built therein.

that my name might be there? This intends that the temple was built to be dedicated to God, for a place of his worthip, and for service to be performed to him therein. Deut, 12.

bus I shofe David ] Till I chofe David, and manifested my purpole condeming him, I Sam. 13.14. & 16.1, 12.
10 be over my people Ifrael To be their King, and a Governor over them. He means not only a choice of Davids person , and intended to build, &c. So 2 Sam. 7.3. 1 Chron. 22. 7 of David my father ] David being a pious man, would herein tellifie his zeal of Gods glory.

to build an boule! An holy temple, a place of worthin.

for the name | See v. 16. and ch. 8. 2.

of the Lord God of Ifrael | See v. 15.

V. 18. And the Lord faid unto David my father | God is whereas it was in thine heart to build an house to my Name, thou didft well that it was in thine heart. This is a phrase of approbation. That God approved this purpose of David, is evident by the promife he made thereupon, 2 Sam, 7, 11. &c. This inflance fleweth, that a man may without fin, intend to do that which God hath not purposed and determined to be

V. 19. Neverthelefs thou fhalt not build the houfe \ See chap.

but thy fon that [hall come forth out of thy lorns] One of thine Own Sons, which thou thy felt flialt beget, fee 2 Chr. 22.9.

for the Name of ] See v. 16 & ch. 5. 3. the Lord God of Ifrael | Section 15.

V. 20. And the Lord hath performed the word that he flake and I am rifen up in the room of David my father I fucceed and fit on the throne of Ifrael ] Am King over the people of Ifrael, my father being dead.

as the Lord promifed ] 2 Sam. 7. 12. 1 Chron. 28.5. and have built an house for the Name of the Lord God of Israel]

See v. 13.15.17.
V. 21. And I have fet thee a place for the Ark ] That it may there abide, and not be removed from place to place, as formerly it was See v. 6. wherein is the Covenant of the Lord ] See v. 6. Ch. 3. 15. The two tables of flone (v. 9.) wherein the law that God gave as a Covenant to his people, was written, were in this Ark.

which he made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt] See v. 9.
V. 22. And Solomon flood | Upon 2 brazen Scaffold, 2 Chr.

6.13. So did other Kings, 2 King, 11, 14. & 23. 3. After that Solomon had there flood a while, he kneeled down, (v. 54.) and spread forth his hands; flanding, sets forth the erection of his spirit, and steadfastness of his taith in God. Kneeling, the humiliation of his foul, and acknowledgment of Gods supream Soveraignty; Spreading forth bands, an expectation of bleffing, and readiness to receive it; these were usual gestures of prayer in those times, Mark 11. 25. Ifa. 1. 15. Dan.6.10. - before the Altar of the Lord] 2 Chron. 6. 12. he means the altar of burnt-offering; for he himfelf was in the Court, but at the door of that place where the Altar flood: And he turned himself towards the most holy place, because he made his prayer to God. Of this Altar, fee 2 Chr. 4.1.

in the presence of all the Congregation ] See v. 2 the dedication of the Temple, Lord God of Ifrael ] Sec v. 1 1. there is no God like thee In the beginning of his prayer be fets out the excellency of his God, the only true God, on whom he called, to work the greater reverence, yea and confidence in his hearers, and every way to fit his spirit the better to call upon fuch a God. in heaven above, or on earth beneath] Some fained falle gods to themselves in heaven, as the Sun, Moon, Planets, and other Stars, 2 King. 17. 16. & 23. 5. Others had their gods en earth, Judg. 10. 6. & 17. 5. 2 Chr. 13. 8.

who keepest covenant Herein God manifests his faithfulness, and mercy] Faithfulness and mercy in God are oft joyned together, Pfal. 36. 5. & 89. 1. 24. for it is mercy that moves God to enter into Covenant with man , and to make it good, which is a part of faithfulnels.

with thy (ervants that walk before thee with all their hearts] Gods Covenants have their provisoes, which set down conditions to be observed on mans part, that by the performance thereof, man might testific his thankfulnels to God, and also gain affurance to himfelf, and give evidence to others that he hath a right to the Covenant, See ch. 2. 4. & 6. 12.

nam a right of the covenant, seet. 1.2.4. co. 7.4 per the prayeth for a further keeping of promitle, v. 25. with the freeward David may father 3 See ch. 3.6. that thou promifeld him.] He meaneth in special the promife mentioned, 2 San. 7. 12, 13, &c.

thine hand | See v. 15.

as it is this day ] For then was Solomon King, and then he had finished Gods house, which were special promises here intend-findin-id Gods boate, which were precial promues nere intended, See ch. 14.

V. 24. Therefore now Lord Gol of I fraid, keep with the feature of the control of the beautiful place? The however no more control of the seed of there shall not fail thee a man in my sight, to sit on the throne of Israel] Heb. there shall not be cut off unto thee a man from my fieht, chap. 2.4. 2 Sam. 7.12. His meaning is, that there shall ever be some descending from David, by lineal descent, to sit on his throne. See 2 Chron. 21.7. This was especially fulfilled on his strong, see 2 Caron at 7. 1 ms was especially families in Chiff, Luk. 1. 3.33.

fo that ] Heb. onely if, See v. 13.
thy children take heed to their may, that they walk before me]

Children who expect benefit from promifes made to their

are a pattern to children,

V. 26. And now O God of Ifrael, let thy word (I pray thee) be verified, which thou spakest to thy servant David my father] The accomplishment of what God hath promifed, may, and ought to be prayed for, Deut. 1.11. 2 Sam. 7. 28,29. 2 Chr. 1.9 Dan. 9. 2. for prayer is a means fanctified of God, for accomplishment of what he hath purposed and promised. (Ezek.36. 36,37.) and it is an evidence of our hearty desire thereof, yea, and of Gods faithfulnels.

V. 27.But will God indeed dwell on the carth ? ] An emphatical admiration of Gods goudnels, in vouchasting his prefence in any place on earth, 2 Curon, 2.6. To speak properly, God. being infinite, cannot be contained within any compais, as the words following shew. See Jer. 23. 20,24. Act. 7.49.

Behold the heaven, and the heaven of heavens cannot contain thee] That which compaffeth about all the other heavens, and is the most spacious place that ever was created. It is called the highest, Luk. 2.14. And the third heaven, 2 Cor. 12.2. He multiplieth phrases, as heaven and the heaven of heavens, the more to fet out the immensity of God. Such hebraisms are a great amplification of a matter.

How much lefs this house that I have builded ] Hereby he fheweth, that he did not think that God would properly be contained in any place.

V. 28. Tet have thou respect unto the prayer ] Though thou be not contained in this house, yet manifest so much respect unto it, as it may be known to be monument and evidence of thy gracious prefence, and of thy readiness to hear. of thy fervant ] He meaneth himfelf. It is a title (as hea used) of reverence and confidence See Pial. 116. 16. and to his [upplication] Prayer importeth petition for good things: Spplication, a defire of pardon of fin, and of remit ting evils.

O Lord my God ] Lord, fetteth out Gods supream soveraignty. My God, the Lords special respect to him; the former is to humble him, and to work reverence in him : the latter, to raife him up, and to work confidence in him.

to hearken unto the cry ] Cry noteth the earneliness of defire, Exod. 14.15. Efth. 9.11.

and to the prayer which thy servant prayeth before thee to day. Under this word prayer, he doth in general comprise all the particulars, which in the following part of this chapter are pray-

V. 29. That thire eyes may be open] This is another phrase, applyed to God, after the manner of men, as, v. 24. the meaning is, that God would flew that he taketh special notice of all things done in that house, by hearing all manner of prayers init, or towards it. See Pfal. 33. 18. & 34. 15. the like may be faid of Gods hearkning, or being attent with his ears, 2 Chron.6.40.

towards this house For it was an especial type of Christ, Joh. z. 19. 21.

night and day ] Continually. even toward the place of which thou half [aid] Deut, 12.11.

con toward the place of visition that paying J Deut. 12.11. Gold promitic was the ground of his prayer. My stame final be three] Seev. 16 rayer. My stame final be three] Seev. 16 place Seev. 14.1 white toward this place Oct. in this place. Seev. 14.1 Jos. And bearing without more the forpilitation of the forward 14. 30.0. And bearing without more the forpilitation of the forward has been intended the clame thing when the did before v. 18. 20.

He here intends the same thing that he did before, v. 28, 29. But to manifest the earnestness of his desire, he inculcates the Smething again and again, and of thy people I feat! This he addeth, both in relation to them that were then prefent, (to teffifie his perswasion of their l'affent to his prayer) and also to others in that present age, or thou flacing alough thy mouth, and buff fulfilled it with in future generations; that God would from age to age hear them all fopraying.

when they shall pray toward this place ] Oc, in this place. and hear thou! Again he inculsates the fame thing.

ments. In all these respects, pardon of fin was necessary, yea, there is such a spring and sink of corruption, as in all things, even the best that we do, we need pardon. See v. 34.

V. 31. If any man tre/pass against his neighbour of the See Munh. pected to have done wrong to any, as, Exod. 22. 8. &c. Numb. 5. 14. &c. For in apparent wrongs, or fuch as may be proved by witnesses, the wrong-doer was not to be put to an oath, but and anouth be laid upon him] Heb, and he require an oath of Chinaren was expect senion from promises made to take a sum of the promise of the Such an oath doth ordinarily firike a man with fuch terror, as as thoubaft wilked beforeme. ] Pious practifes of parents, he dare not take it fallely: if at leaft he have any fear of God to cause him to swear ] Namely, by calling upon the Judge, (as Exod. 22. 8.) or a Prieft, (as Numb. 5. 14,15.) to put him to his out and the oath come before thine altar in this house ] The altar was a figne of Gods prefence there. Thither was he brought, that the greater fear of Gods presence might be wrought in him, Numb. 5.16. We have a rite in taking a publike oath ; which is, the fwearers laying his hand on a Bible, to work in him the greater fear. The altar here was the burnt offeringaltar; whereof See 2 Chron. 4. 3.&c.

V. 32. Then hear thou in heaven] Though thou beeft in heaven, yet shew that thou hearest things on earth. and do and judge thy forvants ] So order matters, as the truth of the cause may be found out, and judgement answerably condemning the wicked ] For this is a part of judgement. to bring his way upon his head] He means his just defert, Ezek, 9.10. Or fuch measure as he would have meted unto others. The law of requital, or returning like for like, may be here intended. See chap. 2. 32.

and justifying the righteous] Whether it be the accuser or accused. This is an other part of justice, Prov. 17. 15.

to give him according to his righteonshifted *Though God do not reward men for their righteoufnels, as a cause of their reward; yet he doth order his reward according to mens deeds, Pfal. 62. 12. Rom. 2. 6.

V. 33. When thy people Ifrael be fmitten down before the encmy] Or, overcome. Mention is made of four cases in regard of enemics. First, When enemies smite them down in the field. Secondly, When enemies befiege them, v. 37. Thirdly, When Gods finds them out against enemies,v.44. Fourth-When enemies carry them into captivity, v. 46. because they have finned against thee] Sin provokes God to give his people over into their enemies hand, Levit. 26.17. and shall turn again to thee] Repentance is a means, both of preventing, Jonah 3. 10. and also of removing a judgment, and confesse thy name By Gods Name he means Gods justice in giving them over to the enemy, fee Joshua chap. 7. ver. 9, 19.

and pray] Prayer of penitents is prevalent, Judg. 10. 15.

and make supplication unto thee] See v. 28. in this house or, towards, See v. 29.

V. 34. then hear thou in heaven ] See v. 32. and forgive the fin of the people Ifrael] Sin must be forgiven before a judgment can be removed. If a judgment should be removed, and fin not forgiven, it would bring but fmall comfort, See 1 Chr. 7. 14.

and bring them again unto theland The land here meant was their proper inheritance, wherein they might most lafely, quietly, and comfortably abide. This mercy of bringing them again to the land is indefinitely to be taken, as when they were removed from one tribe to another, as 2 Chron, 28.8. or forced from their own house, as 1 Sam. 31. 7. or forced to fly before enemies, as Josh, 7.7,3. or taken prisoners, as Numb. 21. 1. or carryed captives into another land, as Jer.39 9.

which thou gaveft unto their fathers ] Gen, 13. 15. Exod. 6.

Josh. 21.42. Gods gift is a good right and title.
V. 35. When beaven ] He meaneth the lowest heaven a which is the air, and the middle region thereof, where the clouds are, ch. 18. 45. Pfal. 147. 8. Mat. 24.30.
3 [but up, and there is no rain] When clouds let down rain,

Chap, viii.

the beavens are faid to be opened (Deut. 21.12.) and to be flut:

V. 41. Merever concerning a fixinger that is not fail to be opened (Deut. 21.12.) was they are faid to [free] All that were not born Jews were by them accounted to the details of t be as iron, which melts not, when there is no rain, Levit. 26.19. Heaven is here resembled to a vessel or barrel full of water, which being flut, no water can come out of it, Job 38.37. God is as a Gardiner, who carrying a water-pot in his hand, lets the water run out when and where he pleafeth, Amos 4.7.

because they have sinned against thee See v. 33.
if they pray towards this place See v. 28,29.

and confesse the place of 20,29, and confesse the place of 20,29, and turn from their so 20,20, and turn from their so 33, when thou afflictes them Assuction is a means of turning finners to God. And repentance wrought by affliction may be found and acceptable to God, Pfal. 119. 67, 71. Hof. 5. 15.

2 Chr. 33.13.13.

V. 36. Then hear thou in heaven] Sec v. 32.

and forgive the fin of thy fervants, and of thy people Ifrael] Sec v. 34. The people of lirael were by protession Gods fer-that thou [houl.] teach them] By the affliction before mentioned. Or, when thou thalr have taught them (as 2 Chr. 6. 27.) and fo they have learned the end and use of thy judg-27.) and to they have learned the end and tile of thy judgments, 16, 26, 9. Such things cannot be learned without Gods teaching, whereby the minde is enlightned, and the will made pliable, Pfal. 119, 33. Re. 18, 54-13. That is, the right course preferribed in Gods Word. It's called good, because it is called force God, and moreholds or them who will these.

is pleasing to God, and profitable to them who walk there-and give rain] As prayer is to be made for removing evils (Judg. 10. 15.) fo for obtaining good ithings, Joel 2. v. 19, upon thy land which thou haft given thy people Ifrael for an inhe vitame] See v. 34 V. 37. If there te in the land famine ] This is one of Gods heavy judgments, 2 Sam. 24.13. Ezek. 5.16.

destroying disease, 2 Sam. 24. 15.

blafting] By the east wind, which by smitting green eares of corn, makes them wither, Gen. 41.6.

mildem] A dew that falling on corn, turns the grain into noifome dust or powder. Blasting and mil-dew are oft Joyned to draw many to him.

together, as Deut. 28. 22. Amos 4.9. Hag. 2.18. locufts] This is a flie with long legs, which wasteth corn Exod. 10. 4,5. Deut. 28. 42.
or if there be caterpillars | These are certain worms, which lie upon green corn or other green plants, and consume them Pfal. 105. 34,35. See Levit. 11. 22. Thefe four last are ordinary causes of famine.

if their enemics besiege them ] This is another cause of sain the land of their Cities] Or in the cities of their land : or, jurifdiction. This presupposeth an enemies entring into their what soever plague] The Hebrew word signifieth a stroake. It is translated ftrip s, 2 Sant, 7. 14. It is put for any kinde of judgment, Gen. 12. 16. Exod. 9 14. Deut. 28.59, 60. Jer. 19.

8. 2 Chr. 21 14.

whatsoever sicknessethere bes There are very many kindes of sicknesses. Therefore this indefinite particle, whatsoever, is fet before it.

V. 38. What prayer and supplication soever be made? See ver.

by any man ] Singly alone. or by all thy people Ifrael ] Joyntly together. which shall know every man the plague of his own heart ] The fin by which his own heart and conscience is smitten, ( as a Sam.

24. 10.) and thereby is moved to pray.
and spread forth his hands ] See v. 21.

towards this house] See v. 29.

V. 39. Then hear thou in heaven thy dwelling place] See ver.

30,32.

and forgive] See v. 34.

and do] What in wildom thou feeft meet.

and give to every man according to his maies According to the present course which he taketh, namely of repentance.

whose beart thou knowest] Whether it be fincere or no, Pfal 13 c. 1.1,&c. for thou, even thou only knowest the hearts of all the children of men] It is Gods prerogative, and one of his incommunicable properties, to fearch the heart, and to know the inward motions and thoughts thereof, Jer. 17.10. Act. 1.24.

tions and thoughts thereof, Jer. 17.10. Act. 1.24.

V. 40. That they may fear thee] Gods mercy in removing judgment doth most kinely work fear, Plal. 130. 4.

all the dates that they live] True grace continues all the time Exod. 12. 48. Such ftrangers as were circumcifed might approach as neer to the altar as born-Jews, Exod. 12.44. Other frangers hearing of the God of Ifrael, (Ruth. 1.6.) other trangers nearing or the God or titrae, (Kuth. 1. 6.) of his great works, (Joth. 2. 10.) of his righteous laws, (Deut. 4. 6,7,8.) and of his holy houle, ([flat,6.7.))ca, and of this prayer which Solomon had made for Gods presence in it, might be moved to come to it, and there to pray.

but cometh cut of a far country] Gods name was every where, far and neer spread abroad, which made many that were in remote places to come to this place, Matth. 2, 1, & 12, 42, AA. 8. 7.

for thy Name sake.] To testifie his high esteem of thy great Name, to worthip and praise thee, having heard of thee so much, as he knoweth and believeth thee to be the onely true God, Exod. 12. 38. & 18.11, 12. Josh 2.9. See chap. 5.1.

V. 42. For they fhall bear of thy great Name] Sundry of the purales are applyed to God after the manner of man; as older like phrafes, verf. 24, 29. The strength and power of a man is manifested by his hand and arm, and when he would do some great matter by his arm, he stretcheth it out. The mighty power of God is fet out by these metaphors, as Ps. 136. 12.

Jer. 32.17. See 2 King. 17.36. when he [hall come and pray] Devotion so works on mens spirits, as it makes them go out of their own land to worship towards this house ] For the uncircumcifed might not come upon thy Lind which isounder given my proper lifest. Jor an inne-fainted is See v. 34. Here the inheland famine! This is one of Gods cavy judgments, 25 and 41.5; Each, 36. (2). V. 43. Here them in between thy dwelling place] because it is to be reflected overy judgments, 25 and 41.5; Each, 36. (2). When the seed of the first place is the first place is called to the ford? This general particle, ell, hath a large extent, yet it is to be reflexaned to things lawful. That extent gives evidence of Gods bounty; and it is an incouragement for all, in all their needs, to feek bloffing of God.

that all people of the earth] Gods bounty to some, is a means may have thy Name, and fear thee] Knowledg of God, is an especial means of working a due fear of God in mans as do thy people Ifrael] Who from their childhood have been inftructed in fuch myfteries as fet God forth. And fuch'as are fo instructed, ought to be a good example to others.

that this house which I have builded, is called by thy Name.] Heb, thy name is called upon this house. In that it was called the temple of the Lord, an house of God,, it was called by Gods name. As the fons of Joseph had Ifraels name named on them, in that they were called, children of Ifrael, and Ifraelites,

V. 44. If thy people go to battel against their enony In a just cause. For in unjust war, good succes from God can be no more expected, then in oppression, tobbery, murther, and other whither foever thou fialt fend them ] Gods warrant for the war which is intended, is a good ground of faith in Gods affiftance, and of praying for good fuccels.

and shall pray unto the Lord toward-the city ] Heb, the way of the city. When they cannot come to it: testifying thereby, that all their considence is placed on the true God; whose presence is in an especial manner manifested in their temple, a type of which thou hast chosen] Jerusalem is in especial manner meant, 1 King, 11.13, 32. 36. See Dan, 6.10. He is said to choose it, in that he preferred it before all other cities, to build his houle therein, Pfal. 78.67,68,69.

and toward the house that I have built for thy Name. ] See v. 20. This is the reason why God is said to choose that city, namely, because the temple wherein he had many evidences of his gracious presence among them, was there scituated. 2 King.

21.7. & 13.27. V. 45. Then hear thou in heaven] See v. 32. their prayer, and their [upplication] See v. 28.

and maintain their cause. ] Or, their just and righteous cause, by giving them good success, Plal. 94. & 140. 12. See verf. 49.

V. 46. If they fin against thee They whom he stiled Gods people, v. 44. even these are subject to fin. For among these fome are hypocrites, and have no true grace at all in them : and in all of them, flesh remaineth.

for there is no man that finneth zes] 2 Chron, 6. 36. Eccl. 7. 20. 1 Joh. 1. 8,10. It was Christs prerogative, and his alone, of a mans life, as Jer. 32.39.

10. 1 Joh. 1. 8,10. It was Christs prerogative, and his aloues, in the land whith their gavest unto their fathers ] See ver, to be here on earth without sin, Hebr. 4.19. 1 Pet. 2.22, and thou be angry with them ] The fins even of Gods people, provoke his anger, 2 Sam. 24.1. Numb. 11.1,10.

and deliver them to the enemy] God makes enemies of his people, executioners of his anger on them, to make them fear to provoke Gods anger. For enemies will do the uttermoft that they can, Zach.1.15.

to that they carry them away captives, unto the land of the enemy Captives are to be made flaves to the enemies: and this kinde of flavery is counted the loweft and bafeft condition that any in this world can be brought unto, Exod. 12. 19: Lam. 1. 3. 5. Jeremiah hath fet out the mifery of captivity to the life, far ] Babylon was far from Jerusalem : yet thither were the Jews carried captive, Jer. 40.1.

or neer] Samaria was neer to Jerusalem, and to Samaria were the inhabitants of Jerusalem carried captive, 2 Chron. V. 47. Tet if they shall bethink themselves] Heb. bring back so their heart. Or, call their fins to minde. in the land whither they were carried captives ] God is with his people, even in captivity, observing their disposition. and repent] See v. 33.

and make (upplication unto thee] See v. 28.

in the land of them that carried them captives, saying, ] God every where heareth prayers: pray therefore every where, 1 Tim. 2 . 8. See Dan. 6. 10.

We have finned] penitent confession of sin, is a ready way to obtain pardon and deliverance, Prov. 28. 13. 1 Joh. 1.9. 2 Sam. 12.13. Pfal.32.5.

and have done perverfly, we have commissed wickedness This varying and multiplying of phrases, makes much to the aggravation of sin; and sheweth, that sinners ought rather to agaggravation of inition inevero, that inners output rather to aggravate their fins before God, who knows them to the full, then extenuate them, Ezr. 9, 6. Neh. 9.16. Dan, 9.5. &c. V. 48. And foreturn unto thee withall their heart, and with all their foul] Thele two phrases, set out a sincere, sound and thorow repentance. See chap. 2.4. in the land of their enemy which lead them away caprive] See and pray unto thee toward their land, which thou gavest unto their fathers, the city which thou bast chosen, and the house which I have built for thy Name. See v. 44. Thefe feveral phraies, their land, this city, and the house, intend in substance, one and the same thing. He mentions the land, because the city which God tining, are mentions the sama poceanic the city which wood chole, was in it; the city, because the house of the Lord was therein; the bouse because the Lord, was, in fundry external evidences of his presence, therein. Besides, the land here meant, was the land which God of old had promised to their country. fathers, Deut. 19.8. John 3.5, and in that respect was called the land of promise. Hebr. 1 1.9. So as their praying towards this land, brought to their minde Gods promife, whereby their faith might be firengthned.

V. 49. Then bear thou their prayer, and their supplication in

V. 49. 10to cear took toter prayer, awa toter jupput titon, in between by detelling place] Seev. 18,30,32. and maintain their caufe] Ol, vight, Take part with thy people that report and pray against the unjust oppression of their cennics, Elial, 47.6. Zeb., 11: V. 50. And forgive thy people that have finned against thee]

See v. 34. 36. and all their transgressions wherein they have transgressed against and give them compassion before them who carryed them captives, that they may have compassion on them ] That is, procure pity, grace, and favor, for them, Turn the heart of their enemies towards them. This prayer theweth, that the hearts of enemies are in Gods hands, to turn them as it pleaseth him, Gen. 39. 21. & 43.14. Examples Ezr. 7. 6. Neb. 2. 2. Hest. 2. 9, 17. & 6. 10. & 10. 2, 3. Dan. 1.9, 19. & 2. 48, 49. Pfalm. 106.

V. 51. For they be thy people ] Ifrael was the people whom God chose, set apart, and severed from all the world, to be a peculiar people to himself, that he might bestow on them his choiceft bleflings, and that they might ferve him, Exod. 19.4, 5,6. Deut 7. 6. &c. and 10. 15. This special relation is pleaded as a ground of Gods fnewing mercy to them, Exod.

32.11.12. Neh. 1.10. Ifai.64.9,
and thine inheritance] Ifrael is faid to be Gods inheritance, because that people were to God, as is to man his inheritance. became that people were to voo, 32 56 2. He made them his own for ever, Gen. 17-7. 3. He hath his people in high account, and prefers them before all the world befides, Exod. 19. 5. 4. He fenceth and protecteth them from danger, Pfalm. 89. 18. Zacch. 2. 5. 5. He foweth and planteth in them preience with mis people, and in its observable of the distribution of the diving graces, fish, 60-3.1. & 6t 3.3 Mat. 13.

As 6. He continuet to dung and water them, that is, to 11.6. and God gave them another heart, 15am. 10.9.) was with severy they may grow in grace, Lik. 13.8. His 17.3. I Cor. 3.6. 7. He capedictin fruit moth of all from them, Hisi. 5.3. Luk. 13.6.

Chervile

Otherwise

which then broughtest out of Egypt | See v. 9. 16. from the midst of the furnace of tren! This phrase setteth forth their bard and cruel oppression in Egypt. See Deut. 4. 20. Ifai 48.10. A fornace to melt iron in, uleth to be the hottest.
See Jer. 11. 4. It also implyeth, that God cast them into that fornace, to make them pliable to fuch ordinances as he should give them; as iron cast into a furnace and melted, may be cast unto any fashion.

V. 52. That thine eyes may be open unto the supplication] See vers. 29.

of thy [ervant] He meaneth himself. See v. 59.

and unto the supplication of thy people Ifract | Prayer may be made, as for our felves in particular, to for others alfo,joyntto with ne to hearken unto them in all that they call for unto thee] See yers. 28. Under this general particle, all, he comprise though things lawful and meet to be asked of God. All such may be prayed for and all fuch God can and will readily give.

V. 53. For thou didft separate them from among all the people of the earth] That is, God did choose, and call them to be a peculiar people unto himfelf, Exod. 19. 5. Deut. 7. 6. and robe thine inheritance] Deut. 9.26.29 See v. 51.

14. 2.

as thou spacel by the hand of Moses] Exod. 19. 5. By the hand of Moses he meaneth the ministery of Moses. For the hand is that part of the body whereby men usually do, pra-Cife, and execute things committed to them and therefore in Hebrew it is put for any kinde of ministery. Here it is put for the tongue, or mouth. So v. 56. thy fervant ] See chap. 3.6. Josh, 1.1,2.

when thou broughtest our fathers out of Egypt ] See v. 9,16. O Lord God. ] Sec v. 28.

V. 54. And it was fo, that when Solomon had made an end of praying ] Solomon held up his spirit till he had by prayer made known what he thought meet to be desired about the house he all this prayer and supplication unto the Lord] See v. 28. herose from before the altar of the Lord] See v. 22.

from kneeling on his knees ] While he bleffed the people, and bleffed the Lord, he ftood: All the while he made his supplication,he kneeled. His supplication being ended, he stood again to blefs, as before, See v. 22.

gain to oleis, as cerore, occ. v. 22.
with his hands iffread up to beaven. ] See v. 22.
V. 55. And he fixed and helfied all the Congregation of Ifrael]
As he began, so he ended with bleffing the people. See verf. 14.

with a loud voyce, saying. ] There was a great congregation: therefore he endeavoured so to lift up his voyce, as all might hear him. Publike duties are audibly to be uttered, Plain;

V. 56. Bleffed bethe Lord] Here bleffing is to be taken for

v. 50. tregue to the praifing, Pfal, 113, 1,2, that hath given reft unto his people Ifrael Rest is here that hath given reft unto his people Ifrael Rest is here that the given rest time one people little acts is nere opposed to all manner of publike troubles. It comprises under it, freedom from war, oppression, and other evils, that use to arise from enemies abroad, from evil Magistrates and tumultuous people at home. It implyeth peace, fafety and fecurity, Jesh. 21. 44. Act. 9.31. None but the Lord can give this, 2 Chron. 14. 6.

according to all that he promifed ] God had to the full accomplished all that he promised to his people Israel. See Josh.

there hath not failed one word of all his good promise] Hebr. fallen. That is, God left not any thing undone that he promi-fed, but accomplished all to the full, Josh. 21.45. and 23.

14,15.

which he promised by the hand of Moses his servant ] Or, by the Thickarh relation to all the minitery of Moles. Seev. 53. This shall relation to all the promiles made to Abraham, Ifasc, Jacob, and to their pofferity, which are in fundry places of the five books of Mofes feet down, in faccil, it hash relation to Deut. 11.1031, 12. Of this title fervant, See chap. 3.6. V. 57. The Lord our God] See v. 28.

be within ] Gods presence with his people is oft fet forth under this phrase, and that by way of promise, as Deut. 13.6,8.

John 1.5. 1 Chron, 28.20. To these promises bath Solomon here relation. Mark the inferences made upon those promises, Rom. 8.31. Hebr. 13.5,6.
as he was with our fathers] He means fuch pious ancestors a s

God had bleffed from time to time.

let him not leave us nor forfake us] This clause wheth to be annexed to the former promiles. It implyeth constancy in Gods presence with his people, and in his bleffings on them. God was with Saul (for the Spirit of God came upon him, 1 Sam.

Otherwise nothing can be well done.

to walk in all his wayes, and to keep his Commandements, and bis Statutes, and bis Judgments [ See ch. 2. 3. es becommandel our fabers ] Gen. 17. 1. Dout 4. 1. & 6. 1.

Joh. 24. 14. 15am. 7.3. & 12.24.
V. 59. And let thele my words wherewith I have made supplication before the Lord] In these words he doth generally inculcate, what in particular he had prayed for before, to flew the earnefine is of his defire thereof.

benigh] That is, be ever in his minde and memory. Let him thew that he hath respect thereunto.

new that he nata respect thereonto.

day and night] Continually.

but he resintain the cause See v. 45, 49.

of his servant? Solomon here intends himself. See vers. 28. Though he were a great King, yet he fcorneth not the title of Gods fervant. His father counted it a great honour, and pleads it before God, Pfal. 116.16.

picaos it Detrie Voor, Pian 110.10.
and the cause of his people Ifrael See v. 30. at all time! Heb. the thing of a day in his day. This Hebrew phrase is oft used, and in different respects; sometimes it is parate to ort unea, and in other cut respects; sometimes it is reinflated, daily (Exod.5.1).jip. Dan. 1.5. very day, (Ex. 16.4.) upon bit day, (Levit. 33.27.) as every days won't required; (Chr.16.37.) after a certain rate every day; (Chr.8.13.) as the day of every day required, (2 Chr. 8.14.) Here is signified day after day.

as the matter shall require This is a phrase of limitation. whereby he sheweththat he desireth no nore then what may be just and equal. No pious man would have God to maintain an unjust cause. V. 60. That all the people of the earth may know that the Lord V. 60. Inst au use people of the cartin may reason that the Lora is God, and that there is nonceffed Deut. 4, 35, 39. Pious perfons, even in the prayers that they make for themselves, aim at the glory of God. They so desire mercy to be showed to them, and bleffing conferred on them, as the Lord thereby may be acknowledged to be the only true God, and the fountain from whence all bleffings flow forth to them.

V. 61. Let your heart therefore be perfect with the Lord your Ged He here means an entire heart subjecting it felf in all fincerity wholly and only to God, I Chr. 28. 9. & 29. 19. 2 King. 20.3. This is the best and greatest perfection that in this world can be attained unto, See Gen. 17-1.

to walk in bis ftatutes, and to keep bis Commandements] See as at this day] Still, from time to time continually, as now as at this any of smill front to the control of the alfo his thankful minde to God. For there were facrifices of thanksgiving, Pfal. 107. 2. See v. 63. V. 63. And Solomon offered Together with the Priests

V. 62. And Solmmon figured] Together with the Priells; princes, and people, as 2 Ch. 1; 1.11. & 26, 23, 2, & 26, 24. & 25.9, 29.9. Under this word, people, in the former veries, Princes, and all under the King, an ecomprise, of place of prince, and all under the King, and the Land of the control of the co a peace-offering, because God having bestowed some benefit a peace-offering, because Good naving bestowed some Benefit upon them, for which this offering was made, Good seemed to be appealed towards them. 2. Because upon apprehension thereof, the conscience of the offerer was pacified. 3. Because it was a kinde of retribution, by returning thanks to God.

4. Because in offering of the same, they defired and expected two and twenty thousand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thou-[and [beep] This is the greatest facrifice that we read of. Great facrifices are mentioned, 1 Chr. 29. 21. 2 Chr. 15.11. & 29. Jacinices are menuoned, 1 Cur. 29, 21, 2 Cur. 15, 11, & 29, 32, & 30, 24, & 35, 7, 8, 9. But none like to this: By the multitude of facrifices, pious Jews were wont to tellifie their zealous and grateful affection to God. Herein hypocrites would make thew of imitating them, Micah 6.7.

fothe King and all Ifrael with him] They all brought oxer and theep, and for made up the forefaid number. Zealous fpirits are not farisfied with the duties of piery which they perform themselves, unless they bring thereunto all under their charge, and pious subjects will be ready to joyn with their Soveraign dedicated the bouse of the Lord By their joynt prayers, prai-fes, and sacrifices, they set apart the Temple to sacred

v. 64. The same day did the King By the Ministery o Priefts, 2 Chr. 7. 7. For the King might not himself go into bellow | Set apart to that holy fervice, (Exo. 13. 2, 12.) by fuch rites as were appointed by the law.

the middle of the court that was before the boule of the Lord ] This was the Priefts court, wherein they did either creft other alters for that prefent use; or used the pavement instead of an alter for there be offered barns-offerings and meat-offerings, and the fat of thepeace offerings | Under these three heads, all ordinary faighthease offerings] Under these three heads, all ordinary sciences are compressed, so lost, 1-33. Of burner offerings, See Lev. chap. 1. Of mear offerings, See Lev. chap. 2. Of peace-offerings, See Lev. chap. 2. Of peace-offerings, See Lev. chap. 3. Of the seed of th occause the burn-offerings and meat-offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings [This realon theweth, that this was an extraordinary case, even a case of necessity; and in such a case, an dinary cate, even a cate of necessity 1 and in stora cate, an ordinary course may be dispensed with, Numb. 9 11. 2 Chro. 29, 34. 8 30.2,3. Matth. 12.3,4. Of the brazen altar, See 2 Chron. 4. 1. This is said to stand before the Lord, because it was let in the Priefts court, directly before the most holy place and the ark therein. See 2 King. 19. 54.

V. 65. And at that time Namely, at the dedication of the temple. Solomon held a feast ] A feast for this very work , besides the feast of Tabernacles, v. z. See chap. 3. 15. See 1 Chron.

and all Ifrael with him? As many as were then gathered together, which were very many.

a great congregation For they came from all parts of the land, as the words following thew.

land, as the words to lowing them, from the entering in of Hamith] Hamath was the attermost part of Canan on the North, Num. 13, 22, 23, and 34, 7,8, and the river of Egypt] This was on the South, Numb. 34. unto toe river of Egipt.] Into was on the South, Numb. 34, 35. Josh. 13, 3. See chap. 4. 21. These two ceasts shew, that they came from all the parts of that nation, from North to South; under which by a Synechdothe the East and West also is and to be understood. before the Lord our God] He means before the Temple and the most holy place therein, because the Ark was in it. Or this phrase may be used in regard of the manner of their keeping of it, which was as in the presence of the Lord, after an holy spiritual manner. [even dayes and [even dayes, even fourteen dayes ] The first feven were for the dedication, 2 Chr. 7, 9. The other feven, por the feath of Tabernacles. For that feath began on the fifteenth day of the moneth, Levit. 33, 74. See 1 Chr. 15. 26. V. 66. On the ight skay 1 lists was the day next after the fectod feath, being the 23, day of the fectod moneth, 2 Chr. 7. 10. For on the two and twentieth day an holy convocation was enjoyned, Levit. 23. 36. Whereas it is faid Levit. 23. that on the eight day there should be an holy convocation.

on the eight cay there mound be an more converted.

he first the people away! He diffinitified the Congregation, and gave them all liberty to go to their own houles.

and they belified the King! Or, thinked him. Yea, and prayed to God for him, and that with a joyful actlamation. and went unto their tents] By tents he means their houses but herein alludes to the habitations of Ifrael in the wilderness, which was in tents, See chap. 13.16.

joyful and glad of beart Not onely their bodies were refreshed with the feast, but their spirits allo were much cheered with Solomons prayer and bleffing, and the accomplishment of and southern part and Deening, and the accomplishment of all things about the temple.

for all the goodseft that the Lord had done for David bis fer-uant? See chap. 3.6. Namely, in giving him so wise a son, who had accomplished what God had fore-told concerning the remple, 2 Sam. 7, 12, in elabiliting list brone, feling a good peace, and giving Hope of the continuance of all. and for I frait be people] This is added, because the benefit of all redounded to all I frait.

CHAP. IX.

Verf. 1. And it came to pass when Solomon had sivissed the building of the bouse of the Lord ] And had also dedicated the same after that solemn manner which is set down in the former chapter. For in the third verse God faith, I have and the Kings house &c. ] The latter part of this verse must be included in a parenthesis; To make up the sense of the latter be included in a parembefs; I om make up the ientle of the latter, the principal werb may be repeated, and thus added, the finified the Kings bank &c. ] Or otherwise, all that a personate to the window experient to the window experient of the principal window, and the beginning of the second wers to the cent werse, may be included in a parembers. Thus the tenth varie will depend on the first. And because there is so large a narration of the vision inferted, the words of the first verse are repeated in the tenth, which is usual after a long parenthesis. Under the Kings house, he comprizeth the house of Lebanon, the Queens house, and other buildings mentioned chap. 7.v. 2.

and all Solomons defire which be was pleased to do] Whatfoever Solomon thought meet to build, for his own or others use, or Chap. ix. for delight (whereof he gives some intimation, Eccl. 2. 4. &c.) be accomplished.

V. 2. That she Lord appeared to Solomon These words as here translated, have relation to the first clause of the former verse, as if they had been thus joyned together, And it came to pafs, when Solomon had finished the building of the house of the Lord, that the Lord appeared, &c. In the Hebrew there is a copulative particle; And the Lord appeared. This copulative particle may be turned into a causive particle, and so the vision will be brought in as a reason why Solomon, having built the house of the Lord, built his own house, and what else pleased home or the Lord, Dullthis own home, and what one pleased him, namely, because he confidently rested on Gods promise to establish the throne of his Kingdom, &c. v., the second time] This shows that there was no other appearance of God betwixt that which is noted, ch. 3. v. 5. and as he had appeared unto him at Gibeon] In a dream by night really, evidently. See ch. 3.5. &c. 2 Chr. 7.12.

V. 3. And the Lord faid unto him, I have heard thy prayer

This part of Gods answer sheweth, that this vision was anon after Solomons solemn prayers at the dedication of the Temple. It may be the very night following; as he did the first time that he appeared to him; even the night after he had of-fered up his folemn facrifices, ch. 3. v. 4.5. It is not probable that God would defer his approbation of that prayer thirteen years after it was made. For it was thirteen years after that, before Solomon had built all he defired. This mention of Gods hearing his prayer, gives instance of Gods readiness to hear the prayer of his servants, Psal. 65. 2. Dan. chap. 9. and thy supplication that thou hast made before me ] See chap.

I have hallowed this house which thou hast built I have let it a part to those holy uses for which thou hast prayed, Gen.

to put my name there for ever ] See ch. 8, 13, 16.

and mine eyes See ch. 8, 29.
and mine heart shall be there perpetually I will not only take notice of the prayers made, and fervices done in this house but also set my heart thereon, and manifest my grace and favour therein. What I do there, finall be heartily done in love

No. 4. And if thou wilt. See ch. 8,25, walk before me See ch. 2, 4, & 3, 1, as David thy father walked See ch. 3,14, in integrity of heart Integrity implyeth the foundness of in Integrity of nears a mergity implyeth the foundates of the whole heart; when the heart is carried one way, and no part thereof a contrary way, as 2 King. 17, 41. & Zeph. 1. 5. tee Job. 3. & 27, 5. Plal. 26, 111. Prov. 20, 7. and in narginghing? See Ag. 6. to do 3. The inward disposition of the heart must be manifest.

ed by the outward conversation of life,

according to all that I have commanded thee] Obedience to God must be universal, not by halves, as 1 Sam. 15.8,9. and the rule thereof must be Gods commandement. Sec 2 King. 23.25: Luk. 1.6. Deut. 28.1. and wilt keep my statutes and my judgments ] See chap. 2.

V. 3. Then I will establish the throne of thy Kingdom upon If rael for ever ] That is, thou and thy posterity shall continue time after time to be Kings over Ifrael ; fo as no other flock but thine shall fit on that throne. See ch. 2.4. & 8.25. 2 Sam.

for ever ] See ch.8.13.
as I promifed to David ] 2 Sam.7.12. 1 Chr.22.10. God who promifeth,is faithful, Heb. 10.23.

thy father, faying, ] See ch. 6.12. there shall not fail thee a man upon the throne of I fract] See ch.

V. 6. But if you shall ] Failing on mans part to observe the condition annexed to Gods promise, makes it void, I Sam.

at all turn] Heb, turning turn. Clean turn away, obstinately, totally.

from following me] Heb. from after me. If you shall renounce me and my fervice; as fervants who are weary of their Mafter, and will no longer follow him, 1 King-18.21. you or your children ] That is, either you to whom in particular the promise is made; or any of your children in any age after you. Where the condition is broken, there will the for-and will not keep] Omission of duty mokes men liable to judgment; especially if obstinacy be added thereto, Levit. 26. 14. Matth. 23. 37.

my commandements and my [tatutes] See ch.2.3. which I have set before you ] That is, have made them known to you, that they might be to you as a way to walk but go and ferve ] Neglect of Gods commandement is a forerunner of idolatry; and idolatry of destruction.

other gods] Whatsoever besides Jehovah hath that respect yeelded to it, which is proper to God, is made an other God.

Exod. 20.3.

and worship them ] To serve, implyeth in general, all manner of obedience, or performing of any thing in reference to fuperiority. To worthip, fignifieth an outward bowing of the body, by way of adoration in acknowledgment of aDeity. Thefe body, by way of anotation in acknowledgment or a Deity. I here two words, ferve and worthip, applyed to the true or a falle God, do oft intend one and the fame thing.

V. 7. Then will I cut off I free! out of the land which I have given them] The Metaphor of cutting off is taken from husband-mens dealing with barren and dead trees. He flocks them up, root and branches, as Deut. 20.20. Judg. 6.28. Luk.

13. 7,9. Thus was Jeroboam dealt withal, ch. 14. 10. and fundry other Kings of Ifrael: yea, and all Ifrael it felf, 2 King.

and this house] 2 King. 25.9. which I have bullowed for my name] See v. 3. Jer. thap. 7.

will I cast out of my fight] That is, out of my favour and protection. This judgment is directly contrary to the blessing promised v. 3. Sin incenseth Gods wrath against the most facred external evidences of his prefence, and means of his worfhip. He will rather fuffer them to be demolished, then his name to be dishonoured by hypocrites, or prophane persons, or idolaters in the use of them.

and Ifrael shall be a Proverb] That is, an usual scoff or score?

distance of the Hebrew word figuration of the heart, and a by word. The Hebrew word figuration a flar, or biting word; fuch a force of the hebrew word figuration to the heart.

among all people] As in the time of the Babylonish captivity, the Jews were a foorn to all nations; fo much more fince the last destruction of their city and temple by the Romanes. To other fearful judgments, fuch shame and disgrace hath been added, as never the like to any other nation, Deut. 28. 37. Jer.

24. 9. V. 8. And at this boule which is high ] Under this Epothite, high, all the external glory of the Temple is comprized; and it is premized as the reason why people were so altonished at the destruction thereof: namely, because so great glory was turned into fo vile contempt. every one Friend and foe, home-born and Branger, great and mean, young and old, all of all forts, shall be assonished ] Wondring at the judgment of God; fome through much grief thereat: others through meer amazeand [hall bifs] In derifion and fcorn. This is a geffure of great Corn. It is spoken of malignant enemies, and they shall say, why hath the Lord done thus unto this land and unto this bouse. Deut. 29. 24. Ier. 22. 8. this is added as the effect and evidence of their aftonishment. V. 9. and they shall answer, because they for sooke ] The very bea-then detelt apollacy as justly deferving tevere vengeance. See Jer. 2.11. Lam. 4. 15. the Lord their God] See ch. 8.28.

who brought forth their fathers ont of the land of Egypt | Former deliverances and mercies much aggravate apostaand have taken hold] The Hebrew word fignifieth fuch a fast holding of a thing 28 will not let it go, Exod. 9. 2. Job 18. 9.

Thus they who for lake the true God, hold faft their falle gods; and will not ler them go, upon other gods ] See v. 6.

and have worshipped them and served them? See v. 6.

therefore the Lord brought upon them all this evil ] Gods judgments upon unworthy professors of his name, appear just, even

V. 10. And it came to pass, &c. ] Here he returns to Solo-mons proceeding about his buildings, and for better passing thereunto, he repeateth part of the first verse, See the notes at the end of twenty years ] This account is to be taken from the beginning of the Temples building; not of Solomons reign: For that which here he speaks of, was in the four and twentieth year of his reign, ch. 6. r. when Solomon had built the two houses And other houses joyned unto them, mentioned ch.7. v.2.&c.

the house of the Lord ] In seven years, ch. 6. v.38.

and the Kings houfe ] In thirteen years, ch. 7.1. V. 11. Now Hiram the King of Tyre | See ch. 5.1.

had furnished Solomon with Cedar trees and fire trees | See chi and with gold ] See v. 14.

according to all his defire ] See ch. 5.10. that then Solomon gave Hiram twenty cities This recompende Solomon gave to Hiram for the timber and gold mentioned before; and for the pains and workmanship which Hirams fervants took and did about Solomons works, ch. 5. 9. &c. befides the wheat and oyl which he gave him, ch.5.v.II.

notes the wheat no oys writen or gave nim, en. 5, 1, 11.
in the land of Galileo ] This is that which is filled Galileo of the Gentiles, If 2, 9, 1. Matth. 4, 17. It was so called, because before Davids time it was inhabited of the Gentiles, and becaule it bordered upon the Granile, annely, upon Tyrus, fee a serious of the context on John 19, 27, Or, Galilee may be taken appellatively, for a circuit of land, Joel 3, 4, 3 and appertaineth to find. Cities as were without the land of lizeds inheritance which might not be alienated.

V. 12. And Hiram came out from Tyre to fee the Cities which Selomon bad given bim] That he might the better confider the sciruation of them, and other commodities appertaining to and they pleased him not] Heb. were not right in his eyes. They gave him no content : therefore he returned them back again to Solomon, 2 Chron. ch. 8. verl. z. See the notes on Josh.

V. 12. And he [aid] He plainly expressed his minde, and did not conceal his discontent. what cities are thefe which thou baft given me?] This interrogarion importeth a great diflike.

My brother | This is spoken by one King to another : For Kings are brothers in office, ch. 20. 31.

And he called them the land of Cabul | That is, displeasing or dirty. For they were in low, moorith places. unto this day ] This phrase implyeth a perpetual continuance of a thing, is ch. 10. 12. & 12. 19. Gen, 16. 33.at leaff a continuance of it till the time of writing this hiftory.

V. 14. And Firam fent to the King | Upon compact ; and that time after time while Solomon was building the forefaid houses, and not all at once.

fix/core talents of gold ] The Jews had two Talents, one facred, the other common. The facred was in weight and worth, as much more as the common. The facred in gold was repu-ted to be three thousand seven hundred and fifty pound in value. The common, one thousand eight hundred seventy and five pound flerling; multiply either of these one hundred and twenty rines, and the value will be found to be very great, namely of the facred, two hundred twenty five thousand, and of the common, one hundred twelve thouland and five hundred pound. See the notes on 1 Chr. 22.14.

V. 15. And this is the reason of the levie which King Solomor raifed ] The levie here mentioned was especially of men.as ch. 5. 13. For he had such plenty of money, and of all things fit to accomplish great works, as he might well want men to finish the same, and thereupon made great levies of men, This very word is applyed v. 21. to fuch men as he used for his works : There might also levies be made of money, See chap. 12.

for to build the house of the Lord ] And all things appertaining and his own bouft] See v. 1.

and his own rough 3 see V. I., and Millol According to the Hebroy notation, it figuifieth a fulnefl, or a place filled up. Some therefore take it to be an inful fitrong bulwark filled up write earth. Others for a spacious place for people that attended the Kings Court, to meet in. It is called an house, a King. 12. 20. It appears to be an house of defence, or a fort : because in danger of enemies, Hezekiah repaired it, 1 Chr. 31.5. It was in Zion which David won from the Jebulites, fee 2 Sam. 5. 7.9. Solomon (both here, and ch. 11.27.) is faid to build it, in that he fo repaired and beautified it, as it seemed to be a new one.

fied it, as it termed to be a new one, and the mall of fernightm [See ch. 3.1. The re-edifying of this wall (in the third chapter of Nehemiah) the weth how large it was. Such was the benefit of it, as upon the repairing of it, there was a foleran dedication. Neh. 1.2.7. &c.

and Hagor This City was in the tribe of Nepthali, John 19.

and Megidde] This city was in the tribe of Manafieh, Joth-17. 11. Judg. 1. 27. Here good Joseph received his morral wound, 2 Chr. 25. 22.

and Gezer] This was in the tribe of Ephraina, belonging to the Levites, Jafh. 21.11. 1 Chr. 6.67. V. 16. For Pharach King of Egypt had gone up ] Here he thewesh, how Gezer became Solomons.

and taken Geger] For the Canaanires and Philiflims held it at that time, Judg. 1.29, 1 Sam. 27.8. I Chr. 20.4. and burnt it with fre I it is probable that the Canazantes flood out so oblimately against Pharaob, as he was forced to and flain the Ganaanites that dwelt in the City ] This he did, left they should at any time get head, mutinie, and feek to recover their right again.

and given it for a prefent unto bie daughter, Solamons mife] It was the more acceptable profess, because it lay within the confines of Ifrach, John ar. ar.

V. 17. And Solomon built Geger ] For it was burnt, v. 16. and Beth-horen the nether ] Two Beth-horons, the upper and nether, are bounded, John 16.3,5. The nether was in the tribe netter, are optimized, 10th.10.355. And netter was in the fribe of Enplainin, Joh., 18.11, 13. The upper in the tribe of Ephrainin, Joh., 16.5. and appertained to the Levites, Joh. 21. 22. It is faid, 2 Chr. 8.5. that he also built Beth-horon the upper 3 so fandy place. in the land | Namely of Ifrael, though at the uttermost coasts thereof. This clause (in the Land) may be referred to all the fore-mentioned places. V. 19. And all the cities of flore that Solomon had ] That is , cities wherein ammunition , provision, and all manner of preparation for war, navigation, food, clothing, and other necesfaries were laid up, as Exod. 1.11. and cities for bis chariets, and cities for bis borfemen These chariors and horsemen were both for his royal use in time of peace, and also for a necessary use in times of war. For it is an especial point of prudence, in time of peace to provide for war, 2 King. 8.21. fee 1 Chr. 18.4. 1 King. 1. 5. & 22.31.

and that which Solomon defired Heb. the defire of Solomon which be defired] He had in aboundance all manner of timber and itones and other materials, and aboundance of money, and men skilful in all manner of workmanship, and store of labourers for inferiour fervices, and excellent wildom in himfelf to order and direct all, and Gods bleffing upon all, fo that he might well accomplish the defire which he defired.

to build in Ferufalem] See chap. 7.1. &c. What fair edifices he there built.

and in Lebanon Other places (befides that fair edifice; which and in Legaron; O mer places (pernass that rail coince; which is deferibed chap. 7. 3,45.) are here meant: for that building was in Jerulalem; thele in Lebanon.

and in all the land of his dominion. All the cities mentioned 15,17,18,19. and elfewhere.

V. 20. And all the people that were left of the Amorites, Hittites, Perigites, Hivites, and Jebufites, which were not of the children of Ipsel] Of the fig. fee Judg. 1.21,27,29:30,31, 33.

V. 21. Their children that were left after them in the land ] Here in particular he sheweth whom he meant, namely, the posterity of those that descended from those heathen before mentioned, that lived in Solomons time, and in the land of whom the children of I (rael also were not able utterly to destroy) This dilability did arife partly from their own negligence, Judg 1.21,27,80.) and partly from the wife providence of God, who left them to prove first, Judg 2.22.

upon those did Salamon levie a tribute of bond-service. This doth exemplifie the levie before mentioned, v. 15. & ch. 5.13. aota exempine the levic before mentioned v. 15. & 0.5.13, that bit ship | See v. 13. Thefe firangers proved Proleiytes, and were incorporated into the flate of Ifrael, as the Gibeonites who are called Nethiman, 1 Chr. 9. Err. 2. 43. Solomon imposing a task or service on them and their posterity, they continued in Ifrael very many generations, and carried the name of Solomons fervants, Ezra, 2.55. Neh. 7.57.

V. 22. But of the children of Ifrael did Solomon make no bond-men | Such respect did God bear to the seed of Abraham, with whom he had entred into covenant, (Gen. 17.7.) as he inftituted a Law against making any of them bond-flaves, Lev. 25.

39. Solomon therefore in a tender respect to his country-men, and in a dutiful respect to Gods law, would make none of them but they were Though Solomon exempted the Ifraelites from villainage, yet not from all imployments. He would not have them trained up to idleness.

men of war | Trained up to that noble discipline. For a Souldiers calling is both warrantable and honourable.

and bis [cruants ] They were imployed in free and honourable functions, ordained by Solomon. These are opposed to bond-men.

and bis Princes | Such as had dignity and authority conferred on them; they were Magistrates and Governours in the common-wealth. and his captains] Commanders in war.

and gulers of his Chariots and borfemen ] Such as we call Mafters of the Kings horfe : fuch as had command over the Kings Querry, over the Grooms of his stables, and over his Chariot mon. See ch. 11.28. Of Charlots, fee v. 19.
V. 23. Thefe were the chief of the officers that were over Solomons work ] He means here fuch Ifraelites, as were before mentioned five bundred and fifty which bere rule over the people In-deed there is mention made but of two hundred and fifty in 2 Chron. 8. 10. But five hundred did ferve by turns; two hundred and fifty at a time. These onely are intended, 2 Chro. Chap. ix. 8 ro. and fifty were over those rulers in their course, to take 1 2 Chron. 2.6. This is supposed to be in Havilah, Gen. 2 17 8. 70. and fifty were over those trusters in their course, to take a count of all the five hundred as they served in their course; I this called perfections of gold, 2 Chro.4. 21. There is also known the whole reckoned up together, makes the number of five for many of pure gold, 2 Chr. 1. 21. and of five gold, 2 Chr. hundred and fifty. Or otherwise, in 2 Chron. 8.10. he may fpeak of fuch officers as had power over people in the commonwealth: but here of fuch as were over work men in Solomons buildings and other works, whereabout the inspection of more over-seers was requisite. Whereas in chap, 5, 16, mention is made of three thousand and three hundred officers over the work : I answer, that they were over the work of the temple, whereof Solomon had a far greater care then of his own house; and thererefore he had more working and more officers there. about. See the note on chap, y, 1.

V. 24. Pharashs daughter came up] Having finished a royal house, fir for such a Princels, (as he intended long before, chap. 3.1.) he now brings her into it. Of another special reason for bringing her out of the house of David, See 1 Chron. 8.11. out of the city of David Sec chap. 2. 80. Unto her house which Solomon had built for her. See chap. 7. 8.

shen did be build Millo] See v. 17.

V. 25. And three times in a year did Solomon offer At the three great feafts. 1. The Paffeover, 2. The Featt of weeks. 3. The Feast of Tabernacles, Deut. 16. 16. It appears in 2 Chron. 8.13. that Solomon observed other feasts, and offered facrifices at fundry other times. But thele he observed most folemnly and most constantly; and by a Synechdoche, other feafts and facrifices are comprized under thefe. burnt offerings and peace-offerings | See chap. 2.15.

upon the altar which he built unto the Lord 1 He means the ngon the datar world no only more than the Loval recements the great brazen altar, as chap, 8.64. See 2 Chron.4. 1; and he harm! Namely, by the minifery of the Priefts: by whole minifery also be offered the fore-mentioned offering. whole minitery and ne ouered the fore-mentioned our ng. For it was not lawful for king, or any other, but Priefls, to offer either incense or other offering. See 2 Chron. 26,16. incense was a sweet perfilme made of four odoriferous spices, whereof see Exod. 30. 34. It was such a persume rolls places, viberce (ree Exod. 30, 34, 12 vizs judia pertume | countries we janusopunes iase.

so non engigit make execuding to the composition thereof, and | faceage | Her (e.s., the red ignity, her wealth, the remotencis that upon pain of bring vice utility. (Exod. 30, 29), 38. It is filled | of her abode, the occasion of the conting, (which was the name in a double-repect, 10 of the examelation, (it was exceed) | of the Lord) do all commend ther example. It is faid of many ing fover) is . Of their gyized [cifect, vidial; vas caused | of the Lord) do all commend there example. It is faid of many ing fover) is . Of their gyized [cifect, vidial; vas caused | of the Lord) do all commend there example. It is faid of many ing fover) is . fweet favor in Gods nostrils. 1. It was every day, morning and 134. but the diffine history of none is fet down but of this evening burnt in Gods house, Exod. 30.8,9. that God might take delight to dwell there, 2. It was joyned to all forts of facrifices, (Pfal. 66. 15.) to make them acceptable. 3. It was offered up when Gods wrath was incenfed, (Numb. 16. 46.) to pacific the fame. 4. It used to be burning, while the people were praying, (Levit. 1.10.) to procure audience.

5. It was carried with blood into their most holy place, (Lev. 16.11.12.13.) to make the atonement effectual. The incense did typisie Christ, who was most precious, (1 Pet.2. 7.) ceme and sylpine Curity with vision to pretroots, († 1942. 7).

yes, as the fpices bruiled, (ffair, 3, 5) and made a facrifice for a fivered finelling favors, (Epidef, 5, 5). He unsketh continual interestination visions, (Epidef, 5, 5). He unsketh continual interestination visions, (Epidef, 5, 5). He unsketh continual interestination visions, (Epidef, 5). He unsketh continual finelling for the properties of the properties allo morally fee our prayer, which coming from a broken and contrite heart, (Plaim. 71.17) forced with faith, (Mar. 11. 24.) and fervour, (Jam. 5.16.) laid on Christ our altar and cenfer, (Heb. 13. 10. Joh. 16. 23.) afcendeth into heaven, (2 Chron. 30.27.) and is accepted of God. Job. 22.8.

upon] Heb. upon it. the altar that was before the Lord \ Sze chap. 6. 22.

the diffirm the word representation to v. v. v. v. v. v. z. v. v. z. And king Solomon made a way of fifty in Exton-geber, which is befide Eloth] These were two places in the wilderness, where the Ifraclites had their flations, Deut. 2.8. They were where the infection and near nations, Dean, 2.0. They were both fea-havens by the red-fea.

on the flowe Heb. th.
of the red fea in the land of Edom] That is, on that part of the red-fea which coafted on the land of Edom.

V. 27. And Hivam fent in the Many his fervants | The navy was Solomons, and the thips thereof were made by his appoint- the made the best advantage that the could to her felf, by diliment. Where it is faid, (2 Chron. 8. 18.) that Hiram fent Solomon,by the hands of his fervants, thips; the meaning is, that Hiram conducted or guided Solomons thips, by the skill and industry of his fervants. For the word translated, fent, fignifieth alfo to conduct, guide, or bring on the way, Genz 18.16.

fine-men that had knowledg of the feat Tyre was an Island in the feat, and many of the inhabitants thereof were from their youth trained up to be Mariners and Pilots. with the fervants of Solomon. Hirams fervants did but affift

V. 28. And they came to Ophir | Ophir is an Island in the Indies, where the most precious gold is to be had. Hereupon the finest gold is stilled gold of Ophir, Job. 22. 24. & 28 16. Pfal. 45.9. Ifai. 13.12. It is also filled , gold of Parvaim, house of the Lord, with all the parts and courts thereof, with

3. 5,8. and of refined gold, 1 Chr. 28.8.

and fet from thence gold | Solomon had better fuccels then

Jehoshaphat,ch. 22.48.

four hundred and twenty talents In 2 Chr. 8.18, mention is made of four hundred and fifty talents. Answer; four hundred and fifty talents were brought to Solomon; the thirty overand first raients were prought to Solomon; the thirty over-plus were for all manner of charges. Of talents, See verf. 14, and 1 Chron. 22. verf. 14. These four hundred and twenty talents, amount to a million five hundred seventy five thousand pound.

and brought it to king Solomon ] This was an especial means of encreasing Solomons treasure, and inabling him to do fo. great works as he did: for not once onely, but time after time did Solomon thus receive much gold See chap.

CHAP. X.

And when the Queen of Sheba] 2 Chr. 9. 1 Luk. Jerufalem, far remote, in the utmost parts of the earth, Matt. 12. 43. It was scituate in Arabia the happy. It was a place that afforded flore of gold and fweet spices, and precious flones, Pfalm. 72.15. Ezek. 27.22. See v. 2.

heard of the fame of Solomon | For Solomons wildom was fa-nous throughout the whole world, v. 24. ch.4.31.

contenting the Name of the Lord | For the report went (as the truth was, ch.3.1.2) that the Lord had inspired him with more then ordinary wildome. Yea further, by this phrase is implyed, that defire of the knowledg of Jehovah and of that divine wildom which fire believed to be in Solomon, put her on to undertake this long journey : wherein the is to be commended. far above Plato, Pythagoras, and others, that went into remote countries for philosophies sake.

Queen; for her example excelled all others.

to prove him] That is, to get evidence of his understanding and wifdom , that fo the her felf might be the more infructed and made wifer thereby, Prov. 1.5. & 13.20.

with hard questions ] The Hebrew word is translated sometimes dark fpeeches, Num. 1 2.8. dark fentence: , Dan. 8.2 2. Proverbs, Habbac. 2.6. riddles, Judg. 14. 12. They were questionless, questions about great and weighty matters; and so in-tricate and difficult as all the heathen Philosophers, Astrologers, Magicians, or other learned men could not refolve, Viz. And she came to Hierusalem with a very great train ] A multitude of attendance, called her servants, (v.13, Gen. 50.9.) is comprized under this word, train. Her retinue or company with which fire came, was answerable to her flate at home. Her royal attendance, coming fo long a journey, much magnified her zeal. She spared nor pains, nor cost. Of Jeruialem, see ch. 3. 15.

with cantels | Thefe were large firong beafts, that could endure long and hard travel, and bear great burthens. They had long necks, long legs, and large bodies, which gave occasion to fundry Proverbs, as Matth. 19.14. & 23.24. They were much used of old, Gen. 24.10. & 30.43. & 31.17. Jud. 6.8. 1 Sam. 30.17. Job. 1.3. & 42.12.

that have fires, and very much gold, and precisus flones The country from whence the came abounded with all these conmodities, See v. r.

and when the was come to Solomon, the communed with him of all that was in her heart ] Which the had before purpoled, or then came to her minde. The phrase of communing with imports, that as the put forth her own wit to the uttermost, to make the more thorow proof of Solomons wildom; fo also that gent hearkening thereunto.

V. 3. And Solomon told her] He refolved and expounded her doubts : or fuch obscure and difficult cases as the propounded. all her questions | Heb. words, there was not any thing hid from the King which he told ber not? As this giveth proof of that incomparable which Solomon had, chap. 3.12. & 4 30.31; So it giveth evidence of his readinesse and willingness to communicate to others what he

V. 4. And when the Queen of Sheba had feen That is, well observed, weighed, and confidered. all Solomons wifdom] The effects and evidences of his wil-and the house that be had built \ Here especially is meant the ger might be seen: but withal, the other fair bouses that he built, are also intended: for certainly she saw all.

V. 5. And the meet of his table That variety and plenty of diffies which was fet upon his table, and the different ordering and the fitting of his fervants] This word, fitting, is a word of dignity and honour, opposed to flanding. For by fervants, he meaneth counsellors of State, Peers, and other chief Officers, who all were fervants to the King, yet opposed to Ministers or attendants.

and the attendants.] Heb. flanding, of his Asinifters.] These waited, and that they might be ready to go whither they were appointed, and to do what they were commanded, they were standing. This sets forth their condition, they were ministring servants, and in their dispo-fition, they were willing and ready to do what was com-and their apparrel This was ordered according to their degrees and places. For one end of apparrel is to diffinguish fexes, degrees, callings, and other differences. See 2 Chr.

9-4-and his sup-heavers] Or, butlers. In regard of the plenty and variety of plate, bread, and all manner of drink, which they fet our, and their manner of ordering all, great admiration was wrought in her. Comely and due performance of service in a family, doth commend, not only the prudence of servants, bur of their mafters alfo.

and his ascent by which he went up unto the house of the Lord ] Hereby is let out a stately Gallery, or cause-way, or terrace, whereby he ascended out of his royal palace into the Temple: whereof fee more v. 12. A like thing is mentioned, Ezek. 44. 3.8: 46.2. This is called the Kings entry, 2 King 16.18. And the entrance out of it into the Temple, is called the Kings gate, I Chr. 9.18.

there was no more spirit in ber] She was so assonished, as if she had been in a swoon. For high admiration makes one fland fo amazed, as if he had no life in him. V. 6. And [be faid unto the King] Having somewhat recollected her spirit, she plainly expresses her minde, it was a true report Heb. word. She had both heard and feen as much as was reported, and thereupon could not but give testimony to the truth thereof, Josh. 2. 10. &c. Joh. 4. 42. that I heard in mine own land \ The truth of famous matters foreads far and neer.

of the acts ] Or, [ayings.
and of thy wildom ] True wildom will thew it felf forth in famous acts.

V. 7. Howbeit I believed not the words] 2 Chr. 9.6. S much was reported of Solomons wildom, as the thought all could not be true.

untill I came and mine eyes bad feen it ] By fensible evidences men are brought to believe what otherwife feems incredible Joh. 20, 29.

and behold the half was not told mel In Gods gifts the reality and truth of them oft exceeds report and truth of them of texteeds report.

the wisland and profiperity exceeds the fame which I heard ]

Heb. thou hast added wisland gooducts to the fame, Under the word profiperity, he comprise that it good which Solomon by his wisland had done.

V. 8. Happy are thy men] She means in general all his Subicas. For thefe here are to be taken in a larger extent then happy are thefe thy fervants which fland continually before thee? By thefe fervants are meant fuch as were of his privy counfel and of his bed-chamber, or had any other place in his court that gave them occasions of being oft in his presence, whether | well be defired by that Queen. at meals, or at any manner of conference, or any kinde of affaires. Such fervants are neerer to a King then other fubjects. See Deut. 1. 38. Prov. 22. 29.

and that hear thy wisdom? This is added as the reason of their happinels. Men are made wife by hearing wife men, Prov. 1. 5. & 5. 1,2. & 12. 20.

V. 9. Bleffed be the Lord thy God] See ch.8.19. This Queen though the dwelt among the heathen, was convinced, that fuch a King as Solomon was, was given of God (as Prov. 8.15, 16.) and thereupon praifeth God for him, as chap, 1, 43. and which delighted in thee] Or, fet his favour upon thee. For it was Gods free grace that advanced Solomon to the throne, and indued him with fuch wildom as he had.

to fer thee on the throne of Ifrael ] Or, over the realm of Ifrael: Ifrael was then the only Church of God. It appears therefore to be an evidence of Gods delight in one, and favour to him, to commit unto him a truft over his Church. In 2 Chr. 9. 8. this is called the throne of God. See there more here-

other excellent things appertaining thereto, fo far as by a firan- | to a people, to fet a good and prudent Governour over them.

Pfal. 78.70.

for ever | To establish that nation for ever, 2 Chr. 9.8. This is true of Ifrael after the flesh, so long as it remained a true Church ; and of Ifrael after the Spirit, everlastingly without end. See 1 Chr. 17.22 to do judgment and justice In executing judgment to deal justly, 2 Sam. 8.15. Or to dispose the affaires of the King-dom with judgment, prudently, and in rightcousness, just-

V. 10. And (he gave to the King ] Freely, as a royal Queen. This was an evidence of that high effecm that the had of So-lomon and of his wildom; and this was one means of accomplishing Gods promife, ch. 3.13. and of fulfilling Davids prophecy, Pfal. 72, 10. That which was here begun as in 2 type, was further fulfilled, Mat. 2. 11. and in the progress of he Christian Church an hundred and twenty talents of gold | See ch. o. verl. 1 a. and of Spices very great store] Sweet spices were in high ac-count among the Jews. There Kings used to lay them up among their treasures, 2 King. 20.13.

and precious flones] These have at all times, in all places, seen much effeemed. All the Presents here mentioned, were he proper commodities of this Queens Country, See verf. 2. Kings use to give and send such Presents as are most proper to their own dominions. Such we to be most rare to others, there came no more such aboundance of spices as these, which the Queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon! This is an high commenlation of thefe Prefents thus given by this Queen. See the like, v. 12.

V. II. And the navy also of Hiram | This feems to be a diflinet navy from that of Solomons, mentioned v. 22. See chap.

that brought gold from Ophir ] Ophir was the place where the best gold was to be had. See ch. 9, 27. brought in from Ophir great plenty of Almug-trees ] These were brought in from Opin great pumy of Atomagorices 1 nature was other then the Algum trees mentioned a Chr. 1.8. (though that name be apolyed to the Cp. 2 Chr. 9.10. (for the Algumtees grew in Lebanon; the Almug in India. The Algumtees were to be had again: thele not to, as appears in the next verse. This Almug wood was such as is mentioned Rev. 18. 12. if not the fame. As the rarenels of the prefent, fo the plenty thereof doth much fee it forth. and presions flones | See v. 10.

and precious giones] See v. 10.

V. 12. And the King made of the Almug trees, Fillars Or; railes. Heb, a prop. Supporters on each fide of the Gallery that led from the Kings Palace to the Temple, v. 5. Certainly he focales of an addition of Pillars to beautifie that gallery the more; for it was made before this Queen came to Solo-for the boufe of the Lord, and for the Kings boufe ] Pillars of this wood might also be added to the fe and other houses builded by Solomon, to beautifie the fame.

Harps also and Pfalteries for fingers' That Almug wood is here further commended, in that mufical inftruments were made thereof, See 1 Chr. 12.8.

there came no fuch almng trees ] See v. 10. nor were feen ] Namely in Judah, 2 Chr 9.11. For in India they might continue. unte this day | See chap. 13.9.

V. 13. And hing Solomon gave unto the Queen of Sheba] Royaland bountiful minds, are as forward to give as to receive. Giving, receiving, and recompensing, are three bonds of affociation, which continue firm amity betwixt men.

all her defire what soever the asked ] There were commodities in Ifrael which were not in Sheba, and in that respect might belides that which Solomon gave ber] Solomon would not be bellast that the third solution gave term of solution would not be belinde her in bounty.

of bit royal bounty! Heb. according to the hand of king Solomos. According to his power and ability, yes, and Royall minde also. This he did in recompence of her bounty to, bim, v. 10, See 2 Chron. 9.12. fo fhe turned and went to her own country ] Being fatisfied, and that to the full, in that for which the came, the tarries no longer from her own place, but returned hither, she and her servants] These were the great train mentioned

V. 14. Now the weight of gold that came to Solomon] Hither-to Solomons wildom hath been fet forth. His wealth and pomp is further declared. in one year ] Not once onely, but diverse yeers one after another: But so much was brought at one time.

was fix bundred three core and fix talents of gold ] See chap. 9. 14. Some ships went to Ophir, chap. 9. 28. Some to Tarfhifh, v. 22. Thus, though there were brought but four hundred and fifty talents of gold from Ophir, 2 Chron. 8.18. yet breause the Lord loved Israel It is an evidence of Gods grace from Ophir, Tarshilb, and other places, he might receive fix

Chap.x. hundred fixty fix talents in a yeer; which amounted to two | covered all over with plates of gold, it had not been seen, and millions four hundred ninery feven thousand five hundred fo there had been little use of it.

V. 14. Besides that he had of the merchant-men or, of factors or customers. The Hebrew word figurfieth, fuch as fearch after or spie out matters, as Numb. 13. 2, 25. Deut. 1. 33. Now merchants and their factors use to harch diligently, to. where they may for their best advantage buy or fell commodities. Such therefore may here be fet out by this word : yea, cultomers also useto fearch ships, packs, and other places; fo as they also may be implyed.

and the traffique of the [bice merchants] Spices where precious commodities, v. 10. Therefore there were special merchants for them, and it may be, a company of such merchants, as the East-India Company amongit us, They might pay great custom to the king, for liberty to bring in some and carry out other commodities.

and of all she kings ] That paid him tribute, being subdued by David. Many also gave gifts on good will and gratitude, of Arabia] For from thence, in particular, tribute was fent to kings of Judah, 2 Chron.17.11. and of the governours | Or cantains.

and of the government | Or, captains, of the country of Arabia. They all brought gold and filter, a Chron, p. 14.

V. 16. And king Soloma made] The targets and shields hereafter mentioned, were rather for pompe then une. For gold is not fo fit to keep a man fafe from the danger of arrows, darts, javelings, and other like piercing weapons, as fleel, iron, or brafs : but yet it is far more glorious for shew. Howfoever Solomon himfelf had the glory of these golden targets and shields for the time : yet they were soon taken away from his fon, 2 Chron. 12.9. Some hence infer, that God was not well pleased with this pompe.

of beaten gold This phrase implyers, that they were all of massie gold, as the candlesticks, Numb. 8. 4. And not onely layd over on some wood with plates of gold, as the ark, Exod. 25.10, 11. It is called beaten gold, in fundry respects, 1. To commend the excellency of the gold, for the better the gold comment the exertency of the good, for the observed by the ground where the people 1000, ) both the commenty of a kings place, and allo the excellency of parts which he flouid the workmans skill, which is more manifelded in fathioning a thing by beating our the more than the by calting it, 3. To amplify the processing our the more distinct than by calting it, 3. To amplify the processing our the more manifelded in fathioning a hour processing the processing our the more manifelded in fathioning a hour processing the processin fie that value and worth of them. Things of beaten-gold, (the quantity being alike) must needs be more worth, then things of wood laid over with plates of gold.

things of wood his over with places of gold, for his harder fleely of gold want to not stage! The root from S. This two Jonns en each fide of the thron, A kings vigilnow, whence the Hebrew wood cometh, figuristh to rovigly, or judge, the twice fix Jonns on each end of the fix fixed points, where mention is made for gold, and no word equantity expedied, a fleely did to be undertood, as here, a fixed for the fixed for the fixed for the fixed fixed for the fixed for the fixed fixed for the fixed fixed for the fixed fixed for the fixed fixed fixed fixed fixed for the fixed ounce: in worth, two shillings and fix pence. The Jews this world. prized gold at ten times more in worth ; fo as a flishel in gold, was twenty and five shillings. By this account, every target was eventy and inventings. By this account, every target weighted wenty five pounds troy, and it vasivorth feven hundred and fifty pound fterling. See the note on 2 Chron 22,14.

V. 17. And be made three hundred shields Or, buelders. weighted eventy her pounds troy, and it visworth even humber of dead and fifty pound feeting. See the notion 2 Chron 22,14.

V. 17. And he made three hundred flields Or, budglers.

A flield was lefs then a target. Men did tile to carrie their ments, ornaments and titenfils of any kinder as for hurful of besten gold | See v. 16.

Thus every shield worth ninery pound. And the King put them in the house of the Forrest of Lebanon ]

See ch. 7. 2. This house was for civil state the most sumptuous work that Solomon made; and his magnificence and royally was therein most manifested. Therefore those glorious targets and fhields were there fet. It is probable that they were oft carried before Solomon, as the like of brals before his ton, fit in flate, ch. 22.10 and to exercife judgment, ch. 7.7. This prefent, v. 25. But by this phrase the great abundance which throne is faid to be great, because it exceeded ordinary thrones. It was answerable in the kinde thereof to his other works.

of Ivory] Heb. tooth. Meaning Elephants tooth, (v. 22.) which is Ivory. He rewith stately things were wont to be garnished; as houses (I King. 22.39 Amos 3.15.) Palaces (Pf. 45.9.) benches, (Ezek. 27.6.) beds, (Amos 6.4.) vessels (Rev. 18, 12.)

and over-laid it ] Not as the facred things of the oracle, all over; but with fuch curious and artificial work, formewhat checker-wife, as the white Ivory, and yellow gold, gave a fair Indies. lustre one to the other, (2 Chron. 2(. 11.) and made the throne appear the more glorious. Had the white ivory been

V. 19. The throne bad fix fleps Thole fix fleps fliew that it was about an yard and half from the ground. This affent by fleps, as it was convenient for the kings fitting thereon, to be feen and heard, fo it added much flateliness and glory there-and the top of the throne was round behinded Heb. On the hinder part thereof. The cover which was over the throne, together with the back-part thereof, was round. Thus did it cover the kings head round about, and was more easie for his and there were stayes ] Heb. hands. He means fuch fhort rails on each fine, as being fastned to a chair, we call elbows; which are for him that fits thereon to rests his arms thereon. one either fide | Heb. bere and there.

on the place of the feat | Fillned to the feat whereon he fate. and two lyons flood besides the states. ] Those lyons stood on the out-fide of the flaies, both to support the staies, and also for ornament.

V. 20. And twelve lions stood there on the one fide, and on the other upon the fix ficpi On each step there were two Lyons, one at the one end, another at the other end of each step. There being a reft or fhort rail, reaching from on step to another on both ends, a lyon was placed at the fore end of each rest to Support it. They stood in an equall distance one from another. and fo were the more glorious to behold.

There is further mention of a feet-flool of gold, in a Chr. 9.18. which was for the king fitting on his throne, to fet his feet upon.

there was not the like] Heb. fo. in any kingdom.] This adds much to the glory of his throne. See v. 10.12. As this throne excelled other thrones in the costly matter, whereof it was made, in the quantity of it, and in well pleaded with rate propage.

two bunded largets? J argets were fuch as Captains were wont to have carried before them; that, aborcasion ferved, and moral mysteries signified thereby, which were slighted the propagation of the propagation thefc. I. The throne it felf whereon the king fate, figuified Stability in that which is good. 2. The matter of it (being gold and ivory,) An incorrupt and found judgement.

3. The interweaving of yellow gold and white ivory; A mixture of justice and mercy. 4. The height thereof (above the ground where the people stood, ) Both the eminency of protection of good kings and men's kinggows. 6. The fix fleps afcending to the throne, A deliberate and mature pro-ceeding to judgement. 7. The flates on each fide of the throne, The affiltance which he should have from Counsellors.

> V. 21. And all hing Solomons drinking vessels were of gold T All were of massie gold, (as ver 16.) They were not onely gilt, as much of our plate is, but all gold.

things, Numb. 15. 22. for hunters inft uments, Gen. 27.3. for warlike weapons, r Sam. 17.54. for mufical influments, Three panel of gold went to one shield] A pound is twelve Nehem. 12. 36. for jewels, Gen. 24 53. It may here com-The pass 0 gos ness to see prices 1 o pound to tweeter | Neinen 13 : 20 : not peecs, veen 24 53 : it may be recom-ounces. An oance of gold was by the Jews effected worth price under in non-cept post, cape, planters, briton, foones, fifty fulllings flerling 3 one pound weight worth thirty pound. yea, and the targets and shields before mentioned, v. 16,17.

yes, and to talegoes and intensity states a manufactor, v. 10,17.
See a King, 7.16 Forref of Lebanon See chap, 7.2. &c. mercof pure gold Because the house was made for delight, and for the glory of his kingdom, the things therein were of the choicelt gold. See chap, 6, 10. none were of filver ] Or, there was no filver in them.

it was nothing accounted of in the dayer of Solomon This is an hyperbolical speech: for silver was brought to Solomon, time V. 13. Moreover the King made a great throns ] A throne is hyperbolical speech for filter was brought to Solomon, time a feet proper and peculiar to a King (Gen. 41.40.) thereon to after time, by flip, (v. 22.) and given him as an acceptable he had both of filver and gold, is amplified, See v. 27.
V. 22. For the king had at fex a navy of Tarfbifb] Or, that went to Tarshish, 2 Chron. 10. 36. Jer. 10.9. Ezek. 27. 12. This navy was one means of Solomons obtaining so much gold and filver as he had. Tarshish might then be taken in as large an extent as India is now. with the navy of Hiram ] See v. 11.

once in three yeers came the navy of Tarfhifb] This thews that o Tarshish was a long voyage, as now it is to the East-bringing gold and filver | See v. 11. & chap. 9.23. Ivory] Or, Elephants teeth. See v. 18.

Chap.xj.

and apes and pescocks. JOr, Monkies and Parrats: Beaftss and | Birds of remote countries, have in all ages been accounted precious commodities for rarities fake. V. 23. So king solonon exceeded all the kings of the earth]

All about him; Or, all throughout the whole world at that for riches ] God had promifed as much, chap. 3.13. and for misson God had also promised this grace in that measure, chap. 3.12. See chap. 4.30.31. Take these two, riches and wifdom together, and it will appear, that Solomon did indeed excel therein all kings, in all places, throughout all ages of the world. Though fome might exceed hin in riches ; yet in riches and wildom both never any exceeded him. .V. 24, And all the carth] All forts of men, especially kings, queens, princes, nobles, and other great ones of the nations round about. Here is a metonymie, earth put for the inhabi-round about. Here is a metonymic, earth purify the industriants thereon. See v. 2. 2 Chron. 9.23.

fought to Solomon! Heb. fought the face of Solomon. They thought it not enough to fend meffengers and ambaffadors, but came themselves to see him and confer with him. See v.7. to bear his wifdom] They would be both eye-wirneffes and ear-witneffes of his wildom. which God had put in his heart ] This is to be taken of the opinion of the very heathen. They discerned that Solomons wisdom was not attained by humane means, but extraor dinarily given of God.

V. 25. And they brought every man his present] See vers.

veffets of filver and veffels of gold] Of the extent of this word, veffels, See v. 21. and garments] See 2 King. 5. 5.
and armor] Wife flates-men have armor in high account, even in time of peace. See ch. 4.16. & 9.19.

and Sbices T See v. 2. borfes | See ch. q.1 q.

and mules ] There are two words in hebrew, which are transla mules, 129 Jemin, Gen. 26. 24. That word is onely in that place used, and it is supposed, that those mules were ingendred by the mixture of an affe and a mare. The other is Pered, which cometh from a root that figuifieth to part or Separate : because that kinde of creature never come one to creature inion@, half an als ; because it is engendred as aforefaid. Mules were in high account, being of old, for kings, kings fons, and great princes to ride upon, 1 king, 1, 33, 2 Sam. 13, 29, & 18, 9, 1 king, 18.5. They were beaths of price, being fwift of pace, E(th. 8.10. and likewife they could feafonable for the yeer,

V. 26. And Solomon gathered together chariots and horse men

Sec ch. 4. 26. & 9. 19. 2 Chron. 1.14.

And he had a thousand and four hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen] See chap. 4. 26. Whereas in 2 Chron. 9. 25. mention is made of four thouland stalls and chariots, con- married according to their custome. ceive that the number of four thousand hath especial relation to stalls. Now there being in each stall an horse, and four horses for every chariot, the fourthousand stalls will well stand with a thousand chariots. As for the four hundred chariots more worth then stones, ; yea, he caused others so to esteem it. The like is said of gold, 2 Chron. 1. 15.

to be in Ferusalem ] In this city he most manifested his mag-as stones] This is an hyperbole. See v. 21. and cedars made he] See ch. 4. 33. & 5.8.

to be as Sycamore trees | Sycamores were trees that grew in every field and hedg-row, as aboundantly, as Oaks and Elms with us, 2 Chron.9,27.

V. 28. And Solomon had horfer brought out of Egypt] Heb. and the going forth of the horfes was Solomons. 1 Chron. 1. 16. & 9. 28. Egypt had great plenty of choice horses, Deut. 17.

16. Ifai. 31.1. Ezek.17.15. and linnen yarne Or, fine flax. Hercof there was great flore in Egypt, Gen. 41. 41. Prov. 7. 16. Ezek 27.7. See the hings merchants received the linnen yarne at a price] There was a compact or agreement with the king of Egypt for a fet

V. 29. And a chariot came up and went out of Egypt He means a chariot drawn with four horfes : or fo many horfes which use to draw a chariot; which are four.

for fix hundred shekels of filver] This was the price of four horses, or of the linnen drawn in a chariot.

and an harle for an hundred and fifty | This is the fourth part of the fix hundred pound before mentioned.

and fo for all the kings of the Hittites, and for all the kings of Syria Thefe kings had their kingdoms bordering upon Solomons, and were in amity with him : fo as they and other kingdoms, thereabouts, had hories and other commodities by Solo-did they bring them out by their means. ] Heb. by their bands. For hands are the chief members whereby men use to act any

CHAP. XI.

Vers. 1. Bit king Solomon] Hitherto excellent things have been spoken of Solomon; his soulrevolt is surther related, and Gods just judgements sollowing there-loved | Unduly, against law; and immoderately against temperance. many ] So many, as the like hath not been heard of in any other. This was directly contrary to the law given, in foecial to kings of Ifrael, Deut. 17.17. firange women Such as were not Ifraelites, but of other nations, out of the covenant; by law forbidden. See together with the daughter of Pharaoh] Or, besides. He was not content with her that had been long his wife. See women of the Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Zidonians and Hittites. 1 These were the nations round about him. Under these others also may be comprized.

V. 2. Of the nations, concerning which the Lord had faid unto V. 2. Of the nations concerning which the Lord had faid units the children of fifted! Exod. 3, a. 1.6. Deut. 7, 3. 10th. 23, 7. a. The children of firstel were a peculiar treasure unto God, above lall people, (Exod. 19, 5,) therefore the Lord would not have them mixt with other nations. Marriage with other nations then those that are mentioned in the former verse, were forbidanother, to engender one of another. The Greeks file this den to the Ifraelites: therefore there must needs be a Synechdoche in that account.

Te shall not go in unto them, neither shall they come in to you] Exod. 34. 16. The parases of going in to, and coming in to, are modest marriage phrases, Gen. 6.4. & 38. 2. 18.

for surely they will turn away your heart] It is violent lust that puts men on to affect women against law, and it makes them putes their living living of pace, remains and that which was puts fine on to affect women against law, and it means them for done on them, as they care not to adventure body and for done on them, as they care not to adventure body and for them fuggles for them, logs for in'drawing others to their idols, Numb. 25.1,2. Solomon clave unto thefe in love. ] He clave unto them moft inordinately and immoderately; and the love here mentioned was filthy luft.

V. 3. And he had feven hundred wives ] These he folemnly princeses] Such were some of them before he married them, as Pharaohs daughter : others he made fuch. and three hundred concubines] These were neither lawful wives, nor plain whores: but in a kinde of middle condition, over-plus, they were to be fuch as might be in a readings, when any of the other were out of repair.

They were not wives because they were not folemuly married;
nor endowed with dowry or joynter: nor had their children any when any of the outer were out of repair.

whom belighed in the citize from the interil 2 See ch. 9, 19. and with the lying at Jenuldem. J. He ordered that fome of them floudd be in his own court or neer it.

V. 17. And the lying made filter J. Hels, gave, Solomon gave wives, as Gen. 25, 1, 6, 1 Chron. 1, 32. Gen. 30, 4. & 35, 12. filver fo freely and liberally, as if he had accounted filver no Judg. 19.1. Concubines therefore were a kinde of wives; more worth then flonte; yea, he caufed others fo to efteem but in an inferiour degree. See the notes on Judg. 19. 1. 2. & on Gen 22. 24. & 30.4. It is probable, in regard of the feven hundred wives and three hundred Concubines here mentioned, that Solomon dwelt with many of them, as Ahashueroth did with many of the maidens that went in to him, flee came in to the king no more, except the king delighted in her, Efth. 2.14.

and his wives turned away his heart. ] It appears that his wives were more bold and prevalent with him, then his concubines, who were of an inferiour rank. His wives turned his hear from the Lord, to their idols, v. 4.

V. 4. And it came to pafe when Solomon was old | He was (as by circumstances it may be gathered) betwint fifty and threefcore veers old. Take him to be about twenty when he began to reign, (for he then had a fon of a yeer old, chap, 14.21.) he had reigned more then three yeers before he began to build, (chap.6,1.) He was twenty yeers in building his great works, ch. 9.10. These summed up, make forty three. Some years must be added to all these, for spreading his same throughout the world; and for the queen of Sheba's, and other kings only in the bill. He means the mount of Olives, a Sam.13.30, coming to him to hear his widdomand for the departing from This is fitled the mount of corruption (a Kings 29.13.) becoming to him to hear his widdomand for the departing from him; and for his continuing in the fr-vices of the temple; yea, and for gathering together at houdand wives and consultines; and for that bioleheck, they took to unraway his hear: Howfoever, this circumflance of his old age, may be feet to extenuate his fin, in regard of the wedness which old age brings upon a man; yet if circumflances be compared to the characteristic beautiful and the characteristi which old age brings upon a man; yet if circumflances be duly wayed, it dorh more aggravate the fame: For if old age weakned him, his luft was not fo ftrong, nor the inward remptation fo violent, as to make him hunt after formany women as he did: But his age was not fo great as to weaken him; for he was not fixty yeer old: besides, the elder he was, the wifer he should have been, Job 32.7. And fure it is, that he had thereby the greater experience of Gods goodness to him. So as his age is an aggravation of his

that his wives turned away his heart after other gods. I See verf.z.

and his beart was not perfect with the Lord his God, ] Of a perfeet heart, see chap. 8.61. His heart is perfect with the Lord, who doth cleave wholly and onely to the Lord: So did not the Lord. See Exod.4.14. 2 Sam.6.7. 1 Chron.21.7. Solomon, who clave to fo many wives, and concubines, worf .

us was the beart of David his father.] See chap. 3. 14. and 9. 4. David did indeed commit many grofs fins, 2 Sam.12.
9. But yet he never yielded to any idolatry, but kept the worship and service of the Lord, pure all his days. This is here added, to flew that fiverying from the approved pattern of a pious parent, is a great aggravation of a childes wicked-

V. 5. For Solomon went after Afharoth, ] 2 Kings 23.13.
Athtaroth, being a word of the feminine gender, is by most taken for the godel's Venus. And because there were fundry forts of idols thled Venus, the plural number is oft used, as Ashtaroth, Judges 2, 13. As Baalim is taken for all maner of gods; fo may Ashtaroth for all maner of godesies. In this gods; to may anterious for all maner or godenes. In tims large extent are these two words oft joyned together, as Judg. 10.6. I Sam. 7.4. and 12.10. The Hebrew notation implyeth, That this idol was set out in the shape of a steep, fee more on Judg. 2.13.

the godesi of the Zidonians, ] Every nation had their own

35. According to the notation of the Hebrew word, Molech fignifieth a king; and by the heathen he was accounted one of the chief of their Idols. Most think him to be Saturn. Such idols were Adramelech and Anamelech, 2 King. 17.3. the abomination] This idol as other idols (v. 7.) was abominable; yet among other idols, this was themore abomina-ble, by reason of sacrificing children to it.

of the Amerites.] The Hebrew and other translations read

Ammonites, fee v.7, 33.

V. 6. And Solomon did coil in the fight of the Lord, This he did many ways: First, in doting on so many wives and concubines: Secondly, in marrying idolatrous firangers: Thirdly, in fuffering them to practile their idolatry; Fourthly, in appointing places for their idols : Fifthly, in conforming himself to their desires. See chap. 14. 22. and and went not fully after the Lord, ] Heb. fulfilled not after the his worthip and fervice, as Josh, 2 Chron. 24, 17, 18, and mic which God made with David, 2 Sam. 7, 16. Such an eth, that lifth a foot of prace practical 1.1. eth, that fuch a root of grace remained in him, as brought him to repentance. No word in this history doth expressly David, but of Gods promise made to David; and of Davids manifest an utter forsaking of the Lord, or a final apostasie. He brought no idols into Gods houle, but he observed Gods ordinances. His heart is said to turn after other gods (v.z.) but I wi in that he suffered his wives to worthip them; and suffered temples and altars to be erected for them : And herein Solomon went not fully after the Lord, mitted fuch to be built. Of an high place, fee chapter for Chem ofh, ] This idol is taken for Bacchus, and is faid to be worthiped in fecret and dark places, as Ezek. 8.12. the abomination of Most ] Sec Num. 21. 29. Jere. 48. 13.

Sce v. 5.

V. 8. And likewise did be for his strange wives All his Idolatrous wives, when they faw how he had gratified fome, folicited him to do the like for them, Floodgates of fin being opened for some, make all to rush and press after.

which burnt incense and facrificed to their Gods Idolaters yeild that to their idols which is due to the Lord. For incense and facrifice were then due to the Lord, Exod. 3.18. & 30.8. Of incense, see chap.25.9. Of sacrifices, see chap. 8.

V. 9. And the Lord was angry with Soletomon] Gods anger is oft incenfed against his own children for their sin. Solo-mon was also called #edediab(2 Sam. 12.25.) that is, beloved of because his heart was turned) This is made the ground of his great fin; for when the heart difefteemeth God, liberry will be taken for any fin. from the Lord God of Ifrael | See chap. 8. 15.

robich had appeared unto him twice] chap. 3. 5. & 9.2. The manner of Gods appearing unto him, which was extraordinary, was an evidence of Gods great favour to him, and of much honour done to him. In these respects this is a great aggravation of his backfilding.
V. 10. And had commanded him concerning this thing, that he Should not go after other Gods ] chap. 6.12. and 9.6. To violate express particular commandements, is a great aggravation. Gen.2,17.

but be kept not that which the Lord commanded | Sec 2 Sam

V. 11. Wherefore the Lord faid unto Solomon | God here declares the equity of his proceedings against Solomon. for as much as this is done of thee] Heb.is with thee. Mans own transgressions pull Gods judgments on him.

and thou haft not kept my covenant and my statutes which I have gods, whom they especially worshiped; and the Zidonians commanded thee ] Of statutes, see ch. 6.12. A covenant, when gods, whom they especially worthiped; and the Zidonian's tomandatibre! Of statutes, tee ch. 6.12. A covenant, when those Altatroth for their godes, and worthiped her above all. They were also worthippeds of Baal, chap.16.31.

and after étition! This idol is stilled Modech, (vect. 7.)

It is probable that this was the idol to which children were farcificed. See the notes on Levis.18.11. & 20. 2. Jerc.32.

According to the action of the Libergourus of Modech with the Control of the C ordaineththem; those have respect to his good with whom

I will fure'y rend 1 Heb. v. nding I will rend. See ch. 8. the hingdom ] He means the greatest part of the kingdom, from thee] Though this judgment were not executed while Solomon lived, yet because he was the cause of it, and it was done in his fons time, it was faid to be rent from

I will give it] It was done by the rebellion of the Ifraelites, yet God ordered it fo. See ch. 12, 24. to thy [crvant] He means Jeroboam. See v. 26. It aggra-vates the judgement, that a fervant was preferred before the V. 12. Notwithstanding in thy dayes I will not do it] This

s an allay of the judgement, and a mixture of mercy there. with. So 2 King. 20, 19. See chap. 21, 29.

This therefore is not to be taken of any worth or merir in care and conscience in observing the condition annexed thereunto.

but I will rend is out of the hand of thy fon. ] A judgement on a childe, being occasioned by the fathers sin, is a judgment on the father; the son which he here means, was Rehoboum, ch.12.16,17. We read not of any other fon that Solomon and the property of the proper many wives, ch. 14. v. 21. See Hof.4.10.

V. 13. Howbeit, I will not rend away all the hingdom] This is another point of mitigation. See v. 12.

but I will give one wibe to thy for ] He meaneth especially Juthe domination of Mad 1 Sec Num. 31. 29, Jore. 48. 31.

If it be dojected, that Chenoth is fail to be the gol of the Ammonites? Judg, 11. 24. I answer, That neighboring countries all downship of the order of the countries of the working locations of the countries of the working locations of the plants as lay within Juda's, Journal of the countries and the countries and of the countries and of the countries and the countries and of the countries and the countries and the countries and the countries and the countries are considered in the countries are considered in the countries and the countries are considered in the countries are considere but were dispersed among the other tribes, Deut. 18.1.

John 13,14,33. Some take this one tribe for Benjamin added; of Hadads grateful and comely carriage towards Pharaoli. to Judah : and because their chief fervice was in the temple, they left their cities in the other tribes, and came to Jerusa-

tary terr their cities in the other tribes, and came to Jerus-lem, 2 Choo. 11. 13,14.

Jer Devid my fevant fake] See verf. 12. and ch. 3.6.

and for Fernfalems, fake; For there was a special promise made to Jerusalem, see v. 36. 2 Chron. 6.6.

which I have chosen] See chap. 8. 44. Of Jerusalem, see

V. 14. And the Lord stirred up | Some instances of Gods anger, mentioned v. 9. are here in order fee down. Herein, though Solomons enemies had their own ends, and fought to revenge their own quartel, yet God used them as his instruments of justice, to punish Solomons revolt, Ifai, 10.5,6. See

V. 21. And when Hadad bean adversary unto Solomon He was such an one as would not fubmit himfelf to Solomon, nor pay tribute, 2s others, 2 King. 8, 20. but did much milchief to Ifiael, v. 25.

Halad] There was a former king of Edom of this name, Gen. 26.25 the Edomite? The Edomites were the posterity of Esau. called alfo Edom, Gen. 25, 20. & 36. O. As Elau himself had an implacable hatted against Jacob his brother, Gen. 27, 41. So the Edomites, generation after generation against the Ifrae-Lites. Amos I II.

be was of the kings feed in Edom. ] He was one of the kings fons; and in probability, the kings onely fon and heir furvi-ving. See v. 17.

V. 15. For it came to pass The particular circumstances following are not registred in that history of David which is in the facred feripture ; yet are they to be received as an undoubted truth, because they are here mentioned. when David was in Edon | This hath relation to that brief ftory of fubduing Edom, which is fet down, 2 Sam. 8. 14. and Foab the Captain of the hoft | See 1 Cpro. 11.6.

was gon up to bury the flain | Such of the Ifraclites, as were flain in the battel, or at the fiege, may be here mentioned; or in respect to the princes, and other chief persons of the Edemites he might afford them burial, as 2 King. 9.34. or for avoiding of noifom favours, he might cause all the flain to be buried, of what rank or degree foever, as Ezek. 39. 11.

after he had (mitten every male in Edom ] He means especially fuch as were taken in the city that had been befieged, because they would not yield to reasonable conditions of peace, Deut.

V. 16. For fix moneths did Josh remain there with all Ifrael, until he had cut off every male in Edom. ] These six moneths must be accounted from Joabs first setting on the Edomites, till his full conquest of them.

V. 17. That Hadad fled] This depends on the first clause of vers. 100 thus, It came to pass that Hadad sled, &c. He and certain Edomites These made an escape, and so sled together as 1 Sam. 30.17. Jer.41.15.

of his fathers jeroants with him. These were of the kings court, and waited on the king, and in their grateful respect to him reach the king. And in their grateful respect to him reach the king.

him, took the kings fon with them.

to go into Egypt ] Egypt was an aucient kingdom, and a fafe place, thither they therefore went for fhelter. See v.40. Hadad being yet a little child. ] It is supposed that he was counted a little child, especially to run so great a bazard. See

Gen. 44,20. V. 18. And they arose out of Stidian This phrase sheweth, that they first fled to Midian, and there abode some time. Midian bordered upon Edom, Numb, 22.4.

and came to Parau ] Paran is betwixt Midian and Egypt, Gen.14.6. & 21.21.

and they took men with them out of Paran This they did that | dad. the kings fon might come the better attended, and fo get the more respect in Egypt.

intended to come unto, v. 17. unto Pharaob king of Egypt ] See v. 40.

which gave him an house | Fit for himself and his followers, that they might have a place to rest in.

and appointed him victuals] For the sustenance of them all, them; like as Hadad did. and that from time to time.

and gave him land That he might have yeerly revenues for all needful expences. These phrases shew that Pharaoh curte-at enmity with Israel. oully entertained him, and afforded unto him all things fit for prefent and future maintenance, and for their abode with doth diftinguish him from Jeroboam the son of Goash, 2 King.

V. 19. And Hadad found great favour in the fight of Pharaoh] This hath relation to the continuance of Pharaohs good respect so that he gave him to wife the fifter of his own wife, ] Thus the king of Egypt made affinity with birty, which giveth evidence of Paraobs holpital and gracious dipolition; and allo solomous fervior J One of his chief officers and councilors being the fifter of Tabrenes the Queen] This is an express exposition of the former sentence, for Tabrenes the Queen was wife to Pharach.

V. 20. And the lifter of Tabpenes bare him Genubah bis fon? This is noted as a continuance, or fuccession of such as should be adversaries to Solomon and his race.

whom Tabpenes weaned in Pharaohs bouse] This implyeth that though the were a princefs, yet the gave fuck to her child, and Genubah was in Pharachs houlkold, among the fons of Pha-740b] He was trained up in the kings court, and had fuch e-

V. 21. And when Hadad heard in Egypt, that David slept with bis sathers, and that food the captain of the bost was dead] The very names of David and Joab were a terrour to the Edomites, but when Hadad heard of their death, he conceived some hope of freeing their nation from their bondage under the king of

Hadad faid to Pharash, let me depart] Heb. fend me away, that I may go to mine own country] Though he found good entertainment in Egypt, yet his minde was fer upon the freedom of his countrey; which could not be but by doing fome annovance to Ifrael

V. 22. Then Pharaob [aid unto bim] Pharaoh was not weary of giving him entertainment, but would have continued him still with him. It is probable, that Pharach was ignorant of Hadads end in feetking to depart, but what haft thou lacked with me, that behold thou feekeft to go to thine own country] Hereby Pharach implyeth, that if Hadad had wanted any thing that Egypt could have afforded him, his want should have been supplied. This much amplifieth his courtesse and bounty.

and he answered, Nothing Heb, not. Hereby Hadad sheweth, that it was not any discontent that he found in Egypt, that moved him to leave it.

Howbeit, let me go in any wife. 7 Heb. letting go let me go. See ch. 8.13. Nothing could detain him from profecuting his purpose of freeing his countrey. What at first he could not eff. ct, was in time brought to pass. Hadad layd the foundation of Edoms utter revolt from Ifrael, 2 King. 8.20,22. Hereby If it alls prophecie (Gen. 27.40.) was accomplified, V. 23. And God stirred him up another adversary] See vers.

God can ftir up many to execute his judgements.

Rezon, the fon of Eliadah Long after this one Rezin, a king of Syria, did much mischief to Judah, 2 King. 16:5.&c. It may be that that Rezin descended from this Rezon. which fled from his lord Hadadezer king of Zobah When Re-on faw that his mafter Hadadezer was like to be utterly overthrown, David having gotten the better of him, (2 Sam. 8, 3,4. & 10.18.) he fled and left his mafter. The title of Pfalm. 60. hath relation to that conquest which David by Joab had over Hadadezer. Of this title Hadadezer, see ch. 15.18.

V. 24. And he gathered men unto him, and became captain over a band when David flew them of Zobah] Rezon gathered together fuch as were put to flight in that battel; and in time got fuch an army together as might be able to frand against Ifrael, and to annoy them.

and they went to Damaseus Damaseus was a royal city in about twelve years old, in which respect he might well be ac- Syria, Isai. 7.8. Here David had pur a garrison, 2 Sam.

and dwelt therein ] They thrust out Davids garrison, and took possession themselves.

and reigned in Damascus] They whom Rezon had gathered gether, established him king in Damascus-

V. 25. And he was an adversary to Ifrael ] As Hadad had been, v. 14,&c. It is supposed that he was stirred up by Ha-all the dayes of Solomon | He ever did bear ill will to Ifrael; but most manifested the same after Solomons Apostacy : For and they came to Egypt ] This was the place which they first | till then Solomon had no adversary that shewed himself, chap.

> befide the mischief that Hadad did | See v. 14, &c. and he abhorred Ifrael In his heart he hated Ifrael, and took all occasions of doing what mischief he could against and reigned over Syria | Heb, Aram. This was that country whereof Damascus was the chief city, and which was alwaies

V. 26. And Feroboam the fon of Nebat ] 2 Chr. 13.6. This an Ephratbite Of the tribe of Ephraim, ch. 12. 25. Elkanah was fo called (though he were a Levite) because he dwelt in Ephraim, 1 Sam. 1. 1.

of Zereda] This was in the tribe of Ephraim. It is taken to being by Solonion deputed to some select imployment. See v. bid disk bimself with a new garment. This he did to show 11. & ch. 9.22. The judgment against Solomon was the greating that, though the Kingdom were as a new garment, fresh and zer, in that fuch an one, even his fervant, was againft him, and not frangers only. See v. 12.

whose mothers name was Zervah a widow.woman ] This is mored to there, and women are most likely to put an even he lift up his hand against the King He did that which offended the King, and made the King suspect his loyalty. But this phrase, setting out plain rebellion (as 2 Sam. ch. 20. v. 21.) may bave relation to that which is noted, ch. 12. 12. Scc.

V. 30. And Abijah caught the new gament that was one bin]

V. 27. And this was the cause that he lift up his hand against the King ] This was one cause. Another is rendred v. 40.

the king | This was one caute. Another is rendred v. 40.

Sciomen built Millo] Sec ch. 9.15.

and repirted | Heb. toled, or, made up.

the breaches of the city of David his futher | These might be the breaches which were made in the affault against Zion , whilest it was held by the Jebusites , 2 Sam. ch. 5. ver. 6.7. Some dilapidations might remain therein till Solomons

V. 28. And the man Feroboam was a mighty man of valour ] He was in this respect the more fit to be the head of a facti-

And Solomon feeing the young man It appears that Solomon oft went out to his works, and observed the difference or floathfulness of those whom he fet on work, which was one reason of his bringing his great works to such perfection as he did. For the eye of the master makes the horse fat.

that he was industrious] Heb. did work. It appears that Jemain www. maniprioria j rico, ata work, it appears that jeroboam at first was imployed in laborious fervices. He being faithful therein, and diligent, was preferred to a place of trutt and charge over others. For jeroboam being imployed in and charge over oners. For Jeroboam being imployed in those great works about building Millo, and repairing Zion while he was a young man, King Solomon took special notice of his wir, flrength, industry, and other commendable parts, and prefer'd him. Hercupon this youth waxed infolent, and conceived high thoughts of himfelf, and was ready to enterprize fach attempts as opportunity should afford. Solomon had good reason upon that which he saw in him, to prefer him. It was just, equal, and commendable so to do. It was Jeroboams abule of preferment that occasioned the milchief which followed thereupon. Besides herein there was a secret work of divine providence which Solomon did not discern. Thus we may fee why the building of Millo and repairing Zion, are brought in as a cause, or rather an occasion of Jeroboams lifting up his hand against the King.

be made him ruler] Thus did Solomon ignorantly advance Teroboam to his own and his posterities great dammage. Jeroboam being in place of authority over many people, might the more easily hear the complaints of people, and more readily draw multitudes after him, over all the charge] Heb. buyden, Jeroboam had a charge about gathering in taxes which were laid upon subjects, which they found and felt to be an heavy burden unto them, chap.

of the house of foseph] Under Joseph he comprize h two tribes, namely, Ephraim and Manaffeh. It is probable that Solomon, to maintain the state of his seven hundred wives, and three hundred concubines, laid great taxes on his people, which made them complain; and that Jeroboam upon their complaint, expostulated the case with the King, and that Solo-mon thereupon cycl Jeroboam, as Sauleyed David, 1 Sam.

18. 9.
V. 29. And it came to pass Here another cause of Jeroboams high thoughts against the King, and of the Kings jealousie over Jeroboam, is fet down, See v. 27.

at that time when Jeroboam went out of Ferufalem ] Divine at two time wound personan treate one of personant plants of the providence for odererch matters, as they followed the form of the portunely for the accomplishment of Gods purpole, 1 Sam. 9.

but I will make bin Princeall bit date! For Solomon had his portunes to the accompanion to Sous parposes 14415 ch. 13-24. Gen. 37-25. that the Prophet Abijah The function of Ahijah is here fet down, to diffinguish him from other Ahijah 3 as from the Prieff, 1 Sam. 14.3. from the Levite, 1 Chr. 16.20. from the Scribes, ch. 4. 3. and from Baasha's father, ch. 15. 27, This is he, who with some owners, penned the acts of Solomon, found him inthe may ] In that God fent this Prophet on his errand, the Prophet may well be faid to finde Jeroboam. For give : unto thee ] See the accomplishment hereof, chap. 12.

2 Chr. 9.19. the Shilonite] He is so called, because he dwelt in Shiloh, ch. 14. 2. See ch. 2. 27.

the went to feek him. See ch. 2.1.8,30.

and he] The Propher Abijah was he that had put on a new garment; for he might more boldly rend his own garment then anothers: and he himself, having a charge from God to flrong, yet it should be rent.

and they two were alone inthe field This was so done, that this fast might not be too much divulged, 1 Sam. 9.27. 2 King.

He haftily pul'd it off from his own body.

ret than you are to rroum as own booy, and remail This he did for a fign, to make Jeroboam the more comidently believe, that what he faid, should come to pais. So [faith, 20.2, Ext. 4.1, 28. This act of the Prophet could not but affonish Jeroboam, and make him attentively.

an troelve picces ] According to the number of the tribes of Ifrael, which were twelve, chap. 18. ver. 31. Exod. ch. 24.

V. 31. And he faid to Feroboam ] In this verse the Propher plainly and expressly declareth the meaning of the figu. take thee ten pieces ] The Prophet makes Jeroboam a party in this fign, to ftir him up the more ferioufly to ponder it, and the more confidently to believe ir. for the faith the Lord ] This shews the warrant of his mefbehold ] His message was strange and remarkable : So ch. 13. 2. & 14. 10.

God of Ifrail] See ch. 8. 15.

3.2. & 14. 10.

I will] See ch. 12. 15. & 2 Sam. 12.12.

vent the [Kingdom] Violently take it away, and fever it afundable the state in der. It was Jeroboam with the people of Ifrael that did inftrumentally and immediately rend the Kingdom of Ifrael from Solomons fon: But because it was purposed and ordered by God, God assumes it to himself, I Sam. chap. 15.

out of the hand of Solomon] See v. 11. and will give ten tribes to thee] God proportioneth out to every one what and how much he shall have, Deut. 2. 5, 9,19, Jud. 11. 21.&c.

V. 32. But he shall have ] This was verified in and upon Solomons fon. As that which was taken from Rehoboam, was faid to be taken from Solomon, v. 21. So that which Solomons fon retained, Solomon is faid to retain : For a father lives in his fon one tribe for my servant Davids sake, and for Ferusalems sake, the city which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel ] See

V. 13.
V. 33. Becaufeihst the J. Not only Solomon alone, but many also of the people with him forlook the Lord. For people are ready to follow their Governours, ch. 12.30. 2 Chr.

24.18. 8 33.9.
have for faken me! This intends as much as was implyed unWenir nat fully after the Lord, ver. 6. His der these phrases, Went not fully after the Lord, ver. 6. His heart was turned from the Lord, vers. 9. See chapter 18.

and have worshipped Ashteroth the goddesse of the Zidoniars] Chemosh the god of the Mothites] See v.7.

and Milcom the god of the children of Ammon] See v. y. and have not walked in my wayes] See ch. 3.14.

to do that which is right in mane eyes ] That is , to do that which is warranted by Gods Word, and that uprightly, as before him who e eyes are every where (Prov. 15.3.) and difcern all things, even the thoughts of the heart. See ch. 15.5. and

and to keep my flatutes and my judgments ] See chap.2.

as did David his father] See v. 4. V. 34. Howbest I will not take] See v. 12.

the whole Kingdom out of his hands of Or, any of the King-dom. No part thereof was taken from Solomon, See a like Kingdom continued to him as long as he lived. for David my fervants fate] Sec v. 12.

whom I chofe ] I Sam. chap. 13. verf. 14. and chap. 15 because he keps my commandements and my statutes ] See chap. 2.3. This is not alledged as a proper procuring and meritorious cause, but as an accomplishment of that condition which God prescribed for an evidence of his good plea-

V. 3 c. But I will take the Kingdom out of his fons hand, and even ten triber ] See v. 34.

V. 16 And unto bis fon will I give one tribe | See v. 12. that David my servant may have a light ] Heb. lamp of do what he did , might purposely for that end put on a new canile. By this Metaphor he understands a royal glory in a fuccessour; that, as a light, may thine before his people, and accomplished.

Chap. xij.

before me] See I Chron. 17.24. in ferufalem, the city which I have chofen ,to put my name there] In the God appointed Jerussian to be the place where his Temple should be (2 Chr. 3, 1 Mes. 1900ane that this Sh shak was brother to Solomons wife, and son and her to Branch their Temple should be (2 Chr. 3, 1 Mes. 26.6 Pl. 68. 39. & 132. 1 faster, (1 King. 3, 1). But he might be ignorant of the case 13, 14. & 135.1.1) God is said to choose it, to put his name between Solomon and Jeroboam, and incommon countries there. See the notes on ch. 8. 16, 44. and on 2 Chr. 6. 6.

there, one the more on this, and the fall raise according to Of Jerufalem, fee ch. 3.15.

V. 37. And I will sukerbee, and thou fools raise according to all that the food defined J. Hereby he means that Jeroboam should be a funciourn King, and under no superior on earth: so as he might do and command what himself deand fast be King over Ifrael] Ifrael is here taken for the ten tribes diffinguished from Judah and Benjamin. V. 38. And is fall be if thou] God uleth to confer honour N. 38. And it post per provided the processor in the control industrial and other bleffings upon conditions; which are duties to be observed by them, who defire comfortably to enjoy those bleffings, and to have them continued to their posterity, Exod. 19.

will hearken unto all that I command thee ] Deut, chap. 15 and wilt walk in my wayes] See ch. 3. 14. and do that is right in my fight ] See v. 33.

to keep my statutes and my commandements ] See ch. 2. v. 3. as David my (ervant did ) See verse 4. he doth the rather put Jeroboam in minde of Davids pattern, because David used no indirect means to come to the Kingdom, though it were promised unto him in Sauls time. See 1 Sam. ch. 26.

and build thee a sure bouse ] He means hereby a durable continuance of a flock or pollerity to David. See ch. 9.5. 1 Sam.

over all the fixed of God everlatingly, Luk. 3,313. Thus did Joh. 13,1. 5 God promises to be his father, 2 Sun. 7,14. God make Davids boule fur-indeed. It pleased the Lord to Bod and Everlation of the fixed with fixed bound to the fixed the Lord to Bod make Davids boule fur-indeed. It pleased the Lord to Bod and to the fixed the Lord to Bod and the fixed bound to the fixed bound to the fixed bound to the fixed bod also promises that his mercy shall not depart away from tend this gractous menage mixed with aira precious profines to fuch an one as Jeroboam was; 1. Indefinitely, to fine his own gracious disposition to children of men. 2. To allure him to whom it was sent unto obedience.

3. To julifie himfelf in inflicting judgments. 4. To warn others to whom in special like promises might be made. 5. To aggravate the condemnation of the rebellious.

condemnation of the revenious.

as will give Ifrael unto thee] See v. 37.

V. 39. And I will for the? For this, or by this division of the tribes, and the cause thereof, which was colomons idolaaffill the feed of David Th. t. is, moleft, vex, and lay judg-ments upon the posterity of David. For after this division, there were perpetual wars betwire Judah and Israel, chap. 14-30. & chap. 15. v. 16. 2 King. ch. 14. 11, &c. 2 Chr. 2816, but not for ever | For fometimes there were good Kings of the posterity of David, who prospered very we l. Besides, though the posterity of David were carried into captivity, yet were they ag in brought out of the same. And finally, the Messiah, who was of the seed of David, still continues to reign most gloriously, and so shall for ever. Luk, chap. 1.

v. 33. V. 40. Sol mon fought therefore to kill Feroboam ] For he discerned Jeroboams stout stomack; and it may be , some fecret conspiracies of his : and this inference sheweth, that Solomon heard of Ahi ah's meffage to Jeroboam : For though Ahijah concealed it from all but Jeroboam, yet might Jeroboam make it known; partly thorow pride, in that he thould be fo highly advanced; and partly thorow policy, to draw peoples hearts to him, and to make a no hill feroboam] Kings cannot endure corrivals, 1 Sam. 20.

31. But Solomon, though otherwife a wife man, herein had but a foolish conceit of crofling the determinate and revealed purpose of God, Prov. 21.39. and feroboam arole] This word , arole, implyeth diligence and force, Gen. chap. 24. ver. 10. Judg. ch. 13. 11. 1 Sam.

and fled I Fear of life makes men shift for themselves, Exod. chap. 2. ver. 15. 1 Sam. chap. 19. v. 12. 1 King. 19.3 into Egypt] See v. 17.

govern them, th. 15.4. 2 Sam. 21.17. 2 King. 8.19. Pfal. 132. | unio Shithak King of Egys ] This was that Kings proper and overn them, ch.15.4. 2 Sam.21.17. 2 King. 8.19. 2 lal. 132.

7

**Admitter** | See ch. 8.13.* In the Melliah this is most properly kings of Egypt, (fee ch. 2.30) particular persons, being kings of Egypt, that other tules added to Phazaoh, forther mel. See t Chron. 17.14. Necho, (Jer. 46 2.) It is probable that this 5h shak was brother to Solomons wife, and fon and herr to Pharaoh their afford hospitality to Jeroboam : or , he might be offended with Solomon for taking fo many wives as he did besides his fifter: and in that respect entertain Jeroboam.

and was in Egypt antill the death of Solomon] For it was exprefly told him, that Solomon should be Prince all the dayes of his life, v. 24. Of Jeroboams return out of Egypt, See ch.

V. 41. And the reft of the acts ] Or, words ; or, things. of Solomon Though Solomon were a wife man, yet the Holy Ghoft thought it not meet to fet down all Solomons acts in facred Scripture, See Job 21.25. See ch.14.19. Among other memorable acts of Solomon, his repentance is omitted in this memorable acts or solomongus repentance is omitted in this biftory; whence some infer, that he repented not at all, but dyed in his sin, as Saul, I Cht. 10.13. But there is even in this particular an express difference put betwirt Solomon and Saul, 2 Sam. 7.15. There is such an apparent evidence of Solomons publick repentance in the Book called Ecclefiaftes, as the Holy Ghoft thought it not necessary to make any other menti-Holy choict mought it not recently to make any dust method on thereof. To prove the point, that solomon repented, let thefe reasons be well weighed; r. Solomon was one of the natural progenitors of Christ, from whom in a strait course t (which is called the right line). Christ descended. Now all lutch progenitors of Christ are accounted elect persons. These are in order fet down, Luk. 3.23. &c. Indeed in Matth.1. are in order set dovin, 10st, 3-33. Sc. indeed in Matthirth that I mill be with the I This phrase imports an effectal prefunce of God with one, to protect, direct, affilt, and prefunce of God with one, to protect, direct, affilt, and every way blefs him, Drun, 31. 8. Jolla, 1. 5. Heb.ch. 13. Christ defecteded from them, as a king of lirael, not as a fon of man. 2. Solomon penned certain books of facred Scripture, as Prov. Eccl. Cant. And all fuch were holy men of God. 2 Per. 1. 21. 3. The subject matter of Ecclesastes sheweth, that it was penned by Solomon after his fall; and sayoureth of 2-31. 2 oans 7-10.

[50 2014] 2 Sam. 7-17-18-19. David and Solomon his for were all their days elibbilized on their throat lomon his for were all their days elibbilized on their throat lore rall the ribes, and their policity over Judah , and Chrift [caff off by God. For whom God loves, he lowes to the end, bim, 2 Sam 7. 15. Some probable conjectures may be made, that Solomon before this had forsaken his id olatrous courses, and restrained his wives from theirs, and abated his wickedand retrained his wives from users, and aboved his writed-nefs thereabout, in that the people who for the melifeles to de-fame his government, complained of no fuch matter to Reho-boam, ch. 12. 4, &C. Solomon was an effecial type of Chrift, and that in fundry refrects; as first, In his royal dignity, ch. 10. 55, &C.h. 8.29, &C. Pála. 6. Secondly, In the Prefents of all nations brought to him, Pfal. 72. 10. Thirdly, In his Prophetical Function, Eccl. 1. 1. Act. 3. 22. Fourthly, In his wildom, v.3. Pifthly, In the peace which he wrought,ch. 4. 25. 1 Chr. 22. 9. Eph. 2.14.15. Sixthly in building Gods houle, ch. 6.1. 1 Chr. 3. 3, 6. Seventhly, In the relation betwirt God and him, 2 Sam. 7. 14. Heb. 1. 5. Eighthly, In the stability of his throne, 1 Chron, chap. 17. 12. Luk. 1.32, and all that he did, and his wifdom, are they not written in the book of the acts of Solomon ] He means large Records and Chronicles, which they had for the use of those times and suture ages, but were no part of Canonical Scripture, for there were other Chronicles of the affaires of Judah and Ifrael, then those that are now extant. See 2 Chr. 9.29.

V. 42. And the time Heb. dayer. Mans time being very uncertain, it may well be reckoned by dayes. See Gen. chap.

that Solomon reigned in Ferufalem over all Ifrael] In Jerufalem was the Kings throne and Palace, and there he most resided, but his dominion extended throughout all Israel. Israel is here collectively to be taken for the twelve tribes , and therefore this general particle, all, is added thereunto.

was fourty years] 2 Chr. 9.30. See v. 4. V. 43. And Solomon flept with his fathers] See ch. 2. veff.

and was buried in the city of David bie fathers ] See chap. 2.

and Reboboam Mat. 1. 7. called Roboam. bis son reigned in bis stead This son was born before Solumon succeeded David his father. tee shapter 14. verl

CHAP.

CHAP. XII:

Verf. 1. And Rebosom ] z Chr. 10. 1. The three first Kings. Saul, David, Solomon, raigned over all the twelve tribes, but Rehoboam was the first that reigned over went to Shechem] Shechem is a City in the tribe of Ephraim. which belonged to the Levites, (Joh. 20.7.) in the middeft of the land, most convenient for all the tribes to come unto. It is also called Sichem Thither Abraham first came when he entred into Canaan, Gen. 12. 6. There was Dinah defiled , entred into Canan, ven. 12. 6. I nere was Dinin genteu, Gen. 24. There Joseph was buried, John. 24. 32. Thither Johns gathered all Ifizel, Josh, ch. 24. ver. 1. There Abimelech consulted about the Kingdom, Ha. ch. 4. v. 1. Indeed Abimelech beat down the city and fowed it with falt, Judg. ch. g. vers. 45. But by this it appears, that it was built again, for all Ifrael were come to Shechem ] He means the heads and Officers of Ifrael. This was the reason why Rehoboam went to Shechem rather then to Jerusalem, because all Ifwhen to Section fature turn to generating recommends that the Section of the sect man, he might well have suspected some danger in going pretended to do over all the twelve tribes; if at lenit he would have yeelded to their conditions, v. 4.

V. 2. And it came to pass when Feroboam the sou of Nebat 1 Sec ch . 11.26.

who was yet in Egypt ] Of the cause of Jeroboams flying to and abiding in Egypt, see ch. 11. 40. Yet it appeareth by the particle, that Jeroboam continued in Egypt till this Bears 9/13) Free migret interest of solutions seath by fonce private intelligence; but afterward the people feat to him by their common confent, as v. 2.

for be was fled from the prefence of King Solomon ]

This is a brief of that which is more amply fer down, ch.

and Jerobaam dwelt in Egypt] There he abode from the time that he fled out of Israel, till Solomon was dead.

V. 3. That they fent and called him ] This is meant of a publike fending for him by the whole Congregation of Ifrael.
While Rehoboam was folemnizing his fathers funeral rites, Jerobeam had time to return to Ilrael, and to plot with his complices about the Kingdom.

and yeronom and all the Congregation of Ifical came 'and Pade to Jeroboan, Jajing, Jeroboan and all Ifical having confluted to the King, Hould you to the King, Jeroboan was the mouth of all Ifical, For he was a left middle to Congredate, and Left of Solomonic countries, and Left when Middle to the Will of his Subjects, prime Officer of Solomonic countries, and Left of the will of his Subjects, solid control of the Middle of Solomonic countries, and Left of the Will of his Subjects, solid control of the Middle of the Will of his Subjects, solid control of the Will of his Subject and Feroboam and all the Congregation of Ifrael came 'and spake Jerobam was the mount of an intere, rot he was a tary mages printed. There of Solomonsconnicle; and he fuffered in the peoples cause. He was also a man of valour, seech. 11. v. 26. 28.

1 The was also a man of valour, seech. 11. v. 26. 28.

2 The was also a man of valour, seech. 11. v. 26. 28.

V. 4. Thy father made our yoke] chap. 4. 7. A yoke properly is that whereby oxen are coupled together, and which lyes upon 13.7 their neck, as a means to draw loads after them. Service and Subjection, is oft fet out under this metaphor of a yoke, Jer.

27. 8,11, 12. Levit, 26.13.
grievous] Yokes, by reason of the heavy weight which grecows 1 toxes, oy reaton or the neavy weight which heafts draw, do oft much pinch them. Heavy burdens and hard tasks, are oft fer out by yokes, and counted grievous yokes. It appears hereby that Solomon put them to hard fervices, and also on othe laid great taxes upon them. This may have reference to that large provision was taken out of all the parts of the land, to maintain the royalty of Solomons court, (ch. 4. 7, 22, 23.) and to the great pains of multitudes of people about his buildings, and other affairs, chap. 5.18. & 22. But questionless, there were other far more grievous burdens laid on them, after bis apostacy, to maintain the royalty and idolatry of his seven men had done. nis apotacy, to maintain the 10yany and thoratty of his teven hundred wives, (all princefles) and three hundred concubines. It may be also that Hadad and Rezon (of whom chap. 11.14, 23.) raised war against him, whereby heavy burdens might be now therefore make thou the grievous fervice] This may be applyed to the labour and pains whereunto the people were purabout Solomons works and wars.

of thy father] Which thy father exacted of us, and his heavy yoke which he put upon us] This may be applyed to the taxes that were laid on them.

lighter] Or, easier. This sheweth that they resuled not all services, subjection and taxes, but onely oppressions by them. Here we fee how fedulous and folicitous they were about their civil affairs; but no care at all taken about true religion, or preventing idolatry.

and we will ferve thee] Their meaning is, that they would accept Rehoboam for their king, and be subject unto him.

V. 5. And he faid unto them, dspart ye] This he faid, to gain time for advice and counfel: which in a cafe of to great importance. was a part of prudence. Had he not preferred the arrogant advice of unexperienced young men, before the grave counsel of old and well stated States-men, it might have proved advantageous unto him.

for three dayes ] Where there are many counsellors, and the matter weighty, there needs fo much time for conferring counfels together : But the affembling of multitudes from many remote places, could hardly admit a longer time.

then come again to me] He doth not utterly refuse to answer their demand.

and the people departed] This they did, as to teffifie their willingaels to accept him for their king on good terms: fo to consult about rejecting him, in case his answer should not fatisfie their defire V. 6. And king rehoboam consulted with the old men I Such as were ancient and experienced counfellors of State; called by us, privy counsellors: and Gen 30.7. they are called elders of the land, See Job. 12.12. & 32. 7. Plal, 119. 100, See King. See Esth. chapter 1. vers 13, 14. Solomon being 2 very wise man, this standing before him could not but thinber.

1 make him King] To crown him, and to perform fuch 12 make him King] To crown him, and to perform fuch 13 make him King] To crown him, and to perform fuch
14 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
15 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
16 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
17 seep was means, when the seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means, when the seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning much windom, Prov. 13, 40. Here
18 seep was means of learning muc cause they were mature and experienced counsellours. The other , because they had been so much in Solomons company and faid, how do you advise that I may answer this people? That which followeth, sheweth, that he propounded this question, in hope that they would fatisfie his humour; but not with a resolution to follow their counsel if it beard of it] He might first hear of Solomons death by some derivate intelligence; but alterward the people sent to him by heir common consent, as v. 3.

10. Leaves that from the presence of King Solomon and the people that day I Than 13, it show with as a serious the wave that from the presence of King Solomon and the people that day I Than 13, it show with as a serious the wave that from the presence of King Solomon and the people that the p and wilt serve them, and answer them, and speak good words unto them In 2 Chr. 10 7. This phrase is thus set out, If unto them I in 2 care, 10.7. I mis present is thus let out, at thou be kinde to this people, and pleafe them, and speak good words unto them. Their meaning is, that he should do what the people required. By good words, he meaneth gentle and meek words, fuch as may feem good to them. See ch. 22.72 Sec alfo Prov. 15.1. & 25.15.

then they will be thy fervants for ever ] By fervants he means childe in understanding, though in age old enough, See 2 Chr.

and consulted with the young men] Such as were unexperienced; filled young, in opposition to the old men, v.6. that were grown up with him ] Who had been with him time after time, and fo could the better know his humour and and which flood before him] They did attend upon him, and also on other occasions gave counsel to him.

V. 9. And he faid unto them, IFhat counsel give ye ] They who like not good counsel are ready to feek for other counfel, that they may have some present to Justific their fol-that we may answer this people who have spoken to me] He sup-poseth that they would satisfie his humour more then the old [aying, make the yoke which thy father did put upon us lighter] He leaveth out this promile of the people (and we will ferve thee, verfe 4.) to make their demand from the more unreafonable.

V. 10. And they using men that were grown up with him ] See ver 8.

fade unto him, faying, the shale thou speak unto this people that spake unto thee, saying, ] They are as ready and bold to put an answer into his mouth, as if they had been the most prudent counsellors that could thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it lighter 10110 us.]

thus shalt thou say unto them, my little finger shall be thicker then my fathers loins] This is a proverbial and hyperbolical speech. By little (for the word finger is not in the Hebrew, buryet fitly supplyed) he means the least and weakest member of the Ffff 2 body. By logue, he meaneth the fide or thigh, or back, which I are the greatest and strongest parts. Hereby he implyeth, that his power and courage far surpaffed his fathers. It is a speech full of great pride, boldness, folly and falshood. He alludes to his fathers youth, when the crown was first fet on his head, (ch. 3.7.1 Chro. 22.5.) and to his own manage, ch. 14.21.

V.II. And now whereas my father did lade you with an being york] See v. 4.

I will add to your york) It is as much as if in plain terms he and faid, I will exact more taxes of you; and put you to har-der fervices, and every way more burthen you then ever my father did. O foolith king that followed fuch unadvited counsels! Was this the way to gain a mutinous people? Or ra- and of an arch-rebel, 2 Sam. 21.1. ther was it not a course to have alienated a willing people ?

my father also chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scoreions ) This also is another proverbial speech. Whips are cruel inftruments of punishing. They use to be made with hard whip cord knotted, the foon fetch blood, and tear skin and flesh. Scorpions are venemous creatures with stings in their tailes, whereby men, flung therewith, are intolerably tortured, even to death. There are also cetrain scourges of wyre, with knobs of lead, and sharp hooks or pricks at the ends of them; these are called scorpions. Some write of kinds of bryars and thorns, colled feorpions. All thefe fences of the word tend to one and the same end t they all imply, that he would handle treason them much more roughly and hardly then his sather had

V. 12. So Feroboam and all the people came to Reboboam the third day, as the king had appointed Their longing defire to know Rehoboams minde, and his affection to them, makes them to keep touch with the king, and not to fail in their attending upon him at the time fet by himfelf.

Juying, Come to me again the third day. ] Seev. 4. V. 13. And the king answered the people roughly] Heb. hard-Iv. Certainly he neither forefaw, nor feared what the iffue o exasperating a tumultuous people might be. and for look the old mens counfel that they gave him? This doth much aggravate his folly, and flews, that wilfulness and obstinacy was added thereto. So Jer. 43.4.

V. 14. And Buke to them after the counfel of the young men. [aying, ] Hearkning to flattering and unadvifed counfellors, is the ready way to ruine, 2 Chron. 12. 4,5.

My father made your yoak beauy, and I will add to your yoak, my father alfo chaftifed you with whips, but I will chaftife you with fortions. ] Because the counsel of the young men pleased him, though it were very pernicious, yet he holds close to the very words thereof. Compare this answer of the king with the he fought redress, but too late. young mens counfel, ver. 11.

for the cause ] Heb. circuit, or, turning about. That is, this alteration of the flate, and turning of the greatest part of the kingdom from one to another. This hath relation to the confequence that followed upon Rehoboams answer,v. 16.

was from the Lord. This pallage or event, was ordained and ordered from the Lord. In lundry respects may this be faid to felf. be from the Lord, (as 2 Chron. 25. 20.) 1. In that the Lord withheld his foirit of wildom from Rehoboam, whereby he might have different what in probability would be the iffue, Deut. 20. 4. 2. In that the Lord gave him over to hearken to rash and evil counsellors, ch. 22,23. 3. In that he alienated the hearts of the people from Rehoboam, Judg. 9, 23.

This God did to punish Solomons idolatty, (chap. 11.11) and to discover Rehobeams folly, infolency, and cruelty, 2 Chron. 32.31. Whatfoever in fuch cases is attributed to God, is to be taken as an act of justice done by the supream and righteous Judge, thus Amos 3.6. that he might perform] God had fore-told as much, ch. 11.11.

pass what he threatned, I Sam. 15. 29.

bis faying which the Lord spake The word which Gods ministers deliver from God, is Gods word, ch. 16. 7,12. by Ahijab the Shilonite unto Feroboam the fon of Nebat. ] chap, 11.19.8c. This sheweth that God in accomplishing his word hath respect unto his fervants, that they might not be found falle witnesses, 2 King. 9.36. & 10.10.

V. 16. So when all Ifrael faw that the king hearhned not to them, the people answered the hing, saying, ] The kings over that time to this. 2. The Elders might fend for him then, fharp and rigorous aufwer, gave luch a general diffafte, as they would no longer flay to advile further thereupon; but unaniwould no integer that read to advice turner thereupon; but inaug-moully manifelt a prefent and peremptory refolution. What persion Or, what jurisdiction, or command. Saul propounds such a question, 1 Sam. 22.7.

beve we in David In Davids lineage or posterity. What good can we expect from Davids stock? Or, what right hath it to us ?

neither have we inheritance | By inheritance, they may mean fields, and vineyards, (as a Sam. 23. 7.) or, (as we fay) lands and tenements.

in the fon of Jeffe] This is a phrase of contempt, for Jeffe, the father of David, was but a private man. They manifely herein great impiety; (The Holy Ghoft ufeth this title, feffe, with much honor, as ch. 22. 18. 2 Sam. 23.1. Pfal. 72. 20. Act. 12,22, and that because he was the father of David. and in that respect the stem or root out of which Christ sprouted. In that respect the stem or root out of which Cariti sprouted, Isai. 1, 10.) and ingratitude against God, who raised David to do so much good for Israel, as he did. They learned the phrase of that king whom God rejected, x Sam. 22.7.

to your tents O Ifrael | This is a phrase of apostacy from their former government; whereby they do imply, that they would no longer depend on Davids flock; but every one look to his own houses, ver. 24. Because of old they dwelt in tents, this phrase continued to be in use among them, Deut. 5. 20.

Joth. 22.4. See v. 24. now fee thine owne house David They direct their speech to king Rehoboam, and call him David, because he descended from David; and by his own house mean Judah, that tribe whereof David was. Hereby it appears, that the heads of the tribe of Judah, did not confpire with them, nor confent to their fe Ifrael ] He means the ten tribes. See v. 20. denanted With a refolution never to subject themselves to Rehoboam or to any of his posterity.

with their tents of To their own houses or homes.
V. 17. But as for the children of Israel Israel is here put for Judah, as a Chron. 12.1. or that part of Simcon which was within the tribe of Judah is here meant. (See ch. 11. 12.) Or, fuch in the ten tribes as fet their hearts to feek the Lord. are here intended, 2 Chron. 11.16. which dwelt in the cities of Judah ] And Benjamin, See Rehoboam reigned over them ] For all they voluntarily subjected themselves to him; because the temple of the Lord was within his jurifdiction.

V. 18. Then hing Reboboam fent Adoram] Some take this man to be that Adoniram, who is mentioned, ch. 4.6. & 5. 14. because of the same office here and there mentioned. If this were the fame manihe was an ancient man, in office most part of Solomons reign, and fo more fit to appeale there, being one of the old men, mentioned, v. 6. When by woeful event, (which is the fools teacher) Rehoboam discerned his folly, who was over the tribute | By virtue of this office, Adoram V.15. Wherefore the king hardwed not into the people] He regarded not that motion which they made, yetf.14. but utterly rejected their defire of baying their heavy burdens made ding to their yoak, that is, of increasing their taxes, made them deteff him that was over the tribute.

and all Ifrael floned him with flones, that he died | This they did, without any legal proceeding, tumultuoufly and in a rage, as Act. 7. 57.78.

therefore king Rehoboam made speed Heb. strengthned himto get him up to his charist] For by this evidence of the peoples rage, he faw that there was great cause for him to look to himfeif toffect of ferufalem] For this city was in that tribe which fluck to him. He could have no fafe abiding in any of the cities of Israel. Of Jeruslem, for ch. 3.15.

V. 19. So I frael rebelled] Or, fell away. Or, dealt treachcroufly. The hebrew word, is attributed to fuch as transgress a covenant, Hof. 8.1. 2 King. 1.1. & 3.4.5.

against the house of David He means Davids royal posterity. Though this were decreed by God, and by Gods Prophet revealed before-hand, yet because they did it not on that Now to flow his truth, even in his threatnings, he bringeth to ground, but upon a rebellious diposition, their falling off is mass what he threatned. I Sam, 15, 20.

unto this day | See ch. 9.12.
V. 20. And it came to pass when all Ifrael | All Ifrael is here to be taken, as v. 1.

heard that Feroboam was come again, they fent and called bim unto the congregation ] It is faid before, v. 3. that they feat and called Jeroboam. How then are they faid to fend for him again? Answ. 1. This may have relation to that time, or and now all the congregation. 3. Jeroboam, after be faw fair way made for him to be King, he might withdraw himfelf (as Saul did, 1 Sam. 10.21.) But when the people had actu-ally caft off Rehoboam, he might return again, and so the cople fend for him the fecond time.

and made him King over all Ifrael] They actually chose him, openly proclaimed him to be King, and folemply feeled him there was none that followed the honfoof David but the tribe of | might draw away peoples hearts from him; And theremon

Judah only] See ch. 1.13.
V. 21. And when Rehobour was come to ferufalem] This was the fecureft place that he had.

he affex bled all the house of Judah with the tribe of Benjamin] Herein is verified, that that was promifed, ch. 11.13. Under all the house of Judah is comprized not only that tribe, but also all that took part with them.

an hundred and fourfeore thousand men which were Warriors ? Here is a great army luddenly raifed out of two tribes; yet his fon raifed a far greater, 2 Chr. 13.3.

to fight aga uft the house of Ifrael ] He fought by humane is fight again to noting of prices 1 set sought by nomane means to redect that which by his fathers isolatory and his own folly was forfeited and loft. But his purpose was in the second property of the seco to bring the Kingdom egain to Reboloans the fon of Solomon ]

This is an hebraifur, like that which is noted, ch.8.1.

V. 22. But the word of God ease 2 2 Che. 11. 2. Gods own Word was the meffage of true Prophers.

unto Shemajah the man of God, fajing, This title, the man of God, as the title of a true Prophet, ch. 13.1. 2 Chr. 12.5, 15. By it this Prophet is diffinguished from two falle Prophets; Likeir proper King. from Shemajah the Nebelemite, Jer. 29.24. and from Shemajah the fon of Delajah, Nehem. 5.10.

V. 23. Speak unto Rebobo on the fon of Solomon King of Judah] Gods Word must be delivered, and that unt Kings. and unto all the house of Judah and Benjamin ] See verse and to the remnant of the people, faying, ] Under this word remnant, he comprize th fuch as dwelt within those parts of the tribe of Simeon that lay within the tribe of Judah; together with the Priests, Levites, and fundry others, of other tribes, that came into Rehoboams purildiction, 2 Chr. 11. 13,16. See ch. 11.13.

V. 24. Thus faith th: Lord ] This preface showed his warrant. It was a Prophets ulual preface, to gain the better attention.

ye fhall not go up, wer fight against your breibren the children cast interference of Israel. Their neer relation, hinted in this word, brethren, is 9. 18. urged as a ground of restraint, to keep them from over-much forwardness to fight against the Israelites, so Deut. 2. 4,8, but it did not make such a war simply unlawful, See 2 Chr. 13.15. Judg. 20. 28. Sce 2 Chr. 28.8.

veturn every men to his house His meaning is, that they should be quiet, and follow every one his own affaires. What he called tents, v. 16. here he ifileth house.

for this thing is from me] It is ordered and disposed by God, they hearhened therefore to the word of the Lord ] The minde of the Lord being fo plainly made known to them, they fubmitted themselves thereto, though it were against their own minde. Sze 2 Chr. 25.10. & 28. 10.

and returned to depart This is an Hebraifm, and implyeth, that they were come from their own houses, and were affembled in arms, and prepared to fight.

according to the word of the Lord This is an other Hebraisin in redundancy. It sheweth that Gods Word much prevailed with them; and that it was the on y cause that moved them

V. 25. Then Jeroboam built Shechem in mount Ephraim and dwelt therein] Of Shechem, fee v.r. It was built before this, butnow he made it a kinde of new City,a royal City, See ch.

and went out from thence] He went to the other fide of Jordan where Penuci was, and built Penuel There had been in Penuel a firong tower Judg. 8.9, 17. Penuel was the place where Jacob wrestled Jung, 8.9, 17. Femuer was the place where Jacob Wielman with the Angel of God, Gen, 32, 30. The tower of Penuel was long before this beat down by Gideon, Judg, 8, 17. In Shechem Jeroboam made a Palace for himfelf to dwell therein. In Penuel he placed a Garrison. As Jeroboam fortified places for the firength of his Kingdom; to Rehoboam for his, 2 Chr. 11. 1,8c.

V. 26. And Jeroboam faid in his heart ] He thought and imagined fuch things as follow. See Pfal. 14. 1. That which he projects as a means to preferve his Kingdom, proveth to be the ruine thereof, ch. 15.30.

now shall the Kingdom return to the house of David] He thought ahe next verse. Behold his imall or no faith, he hath no confidence in Gods promife; for he had no care of Gods charge, ch. 15.37,38.

v. 27. If this people go up to do secrifice in the bouse of the Lord at Ferusalem To do secrifice was the most principal and proper fervice of the Temp'e, Deut. 12. 6. It is put for the whole worship of God. This usurper feared that piety to God draws them to idolatry. He might also fear that the magnificence of the Temple, and the glorious things appertaining thereunto, yea, and the Priefs making known Gods promifes to Davids house, would cause them to joyn with all the men of Judah.

then shall the heart of this people turn again unto their Lord | He was not ignorant that Gods ordinances might be a means to turn meas hearts to obedience and loyalty; especially if the Priests and Levites (the Ministers thereof) should press them upon the confeiences of those that came to the Temple ; as he had cause to think they would.

their Lord, and fo is a witness against himself and those that took part with him.

and they shall feill me] Usurpers live in continual fear, and suspect the worst.

and go again to Rehoboam King of Judah] He makes himself to be the principal cause of the Rebellion, and concludes, that if he were taken away, all might be brought to be fubject to

V. 28. Whereupon the King took counfel] Wicked men in their impious acts can take advice, and ale more heads then and made two calves] This they did in imitation of their ancient progenitors, Exod. 32.4 and those ancient Jews did so in imitation of the Egyptians, among whom they had and to infinitation of the Egyptians, among whom they had long lived; yea, and Jeroboam bimfelf having lately lived among the Egyptians, (ch. 11.40.) might thereby the rather be induced to make his idols like unto the Egyptians.

of gold Idolaters can spare their most precious metals to make their gods thereof, (Dang. 1.) supposing to honour their gods thereby : concerning which folly, fee Ita. 46.6. Jer. their gots thereby; concerning wanted rong, ice ice, quo, jet. 10, 4,8. Hof, 8, 4. Habbac, 2, 19. Act. 17, 29. They were not gilded over, but they were of maffie gold, molten, and cast into the fashion of calves, ch. 14.9. 2 King. 17. 16. Neh.

and faid unto them, it is too nuch for you to go up unto Ferusa-[lem] He pretends the peoples accommodation and ease, as a cloke to cover his diffidence and curfed policy. He would herein shew himself more prudent for the peoples good , and more merciful then God.

behol thy gods O Ifrael] He means a reprelentation of the God of Ifrael. He takes the phrase from Exod. 32.4.

which brought thee out of the land of Egypt ] Hereby he would imply, that he drew them to worthip no other God then the true God, the God of their fathers, that chofe them to be his people, and redeemed them from bondage. By this description doth the Lord God of Israel oft fer forth himself, as Exod. 20. 2. Levit. 19. 36. Ezek. 20. 5, 6. Amos 2. 10. Micah

6. 4.
V. 29. And he fet the one in Bethel Bethel was a City in the tribe of Benjamin, the uttermost coast of Ifrael, on the South, Joh. 8.22. It fignifieth, The house of God, because there God appeared to Jacob, Gen, 28, 12,19, and there they worshiped God, Gen. 12. 8. & 35. 7. But by reason of Jeroboam's impiety, the Prophet (Hof 10. 5) cals it Beth-aven. The Inhabitants of this City severed themselves from others of the tribe of Benjamin, and revolted to Jeroboam. Hereby he had the opportunity to fet up one of his calves at Bethel. This City was recovered, together with divers, others from Jeroboam, even in his time, n. Chr. 13. 19.

and the other put he in Dan ] Dan was a city (Josh 19.47.) in the utmost coast of Israel in the North. It was so called, in memory of the first father of that tribe , whose name was Dan , Judg. 18.29.

V. 30. And the thing became a fin] A most hernous sin; that which is most dishonourable to God: and of all sins causeth a divorce betwixt God and his people, being a spiritual adultery, Jer. 13.27. Ezek. 23.43. Hol 2.2.

It was also a fin whereby he drew all Ifrael from God, and made them to fin, a King, 17. 21. This therefore is put into Jeroboams file, 2 King. 10. 3 1. See the notes on ch. 13. 34. Many circumftances much aggravate this fin. I It was against that charge which God had most expresly, frequently, and more fluid the Kingdom return to the buile of Datid.] He thought that the children of lined within his Kingdom, (if fome couries were not taken to prevent it) might revole from him, and take Davids potherity for their King, as is more plainly expertified in the building of the development of the building of the b 5 He ordained Divine worship to be performed in another place, (v. 29.) at another time (v. 32.) after anothermanner (v. 28.) and by other Priefts (v.31.) then God had appointed. 6 He himself ulusped the Priests office, vers. 33. for the people went to morfhip] By offering up their facrifices,

v. 32.
bofore the one even to Dan Dan was more remote from fun-

Chap.xiii.

dry in land towns and cities of Ifrael then the Temple : yet | nate, to aggravate their fin, and juftifie Gods proceedings dry in-tand towns and cutes or anatt tuen the to the houle thinker did the Kolatrous firzelines go, rather then to the houle against them. See chap. 16.1. The two tribes, even after the first them to do good their revolt, had many prophets, chap. 18. 4, 2 King. 17. of God. Men can take more pains to do evil then to do good. To make up the full fense of this verse, thus much may be a fair Temple on an high hill, wherein were many altars, and other idolatrous monuments which use to be in high places to as this Temple was instead of many places . Mention is made of boules in the plural number, ch. 13. 32. In other places, the word boule is left out, and only high places mentioned, as chap.

and made Pricils of the lowel of the people] He means the meanest fort, ch. 13.33. These were fit enough for services of mans invention to such gods: yet this proclaimeth his impious and prophane minde : for he professed to ferve the true which were not of the four of Levi] He feared left the Levites, being instructed in the Law, should disswade the people from his idols, and perfwade them to go to the Temple in Jerusalem, v.27. His practice was against the express Law, Num.

3. 6,10. V. 32. And Feroboam ordained a feaft] For Ifrael, from their coming out of Egypt, had been accustomed to solumn and facred feasts: and people use to be much taken with feasts.
in the eight moneth on the fifteenth day of the moneth ] This moneth was a time of his own invention. None of the Lords month was a time of his own invention. Note of the Lord of the Lor like unto the feast that is in Judah] This is meant of fuch so-lemour as was used in the feasts at Jerusalem. Or in particular, it may have reference to the feast of tabernacles: at which time Solomon dedicated the temple , Chap 8.65.

and he offered upon the Altar ] Or, went up unto the Altar, namely, to that which was in Dan. v. 29.
[6 did be in Beibel] These were the two places where he set his idols, v. 29. [acrifi ing] Or, to facrifice.

unto the calves that he made | He doth that to his idols which was due only to the true God. and heplaced in Bethel] So also did he in Dan.

the Priests of the high places which he had made] Of high places, fee ch. 3.4. This phrase, Priests of the high places, diftinguifhoth them from the Lords Priefts.

V. 33. So he offered upon the Altar ] Or, went up to the which he had made in Bethel Teroboams offerings at Bethel are repeated, to flew the time and occasion of the Prophets re proving bim in the next chapter.

the fifteenth day of the eight moneth] See v. 32.
even in the moneth which he had devifed of his own heart] For God had no where enjoyned it.

and ordained a feast unto the children of Ifrael \ See ver! and he offered upon the Alter ] Jeroboam himfelf fo did, and that most presumptuously, as U zinh, 2 Chr. 26. 16. He intruded himself into the Priests office. This he did, the rather to work in his peoples minde an high efteem of his idols. and burnt incenfe] Heb. to burn incenfe. This was another part of the Priefts function, Levit. 16. 12,13.

CHAP. XIII.

Verf. 1. A Nd behold] This preface gives us to understand that a remarkable history follows.

there came a man of God ] This man of God is faid to be : prophet, v. 18. He was one inspired and fent by God: such an one as Shemajah,ch. 12.22. He had his commission from God, both for the message it self, and for confirmation thereof soon, oon not the mentage it tensum not commission and ther with miracles. Seeing the Holy Ohoff bath not experted the name of this man of God, it is too great curiofity to fearch after it. It is not probable that he should be any of them who are mentioned, 2 Chron., 2, 2 & Lz 1, 15 for Jome of them died before this Man of God; the other lived after him. He dyed beine (and wherein he delivered his mellage.

out of Judsh) To wit, one of them that detelled Jeroboams idolatry, and remained faithful with the Lord, fled to Judah, 2 Chron. 11. 16. By fending one from Judah, God thewed that his true worship was there to be found.

by the word of the Lord By Gods appointment and command. Or, with the word of the Lord.

unto Bethel ] In Bethel at that time there was a great affembly and folemnity, chap. 12.33. Though it were a place of idolaters, yet God fendeth a prophet to them, to reclaim them before they were utterly cast off; or, in case they were obsti-

and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;
and Irrobam flood by the datar to huminicasses [Or, to offer;

1 King. 9.25.

V. 2. And he cryed] With earnestness and boldness the man of God declared his Message, Ifai. 58.1.

against the altar ] Altar is here Synechdochically put for all their idolatrous fervice; for their chief worship and fervice 13.33. King. 17.32. 2 Chr. 11.15. He had other where was upon and about the altar. In this extent is this word after off the day befides Dan and Bethel, ch. 13.33. oft uled, as chap. 19. 10. 2 King. 18.22. Ilii. 19.19.

I Cor. 9.13. and [aid O altar, altar] This is an elegant and emphatical ana jana o anar, anar j 1 his is an ciegant and emphatical expedition of his mellage; as Ilai. 29.1. Thus he ordereth his speech, to aftonish the king and people the more, and to make his word be the better heeded. So Jer. 22. 29. thus [aith the Lord] See ch. 12.24.

Behold | It is a most remarkable prophecie that is here set down. For though these things were accomplished three hundred and thirty yeers after this, yet they are as punctually in their particular circumstances set down, as ifit had been a their particular circumitances let down, as littinga been a narration of things paft, rather then a prediction of things to come. Read 2 King, 12. 12. & 23.15,16,17. a childe shall be born unto the house of David] Because Jeroboam had revolted from the house of David, God makes one of that house to be an executioner of his justice on Jeroboam and Fosiab by name ] 2 King 23. 16. This sheweth that parti-cular matters are fore ordanied, and after ordered by God. See the like, Ifai. 44.28. & 45.1. Almost two hundred yeers paffed betwixt that prophecie, concerning Cyrus by name, and the accomplishment thereof.

and upon thee] This is an elegant figure called Profopopaa, whereby he speaketh to the senceless altar, as if it had understanding; to make man, who hath understanding, the more of the high places ] See chap. 3.4. that barn incenfe ] See ch. 11.8.

[ball he offer the priefts] Priefts are named to aggravate the terrour. He means by the priests, so much as was remaining of their bodies in Josiah's time, which was their bones.

into thee] The place of fin was the place of judgement, Luk. 13. I. This prophetic compared with the accomplishment thereof, 2 King. 23.16. sheweth, that priests had a common place of burial together.

and mens bones shall be burnt upon thee] This fets out the extent of the judgement. For other mens bones are here meant then priests. And this is added to terrifie others, as well as the priests. By this kinde of judgement the idolaters, priests and others, who offered facrifices of beasts to their idols, are themfelves made facrifices: And as they turned God into the image of Beafts, fo they were made as facrificed beafts. Thus judgement answereth the fin.

V. 3. And he gave a fign ] To affure them that heard him, of the truth of his prophecie, Jer. 18. 9. See Joh. 4.48. This he did the rather, because of the long time that was to pass betwixt this prediction of the judgement, and the execution there-the [ame day ] Present figns, immediatly following upon the word spoken, make the deeper impression.

[sping, This is the fign which the Lord hath spoken] In that the Lord commanded him to threaten the fign before it fell out, the Lord is faid to fitesk the fign. Predictions of things, before they fall our, by men fent from God, shew that they fall not out by chance, nor any other way, but by the Lord, Elai. 48,5.

Behold the altar shall be rent] Presently, of it felf, without any violence from another it shall cleave assunder. This was a fit fign to prefigure the abolishing of their idolatry. As the rending of the vail, (Matt. 27.51.) to fore shew the ending of the legal fervices.

and the ashes that are upon it shall be poured out ] They shall with fach violence fall out, as water poured down.

V. 4. And it came to pass, when king Icroboam heard the saying of the man of God ] That which should have most abated his patition, did most enrage it, namely, the faying of a man of God.

Of the man of God, See v. I. us the man of Goa, Seev. I.

mhich be had oryed against the alter in Benbel] Of crying against the alter, Seev. a. Of Benbel. Seev. I.

that be put forth bis band] This be did in anger to have apprehended binn: or at least to shew his eagerness in having the standers by to lay hold on him. from the altar] For he was burning incense by the altar, verl. 1.

faying, Lay hold on bim] The mischief which tyrants can not themselves effect, they will have others to do for them.

and his hand which he put forth against him dryed up ] The sich withered, and since shrunk, and that without any external so that he could not pull it in again to him] The use of sinews shall not be able to hurt Gods servants.

y. 3. chap. 14.13.

according to the fign which the man of God had given God

according to the fign which the man of God had given God verified his word delivered by his fervants. Sec v. 26.ch. 14.

by the word of the Lord] See v. 4. Here are two figns to make the deeper impressions in their hearts. I. The drying make the deeper imperfilms in their heats. 1. The drying up of the kings hand. 2. The rending of the alars. The former being on the king himfelf, makes the latter to be the more being on the king himfelf, makes the latter to be the more beeded. Yes, a third is added, a rannely, the refloring of the kings hand. Thus they had the upon that, the world in the proposition of the kings hand. Thus they had the upon that, the world in the proposition of the kings hand. Thus they had the upon that, the world in the proposition of the kings hand. Thus they had the upon that, the proposition of the kings hand. Thus they had the upon that, the proposition of the kings hand. Thus they had the upon that, the proposition of the kings hand. Thus they had the upon the proposition of the kings had the proposition of the proposition of the kings had the proposition of the pr

V. 6. And the king answered] This answer hath relation to v. 6. Ant the string superset 1 this name and relation to to come and still from the man of Gol bad late. To Golds freaking in and by the figure, v. 6. 5. Or, this word supered, may simply be taken for fibele: foir is translated. Detact. 6. 5. 0. 0. 2. X-2. it is to still also golds from the superset in the bindown: which may be superset in the bindown: which superset is the superset in the bindown: which was a superset in the bindown: which is the superset in the superset in the bindown: which is the superset in the bindown: which is the superset in the superset is the superset in the bindown: which is the bindown in the bindown in as 2 Chron. 29.31.82 34.15. Mar. 11.14.

and faid unto the mau of God, entreat now the face of the Lord] This word face, is attributed to the Lord, after the manner of man. The face manifesteth either displeasure and anger, or good liking and favour. To entreat the face of him that is offended, is, earnestly to defire a change of his countenance, Oktorico, ny camera vocame a campe or no connecuancy that his ager may be turned into favour, Prov. 16. His The independent the camed, and mixaces accompanying the meaning them is, That the Prophet would befeet the Lord to turn away his anger: and then pray for his favour. This God phrase is used, Exod. 32. 11,12. 2 Chron. 33. 12.

and pray for me, that my hand may be restored me again] Judgements fo work even on Idolaters, as they are moved to feek redress of the Lord.

and the man of God befought sho Lord] Heb, the face of the Lord, as before. This he did in Jeroboams idolatrous temple where he had at this time just cause to be: in which reple where he had at this time just cause to be; in multi-fiped he might there lawfully pray. Men of God are foon brought to pray, even for perfections, Exod. 8.8.9. and the lings bind was reflered again I Righteous mens pray-ers await much, Jam. 5. 16, and that for the wicked, Exod. 8.

and became as it was before] God can perfectly cure the wounds he makes, Hof.6.1.

V. 7. eAnd the king said to the man of God, come home to me] Wonders work on the stoutest, and mollisse the hardest hearts, Exod. 8.8. especially such wonders as bring God to men, Act.

and refresh thy felf] Heb. strengthen. For eating and drinking do repair a mans strength, which is weakned by want thercof, Gen. 18. 5. 1 Sam. 30.12. and I will give thee a reward] This he offers in gratitude for the benefit he received by the prayers of the man of God, as who he was. 2 King. 5. 15. By the light of nature, men are brought to difcem the equity of gratefulness

v. 1. Anatocoman () you gat at more tine quing, 17 tous write give that the tonnes of the old Prepart and took aim now the man abulf this boule, I will not go it with thee! This phrase, buff of God had resulted to accept the kings invitation, and with all thine boule, is a proverbial speech, Edib. 5. 3. Mar. 6.13. It is the reason of his resultall: which if so be could not mean any the complete a provisional speece, mus. 5, 5, 20 at 0.32, 4 to 5 the reation or not return. Spring the could not mean any like to Nimb. 22.18. His merging is, that by no reward at all (were it as great as that which the devil offired to Chrift, and the could not be supported in the could not mean any could be complete. Matt. 4. 8, 9.) he would be induced to abide with the king.

neither will I eat bread nor drink water Bread and water are inthis place] He means the city Bothel. For he denied, in the place | He means the city betner. For ne denied, en this ground, to eate in the old prophets houle, v. 16.

V. 9. For fo was it commanded me by the word of the Lord, [gring] Gods charge was more to him then refreshing or reward.

he effected the words of Gods mouth more then his ne-ceffary food, Job. 23. 12.

Est no bread, nor drink no water] God would hereby have him flew his deteffation of all communion with Idolaters, Rom. 16.17. 2 Joh. v. 10.

nor turn again by the same way that thou camest For so to do might make thew of fome thame, or fear, or failing of his pur-pole. In such a sence this phrase is used, 2 King, 19,28.

V. 10. So bewant another way, and returned not by the way that hecame Herein he did as became a man of God; though to men by Angels, Numb. 22.35. afterwards he failed, through too much credulity, against Gods caprels word, v. 19.

to Bethel] See v. 1. and ch. 12.29. V. 11. Now there dwelt an old prophet] He is called a prophet, because he assumed that function, as I King. 18. (a that is quadatat put 13 m again to man) Lor use of mews 200, and octaine soon used in summerly v. 10, as no used and joynes, which are infirmments of motion, was clean taken | Balasms, Namb. 33, 5. This title is off given to falle propropuer, because he attended his ministery, v. 20. as he used phets, Deut. 13.1. Jer. 2. 8. Ezek, 13.2. He is faid tobe a 13th active after colours consider states.

V. 5. The after afte was rent, and the after poured one from the V.5. The easts auto mas rets, and not a pure poures our from the or ansonice, naring oven many years a propose, yet not very after J The event is every way answerable to the threatning, faithfully. 18. There are different opinions about him, where there he were a true or a falle propher. There is nothing any where in scripture recorded of him, which might not be done or spoken by a false prophet (Balanm went as far as he did ;) But there are many things recorded of him, which cannot well become a true prophet.

in Bethel ] There he had his habitation: but at that time in Bethel ] Committee the had his habitation.

number may be put for the plural. came and told him all the works that the man of God had done?

were present at the idolatrous sacrifices.
the words which he had spoken unto the king Those threatnings which he had denounced against that place. them theytold also their father. ] They concealed nothing trom num.

V. 12. And their father faid unso them, what way ment he? The judgments threatned, and miracles accompanying the for his sons had seen what way the man of God went] This is phrate is used, Exoc. 32, 11512. 2 Curon. 33, 12.

1907 the just man just many year many year ment justs to brought in as a reason of the old Prophets inquiry. For his He had no heart to acknowledg the Lord to be his God. See font having observed which way the man of God went, told their father. This they might well do, because the man of God made no flay, but immediately went away; non made no say, our manifestately well away, which came from Judab] Seev. 2.

V. 13. And he faid unto his fone ] Fathers have power to require fervice of their children, Gen. chap, 30. ver. 35. Exod.

saddlemethease] Asses in those Countries were used, as horses are now with us, Numb. 12.21.

fo they fadled him the Affe] Children must be ready to do fervice to their parents, Exod. 20.12.

and he rode thereon] He was old, and knew not how far he might goe before he over-tooke the man of God, and therefore

V. 14. And went after the man of God and found him fitting un-der an oake] For he was weary and bungry: as Chrift, Joh.

and be faid unto him, are thou the man of God which camest from #### Though the old Prophet by his fonnes relation might suppose, that he, whom he found under the yoke, was the man whom he fought; yet he propounds this question to him, to be more affured there of. and be [aid, I am] The man of God is not ashamed to profess

V. 15. Then he faid unto him, Come home with me and este m the equity of gratefulnets.

1. It is might be a point of courtefier but it is probable, when the many of gold aid must be hing, if thousilt is that the some of the old Prophet had told him how the many of the courte of the

V. 16. And be faid, I may not return with thee, nor gee with thee] Yet he remains resolute in keeping Gods Charge: for he was expressly charged not to return. v. 9. nor to goe into any ones house in that place.

neither will I eat bread, nor drinke water with thee] He would not make needfull refreshing of his body to be to a dispensation for him against Gods express charge . v. 9.

in this place ] He means the city Bethel, as v. 8. V. 17. For it was [aid] Heb. a word was. See v. 8. to me by the word of the Lord, thou shalt eat no bread, &c. ] This

V. 18. He laid mus bin, I am a Prophet alfo] Thus he was in his own eftern, and in the eftern of the idolaters among whom he lived. So Balaam, 2 Per. 2.16. as thou art ] Herein he speaks too much of himself.

and an Angel spake unto me by the word of the Lord, saying, ] This he pretends, because God was wont to declare his minde bring him back with thee into thine bouse ] Hereby he would intimate, that the man of God had fufficiently obeyed Gods the be may est bresd and drink water] This was a fair bait to a man hungry and thirfly; but a dangerous hook lay cover-but belyed unto him ] This was not the part of a true Prophet By this lie, 1 He maketh God to the wart himlelf, by forbiding and commanding the same thing. 2 He dishonoureth sing and commanding the same thing. 2 He dishnoured the ministry of Angels, by making it a present for fallhood. 3 He disgreach the function of a Prophet, whereof he profissed with the same of the profissed with the same of the same o Prophet suggested were true or no: at least he might have prayed unto the Lord for direction in such a suspicious

V. 20. And it came to pass as they sate at table ] God soon discovers both the salshood of the one, and the over-much credulity of the other: and thereby takes away all comfort from the intended refreshment.

that the word of the Lord came unto the Prophet that brought him back | God can inspire wicked men, and use their Miniftery.

V. 21. And be cryed Being by an inward Divine rapture, in a manner, forced, though it were an evidence against his own former word, he plainly and audibly with vehemency declares Gods minde.

unto the man of God that came from Fudah] See v. t. faying, Thu faith the Lord | See ch. 12.24.
for a much as thou haft disobered the mouth of the Lord, &c.

Temptations whereby menare beguiled do not alter the na-ture of fin. Difobedience is laid to the charge of this Man of God, though he were beguiled.

V. 22. But cameft back, and haft eaten bread and drunk water in the place of which the Lord did fay umo thee, eat no bread, and drink no water ] His disobedience is here particularly exemplified, to convince him the more thorowly of his fin. His fin was like Adams, Gen. 2.17. & 3.6.

thy carkase shall not come unto the sepulchre of thy fathers.] Thou shalt nor die among thy kindred, nor be bused with thy progenitors. This was accounted a curfe, 2 Chron. 21. 20. Ifai. 14. 19,10. Jer. 22. 19. People very much defired to be Hai. 14. 19,10. Jer. 22. 19. reopie very must use me un-buried ager their progenitors, Gen. 47, 20, & 49, 29. This judgement is afore-hand denounced, to bring hun to reper-zance, and to make him the more feriously prepare bimelif for death. The kinde of judgement might give him to understand, that he should be taken away in his journey, before he could come to his own countrey.

V. 23. And it came to pale after he had eaten bread, and after he bad drunk] This is meant of the man of God. God fuffered him to refresh himself.

that he [adled for him the a[s] The old prophet caused the ass to be fadled for the man of God, or, he fadled it himfelf. He was now the more officious and coureous to the man of God; because he discerned how injurious he had been before unto him, by feducing him to do otherwise then God had charged non.

s wit, for the prophet, whom he had brought back [ This is added, to thew diffinelly, to whom the courtefic was offered.
But he himfelf did not accompany the m: no f God , left thereby he might parake of the judgement.

V. 24. And when he was gone ] From the old prophets alyon] This is one of the most ravenous and irrefistable beafts that be. They oft fought to do much mischief in those parts, Judg. 14. 8. 1 Sam. 17.34. 2 Sam. 23. 20. 1 King. 20.

36. 2 King 17.25.

met him by the way This event fo answers the threatning before mentioned, as it apparantly theweth that it was ordered before mentioned, at it appears in the west must make by Gody. 4.6. See ch. 11.2.9. & 20.3.6.1 a King. 2.2.4. and flow bird] Judgement beginned at the boule of God, 1 Pet. 4.1.7. and Saints are oft made figns to the wicked, Ezek, 24.24. By this judgement executed on this man of God, it was manifelfed that the judgement threatmed against the idolaters, would furely be executed.

and the carkafe was caft in the way By this it appears that the lyon did not devour him. God would herein thew a mixture of mercy with judgement. For, 1. By this means his body was buried, v. 30. which was an outward bleffing, ch. 14.13.

3. God gave hereby a visible evidence of his souls falvation, as in the case of Aarons two sons, who were destroyed with fire, and yet their bodies not consumed, nor their coats, Levit. 10.2,5. Read 1 Cor. 11.22.

and the als flood by it | Lyons use to devoure affes: yet the charge in refuling the Kings invitation, and going fo far another way as he had done.

Lord would here them, how he can refitaln them from that other way as he had done.

Lord would here them, how he can refitaln them from that which they most hunger after. This is more fully exemblified which they flood manages the state of the part of the tors are permitted and restrained, Gal. 1.2: Job. 38.11. By the lyons standing by the carkase, it is kept from being devoured by other beasts or fowls. Thus the destroyer proves a prefer-ver, Judg. 14. 14.

V. 35. And behold men passed by, and save the carkase cast in themas | God would have many witnesses of fo remarkable 2 and the loon flanding by the carkafe ] Lyons use in the day time, to lay themselves down in their dens, Pfal. 104. 22. For there is in them a dread of men : But this lyon neither fears the paffengers going to and fro, nor is fo fierce as to flye upon any of them; but stands still by the corps. Surely this also was of the Lord.

and they came and told it in the city where the old prophet dwelt] This did the more encrease the respect thereof. The city here meant, was Bethel, v. 11. where many idolaters were usy nere mean, was better, V. 11. where many toolaters were altembled toogher, ch. 11.32.

V. 56. And when the prophet that brought him back from the may, beard throof] This description theweth, that the old prophet mentioned v. 18. is here meant. Certainly this old prophet did wait and hearken after the event which should befal the man of God : and thereupon quickly heard there-be faid, it is the man of God, who was disobedient unto the word of the Lord Though the man of God were deceived, yet is he not thereby excused. His fault is stilled plain disobedience: delution alters not the nature of a transgression.

therefore the Lord bath delivered him unto the lyon] God spa-which has torn him Heb. broken him. The lion might by biting him break fome of his bones.

oung aim oreastons. Of its owners, and flats bird. Seev. 24.4.

according to the word of the Lord which he space unto him?

This bath reference to that judgement which the old prophet, being inspired by the Spirit of God, denounced against the man of God, v. 21, 22 See v. 5.

V. 27. And he spake to his fon, faying, faddle me the afe: and they fadled him] See v. 13.
V. 18. And he went] Conscience of former wrong made him the more careful of future kindness.

and found bis carkafe caft in the way ] If the feverall paffages ana jouna on carrage caje ar no majo ji t the leverali panages between the lyons killing the man of God, and the prophets finding it to be fo, be ducly weighed, it will appear that the lyons had time enough to have devoured the carrage. So as, this must needs be an extraordinary and divine restraint of the

and the afe and the Ijon standing by the carkafe] This thews that the lyon had done no hurt at all to the als. When the lyon had done what God appointed, it could doe no mere, neither to a dead corps, nor to a living als.

the tron had not eaten the carkafe, nor torn the afs ] Heb. broken.

V. 20. And the prophet took up the early of the man of God I Either the lyon, upon the prophets approach went away: or, the prophet, observing how the lyon was restrained, took courage, and feared not the lyon.

and laid it upon the als and brought it back Here we fee one end why the als was preferved, namely, to be a means of carrying back the corps.

and the old Prothet came to the City to mourn ] 'So was the custome for fuch as they respected, ch. 14. 13. and to bury bim] By this we fee, that the Man of Gods carkale came not to the Sepulchre of his fathers, v. 12. For that was in Judah; but he is here buried in Bethel. Yet decent burial was not denyed him. V. 30. And he laid him in his ewn grave] These relatives, he, his own, have reference to the old Prophet. It feems, that he had prepared a grave for himfelf, as Joseph of Arimathea, Matth. 27 60. and they The old Prophet himfelf, his fons, and others in the city, who took him to be a man of God.

mourand over him] See v. 29. They might mourn, 1. For his death; that fuch a Man of God should be so foon taken away. 2. For the manner of it, that it should be by fuch 2 away. 2. For the manner or its that it mount be by late indement. 3. For the occasion of it, which was a falle siggestion. 4. For the confequence following thereon, which was the execution of the judgment which he had denoun(aying, alas my brother] This might be the beginning of a funeral long. See Jer. 22. 18. They call him brother, I. As he was a man; even of the fame flesh, coming from Adam. 2. As he was an Ifraclite of the fame lineage, descending from

Jacob. 3. The old Prophet might so call him, in regard of fell field, God had before punished Jeroboani in his own his bunction: for the Man of God was a Prophet. Person, by drying up his hand, chapter 13. verse 4. Here V. 21. And it came to pass after be had buried him . he said unto bis [ons] He hoped that his fens should survive him , and thereupon gives this charge to them. It belongeth as a duty to furviving children, to take especial care of their parents burial, Gen. 25.9. & 35.29. & 50.7,8.

Chap, xiiii.

[aying, when I am dead, then bury me in the Sepulchre wherein the Man of God is buried] He believing that whatfoever the Man of God had foretold should be accomplished, thought that the bones of the Man of God, if known, might be spared; and therefore appoints his body to be there laid, and a superfeription to be ingraven on the tomb-ftone, to shew whose bones lay there. And what in this kind he believed, answerably fellout, 2 King. 23.17.
Lay my bones beside bis bones ] Though their flesh might turn to duft, yet he knew that their bones would last long: therefore he maketh mention of bones, and the rather , because tore a massed mention or ones, and the rather, because they are experly mentioned in the judgment, v. 2. V. 32. For the laying which becreed by the word of the Lord against the alsar in Bethel] This bath relation to the judgment and against all the houses of the high places] See chapter 12.

v. 31.
which are in the cities of Santaria ] There was a very large mountain, called Samaria, and there might be many Cities thereon, or appertaining thereto. After this the chief City of Ifrael, where the King had his Royal Palace, was called bamaria. See ch. 16. 24. So as this word Samaria may here be used by auticipation. For this story might be published after that Samaria was built.

[ball furely coms to pafe] Heb, being fall be. The Hebrews imply much emphasis under the doubling of their words. See

By this it appears, that he believed the truth of that which was foretold, v. 2.3.

V. 33. After this thing ] He meaneth hereby the history with all the circumstances thereof, fer down before in this chapter; and it is brought in as an aggravation of Jeroboams continuing in his idolatrous courses, notwithstanding that fair

Ferotoam returned not from his evill way ] Nothing works upon a man refolved to do evil; especially if the leaving of that Prophet. evil may feem to endanger a Kingdom, as this did to Jeroboam, ch. 12. 26,27,28.

and made again] Heb. returned and made. This hath reference to that shew of repentance which he made, v. 6,7. of the lowest of the people Priests of the high places ] See chap.

whofoever would Offer himfelf to be a Prieft.

and in thir hands took fome part thereof when it was cut admined; together with bread and oyl: thus were their hands youth, or young men, Exod. 24,7 Numb. 6. 11. 3 we said, the Lond, by Juch a filling of their hands, are laid to be conference. crated, 1 Chr. 29.5. And they who executed the Lords just revenge, Exod. 32.29. Idolaters, in imitation of the Lords | dy to do what was required. ordinances, were wont to fill their hands with some facrifice, or gift, and thereby thought themselves sufficiently consecrated to their Priestly sunction. Some apply this to the filling of Jeroboams hands with gifts; as if every one that was made a l'rieft had first given him a great bribe.

and he became one of the Priests of the high places ] The foresaid idolatrous course of consecrating Prices, seemed to them every way as fufficient as Gods own ordinance.

V. 34 And this thing ] Jeroboams persisting in his idolatrous courles.

became unto the house of Jeroboam] An indelible fin , a fin that could never be removed from his house; no nor from any of the Kings or people of Ifrael after him, till they were all carried away captive out of their land. See the notes on ch.

even to cut it off, and to destroy it from the face of the earth] See this executed, chap. 15. 19, 30.

CHAP. XIV.

Vers. 1. Arthastime] While Jeroboam persisted in his idolatrous courses. For it hath relation to the two last verses of the former chapter, rather then to the history going before them.

Abijab ] This was also the name of the King of Judah's fon , who fucceeded him in the throne, 2 Chron. chap. 13.

she fon of ferobam ] He is supposed to be his eldest fon, heir to the crown, which aggravateth the judge-perion, by caying up an anna, chapter 13, verte 4. Here headdeth another judgment upon his dear ion.

V. 2. And Forbbam faid to his wife] He durft truft none elfe, left the matter should be divulged. Besides, she might enquire as about her own childe, and being diffuifed not be known. If another had been fent, enquiry might have been made, whose childe it was.

arife I pray thee] This is a word of quickning, Gen. 13.7-

See chap. 11.40.
and disguise thy self ] Every way, in attire, attendance, speech, that thou be not known to be the Wife of Jeroboam] Neither by him, nor by the people. If the Prophet fhould know her, he might think he would not have youchfafed her an answer; unless such an one as Elisha did to Jeroram, 2 King. 3. 13. If the people should have known it, he might imagine that they would go on all occasions to the true Prophets and Priests of the Lord, as he himfelf did and get theeto Shiloh ] Of Shiloh, fee chapter 11. verf.

Behold, there is Ahijah the Prophet | God fuffers his true Prophets to have their abode among idolaters for their greater conviction, chap. 17.1. and 22.8. 2 King. 5.3. Amoschap.

which told me that I should be King over this people ] Chapter 1, 21. He believed him to be a true Prophet; and that, as he had foretold one thing which came to pass, so he could also forctel another.

V. 3. And take with thee ] Heb. in thy band, 2 King, 5.5. It was usual among the Jews, to carry Prefents to Prophets. See 1 Sam. 9. 7,8. 2 King. 8.8. This was done, not to bribe a Prophet, but to testifie gratefulness to them. ten leaves Loaves of bread.

and cracknels ] Or, cakes. The notation of the Hebrew word implyeth, that they were round cakes full of and a cruse of honey] Or, aboutle. All these were countrey commodities, to make them think that the was fome country woman These were not such Presents as Naaman intended to Elisha, 2 King. 5. 5,15.

and go to him] He would have his wife her self go to the

be [hall tell thee] Sec v. 2.

what shall become ] Whether he should recover or no as 2 King. 8. 9. He doth not enquire after the cause of his fons fickness; nor after any remedy or means, how he may be cured; but only after the event; his obstinate heart could hope for no favour from God.

wonqueen means 1 Orient annuere to ora priett.

9 int the 1 11 appears were 13. mat me was or tuch age to conferrate him Heb. filled his hand. Evod. 18.41. The and differention, as he could differen between good and evil even the theory of the Hecourfes, and follow the one, and leave the other; the Heof the chil e ] It appears verfe 13. that he was of fuch age

> V. 4. And Jeroboams wife di / fo ] Though the were a Queen, yet defire and hope of her fons recovery, made her reaand arofe] She made no delay. See v. 2.

and went to Shilob, and came to the house of Ahijah ] See but Ahijah could not fee Prophets are fons of men, Ezek. 2. 1. and are subject to humane infirmities and casualties, Act. 14. 15. Eccles 9.2.

for his eyes were fet by reason of his age Heb. stood for hoari-ness. This was so by reason of the withering and shrinking of the eyc-ftrings or nerves ; Ahijah was now a very old man : but a little before Jeroboam came to the Kingdom, he feemed to be a strong man, ch. 11. 29. the sickness therefore of Jero-boams son, was after he had raigned many years.

V. 5. And the Lord said unto Abijah The secret contrivings of men are known to the Lord, and he can and will make them known when and to whom he pleafeth.

Behold ] That which God is pleased to make known ? is as true and fure as that which a man beholds with his the wife of Feroboam] She is thus in particular named, to difcover the folly of her difguifing her felf.

cometh to ask a thing of thee for her fon] Namely , what shall become of him, as v. 3.

for he u fuk] Sicknesses make men inquisitive after the issue thereof thus and thus shalt thou say unto her] Even as is expressed v.72 and God who revealed that diffimulation, directed his fervant

ver. z,

Chap.xiiii.

thorow confideration of the point. For men were wont to put the acts of another are spoken of.

dence that he had of her approach to his house.

Annotations on the first Book of Kings.

as [became at the door ] Namely, the ftreet door, or first door of the house, before she entred into the room where he

that he faid, come in, thou wife of Feroboam] He names her, that the may know he well perceived her diffimulation; and that thereby also she might know, that he knew what would be the iffue of her fons fickness, wby feignest thou thy self to be another ?] This interrogation is a sharp reproof. It implyets, that they thought he knew what would become of their fon, and that thereupon he might know who it was that came to him. for I am fent to thee with heavy tydings ] Heb. hard. The sydings indeed were heavy and hard; for besides the death of Jeroboams fon, the lofs of his Kingdom, and utter destruction of him and all his posterity was foretold. I am fost, faith Ahijah. The same Prophet that foretold his advancement, ch. 11. ver. 20. &c. foretels his ruine. For true Prophets declare what God give them in charge, ch. 22. 14. Jer. chap.

V. 7. Go, tell Ferobotm | Though the were his wife , yet the was to carry from the Lord this doleful meflage to her thu faith the Lord God of Ifract ] See ch. 8. 15. and ch. 12 foralmuch as I excited thee ] God bath an hand in ordering and turningto his own purpofes the acts of wicked men I Sam. 11.17. Secch. 12. 24.

from among the people ] Jeroboam had been a subject , and one of the people, yea one of the meaner fort, ch. 11, 28. So ch. 16. 2.

aud malethee Prince] Sec ch. 11. 37.

over my people Ifrael | Ifrael was Gods people by covenant , E-od. 19 6. and when Jeroboam was first made i rince, they 14. 26. were not fuch Idolaters as afterwards; and after Jeroboam had established his idolatry, many without question kept them felves pure from that idolatry, as in Ahabs time, ch. 19. 18. Yea though most of them had cast off the Lord, yet the Lord in n use to take every whit away. A very fit comparihad not cast off them: Besides , they still retained the son. It is like to 2 King. 21. 13. Isa 14. 23. Ezek.ch. 26. external notes of a Church, as circumcifion, the laws ver. 4. of Nioles, &c, as testimonies of Jehovah's being their

V. 8. And rest the Kingdom away from the house of David, and gave it thee] See ch.11.31.

and yet thou haft not been as my fervant David \ Davids pat tern was fet before Jeroboam, when the Kingdom was first promifed to him, and that as a condition to be observed for the establishing thereof, ch. 11. 38. therefore his swerving from that pattern, is here let down as a just ground of taking away the Kingdom from him. For it cannot be thought me it that the Kingdom taken from Davids house should be continuthat the Kingdom taken from Davids house should be continued in his house that is worse then Davids.

who (pp my commandements) See ch. 11.34.

and who followed me] As a servant his master, and never for-

with all his heart] See ch. v.4.
to do that only which was right in mine eyer] This is to be taken, 1. Intelpect to the general course of Davids life. entrance into the Kings boule in the City, is no great mat-See chap. 15.5. 2 In relation to his repentance for the particular fins which he committed, in which repete food laid the thould not fee her foo alive. This foresty could not be the restricted by them not to his charge, 3 Sam. 12, 13, Pfal, 32, 13, 2, 3 In a very fed meffage. For a mother cannot but much defire ber reference to the worthing of God. (Season Machine Land Control Contr reference to the worlhip of God, (against which, was the great | fons life; and if that cannot be, then to be present at his deparfig here laid to Jeroboams charge. ) In all these respects, he may be faid to do that only which was right in Gods eyes; approved by God and accepted of him: being so indeed, and in truth, as they appeared to be. For God seeth things as they are

V. 9. But hast done evil above all that were before thee] He means all the Kings. Saul made not fuch idols as the calves. Though he were otherwise very wicked, yet he was not an idolater. David was the best of all Kings. Solomon, though by his wives infligation he per mitted idolarry, vet made not all Ifrael to fin. Rehoboam kept not Gods people from Gods house. But all these things did Jeroboam, chap. 12. ver. 27, 28 for thou haft gone and made thee other gods ] Though it may be faid, that he only made repretentations of God; yet fuch are accounted to be as gods.

and molten ima er See ch. 12 28.

to provoke me to anger? To provoke, is to ftir up one that would be quiet, and make him do what otherwise he would ot. Moles was a very meek man, (Numb. 12.3.) yet the Ifraelites by their murmurings are faid to provoke his Spirit, Pf. 106.33. God himfelf is faid to be provoked by his fons and

V. 6. And it was fo, when Ab ijab heard the found of her feet ] him against them Observingly read the Scripture, and ye He means her treading or trampling, this was the sirst evi- shall find words of terror added to this tearm of provokings as to provoke to anger, Deur. 4. 25. to wrath, Deur. 9. 8. to jealoufie. See v. 22. No fin more incenfeth Gods anger then idolatry, Sec verf. 12. ch. 11. 9. & 12. 30. Deut. ch. 12.

> and haft caft me bebinde thy back ] That is, thou haft fromfully rejected me as one not to be regarded, Ezek, chap. 23. vers. 35. Neh. chap. 9. ver. 26. Pfal. 50. 17. Jeroboam fet idols before his tace, and cast God behinde his back. So Ezek. 8.16. Jer. 2.27. This must needs be a great despite of God.

> V. 10. Therefore behold I Gods judgments are remarkable

I will bring evil ] The fin of Jeroboam had before been declared. The punishment thereof now followeth. See chap.

upon the bouse of Jeroboam ] By the house, he means the stock, and all that belonged to Jeroboam, chap. 16.

and will cut off from Feroboam bim that piffeth againft the wall I This is an usual phrase, whereby an utter de-The childe that can stand against a wall, or a dog that lifteth up his leg against a wall, are said to piss against a wall. See ch.

21.11. 2 King 9 8.

and him that is shut up and left in Ifrael Or, left out. This is another Proverbial speech , whereby is means whatfoever a man bath at home or abroad, whether precious and much esteemed (as things which men use to shut up) or lesse esteemed (as things lest without:) or it may be applyed to fuch as have thut themselves up in strong holds, and fuch as are left in other places. All shall be destroyed; none escape, Deut. 32. 36. See on 2 King, chap.

14.20.
and will take away the remnant of the house of Heroboam, as a man taketh away dung till it be all gone ] Here is a third proverbial phrase. Because dung is filthy and notione,

V. It. Him that dyeth of Feroboam in the city, fhall the dogs cat , and him that dieth in the field, fhall the fowles of the air est ] This also is a proverbial speech, whereby is implyed, that no care at all should be had of their dead corps; but they should be left to dogs and ravens. Dogs use to be in Cities and towns; ravenous fowls in open fields, ch. 16. 4. & for the Lord hath spoken it ] This he addeth to ratifie the certainty of the jurgment.

21. 24. Jer. 15.3.

V. 12. Arife now therefore, get thee to thine own boufe ] It is not probable, that the lay down or flat. The phrase then imports the diwithout delay. See v. 2,4.

and when thy feet enter ] So foon as thou comest into the City Tirab] Verfe 17. It is probable by that which is expressed, verse 17, that he means her en-tring into her own house. But whether the phrase be taken properly for her entrance into the City, or tropically for her er : For both tend to the fame end , which is to fignifie, that ture to close his eyes. the childe] See v. 3.

[ball die] This was the reason, why he would have her make no delay. This judgment was the beginning or first part of the heavy tydings, v.6

V. 13. And all Ifrael [hall mourn for him] Some in respect to their King, because he had lost a son : Others in their love to the childe, because there was goodness in him; and others for the loss that the Kingdom had of him.

and bury him ] They who accompany ones corps to the grave (as Luk. 7.12.) may be faid to bury him; and thus all Ifrael might bury him, which they did for honour fake. See ch. 2. 31. & 13. 30. But the contrary, v. 11.

for he only of feroboam shall come to the grave ] Jeroboam him-felf might be buried, and so much may be gathered out of verse o. But here he fpeaks of fuch as appertained to Jero-because in him there is found some good thing ]. Some seeds of a fear of God, and of true piety.

toward the Lord God of I [rdel] That is, in regard of the worthip of God. So as this young man might be fuch an one as the leven thousand are faid to be, ch. 19.18.

daughters, Deut. 32.19. Surely God is willing to flew all fa-your to his chi'dren, and it is no small matter that stirs up of Jeroboams house. This is here added for his greater com-off Divine prophecies of judgment to future times, and those

V. 15. For the Lord [ball [mite Ifrael] Not only the house different factions continually troubled. For ten feveral families in succeeding ages got the crown, and that by destroying each others house; ec the Argument before the two books of Kings.

There were also many wars betwixt ifrael and Judab, and be-twist Ifrael and forraign nations. and he shall root out Ifrael ] By causing the nation to be carribecause they have made their groves For idols, See ch. 3. 4 and who made Ifrael to fin | By caufing them to leave the tem-

V. 17. And Feroboams wife arofe and departed] For the faw and came to Tirgab] Tirzah was an ancient city. It was held by one of the Kings that Johna destroyed, Josh. 12.24. It seems which is beautiful in Christs cyes, is refembled thereunto, Cant.

the childe dyed] See ch. 13.5 V. 18. And they buried him, and all I frael mourned for him] according to the word of the Lord ] Gods Word fails not. See mbich he spake by the hand ] Or, ministery. See ch. 8.53. of his fervant Abijah the Prophet ] See ch. 6.5,13.

V. 19. And the rest of the ass of Feroboam ] This phrase im-plyeth, that many more acts of his were registred in some pub-like records . but the Holy Ghoft culled out fome choice ones, most needful for the Church in all ages, and put them into a bow he warred ] With Rehoboam, v. 30 and Abijah, 2 Chr.

ple of the Lord, and to worship the Calves. See ch.12.30.

God, v. 7. fo was Baafha raifed by him.

far off lizek 12.22.

of among the people.

out of the land, 2 King, 17.6,8c.

ed out into ftrange countries.

in feveral places.

enemies. See v.15.

ful and pleatant land, See Deut, 8.7,8,&c.

felves many wayes accessary to his sin.

cause enough to make all the speed the could.

who did fin \ Sec ch.12.20.

first entrance mentioned v. 12.

perpetual facred record. See ch. 11.41.

and he flept ] Heb. lay down. See ch. 2.10. and Natab bis fon raigned in bis fteat ] Aarons eldeft fon in Afa's, ch. 17.9.

mendation. He was in this like Lot, 2 Per. 2.8. and Joseph, had also this name, Nadab, Exod. chap. 6. ver. 23. It is promenation. He was in this like LO<sub>5</sub>, 2 Per 2. N. and Joiney 3 and in this man, Nahan, 2 Wood, Gap-6, Ver. 2.3. It is pro-form, 42.18.

V. 14. Mircour the Lord field raife him up 4 King our If rated 1.

He means Bashla, ch. 15,27,86. As Jerobasan was exalted by 1 Her the Holy Gholt recurrent to the hittory of Kehote means Batha ch. 15.2.7.8c. As Jezobsam wis exalted by dolv. 7. [owns Batha raided by him.

who [fall act off the bank of ferobsam] That is , utterly demit the test. On the book of the Kings, transthe diffusion of the testic tribs intorvoy Kingdoms, ch. 17. that day] In the very beginning of his raign, ch.15.28, 30.

&c. till Ifraels captivity, 2 King. 17.6,8cc. the history of both but what] This is an elegant communication to work a more

Kingdoms are interferred. For now the acts of one, and then > Rehoboam was forty and one yeer old when he began to reign I Chron, 12.13. By this it appears, that he was born before his father Solomon began to reign, chap.11.42.

even now] This is a direct answer to the former question : and he reigned sevenseen yeers in Ferusalem So as he was eight like to Ezekiel 12.25. For now was Baafha the King fpoken and fifty yeers old when he dyed. These seventeen yeers were compleat; For he and Jeroboam began to raign about the fame time, ch. 12. 20. and Abijam lucceeded Rehoboam in the eighteenth yeer of Jeroboam. Yet if any long time were of Jeroboam, but all the ten tribes For Divine vengeance ceased not with the rooting out of Jeroboams posterity, but extended it felf to all the ten tribes, till they were all rooted fpent about Jeroboams fending for out of Egypt, (See ch. 12. at of the land, 2 King, 17 6, &c.

3.) then to many dayes or moneths might be betwist

66 a reed liahen in the waters? A reed with the continual run Solomons death and Jeroboams crowning, as Rehoboam ing of waters and blaffs of wind, is time after time bowed might due in the seventeenth yeer of his own reign, and eighdown, and much shaken. So was Israel with civil wars and teenth of Jeroboams, ch. 15.1.

the city which the Lord did choose out of all the tribes of Ifract. to put his Name there] See: King. 11. 36. and his mothers name was Nasmah Naamah was an ancient name, the name of the daughter of Lamech, the first Polygamilt, Gen. 4. 22. Of mentioning the mothers of kings, lee ch. 1 5.10.

an Ammonite(s) It is probable, that at the time of the marout of this good land | For the land of Ifrael was a very fruitriage, this woman made profession of the true religion, as Pharoahs daughter did, ch. 3.1. the rather, because this marwhich he gave to their fathers] As that good land was promited riage, was made in Davids time: But when Solomons other to the ancient Patriarks, fo the Lord brought their children wives drew him to permit idolatry, the then might follow her thereinto, by giving fuccess to the means which they used, countrey gods, and be a means to feduce her fon, as a Chron. John. 24.13.
and [ball featter them] He shall disperse them up and down 22. 2. See ch. 15. 10.

V. 22. And Judah did cuill] The people under the government of Rehoboam, following the evil example of their king, or by him being made to fin, as v. 16. committed the evils beyond the river ] Euphrates, which was betwirt the Land of following, v. 23, 24. This was three yeers after Rehoboam Ifrzel and Affyria, whither they were carried away captive. began to reign, 2 Chron. 11.17. And it is here noted to fhew. See all that is here foretold executed, 2 King. 15.29.8c 17.6,8cc. that none of the twelve tribes remained faithful with their God. For ten mibes having revolted with Jeroboam, the other 8: 16.33.
provoking the Lord to anger] See v.o.
V. 16. And he shall give Israel up] Into the hands of their fell away from the Lord with Rehoboam. Yet fo, as fome particular persons might here and there remain faithful, See because of the fins of Jeroboam] For they consented to his evil inthe fight of the Lord ] This may be taken, a Simply, in counsels, and walked in his idolatrous courses, and made themfuch things as God could not endure to fee, v. 23,24. 2 Comparatively: though in the fight of the King and of one another, paratively; though in the fight of the king and of one another; they offended net, yet in the fight of God they finned, I Sam. 15.9. ch. 16.19. See ch. 11.6. & 21.20. and they provoked bim to jealouffe with their flux which they had committed ] Jealousie is the wrath of an husband incensed against his wife for adultery and disloyalty. God being as an husband to his people, (Ifa 54.5. Jer 31.32.) and idolatry being a spiritual adultery, (Jer. 13.27. Ezek. 23.37.43.) in to have been a very fair and pleasant city, in that the Church, this case jealousie is attributed to him, Deut. 29.28. & 32 16, 21. Jealoufic imports the bigheft displeasure, and greatest de-6.4. Though Jeroboam at first dwelt in Shechem, yet he might after that erect a royal Palace in Tirzah, and m ke that the above all that their fathers had done This being restrained to royal City of the Kingdom. As Jeroboam himfelf, fo other the tribe of Judah, is in this respect true, that in none of their Kings of Ifrael after him, had their royal Palace in Tirzah, till fathers dayes there was such a general apostasse. But if it be ex-Omy built Samaria, ch. 16.24. See ch. 15.23. & 16.17,18. tended to all Ifrael, then it is to be taken comparatively, in reand when she came to the threshold of the door ] This was the mercies fo provoked God. Abuse of mercies is a great aggra-vation of fin, 2 Sam. 12.7, &c.

V. 23. For they alfo] They of Judah as well as the ten tribos. built them high places] To ferve their idols therein, as the heathen did, Deur. 12.1. See ch.3.2.

and images ] Or, standing images, or statutes. These were expressy forbidden, Exod. 20. 4. See 2 King. 10.26.

and groves on every high hill, and under every green tree ] Of groves, fee, b., 3,4 and 6,33. Under the broad, fair, flour-ishing trees, which were on their bils, the idolaters used to build alters; 2 Chr. 3.8.4, 116, 47,5. The things which being erected by others, God commanded his people to destroy, (70,70.4.) when well the second of the control of (Deut.7.5) they presumptuously erected. V. 24. And there were also Sodomites in the land ] Sodomites had their name from the people that inhabited Sodom, at that and how he raigned In other things not mentioned in facred time when God destroyed it with fire and brimstone from heaven. Gen. 10. They were fuch as against nature burned Scripture.

behold they are written in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings in their luft one towards another, being of the fame fex, and of Ifrael] such as are mentioned, ch. 1 1 41. V. 20. And the dayes which Feroboam raigned, were two and committed that kinde of unnatural and abominab e uncleannels, Rom. t. 16, 27. So did the Sodomites, (Gen. 19. 5.) twenty years ] He raigned seventeen years in Rehoboam's and the men of Gibeah (Judg. 19. 22.) The notation of the time, v. 21. and three years in Abijams, ch. 15. 1,2. and two | Hebrew word is taken from the contrary; for it fignifieth an holy one. Now fuch unclean persons being of all others fartheft from holiness, have this title given them in great feorn.

Gggg 2

Chap.xv.

Thus the word that properly fignifieth bleffing, is put for curfing, ch. 21. 10. Or, this sin here mentioned, may be taken for obscess and sixty idolatry; such as is mentioned, Ezck. 8.14. Hoder the word Sodemites, are comprized not only the actors 21. of that filthinels, but also the fomentors thereof. For there were fuch as kept Sodomites in their houses, and profittuted them for hire. So is the word taken, Deut. 22. 17. They had efieir houses, 2 King. 23. 7. and they did according to all the abominations of the nations Such as are specified, Levit. 18. 24. Deut. 18. 10,11,12. Such as leave the Lord, being left of him, give themselves over to all abominable fithings, Rom. 1. 24.

which the Lord self out before the children of Ifree! Joshua and the Ifraelites with him, who deftroved the Canaanites, were but Gods instruments therein. He appointed them to do it: He directed them how to do it : He put courage into them ; He made the hearts of the Canaanites to faint; He gave the fuccess which Joshua and the others with him had.

V. 25. And it came to pass in the fifth yeer of Rehoboam ] This V: 25. And its came to pair in the fifth peer of Agonosom 1 and Rehoboam was two years after that Rehoboam began to fall from the was two years after that Rehoboam began to reign, ch. 14-21.) fo as Jerobo-Lurd. Because in Judah was the Emple and the bost privices and fourty when he began to reign, ch. 14-21.) fo as Jerobo-am might dye younger then Rehoboam did, though he reigned of the Lord, and they mol effectally remained to Gods peo-ple, God dois foncer point the first man, als, as by the event is manifeld, in love and good refpect to them: For this was considered the interventage and turnin eaginnt the Lord, high section of the constraint of the const an occasion of their repentance and turning again to the Lord, 2 Cit. 12.6.

this 18 biflack King of Egypt came up againft Jerufalem] This this 18 biflack King of Egypt came up againft Jerufalem] This Shiflack was be to whom Jeroboam Hed 5 of him fee ch 11.40. | complete. The eighteenth year of Jeroboam was Abijah's shift: It is probable, that he was put on to this expedition by Jerowhich he knew was laid up by David and Solomon in Jerusa- is usual in Scripture. lem. See more of Shifhak's coming against Jerusalem, 2 Chr.

12.1, &c. V. 26. And be took away the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house This shews, that Rehoboam did not much stand against him; for he was afraid of that mighty army which is fet down, 2 Chr. 12. 3. It is no marvel therefore that he fo far prevailed, as to come into the midft of Terufalem, even to the Temple of the Lord, and the Palace of the King, he being to well prepared, and the Prince and people against whom he came, being forsaken of the Lord, 2 Chron.

be eventook away all] All that he could find and finger. Yea or eventure away as J hi make a count not and ninger. 12a he might all to have done more fpoil, but that upon their humiliation the Lord delivered them, 2 Chr. 12.7, and be took away all the flields of gold which Solomon had made] Of the weight and worth of thefe fhields, see chap. 10.

V. 27. And King Rehoboam made in their flead braven [hields] It appears that these shields were for some good use, or at least It appears that their literals were for some good life, or at least an enfign of great glory. But in that he made them of brafs, it is evident that the land was much impoverished, and that there was as great a difference betwint Solomons pomp and

Rehoboams, as is betwire go'd and brass and committed them unto the hands of the chief of the guard ] Heb. runners. Such as used to run, or go before the King, or to wait on him, 1 Sam. 22.17. were in a readiness for the guard to use, as they had just occa-

V. 28. And it was fo, when the King went into the house of the Lord | For the Kings of Judah uled frequently to go to the Temple from their own Palace.

that the guard bare them] That thus they might be the better fenced against all insurrections or treasons that might be intended against the King.

and brought them back into the guard-chamber ] This they did, that there these shields might be safely kept. V. 29. Now the rest of the acts of Rehoboam a are they not written] This interrogation implies a strong as feveration, which is intimated, v. 19. under this word, bein the books of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah ] Thefe were such Chronicles as are mentioned, v. 19. They were not the sacred Chronicles that are inserted in the Bible. Judah had their special Chronicles as well as Ifrael.

V. 20. And there was war between Rehoboam and Feroboam all their dates | This war is to be taken of fuch skirmifhes as were made on the out-borders of the two Kingdoms; each maintaining his own. It is not probable, that there was any fet bart'e betwixt the two Kingdoms all Rehoboams time : becaufe God expresly ferbid Rehoboam to fight against their brethren the children of Ifrael, ch. 12,24.

V. 31. And Reboboam fleps with his fathers ] See chap.

and was buried with his fathers in the City of David | See that.

and his methors name was N aomah an Ammonitilh \ See vers.

and Abijam | Some copies read Abijah, fo he is stiled, 2 Chr. 12. 16. Jeroboams good fon had alforhis name, v. 1. One of the families of the Priefts did bear this name, ( 1 Chr. 24. 10.) which continued fill Christs time, Luk. s. c. It was also a womans name, 2 Chr. 29. 1. In Greek it is read Abiah . Mat. 1. 7. Abijah, according to the Hebrew notation, fignifieth, my father the Lord.

bis for reigned in bis flead The reason why Rehoboam preferred Abijah is fet down, 2 Chr. 11.21,22.

C HAP. XV.

Now in the eighteemb yeer of king Ferobosm the son of Nebas] 2 Chr. 13. 1. See ch. 14. 21. It may be inserted from this title, young man, applyed to Jerobosm, ch. 11. 28. that over Fudah] See ch. 12 20.

the nineteenth his fecond ; the twentieth, his third. And in boam; to whom he did the rather hearken, because en tribes that twentieth year of Jeroboam began Asa to reign, vers. 9, had fallen from Rehoboam a and because of that treasure This reckbning of currant years, in setting down Kings reigns, in Jerusalem] This was the chief city of the Kingdom. wherein was the Kings Palace and Throne. and his mothers name] See v. 10.

was Maachah] Called alfo Michaiab, 2 Chr. 12. 2. Thefe night be two names given to one and the fame perion.

the daughter of Abiliatom He is also called Abialom. (2 Chr.) 11. 21.) and also Urial of Gibeah, (2 Chr. 13. 2.) It is probable that this Abfalom was another man then Davids fon ; for Davids fon erected a pillar, which he called by his own name, because he had no son to keep his name in remembrance, 2 Sam. 18.18. There was one Maachah Abialoms mother, 2 Sam. 3.

3. Whence some infer, that Tamar Absaloms daughter, being married to Urial of Gibeah, had by him a daughter, and was named after her great grand-mothers name, Maschah, who is called Abfaloms daughter, because the was his grand-childe.
But to draw kindred from a name, is a very uncertain collection; for the same name is oft given to several persons of several

V. 3. And he walked in all the fins of bis father ] By this it appears, that Rehoboam (though upon fear of Shishak he humbled himfelf, 2 Chr. 12 6.yet) returned to his former wicked courses: For this hath relation to Rehoboams latter times. It appears also, that Abijam had a corrupt heart, though he made a fair profession, a Chron, 12-12. No marvel therefore, that his raign continued fo fhort a time, v.

which he had done before him] Though this phrase, before him, which hearth doors of the Kings boufe] This was an especial in our English may have reference to the time, (as if the office of the Kings guard; and the forementioned shields fathers sin which he committed before his son began to raigu, were in that refpect bere intended) yet in the Hebrew it hath reference to the prefence of the fon, and fo implyeth the fins which the father did in his fons fight; and thus the phrase agravant the the system of the father did in his fons fight; and thus the phrase agravant the evil courfes onto it the father and the fon; of the father, in that he was not warned by his fathers evil courfes.

and his beart was not perfect with the Lord! That is, not entire. See ch. 8. 61. He made a fair fhew, 2 Chr. 13. 4, &c. but he wanted foundness, bis God ] This particular relation is to be taken in regard of his profession; for he professed the Lord to be his God, 1 Chr.

as the heart of David bis father] See chap. 2. 14. and ch. 11. V. 4. Neveribeles for Davids sake | See ch. 11.12.

did the Lord bis God give bim a lamp] Or, candle. See ch. 11. in Ferusalem ] See ch. 11. 26.

to fet up bis fou after bim] Under this word fon . he means Davids posterity, and that time after time.

and to establish Ferusalem \ee ch.9.5. V. S. Because David did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord | This hath reference both to the matter or things which David did, stiled right, in that they were warranted by the word of God, which is a right rule ; and also to the manner of word of God, which is a right rule; and allo to the mainter we doing the fame, which was uprightly, as in the prefence of God. and turned not afted from any thing that be commanded bim, all the dayes of his life.] This is to be taken of his inward disposition and honest intention. He transgressed not in any thing deli- { filthiness of it: so as the worst of idols were brought in among heately, purposely, obstinately. Through the weakness of the slesh and violence of temptations, de did many things otherwise then was commanded. fave onely in the matter of Briah the Hittite 7 2 Sam. 11. 2. 4. & 12.9. Under this are comprized his adultery, murther, and many aggravating circumstances which accompanied the same. This matter about Urish is in particular mentioned: hecause it was the most apparently scandalous that ever he com-

v. 6. And there was war between Reheboam and Feroboam all the dayes of his life] Chap. 14. 30. This is mentioned in Abiiams time, because he revived and pursued the wars begun by his father. The revolt of the ten tribes from the house of David, lav in the stomack of Abijam, though it were in the dayes of Rehohoam.

V. 7. Now the rest of the atts of Abijam, &c. ] See chap. 14-29.
and there was war between Abijam and Feroboam ] Hereof express mention is made, 2 Chron. 13.3.

expreis mention is made, 2 Circon. 13.3. V. 8. And Abijan flept, 8c.] See ch. 2. 10. More things are written of Abijan, 2 Chron. 13.

and Ala bis fon reigned in his steed.] This was a good change for the kingdom of Ifrael. God provided a good fon to fuc-ceed a bad father. V. 9. And in the twentieth yeer of Feroboam king of Ifrael, reign ed Afa over Judah] Afa began to reign in the time of the first king of Ifrael, and continued to the time of the eighth king of that kingdom: of which there were five diffinct families or that Kingsom: of which there were two mutual tamines on the checks, one deferinging the other. They were the leigt. Jeroboams, ch. 11. 20. 2. Baalhas, v. 29. 3. Zimnes, chap. 16. 10. 4. Thones, ch. 16. 21. 5. Omries, ch. 16. 21. 5. V. 10. And forty and one years reigned he in Jerufalem] A great reformation was to be made, and therfore God continued him the longer. and his mothers name] That is, grandmothers. All femal ancestors, in the right line, use to be called mothers: as male ancestors are called fathers. David, who was Asa's great grand-father, (Afa being the fourth from him) is stiled his father, v. 11. Mention useth to be made of the mothers of kings, because in their younger yeers they were instructed by them, Prov. 31.1. Kings used to have many wives, therefore the proper mother is expressed by name.

was Maachab the daughter of Abishalom] See v. 2. It might be that Afa his own mother was dead, and he educated by his grand-mother : who, though fhe were an idolater, yet could not infect him.

V. 11. And Asa did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord] See ch. 148. This is to be taken of the general course Ifrael all their dayer] See ch. 14.30. for all Baasha's raigo was of his life : and particularly about the worthip of God ; though | in Ala's time, v. 28, otherwise he had many infirmities, and committed fundry gross sins as 2 Chron. 16. 7, 10,12.

as did Davidhis father] See ch. 9. 4. This shews that he had an honest and an intire heart; for this was Davids chiefest excellency.

V. 12. Andbe took away the Sodomiter] See ch. 14.24.
eut of the land] Heb. from the estib. He flow them, as

Sam. 28 3.9. Or, he took them our of his kingdom. He fuffered them not to abide there.

and removed all the idols ] The bebrew word translated idols, fignifieth things dirty or doungie. The word is used to fet out mans doung, Ezek. 4.12. and doung or dirt in the fireet, chap. 14.10. Zeph. 1. 17. Sundry Judicious Interpreters of facred feripture, translate this word dirty or doungie gods, when it is applied to dold, as a King. 17, 12. Erefs, 6.9, 48 18, 13, 13, 10, 10 to fom things; not fit to be indured above ground. Such idols are stilled abominations, 2 Chron. 15. 8. See ch. 11.5.

that bis fathers had made] As Solomon, ch. 11.7. Rehoboam, ch. 14-23. and Abijam, ch. 15.3. The evil example of his fore-fathers was no prefident to him.

V. 13. And alfo Maachab bis mother ] 2 Chron. 15,16. See V. 2. 10.

even ber he removed from being Queen] Though the king her husband were dead, yet the retained a royal dignity : yea, and authority too: at least over her own court, in her fons and grand-childs time: and probable it is, that she had a command over such as were of her idolatrous religion. The wives of Kings deceased, are still called Queen-mothers. Such an one was Athalish, 2 Chron. 22.2,3. If Afa were under age, the might be Queen-regent; and he observing her idolatrous courses, might in an holy zeal & indignation, taken the government. upon himfelf, and put her from it. Certainly, Afa deprived her of all dignity and authority, which she had by custome, or because she had made an idol ] The hebrew word signifieth an the Jews, See chap, 11.7.

in a grove] See ch. 16. 33. and ala destroyed] Heb, cut off. He suffered it not to coninue. Sce v. 12.

her idol | That which is before mentioned. and burnt it ] To thew his great indignation : and utterly to bolifhit, Deut. 7.6. See the manner of doing this, 2 Chron.

by the brook Kidron ] See ch. 2. 37. He burnt it by the river, that he might cast the ashes of it thereinto; and so nothing at all thereof be preferved, 2 King. 13.12. See Exod.

V. 14. And the high places were not removed] People were loath to be tyed to one place for their facrifices : and therefore would here and there have their high places; and that in times of reformation, 2 King, 12.3. & 15 4,5. Though he took away high places, (2 Chron, 14.3.) which were for idols; yet the high places which were for Gods worship (such as are mentioned ch. 3. 2.) he let fland: He ought not to have permitted thefe. Deut 12.5,6,11. So as this was his infirmity.

nevertheless Though the people did so and so, yet the king neither appointed them so to do, nor approved them in so do-

Afa his heart was perfect ] See ch. 8.61. with the Lora In regard of the worthip of God.

all his dayer] For we read not, that he ever turned from the rue worthip of the Lord to idolatry, though otherwise he find. 2 Chr. 16.10.

V. 15. And he brought the things Heb. holy. For such things as were dedicated to the Lord, were counted holy.
which his father JAfter that famous victory which Abi ah had gotten against Rehoboam,(2 Chr. 13. 15.)it is probable, that in way of thankfulness he dedicated some of his treasures to the Lord. Not Kings only, but Princes, Captains, and others, uled o to do. See I Chr. 26. 26,28. had dedicated ] That is, vowed to the Lord, and prepared for he Temple, but had not brought them into it.

and the things which himfelf had dedicated ] For he fearing God, as he did, could not but devote of his treasures unto into the boufe of the Lord ] There to remain as a part of the acred treasure filver and gold ] For repairing the Temple , and for other Temple ufer and veffels ] For the fervices of the Temple. See chap, 7, v.

V. 16. And there was war between Ala and Baasha King of

V. 17. And Baasha King of Israel went up In the thirteenth yeer of his own raign, and sixteenth of Ala's, 2 Chr. 16. 1. This was after that great victory that Afa had against the Ethiopians, 2 Chr. 14. 12, &c. whereby Afa grew very mighty , and Baatha was the more afraid of him. against Judah] To block up the passages (not to invade it) as the words following import.

and built ] Made strong with bulworks and forts, See 2 Chr.

Ramah] A City in the tribe of Benjamin, ( Josh 18.25. ) upon the frontiers of Ephraim, Judg. 4.5.

that he might not suffer any ] Of his own Subjects especito go out or come in to A/a King of Judah] Lest they might joyn with the men of Judah in the true worship of God, and

V. 18. Then Afa took all the filver and gold that was left ] After Shifhak bad pillaged the land, ch. 14. 26.

in the treasures of the house of the Lord ] Herein he committed facriledg.
and the treasures of the kings bouse Herein he robbed himself. For these were the treasures which hunself and his fathers had laied up for their own ufe.

and delivered them into the hand of his [ervants] Ambaffadors whom he chose out to carry that present, which was a very great one.

to Benhadad] 2 Chron. 16. 2. Benhadad is a name com-10 Benhatad J 2 Chron. 10. 2. Detination is a traine common to fundy kings of Syria, (cb. 20.1. 2 King, 8.7. and 13.3.) as Paaroah to the kings of Egypt, See chap. 2.9. a King, 2.3. as Dearbad dignificth fonof Hadad. Hadad 1 simple of the hadad to have been an ancient king of Syria: and hadan memorial of him, his name was by his posterity compounded, by prefixing fomething before it, as Benhadad or by adding fomething to it,as Hadadezer, 2 Sam. 8.3.

the fon of Tabrimon, the fon of He con king of Syria] This Hehorrible thing. This idol was horrible in the ugliness and zeon is taken to be that Rezon, who is mentioned, ch. 11.23.

who was an inveterate enemy of the Jews. shat Awelt at Damafeus] Sec ch. 11.24,25.

V. 19. Saying, there is a league bermeen me and thee, and between my father and thy father] It feems that there was a former league betwixt the king of Judah and Syria, to as this was a renewing thereof.

behold I have fent unto thee a prefent of filver and gold ] See

Come and break thy league with Baafis, king of Ifrael Herein Afa adds fin to fin. 1. He distruits God, 2 Chron. 16. 7. 2. He robs God of that which was dedicated to him, verf. 15. 2. He robs God of that works was declerated to mm, yerl. 15.

3. He fpoils himfelf, v. 18.

4. He entichet an infided and an entmy, v. 18.

5. He first up an entmy against his brethren the Israelites, ch. 12.24.

6. He maketh a covenant against Gods law, Exod. 23. 32. 7. He caufeth a covenant made to be broken. See Ezek. 17.18, 19. 8. He truffeth too muca to the arm of flath, If is 31.1 Thus he that defiroyed all outward idols, erecteth and maintaineth an idol in his own foul which was confidence in flesh.

that he may depart from me] Heb. go up. Baasha had come down to the very borders of Judah.
V. 20. So Benhadad hearkned unto king Afa] For the rich present (v. 18.) much wrought with him. and sent the captains of the hold, which he had, against the cities of Israel Benhadad in breaking league exercited great hostili-ty. The league of a mortal enemy, is but for his own advan-

and (more lion | This was a frontier town, 2 King. 15.29. Sec and Dan] This was a city in the tribe of Dan, Josh. 19. 47. Of the gaining land naming this city, See Judg. 18. 27, 28, 29.

and Abel-bethmaachab] This is also called, Abel-maim, Chron. 16-4. It is that strong city whereunto Sheba betook himfelf, 2 Sam. 20.15.

and all Cinneroth' He means all the town that was feituate by the fea of Cinneroth, (Joh. 11.3) called Genefaret, Luk. 5. 1. with all the land of Napibali] He means the flore-cities therein, 2 Chron. 16.4. By this and the fore-mentioned places, which were in feveral tribes, it appeareth, that this enemy ranged up and down, and did great spoil in many of the coafts of Ifrael.

V. 21. And it came to pass when Baasha heard thereof] A Saul heard of the Philiftims invading his land when he pursued David, 1 Sam. 23.27,28.

that heleft building of Ranath] Lest by abiding there, he should suffer the enemy to do more spoil: he chose rather to defend his own countrey against the enemies incursions, then to annoy Judah.

and dwelt He had his chief residency there, after he had fecured his land; and continued quiet, without any revenge against Afa, whom he feared.

in Tirqab] See ch. 14.17. V. 22. Thenking Asamade] Heb. made to bear. It is the end of a kings proclamation to cause his will so to be made end of a kings procumation to caute as with o to be made known thereby, as all his fubifels may hear and take notice therof. See a Chron. 14.9. & 35.7. & 56.21. apredimation throughout Huddb, To Gather all his fub-iels together, to demolith Baafhas work, and to perfect his own, with all expedition.

(none was exempted) ] Heb. free. from adding their affilt-ance: for the work was very great. for they took away the flones of Ramath, and the timber thereof wherewith Baalha had builded | This shews that Baasha had proceeded far in the bul-works which he intended.

materials for his enemy.

Gebeh of Benjamin This was a strong city in the tribe of Benjamin, given to the Levites, Joh 21.17. It was the North coast of the kingdom of Judah. and Migpah. ] This was another city in the fame tribe, Josh. 18.26. Ala here made a great pit, which continued till the captivity. See Jer 41.9. V. 22. The reft of all the acts of A[a] See ch. 14. 19. and all his might, and all that be did] He means his valiant deeds, as 2 King. 14. 15, 28. Of thefe, See 2 Chron. 14.

and the cities which he built 3 Sec v. 22. are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the kings of Judah ] See ch. 14. 19.

nevertheless in the time of his old age he was diseased in his feet.] His prosperity could not keep away the gout. For his sin provoked God to affile him. 2 Chron. 16.22.

V. 24. And A[a] slept with bit fathers] See ch. 2. 10.

and was buried with bit fathers] Of the folemnity of his fuperal, see 2 Chron. 16.14.
in the city of David his father ] See ch. 2. 10.

and Fehofhaphat ] Matt. 1.8. called Jofaphat. bis [en] Who was better then his father; at least in the fathers latter time. reigned in his flead] fucceeded him.

reigned in hu stead 1 tucceeded him. V. 25. And Medalo the son of Feroboum begantoreign] Heb. veigned. Because many kings of street reigned in Ata's time, (See v. 9.) the pen-man of this history furthed his reign, and now returneth to the history of Ifrael, which he continueth to

ch. 22. V. 41 in the scool of Asa king of Judab] Asa's first yeer ended in the twenty and first of Jeroboam, v. 9. His second in the twenty and second, in which Jeroboam died, and Nadab successive and second, in which Jeroboam died, and Nadab successive and second in the twenty and second in the second in the and reigned over Ifrael two years] His fecond year was but current, as v. 2. For Nadabs first yeer was in the second of Asa. His second in Asa's third, wherein Nadab was slain, V. 26. And he did evil in the fight of the Lord] See ch. 14.22. The Lord finding the fon no better then his father, faw it high time to cut him off, according to the threatning, ch. 14.

10. &c. therefore he was flain in his fecond yeer. and walked in the way of bit father ] So as not only his fathers fin, but his own also was the cause of his destruction.

and in his fin wherewith he made Ifreel to fin ] He means in special Jeroboams idolatry about the golden calves. See ch.

12. 30. & 14.16. V. 27. And Bassha the son of Ahijab ] This was an other Ahijah then the prophet. See ch. 11.29. of the house of Islachar Islachar was another tribe distinct from Ephraim, and one of the meanest of the ten tribes, yet by reason of Baasha's might, it got the principality from Ephraim.

Ephraim had no such promile as Judah. No marvail therefore Ephraim had no fuch promife as Judah. No marvail therefore that the Scepter departed from it. One of the Judges of Hirad was of this tribe, Judge 10.1; conjurted against the Judge 10.1; conjurted against the Judge 10.2; a King; 10.3; Live 10.2 king; 10.3 king; 10.4; treafon is aggravated, by the time when, and place where he committed it, namely, in the army when the king was recovering that which of right belonged and Biasha smotchim at Gibbethon T Gibbethon was a city in the tribe of Dan given to the Levites, Jofh. 21.23. There was therefore great and just cause to feek to recover it.

which belongeth to the Philifilms ] It feems that they had got it from the Ifraelites, and possessed it at that time: fo as it belonged to them by right of possession.

for Nadab and all Ifrael laid siege to Gibbethon] This they did o recover it : which because it was not effected at this time, by reason of the slaughter of the king, the people afterwards renewed the siege, ch. 16.15.

V. 18. Even in the third yeer of Asa king of Judab ] See did Baasha slay bim] By treachery, v. 27. and reigned in bis stead. ] As if he had lawfully come by the

V. 29. And it came to pass when he reigned, that he smote all the boufe of feroboam] He fo fmote them, as he flew and utterly deftroyed them all. See ch. 14.10. be left not to Ieroboam any that breathed ] This phrase is oft refrained to reasonable persons, as Josh. 11.14. Though it may be extended also to such cattel, and other like creatures that belonged to him. untill he had destroyed him] Utterly, leaving none that belonged to him.

according to the faying of the Lord ] chap. 14. 7, 10, 18.
which he shake by his servant Ahijah the Shilonite ] See ch. 11. reded far in the bul-works which he intended.

And hits with them See v. 17. Basilna provided one hereight with them See v. 17. Basilna provided one hereight with them See v. 17. Basilna provided one hereight with them See v. 17. Basilna provided one humor. God witely ordered Basilna's evil intent to bring one humor.

to pass his own righteous end.
V. 30. Because of the first of Geroboan which be finned] Herein also Nadab his fon perfisted, v. 26. so as God justly punished both the fins of the father and of the son. and which he made Ifrael to fin] See ch. 12. 30. & 13. 34-by his provocation wherewith he provoked ] See chap. 14. V. 9.

the Lord God of Ifrael] See ch 8.15. V. 31. Now the rest of the acts of Nadab and all that he did, 8cc.7

V. 32. And there was war, &c. ] See v. 16. This was before fet down in the life of A fa ; here it is repeated in the life of Baasha. For it concerned both the one and the other.

V. 33. In the third jeer of Afa King of Judah] See ver! began Baafha the fon of Abijab to reign over all Ifrael ] So foon as Jeroboams flock was destroyed, all the ten tribes soon turned to his enemy. in Tirzah] See ch. 14:17.

: went

twenty and four yetts | Current. See v. 2. For he began his | and because be hilled him] This hath reference to Nadab Jeraign in the third year of Afa, and ended it in the twenty and fixt. ch. 168.

Chap.xvi.

V. 34. And he did evil Though he were Gods instrument, to punish him that did evil, v. 27. yet was he not thereby moved to depart from evil. in the fight of the Lord] See ch, 14.22 and walked in the way of Jeroboam ] Not on'y Jeroboams fon, but this, and all other the Kings of Ifrael, clave close to leroboams idolatry.

and in his fin, wherewith he made all Ifrael to fin ] See chap.

14.16.

CHAP. XVI.

Hen the word of the Lord came to Jehn the fon of Hanani ]

This diffinguithent this Jehn from Jehn the King, (2 King. 9-14.) and from the son of Obed, (1 Chr. 2, 38.)
and from the Antothite (1 Chr. 12.3.) This Jehn was a trophet, v. 1 2. who was long after this fent to Jehoshaphat, 2 Chr. 19. 2. who also wrote Chronicles, 2 Chr. 20.34. Hanani his father was also a seer, 2 Chr. 16. 7. See ch. 13. 1. Though Prophets were not so born, 28 Priests and Levites, yet God oft bestowed that gift on father and son, yea he therein blessed the desire and endeavor of fathers, who educated their children the centre and endeavor of rancers, who equivalent their entances thereunto. See ch. 18.4.

against Baasha, [ajing,] Jehu's prophecy tended to Baasha's utter ruine, and therefore it may well be faid to be against

V. 2 for as much as I extaled thee] The Prophet brings in God himself speaking, to adde the more authority to his prophecy. See ch. 14.7. out of the duft] From the lowest of the people, ch. 14.7. Pfal.

and male thee Prince] For it was God that by his fectet and

and thou hast walked in the way of Jeroboam] See chap. 15.
and thou hast walked in the way of Jeroboam] See chap. 15.

v. 34.

and bast made my people Israel to fin ] The evil example of Rings ufeth to draw people to fin. Sec ch. 12.30.

to proofe meto anger with their fins ] Sec ch. 14.9.32.

V. 3. Behold, I will take away the posterity of Bassis ] Baasha himself dyed in outward peace: therefore the judgment is nimier oyed in outward peace: therefore the judgment is threatned against his posterity.

and the posterity of his boules Of such as were allied to him, or, otherwise appertained to him. Thus the brethren of Ahaziah who were allied to Ahab, were in fuch a cafe flain. King.

and will make thy house like the bouse of Ierobeam the son o and with make toy owife use int towife of Ierovam toe fon of Nebus] Sec. 61.52. 29. V.4. Him that signt of Basifus in the city, &c.] Sec. 61. 14. 20.11. The fame judgement, in the fame words, is threatned against Baasha that was against Jeroboam, because the persisted in fame fin. The Lord fets before Baasha that which was done to Jeroboam; because histories of judgements executed. do more to the life fet out Gods terror, then predictions of the like to come. Besides, thereby the greater evidence is given of Gods truth in accomplishing his judgement on others. For that which God hath once done, he can do again, yea, his former fulfilling of a threatning, plainly demonstrates, that he will not fail to fulfil what afterwards he threatens.

V. s. Now the reli of the acts of Baasha, and what he did] See 14.19.

and his might] See ch. 15.23.
are they not written? See. [See ch. 14.19.
V. 6. Se Basha stept with his father?] See ch. 2. 10.

and was butied in Tirgah] See ch. 14.17. and Elab bis son reigned in bis stead ] Elab was an ancient and had by the regrets in the stead J had was an ancient name, Gen. 36.41. 2 Ch. 4.15. He might well reign in the stead of Baasha being dead, because he was his son and heir. V: 7. And also J This hash reference to the judgement denounced by Ahijah against Jeroboam, ch. 14.6,7. &c. The word of the Lord came by Ahijah against Jeroboam: and also word of the Lord came by Anijan againt Jeropoam: and allo by John againft Baafha. Or, this particle, alfo, may have re-ference to Gods charge, v. 1. Thus God charged John to de-nounce a judgement againft Baafha, and alfo, John denounced the fame, by the hand ] Or, ministery. See ch. 8.53. of the prophet Jebu the fon of Hanani ] See v. 1. of well-proper from me you of reasons | see v. 1.

came the word of the Lord against Baashas | See v. 1.
and against his house | See ch. 14. 10
even for all the evill that he did in the fight of the Lord | See ch.

in being tile the house of Heroboan \ See v. 2.

14.22. & 21.10. in proveking him to anger ] See ch. 14.4. with the work of his hands ] To with the work of his hands ] To with the B. 115. 4, Ifai. roboams fon; whom Baasha flew upon his own traiterous and ambitions minde (ch. 15. 27.) neither commanded by God. ambitious minac (cn. 11, 27.) Interior commanact by God, (as Jehu was, 2 King. 9.7.) nor inwardly incited by Gods Spirit; as Ehud was (Judg. 3, 20,211)
V. 8. In the twenty and fastly vero f. Ale king of Judah, began Elab the fon of Badfas to reign over 1/1 act] Sec v. 6.

in Tirab] See ch. 14.17.

two yeers | Current, as 15.2. For he was flain in the twenry and feventh yeer of the reign of Afa, verf. 10. See chap.

V. 9. And bis fervant This fervant was a special officer under the king, and attendant on him.

Zimri] This was also the name of an impious Prince of Judah, Numb. 25. 14. and of one of Sauls pofferity, 1 Chron.8.
36. He of Sauls pofferity might be the Zimri here spoken Gaptain of half his chariots] He had thereby a very great command. Of the use of chariots, see, I Chro. 18.4.

conspired against him | See ch. 15.27.

confusion against oims see cn. 15.29.

as be was in Tirabl. This was his palace. See ch. 14.17.

drinking bimfelf drunk! He drunk to exceffively, as he diftempered himfelf, and knew not what to do. Thus was he the more easily surprized, 25 Amnon, 2 Sam. 13. 28, 29. and Belfhazzar, Dan 5.2,30.
in the house of Arga, stemard of his house Heb. which was over. Or, governour, ch. 4.6. in Tirab This shew that he was absent from his army (v. 15.) which might have defended him. V. 10. And Zimri went in, and fmore him ] See cb. 14.

and hilled him | Else he could not have reigned in his stead. in the feven and twentieth yeer of Afa king of Judab] The yeer after Elah began to reign, v. 8.
and reigned an bis ilead | See ch. v. 2.8.

V. 11. And it came to pass when he began to reign] This was so foon as Zimri had flain Elab. See ch. 14.28.
as foon as he fate on his throne ] He instantly fet himself there-that he flew all the house of B14sha] By the affishance of those fouldiers which were under his command, v. 9.

he left him not one that piffeth against a wall See chap. 14.

neither of his kintfolke nor of his friends] Or , both his kinf. men and bis friends ] The word translated kinssolks, in hebrew, fignifieth, redeemers. Such as had a right to redeem the lands of their kindred, Ruth 3. 13. & 4.6. It is also put for reven-gers of such kindred as were unjustin flain, Numb. 35. 19. Under the word friends, are comprized all fuch as might be thought any way to favour Elah's cause: or to be on his fide, or feek to revenge his death.

V. 12. Thus did Zimri destroy all the house of Baasha ] He must needs be very diligent and speedy in his bloody design; that in a weeks space could make such a through dispatch of according to the word of the Lord ] See ch. 13.5.14.18. which he spake against haasha] See v. 1.

by ] Heb by the band of. Or, ministery. See cb. 8.53.

ty | teen of meanings, commany, commany, the month of february feb dancy. It hath its emphasis: For in general, it implieth an aggravation : and in particular, it sheweth that their posterity lo finned, as their fin became exemplary.

and by which they made Ifrael to fin] By being an example and encouragement unto them. See ch. 14.16. in provoking the Lord God of Ifrael to anger ] See chap.

with their vanities] Idols are here meant, which are meer vanities, Deut. 32.21. 2 King. 17.15. Ilai. 41.28. 1 Cor. 8.4. False gods have no reality of deity in them; but are vainly imagined to be what they are not, Jer. 2. 5. Jon. 2.8.

Neither can they do any thing at all, Pfal. 115. 5.8c. Ifai

41. 23. So as confidence placed in them, is a vain confidence, and they that ferve them are bereaved of right understanding and judgment : in which respect they are said to become vain.

V. 14. Now therest of the acts of Elab, &c. ] See ch. 14. 19. If we compare the flave of Jeroboam and his son, and Baasha and his son together, we shall finde their sins and judgements much alike. Jeroboams son reigned but two yeers; no more did Baasha's fon; and Baasha's stock was as utterly rooted our as Jeroboams. Baasha, who was the revenger of Jeroboams impiety was in like manner revenged for his own.
V.15. In the twenticth and seventh year of Asa king of Judah] did Zimri reign] By usurping dominion.

Chap. xvj.

feven dager] Al that time he was Gods rod to fcourge | V. 23. In the thirty and one year of Afa King of Judah]. Then Baafha's flock. So foon as that work was done, the rod was was Tibni deliroyed; fo as Omi fate upon the throne quietly. caft into the fire, v. 18.

in Tirab | See 14.17. and the people were encamped against Gibbethon] There Nadab was slain, ch. 15. 27. Though by Baasha that siege was raised, yet in his sons time it was laid again.

which belonged to the Philiftims | See ch. 14.27.

V. : 6. And the people that were encamped, heard [ay] Such acts could not but be foon civulged far and neer, in city and Zimri hath conspired] v. 9.

and hath also slain the king] v. 10.
where sore all i frael] All but such as took part with Tibny.

made Omri the captain of the hoft ] By reason of his office and made Omri the captain of the bolt | By realon of his office and panel of the made another house in Tirzah, fit for a king, charge, Omri had the bearts of the people the more fet on | made another house in Tirzah, fit for a king, charge, Omri had the bearts of the people the more fet on | W. 24, 4/14 he beaght the bill Samaria | Samaria is a Greek. him, and they were moved the more to confide in him : to as he having the army under his command, was the fitter to revenge Zimri's treaton.

king over Ifrael that day ] Hereby he had the greater power ro lettle matters in those diffraction.

in the camp ] Before they went out of the field : that fo he might immediately without delay fet upon Zimri.

V. 17. And Omri went out from Gibbethon] He accounted a traiterous usurper more dangerous then an open enemy; and name of that place; whereby it appears, that he was a man of the loss of a kingdom worse then the loss of a city. This was, great esteem. the second time that the firge against Gibbothon was raised.

and all [frael with him] 'ee v. 16. and the free differed Tirqab] By this it feems, that Zimri had

V. 18. And it came to pass, when Zimri saw the City was taken] It was taken by florming. For the besiegers rifing from another fiege, brought all the train of their artillery with that he went into the Palace of the Kings house] Probable it is, that he carried thither all his precious commodities with and burnt the Kings boufe over him with fire ] For he would not leave his body as a foorn to his enemies, nor any commo-and died | Being confumed in and with the Palace. Thus he fhewed a most desperate minde, like Saul (1 Sam. 31. 4.) who would rather destroy himself, then fall into his enemies hand, Tyrants, cruel to others, are oft given over to be cruel to themfelves.

V. 19. For his fine which be did His raign being but feven dayes, the fins here intended are to be extended to the time before he fl :w his mafter, as well as to those which he commited afterwards in doing evil in the fight of the Lord] See ch. 14.22. in walking in the way of Jeroboam L Jeroboams course of life was an impious and rebellious course against God.

and in bis fin, which be did so make Ifrael fin] This particular fin was worthipping the calves. Here in he caused the people to continue. For he might in that fhore time, not only worthin the ca'ves himielf, but also make Edias to enjoyn all the pople fo to do. See ch. 12. 28, 29,30. & 14.16. V. 20. New the reft of the acts of Zimri] cee ch. 14. v. 19.

and bis treason that he wrought | Verfe 9,10.

are they not written, &c.] See ch. 14.19.
V. 21. Then were the people of Ifrael divided into two parts ]
For they that remained at home, dildained that the Souldiers in the field flou'd without the confent of the rest of the people, fet up a King; they therefore would not fubmit to Omri. whom the Souldiers made King ; and the Souldiers would not depart from their choice, and thereupon they were divided. The people at home on one fide, the Souldiers in the field on another This division continued from the seven and twentieth year of Asa, to the one and thirtieth. v. 15,23. balf of the people followed Tibni the son of Gilnath] These were the people that rarried at home. to make him King In opposition against Omri, and half followed Omri ] Namely, they that were in the

V. 22. And the people that followed Omri prevailed against

For these people were well armed, and had all things fit to Subdue those that were against them. the people that followed Tibni the fon of Giluath ] The'e were fuch as took part with Tibni, affording their best aid to settle him on the throne.

inm on the turous, is made bin King] That so he might have the greater power against Omn: and his faction.

So Tibri died] Some take this iof an untimely death, even while he was in his greatest height.

and Omrivaigned ] Quietly, without any opposition or mo-

The people made him King fo foon as they heard that Zimri had killed his Mafter; which was in the twenty and feventh year of Afa, v. 15,16. But because it was uncertain, whether Omri or Tibni thould carry the crown away, he is faid to begin his raign four years after; in the one and thirtieth of began Omri to raign over Ifrael swelve years ] Heb. raigned. Their twelve years must needs be reckoned from the peoples first making Omri King ; which was in the twenty and seventh of Afa: becaule in the thirty eight of Afa, Ahab the fon of Omri began to reign, and that after the death of his father.

fix yeers reigned be in Tirab] Even till he had bought Sa-maria, and built his palace there. Of Tirzah, see ch. 14.17. The palace in Tirzah being burnt, v. 18. Omri built it again; or title, Joh. 4.4. The hebiew is, Shonron. Here an hill is called Samaria. In the end of this verse, a city built thereon, is fo called : fo alfo the whole countrey about that hill, wherein were many cities, (ch. 18. 2. 2 King. 17. 24.) yea, and the Samaria, 2 King. 1.3.

of shemir] This name is expressed to shew the reason of the

for two talents of filver ] The Jews valued filver ten times less worth then gold : fo as a talent of filver was reckoned at three hundred and feventy five pounds sterling: but a talent of gold at three thousand leven hundred and fifty pound, (ch. 9.14.) The price then that Owri paid, was feven hundred and fifty pound flerling. See the note on 1 Chro. 22.14.
and built on the hill A city, which was the chief city of that kinedem. and called the name of the city which he built, after the name of Shemer owner of the hill, Samarsa ] Heb. Shomron. This hebre word Shomeron is a derivative of Shemer. Shemer was man of great note, who owned all that land, whereon the greateity Samaria was built.

V. 15. But Omri wrought evill in the eyes of the Lord ] Sea and did worse then all that were before him] Herein in special he did worfe, in that he made ftatutes to binde people to his idolatey Mich. 6.16. Befides, his continuing in Jeroboams ancient fin, after fo many heavy judgements on all the kings that were betwirt Jeroboam and him, made his fin worfe then All the reft

V. 26. And walked in the way of Ieroboam, &c.] See v. 19. to provoke the Lord God of Ifrael to anger] See ch. 14. 19.

mith their vanities \ See v. 12. V. 27. Now the rests of the acts of Omri which he did ] See and his might that he shewed ] For he was a Captain of the holt, (v.16) and he prevailed against Zimri the king, - (v. 17, 18.) and gainst Tibni, whom many of the people would have made king, v. 21,21. See 15.23.

are they not written, &c. ] See ch. 14. 19. V. 28. 50 Oimri flept with bis fathers] See ch.2. 10.

and was buried in Samaria ] Sec v. 19. ad a right to his kingdom.

V. 29. And in the thirty and eight yeer of Asa king of Iudab] Omries twelve yeers (v. 23.) are to be accounted compleat. For the eight and thirtieth of Afa, was the thirteenth current of Omri. v. 15. with this. Or, it must be granted, that Omri began his reign in the very end of Ala's twenty seventh, and held it some while in the beginning of Ala's thirty eight. began Ahab the fon of Omri to reign ] Heb. reigned. and Ahab the fou of Omri reigned over Ifrael in Samaria] There was his royal palace, and chiefest place of residency. See v. 24. This city was to Ifrael, as Jerusalem to Judah, their metropolis, or chief city (ch. 10. t. & 23. 10.) yea, the place of their kings sepulchers. See v. 28. ch. 22.37. 2 King. 10.35.

twenty and two yeers | Current, as ch. 15. 2. His first yeer must be reckoned in the last of his fathers. Compare this verse V. 30. And Ahab the fon of Oimri did evil in the fight of the Lord | Sec chap. 14. 22. above all that were before bim ] Above his father, and others too, that were before his father. Particulars wherein he did too, mar were useful on trader. Farturning work as work are readed in the veries following. See v. 32 ference to write are not payl? It is clause bath reference to the works, but to test of the works, but to the order to the works, but to the two clauses, may be included in a parenthesis at if had been a light thing for bits to walk in the first of the works.

roboum the son of Nebut] Heb. was it a light thing ? &c. The | and fee up the gates thereof in his soungest fon Seguid] The setinterrogative whereby the Hebrew fers it down, implyeth a very vehement denial: as if it had been thus faid, it was cer- line of the gates, was one of the latt works about the buildvery vehaman denial: a sifit had been thus faid, it was certainly no light thing to walk in the fins of Ferboams yet All that the fins of Ferboams yet All that the side of the thing to walk in the fins of Ferboams yet All that the side of the thing to was the side of th that he took to mife fe ebel] Jezebel was an heathen, a notorious idolater, excreamly arrogant, and cruel; as the cafe of Naboth, and destruction of the Prophets, sheweth ch. 18.4. & 21.8. &c. In relation to this woman, an idolater, and ver. 12. countenancer of idolatry, is stiled Jezebel, Rev. 2.20.

the daughter of Ethbaal] As Jezebels name, fo Ethbaal's are compounded of Baal the idol. This shows how much he was addicted to that Idol.

King of the Zidonians ] The Zidonians were of the curfed brood of Canaan, (Gen.10. 15.) devoted to destruction, (Josh, 13.6.) but left to prove Ifrael, (Judg. 3-3,4.) who took what advantages they could to opprefs Ifrael, Judg. 10. 12. They thip as a Lord. In special, it signifieth a prime or chief idol; a Prince of idols. Becl-zebub is interpreted, Prince of devils, Sundry things very remarkable are noted of this man. 1. His Mat. 12,24 Sundry countries, to diffinguish their idols from other, had feveral additions to Baal; as Eckron, Baal-zebub, (2 King. 1.2.) a fly-Lord. The Moabites, Baal-Peor, (Num. 25. 3.) Peor is a mount in Moab, where their Baal was worshipped. The Ifraelites, Baal-Berith, (Judg. 8.33.) a Lord of covenant, an idol to whom by covenant they bound themfelves. The chief idol of the Zidonians was Baal; which is fusposed to be Hercules, common to Tyrus as well as Zidon, nippoce to be Fiercines, common to 1 yrus as well as Zidon, 2. Maccab. 4.18,19. See more of Baal, Judg.z.11. and worshipped bina] Ahab worshipped Baal himself, and not Jehovah in that image, as the livacities did in the golden calves, ch. 12. 28. This phrase of Elijah (if Baal be God, ch. 18. 21.) proves that Baal was acounted a very God. V. 32. And he reared up an altar ] To offer factifice thereon

v. 32. Ann observation up an annual 100 met lactime thereon to Bail. See ch. 12.32. S. 3.2. ... in the bonfe of Baal vibich be had built! He crefted a fumptuous Temple for Baal, in imitation of that Temple which was built in Jerusalem for the Lord. See chapter 12, vers.

in Samaria | Samaria was the royal City of the Kingdom, which Omri built, v.24 Thus he exceeded Jeroboams idola-

V. 33. And Ahab made a grove] A Grove was a place planted with trees for refreshing and delight. They dedicated a grove to the honour of their idols, and to allure people thereby to idolatry. Therein they used to set their idols, to creet altars, and to offer facrifices to them, ch. 15.13. Jer. 17.2. See the notes on Judg. 3. 7. and on Gen. 21.33. and on Deut. 12. 3. and Abab did more ] Heb. added, to provoke the Lord God of Ifrael to anger ] Purposely, as if he would dare God to do his worft, See ch. 24.9.

then all the Kings of Ifract that were before bira ] See v. 30. of his exceeding others, these instances may be given, I None tred in the fleps of fuch a father, v. 25. 2 None married fuch trea in the teps of turn a latuer, v. 25. 2 stone matter use a wife, v. 31. 3 None attributed fuch deriy to an idol, v. 31. 4 None erecked fuch an idolatrous Temple, v. 32. 5 None fo flighted Gods Word, v. 34. 6 None fo lated Gods Prophetes, chap. 23. 8 7 None foorefactured them, chap. 18. 10. 8 None fo covered anothers inheritance, ch. 21. 4. 9 None fo caufelefly and unjuftly fied blood. ch. 21. 19. 10 None fo heaped up idolaters and falle Prophets, ch. 18.22. & 12.6. 11 None to foolishly let go the enemy whom God put into his hand, ch. 20.42. 12 None fo fold himfelf to work wickedness in the fight of God, ch.21.20,25.

V. 34. In his dayes] Before his dayes, for the space of more then five hundred years, none durft attempt that work, upon which there lay fo fearful a curfe. If it were done with his knowledg and confent, furely he too much flighted Gods threatnings. If it were without his confent, yet was it a judgment, even on him, that fuch a thing should be done in his did Hiel the Bethelite] He is fo called, because he was an inhabitant of Bethel that idolatrous city.

build Fericho] This was an accurled city; the first of all Canaan that was destroyed; and that miraculously, Josh. 6. 20. God would have the ruines thereof remain as a monument of his power, and of the curse that lay upon that he laid the foundation thereof in Abiram his first born ] When he first began this forbidden work, his eldest fon and heir dyed; and in the finishing thereof, his youngest fon dyed. It is supposed that he had more children, and that all betwist the eldest and the youngest dyed, while the City was in building. the proposed that he is a more children, and that all between the cladest and the youngest dyed, while the City was in building, for as he destroyed his living house by erecting this curied where he was, he could not continue in facty.

other casualty in fetting up the gates, his youngest son was according to the word of the Lord | See chap.13.5. which he spake by ] Or, by the hand, or, ministery. See Hofmathe fon of Nun] Though he were a General over an army, yet was he inspired with a Prophetical spirit. For this which he foretold, falling out fo fitly according to the prediction,must needs be foretold by a Spirit of prophecy.

CHAP. XVII.

And This copulative particle joyns this chapter with the advanages net count to oppressing, jung, 10, 12, 11ety were gross industry, ch. 11,5; and went and ferved Badl Badl fignificth a Lord, Fiol. 2, 16.
In common, it is put for any kinde of Idol which men dowerlins of Alab and Hiel.

Elijab] Heb. Elijahu. In Luk. 4, 25. he is called Elias. name, which according to the hebrew notation, fignifieth, God the Lord. That God was the Lord, he brought the idolatrous people of Ifrael to acknowledg, ch. 18. 39. 2. His jealoufie for the Lord God of hofts, when he supposed that all Ifrael had forfaken the Lord, ch. 19. 10. 3. His faithful standing to and for the Lord, when as he knew none to be with him but himfelf, ch. 18. 22. 4. His courage against the king himfelf, 1 King. 18. 18. & 21. 20. Yea, though the eruel Queen Jezebel nourished sundry false prophets, yet he feared not to oppose them, ch. 18. 19. 5. His zeal against idolaters, ch. 18.40. 6. His power in prayer, 2 King I. 10.

Jam. 5.17<sub>3</sub>18. 7. The power of his miniferty, Ltd. 1.17.

8. The wonderful miracles that he wrought, ch. 17. 16, 22. 2 King, 2.8. 9. His authority, for he was a father, and cheif governour of the colledg wherein children of prophets were governour or the couring wherein animars or proposets were trained up. 4. Ming. 2,35/8. 10. His falfing forry daies and forry nights, ch. 19. 8. This did Moles, (Exed. 34, 28.) who was the Law, giver, and Chrift, (Matt. 4, 1). Who was the bringer in of the Gospel. None else ever did so, but these three. 11. His rapture into heaven, 2 King. 2. 11. None else ever had such a priviledg, but Enoch, Gen. 5. 24. 12: A) letter of his brought to a rebellious king, after he was translated, 2 Cron. 21. 12. 13. His apparition with Mofes and Christ, long after his death, Matt. 17-3. 14. His manner of bringing him forth into the world, as Melchisedec, without father, or mother, or descent, Gen. 14. 18. Heb.7.3. the Tifhbite Of the City of Thisby, Tob. 1.2.

who was of the inhabitants of Gilead ] Gilead was a country on the other fide of Jordan, appertaining part to Gad, and part to Manafich, Josh. 13.25,31. In this reipect Elijah is taken to be of the tribe of Manafich.

[aid] After he had prayed that there might be no rain, (Jam. 1.17.) and by some evidence from God, was affured that his prayer was heard. This he did by an extraordinary spirit, as in another case he called for fire from heaven, Luk.

9. 54.55.
into Abab] In his preferee, to his face, undauntedly.
as the Lord God of Ifrael liverb] See ch. 1. 29. & 8.15. he delivereth his Message after this solemn manner to make Aliab the more to heed it, and to strike the greater terror into him. before whom I ftand] Whole Minister I am, and whom I am ready to serve on all occasions, Deut. 10.8. Act. 27.23. there [hall not be] Heb. if there be. This is a form of affeveration, which implyeth an insprecation, and maketh a more vehement and certain negation. The judgment following is foretold, to shew, that it was ordered by God, and happened not by any celestial constellation, or by chance, Ifa. 48.3, &c. dew] He means hereby that there should be no moisture or refreshing at all to fall upon the earth; for dew is the least of that kinde. Thus is the threatning (Lev. 26.19.) accomplished. nor rain] Without rain all manner of plants on the cartla wither and periffithese years Immediately following, till the end of three years and an half, Luk. 4.25. Jam. 5.17.

and an nait, Luk, 4.25, Jam. 5.17.
but according to my word] Unlefs God by my ministery shall declare otherwise: Or, burjust as I have faid. See ch. 18. 1.
41,44. This was the first miracle that is registered of Elijah. there were twelve in all. See v. 8,16,22. ch.18.38,45. chap. 19.8, 20. 1 King. 1.10,12. & 2.8,11.
V. 2. And the word of the Lord came unto him, faying, ] 16 came to him extraordinarily by divine infpiration, or revelati-

Hhhh

Chap.xvij.

and sure thee cafeward] The brook whither he was directed, [ was on the east of Samaria.

was on the east of squarts, and bide thy [elf] From Ahabs rage. God could have af-fwaged Ahabs fury, but he directs his Prophet to use ordinary means of escaping, for an example to others. See Jer. 36. 26.

Joh. 8. 59. Ly the brook Cherith] This brook came from a spring head, and ran along in a defert place not inhabited. that is before Fordan] For this brook ran into Jordan.

V. 4. 1 dit fhall be, that thou fhale drink of the brook ] Ponds and Wels were sooner dryed up then this Brook, and therefore he was directed thicher.

and I have commanded the ravens ] Even unreasonable creatures are at Gods command. God lets this forth in the time paft, because he had determined before-hand, how to provide for Elijah; and also because it was as sure, asif it had to feed thee there ] To bring thee fuch food as thou maift

V. c. So be went and did according to the word of the Lord ] Believers are ready to go at Gods Word, Luk. 5.5. for he west and dwels He abode there night and day, as in an house. There was questionless some cave there wherein he fo dwelt, as ch. 19.9.

by the brook Cherith that is before Fordan Sec v. 3.

V. 6. And the ravens] Ravens are greedy birds, devouring what they can get; they scarce spare any thing for their young ones, as may be collected our of Job 38. 41, and Pfal. 147. 9. It was therefore by an over-ruling providence, that this kinde of fowls should be such diligent Caterers for the Pro-brought him bread and flefb] Some Ravens brought bread, others flesh, and that ied or rosted. God by his providence directed them to the places where they might have it, as to some rich mens kirchips.

in the morning, and bread and flesh in the evening] They were as conflant in observing times seasonable for the Prophets refreshing, as if they had been reasonable creatures, purposely appointed to attend upon the Prophet. This was the effect of his prayer and faith, and may be reckoned amongst his miracles : So as it was Elijah's fecond miracle. See v. 1. and be drank of the brook ] The means which God afforded him to quench his thirst, he used thankfully.

V. 7. And it came to pass after a while Heb. at the end of dates. Namely, at the end of fix moneths. See chapter 18.

that the Brook dryed up ] God had other waies to provide for his Prophet, and therefore he fuffers this brook to be dryed up, the rather, that the Prophet might the more fenfibly differn the judgment to be executed according to his prophecie. Questionleis, as the spring from whence this brook came, dryed up; fo alfo did other fpring-heads and the ftreams iffuing from them.

because there had been no rain ? Springs are maintained by the rain that fals from heaven; fo as where no rain fals, there must needs the springs be dived up. This fetteth out the greatness of the drought; for if flowing fprings were dryed up in fix moneths, what water could they have, the drought continuing three years and fix moneths? See ch. 18.c.

in the land | He means the land of Ifrael; no circumstance sheweth, that rain was withheld so long from Judah. Judah might be at this time as Goshen, Exod, 8.22. & 9.26. note Amos 4. 7.

V. 8. And the word of the Lord came unto him, [aying,] See ver. 2.

V. g. Arife] See ch. 14. 2. God would have men diligent, even in providing for themfelves. get thee to Zarephath ] Luk. chapter 4. verf. 26. called 'a-which belongeth to Zidon] It was a City which the Zidonians inhabited; of which country this widow was, Luk. 4, 26. It bordereth upon the land of Ifrael: and as Ifrael was infected with their fin, (ch 16.31.) fo they did partake of Ifraels punand dwell there ? Tuere continue as in thine own house, beheld, I bave commanded] By my over-ruling powerful providence, I have, as by a command, moved her. Of fetting this down in the time path, See v. 4. Here are inflances given of fenfelels creatures (as dew and rain) v. 1. of unreasonable creatures (as ravens) v. 4. and of the heathen (as here) to be at Gods command.

a widow woman | God oft maketh choice of the weaker fex, to do great matters, yea when they are most helpleis, as widows. God here prefers a Gentile before all the widows in Ifrael, Luk. 4.25, 26. Herein is given an instance of the calling of the Gentiles.

there to fustain thee With needful food for three years together, See ch. 18.1. V 10. So he arose and went to Zarethath | See v.c.

and when he came to the gate of the city ] That is, to the first entrance thereunto. God fo ordereth matters, as the evidence of his Divine providence in bringing to pass what he promifeth, may be foon difcerned, as Gen. 24. 15.

behold the widow woman See v. 9.
was there gathering flicks This showeth, that she was but a poor woman, in that the was brought not only to extream want of food, but of fuel alfo.

and he called to her and faid By Divine inftinct, he knew that this was the woman of whom God spake, or at least, he would make some proof thereof, as Gen. chapter 24. ver.

feich me I pray thee a little water ] Water was there more elentifulthen bread; thereby therefore he first makes trial of the readiness of her minde to sustain him.

in a vessel] Or, inthis vessel. It is very probable, that he brought with him the dift, or cup, with which he took water out of the brook, and offered that to her.

that I may drink ] At first he makes shew as if he defired no more then a cup of cold water. A fair tri-

V. 11. And as she was going to fetchit ] She shews her felt ready to grant his first request, thereupon he is encouraged bring me, I pray thee, a morfel of bread in thy band ] The word implies a little piece of bread, no more then might somewhat fatisfie his prefent hunger.

V. 12, And [be [aid]] Here the makes a ftop, because the could not fo well foare bread, as water. as the Lord thy God liverb] See chap. 1. 29. She speaking to

Elijah, faith, thy God, because she believed the God of the Ifraclites to be the true God; as Rabab (Josh, 2.11.) and Luk. 1. 16. or the might know him to be a Prophet by his attire, ( 2 King, chap. 1. ver. 8.) and in that respect say to him, thy Ibave not a cake] Not fo much as a little cake baked on an hearth, Gen. 18.6. I have no bread at all baked in the oven, not a piece of a loaf.

but an handful of meal in a barrel, and a little oyl in a cruife ] In those dayes they did knead their meal or flour, of which they made cakes, with the oyl; and as a barrel was a fit veffel to keep meal in, fo a cruise to keep oyl and behold I am gathering two flicks ] This is a Synechdocicall speech, meaning thereby a few sticks; we use to say, two or three, when we intend a few. See 2 Sam. chap.

that I may go in and drefs it for me and my fon ] See verse that we may eat it and die | That we may preferve our life as long as we have any means; and then yield our lives to the good pleasure of God. For she saw no means of preserving their lives any longer.

V. 13. And Elijah faid unto her fear not ] Fear not fuch want, as death should follow thereupon. go and do as thou haft [aid] This hath reference to verf. 12.

where the faid, that the intended to make a cake for her felf and her fon. but make me thereof a little cake first] Before thou make one for thy felf and fon. and bring it unto me] Herein he tries her faith, and her readiness to provide for him.

and after make for thee and for thy [on] This shews, that the Prophet was not wholly for himself, but that he was willing she should also provide for her selfe and the barrel of meal (ball not waste, neither shall the cruise of eyl fail] His meaning was, that neither meal nor oyl fhould wafte, but both continue in their proper veffels, and afford fufficient untill the day that the Lord (endeth) Heb. giveth. For what the Lord by his providence affordeth unto us is of his free rain monthe carth] Hereby is intended, that she should have meal and oyl enough, till God by his providence afforded means for the earth to bring forth corn and oyl. See Josh. 5. 11,12.

V, 14. For thus (aith the Lord God of Ifrael] See chap. 11.

V. 15. And she went and did according to the saying of Elijab] This ready performing what the was required, gave good witness of her faith and obedience.

and [be and be] The Widow and the Prophet. and ber boufe 7 All that were in her house; her family, Gen. ch. 7, verl. r. This implyeth , that there were more with her, before the Prophet came to her, then her felf and the kindnefs he had received from her.

ber fon. But there being no more meal and oyl left, then was for once sufficient for her felf and her fon, the mentions them of life and death, and that he did kill, and make alive, (Deur, only, v. 12.

did east many dayes ] Or, a full year. Yea rather three years. See chap. 18. 1. This was a recompence which the widow had for her courtesse to the Prophet. She afforded one meal to him ; He many to her and hers

V. 16. And the barrel of meal wasted not, neither did the cruise of oyt fait ] That is , neither the meal in the barrel, nor the oyl in the cruife wafted. This is a ratification of the promife according to the word of the Lord | See chapter 12, weich be spake by Elijah] Heb. by the hand of. Or, by the Ministery of Elijah. See ch. 8.53. This was Elijah's third miracle, See v. r.

V. 17. And it came to pass after these things ] After that the wowan had had good experience of Gods providence to her.
that the fon of the woman That fon whom the mentioned the miftrefs of the houfe] This further sheweth, that she had a family under her, whereof there were more then her fon, fell fick ] This fickness was fent before bis death, to make her the more thorowly to observe the iffue thereof, and his fichnels was fo fore ] Sickness doth not necessarily pre-suppose death; but this youths fickness was such an one, and fo extream, as death did follow thereupon. God oft mixeth great bleffings with heavy croffes.

that there was no breath left in him] This is a description of death. His breath was not only stop'd in him, as it is in those that fall into a fwoon; but it was clean gone. He was really

V. 18. And she said unto Elijah] She knew none else to go unto in this cafe. Her very going unto the Prophet was an evidence of her faith and hope.

what have I to do with thee? Heb. what to me and thee.

Such a phrase is used, Joh. 2. 4. It is as if she had faid, what difference is there betwixt thee and me ? what have I done to other and of God ] This flows, that though that heavy judgment wrought much paffion in her, yet she retained a reverend respect and high esteem of Elijah, and also some faith in God. Of this title, Man of God, See chap. 13.

art shou come unto me, to call my fin to remembrance ] Or, to put God in minde of my fins; or to complain of me, before God, for my fins. She penitently acknowledged fin to be the cause of that judgment.

and to flay my fon? Or, to incense God so against me, as to take my son away, my son from me. These also were paffionate speeches, yet notwithflanding they imply, that by ed to the Prophet, v. 18. So did the Shunamite, 2 King, 4.28, the judgment she was brought to think of her fins, and In this respect women are said to receive their dead raised to to acknowledg , that they justly deserved that judge- life again, Heb. 1 1.35.

V. 19. And he faid unto her, give me thy fon] The Prophet was moved with her complaint, and inflantly endeavours to redrefs her grief.

and carried him up into a loft where he abode | This he did, that he might be the more private. See Act, 9.39, 40. privacy is a chap. 3. ver. 2. The other to confirm the truth of God, Heb.

and laid him upon his own bed] We are not to suppose that he did this in regard of any fanctity in his bed, more then in other alte mis in regard or any stancing in an some more uner more bods, but he going to his own chamber, laid him upon the bed in that chamber, which washis own. And this he did the better to firetch himself upon the childe: See verse the better to firetch himself upon the childe: See verse

V. 21. And he cryed unto the Lord ] That is, he carneftly prayed unto God. So is this word uled, Exod 14.15. 1 King. 22.32. This shews, miracles are wrought by Gods power, nor and faid, O Lord my God] The Prophet thus files God, to ftrengthen his faith with the confideration of that special relation which was betwixt God and him.

baft thou also brought evil upon this widow ] By evil he meaneth judgment, as Job 2. 10. Amos 3. 6. just judgment is not an evil in the nature of it, but in the effect, causing smart, or plaint to God is thorow an apprehension of the womans di-drefs. She being a widow, had the greater need of a fons sup-port. With the loss therefore of her fon he is much affected. thint to God is therow an apprehension of the womans di-refs. She being a widow, had the greater need of a son sup-or. With the lost therefore of the from he is much affected. Elijah since the s 32.39.) makes him fo to prefs this power and prerogative of God, that the Lord might the rather be pleased to restore her fon, because he had taken him away. V. 23. Aud be stretched] Heb. massiwed.

himfelf upon the childe] His stretching or measuring of hime felf, was such a posture, as in a like case is noted of Elistia. 2 King. 4. 34. He put his mouth upon the childes mouth, and his eges upon bis eyes, and his hands upon bis hands. He fo lay upon the childe, that by sense of the childes coldness, his own spirit in calling upon God might be the more fervent : and also that he might the better differen heat and life, as it should come into the childe, fee Act. 20,10. As the ben fitteth on her eggs to put life into them, fo he lay upon the childe, to do what he could to put life into him.

three times To show his fervency and constancy in prayer So Matth. 26.44. 2 Cor. 12.8. We must not give over praying. though at first we be not heard and cryed unto the Lord and faid ] See v. 20. O Lord my God] See v. 20.

I pray thee This express and humble petition shews, that the espostulation mentioned ver. 20. was in faith, and with reve-ence. let this childes foul come into him again] Heb. into his inward parts. This phrase expounds that which was mentioned in the latter end of v. 17. and it declares, that the childe was actu-ally dead, and that by death the foul is separated from the

V. 22. And the Lord heard the voice of Elijah] By this instance it appears, that the prayer of Elijah was very powerful. See. v. 17. and that God is ready to hear those that pray aright, P. al. 65 2. This alfo is noted to thew, that it was God himfelf that restored life; he wrought the miracle.

and the foul of the childe came unto him again This is a proof of a refurrection from the dead.

and herevived] This is the first, that we read of, raised from death, and it is Elijah's fourth miracle. See v. 1.

V. 23. And Elijah took the childed Being restored to life.

and brought him down out of the chamber into the honfe] That fuch as faw him dead, might be witnesses of this miraculous work, in restoring him to life.

and delivered him unto his mother To shew her that she had not entertained a Prophet in vain. See Mat. 10.41. and Elijah faid, fee, thy fon liveth ] Due and thorow notice is to be taken of remarkable and miraculous works.

V. 24. And the woman [aid to Elijab] Quickly the manifelts eth her joyful and grateful heart.

now by this I (now ] I am further affured. For the knew as much before, v. 18. But miracles confirm faith, Joh. 3. 2. fhe believed that her fon might be raifed, when first she complain-that thou art a man of God ] A true Prophet of God. See ch.

and that the word of the Lord in thy mouth is truth] Herein the are user giver, and the took bin out of ber bafame] It feems that her son being and the took bin out of ber bafame] It feems that her son being dead, the hugged him clotely in her breaft, to bring, if it were possible, some heat into him, from whence the Prophet to the dead of the best week to be dead to the dead of the best week to be dead to the dead of the best week to be some the brook of the best week to be some the brook of the best week to be some the brook of the best week to be some the brook of the best week to be some the brook of the best week to be some the brook of the best week to be some the brook of the best week to be some the brook of the br hath not only relation to the raifing of her fon, but also to other tinuance thereof, v. 1. and to the increase of meal and coll-tinuance thereof, v. 1. and to the increase of meal and coll, v. 16. What fever he said from the Lord, the believed to be infallibly true. Here are two effects of a miracle fet down, one to demonstrate those who work it, to be fent of God, Joh.

A Ryers and in moneths: for 10 long the ramine continued, Luk. 4.15, Jam. 5. 17.

that the word of the Lord came to Elijab | Elijah had faid (ch. 17. 1.) from the Lord, that there (hould be no rain, but according to the continue of the Lord, that there (hould be no rain, but according to the continue of the continue ding to his word. Now therefore the time being come, wherein God was purpofed to fend raign, he fends Elijah to Ahab, to tell him that there should be rain, that so the formes prophecy, even in this circumftance, might be ratified. in the third year ] Of his abode with the widow. If we should reckon from the beginning of the drought, when Elijah went to the brook Cherith, we should leave out fix moneths, And there is no other remarkable matter from whence we can anguish, which seemeth evil to him that feeleth it. His com- take the beginning of these three yeers, then the prophets going fairit is made the more earnest in his request to God, namely, hab, to God would have the removal thereof fore-told to the Hhhh z

Chap. xvili.

king himfelf that he might thereby know, that the one and the | brook Cherith were dived up, (ch. 17.9.) three yeers before other came from the Lord.

rain,Dem. 18.12,23,14. Amos 4-7. And it is the Lord that rain, 10 m. 10.13.33, 34. rains 4.7. rains to the same maketh good the word of his prophets.

possible carib] It is by rain that the earth brings forth the fruit thereof, 1ev. 26.4. For want of rain that land brought erut mercur, Lev. 20.4. For want of rain that 1200 belonger not forth fo much as grafs, v. 5. V. 2. Add Elijab went to flew bimfelf unto Abab] He was notiguozant of Ababs murtherous resolution against him, (v. 10.) but the Lord who fent him, put an undaunted courage into him,v. 15,18. His confidence was on Gods protection, and there was a [ore famin] For food for man and beaft had failed divers yeers, v. 5.ch. 17.7.

in Samaria | In that kingdom whereof Samaria was the head city. Sec 1 king. 17.14.

V. 3. And Abab called Obadiab ] Heb. Obadiaba. Some take this Obadiah to be that prophet, whole prophecy is fet among the smal prophets; But 1. Likeness of names, doth not evince that one onely person should be set out thereby.
2. There is a letter and syllable more in this name then in the other. 3. The matter of that prophecy is scarce agreeable to this time. 4. Obadiah's place, and a prophets sunction, do not well frand together; in that the king makes this man a partner with him in that work which the King himfelf undertook, it with nim in max work which the Airing numeri undertook, it appears, that he was in great favour with the King, and that the King placed much confidence in him. Quellionless Obadiah was to Ahab, as Joseph to Potiphar, Gen. 39. 455. and to Pharaoh, Gen. 41. 38,39, 40.
which was the governour of his bouse Heb. over his bouse. As minio was no governous of its soute; i teo. over un osule. As Joseph, Gen. 39.5. & 41.40. See ch. 4.6. now Obdain frared the Lord greath] as Gen. 42. 18. We may well bence infer, that Obadiah was one of the feven thoufand that bowed not their knee to Bazl, chap. 19.18. It is not probable that (though he feared God) he went to the feast of probabe mat (though ne terred 2000) ne went to the feart or Jeruslaim. For his place and charge permitted him not for to do; yet we are not to think that he worshipped either the calves or Baal, but the Lord only, as Dan. 6.10. And this in-tegrity the Lord accepted, and prafted by other frailities. The time and place wherein he lived, and yet feared God, doth thew that he did it greatly.

V. 4. For it was fo when Jezabel] Heb. Izebel. Of her fee

ch. 16. 31.
cut off ] Slew, destroyed, v. 13. She cut them off from the carth. This shews that she was a bloudy persecutor of Gods earth. Into interest that the ways a bloday percent of or-choiceft fervants, even his prophets. Certainly the executed her cruelty upon many of them: so as there were more then those whom Obadish preferved. We cannot but think that there were others also in Israel, that kept prophets of the Lord from her fury, besides Obadish.

the prophets of the Lord] In a large sence, they that gave themselves to be truly and throughly instructed in the will of God, and on all occasions to declare the same to others, were stiled prophets. Of these there were companies, 1 Sam, 10.5, filled prophets. Of their there were companies, 1 Sam, 10.5, 10. & 19.20. year, there were colledges, (2 King, 2.2.14.) in which there were Malters and Seniors, who were called Fachers, (1 Sam, 10.12. 2 King, 2.12.) And they who as auditors, or attendants, accompanied the ancient prophets, were called children, or fons of the propher, ch. 20, 35, 2 King 2.

3. & 4.3 8. And also all that openly protested against idolztry, and professed the true religion, are comprized under this long: besides, by parting them, if they which were in one cave had been surprized, the other might have been provided for more fafely. See, Gen. 32.8.

the control of the co mention made of a cave, wherein David and many of his fouldiers remained, I Sam, 14. 3. See Josh 10.16. Judg. 6.2.

ders refinited) July a 3000 July 100 July 200 Ju with bread and water] In fuch a famin and drought as then was, bread and water was dainty cheer; and the feeding of an hundred therewith, was a fruit of great-liberality. The phrase hundred therewith, was a trust of great shorality.

may also be taken indefinitely for meat and drink.

V. s. And Abab said unso Obadiab] See v.3.

go into the land.] Or, throughout all the land. nate all fountains of water, and unto all brooks Though the wher came trom the Lord.

and I will feed win ] It is God that withholderhand given in Dema. 8.1.2.8.3.4.4. Annos 4.7. And it is the Lord that allered god the world of hierarchese.

grounds lying by fprings, brooks and rivers. Under this word grafs, all manner of fodder growing our of the earth, and fit for beafts, is comprized.

so fave the bufer and mider alive. This is not to be taken to, as if they had had more care of beafts then men; but that they could not to well provide out of other countries for beafts. as for men. Yet this is evident, that they had more care of beafts, then of their own, or others foods; for they fearched not after their fins, which were the cause of that judgement; nor atter their times, which were the cause or that programmer; there were they by that judgement brought to represente, shar we lefe not all the beafts? I Heb. that we can see off our felves from the beafts. This is to be extended to horfer, mades, and all other needful and infedibeaths.

V. 6. So they divided the land between them, to pass throughout #] This they did, for a more quick dispatch ; for they were in a very great ftrait.

Ahab went one way by bimfelf ] That a bufiness of such confequence might be the more throughly done . He would not leave it to the truft of others.

And Obadiah went another way by himfelf I to may herece be in-ferred, that Ahab had found Obadiah as faithful, as Poriphar found Joseph, Gen. 39 4.
V. 7. And as Obsdiah was in the way This was so ordered by divine providence, ch. 1 1.29.

Behold Elijah mer him] Before he had gon far from Ahab.

and he knew him ] Obadiah knew Elijah. For one that feared God, to as Obadiah did, could not but be acquainted with fuch a prophet as Elijah was. nuca 2 propner as Eujua was.

adfillo his face ] This is a gefture of high effectu, and great reverence; yet civil onely. See Gen. 50.18. Ruth 2. 10.

1 Sam. 20. 41. 2 Sam. 19.18.

adfillo art bouthat my Lord Elijah] Obadiah calls Elijah and plant from 1000 to the thing of Opening and extraordi-nay gifts; for v. 9. 13. be thus files himfelf, its/fromt. V. 8. And be answered him, I am This answer hat eject-all relation unto his name Elijah, as if he had faid, I am go, tell thy lord ] He means king Ahab, whose hour-hold servant Obadiah was,v. 3. Implety doth not desiroy the right of dominion

Behold, Elijah is bere ] As this note, behold, reuzed up his attention; fo it invites him to go and fcc, as Joh. 1. 36,46. V. 9. And he faid, What have I firmed, that thou wouldest

v. 9. actuate parts. Per al rowe 1 jumes, 10st 10st woulder deliver thy fervant into the hand of Abab to Right. 3 He. 1 He dook not here excuse himself of all fin, (See ch. 8. 46.) but of fush beinous fins as should exple him to specient editurition. As if he had fait, By what fin against God, or wrong to thee, have E deferved that my life should be put in furth bazard, as it is like to be, by doing as thou biddeft me ? Sec v. 12.
V. 10. As the Lord thy God liveth] Sec ch. 1. 29. In speaking to Elijah, Obadiah ufeth this title, thy God, not to exempt bimself from this relation, but to work the greater crodence in Elijah. Or, because Elijah was not onely an ordinary servant of God, but allo an especial prophet of God.

there is ] Heb. if there be. This is an usual form of an oath.

An imprecation is included in this form, as Pfal. 96. 11. Heb.

no Nationer Kingdom] This literally taken is to be applyed no Nations and kingdoms neighbouring by him, and in league with him: Or tropically, to fuch ambaffadors, meffengers, agents, merchants, factors, or others that came from fundry agents, merchants, ractors, or others that came from monity nations and Kingdoms, or to feveral parts and tribes of Hizel, which by a Syncchoche may be filled nations and kingdoms: or proverbially, the phrafe may imply a diligent, narrow, and thorow fearch; as we is like proverbial speeches use to say, red : I have fought every where, in city and countrywhither my Lord] He means Ahab, See v. 8.

bath not fent to feek thee] That he might finde thee, and get thee into his clutches.

and when they faid, he is not there, he took an oath of the kingdom and nation that they found thee not ] He moved them by all

V. 11. And now thou faift 3 This inference flews , that he was afraid to make known to Ahab that he had feen Elijah. go, tell thy Lord, behold, Elijab is bere | See v. 8. The words following in the next veries, especially in v. 14. Shew the reafon, why he was loth to carry that meffage to Ahab. V. 12. And it fhall come to pafs, as foon as I am gone from thee Before Ahab can fee thec. that the firit of the Lord ] By the Spirit of the Lord , be means fome extraordidary means that the Lord should use fothers out of every tribe, that might be eye and ear-witnesses fuddenly and feererly to remove him from place to place. Ball carry thee ] As Ezek. 3. 14. & Act. 8. 39 and 2 King.

2. 11,16. whither I know not? So as I shall not know where to finde and fo when I come and tell Ahab, and be cannot finde thee , be field flay me ] Consciving me to mock him: but I thy fee want I This is a note of an humble minde, and ready to do him any fervice. See v. 7.

fear the Lord This he pleads, nor in any boalting manner, much less as a matter of merit; but to move the Prophet to forbear the imposing of that perilous task upon him. An upright and humble man may lawfully make profession of that grace that is in birn. from my yourb] Continuance from ones youth in grace, cannot but work great confidence. V. 13. War it not told, Sec. ] It could not be bur that fome of those Prophets, which in time of need received great furcour from Obadiah, thould make it known to Elijah their father and Lord, 2 King.2.3. my Lord | See v. 7.

what I did Sc. ] See v. 4. This was an evidence of his true fear of God V. 14. And now thou faift, &c.] See v. 11. Foar makes him inculcate the fame thing again.

and he shall slay me] See v.9.12.
V. 25. And Elijah said, as the Lord of bosts liveth] God is filed the Lord of hofts, because under his command all creatires are as Souldiers, ready to do and execute what he enjoyns. Because Obadish was in great fear, Elijah by this so-lesting outh, purs him out of all sear. Of that form of oath, See cb.r. 29.

before whom I fland ] See ch. 17.1.

I will furely flew my felf unto bim to day ] Heb. I will be feen, or, I will appear to him. He had fuch faith in Gods protection of him, as he feared not to appear before a King incenfed against him.
V. 16. So Obadiah went to meet Ahab ] He believed what Elijah had faid and fworn, and knew that fuch a Prophet had good ground to appear before Ahab.

and told him! That he had feen Elijah in fuch a place.

and Abab went to meet Elijab ] He that had every where fought for Elijah, could not but readily go where he heard him to be ; and that, either to execute his rage on him, or to know when he might expect rain.

when he might expect rain.

V. 17. And it came upfs when Abab faw Elijab, that Abab faid auto bin.] A first light the angly King manifelts his minde against him, and accused him of publike sedition, which was a capital crime.

are thou he? ] This interrogation is a firong affeveration whereby he layest the blame of the drought upon the Prophet; and confidereth not that he himfelf was the proper caufe there-that troubleth Ifrael I That bringeth fuch trouble and calamity upon the people, as they are forced to feek up and down, and to fend far and neer for ordinary food; whence quarrels and tumults do arife. Who also diffwadest the people from the religion eftabliffied, and fo difturbeft the peace of

V. 18. And he answered, I have not troubled Ifrael] An innocent party may, and ought to put off from himfelf a crime unjustly laid to his charge, though it be by his Superior and Soveraign.

but thou ] Gods Spirit puts this undaunted fpirit into him whereby he was stirred up to tell the King his fault, Matth. 14.

whereby he was narred up to the tine king his fault, matter, 14.
4. Ezeks, 3. 2 Sam, 12.7.
and thy fathers boule 1 He means hereby, his brothers, kinsfolks, and courtiers, left him by his father, and observing his fathers courfes and flatutes, ch. 16.25.

in that ye have for falen] As they who having once professed the Law of the Lord, and revolted from the same, are said to the Law of the Lord, and evoluted from the same, are caused from the Lord for the Lord, and evoluted from the same are considered from the Lord for the Lord for the commandements of the Lord] To forfake the Lords commandements; and to forfake the Lord, intend one and the fame thing; for the Lords authority is fer forth by his commandements, and he that despisethethem, despiseth him. See r Chr. 12. 17 and thou haft followed Baalim] Many falle gods. Here is thewed, that finners againft God, whether it be by difobeying him, or following falle gods, are most properly troublers of the Church of God; fuch as bring judgments thereupon, Josh,

V. 19. Now therefore fend, and gather together to me all I feel ] He means Elders, heads of tribes, all forts of Governours, and of that which he intended to be done, v. z1, &c.

muo mount Cannel] There were two places called Carmel; nuts moure Carners 1 there were two places called Carmers, one in the tribe of Judah, (Johnsy, 55.) where Nabal had his poffelfion, v Saint, 25.25. The other in the ribe of Alther, John 15.26. This in this and in other places, is called a mount; an high mountain (Amos 9:3) scituate by the Sea: (Jon 46: 18.) On it Eliths had an habitation, 2 King. 2. 25: 2nd 4: 25. According to the Hebrew notation, it fignifieth a fair fertile place, Ila. 35.2. and it is by our English translated, a fruitful field, Isa, 32.15. See on 2 Sam. 25.2.

and the Prophets of Baal Edolaters feigned such functions as the true Church had; bur they were falle ones, as thefe Prophets were falle Prophets ; fuch as chap: 22.22. Luk. 6.26.

four hundred and fifty] See v. 20. thele were dispersed up and down throughout the ten tribes.

and of the groves Hcb. that grove. See ch. 16:33. Thefe were Prophets of the idols in groves; and in those groves these prophets had their residency. These might attend the which eat at Jegabels table] They were fuffained by Jezabels provision, as if they had fate at her table, or received meat from thence.

V. 20. So Abab [ent] Ahabs earnest defire of rain, might make him the more readily yield to Elijah, who, as he thought. migh be a means to procure rain, or fear of a greater judgement might make him yield; or it may be that Elijah had told! him before-hand, of the kind of trial which he meant to make, for proving Jehovah to be the true God : and Ahab defirous to fee the illus thereof, might do what Elijah required. Whatfoever the outward motive was, furely God over-ruled his forit, and made him willing to fend for those Elijah required to be fent for. unto all the children of Israel ] Round about throughout all the tribes. See v. 19.

and gathered the Prophet together]. He means the four hutdred and firty prophets of Baal, mentioned v. 19. See vêr. 22.

It is probable, that Jezabel kept back the other four hundred, which the safe, the are fiden of the 12.6. The number of which were those that are spoken of, ch. 22.6. The number of these Prophets is set down, to show the seal of idolaters, in multiplying their prophets, and to amplifie the courage of Elijah, who being one alone, durft oppose against so many false unto mount Carinel] See v. 19.

V. 21. And Elijah came unto all the people and faid] By this it appears, that that which followeth; was not accomplished on that day when Obadijah first told Ahab of Elijah's appearance: for there must needs some dayes pass berwixt Elijahs advice to Abab, v. 19. and this accomplishment thereof. All the chil-dren of Israel from all parts of the Kingdom; could not be gadren of lurae trom at parts of the Kingdom, could not be ga-thered together in one day.

how long bairye] A man that balts inclines his body now one way, and now another. This metaphor may be applyed two wates: I To the body of the people, whereof fome inclined their hearts to Jehovah, and others to Baal 2 To the fame persons, who in some things, at some times, inclined to Jehovalue other things, at other times, to Baal. It is probable, that the latter is here especially intended. The like is taxed Marrh between two opinions] Or, thoughts, For thoughts cause opi-

if the Lord be God ] This word Lord , being expressed in four capital Letters, is the interpretation of Jehovah, which is the proper name of the only true God, the God of Ifrael. This title, God, is in the original, the first that is attributed to him in Scripture , and that when he created all things, Gen. 1.12 It being in Hebrew's word of the plural number, fets out that one God, which is diftinguished into three persons, the Creator, Preferver, and Governous of all things: Now many of them did acknowledg Jehovahr ob a the true God! Obadiah, and others like him, did indeed take Jehovah the true-Lord, for their God; and asa-God offerm him; unterly renotating under the calves; ch. 12, 28. Thefe alfo worthipped Baal, To thefe faith Elijah, If the Lord be God.

follow him? He here adviseth them, to deal with God, as a faithful fervant doth with his Mafter ; he follows him wherefoever he goes; he is roady to do whatforver he requires; he leans to him, and will not follow another. See Martin 6: 244

See allo ch. 9.64.

See allo ch. 9.64.

buifBaall Mere we mult underfland the fame title that the Lord. 22 if he had faid, If Baal be God. Baal, in this place; is taken for the proper name of that idol which they then worshipped.

then follow him! He granteth that they have done well in tollowing Daal, and that they may continue to to 60, if they could prove that Baal were indeed God. This he grains, the rather, to move them to bring the cafe to a tryal; but not to give them liberty to be of what religion they pleafed.

Chap. xviii.

and the people answered birn not a word] They who followed Jehovah, durst not openly protest against Baal, for sear of Ahab and Jezabel. They who followed Baal were so convinced, as they durft not plead for him. Both parties therefore held their

V. 22. Then aid Elijab unto the people] The Prophet having convinced them, that it was meet to fo low but one God, thewoth which that God was. I, even I only, remains Propher of the Lord, ] His meaning is, that there were none there prefent to maintain the Lords cause but himself: The hundred which Obadiah hid, v. 4. had pot yet fhewed themselves. Seech. 19.10,18. Ged oft mainrains his own cause by one, or by a few, that God himsolf might be the more feen therein.

but Baals prophets are four hundred and fifty men] There were other four hundred falle prophets,v. 19 but they appear d not. The miracle following is the more remarkable, in that one man opposed four hundred and fifty. This shews that multitude is not a certain note of the true church.

V. 23. Let them therefore give ms ] This is meant of the people, or else it is indefinitely to be taken, thus, Let there be given , or, Let them that will, give.

two bullocks ] One for Elijah, the other for Baals Proand let them choose one bullock for themselves ? The offer is made to Baals prophets, that the truth of the case might the more evidently appear. and cut it in pieces, and lay it on the wood] All this was to pre pare it for a facrifice. and out no fire under | That the truth of the miracle might be the more evident. and I will drefs the other bullock ] By cutting it in pieces, and observing other rites, to make it a facrifice. and lay it on wood] That the fire which should come from heaven, might by fetting the wood on fire confume the facriand put no fre under ] He ties himself to the same condition, that he required of the falle prophets.

V. 24. And call on the name of your gods.] He useth the plural number, (gods) to the without the had many idols, and he gives them liberty to call upon all their falle gods.

and I will call on the Name of the Lord ] He holdeth close to his own God, Jehovah, and adds no other to him.

and the Go that answereth] It is a note of the true God, to hear such as call upon him, and to grant their defire, Pfalm.

65.2. by fire] By fending fire from heaven to confiume the factifice, as Levit 9.24.1 Chron.21, 26.2 Chron.7.1. In the subsensels and temple, the fire that came from heaven was preferred, (Levit.6.12), but in [first] there was no furth fire: therefore Elijah would have it called for from heaven. lethim be God] Lethim be reputed and esteemed as the

And all the people answered and said, it is well spoken] Heb. the world is good. This is a phrase of approbation and consent. The people were willing to put the case to trial.

V. 25. And Elijah said to the prophets of Baal.] He puts them upon the proof, to accept the condition.

choose you ena bulled; for your felver! I wo bullocks being fet before there, he less them choose which they pleafed.

and drift in frift! I this be permits, that the importancy and vanity of that idol might be first difference, and thereby way made for acknowledging the Lord.

for ye are many ] A multimade, to be preferred before one.

just je est many j n inditionally to be preferred where the and call on the name of your gods ] See v. 24.
and put us fire under ] See v. 23.
V. 26. And they took ] It feems that they were very confident in their idols power the bulleck | One of the bullocks which they best liked.

which was given them ] Heb, which be gave them. See the last word of this verfe.

and they drejsed it] See v. 23.
and they drejsed it] See v. 23.
and called on the name of Baal] No doubt but they expected that he would bear them.

from morning even untill noon] From the beginning till the farthest time that was used for the morning facrifice (aying, O Beel beer se ] Or, answer us. They speak to a dumb idol as to the living God.

but there was no voice, nor any that answered] Heb. beard. For their idol had neither tongue to utter any voyce, nor ear to and they least upon the alter ] Or, leased up and down at the Idolatera ufe to have many antick and firange ge- lation to Jacob, the immediate father of the twelve Partiarks, fallowing Baal, and that they may continue so to do, if they if three in their idol-iervices; as, leaping upon their alters; as if fallowing Baal, and that they may continue so to the proper that Baal were indeed God. This he granes, the they themselves were willing to be facilised; or as if they could prove that Baal were indeed God. This he granes, the would themselves fetch fire from heaven: skipping also on it, and dauncing round about it. To all these, this phrases may have relation, Sec v. 30.

which was made? Heb. bemade. This is an indefinite phrase.

he, who foever he was. It is wel expounded by the paffive, was made as in v. 23. let them give. Some apply that relative, he, to the chief prieft amongst them; and some to Ahab.

V. 27. and it came to pafs at noon] Elijah was filent till the very end of their time was come, left they should say, he had interrupted them.

that Elijah mocked them] To discover their folly the more. and [aid, cry aloud] Heb. with a great voyce. As if otherwise he could not hear; the true God knoweth the defire of the

For he & a god ] This he faith in a plain fcoff; in that the things which he mentioneth hereafter, do no way agree to the true God.

either be utalking ] Or, bemeditateth. So as he sould not attend them that were calling on him. or be to pursuing 1 Heb. Or hath a pursuit 1 He means a pursuit of enemies, or beafts, or fowls, or other pleasures.

or be is in a journey] As it were about another business. or peradvenure be sleepeth, and must be awaked ] The true God is subject to no such things. To be hindred by any of them, is humane frailty. All these therefore are manifest scotts, and great aggravations of their folly.
V. 28. And they cryed lend] Not with ardency of affection, as faints, to the learcher of hearts; but with extension of voyces, as Idolaters, to fuch as cannot hear.

and cut themsclves after their manner ] The manner of Idolaters, whereunto Gods people might not conform themselves, Levit. 19.28. Deut. 14. 1.

with knives and lancers ] This was worfe then Papills whiping of themselves.

ing or themselves.

"Ill the blood giped out upon them] Heb. poured out blood upon them. The devil, delighting in mass blood, brought idolaters, in whom he ruleth, therewith to feem topacific and grain their idols : in which triples, they fored not their own blood, as here ; nor their childrens, Ezek. 16.36.

as user, user connectus, EZEL 16-26.

V 29, 3nd it came to play when mid-day not paft.] This was the time that they thould have given over: for they began in the morning, V-26, but because they had no aniwer from their idol, they full continue to call for an aniwer.

and they prophefied] They made themselves to prophesie, or and they prohibited. They made themietives to proposely, of they fittered up themselves thereto. By their fittings, affected, affinionate gestures, they made show of prophetical raptures, and in the vulgars account prophetical. See 1 Sam. 10. 5, 8: 18. 10.8C. Or, prophereying may here be taken for calling upon their idol to be heard. See 1 Cor. 11.3.5, Or, for singing upon their 1001 to on nearon. See 1. Cor. 11.35, 1. Criptor inging and playing on muffeat infruments; 1 Chron. 25.12,32 until the time of the offering! Heb. afcending. For the facrifice was laid up upon the altar, and the Priest afcended to lay it there, and the limble thereof, while it was burning, afcended up towards heaven. of the evening (acrifice) This was the ordinary time wherein the daily facrifice was appointed to be offered up, Exod.29. 39. which was about three in the afternoon, Sec v. 30. that there was neither voice nor any to answer] No manner of evidence whereby any might discern that their God heard nor any that regarded] Heb. attention For it might be supposed, that if any had attended to what they did or spake, they would so far have regarded then, as to have given some an-

V. 30. And Elijab faid unto all the people It was the peoples convertion that Elijah aimed at. come neer unto me ] Be eye-witnesses of my whole carriage, and diligently mark whether I use any fraud or no.

and all the people came neer unto bim] They were willing to fee, whether Elijah could do more with the Lord, then the falle Prophets had done with Baal. and be repaired the alter of the Lord ] This alter was either one which of old had been erected by their pious predeceffors; or which Elijah himfelf had before-hand prepared for this purthat was broken down ] Either by former idolaters : or by these Prophets of Banl, who, in their mad leaping and dauncing might spitefully break it down. V. 3. And Elijab took twelve flones] As Josh. 4. 5, 20. So Exod. 24.4. according to the number of the tribes of the fous of Jacob] To thew, that all the tribes thould be united in the true worthip of God. See Ezra 6.17. Hereby he implicitly taxeth the revolt of the ten tribes from the other two. unto whom the word of the Lord came, faring, ] This hath rewho were heads of the twelve tribes. Ifrael shall be thy name ] Gen. 32. 28. Sec 2 King. 17.

V. 22. And with the stones he built an altar He means the twelve flones mentioned, v. 31. and the altar mentioned, v. 30. This altar, in this extraordinary case, wsilified by God him-lelf, v. 36, 37. was lawful, though otherwise forbidden, Deut. 12.13,14. See 1 Sam.7.9. & 9.12. & Judg. 21.4.
in the Name of the Lord At Gods appointment, (v. 36.) to the honour of God, (compare, 1 Cor. 10. 31. with Coloff. 3. 17.) dedicated to the fervice of God. and he made a trench about the altar | He means a ditch, or a water-channel, which might contain the water hereafter mentioned as great as would contain two measures of seed I It was as wide and as deep as a bag of two pecks and an half of seed, might lye in; or, a furrow, so much in compass, as men might ordinarily fow two pecks and an half of feed in. The hebrew word feed translated, measure, fignifieth the quantity of somewhat more then a peck and a pottle. V. 33. And he put the wood in order, and cut the bullock in pieces, and laid him on the wood ] He did all things, as they used pieces same same prime use weed.] He did all tailings, as they are to be done in offering a factifice, Levit.6.77.

and faid, fill four barrels with water). That all fulpition of collusion in hiding fire under the wood, or altar, or any where elfe, might be taken away; and that the power of God, and truth of the miracle might be the more manifested.

and pour it on the burnt-facrifice and on the wood] This was an extraordinary means to keep fire from burning up the facrifice and wood; which being wet are not fo foon fer on fire.

V. 34. And he faid do it the fecond time] That they might be the more wet. and they did it the second time ] They were ready to do what the Prophet required.

and he faid, do it the third time] Thus twelve barrels of water were poured on the altar and wood, Of the number twelve, | zeal for God, and indignation against Baal, to do what he did; See v. 21. Mount Carmel was neer the fea; fo as thence, notwithflanding this great drought, he might have water enough: Luk.9-55. and because it was agreeable to Godsword. The ves, the river Kishon also was by the bottom of this mount, See v. 40. Of Carmel, See v. 19

V. 25. And the water ran] Heb. went. For with such force was the motion of this water, as it may well be faid to run. round about the altar] For it could not lye all upon the altar and it filled the trench also with water] Of the trench, See with filliah intended, was accomplified, he shows to Abab the v, 32. The filling of a trench is an evidence of the great flore bleffing that followed threupen, and gives him direction what of water which he poured on the altar, that the reality and fer- to do. vency of that fire might be more manifest.

V. 36. And it came to pass at the time of the offering of the cv. 36. Mul it came to pajo us the time of the Spirit of vening factified See v. 29. 2 King. 3. 20. that Elijah the prophet came neer ] To the altar where he prayed. and faid, Lord God of Abraham, Ifaac and Ifrael] Thefe were the three Patriarks, from whom, by lineal descent, all the Ifraelites came. To each of these three, God made and ratified his promises of the good which he did to Israel. God that came from those Patriarks, to take him for their God, and oft to be put in minde of Gods promifes, Exod. 32. 13. See 1 Chron. 20 18. let it be known this day ] He presseth in his prayer three that thou art God in Ifrael ] This is the first motive, viz. Gods glory: that he might be known and acknowledged to his ministery might be confirmed to be of God. and that I have done all these things at thy word ] By thy direction. This is the duty of Gods lervant, V.27. Hearme, O Lord, hear me] This repetition, implyeth great fervency. He means, that God would give an evidence of hearing him, by fending down fire, as v. 24, which Baal could not do, v. 29, that this people may know that thou art the Lord God] Here he that this people may know that thou art the Lord God] Here he and that thou hast turned their heart back again] From Baal to thee. This is the third motive, the conversion of the people.

V. 38. Then the fire of the Lord fell | Fire which came out of heaven from the Lord, (as I Chron. 21.26. 2. Chron. 7.1. Job. 1. 16. ) that the people might better discern whence it that it was true fire and not in appearance only.

and the flower and the doil! This effect thews, that this fire and the flower and the doil! This effect thews, that this fire earth did not foak up this water, yet this fierce fire licked it up. This was Elijahs fit miracle. See ch. 17.1.

V. 39. And when all the people faw it, they fell on their faces 1 This was a gesture as of astonishment, so also of adoration, and they faid, the Lord he is the God, the Lord he is the God] Thefe words, though few, comprize much, as, 1. An acknowledgment of Jehovah to be the true God, and therein determining the opinion questioned, ver. 21. 2. A confirmation of him onely to be fo, which this emphatical phrase, beis, intenderb, 3. A renouncing of Baal; for the mentioned phrase is exclufive, not Baal. 4. Their confidence in this their profession, implyed by the doubling of the phrase.

Sec I Chron. 21.16. see I Caron. 21. 10.

V. 40. And Elijah faid unto them To the people, who acknowledged Jehovah to be God.

take ] Or, apprehend. the prophets of Baal] Elijah knew that the evidence of the miracle had fo wrought upon them, as they discerned the juglings and deceits of Baals prophets, and would not flick to fee vengeance executed upon them. let not one of them escape There must be no partiality in executing justice and they took them ] They readily yeelded to his directions, whom they observed to be a true Prophet of the Lord, and Elijah brought them down ] He caused them to be brought.

to the brook Kifhon] Kifhon was a river that ran along at the bottom of Carmel. This river was made famous by the overthrow of Sifera, Judg. 5.51. Thither they were brought, that their bodies, after they were flain, might be cast thereinto and flow them there] This was according to the law, Deut.

13.5. & 18. 20. Jehu is commended for the like, 2 King, 10. 25. The verses following shew that king Ahab was present; so as he did not gainfay it, but rather affented to it. Questionless the Prophet took the present advantage of the peoples king might be moved, as least tacitly, to confent thereunto, by reason of that extraordinary fign of fire, which was given from heaven, v. 38. and by reason of the peoples open profession of the Lord : yea, also upon hope that rain might be given thereupon. V. 41. And Elijah [aid to Abab] Now that the main work get thee up ] For he was in a vale by the river.

est and drink ] It appears that the king, as well as others, had fasted all that day : so as now he adviceth him to refresh himfelf. So Act. 27. 34.

for there is a found of abundance of rain Or, a found of a noise of rain. Elijah heard some noise in the heavens, that fore-shewed much rain. This shew'd his affurance of rain neer approach-

V. 42. So Ahab went up to eat and to drink] He went from took this stile to himsell, (Exod. 3, 26.) to move the Ifraclites, the fore-said valley, to his palace at Jezrael, v. 46. and Elijah went up to the top of Carmel ] He went from the people, which were below, that he might be the more retired for prayer. So Christ, Matt. 17.1. Elijahs minde was more upon God, to give him thanks for hearing his prayer, verf. 36, 36. and further to call upon him for rain, then upon himself, to refresh his body by cating and drinking. He also went up to the top of a mountain, that he might the fooner fee Obegoin y that we impact to known and acknowledges to be what he way. The people, before this, took Baal to be the bewas the way. The people, before this, took Baal to be the God in [fract.

and that I am the [arount] This is the feeond motive, that and he put his face between his knees ] He bowed his face to the very earth whereon he kneeled, testifying thereby both his deep humiliation, and also his servent devotion. He was affured that rain was coming; yet is be carnelt in using means for obtaining it, Jam. 5.18. So 2 Sam.7.27. Dan.9.2,3. Ezek 36.36.37.

V. 43. And said to his servant Heb. young man. So ch. 19. 3. & 10. 14. He fends his fervant to watch ; because he meant himself to continue in prayer.

go up now] He sends him to the highest part of the mountain, that he might fee the first rife of a cloud, for he longed to fee fome evidence of the return of his prayer.

look towards the Sca ] Westward, whence clouds of rain first arife. See Luk. 12. 55. and he went up and looked, and [aid, there is nothing] God and confirmed the burnt factifice and the wood ] This shews, and continuance in prayer, puts off for a time, what at length doth not alwaies hear prayer instantly; but to stir up fervency would hold out, Luk. 18.1. and licked up the water that was in the trench] Though the drie V. 44. And it came to pafe at the seventh time that he said ]

What at first is not granted, by perseverance may be ob- | filled with admiration of the great miracle, and of the bleffine behold there rifeth a little cloud out of the Sea like a mans hand I God by degrees gives evidence of his purpole Small beginnings may have a great increase, Zach. 4.10.

and be faid, go up, fay unto Ahab] He gives notice to the King at the very beginning; because he knew it was joyful tydings, and because he would have Ahab prevent all damage that might arile from the fhowr.

ercoarethy chariot Heb. tye or binds. The meaning is, that he should cause his horses to be brought forth, and the chariot to be fastned to them, that he might speedily be carried away.

and get thee down ] Elijah was on the top of the hill, and Ahab remained on a fide thereof. See v. 42. Besides, this phrase implyeth, that Jezreel was in a vale, at lest lower then this place. that the rain ftop thee not ] This implyeth, that it was a very great rain that was now to be given to the earth, such an one as might have hindred the king from going to his palace.

as inight have innured the sting from going to his palace.
V. 45. and it came to pafs in the mean while] While Ahab was preparing his chairor, which was no long time. that the beaven was black with clouds and wind] Those were ordinarinary means and tigns of rain. annual to the arth was exceeding dry for as it flood in need to the window whiteful into the world defined in need to the window whiteful into the wilderness.

The was a great arm of the carth was exceeding dry for as it flood in need to the windows whiteful into the wilderness. and came and fare under a junifer recipion to the windows whiteful into the windows wilderness. and there was a great rain ] There had been a long and great cause to bestow them) according to mans need. Judgement is Gods strange act (Ifai.28.11) He delights not alwaies to had an especial respect to them. See Gen. 18.26. 2 King. 3.14. 3. The people were brought to renounce their idolatry, v. 39. 4. Execution was done on Idolaters. See Num. 25. 8. Pial. 106. 30. This rain being a fruit of Elijahs prayer, (Jam. 5.17, miferable life. 18.) may be accounted a miracle; and fo it makes up the fixt and Abab rode and went to Jegreel] Jezneel was a city in the and now true and went to jectres jecties was a city in the tribe of Islachar ( Jos. 19 18.) where one of the kings houses was, ch. 21.1. 2 King. 8.9. & 9.30.

V. 46. And the hand of the Lord was on Elijah ] The Spirit of the Lord was after an especial manner in him, which made him more then ordinarily nimble and fwift. See 2 King. 8.3, 16.

and he eirded up his logns ] He tucked up his long fide-coat, that it might be no hinderance to him, 2 King. 4. 19. & 9. 1.

Jer. 1. 17.
and ran before Abab] So as he out-ran him, though he were in a chariot.

to the entrance of Jegreel] Heb. till thou come to Jegreel. He went not into the city; for he knew Jezebels hateful and cruel disposition, thereby he was kept from lodging in Jezreel.

CHAP. XIX.

Verl. 1. And shab told Jezebel] A timerous husband, first tels his imperious wife what was done, that the might first have notice of it in the fairest manner that he could; for by some other it, might in such manner have been related, as she thereby be exasperated, not onely against Elijah, but also against her husband that suffered him to do what he all that Elijah had done] All the particulars, before mentioned, about the Altar, facrifice, fire, peoples acclamation, flaughter of Baals prophets, prediction of rain, and coming to Jezreel. and withall, how be bad flain ] He layes the flaughter of Baalsprophets on Elijah, to put off the blame thereof from all the prophets with the fword. ] All that are mentioned, ch.

at the propose in the proposed of the proposed warning before hand : but God can in-fatuate wicked ones, and disappoint their mischievous intents.

[olet the gods] For the was a worthipper of many gods : as all that for lake the true God, use to be, ch, 20. 10 do to me and more alfo] This is a firm of oath, wherein the vengeance imprecated, is implyed in this particle, fo, as if more fully the had faid, to a I the tanded to him, let it do do not one. humane frailites; in which refrect, the journey would have See ch. 2, 23. Wicked ones are forward to binde themselves proved too long indeed, unlefs God had inabled him to hold to do mischief, 2 King. 6 31. Act. 23.12.

if I make not thy life, as the life of one of them ] By this relative them, the means the prophets of Baal that were flain, chap.

18.40. She threatens his death.

it; because the knew both the kings and peoples minde were of rain following thereupon.

V. 3. And when he fam that ] When he perceived by Jozehels raessage, what she meant to do.

he role and went for bit life] To keep himfelf fafe from her fus Or, according to his foul, even whither his minde carried him. This he might do lawfully. See ch. 17.3. If fear, by reason of the infirmitiy of his flesh, made him flie, God might in wifedom leave him to himself, lest through the great things done before by him, he should be exalted above measure, as 2 Cor.

and came to Beer [heba which belongeth to Fudah] This is a city in the tribe of Simeon, but within the inheritance of Judah. John 19.1,2. It was at the utmost border, as is evident by this frequent phrase, from Dan to Beersbeba ; It was on the South, opposite to Geba, 2 King. 23.8.

And left his (creant there] Heb. his boy. See ch. 18.43. Many of the ancients, and others, suppose this servant of Elijah to have been the widow of Zerephath's fon, mentioned, ch. 17.23. He left him here to provide for himfelf, and that the boy might not be any occasion of discovering his Master.

V. 4. But he himself went a dayes journey into the wilderness It feems that the Prophet was in a great strait, that he durst not trust himself in the land of Israel, nor in the land of Judah:

and came and fate under a juniper tree ] The hebrew word here translated a juniper tree, is uled, Pfal. 120. 4 and Job. 20. caure to sensor unem) accoung to main north. Jungement user to maintain a proper tree, a use of 12.11.12.4, and Job 30. is Gods frange act (Lial. 28. 21) He delights not always to 1. it is no broad-spreading tree; but was the belt flower continue therein. Lam. 3, 3, 5, 3, 3, 4. Befides, there was a three delight of the could finde. It is faid, that ferpents will not mixture of pious ones with the impious, v. 4. ch. 19. 18. God | come neer it, and therefore he might the more fecurely lye un-and be requested for himself | Heb. for his life. He prayed to God, that God would be pleased to take him our of his mortal that be might dye ] This questionless was an effect of his frail-

ty. The like is noted of Jonah, Jon. 4-3.

and faid it is enough] That I have hitherto lived. See Deut.

O Lord take away my life ] This expresseth the former phrase, be requested for himself.

for I am not better then my fathers] Of no better flock or conflitution then my Predecessors that have dyed before me. It may be that he was now a very old man, elder then most of his predeceffors, and thercupon presseth this petition. Now that he is out of the clutches of persecuting Idolaters, so as they could not triumph in taking him away, he defires fairly to

V. 5. And as he lay and fleps Being fo weary as he was, he might well fleep in the open field, as Jacob, Gen. chap. 28.

under a Juniper tree] See v. 4. behold then an Angel touched him] As before (ch. 17. 6, 15.) he was provided for by a raven and a widow extraordinarily; fo now by an Angel: God bath many wayes to provide for and faid unto him, arife] See ch. 14.2. and eat ] It appears by this, that he was an hungred. God proves his by one trial after another.

V. 6. And he looked and behold] This was the more remarkable, because he knew not how that which was set before him, was provided for him.

there was a cake baken on the coales ] Heb. a cake of coals. Whether the coals, whereon this cake was baken, were before his eyes, is not certain. An Angel could quickly bring it hot from a remote place.

and a cruise of water ] For this was as necessary for his thirst, as the cake for his hunger. at his bead ] Heb. Bolfter. This bolfter.was certainly no other then such an one as Jacob had, Gen. 28.11. and he did eat and drink] What God provides for man, must accordingly be used. and laid him down again] Namely, to fleep. V. 7. And the Angel of the Lord came again the second time]

God followeth his fervants with his bleffings. and touched bim] To awaken him , for he fell afleep a and faid, arife and eat ] Eat liberally, that thou maift be the stronger, and thy strength the longer continue.

because the journes is too great for thee] This he faith in relation to the Prophets weakness. He was a man and subject to

V. 8. And he arefe and did eat and drink ] He obeyed Gods charge, and rested upon Gods affistance.

and went in the strength of that mear ] By that vertue and effiby somerrow about this time. She would not then attempt cary which God gave thereunto. It may be that meat and water remained fourty dayes in his body, and continued to Chap. xix. nourish him, as the meal in the barrel, and oyl in the cruife shot vapours inclosed in the earth. It is more tetrible then continued three years, ch. 17. 14,15. fourty dayes and fourty nights ] So much time was spent in going to, and abiding in Horeb. So leng time continued Mofes without food, (Exod. 24, 28.) and Chrift alfo, Mat. can add terror to terror. 4. 2. See ch. 17. 1. This was Elijahs feventh miracle. See ch. 17. I.

unto Horeb] This was a mountain in the defare of Sinai, Ex. 3.1. & 19.2. See ch. 8.9.
the mount of God? Where God appeared to Moses (Exo. 3.

1, 2.) and delivered the law to Ifrael, Deut. 4. 10, 15. V. 9. And he came thither unto a cave | Of a cave, fee ch, 18. 4. This cave is supposed to be that place where the Lord shewed his glory to Moles, Exod. 33.21,22.

and lodged there | For this was a more convenient place there the open air in a defart. and behold, the word of the Lord came to him, and he faid unto him? This is an Hebrew pleonafme, to give the greater affurance, that God immediately foake to him. Some take this to be spoken in way of reproof for Elijahs neg- Exo. 3. 6. Efa, 6. 2. lecting his charge. But if God had difliked Elijahs travelling in the Wilderneis, he would not by his extraordinary providence have inabled him to undertake fuch a journey as he did, and to abide fourty dayes in the Wilderness, verf.

7, 8. V. 10. And he faid, I have been very jealous] Heb. being jealous, I am jealque. Of jealoufie, See ch. 14, 22, Hereby he theweth, that Gods honour was as tender to him, as a wives honest to her husband. So Numb chap. 25. ver. 11. Psal.

for the Lord God of hosts ] See ch. 18, 15, for the children of Israel have, &c. ] Three great crimes are alledged as occasions of Elijahs jealousse against Israel. In which respect, Elijah is said to make intercession to God against Ifrael, Rom. 11. 2. for [aken thy covenant] This is the first crime. Of covenant, thrown down thine altars] This is the fecond crime. Such Altars are here meant, as in former times had been erected to that which follows about the revenge of idolaters, to flay and the Lord; which the idolatrous Israelites, as an evidence of preferring Baal before God, had impioufly demolished, chap. 18. 26, 30. Some take alrars to be here, put by a trope, for the worthip of God.

and flain thy Prophets with the [word] This is a proverbial speech, which comprize th under it any kinde of death, whether by sword, stones, sire, or any other like instruments. This is the third crime, and it was a crying fin, Gen. chapter 4. ver. 10. The first crime argued their folly in rejecting the mercy of God to them, confifting in his Covenant made with his children. The fecond crime, fnewed their impiety against God. The third, their cruelty against the best and I even I only am left ] Rom. 11.3. This he fpeaks according to his own apprehension. He was alone, for ought he knew to the contrary. None shewed themselves in Gods cause, when Elijah most zealously stood for it. Sec chap, 18.

and they feel; my life to take it away ] Perfecutors of Saints care not to leave any of them alive. The more eminent Saints are, the more they feek to deftroy them.

V. II. And he faid | God again faid to Elijah go forth] For the Prophet had repoled and fetled himfelf in and fland upon the mount ] Mount Horeb, v. 8. before the Lord | Where the Lord will manifest his pre-and behold] See ch. 14. 10. Gods terror is not to be flighthe Lord paffed by ] In fome fenfible manifestation of his prefence. Such a thing is called the glory of the Lord, Exo. 33.

and a great and frong wind, &c. ] Such evidences of terror are here fet down, as were at the delivery of the law, Exo. 19 18. Heb. 12. 18, &c. They were to fhew the power of God, to humble the Prophet, and to prepare him with better haed to hearken to the still voice.

rent the mountains, and brake in pieces the rocks | The wind is in the nature thereof but a vapour, yet how great things can before the Lord] Terrible is Gods presence, when he is pleafed to fhew forth his terror.

but the Lord was not in the wind I God did not manifest his presence by any distinct voice in that terrible wind; for the Prophet might have been more affrighted thereby, then in-wind; for by it trees, houses, mountains, and the firmest things on carth have been shaken and overthrown, Ifa. 29.6. Zach. 14. 5. Mar. 27. 51,54. Act. 16. 26. Luk. 11.13. God but the Lord was not in the earthquake | As he was not in the V. 12. And after the earthquake a fre | Fire is more terrible then either of the two former. Nothing more terrible to man and beaft; nothing more destructive. but the Lord was not in the fire As he was not in the fire, or the earthquake, The wind might prefigure Hazael the earth-the earthquake, in ewing migut prengure riazaei, the cattu-quake, Jehu the fire Elifla, v. 16, 17. and after the fire a fill finall voice]. A diffinct expression of Gods minde, that might without any terror be heard and underflood. This was after the forementioned terrible things, to raife him up whom before he had caft down.

V. 13. And it was so when Elijah heard it, that he wrapped bis face in his mantle] This mantle was his uttermost garment, What dost thou here, Elijah ? ] Heb. what to thee here. This as our clock. See v. 19. He turned ir over his head, in telliqueltion is propounded, to make way to the discourse following.

and went out and flood in the entring of the cave ] God com-manded Elijah to go forth and fland upon the mount, and questionless he in obedience to that charge was going forth; but upon the fight of the terrible wind, earthquake, and fire be flayed in the entring of the cave: but hearing the fill small voice he erected himself, and went out.

and behold there came a voice unto him, and faid] It was the forementioned fmall ftill voice that now again pake to him.

what dost thou here, Elijah? ] God here propounds this fame question that he did, v. 9. to produce a further proof of his zeal; so Christ dealt with Peter, for proof of his love, Joh. 21. 15.16.17.

V. 14. And be faid, I have been very jealous, &c. ] Elijah returns the fame answer that he did, v. 10. because it was the true reason of his being in that defart,

V. 17. And the Lord [aid unto him] In and by the aforesaid fill small voice. The directions following contain the substance of that which was uttered thereby. The Lord fore-tels made, v. 14.

go return] Hereby God gives him affurance of his life. whereof he doubted before on thy way ] Neither to Jezreel (ch. 18.46.) nor to Beersheba. v.3. from which places he came, but to that place to which God now directed him. For that is ones way in which God appointeth him to go.

to the Wilderness of Damaseus ] Which appertained to Damascus. See ch. 11, 24.

and when thou comess, amount Hazael to be King over Syria] Elijah might himself do what is bere enjoyned, as 1 Sam. 10.1. This is the more probable, because Elisha is commanded to go to the place where Hazael had his abode. Or, to anoint, may here intend no more then to take order that Hazael be apointed, or declared to be King. So much was done by the ministry of Elisha, 2 King. 8. 13, and that, questionless, by the appointment of Elijah.

V. 16. And Jehn the fon of Nimfhil Son is here put for grandchild, 2 King. 5. 2. So alfo 2 King. 8. 26. It feems, that Nimfhi was a man of note, and is therefore expressy named. [halt thou anoint to be King over Ifract] This was done(2 King. 9.6.) by one of the children of the Prophets fent by Elitha, who certainly received a charge from Elijah fo to do. and Elifts.] Luk. 4.27. called Elizeus. the fon of Shaphat.] This was an ancien, and an honourable name, Numb. 13. 5.

of Abel meholab] Mention is made of this place, chap. 4.

fhalt thou anoint to be Prophet ] This may literally be taken, or figuratively, the fign put for the thing fignified; and fo it implies, that Elifha fhould folemnly ordain or appoint Elifha to in thy room] To succeed thee, and do such things as thou (if alive on .arth) shoulds do. Though the Israelites were at this time greatidolaters, yet would not God leave them without an eminent Propher.

V. 17. And it hall come to pass, that him that escapeib the fivord of Flagget shall febu slay The greatest destruction that Hazael wrought in Ifrael, was at the end of Jehu's raign (a King, 10.3 s.) and after his raign, 2 King. 13.3. Yet Hazael began to deftroy Ifrael before Jehu's time, 2 King. 8.18. and many of those who escaped Hazaels hand, Jehnslew, as Joran and others, 2 King. 0.24, &c. and him that escapeth from the frond of John shall Elisha say ] Some apply this to the two and fourty children flain by Bears and after the wind an earthquake] An earthquake is made by upon Elifha's curfe, 2 King, 2.24. &c. Others apply it to the Chap. xx.

multitude that perished by the famine in Samaria, which was | called to a great and extraordinary work, which was not in any laid upon Elifha, 2 King. 6. 31. but both thefe being before Jehu's time, this that is here spoken of Elisha's staying, is to be taken of his prophetical denouncing divine vengeance against fuch Liraelites, as remained idolaters, even after Jehu had destroyed the house of Ahab. So is this word taken, Isa.

Chap, xix.

11. 4. Jer. 1. 10. Hof. 6.5. 11.4. Jet. 1. 10. 1101.5.
V. 18. Tet I have left me] Or, I will leave. Rom. 11.4.
In the general apoltacy of the litzelites God referved and kept many from the evil of the time. But because these were not openly known, Elijah hought there were none left but him-for greater expedition; for they were readieft at hand, and felf. In a like cale it is faid, that all Ifract for fook the Lord, fittell to burn. 2. To fix w that he willingly parted with all 2 Chron, 12. 1. This God declared to E ijah as an answer to his complaint, v. 10. So much the Apostle affirmeth, Rom, 11. 4. and inferreth, that there may remain many chofen of God in corrupt times, though they be not apparently different by men. This also at this time God makes known to Elijah, to support and encourage him against his many fears and dangers, and to make him willing to go on in his ministerial functi-

[even thousand in I [rack] Here a fet number is put for an indefinite number, as Matth: 18, 22. He means a very great all the knees which have not bowed unto Baal ] Bowing the knee is an external act of worthip, Pfa. 95.6. Such therefore as had not worthipped Baal, no not outwardly with their bodies, are here meant.

and every mouth which bath not kiffed bim] This right of kiffing, was used first to testifie great and entire affection, Gen. 48. 10. & 50.1. 2 Submiffive reverence, Exod. 18.7. 1 am. 10.1. 3 Willing and ready fub; ection, Pfa 2.12. In all thefe respects it was used by idolaters to their idols ; for they would of hug, imbrace, and kifs their idols, (Hof. 13 2.) and kifs their tect, or hands, or robes, as subjects do to their Soveraigns, and the meaner fort to the greater (Luk, 7.38.) yea and tellifie all manner of obedience. The denial of bowing the knee and kiffing with the mouth, flieweth, that they before mentioned, were fo far from fetting their bearts upon Baal, as they would not make flew by any outward right, of effeeming him to be a God. They no way conformed themselves to the idolatry of the times

V. 19 So be departed thence and found Elisha] It appears, that Elijah went immediatly from the mount of God to the place of Elisha's abode , and after that to Damascus, whither he was directed v.15. This is an evidence of Gods providence, that he should so seasonably meet with Elisha, See chapter 11. the fon of Shiphat] See v. 16.

who was plowing with twelve yoke of Oxen before him] There were many plowes going in the field where Elisha was, and ieveral persons attending the several plows.

and he with the twelfth | Elifha was with the last plow, from thence God called him to be a Prophet. See Amos 7.14. Mat.

and Elijab paffed by bim and cast his mantle upon him ] Of this mantle Sce verf. 13. It was that garment whereby he was known to be a Prophet, 2 King, 1. 8. Zach. ch. 13. verf. 4. This he cast upon Elisha, as a sign of his calling to be a Pro-

V. 20. And be left the oxen To those others that were in company, and plowing with him, or attending upon him-and ran after Elijah Hereby he shewed that the Spirit of God had entred into him, upon Elijah's casting his mantle on him; so Mat. 4, 20,22. & 9.9. and said. let me I pray thee kiss my father and my mother] He craves leave to take a fair farewell of his friends. Of old friends were wont at their first meeting to kiss one another, Exod. 18.6.7. and also at their departure one from another, Gen. 21.28. He was to wrought upon by this call, as he would not do an ordinary act of civility to his friends, without leave of bim whom now he took to be his mafter.

and then I will follow thee] I will wholly attend upon thee. In that Elifha upon Elijah's cafting his mantle upon him, left all and followed him, it may be put into the Catalogue of Elijah's miracles, and fo it maketh up his eight miracle. See and be faid unto him | Elijah faid to Elifha.

go back again] Heb. go, return, He gives him liberty to do what he defired. Hereby it appears that Elisha defired to go to his friends with another minde, then he that being called of Christ, faid, let me first go bid them farewel, which are at homeat my house, Luk. 9.61. He made that a pretext to depart clean away from Christ, or at least to make delay : but Elifha intends only a friendly and fpeedy farewell.

for what have I done to thee ? ] To hinder thee from what thou defireft. Hereby Elijah sheweth, that he no way hindred Elisha from doing what he defired; only the Spirit of God was come upon him, and he might know thereby that he was cafe to be put off, Luk. 9.60.

V. 21. And he returned back from him] Elisha for a time went from Elijah to his fathers house. and took a yoke of oxen and flew them ] It is probable that thefe were the oxen with which he plowed; and hereby he would thew that he clean left his former calling. and borled their fielb with the inframents of the exen | By the inframents he meanerh the plow it felt, and all the woodden things that appertained thercunto. Thefe he then ufed, first.

things that were ufeful for his former calling. and gave unto the people ] To his kindred, companions, and neighbours, as a farewell feast, So Luk, 5, 29.

and they did eat ] This flows that he made a feaft, and he arofe | So foon as he had entertained his friends , he made no longer delay, but departed from them. See ch. 14 17. and went after Elijab | According to his promife, v. 20. This he did that he might the better observe Elijah's carriage in his function, and be more and more instructed by him.

and ministred unto him? As a continual attendant being willing and ready to do him any fervice.

CHAP, XX.

Verf. 1. And Benhadad This was the fon of that Benha-dad (v. 34.) who spoiled fundry Cities in Israel, ch. 15. 20. And this was he whom cruel Hazael murdered, and fucceeded, 2 King, 8,15.

the King of spria] Heb. Aram. gathered all his hoste together] All forts of Souldiers in his and there were thirty and two Kings with bim] These were Kings of Cities, Counties, or Provinces; fuch as Joshua deflroyed in Canaan, Josh. 1 2.7, &c. The kinde of government, which was by one alone, and not the largeness of their dominion, gave them the title of Kings.

and horfes and Chariots | These were fuch as belonged both to the King of Ifrael himfelf, and also to every of the other Kings. All thele joyned together, must needs make a very great army. and he went up | For Samaria was on an hill, ch. 16.24.

and besieged Samaria] Of Samaria, See ch. 16.29. This being the head city of the Kingdom, Benhadads befieging it, thews that he aimed at the whole Kingdom, as 2 King. 17.5. and warred against it He made batteries and assaults against

V. 2. And he fent meffengers to Ahab king of Ifrael] Hereby he pretends a minde to article upon conditions.

into the City ] By the meffengers entring into the city, it appears that both Benhadad and Ahab were upon some treaty. and faid unto him, thus faith Benhadad] This phrafe implyeth, that the enemy would treat upon his terms only.

V. 3. Thy filver and thy gold is mine ] This according to the letter, implyes the Kings treasure only. thy wives also and thy children, even the goodliest are mine] This may imply, that he would have them to be at his command and disposing.

V. 4. And the King of Ifrael answered, and faid, my Lordo King This is an acknowledgment of feoalty and subjection of the King of Ifrael to the King of Syria. according to thy [aying] As I conceive the purport of the mef-fage to be. I am thine] As a tributary King to thec.

and all that I have I hold all in feoalty under thee. Fear made him take his enemies demand in the best sense; and in that fense to yield to his demand.

V. s. And the messengers came again and said, thus saith Ben-hadad, Benhadad perceiving how for the King of Kraol yielded unto him, now stands upon higher terms, and answer-ably fends another meffage.

although I have fent unto thee faying, thou shalt deliver me thy sliver, and thy gold, and thy wives, and thy children] Though my message be so interpreted by thee, as if I intended no more then homage and feoalty to be yielded by thee to me; yet my purpose is to have the possession of all, as v. 6.

V. 6. Tet. I will fend my fervants unto thee to morrow about this time | Thefe he would fend without any long delay, to take poffession of what he demanded. and shey fhall fearch thine boufe ] To fee what is laid up therein.

He would not truft Ahab upon his word.

and the houses of thy servants ] This he adds more then he did in his first message, which makes Ahab to slick thereupon ; for he supposed that he might make a tumult among his subjects, if without their confeuts, he should grant away that which was proper to them.

and it fhall be, that whatfoever is pleafant \ Heb. defireable. insbine ejes J. That which thou dofireft to keep, and are loth Chap. xx. they [hall put it in their hand and take it away] They shall take [ God foretold deliverance & victory following left Ahab should it up from thee, to bring it to me.

V. 7. Then the King of Ifrael called all the Elders of the land? It feems that he had over raffily, of his own head, returned the former answer. But now observing the enemy to increase more and more upon him, he takes better advice, and that of his ancient grave counsellors that were with him in the city, whom here he calls Elders, See ch.8.1.

and faid, Mark, I pray you, and feehow this man feeketh mifchief He gives him this title, This man, in contempt; and theweth, that though he pretended tearms of agreement, yet oft put for attendants or fervants; as ch. 18. 43. John 1. 1. he fought not victory and Soveraignty only over them , but their utter ruine and defruction.

for he sent unto me for my wives, and for my children, and for my liver, and for my gold [ For me to acknowledg him to have such a right in them, as I to hold them under him.

and I denyed him use] Heb. I kept not back from him. I refufed not to yield to that which at first I conceived him to sim ar, namely, to make me and mine tributary to him

V. 8. And all the Elders, and all the people [aid unto him] Ahab propounded his case to the Elders in the audience of the people. hearken not unto him nor confent ] To his latter demand ; fland it out rather to the ortermoff

V. 9. Wherefore he faid unto the meffengers of Benhadad, Tell my Lord the King | Though Ahab could not like Benhadads immy Lova to a Ang I nough Made could not like benhadads im-perious demands; yet being afraid to provoke him further, he continues his acknowledgment of fubjection unto him. all that thou didft fend for to the fervant at the first, I will fend] He means that he would willingly yield himself and all his to be tributary to the King of Syria, See v. 4.

but this thing ] To put all prefently into thine hand. I may not do | He durft not be over refolute in faying, I will not; but too too timerously he faith, I may uot. and the meffengers departed and brought him word again | They related to Benhadad the fecond answer of Ahab.

V. 10. And Benhadad fent unto him, [aying,] The proud enemy, too confident upon the greatness of his army, accepts no mitigation, but stands upon the uttermost of his own demands.

the gods do so unto me and more also | See ch. 10.2 if the dust of Samaria shall suffice for handfuls for all the people ? This is a proverbial speech, full of insolency; whereby to affight his enemy the more, he boasteth of the multitude of his Souldiers; as if he had faid, I fwear, that I will bring more Souldiers into Samaria, then there are handfuls of dust therein. Or, I will so beat down the Castles, wals, and houses, as of the army to follow them. They joyn together, as a forlorn every of my Souldiers shall not take up a handful of dust from that follow me | Heb. that are of my feet. Exod, 11.8, Judg

V. 11. And the King of Ifracl answered and said \ Now he takes more courage to himfelf, and forbears that flavish title.

tell him, Let not him that girdeth on his harnefs, boaft himfelf, as be that patteth it off ] This is another proverbial speech, which shews that the issue of war is uncertain, and that it is a point of folly, to triumph before the battle be ended.

V. 12. And it came to pass when Benhadad heard this message Heb. word. For the message was delivered not in writing but by word of mouth.

(as he was drinking, he and the Kings in the pavilion ] Heb. sents. It appears v. 16. that he drunk to excellinely, as he was drunken; in which respect he could not wel give good direction, that he faid to his fervants, fet your felves in array ] Or , place the Engines; and they placed Engines.

and they fet themselves in array against the city] They approached neerer to the wals of the city, and set their Engines to batter irdown

V. 13. And behold ] It is very remark ble that God should fend a Prophet to him, under whose government the Prophets of the Lord were cut off, ch. 18. 4.

there came] Heb. approached. He might be in Samaria before, but now, being fent of the Lord, he approacheth neerer to the King, and comes into his prefence.

a Prophet He means a true Prophet of the Lord. He might be one of those whom Obadiah hid, ch. 18. 4. Some take him to be Michaigh, ch. 22.8.

unto Ahab King of Ifracl, Jaying, thus faith the Lord \ Not Baal. but Jehovah the Lord. Herein Gods goodness is manifelted to an impious King.

hast thou seen all this great multitude?] By warch-towers in Samaria they might well differn the whole compass of the enemies camp. This interrogation is to move him the better to heed the message. To which he intends the note of attention following it.

Behold, I will deliver it into thine hand this day] He fees down the prefent time of vanquilhing that army, the more to pul down the pride and infolency of Benhadad; manifested v.6,10. and then fall know that I am the Lord This was the end why Prophet which first foretold this victory, v. 13.

atcribe it to his idels, or to chance. See v. 28. There was enough done (ch. 18.39.) to make Ahab and all Ifrael know that the Lord was God; but wicked ones foon forget the evidences which God giveth of himfelf, though never to clear. V. 14. and Abab faid , by whom ] The most wicked in their diffres can feek direction of God.

and he faid, Thus faith the Lord ] The Prophet would not give directions of himfelf, but what he had received from the Lord. even by the young men ] Heb. fervants. The Hebrew word is of the Princes of the Provinces The young men here meant. were either the fons of the Princes; or their Pages and attendants. In mans opinion such were most unfit for such a work. Experienced Captains and Commanders in war might have been thought to have been more fit; but God fo ordered it. that the victory might more manifeltly appear to be from him.

Sam. 2. 13, 15.

So Judg, 7. 2.
sben he faid] Ahab still seeks in his great strait to be more and more fully inflructed by God.

who [hall order th: bastle] Heb. binde, or, tye. That is, fet in array, as (2 Chr. 13.3.) and lead out, and fet first on the enemy. and he answered, Thou. ] He means the King himself, that so the young men might the more willingly underrake that task. V. 15. Then he numbred the young men of the Princes of the Provinces This is an evidence of Ahabs giving credit to the word of the Lord. and they were two hundred and thirty two] These were to be Captains and leaders unto the reft and after them he numbred all the people, even all the children of Ifrael | He means fuch as were fit to bear arms in Samaria, being (even thousand ] This was but a small number to set upon fo great an army as lay against Samaria. This is the number of those that remain faithful with the Lord, ch. 19.18, and thereupon fome infer, that thele were those very fame persons, but without fufficient ground.

V. 16. And they went out at noon] This was the time wherein it was likely that the enemy would be more bufie about refreshing his body, then preparing for war; and so it fell out, as the words following thew.

the words tollowing inew.

but Benhadad was drinking himfelf drunk, &c.] See v. 12.

V. 17. And the young men of the Princes of the Provinces were out fift] God put such courage into them, to embolden the rest hope, first to set upon the enemy.

and Benhadad sent out ] For he had intelligence that some marched out of the city, as the words following thew. and they told him, saying, The scouts, that were to espy what the enemy did, gave him notice of their coming out. there are men come out of Samaria ] It is probable, that only the aforesaid forlorn hope had then appeared out of the city.

V. 18. And he [aid] This is spoken of Benhadad. whether they be come out for peace take them alive] It was against the law of arms to surprize ambassadors of peace. Their mesfige should have been heard, if they had come for peace.

or whether they be come out for war ] In his pride he thinks hey were not able to make a battle, take them alive ] By this it feems, that he feared no opposition, but he would have them fo taken, as he might put them to death, or imprison them, or otherwise deal with them, as he should fee cause. V. 19. So these young men of the Princes of the provinces came out of thecity, See v. 14.

and the army which followed them] Namely, the feven thou-fand mentioned v. 15. V. 20. And they flew every one his man Both the young men. and the rest of the people that followed them, did so. They slew feven thousand two hundred thirty and two at the least, even as many of the enemies that came to apprehend them, as they

and the Syrians fled ] This first success which the Israelites and upon fome Syrians, possessed the rest with such fear, as they durft not stand to it.

and Ifrael pursued them] They followed the good success which they had in the beginning. See I Chr. 13, 19.

and Benhadad the King of Syria escaped on an horse with the horsemen] They which had means of a speedy flight, less the rest of the army to thist for themselves.

V. 21. And the King of Ifrael went out] With fuch troops of horfe as he had, he purfued the enemy. and [more the hor for and chariots ] This fhews that all the horfemen escaped nor.

and flow the Syrians with a great flaughter \ For when feat once possesset an enemy, and makes him fly, he is made a prey to fuch as purfue him.

V. 22. And the Prophet came to the King of Ifrael That

Chap. xx.

and (aid unto bim) Having by divine revelation knowledg of the enemies purpoles, 2 King, 6.12.

go, firengton thy [elf] This may be applyed both to external preparations, and also to spiritual duties of turning unto God, and feeking divine affiftance. With outward means, faith, repentance, and prayer must be joyned.

and mark and fee what they doef! Be not fecure and careless.

as if thou were altogether free from all fear of any more for at the return of the yeer \ When the time is feafonable for war, I Chr. 20.1. See 2 Sam. 11.1.

the King of Syria will come up against thee | Enemies once spoyled, if they can rectuit their army, will not reft; but try again and again, how they may recover their loss, See 1 Chr.

V. 22. And the fervants of the King of Syria faid unto him ] They are forward to put on their King to another battel, and yet confider not what were the most proper causes of their overthrow; as their infolency, fenfuality, intemperancy, fecurity, and the like vices.

their gods are gods of the hils, therefore they were stronger then me] The heathen conceived that there were a multitude of gods. Some for the ayr, fome for the waters, fome for the earth ; fome dwelling upon hills, who would therefore protect their dwelling places. This they fay of Ifraels gods, because the Ifrael tes had many high places on hils where they worthiped their gods. but let us fight against them in the Plain] For Samaria (about which they fought before) was on a mountain, ch. 16.24 and finely Heb. if not. This is a concile speech, ordinarily used in forms of oaths. To make up the sense something must be fupplyed ; as fee, or try. So Gen. 14.22.

he (hall be (fronger then they ] Their prefumption upon a fuperstitious conceit, implungeth them into a greater danger then

V. 24. And dothis thing, take the Kings away, every min out of bis place | Kings use not to be expert and hardy enough for difficult and dangerous exploits; Nor fo submissive to military Discipline, as Captains. And as for the Kings used before by the Syrians, they had been by their intemperancy, an ill example to the rest of the army, v.16.

and put Captains in their rooms | They mean Captains of Benhadads own Dominions and under his subjection, which were like to fland out the battle more couragiously.

V. 25. And number theu an army like Like in number , proweffe and in all warlike abilities.

the army that thou hast lost ] Heb. that was faln. They who being flain fall in the field, are as men loft, they are of no ule, they can afford no help.

bor [e for bor [e, and chariot for chariot] It feems that they were before as well prepared and furnished as they could be, and therefore they defire but the like.

and we will fight againft them in the plain, and furely, &c.] See

w. 23.
and he hearkened ome their weice, and did fo ] Their councel semed to be so good to him as he saw no reason to gain say

V. 16. And it came to pass at the return of the yeer] See v.22. that Berhadad numbred the Syrians ] Prepared an army of his own fubi ets.

and went up to Aphek | Aphek is a city in the tribe of Ashur, bordering upon the Sydonians, John 13. 4. & 19. 30. Here fundry of the Canaanies continued to dwell, Judg. 1. 31. At this time the Syrians had some command therein. See v. 30. He might choose the plain neer this city, there to set his battle in array, that in case he should be again put to flight, he might have that City as a refuge to fice unto, and so he did,v.30.
so fight against Ifrael Heb. to war with Ifrael. That they might recover their former loss, v. 10,11. V. 27, And the children of I [rael were numbred] Were brought into array. and were all present ] Or, were viffualled. This may be meant of persons or things: Thus, all that were appointed came to the bartel or, all necessaries were provided for them; or, all and went against them] To meet them, and enter battle againft them and the children of Ifrael pitched before them, like two little flocks of kids ] They are faid to be like little flocks, because they were few in number, compared to the large hofte of the Syrians. They are faid to be flocks of kids, because they were weak; not furnished with such war-like provisions, as the vrians were : fo as in number of fouldiers, and war-like preparations, were: 10 at unumber one clouders; also was-tiere preparation; what demerpion turn! Any words that they might work upon, the Syrians number caseed the Harliere. Some conceive, that of me flocks were of the two hunder and thirty, and the flocks were of the two hunder and thirty, and the flocks were of the two hunders and thirty, and the flocks were of the two hunders and the flocks are the flocks and the flocks and the flocks and the flocks are the flocks are the flocks and the flocks are the flock

V. 28. And there came a man of God ] This was the Prophet mentioned, v. 13,22.

and thake unto the King of Ifrael and faid. Thus faith the Lord Thus he shews, that he came not of his own head, but came from God, and delivered Gods word : that to the more credit might be given to it.

because the Sprians bave said, the Lord is God of the hills \ See but he is not God of the valleys] Herein they do derogate much from God, as if he could not manifest his power when and where he pleafe.

therefore will I deliver all this ereas multitude into thine hand? This inference shews, that God had not respect to the Israelites. (who were gross idolators, both King and people, and nororioully wicked) but to his own name, in giving the fuccess which he did; for his name being blasphemed by the enemies, he would take just vengeance on them. See Ezek. chap. 26.21.

and ye [hall know that I am the Lord] Sec v. 13. Two reasons are here rendred of Gods giving the Syrians into the hands of the Ifraelites , one to discover the vanity of that conceit which the enemies had of God; the other to give evidence to the Ifraelites, that the Lord was the only true God. V. 20. And they pitched one over against the other] By this it appears, that the two armies flood facing one another, and expecting which should make the first onset. [even dayer] So long they continued in battle array, as I Sam.

17.2, 3. It must needs be, that one of those dayes was the Sabbath, as Jofh 6.15.

and fo it was, that in the feventh day the battle was formed ? This was the feventh day of their standing in battle array, and not the seventh day of the week, called the Sabbath and the children of Ifrael flew of the Syrians an bundred thouland footmen in one day | These were many more then every one his man, as v. 20. The flaughter was a very great flaughter.

man, as v. 20. In a laugater was a very great laugater.

V. 30. But the reft field to Apphel, into the City ] This sheweth, that Aphels was now in the Syrians power. See v. 26.

and there a wall fell upon twenty and feven thousand of the men that were left ] This was the wall of the City; or at least of fome Forts and Towers. This wall might fall by Ifraels undermining it, or by some earthquake, or by the earth sinking under it, or by Gods fecret providence, as Josh 6.20. This place and Benhadad fled | See v. 20. and came into the city into an inner chamber | Or, from chamber to chamber. Heb. into a chamber within a chamber. He knew not where fecurely to abide, but went up and down and fought where he might best hide himself. See ch. 22.25. His pride is they fled unto for fuccour; but it proved destructive.

10w turned into fear. V. 31. And his fervants faid unto him] They observing him to be perplexed, give him the best advice they could.

behold now, we have heard that the Kings of the house of Israel are merciful Kings] Heb. Kings of mercy. This may be meant of David and Solomon, or there might be acts of mercy done by Kings of Ifrael to their enemies, which were famous among other nations, but are not recorded in facred Scripture; for icts of great cruelty done by Baasha, Zimri, and others, are regiftred in Scripture.

let us put I pray thee, put Sach-cloth on our loins ] This they advised to be done, in token of forrow, for taking up arms against Ifrael.

and repes on our beads | This, in token of their defert of and go out to the K ng of Israel They are careful to use all means for obtaining mercy of him, whom they thought to be merciful. And have not we heard, that God is mercifule Why then do not we penitently feek mercy of him?

peradventure he will fave thy life] They would make a trial of ohtaining that which they were not fure of.

V. 32. So they girded fackeloth on their loins, and put ropes on their heads ] See v. 3 1. They could readily follow good advice for their lives. and came to the King of Ifrael, and faid, thy fervant Benhadad (aith) He that before thought to have trampled on the King of that were in the former battel, were fafe, and none of them

Ifrael v. 6. now acknowledgeth himfelf to be his fervant. I pray thee let me live ] Nothing is now defired but meer marter, to have his life faved.

and be [aid, is be yet alive?] He supposed that he might bave seen flain with the multimide he is my brother] Of the same calling whereof I am, and one whom I respect as a brother, See ch. 9.13. How foolish a Courtefie this was, appears v. 42.

V. 33. Now the men did diligently observe, whether any thing would come from him] Any words that they might work upon, make a prefent reply.

Their speech is concise and imperfect; it is as if they had said, the king might the better heed the case, he whom thou youchfafest to call brother, yet liveth.

chen he faid | Ahab was fo ready to return his answer, as did not fray till they had made out their full speech, go yo and bring him] He fo utters these words, as they perceived that he intended good will to their King.

then Benhadad came forth to him ] Certainly he feared no and be caused him to come up into the Chariet] He adds to mercy great honour.

cy great nonour.

V. 34. And Benhadad faid unto bim, the Gities which my fa-ther took from thy father] The word, father, may be indefinite-ly taken for predecessor, and so this have relation to those Cities which Benhadad took from Baasha, ch. 15. 20. Or he might also take some Cities from Omri, which are not mentioned in the facred history. So the title, father, here in both places, is literally understood. I will restore] It appears by Benhadads holding Ramoth-Gilead, chap. 22. 4. that he did not to the full perform his

and thou shalt make streets for thee in Damaseus] He means places in Damascus for Israelites or others, upon Ahabs warrant, to walk and trade in; or markets, out of which Ahab might as he pleased, have tole : or places where Ahab might appoint Judges, to hear his peoples causes: or garrisons of as my father made in Samaria] By this it feems, that the former King of Syria had great power over the King of Ifrael, then said Ahab, I will send thee away with this coverant? He was too hafty in accepting fuch a covenant fo he made a covenant with him ] Having made a promife, to John mane a contensis with thing; traving mane a promise, to keep it was a just thing, and fess him sway] Set him free, to go to his own country again, and there to raign as before. Herein he dealt too remifly, as appears v. 42.

V. 35. And a certain man of the sons of the Prophets See ch.
18.4. He is called a Prophet, v. 38.

faid unto his neighbour ] By neighbour, is here meant one of the fame profession; even another of the sons of the Pro-in the word of the Lord ] By the Lords command, which he made known to his neighbour, as appears, v. 36.

[mite me I pray thee] So smite me as the stroke may be seen.

and they that look on me may perceive that I have been fmitten. He was difguifed, fo as they who faw him wounded, might take him to be a fouldier. Herein he was a fign to the Lord; and that he had told him as much.

Behold, as foon as thou are departed from me, a lyon shall flay thee] We read of a like judgement, ch. 13.24. See that place. This further prefigureth the extent of the judgement that should fall upon Ahab, even the taking away of his life, chap. 22. 34,37.

and as foon as he was departed from him, a lyon found him and flew bim | Gods threatnings are executed accordingly, and that offtimes speedily. See ch. 13.24.
V. 37. Then be found another man ] It is probable that this man was also one of the fons of the prophets. and faid, Smite me, I pray thee] This charge was also given upon the fame warrant, that is mentioned, v. 35. And the man [more him] This, being well done by this man, frews that Gods word must be obeyed, though it seem unreafonable to mans reason. fo that in smiting he wounded him Heb. smiting and wounding. He so wounded him, as blood sollowed thereupon. This a fervant of God was willing to endure at Gods command. So Christ, Ilai. 53.5. V. 38. So the Prophet departed, and waited for the king by the way ] This was the main end why he was fo wounded, that the king might fee it.

and difguifed himfelf with after upon his face. These ashes were so opinickled or laid on his face, befineered with blood, as it could not readily be known who he was. Hebrew Expofiters, fay, that he disguised himself with a cover on his face. See ch. 14.2. & 22.30. At the first he would not be known to the king who he was, that the king might the more impartially give his judgement on the cale propounded, and they faid, the brother Bonds [14] They wile the citle, bro-ther, in relation to that title which Ahab before had used. he faid] He was the more carnell in calling upon the king, that

The fervant went out into the midft of the battel. Sec. 1 He relateth his minde in way of a parable, that Ahab not differning how it concerned himfelf, might be made a Judge against himfelf,as David was, 2 Sam. 12.1.&c. and behold a man surned afide, ] By this man, he intends a commander in war, under whom he might ferve. and brought a man to me] By a man, here he intends a capive or priloner taken in war and faid, Keep this man ] Hold him faft, as a prisoner, that he nake not an elcape.

if by any means he be missed] Heb. if by missing he be mis-then shall thy life be for his life] He would have it supposed, that he himself was a Martial or officer to keep priloners taken in war : and by reason thereof his letting go of a prisoner was capital. To pay life for life, is to be put to death, Exod. 21, or elfethou [halt pay] Heb. weigh. For in those dayes, and those places, they passed money one from another by weighing ic. It feems that commanders in war, had in the cafe mentioned, power to ranfom a capital crime, by a fum of money.

atalent of filver ] That is, three hundred feventy and five pounds sterling. See ch. 16. 24. & 1 Chron. 22. 14.
V. 40. And as thy servant was buffe here and there, he was gone]

Heb. he was not. For he that escapes from another, if he cannot be found again, is as if he were not : He means that the prifoner flipt away.

And the king of Ifract said unto bim, so shall the judgement be] So as thou half faid; either to render thy felf, or a talent of thy felf haft desided it ] By testifying, that thou tookest the prisoner on the condition expressed. Thus the king also decided his cafe against himself.

V. 41. And he hafted ] So foon as that was effected which he intended, the prophet makes known himfelf.

and took the after away from ble face] By wiping his face clean, that fo it might be known who he was: If he had a cover on his face, that also he took away.

and the king of Israel discerned him, that he was of the prophets]

The king either knew him before; or elfe by some gesture or habit, proper to prophets, he came to know that he was a Pro-V. 42. And be said unto him, thus saith the Lord ] This he premifeth, to aftonish the king the more. Se ch. 11. 31. and might take muss.

ing of lifael, to firw that he also into our own.

ing of lifael, to firw that he also into our own.

ing of lifael, to firw that he also into our own.

ing of lifael, to firw that he also into our own.

ing of lifael, to firw that he also into our own.

ing of lifael, to firw that he also into our own.

ing our own.

18.) gave it also in charge, that the king, as well as other Syrians, should be destroyed. But if such an express charge were not given, yet the law expressely enjoyned as much Deut. 7. 2. The word whereby Achans fin is fer forth, (Josh. 7.1.) is here ufed. See 1 Sam. 1 1.18.&c.Benhadad is called a man of Gods curse,in sundry respects. 1. His ftock was a morral enemy to Gods people, 2 Sam. 8.5. & 10.6, 1 King. 11.25. Much enmity is hereafter noted of the Syrians against Ifrael. 2. This mans father had done great spoyl to Ifrael, ch. 15. 20. 3 He himfelf would have been a Lord over all lirael. His befreging of their head City, implyeth as much, See v.1. 4 He manifested extream infolency and cruelty, v. 6, 10. 5 He vilified the God of Ifrael, v. 28 therefore thy life shall go for bis life] See v. 39. In that thou hast suffered him to escape, thou thy self shall dye for it. See this accomplished, ch. 22. 34,8c.

and thypeople for his people] Sins of Kings oft prove very dangerous to people, 2 Sam. chap. 24. ver. 1. Ahabs people had made themselves accessary to his sin, and therefore were punifhed with him

V. 43. And the King of Ifrael went to his bouse, heavy, and displeased] At the Prophets words, whereby the joy and glory of the victory was turned away, as 2 Sam. 19.2. See chap.

and came to Samaria] Or, when he came. For the Kings Palace or house was in Samaria. Gods threatnings work upon the most stubborn, and dejects them.

Cup. xxi.

CHAP. XXI.

And it came to pass after these things ] The evidences which the Lord gave of himself to be Verf. 1. God,ch. 18.39. the bringing of rain, ch. 18. 45. the two virion. No mercies will throughly work upon impious per-that Nabeth the Ferreelite had a vineyard ] This clause doth not lo depend upon the fore-mentioned circumstance of time as if Nahorh had obteined his vineyard after those things before named; for he had it long before from his father, ver. 3. but it fets down the ground of Ahabs coveting it; as if it had been thus faid, Naboth having a vineyard, Ahab defired it.

which was in Ferreel | See ch. 18. 45. hard by the palace of Abab king of Samaria | By this means Ahabs eye was oft fet upon this vineyard, which made him the more to long after it. See Josh. 7. 21. Covetouinels is called the luft of the eyes, 1 Joh 2.16.

V. 2. And Abab spake unto Naboth, saying, Give me thy vineyard Ahab doth not intend that Naboth should freely give him the vineyard, but rather that he might have it by fale or that I may have it for a garden of herbs | Vineyards through to make it a pleafant place for him to walke in, and to fee varicty of herbs and flowers because it is neer unto my bouse See verf. 1. and I will give thee for it a better vineyard then it ] He means a vineyard better for prefit. This was a fair pretence.

or if it feen good to thee ] Heb. good in thine eyes. If thou shale conceive that more benefit doth accrue to thee by money.

I will give thee the worth of it in money. ] This shews, that his aym was not to have it freely, without valuable confidera-

V. 3. And Naboth faid to Ahab, The Lord forbil it me \ Heb. this be abomination to me from the Lord. That is, the Lord keep

Num. 26.7. Ezek. 46. 18.

V. 4. And Ahab came into his house, heavy and displeased] He was year fad, and discontented in his spirit, v. 5. See chap. 10.

43. because of the word which Naboth the Jezreelite had spoken unto he was perplexed in his spirit.

for he said, I will not give thee, &c. ] See v. 37.

an he said him down upon his bed] This is a place sit, as for weak bodies. To for difquieted spirits.

and turned away bis face ] He turned it in discontent frem notes on 1 Cor. 16. 22. the company about him, as if he would have none to speak to voluptuous, or coverous humor, is weary of life.

V. 5. But fezebel bis wife ] See ch. 16. 31. came unto him, and faid unto him | Herein the teems to perform the duty of a kinde wife. Wby is thy Pirit fo fad, that thou eateft no bread? ] This queftion implyeth, that the knew nothing of the case before: for Ahab had concealed it in his own breaft.

V. 6. And he faid unto her, because I spake unto Naboth the Fegreelite, &c. ] Sec v. 2.

reason of his refusal, which was, because it belonged to that family, and might not be alienated. See v. 3.
V. 7. And Feyebel his wife faid unto him] Heroin she shews her self like unto her great, great grandmother Eve, Gen. 3. 6.

Doft thou nors govern the kingdom of Israel?] By this interroeven the elders, and noble gative, the doth most implously and ungraciously imply, that it city ] See v. 8. as the part of a supream governour, to take from his sub ects what he lifts, by fair or foul means : and the checks him for their yeelding to her impious and cruel command. his remifiefs in not using the power he hath, to violence.

prove prejudicial unto him.

and let thy heart be merry Heb. let thy heart be good. Her Judg. 16. 25. 1 Sam. 25. 36.

I will give thee the vineyard of Naboth the Ferrelite] She would take a course to get Naboths vineyard for her husband. Though he could not accomplish what he defired, yet his wife would undertake to do it.

V. 8. So she wrote letters in Ahabs name, and Jealed them with bis feal | She used the kings authority, ( as Haman did, Esth. Aories against the Syrians, ch. 20. 21, 29. are the things here 3.12.) This she did, either without the kings consent, or with intended : they were all great evidences of Gods goodness to it. If without it, he suffered her to have too much power, in that Ahab and his people. Yet they alter not his corrupt disposi- she could, at her pleasure, use his secretary and signer ; Yea. and it may be, get the kings hand to a blank; and fine to write was he a principal actor in that murther, as well as the. and fent the letters unto the elders | Under these elders the chief Magistrates of that city are comprized. See ch. 20.7.

and to the nobles] Heb. the white ones. For great and noble persons, were wont to go in white, or fine robes, Gen.41.42. Eft. 8. 15. See Neh. 2. 16. It may be, that these were either Ahabs or Jezebels creatures; raised to their dignities, by either or both of them; which made them the more ready to ferve them in what they should command.

that were in his city dwelling with Naboth ] The city here meant was Jezreel. It is faid to be bis city, because Naboth there dwelt, and was a prime man therein; and it is probable, that he was a pious man, in that he preferred the law of the termal God, before the will of a mortal king, v. 3.

V. 9. And she wrote in the letters, saying. Preclaim a sast.

This was done, that what was done, might be thought to be their usual fruit are profitable to man: but Ahabs purpofe was done through zeal of Gods gloty. This circumflance much romake it a pleafant olace for him to walke in, and to fee varined, Ifai. 58. 45. In dayes of fast, they were wont to enquire after heynous finners, to execute the law on them, and thereby to obtain reconciliation with God, Num. 25. 7, 8. Pfalm.

and fet Naboth on high among the people ] Heb. in the top of the people | Hereby is meant, that he was fet in high a place, according to his dignity; that they might not feem to have plotted what they did against him. Or some scassold may be here meant, whereon, having caused Naboth to come from among the prople, they might fer him before the Judges.

V. 10. And fer two men | For the law required, that there this to Edomination to the Front to Lord. That is, the Lord seep to the first of this, as from an abominable thing. This pharta feets out an utter detelling of a thing, Gen.44.7. John. 22-29, that I found give the inheritances my father must here.] To ident inheritances was experitely forbidding. Levit. 25, 23. [6to 45] this Hebrew pharta feets out mor of a most fine and the first phartage.

desperate condition, who care not what they do. According to the notation of the word, Belial, fignificth, without yoke; or, without profit : fuch as Judg. 19. 22. 1 Sam. 2. 12. This title is attributed to the devil, 2 Cor. 6.15.

before him to bear witness against him ] Otherwise they could joyned with the name of God; but expressed it under a word of the contrary fenfe. So Job 1. 5. See ch. 14. 24. Sec the God and the king ] These two are joyned, to work in such as heard it a greater deteffation of the crime, that they who and mould cat no bread He refused to take any sustenance, shighted blashbemy in relation to the king, might be moved as is he would stave himself. A man crossed in bis ambitious, with the blashbemy in relation to God: And they who regarded not God, might be moved at the name of the king. This alfo was forbidden, Exod. 12. 18.

and then carry him out, and flone him that he may dye] Both these were according to the law, Lev. 24. 14. A blasphemer was carried out that he might not breath out his spirit in the city; and he was floned, that there might be many hands in putting him to death. Sundry enormous impleties were in this letter : as 1. Abuse of the kings name and scal. 2. Caufing Elders and Nobles to have their band in fuch a fact. and ke adjusted, I will not give the my vinoyard.] He doth a for thirdly relate Naboktan fwee, which was this; I fine a for populating a for end by offert. A Making 3 july fines not thirdly relate Naboktan fwee, which was this; I fine a for population to the proposition of the p the most notorious crime to his charge. 8. Prosecuting all to a fhameful and painful death.

V. 11. And the men of bit city ] Such citizens as had votes even the elders, and nobles, who were the inhabitants of this did as Jegebel had fent unto them] This in general, fers out and as it was written in the letters which fhe had fent unto and as I was written in oue latter wont open an jett more arrificant at treat? This is a physical of unickning and inciting enter do at thing specially. See ch. 14.2. She would not bloody plotin all the particulars thereof. Though it were a back him any longer to induce frough eith is subject to special countries on which is the subject to induce frough eith is subject unickness might be subject to induce frough eith in subject more might be subject to induce frough eith in subject to induce frough either subject in subject to induce frough either subject in the subject to induce frough either subject in the subje gainst the light of nature, yet they having forfaken the Lord, and made Idols their God, (and all this at the kings commeaning is, that he should cast off this sadness of spirit. So mand) are soon brought to preser the kings pleasure, before Gods word. Some to mitigate the elders fault, fay, that Jewebel finggelled, that, the king and Naboth being together, without any in their company, Naboth blaphemed; but the a Becaule (as is probable) he was acquainted with the whole king had no winefs to telffic it, and threefore moved them to carriage of the matter. 3 Becaule he punished not the actors get fome witneffes; affuring them that it was a truth which they should witness. Bur certainly Jezebels imperiousness wrought upon their flavishness.

V. 12. They proclaimed a fuft, &c. ] In this, and the next verfe, is fet down how punctually they observed all things in the letter.

. V. 13. And there came in two men, Sec. ] See v. 10.

and they stoned him with stones ] His children also were stoned by them, 2 King. 9. 26. This in a just cause had been agreeable to tome extraordinary practifes, both of God (as Num. 16. able to lome extraordinary practiles, both of God (as Num. 16. 31.) and allo of men, John 7.24. But it was exprellely against the law, Deut. 24. 16. Yet these resurtes of Jezobel Io far proceed, that none might be left to lay claim to the vinevard : To as it did efeheat to the king. See the notes on Num.

yang, 15, 35, 16 V. 14. Then they fent to be cebel faying, Naboth is stoned and dead] Hereby they give evidence of their readiness to execute the Queens cruel defign, and that all was made fure, in that he was actually dead. Paul was floued, but not dead, Act. chap.

V. 15. And it came to passe when ferebel heard that Naboth was stoned and was dead ] Et seems that Jezebel was not forward to put on Ahab with violence to enter into the vineyard, till he that hindred was taken out of the way.

that Jezebel faid to Ahab, Arife] This is a phrase of inciting one without delay, speedily to do a thing, Gen. 19. 15. Sec ch ra s take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Fezreclite ] This was the main end of her plot, and therefore the would have it put in execution was of kin to Abab; and that, he and his children being dead, the right of the inheritance fell to Ahab. This they gather from the neer scituation of Naboths vineyard to Ahabs Palace, v. I. But in such unjust proceedings, as here were used, we V. I. but in uou unjun proceedings, as uore were unea y we state to unear thing appropriate speech, but cannot think that they would than dopen right. Nabbh being plainly teh him to his face, that he had indeed fought him formelly dealt withal, we may well think that none of his and found him, and that he had only or come to him, and kindred durst challenge their right, to hinder the Kings puffet-V. 16. And it came to pass when Abab heard that Naboth was dead, that Abab rose up] Ahab could quickly hearken to the counfel which his wife gave him, being agreeable to his corrupt humour. His heaviness for it is soon changed. to go down to the vineyard of Naboth the Fegreelite ] See ver. I. to take poffeffion of it ] That fo it might remain to him and his (in his imagination) for ever.

V. 17. And the word of the Lord came] Soon can God finde out the wicked in their wickedness, to Elijab ] A Prophet that feared not the face of Ahab, ch. 18, 18, the Tishbite, saying ] See ch. 17. 1. V. 18. Arise goe down to meet Abab king of Fsrael ] Jezebel was not more ready to ftirre up Ahab to enter upon Naboths vineyard, v. 15. then God is to haften his Prophet to carry heavy ridings unto him, for his unjust and cruel act. which is in Sumaria! This may be applied to the King him-felf, who might be at that inflant, when God first toake to and a comma after Lord. Elijah, in amaria: or he might be faid to be there, because there was his dwelling place; or because his throne was there, and there he reigned. And thus he is diffinguished from the King of Judah, who was in Hierusalem, and there reigned, ch. 23. 42. and yet is called King of Ifrael, 2 Chr. 21. 2. So as one King of Ifrael was in Samaria; arrother King of Ifrael was in Hierufalem. This phrase, was in Samaria, may also have reference to the word, Israel; and so intend that part of Ifrael which belonged to Samaria, for all the twelve tribes were called Ifrael.

behold, he is in the vineyard of Naboth] It was indeed ftrange, that fo foon as he had taken away the life of Naboth, he flould enter upon his inheritance. He was now going to the vine- Kings before him. See 2 King, 9.9. yard, and because he would be there by the time that Elijah should come unto him, he is faid to be in the vineyard; fo as there Elijah should finde him. Suppose Ahab to be in Sama-ria, when God sielt sent Elijah; and to be in the vin yard when Elijah first met with him, and these two phrases, be is in Samaria, and he is in the vineyard, may well stand toge-whither he is gone down to poffefs it ] This much aggravated the cruelty done to Naboth.

V. 19. And then flatt flesh unto him, faying, thus faith the Lord I Sec ch. 1. 3. 8. 14.7. baf then killed Hall thou not feared to murder an innocent man ? He is faid to kill, t Because, thorow his covetous dethereof. 4 Because he approved and ratified it, by taking pos-Callion and also taken possession] Was it not enough to take away his life, but that thou must also alienate the inheritance from the family, against Gods law > See v. 2. The manner of expression this doom with an interrogation, is to convince A hab the more thorowly of the heinousness of his fin. The interrogation imports much emphafis.

and thou fall fleak unto him, faying, thus faith the Lord] The denioling of the Prophets warrant, could not but much aftenifh him.

in the place where dozs licked the blood of Naboth, finall dozs lich thy blood ] Or, like as dogs. The substance of this threatming was accomplished on Ahab himfelf, in that dogs licked his blood, ch. 22. 38. As for the place here mentioned, that also was in part accomplished. See ch. 22, 38. But in Ahabs fon both the substance and the circumstance of this doom was expressly fulfilled, 2 King-7.25,26. Dogs are said to lick Na-boths blood, because he dyed as a malefactor. For malefactors blood being fpilt on the ground, dogs that came by, used to even thine] This repetition thews that the judgment thould not wholly be put off to Ahabs wife or fon , but it fhould even allo be executed upon himfelf.

V. 20. And a hab faid to Elijah, haff thou found me] Art thou fo envious against me, and audacious, as to dog me, and meet me wherefoever I am >

O mine enemy ] Thou ever carrieft thy felf as an enemy to me; never speaking good, but evil unto me. Indeed Ahab was an enemy unto Elijah, and bated him, as he did Micaijah, thi execution.

which berighed to give thee for money | See v. 2, 3, 4 with the berighed to give thee for money | See v. 2, 3, 5 with threeton thinks that Blijsh was his enemy, for Naboth is not alive but stead | Some think: Naboth | Wicked prefers count fach as sell then their faults, and denounce Geds judgments against them, to be theirenemies, year they think that all whom they have, hate them.

and he answered, I have found thee ] Elijah had such a spirit, s he was not deunted with the Kings approbrious speech, but

and round him, and that he had caope to come country and denounce Goods judgments againft him, because thom haff fold thy feif to de will 2 King, 17, 17. He was not only fold under fin, but he fold himfelf. A regeneration rate man may passively be fold under fin, in that, by the flesh remaining in him, he is so held down in a kinde of spiritual bondage, as when he would do good, evil is prefent with him. Sec Rom. 7. 14, 15, &c. But Ahab gave himfelf over wittingly, wilfully to evil, and as a flave bound himfelf thereto; for he gave himfelf wholly to fatisfie the mischievous defires of his wife: yea, and the fuggestions of the devil, and lults of his flesh. He gave himfelf over to all evil with greedinels; Eph 4. 19.

in the fight of the Lord ] Heb. in the eyes. Notwithstanding thou knowest that God seeth thee, yet thou dost evil, and dost what thou doll, in despight of God, Num. 32. 13. V. 21. Behold, I will bring evil urm thee] See ch. 14. 10.

2 King. 9. 8. This is here added, as a proportionable judgement upon the forementioned iniquity; because he had fold himself to work evil, therefore the Lord would bring evil upon him; fo as in v 20, there should be a full point after found thee, and will take away thy posterity ] See ch. 16. 3.

and will cut off from Abab, &c. ] The same judgment that was denotinced against Jeroboam, Baasha, and other idolatrous Kings of Ifrael; because he continued in their idolatrous courfes, See ch. 14.10. & 1 Sam, 25. 22.

V. 22. And will make thy house like the house of Ferobeam, ] and like the boufe of Baafha, &c.] See ch. 15. 27. & 16. 11. Both those were Kings of Ifrael, as well as Ahab; and the particulars of both are diffinctly fet down, to fliew the feverity of Ged. revenge, H.b. 10.31. Yea alfo to fhew that that which should befal Ahab, was no new matter, it being done to two for the provocation, &c.] See ch. 14. 9. and made Ifrael to [in] See ch. 12. 30. & 14. 16.

V. 23. And of Jezebel also spaties Lord, saying Of Jezebel, See ch. 16.31. She was the chief plotter of Naboths murther; and therefore her doom is also expressly fet down. See the dog fhall ear feeebel by the wall of feered] Heb, or disch.

2King, 9. 35, 36, 37.
This judgment was, according as it is here threatned, in judflance and circumflances, executed.

V. 24. Him that dieth of Abab in the City, Shall the dogs est, &c.] See ch. 14. 11. V. 25. But there was none like unto Abab] See ch. 16.53.

which did fell himfelf, &c. ] Stev. 20.

Chap.xxij.

whom ferebel bit wife filtred up] Or, incited. See verl. 7, |on betwirt the two Kingdoms, they both might be the better

V. 26. And he did very abominably in following idols By idols, he meaneth not onely the golden calves, but Baal alfo, and other falle Gods which he worshipped. See chap. 16. 3 1. See alfo. 2 King. 17. 12.

according to all things as did the Amorites] The Amorites were the weckedest, even among the heathen, Gen. 15. 16.

whom the Lord cast out before the children of Israel God did, on this ground, forbid the Israelites to do such things, as the Nations which were cast out before them, had done, Levit, 18. 24,25. &c. Yet such was the impudency of the children of Ifrael, that neither Gods judgements on the Amorites, nor Gods express charge against conformity with those Nations, did work upon them.

V. 27. And it came to pass when Abab heard those words ] Ahab having feen the words of the Lord, spoken by Elijah, (in withholding rain, for three yeers and an half; in giving rain at the end of those yeers, in bringing fire down from heaven. and in fundry other remarkable matters) accomplished, could not but think, that this judgement also would answerably come to pass; and thereupon is moved, as the words following shew; for they fet out fundry external figns of penitency, warrantable, and commendable, when they proceed from an inward answerable devotion.

that he rent ble clothes ] This fets out contrition of heart, inat he reas on tunnes 3 1 nis lets out contrition of neart, 2 king, 22.11. Sec 2 king 18.37. and put fackelosh upon his fish 3 Under this rite, was fignified, an acknowledgment of ones unworthynels of any loft or comely apparrel, Jon. 3.6.

and fasted Hereby is signified an acknowledgment of ones unworthinels of any fustenance, 2 Sam. 13.16.

and lay in [ackcloth] So as he did not only wear fackcloth on him in the day time, but also lye therein in the night time; which was a means to keep from fleep, that the foul might which was a mean to keep from freey, that the foll fingle watch unto prayer, Jol. 1.13. Gen. 27.344. Offition, (Ifai. 38. 15.) and a tellimony of grief for what was done. V. 18. And the word of the Lord came to Elijab.] See ch. 17.

2. God makes his Prophets messengers of gladsom tidings, as well as of heavy tidings.
the Tijhbite, [sping, ] See ch. 17.1.
V. 29. Seeft that ] External actions may be discerned by how Ahab humbleth himself before me ? ] This was but in outward appearance. It was not the humiliation of a true peni-Ir is faid to be before God, not because it was in the inward truth of his heart, (for he turned from none of his fins) but because he was moved by the word of God, declared unto because he humbleth bimself before me, I will not bring the evil in his dayer] External and temporary humiliation, may put off or defer a temporary sudgment. If God be so far moved with external humiliation, how prevalent is the hearty humiliation of a true penitent, 2 King. 22.19.

but in bis fons dayes will I bring the evil upon bis boufe ] He means by houle his posterny, friends, and others that belonged Lord; bur observed that it was according to Ahabs hu-unto him. See the utmost of this judgment accomplished mor. 2 King 9. 15. &c. & 10. 1. &c.

CHAP, XXII.

Verf. 1. And they continued three years These three years must be reckoned from the covenant made Ven. 1. A rea tog vermand tree frest) a tree verse is two suc presente on 30.545 to 50 feet with the rectional from the convenant mode between Abab and Benhadad, ch. 20.34. which coverant was but the real between Abab and Benhadad, ch. 20.34. which coverant was but the real between Abab and Benhadad, ch. 20.34. which coverant was but the real between Abab and Benhadad, ch. 20.34. which coverant was between the real between Abab and Benhadad, ch. 20.34. Abab reign is for a between Abab reign is for a betwe in this expedition, v. 37. which was in the two and twentieth yeer of his reign, 1 King. 16 22.

without war between Syria and I[rael] Covenants with enewithout may sense to just a man upway | Overnants with ene- contrary tents might be rance out of the creter or the Order miss use not to be very long. One would have thought, that so into the hand of the King of Ifnet. This sense they certainly in-lasting covenant then twas. But enemies use not to keep to tended. Or thus, the Lord shall deliver thee into the hand of sating covenant nen it was. Dut enclines the not to keep covenant longer then it may be for their advantage.

V. 2. And if the through of the third yet? This was in the feventeenth yeer of Jeholhaphat, v. 51. After Jeholhaphat had made peace, (v. 44.) and affinity with Ahab, 2 Chron. 18.1.

that Jeboshaphat the king of Judah came down to the king of that we might inquire of him] It seems that Jeboshaphat had If year of the case of the cas Agracy 3 c. Arton. 1.5.1. co. . penchappar might weno e tait to a very examine tentered anon. You stimm on tareful to do accord-come down, 1 in regard of the discussion of the profit of the minds. I twas to low a descending for a king of Judah to go down to a king of I fract. None of his prode.

3. 8. And the King of I fract fail to 3 choffashus, there is yet of Judah to go down to a king of I fract. None of his prode. cefforshad done it before him. Bur much more too low was (ch. 18.4, & 19.10.) and fome fied; foas I know not where it, for a worthipper of the true God, to go down to fueb an ido.

fenced against the king of Syria, who began to wax very great, and was an ill neighbour to them both.

V. 3. And the king of Israel faid unto bit servants Under fervants are here comprized such counsellors state, as upon all occasions attended on the king.

know ye that ] This interrogative, is a vehement affeveration of the truth of that which he doth deliver. Ramoth in Gilead | See ch. 4. 13.

Kamoth in GHeaa] See Co. 4. 13.

georaf Ramoth Gilead was a part of Ifraels inheritance, even one of their cities of refuge, Joffa 20.8. And though it were taken away by Benhadads father, yet it was promifed to be reflored again, by Benhadad himfelf, ch. 20. 34 Some think that the Syrians had possession of it, before Benhadads fathers time : and that Benhadad took occasion from thence to hold Ramoth-Gilead, in that it was not within the letter of his promile, which was this, The cities which my father took from the father. I will reftore, ch. 20. 34.

and we be fill and take it not ] Heb. filent from taking it.

and we be jish and tage it me ; rice. Junn from tacing it.

The hebrew word implyeth, a forbearing to do, as well as to freak In this fence it's uled, Judg. 18. 9.

out of the hand of the king of Syria] Ahab had just reason so to do. The cause of that war was just : but he was not a fit instrument to manage that just cause; because he continued in his idolatry, notwithstanding the evidence against it, ch. 18.

39. therfore God left him, v. 34. &c.
V. 4. And he faid to Hehoshashat, wilt thou go with me to bastel to Ramoth Gilead] Ahab had good cause to defire Jehoshaphats affiltance: for he could not but know, how wonderfully God had bleffed Jehoshaphat, and made him strong, 2 Chr. 17.10,11, &c. Herein therofore he dealt prudently.

117,10,11, 8C. Herein therotore ne ocal protently, and gelophabra faid to the high of Jifasi, Jam as thou art, my people as thy people, my burles as thy burles; J. King, 2-y. His meaning is, that the bimlelt, his people, his beatls, all that he had, were ready to go and do as Abab would order them; even nao, were reasy to go and do as Anda would offer them; even as if they had been all Ababs own. See v. 44. V. 5. And Gehofhathat faid to the king of Ifrael, Enquire, I pray thee, at the word of the Lord] Before he went to battel, Jehoshaphat would have him fend for some Prophet of the Lord, to know the minde of God, whether God would profper their defign, or no. This was an evidence of his piery and prudence. The fervants of God used so to do, Judg. 1. 1. & 20. 28.

to day] Presently, before we prepare our selves any further

For the war.

V. 6. Then the king of Ifrael gathered the Prophets together]

He supposed that by a multitude guthered together, Jehoshaphat might be the better perswaded of the truth of that which they fhould deliver.

about four hundred men ] It is probable, that these were the about jour muntra men | 1 trs provable, that these were the Prophers of the groves, which are mentioned, ch. 18.19.

and faid unto them, fault I go againft Ramath-Gilead to batted, or fluil I forbert? The question is fairly propounded: but question may be made, whether he would have flood to their re folution, if their answer had been contrary to his purpose. See and they [aid, go up] They received not this answer from the

for the Lord They pretend the name of the Lord (whom they served not) to clude such as heard them, that they might think that they revealed the minde of the Lord; and to collogue with Jeboshaphat, who was a worshipper of the Lord.
It was the practice of idolaters to give the title of the true God will be like the Oracle of Apollo, which used to be so doubtful, as they might be taken either one way or other. Two contrary senses might be raised out of the letter of the Oracle.

the groves. For Jehothaphat fu pected that their word was not from the Lord.

later as Ahab was See a Chron. 19.2. Surely it was some from Ahab, that Ahab knew not where to have him. It may policy that moved him hercureo. It might be that by an uni-

Annotations on the first Book of Kings. that Micrish was in prifon, when Abab fent for him; so as he hundred Prophets well pleased Abab and the people, and knew where to have him.

... Micaiah the son of Imlah] His parentage is added, to distin-... Micash the pn of 1 mins) 1-its parentage is adoed, 10 silling again bin from another Propher, Mic. 1. 1. its flippoidfultar this Micash was that Propher, who denounced the judgment againfi Abab, db. 20.41. and that therefore he could not endure him.

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with one mouth.**

**Ret from the content is to set all and expected the minds with a set all and expected the minds wi been faithful in declaring the truth which God bath revealed to them, to be hated, Gen. 37. 8. Pfal. 38. 19. Amos 5. 10.

to them, to be nated, wen, 37. 8. Fial, 38. 19. Imms 5. 10. Jbb. 7. 7. Truth gets batted.

Job. 7. 9. Truth gets batted for be doth not prophife good concerning me By good, he meaneth that which was pleafing unto him, Jer. 38. 4. Or meanent unar winten was peraining unto mm, jer. 30.4. Or that which tended to his hontour or profit.

but will That is terrible things, which tend to my fhams, damage, and undoing. This was the reason, why he was not the find being a displaching mediage to the King, did not for-and Jehoshaphat said, let not the King say so] This is a modest cheek. Thereby Jehoshaphat implyeth, that Gods word, though it feem unpleafing, is to be hearkened unto.

V. 9. Then the King of Ifrael called an officer | Or , Eunneh, The Hebrew word fignificth one that is gelded, Ifa. 56.3. So the Greek, Mat. 19.12. The Perfians, Babylonians, and other Jer. 42.5. 6, &c. heathens, were wont to appoint such to be chief attendants up-on Queens and great Ladies, for the surer considence of their continencie. Such also were attendants upon Kings and other contraction. Such also were attenuants upon Aings and other parts principle for the intermediate, to discover their railmood more great performs; whence, it came to be a tile given to great officers and attenuants upon royal or honourable perfors, whence it is not a finished attenuant to be a meet mock. For an Invinish plant of the principle of 39.7.

and faid, Hasten birber Micaiab the son of Imlab] He made the greater haste in sending for him, that he might the more gratifie Jehofhaphat.

V. 10. And the King of Ifrael and Fehofha; hat the King Judab [ate each on his throne] There were two thrones feeled for these two Kings, as ch. 2. 19.

baving put on their robes Their royal robes are here meant, which now they put on, to fet out their Majestic to the people, as Act. 12. 21. The seventy Jews that translated the Hebrew Bible into Greek, fet out thefe Kings clad in armour.

is a void place Heb. floor. Hereby is meant a spacious place where multitudes of people might fland together, Gen. 50.10.
The Hebrew word is used to fignific a barn, or a floor, where in other places, for a large place or ground for people to stand ons, 2 Ch. 2. 10,11.

and all the Prophets prophefied before them] See chap. 18.

V. 11. And Zedeliah the son of Chendanah] His parentage diftinguisheth him from Zedekiah the son of Maastah, Jer. 20. 21. This Zedekiah was the chief among all those Prophets, as made bim borns of iron] This he did as a fign of the truth of his Prophecy; and in imitation of true Prophets, Jer. 27.2. & 28. 13. Zach. 1. 18,19. Horns are means, whereby bulls and other horned creatures, defend themselves, and offend such as stand against them. He made them of iron to set out their frength the more, Jer. 28. 13. By the two iron horns which he Iteriga me more, jet. 20. 13. Dy me two from noise value as made, he would fee out the firength of the two Kings.

and he said, thus saith the Lord They express this name Jehovah, the Lord, to please Jehoshaphat, and to gain the more credit to their Prophecy. Sec v. 6. with these shalt then push the Syrians] As homed beasts push and gore other beafts, till they have wounded and defiroyed them; fo shall thine army deal with the Syrians.

untill they have confumed them] This implies an utter destruhauttory wave comment soom.] Ams imputes an utter detitu-tion; is as they should not be able to get head again. V. 12. And all the Prophets prophelfed ho] To the fame pur-pose that Zedekiah had done. They all agree together in the fame fong. faying, go up to Ramoth Gilead and proffer] Here this word profper is added; whereby they do more fully express the intent of their Prophecy. To prosper, is to have good success in that for the Lord Shall deliver it into the Kings hand See v.6. V. 13. And the messenger that was gone to call Micatab] The same that was stilled an officer, vers. 9. is here called a messenger; for he had a message committed to his charge, to which a man enterprizeth.

spake to him, faying ] That which he spake was beyond his commission; so as herein he did not show himself a faithfull

Behold now, the words of the Prophets deslave good unto the King] See v. 8. This meffenger knew that the Prophecy of the four therefore cals it good.

and speak that which is good] That which is pleasing to King and people.

V. 14. And Micaich faid, as the Lord liveth This was an ufual concife form of an oath. See ch. 1. 29. & 17. 1. what the Lord faith unto me, that will I [peak] This was a note bear to come and declare it. and the King faid unto him, Micaiah, shall we go against Ra-moth-Gilead to battle, or shall we forbear] The King fauly propounds the case, as if he intended wholly to refer himself to the pleasure of God, to be made known by this Prophet; butthe event sheweth that he was fully setled to go, as the Jews, and he answered him, go and prosper, &c.] He useth the very same words that the falle Prophets had done before, vers. 12. officers and attenuance appear oval or anonomator pertons, was-ther they were glor or no. Gen. J. J. 1. See the notes on Gen. J. 1966. Portiphar had a wife, though he be filled a Eunuch, Gen. J. 1976. Portiphar had a wife, though he be filled a Eunuch, Gen. folly of men, is frequent in Scripture; as chap. 18. verf. 27. Gen. ch. 3. verl. 22. 2 Chron. 25. 8. Eccl. 11.9. Lam. 4.21. Amos 4.4,5.

V. 16. And the King faid unto bire, how many times shall F adjure thre? ] The interrogation implies a vehement affeveration : Thus, again and again, as by a folemn oath, I charge that thou tell me nothing but that which is true ] He that regarded not truth at all, makes thew of regarding nothing but truth. in the name of the Lord That truth which is received from the Lord; for Micaiab, in his answer (v. 15.) no way implyed that he spake it in the name of the Lord. The King falfly imagined that it was the Will of the Lord, that he should go and recover Ramoth-Gilead. Because he retained not the corn is threshed, as Ruth 3, 3, 2 Sam, 24, 18. But here and love of the truth, God gave him over to believe strong deluston.

in the entrance of the gate of Samaria [Kings thrones and fears 1.4, &c. Act. 10.11, 17. A vision was a reprefentation of justice were in the gates of cities, that fo all manner of peodiffered from a dream.

all Ifrael ] All that were drawn forth to war, feattered upon the hills? Put to rout, and flying to the hills? There were many hills in ifrael, they were full of trees, to them therefore would Souldiers, put to flight, fly .

as sheep] Pursued by Woolves. that have not a Shepheard] Hereby he implies, that the Kings who was as a fhepheard, fhould be flain, and thereupon the people fly, v. 34, 35.

and the Lord faid This he faid to his Prophet in the vision. these have no master ] Their King being flain.

let them return every man to his house To this purpose was d Proclamation made, v. 36. in panel Peace is here put for fafety. It is opposed to death in feate | reacts is here put for intery. It is opposed to death and deflution, they escaped with their lives.

V. 13. And the King of Israel sid unto Febsshaphar.] Abab might feat that Micharabs Prophecy would discourage Jeho-fhaphat, therefore he feeks to impeach the truth thereof. did I not tell thee that he would prophefie no good concerning me but evil] See v. 8. Ahab would make Jehoshaphat believe that Michaiah intended Ahab no good, and declared the former vision to cross and vex them. V. 19. And be faid ] Micaigh faid.

hear thou therefore the word of the Lord Because thou didft adjure me to tell the truth in the name of the Lord, I do now do it plainly and fully. I/am] As v. 17.

the Lorditing on his throne As a Judg, Ifa.6.1. Dan. 7.9. and all the hofte of bessen Angels, who as an hoft, or army of Souldiers, cattend the Lord, Pfal. 103. 20, 21. Evil spirite were also mixed among these.

flanding by him on his right hand, and on his left Round about him. God is here fet forth as a supream Soveraign on his throns, with all forts of people attending upon him. Whether the good spirits were on his right hand only, and the evil on his left, is uncertain. But thus God is fet forth in his glorious Molefly, the more to beat down the flout fpirit of Ahab, who was Here fee in his glorious Majefly, v. 10.

V. 20. And the Lord faid ] All the discourse following in Kkkk

Chap.xxii.

this vision, is by way of refemblance, and that after the manner | mute, and durft not speak for him whom he knew to be a Pro-who [ball per [wade Ahab] Or, deceive. For he was per [waded to a matter, wherein he was much deceived. that be may go up and fall at Ramoth Gilead | Herein he was deceived. He went up with affurance of victory, but found deand one faid on this manner, and another faid on that manner This is spoken of the spirits that stood about the throne. It is not to be taken, as if there were diversity of opinions among the heavenly spirits, but rather to show the various passages of the divine providence. V. 21. And there came forth a Spirit, and ftood before the Lord] It is an evil spirit that is here meant ; for he cals himself, a ly.

ing firit, in the next verfe. Evil fpirits can for their advantage, thrust themselves into the company of good spirits, Job and faid, I will perswade bim] How this evil spirit perswaded Ahab to go to Ramoth-Gilead, is manifested in the next verse. False Prophets are instructed in their false Prophecies by evil fpirits, as true Prophets in their true Prophecies by the Spirit of

V. 22. And the Lord faid unto him, wherewith ] God propounds this question, not to be informed, but more clearly to and he faid, I will go forth] The evill spirit faid this; whereby it is maniteft, that even evil fpirits are ready to execute the vengeance of the Lord; and that, by reason of the over-ruling power of God on them, and of their readiness to do hurt un-and I will be alying spirit] Heb. a spirit of falshood. or , of lying. His meaning is, that he would fo work on Ahabs Prophets, as they should declare false things. Herein is verified that which Christ faith of the devil, Joh. chap. 8. ver. 44-4. 6.) because he puts on men to erre, lie, and deceive, Rev.

in the mouth of all thefe thy Prophets ] It is the devil that speaketh in falle teachers.

ean in taile teachers.

and he [ids. hour flast perfined e bim] Because A hab hated Gods true Prophets, v. 8. therefore God in juffice gave him over true believe lies, 5. Thess. 2.1, 12.0 in juffice gave him over go furth and to [6]. God sendeth forth, even evil spirits, to do to be to b acts of justice.

V. 23. Now therefore behold | The Prophet calls the King to a ferious confideration of a matter fo remarkable in it felt, as this was, and fo much concerning him as this did, the Lord hath put aljing spirit in the mouth of all these thy Pro-phets | God did this as a just Judg, making an evil spirit his executioner, to punish Ahab: So 2 Sam. ch. 16. 10. Jub 12. 16. Ezek. 14.9. Sin may be punished with fin, and that justly Rom. 1. 14. 2 Sam. 12. 11,12.

and the Lord bath floken evil concerning thee] He hath both determined, and also denounced judgment; for that he here calls evil. Amos 2. 6.

V. 24 But Zedehiah the fon Chenagnah went neer and smote Miceich on the cheek ] Most impudently before the two Kings | habit, as before. and whole affembly, he manifesteth his malice against the Lords faithfull Propher, and that reproachfully too, Job to appear in the battle as a King.

ch. 16. 10. Act. chap. 23. 2. Blows are the reasons wherewith he answere the Propher, because he had no better reawith he answere the Propher, because he had no better reaand row Gaptain J These might be those who were purch. 16. 10. Act. chap. 23. 2. Blows are the reasons wherewith he answereth the Prophet, because he had no better rea-and faid, which way went the spirit of the Lord from me to speak unto thee ] 2 Chr. ch. 18, 23. Zedekiah pretended that be himself had the Spirit of the Lord, vers. 11. and thercup-on he here infers, that Micaiah had it not, because it could not be shewed, how it passed from the one to the

V. 25. And Micaich [aid] This faithful Prophet returneth not blow for blow; but only declareth what God had determined concerning him bebold thou fhalt fee By woful experience thou shalt finde, that I, by the Spirit of the Lord, have declared a truth. To fee, is oft put for an experimental proof, as Gen. 26.28. Matth. ch.

in that day ] The day wherein Micaiahs Prophecy should be accomplished; the King being flain, and his army pur to the when thou [halt go into an inner chamber] Or , from chamber to chamber. Heb, a chamber in a chamber. See chap. 20. vers.

to kide thy [clf] From Ahabs children and friends, who, when they should fee the searful iffue of Zedekiahs false Prophecy, would feek up and down for that falle Propher, to revenge the blood of the King, and overthrow of the army, upon

V. 26. And the King of Ifract [aid] The King of Judah fate this vition, is by way of retentionater, and the state of the state of city | This Amon was as a Lord Mayor in Samaria, He had the power to cast into prison. See v. 8.

and to Foash the Kings fon] This Joath might be appointed Governour of the Kingdom, while the King his father went to var ; as Jotham, when his father was a leper, 2 Chr. 26.21. Some take this Joath, to be Omries fon.

V. 27. And say, thus faith the King ] To stir them up to do what he would have done, he lends the charge in his own put this fellow in the prifon Gods faithful Prophets are oft ufed as malefactors.

and feed him with bread of affilition, and with water of af. (idion) With no more then may fustain life, that he may be referred, but in affliction, thorow want. untill I come in peace ] This he never did. Ahabs phrase implies that Micaiah should be kept fast, untill the victory were obtained; and that he would then bring Micaiah to trial for his life; but he made too fure account of

V. 28. And Micaiah said, if thou return at all in peace Heb. returning thou return. Of this Hebrailme in doubling the manifest, that evil spirits can do nothing without his disposing word, See ch. 8. 13. It implies, that he never should rethe Lordhath not spoken by me ] Herein he hath reference to the evidence of a true or false Prophet, Deut. 18. 21, 22. See and he faid, hearten, O people, every one of you ] Hereby he shews, that he took them all to witness in this case.

Numb. 16. 29.

V. 29. So the King of Ifrael, and Fehoshaphat the King of Fudah, went up to Ramoth Gilead ] Though Jehoshaphat in lundry other things gave good evidence of a true fear of ed that which Christ Luth of the devil, Job. chap. 8. ver. 44. God to be in him 3 yet here be shewed great failing, a Chr. In this respect he is also called a spirit of errour, (1 Job. ch. | chap. 19. vers. 1. Micaiahs Prophecy should have restrained

V. 30, And the King of Ifrael faid to Jehoshaphat ] If the circumstances going before, and the event following after, be well weighed, it will appear, that it was no friendly part, to put that upon Jehoshaphat, which Ahab here put on

I will disguise my self, and enter into the battle ] Or, when he was to disguise himself, and enter into the battle. He meant to difguise himself, by changing his habit, and going, not as a King, but as an inferior Commander, into the battle; that so he might not be known to be who be was. See ch. 14.2. and 20. 38. Questionles Ahab was pessed with no small fear upon Micaiahs Prophecy. It might be also that he had had fome inkling of the King of Syria's charge, v. 31. yet perfidioufly adviseth Jehoshaphat to go into the battle as a King; it may be upon pretence of honour, in making him the General'ffimo.

but put thou on thy robes ] Such robes as are mentioned v. 10. Royal robes, which become a King. Or, fuch kinde of armor as is fit for the General of the field.

and the King of Ifrael difguised himself ] He altered his royal and went into the battle ] He had a minde to fight, though not into the place of two and thirty Kings, Chapter 20. verf-that had rule over his Chariots | These had the command of all the Chevalrie. Of the use of Chariots, See 1 Chron.

(aying, fight neither with small nor great, save only with the king of Israel) This was a proverblal speech, whereby the King doth not forbid his fervants to fight against any other then the King; but to observe the King especially, and to bend their main force against him, and not to suffer themselves, by fighting with others, to be kept from fetting upon the King. This he might do in general, for the more speedy obtaining of the victory; for fmite the thepheard, and the theep will be scattered, v. 17. or in special, to bring Ahab under his mercy, as he himfelf had formerly been brought under Ahabs mercy,

V. 32. And it came to pass, when the Captains of the Chariots (aw Feboshaphas) In such a royal habit and posture, as declared him to be a King.

that they faid, furely it is the King of Ifrael For, they knew not the King of Ifrael, and King of Judah fo well, as to diffinguish the one from the other, and they turned afide to fight against him ] They turned from all others in Ahabs army (as they were commanded ver, 31.) and compassed about Jehoshaphat, a Chr.

and Febofosbat cryed out] He earneilly prayed to the Lord, [ according unto the word of the Lord which he Bake] This may and 3-promopous crysts out 1 recentletty prayed to the Lorus a deverant guarton mark up on the Lorus may to the bin min that lifetils. Excel. (17: 20, 21. 28, 1862; 2-12.) Excel. chap. 14. veri. 15. Some take this bis crying out, to

V. 33. And it came to pass when the Gaptains of the chariots perceived it was not the King of Israel] This they perceived by iome special work of the Lord; and this may be an instance of Gods helping Jehoshaphat.

that they turned back from pursuing him | For he was not the man they aimed at.

V. 34. And a certain man drem a bow at a venture Heb. in his simplicity. Not purposely aiming at Ahab; nor yet knowing Gods purpose to have Ahab slain. See 2 Sain. 15. 11. This giveth an apparent cyldence of Gods ordering providence, even | Juddb | 1 Chron, 20, 31. That which was before fet down and smote the King of Israel between the joynts of the harness.

Heb. joynts and brest-plate. There are severall pieces of Heb. jossts and orgi-patte. Incre are teveran pressoned hances; which the to be failned together upon a man. Is one of those places where two pieces were failted together, the arrow entred and pieced fome of his vital year current. For Abab began his raign in the thirty eight wherefore he said unto the driver of his chariot , Turn thine hand] He was now marching on against the face of the enemy; but being wounded, he commands to turn the Cha-and carry me out of the hofte] Not clean out of the field; for he still communed against the enemy, v. 35. for I am wounded] Heb. madesick. Or, being wounded I am ready to faint. See 2 King, 1 2. H faid, I am fick, rather then morrally wounded, that his danger might not be divulged throughout the hofte, and the whole army difcouraged. V. 35. And the battle increased] Heb. ascended, Grew more and more fierce.

and more nerce.

that day] Whereon the King was wounded.

and the King was stayed up) Or, stayed himself up. 2 Chr.

18. 34. He was not struck stark dead; but revaining some vigor, he extended it as far he could, to keep his army to-gether from flying away. For though he were carried afide our of the hofte, (v. 34) to binde up his wound, yet did he not clean leave the army.

in his chariet against the Syrians ] Some put this word chariet in the plural number, thus, or, his chariets; and apply it to the chariots of his Captains, that by the Kings abiding in the field, they might be kept from flight.

and died at Even ] Namely, of the fame day whereon he was wounded and the blood ran out of the wound into the midst of the chariot Heb. bosome. Hereby is meant that place whereon they rested their feet in the chariot; in which place aboundance of blood might be contained, without running thorow, that fo it might be preferred, for the dogs to lick it up, v. 38.

V. 36. And there went a Proclamation throughout the hofte When the Commanders had notice of the Kings death, they had no heart to maintain the fight any longer, and thercupon caused the Proclamation to be made. See chap. 15. 22.

about the going down of the Sun] They could not have much time to continue the fight any longer, the Sun being fet, or about to fet.

faying, Every man to his city, and every man to his own coun-[17] This was a phrase of retreat, and giving over the battle. See a like phrase, but in another fense, chapter 12. verl. 16. Herein the word of the Prophet was accomplished, v. 17.

V. 37. So the King dyed] He dyed in the field, 2 Chron. and was brought] Heb. came. He was now dead; fo as his coming must needs be by the help of others, or rather it must be their act to bring him. to Samaria] There was his chief abiding place while he lived.

and they buried the King in Samaria] See chapter 16. verf.

V. 38. And one washed the Chariot in the pool of Samaria ] This pool reached from Samaria to Jezreel, where was the Kings armory, and where his Chariot Rood. Thus, though it were filled, the pool of Samaria, yet the Chariot and armor might be washed in Jezreel, where Naboth was stoned, chap.

and the dogs licked up his blood ] Dogs use to lick up blood, where they finde it on the ground. But this was ordered by special providence of God, as a just judgment, for contenting to Naboths death, ch. 21. 19.

and they washed his armor For his armor being about him when he was wounded, might, in the hollow places thereof, contain some blood.

and all the Cities that he built] Abab reigned two and twenty years, ch. 16, 29. He had much peace in his time, and there were enemies round about him. On these grounds, he might build both houses for pomp, and cities for defence. are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings of dressy over written in the coost of time, productes of the Kings of [freel] Secche, 11, 41, 8, 16, 17, V. 40, 50 a hab [few with bit father!] Secch., 10, and Abustiab bit four raigned in his fleed. Secv., 51, 41, ediad Febolhaphat the fow. of Abustia to raign over

Jacob J. Carlon, 20.31. Inat which was before let down of Jebofhaphats biffory, was in regard of his joyning with Ahab: loas it properly belongeth to Ahabs froy; which being finished, he now sets down the beginning of Jebofhayear of Ala, Jehoshaphats father, ch. 16.29. who raigned fourty one years, ch. 15. 10.

one years, ch. 15, 10.

V. 41. Hobbithhat was thirty and five jears old when he began to raign] Heb. a fon of thirty five jears.

and he raigned strenty and five years in Jerufalem] These years are to be reckoned from the beginning of his raign, to the end of his life; all which time he was true King, though his fon were fometimes Governour over the land. See 2 King. ch.

and his mothers name was Azubah, the daughter of Shilhi.] See ch. 14. 21. & 15. 10. This patentage of his, by the mother and grandmother, is fet down for honours fake.

V. 43. And he walked in all the waies of Asa his father] He means the former waies of Afa, 2 Chr. 17. 3. for in his latter years he fell into many fins , 2 Chron. chap. 16.

he turned not aside from it ] This shows both his integrity in all duties; and his confluery therein doing that which was right in the fight of the Lord ] This fets out his fincerity, tee ch 5.5. neveribeless the high places were not taken away] See chap. 15.

for the people offered] ee ch. 15.14.
and burnt incense] See ch. 9. 25. yet] Still after a great reformation, 2 Chr. 17.9. & 19.4, &c.

inthe high places ] Sec ch. 3.4. V. 44. And Jehoshaphar peace ] See ch. 2. This peace with idolatrous Ifrael brought the wrath of God upon Jehoshaphat, with the King of Ifrael ] He made peace both with Ahab. v. and also with Jehoram Ahabs son, 2 King. 3.7.

V. 45. Now the rest of the acts of Jehoshaphat] See ch. 14.

and his might that he shewed] See ch. 15.23.
and him he warred] See 2 Chr. 20.1,&c.

are they not written in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Fudah] See ch. 15.23.

V. 46. And the remnant of the Sedomites which remained in the dayes of his father Afa, he took out of the land ] See ch. 15. 12. These Sodomites were countenanced in Rehoboams time, ch. 14. 24. And rooted out in Afa's time, ch. 15. 12. Yet it appears, that they grew again in Jehoshaphats time; so as Asa at first destroyed them not all (some might eleape his hands) or in the latter end of his raign (when he fell from God, 2 Chr. 16. 10.) they might rife again ; or when Afa was dead, they might dream of a toleration, and thereupon exercise their filthiness.

V. 47. There was then no King in Edom ] From the time that David fubdued Edom, ( 2 Sam. 8. 14.) till Jorams time, (2 King, 8. 10.) Edom was in Subjection to Judah Then was Ifaacs prophecy of Jacobs being Lord over his brother (Gen. 7. 29.) accomplished. See the notes on Gen. chap.25. vera Deputy was King ] This Deputy used to be put in by the

V. 43. Febofuspha made filips Oct. had ten filips. of Tarships Or, for Tarships. See ch. 10.22.

to go to Ophir for gold ] See ch. 9, 28. Tarshish might be the general name of the whole region or country, whither the thips went; and Ophir the particular name of that place where choice gold was. Jehothaphar herein imitated his great grandfather Solomon, ch. 10. 22.

but they went not ] God can crofs mens projects. The words following thew the reason why they went not.
for the [hips were broken] This was ordered by the special.

Kkkk z providence Chap. i.

bad not put far on to Sea.
V. 49. Then faid Abariab the fon of Abab unto Feboshphat ] Though their former attempt of fetting forth a Navy were frustrated, yet Ahaziah would fain have made another attempt, as if the loss that they had by their ships, had been a meer casualty. Wicked ones seldome behold God in his juagments.

Let my fervants go with thy forvants in the [hips] He supposed that by affociation with Jehoshaphats servants, he might have the better success. But Jehoshaphat would not Jehoshaphat had the better fuerfic. But Jahofinapha would not, Jehefinapha had been reproved by a Prophet of the Lord, for joyining with Ahazish in a former expedition, a Chr. 20, 37, and thereupons is made more wife then to joy with h m again. V, 50, And Hohjahah Haff, Self. 3 Sec. 20, And Hohjahah Haff, Self. 3 Self. 20, Implies for fuerficed a pious futher. Grace doth not ampious for future data from father to dall. Of Johanna witchenefs. See a Chr. 10 and 10 American Self. 3 See 2 Chr. 20 Self. 3 Self

V. 51. Abaziah ibe fon of Ahab began to raign over Ifrael in Samaria] See ch. 16. 29.
the (eventeemb yeer of Feboshaphat King of Fudab] See 2 King.

and raigned two years over I [rael] These two yeers are to be providence of God, to punish Johoshaphar for joyaing with reckoned current, 2s.ch. 15. 2. His first yeer was in common with Ahab his father; his second, with Jehoram his brother, as Extins-Geber J Sec. ch. 9. 26. This shews, that the ships Sec. ch. 15. 25.

V. 52. And he did evill in the fight of the Lord] See chap.

14.20. and walked in the way of his father] Ahab was his tather, and Ahabs way was as bad as bad could be, See chap. 16.

and in the way of his mother] Jezebel was his mother, and the was worfe then his father. See ch. 16.31.

and in the may of Jeroboam the fon of Nebat ] Jeroboam was the first that cauled the division betwiet Judah and Israel, and brought all Ifrael to worship the Calves, ch. 12. ver.

who made I(ract to fin] See ch. 14. 16. V. 53. For heferved Baal] It is Ahaziah that is here meant. who alcribed Deity to Baal, as if he had been a true God; and fo did Ahab before him. See ch. 16.31.

and worfhipped bim] He yielded divine honour to Baal, as to true God.
and provoked to anger] Sec ch. 14. 9.
the Lord God of [frae] Sec ch. 8. 15.
according unso all that bis father had done] Men are prone to hold close to evil patterns, and in nothing to swerve from which when the state of the sta

ANNOTATIONS

On the second Book of the Kings.

Commonly called

The fourth Book of the KINGS.

The Argument of the fecond Book of KINGS.

He second Book of Kings continueth the History of the Kings of Israel and Judah, to the captivity of them The fecond Book of Kings continues the History of the Kings of Israel and Julian both. The History of Israel is from the rebellion of Moab in Ahaziahs time, to the captivity of Hoshea, 2 King. 18.10. Which was the space of one hundred fifty and sine years, wherein twelve Kings raigned, one after another. The History of Judah is from the end of Indohaphars rejus, to the captivity of Zedekish, which was the place of two hundred niners and four years (besides the ewenty and six years, mentioned 2 King. 25.27.) wherein sisten Kings (besides Athalia the Wurper, 2 King. 11.1,&c.) reigned, one after another.

The second Book of the Kings, commonly called, the fourth Book of the Kings.

The two Books of the Kings are diftinguified, not as if they contained Histories of different matters, but because (if all the History of both Books had been compiled in one Book) it would have seemed too great avolumn. See Chap. 1. 1.

CHAP. I.

Veti. 1. Hen] Heb. and. This copulative particle knits the two Books of Kings together, and flewer, that this fercoad book goes on in fuch thiftours and the second book goes on in fuch this original to the second book goes on in fuch this tribe is put for the geople of Maab, whom David had fubdurd and made tributary, Sam 8 a. Second ...

2 Sam 8, 2. See ch. 3, 4. rebelled] Or, fell off. They refused any longer to be subject to Ilrael. See 1 King. 1:.19. against Israel ] When the tribes were divided into two Kingdoms, one Kingdom kept under fome common enemies , the other others; Ifrael kept Moab under, and Judah kept Edom under, 1 King. 22. 47.

after the death of Ahab Ahab, as all his Predeceffors before from David had kept Moab in Subjection. The Kingdom of Ifrael received a great blow upon the death of Ahab, and his fon Ahaziah being wicked and weak, could not recover the ftrength which was loft; neither did he long continue, by rea-fon of his dangerous fall. Moab therefore quickly takes that opportunity to rebel. This is noted as a part of Gods revenge on Ahaziah, whose impiety was very great, I King. 22. 52, 53. The loss of a dominion, which a Kings Predecessors for many generations have held, is a great judgment; witness many generations nave utio, is a great jungment; whenes Queen Maries lofs of Callis.

V. 2. And Ahariah fell down thorow a lattefs in his upper chamber] It seemeth that there were cross bars or lattesses, to let light into the Kings chamber, either weak, or rotten, or not well faltned, whereon he leaned or trod; but they failing, he fell thorow, and mortally hurt himfelf. Some take the word translated upper chamber, for the flat-roof of his house, and latteffes, for battlements, as Deut. 21.8.

that was in Samaria] Namely, in his royal Palace in that city. See 1 King. 16. 24.

and was fick The Hebrew files every hurt, 2 fickness; and the fent melfengers, and faid unto them, go enquire ] It feems he feared death, but carnefly defired life, which made him fo inquisitive of the issue, as he was.

on to impunitive or me mue, as ne was, of Bash 2 chub? The meaning of this word, is 249-Lord. The Ekronites fo called that Idol whom they worthipped, because they being infefted with flies, thought their Bash freet them from that amonyance; or because their Priests fold them, that in the shape of a fly their Baal buzzed Oracles in their ears.

See 1 King 16.31.

the god of Ekron ] Ekron was a great city within the lot diftributed to Judah (Josh. 15. 45. Judg. 1. 18.) But the Phi-listines recovered it, and kept it, 1 Sam. 5. 10. whether I [hall recover] Heb. if I shall live. The Kings bruife was so dangerous, as his Chirurgions and Physitians could (x King. 19. 1.) as Herodias was against John the Baotist. izive him little hope of recovery ;and therefore he fends to the a fore-faid idol; as he flighted Jehovah the true Lord and God of Tudab; so also the calves and Baal, idols of Israel, and fends to a trange god. Idolaters know not where to rest.

V. 3. But the Angel of the Lord said ] God many waies makes known his minde to his Prophets; fometimes immediately by his Spirit, and fometimes by the ministery of Angels. In that God fendeth his Angels to inform his Prophets, in fuch things as they are to make known to others; he doth much honour fons of men, and with a giveth occasion to others of having the ministery of man in high account, Act, 10, vers. 3, 5, 6. to Elijah the Tifbbite] See 1 King. 17. 1.

Arife] Sec 1 King. 14.2.

Artic] Sec 1 king. 14.2.
go up to meet the messengers of the king of Samaria] God prevented the messengers going to an abominable idol.
and sa unto them ] God in express words puts an answer into his Prophets mouth, that the Prophet might be the more faithful in delivering it, and the king give the more heed

Is it not because there is not a God in Israel, that ye go to enquire of Basizebub the God of Ekron This is a sharp rebuke. whereby Ahaziahs folly is upbraided unto him; in that by fending to the idol of Ekron, he shewed that he thought there was no God in Ifrael; or that the God of Ifrael could nor, or would not, tell what should be the iffue of his hurt.

V. 4. Now therefore the faith the Lord | See I King. 12

24.
Thou shal not come down from that bed on which thou art gon up ] Heb the bed whither thou art gon up, thou shalt not come down from it. The judgement is denounced against Ahaziah, as spoken to his face, for the surer evidence thereof. This phrase, thou shalt not come down, implyeth that he should not recover : For when men recover, they use to rise and come down but shalt surely dye] Heb, dying thou shalt dye. See I King.

and Elijah departed] Having done his meffage, he went to his accustomed habitation; or to mount Carmel. See v. q. and 4, 25, and 1 King, 18, 19.

V. 5. And when the messengers turned back unto him] So foon as the meffengers had received their answer from Elijah, they presently returned to the king, and went not on to Ekron; for they believed that he was a Prophet that spake to them; and that in the name of the Lord.

be faid unto them, Why are ye now turned back The king knew that they could not have been so soon at Ekron; and therefore enquireth after the reason of their speedy return, V. 6. And they faid unto him, there came a man up to meet us?

One whom they knew not, so met them in the way, as they difcerned, that he purpofely came to deliver his mellage, and that he was a Prophet. and faid unto us, go turn again unto the king that fent you] It was Elijahs charge that made them fo foon return to the and sy unto him, Thus saith the Lord, Is it not, &c.] They faithfully delivered their message in the very words that they received it. Compare verse 3.4, with this. V. 7. And he [aid unto them ] The kings reply flews that What kinds of apparrel did he wear ? How did he go > which came up to meet you, and told you these words ] The matter fo neerly concerned the king, that he must needs be informed former did. His fault is herein the greater, in that he would about him that first gave the message.

V. 8. And they answered him] They describe him as well as be was an hairy man ] Heb. a lord of haires. This hath reference to his apparel, rather then to his person. His upper coat that he had on him, was a ruff hairy coat. Prophets did use to wear fuch, Zach. 13.4. Thereby they made themfelves a pattern for penitents ; because a main point of their doctrine was pungement on me oner cnapaan. Like nos pun down ince repeatance.

and girs with a girdle of leather about his toyns] It was an ancitation to have fair colly girdles 3 but by futch a girdle of the down to the down the college of the down his toyns. The design the design as the did, as it were, in design of God. Interest of judgments make some mean hearts as the Prophet wore, he shewed a contempt of all bravery. John the Baptist was thus attired, (Matth. 3. 4.) to shew that he was that other Elijah which was to come, Mal. 4.5. Matt.

and he faid, it is Elijab the Tifbbite ] Certainly this king had feen Elijah, before, in his fathers time ; or at left heard before of him, and of his manner of going.

V. 9. Then the king fent unto him] The king was so enraged at this hard meslage, as he resolved to take away his life that sent it: and questionless he was put on thereto by his mother Jezebel, who was as much in cenfed against Elijah, Matt. 14.8.

acaptain of fifty ] Captains were diftinguished by the number of fouldiers under them. Some were over the whole hoftel Chron. 11.6. Some over a thousand, 1 Sam. 18. 13. Some over an hundred, Act. 23, 23. Some over fifty, as here. with his fifty] He fent fo many not to honour him, for then he would have fent Courtiers, but to affright the Prophet the more; and to force him to come, if he made any refiftance. Herein he sheweth his felly: for if he had taken Elijah to have been but as other men, what need he have fent fo many well armed to fetch one man; but if he conceived, that God would in special manner protect him, he might well know that multitudes were nothing against God, with whom it is nothing to help, whether with many, or with them that have no power, 2 Chron. 14-11. Nor fifty, nor five hundred, nor five thouland, are able to ferch those whom God will hold back.

and he were up to him ] He supposed that he was able to fetch him down.

and behold he fate on the top of a hill So did Sampson in a like case, Judg. 15. 11. This hill is supposed to be mount Carmel.

and he spake unto him, Thou man of God] Of this title, See I King, 13.4. Elijah was accounted a man of God, and an extraordinary Propher, by the king and all forts of people: and traditionary Propagate, by the sing and an interest people: and this captain could not be ignorant thereof; yet, either too too feornfully, or too too imperioully, he here gives him this title; as if he should have faid, Though thou be a man of God, yet I will have thee down. Herein he manifesteth an arrogant and an atheistical disposition; as if he would dare God to do his worft.

the king hath said] By alleadging the kings command, he feems to prefer a mortal man before the eternal God. come down] For he was on a mount. He expresses the kings command in a most imperious manner. He manifests herein, both his own, and also the kings stoutness against God.

V. 10. And Elijah answered and faid to the captain of fifty, if The a man of God] The Prophet takes the word out of the mouth of the Captain, and thereby convinceth him of his im-then let fire come down] Fire is one of the terriblest creatures. with it Sodom and Gomorrah was destroyed, Gen 19. 24. The whole world shall be consumed therewith, 2 Pet, 3.7. The torment of hell is refembled uato it, Mark 9. 43. It was by an extraordinary spirit, that a man of God should by prayer draw.

fuch a judgment upon men, from heaven] The lowest heaven is here meant, namely, the air. It coming from the air, came from above, and fo from God, Job 1. 16. 1 King. 18. 28.

and confione thee and thy fifty] So Numb. 11. 1. It much aggravateth the judgment that none of the company were and there came down fire, &c.] The judgment is every way answerable to the prayer of the Prophet. This shews the effica-cy of prayer, Jam. 5, 17. This was Elijahs ninth miracle. See

V. 11. Again also be sent unto him another captain ] This is meant of Abaziah, who was nothing moved with the former judgement, though it were a very terrible one. What can work upon an obdurate heart ? He lay on his death bed ; yet and he answered and faid unto him, Sec. 7 The second captain shews himselves as impudent and obstinate against God, as the not be warned by the former judgement.

O man of God, Thus faith the king] See v. 9. come down quickly ] This word, quickly, is added over and above the former, implying, that he would admit of no delay. His obstinacy berein appeareth to be the greater,

V. 12. And Elijab answered, &c. ] See verf. 10. The judgement on this chaptain, with his fifty, is as great as the former judgement on the other chaptain. Like fins pull down like the harder. and the third Captain of fifty went up, and came and fell on the knees Heb. bowed. In a most humble manner, but with civil reverence, he supplicates pity.

before Elijah] Had this been divine worship, surely such an holy Prophet, as Elijah, would no more have suffered it then Peter, Acts 10, 25, 26. Or the Angel, Rev. 19, 10, and and befought bim Herein this third captain dealt prudently and pioufly; yet he failed in that he did not prefs the former judgments upon his mafter the King, fo as to have restrained him from fending a third time. But he thought that he might more | 33. there David was received again to his kingdom, 2 Sam, by humble supplication prevail with the Prophet, then by any admonition or advice with the King.

Chap. ij.

and jaid unto bim, O min of God] This third Captain other-wife uteth this title then the other two did. He humbly and truly acknowledgeth him to be fent of God ; and in reverence Rileth him man of God. See 1 King 13.1.

Ipray thee] Here he sheweth the humility of his minde, and earnettnets of his defire.

let my life, and the life of thefe fifty thy fervants ] In respect to the Prophet and his holy calling he accounteth himfelf and his Souldiers, to be fervant be precious in thy fight ] That thou fuffer them not, as vile things, to be cast away, but rather let them be preserved.

V. 14. Behold, there came fire, &c. ] See v. 10, 12. He expreffeth the judgments as matters remarkable, acknowledging that the Prophet had power to to deal with him and his.

sherefore let my life, &c.] See v. 13. V. 15. And the Angel of the Lord said unto Elijab] See go down with him ] Be not afraid of him. God encourageth his Prophet by his wonders and word against all fear. So Jer. 1, 17, Ezek, 2. 6.

and he arose ] The prophet being affured of Gods protection, makes no delay. and went down with him unto the king ] They that trust in God, fear not the face of an angry king.

V. 16. And he [aid unto him ] The Prophet faid to the Thus faith the Lord See 1 King, 12.24. The Prophet premileth this, as for his own warrant, fo to daunt the king the more therewith.

for as much as thou haft fent moffengers. &c. ] The very fame meffage, that he delivered to the kings meffengers (v. 3; 4.) he faithfully and boldly delivers to the kings face : though it were to the king a most terrible most ge.

[halt furely die] Heb, dying thou fhalt dye. Though the king being inraged at this meflage firit fent unto him, thought to flay the Prophet, yet now that the Prophet is before him, he neither speaks nor doth any thing against him. God can turn the flourest stomacks as it pleaseth him, Prov. 16. 1.

V. 17. So bedyed Doubtless be was to affrighted with the Prophets words, as it haftened his death. according to the word of the Lord which Elijah had foken]

v. 6. See 1 King. 13. 5. and thoram reiened in his stead Jenoram was the son of Ahab, (ch. 3.1.) and brother to Ahaziah, who had no fon, and heir to the crown.

in the second year of Feberam the son of Feboshaphat king of Fudab] The parentage of this latter Jehoram is set down, to dithis guith him from the former Jehoram, fon of Ahab; for both the kings of Lizael, and of Judah, reigning tegether, were of the fame name. Jchorans fon of Jehothaphar was made vice-roy over Judah in his fathers flead, when Jehoshaphat went out to war with Ahab, t King. 22, 2. This was the eighteenth yeer of Jehoshaphats reign. Thus though Jehoshaphat lived some yeers after Abaziahs death ; yet Jehoram, fucceffor to Ahaziah, is faid to begin his reign in the fecond yeer of Jehoshaphats ion. See ch. 2.1. & I King. 22. 42 51.
V. 18: Now the rest of the acts of abaziah, &c. ] See I King.

12, 19.

CHAP. IL.

Verl. 1. And it came pass when the Lord would take up Elijah] When the time that the Lord had appointed for that purpose; and had revealed as much to Elijah, and other Prophets, v. 3. Of taking up Elijah, See v. 11. into heaven] Namely, into the higest heavens, where glorious Angels, and glorified saints are.

by a whirlewinde] This was an extraordinary winde, which turning round about took up things in the middle of it.
that Elijah went with Elijha] For Elisha followed him as an attendant, i king. 9 21.

from Gilgal ] Gilgal , according to the notation of the hebrew word, fignifying a rowling or a removing. The reason of the name, is rendered, Josh. 5. 1. because by the circumcifing of those, who were not circumcifed in the wilderness, their reproach was rolled or taken away. Gilgal was a famous place. There the If aelites first camped, when they came out of the wilderness through Jordan: there they were circumcifed, and celebrated their first Pass-over in Canaan, and manna there first ceased: there was the ark first settled; there the 19, 15, 40. there was colledg of Prophets, about providing or, whom two great miracles were wrought, chap. 4. 28. &c. It became afterwards a place of great wickedness, Hof. 9. 15. Amos 4. 4. Elijah now went thither to vifit that colledg of the Prophets, which was there, as Samuel had done before, 1 Sam. 7. 16.

1 Jam. 7. 16. V. 2. And Elijah faid unto Elifha, Tarry here I pray thee] Eljiah might move Elifha to tarry there, lest with the fight of Flijahs departing from him, he should be overmuch grieved : or to keep him from divulging abroad that which he should see, Mat. 17.9. Or to try whether Elisha would leave Elijah, or no, or to flir up in him a more earnest desire and diligent care of following him(as Luk. 24. 28.) that he might be a witness of what was done.

for the Lord hath fent me to Bethel ] Of Bethel, fee I King, 12. 29. In Bethel was a colledg of Prophets, v. 3. Indeed at the division of the tribes into two kingdoms, Bethel was one of those idolatrous places, where one of the golden calves was let up to be worshipped; yet it was won by Abijam before this2 Chron 13.19. It might thereupon now belong to Judah. Or though the king and most of his people were idolaters, yethe might suffer Prophets of the Lord to have a sciency there. This fociety Elijah went to vifit before his departure, that he might establish them in the faith. His minde was herein like to Peters, 2 Pet. 1. 14,15.

and Elifta faid unto him, as the Lord liverb] See 1 King. 12 and Eujpa jara unto vim, as the Lora treeth j See 1 King. 1. etled resolution, in cleaving to his master to long as he was on and as thy foul liveth, I will not leave thee. ] This is added as further effeveration, the rather because it was fenfibly evident that his foul lived. See 1 Sam. 20. 3. & 25. 26. Herein Elisha shewed his grateful faithfulnels to his master, whom he would not leave. (o they went down to Betbel | Elijah perceiving Elifha's unalterable resolution, suffered him to go along with him. V. 3. And the fons of the Prophets, that were at Bethel, ] See King. 18.4. came forth to Elisha and said unto him ] This they might do in Elijahs absence. knowest thou not that the Lord will take away thy master ? The lare had before-hand made known how he meant to take away Elii b. from thy head] From being over thee as an instructor and governour. The chiefer and elder Prophets in their colledges fate, as doctors, in high feats, over the heads of their disciples, (Nehem. 8 5.) who late at their feet, Act. 22. 3. to day | The very time of Elijahs departure was known. And be faid, Tea, I know it] Elifha alfo was before-hand informed of his mafters departure. bold you your peace ] This is a fecret check, as if he had faid. Inc. d not be instructed by you herein: therefore trouble me not with any discourse thereabout : He seared lest he should be too long detained by them. Some apply this to the fons of the Prophets, and thus translate it they held their peace.

V. 4. And Elijah faid unto Elifha, tarry here, &c.] Elijah being to go unto another place, yet makes a further tryal of Elifha's disposition, whether he might be moved to leave him, for the Lord hath fent me to Fericho ] Jericho was in the tribe of Benjamin , Josh. 18.21. Though the first ruined City ot Benjamin, Join, 18, 21. I nough the net ruined City were accurfed, (See 1 King, 16, 34.) yet these were buildings thereabouts, and Prophets trained up therein, as in Gilgal, Bethel, and other places. All these Societies Elijah visited hefore his death.

nefore his death.

and he faid, as the Lord liveth, &c.] See v. 2.

V. 5. And the fons of the Prophets, &c.] See v. 3.

V. 6. And Elijah faid umo him, tarry, &c.] Elijah makes the fame motion a third time, yet further to try his fervants for the Lord hath sent me to Fordan] This fourth place was neer about that place where Moses was shewed all the land of Canaan, Deut. 24. I.

Canan, Delt. 34.1.

and he faid, As the Lord liveth, &c.] See v. 2.

V. 7. And fffy men of the four of the Prophets] This shews, the number of these young Prophets was not small, there being fifty at the least, at one colledge, how many were there at all the colledges ?

went and flood to view] Heb. in fight, or, over against. Namely, in fight of that place where Elijah was to be taken up. a far off | For they durft not approach too neer. This was thus ordered by the divine providence, that there might be tener artt ceases inere was the ars but tenes i mere un of the filled fi was hewed in pieces, 1 Sam. 11. 14, 15. & 10.8. & 15. 21. be made.

Annotations on the fecond Book of Kings. V. 8. And Elijab took bis mantle | This mantle was that up- | fiery apparition , in shape, like horses drawing a chariot, as great work was done not calcully, but by his ministery. And found the state of the companied the means. So Exod. 14. 21.

and they were divided hither and thisber] Some one way, some another. As Exod. 14. 21,22.

over. This miracle therefore was a great as the dividing of Jordan, John, J.A. And it was "little a was a great as the dividing of Jordan, John, J.A. And it was "little a was a great as the dividing of Jordan, John, J.A. And it was "little a was a great as the six of the was a was been as the six of the was a was little a was a Jordan, Joft. 2.17. And it was Elijahs eleventh miracle. See 1 King, 17.1.

V. 9. And it came to pass when they were gon over] They had now no other place to go unto, but were neer to the place where Elijah should be taken up : and hereupon, the motion follow ing is made.

Ash what] This offer Elijah made by divine inflinct. It is fomewhat like that offer which God made to Solomon, 1 King. 2.5. Yea, and like to that which Christ made to his disciples.

I [ball do for thee] This he faith not as having power in himfelf to do whatloever should be required of him; but onely a for to do whatforer infound to required of him; but onely as Gods influment and minister; by whom God wrought what he wrought. So Act. 8. 17. Or, he may intend no more under that phrase, then what he should crave of God for him.

before I be taken away from thee] The help which Gods fervants do for us by prayer, or otherwise, must be fought of them while they live and Elijah said, I pray thee ] He could not but thankfully accept fo gracious a motion, and therefore he readily and humbly asked what was moved. Let a double portion of thy [pirit] Heb. a mouth, (or a portion) of two in thy spirit. This phrase is oft used of a double portion or two parts, Deut. 21.7. Zach. 13 8. Elifin being to succeed be acc his master, and to be head of the Prophets, defireth, that (as 17. 1. the first born had a double portion above any of his other brethren, Deut. 21. 17) he may have a double portion above other of the Prophets. If we read it thus, the double portion of thy fbirit. it will imply no more then fuch a portion of the foirir as Elijah had. If the phrase be taken for the doubling of Elijahs gifts on him, then it implyeth, an holy, earnest, unfarissied defire of promoting Gods glory, and doing good to Gods people, even above his mafter that excelled therein. Such a defire is warranted, 1 Cor. 12.31. & 14.12. Such was the defire of Davids fervants, in relation to David and Solomon, (ch. 1.37, 47.) They who apply it to the miracles that the one and the that Elijah did, millake the mark; for if there had been refor Elijah might do more miracles then are registred, as Joh. 20. 20. But there are at least twelve miracles of Elijahs regifired, and twenty of Elifia. See I King. 17.1. and the 14. verse of this chapter.

be upon me] Be by God conferred on me, and abide in me, fo files Elisha, ch. 13.14. to enable me to do what I shall be called unto.

vy.10. This we pros, rounted many and manufacturing is seen from an retained in neavers, seen cit. 19. Indeed out a arter this bad doubt fair and third. He near method, the it was very did likely and third but thing which Elitha bad required : find an one, was after Elitha's dayes, fo as he never faw binn a some but Code and 6. See Dan. 211.

nevertheless if thou see mee when I am taken from thee ] This Elijah addeth as a fign to affure Elifha that his defire should be granted. Hereby therfore Elisha's desire is justified. If it had he entred into heaven, where there is no need of clothes. not been a lawful defire, his mafter would have reproved him for it, as Christ reproved two of his disciples and their mother, expression of grief and astonishment, Gen, 37. 29, 34. See for a request above that which was meet for them to have.

Spirit as be defired.

but if not, it shall not be so ] This is added, to make Elisha were of Christs ascention, Act, 1. 10, 11.

V. 11. And it came to pais, as they fill went on and talked ? V. 11. And it came to pays, as not jun went on and inacea. J Heb, they went going and talking. This phrase implyeth con-tinuance in what they did. It is probable that Elijah informed Elisha of such matters as should fall out after his departure, in Ifrael, as Chrift, a little before his afcenfion, fpake to his A. poffles, of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God,

Act. 1.3.
#sat behold] A most remarkable matter follows. there appeared a chariet of fire, and horfes of fire] This was a v.o. and Employer on making 1 and interest was used or professional or a major, the moties drawing a chartor, as pregarance which he used to wears, and whereby he was if 6.17. A chartoris as furness to carry a main from gels, that carried up Elijah, are thus let out. I hey appeared in the, for the greater brightness and gloy: but it was such a fire as confumed him not. It was such a fire as appeared to and [more the waters ] h means was used, to show, that that Mores in the bush, Exed. 3.2. This apparition of fire, firly anthe ready and speedy ministery of Angels, Pfal. 68,17. and fire fets forth their zeal, Pfal. 104. 4. and parted them both afunder The neerest and deerest in together with a whirlwinde, to carry him up, yet most wilngly did he go with them. He went up, by a whirlwinde] A whirlwinde is a strong turning winde, by a bontwinner of Mantwinger is a trong turning winge, which with a violence gathereth things into it, and carrieth them up. This carried up the horfes and chariot with Elijah in it, and that with some seeming violence, at least with fpeed.

into heaven] By heaven is here meant that which in Scripture is called the third beaven, ( 2 Cor. 12. 2. ) that heavenly Paradife, where the fouls of Saints departed are, where Christ in his humane nature is, Act. 1. 11. and where all believers, after the general refurrection, shall be with Christ their head in everlasting glory; to this glorious heaven was Elijah now carried in his foul and body both; fo as (like Enoch, Heb. 11.5.) ried in his foul and body both; to as time enough, new 11.5, he never died. He was fo wrapt, as all that are living at the laft coming of Chrift to judgment, thall be, 1 Theff. 4.17. he was changed in a moment. His corruptible did put on incorruption, and his mortal did put on immortality, I Cor. 15. 51, 52, 53.

This rapture of Elijah was a type of Christs ascension, Mar. 16. 19. It also gives evidence, as of the refurrection of our bodies in general, to more particularly of the last rapture of such as shall be living on earth when Christ cometh to judgment. This rapture was an effect of Elijahs faith ; and in that refpect, may be accounted his twelfth and last miracle. See I King, chap.

V. 12. And Elisha saw it Thus he was careful in observing that fign which his mafter had hinted, v. 10.

and he cryed ] He earnestly prayed to have the promise of his mafter accomplished. In this fense is this word erying oft used, 25 Exod. 14. 15. 1 King. 22. 22.

my father, my father, ] This word, father, is a title of excellency and superiority; yea also of entire affection, and special respect. He useth it here to testifie his high effects of Elijah, and his confidence in obtaining what he asked. He doubles the phrase, in testimony of his true and hearty acknowledgment thereof : fo ch. 13, 14. See ch. 5. 13. Of this He-giftred but eight miracles of Elijah to the fivteen miracles of both in allufion to the prefent manner of his rapture, which was Elifha, it would not follow that Elifha doubled his miracles : triumphantly with chariots and horses into heaven; and also in relation to his former course of life, wherein by his prayers, by his care to bring them unto the Lord, and other good endeavors, he had been a better defence to Ifrael, then chariots and horse-men could be. In this latter respect, a king of Israel and be faw him no more | For he was taken out of his fight. V. 10. And be faid, Thom haft asked an hard thing Heb. thou and retained in heaven, as Act. 1.29. Indeed once after this pressed, to shew , that they were not the clothes of Elijah. All his clothes, except his mantle, v 13. were confumed, before and yent them in two pieces] This was an ancient, and usuall r King. 21.27.

tor a request showethat which was meet to ment to any.

It highlite forms that 1 a 37,35 a short bar 1 list he foske by a prophetical forit, whereby he was affined, that God would grant to Eliha taled a 1 whereby he was affined, that God would grant to Eliha taled a 1 whereby he was affined, that God would grant to Eliha taled a 1 whereby he was affined, that God would grant to Eliha taled a 1 whereby he was affined, that God would grant to Eliha taled a 1 whereby he was affined, that God would grant to Eliha taled a 1 whereby he was affined, that God would grant to Eliha taled a 1 whereby he was affined to the first that the fi that fell from him This fell from Elijah, to give a visible more heedful in observing the manner of Elijahs departure; evidence, that there is no use of clothing in heaven, and that he might be an eye-witness thereof, as the men of Galilee to shew, that he was to be no longer a Prophet on earth, but that Elifha was to fucceed him, and he had this left as a fign of Elijahs spirit in him. It is probable, that Elisha wore this mantle, as his Mafter had done before, and went back ] Namely, to the places, from whence he, with his Master, bad come before, v. 8.

and flood by the bank ] Heb. lip. For the bank of a river is as a lip to a mouth, which keeps in the spirtle or other moi-of Fordan J This was the last place from which Elisha, with his Mafter, had come before, and he must pass over this river, Chap.lij.

before he could go to the other places, where were colledges he faid unto them, Did I not fay unto you, Go not ] This is a of Prophets. V. 14. And he took the mantle of Elijah that fel from him T This mantle was the instrument, whereby his master had divided the waters before, v. 8. and therefore he again useth the bere meant.

and (mote the waters] In imitation of his mafter : and to try, whether his desire of having Elijahs spirit, were granted do what he did.

and faid, Where is the Lord God of Elijah] That God which wrought wonders by Elijah. This he faith, to fhew his defire, that God would now work by him, as he had before wrought by Elijab. These therefore are not words of diffidence, but of fervent prayer, and of an earnest desire to have an experimental proof of his Masters promise, yea, and of his own faith there-n.

and when he also] As well as his Master, v. 8.
had smitten the waters ] With the mantle of his master. they sarted hither and thither] See v. 8. This is the first miracle that Elisha wrought. Sundry other miracles are mentioned hereafter. They were in all about twenty. Sec v. 22, 24. ch. 3.20.ch. 4.6,17,36,41,44.ch.5. 14, 27. ch. 6.6,10, 13,17, 18,20.ch.7,6.18. ch.13. 21.

and Elifbi went over That evidence which he had of Gods nan Engles were over 1 state evaluation are nad or Gods power in dividing the waters, made him confident, that he might fafely go through Jordan on dry land.

V. 1. And when the Jons of the Prophets ] See v. 3.

which were to view at Jericho, [aw him] v. 7. Jericho was not ration series view as jetimon, and v. 7. Jeticho was not far from Jordan, fo as they might from fee what was done; besides, they knew that Elisha had gon over Jordan with his master to the other side, and therfore seeing him on this side, they must needs know that he came through Jordan.

they faid, The [birit of Elifha ] Not that Elifha was the author or giver of that spirit, but that such power of Gods Spirit as was manifested in and by the ministery of Elijah, was now in Elifha. Like miracles argue a like spirit, doth reft on Elifha] Is bestowed on him, and doth abide in and they came to meet him ] To congratulate the gift bestowed upon him, and to accept him for their mafter.

and bowed themselves to the ground before him ] This they did in a civil manne : to give evidence of their acknowledging him to be their father and mafter. See ch. 4. 37. If it were divine, then was this a worship performed to God, as I Cor.

V. 16. And they [aid unto him] Hereby also they give evidence of their acknowledgment of his authority over them, in that they would not do what they faw meet to be done, without leave from him.

Behold now, there be with thy fervants ] This title is an express note of subjection to him.

fift) firong men ] Heb. fonsof strength. Not so much for war, and to oppose enemies, as for labour, travel, and endu-let them go,we pray thee, and feek ] They thought that Elijah might be carried from place to place, as 1 King, 18.12.

thy mafter This bath reference to that former relation that was berwixt Elijah and Elisha. Or they might think that Elijah was yetliving on earth, and that he ftill retained that dignity which formerly he had on earth.

left peradventure the Spirit of the Lord hath taken him up] See 1 King. 18, 12, and caft him upon some mountain] Heb, one of the mountains.

Mountains were least inhabited; so as they were desolate places; and without fending to feek him there, there would be none to bring him word, whether he were there or no.

or into [ome valler] This also is to be taken of a desolate

And he faid. Te fhall not fend. I For he knew that Elijahs body and foul were both in heaven, and that all their labour in feeking him, would be in vain. V. 17. And when they urged him] They were fo importu-nate, as they would take no nay.

till he was alhamed This may have relation to himfelf, that he should feem inexerable: or to them, that they without cause should be importunate. he [aid, Send] He yeelded unto them, that they might by experience fee their error; and be more fully affured of Elijahs ascent into heaven. On such grounds did John send his disciples unto Jesus, to know, whether he were He that should come. Yea, surther he yeelded to them, that he might not seem careless of his masters good; or ambitious of his place. V. 18. And when they came again to him] After they had difcerned their error, and found their labour to be in vain, they returned to him. This is spoken of the fifty men fent.

for be tarried at Jericho ] Till the fifty men returned, that fo finding this labour to be in vain, he might have the more evident cause to upbraid their folly unto them.

conviction and exprobration of their folly. See the like, Luk. V. 19. And the men of the city] Inhabitants of Jericho are [aid unto Elisha] This they did either to try, whether he had fuch a spirit as Elijah had, or in considence that Elisha could Behold I pray thee | Sec v. 11.

the scituation of this city is pleasant ] The air was good, the pastures were fair, and the place every way fit for delightsom as my lord feetb ] They speak as a body, or society, in the fingular number, and give him a title of authority over them, my lerd, and withall, make him a witness of the truth of that they faid. All this they do, the more to move him to grant but the water is naught] Or, unwholfom. See Numb. 13. 20. The waters were not fo by nature, nor in former times, when Israel came first into those countries; but by a speciall judgement, and that (as it is probable) upon Hiels prefumptuous fin in building Jericho. Of this fin, fee 1 King, 13, 34. For God can, and oft doth, turn a fruitful land into barrenness, for the wickedness of them that dwel therein, Pfal. 107.34. and make the rain of a land powder and dust, Deut. 28.24.

and the ground barren] Heb, cauling to miscairy. That ground is said to miscarry, whose fruit grows not to maturity, or it is is laid to limitally, which thereon. That which was before faid of the unhollomnels of the waters, may also be applyed to the barrennels of the earth.

V. 20. And be [aid] Elifha was ready to exercife the power and gift of that spirit which God had given him.

Bring me ] He wied them as ministers, to prepare the means which he intended to use, that so they might the better difcern the truth of the miracle, and be eye-witnesses thereof. So did Chrift, Joh. 2.7.

4 new crufe! He would have it new, that it might be manifest, that there was not any thing before in the cruise, that might have any vertue to effect fuch a work. and put falt therein ] This may feem to be a most unlikely means. For falt of it felf rather caufeth barrennels, then fruitfulness, in a Land. See Judg. 9. 45.

and they brought it unto him ] This sheweth both their readiness to do what they could for redressing the evil on the water and land; and also their faith in that power which God had given to Elisha.

V. 21. And he went forth unto the fpring of waters] Herein he shewed his wisdom, in cleaning the Spring-head, for so the fireams also would become whollom.

and cast the salt in there] He being by Gods Spirit directed to use this means, though an unlikely means, in faith useth it.

and said, thus saith the Lord He would not arrogate to himself that power of healing water and land, but ascribes it to the Lord.

I have healed these waters ] God maketh the means, which he directeth his fervants to ufe, effectual.

there [hall not be from thence any more death, or barren land ] The waters and land were made useful, not only for the present, but also for the future. This word, death, implyeth, that the waters were not only bitter, but poyfonous, and the land destructive to the fruits thereof.

V. 22. So the waters were healed unto this day ] This day hath reference to the time wherein this history was written, which was many years after this fact. The phrase implyeth a long, if not a propertual time. See 1 King. 9. 13.

according to the faying of Elisha which he spake] This sheweth, that this miracle was wrought by the ministery of Elisha. It is the fecond miracle registred of him. Sc v. 14.

V. 23. And he went from thence unto Bethel ] Here was a Colledge of Prophets, v. 2. He went to this Colledg, 1 To visit it. 2 To assume his government there. 3 To settle and as he was [oing by the way] Not doing any thing to pro-there came forth little children out of the City] Thefe, questionless, were the children of Idolaters, that lived in Bethel, where one of the Calves was fet up, 1 King. 12. 29.

and mocked him] This they did, anot onely in regard of his profession, who acknowledged himself a worshipper of the Lord, but also in regard of his function, being a Prophet of the Lord; yea further, in regard of that extraordinary fpirit wherewith God had endowed him, which was made famous throughout all Ifrael. The Apostle accounts such mocking a persecution. Compare Gen. 21. 9. with Gal. 4. 29, For fuch a fin Ishmael was cast out of Abrahams family, Gen. 21. 18. and Cham was curfed by his father, Gen. 9.25.

and [aid unto him] The particular wherein they mocked him, is here intended.

go up! This is the very lame word that is uled v. 11, of hofisphat returned again into his own Kingdom, he refurmed lights going up into heaven. The Heterew word properly for the Seepers, and so he is here filled King of Judah. It is cerument, to gleent, Now as light adended into theaven, they feoffingly fay to him that had the spirit of Elijah, ascend thou.

This is a kinde of blasphemous scoff, whereby they make a Ans 15 a sinde of blafphemous feofi, whereby they make a foron of that wonderful work of God, in trafficing Elijsh, 25 it had been a meer illufon; and withsl, they food in the fibrit met the fibritumed list on to raign only in that ritwith he had, as if he looked for the like, but think it an impossibility, as if they had God. impossibility, as if they had said, go up thou, if thou canst, into heaven, as thy Master pretended to do.

thou bald-head] To be bald-headed is no just cause of any fcorn. The most pious, prudent, and every way excellent and profitable men, may be fo; but the wicked are ready to take occasion of scorning and mocking, where there is no just cause. go up shou bald-head ] They repeat their fcoff, the more to vex and grieve him. Repetitions of evils are great aggravations. yex and greer nm. kep-intono or evits are great aggravations.

V. 2.a. And he turned back I detecthation of fuch impiety.

and he/ged on them J As with the eyes of his body, so with a Prophetical spirit, to thew, that what he did, he did advisedly, was some eminent shaue of Basil Heb. stance. Either there was some eminent shaue of Basil Abb, as Dan. 3. 1.

and curfed them ] He prayed to God, to execute a just judg fion from the Lord; not on a revengeful minde in his own cause, but to the glory of God; and withel, calling upon God; See 2 Linon. 14.11. The concempt of his facerd unlinfly thus filtered up his sprint. The fine was great in it sell, greater in regard of the person against whom it was committed, Numb. 12. and in reguld of the occasion, which was only a natural infirmiand in regula or the occasion, which was only a natural mittand.

By or defect 3, but mode of allow that relation to an extraordiparty work of God, v. 11. Though Elifha herein imitated his

See 1 King, 16, 19. They who are z-alous in reforming tome mary war or 0.000, v. 11. 1000gc terms a terem contact up a set 1 anng, to 19. Anny mor as 2.2000 in retorning communiter flight, who called for fire upon improses perfors, chap 1. International terms of the contact and th other, did what they did by an extraordinary spirit. See Luk.

and there came forth This was directly ordered by divine providence, as that which is noted, I King. 13.24. two fiee-Bears out of the wood ] As Lions abounded in those Countries, and did oft much hurt, fo likewife Bears, 1 Sam. 17. 37. Thele used to lye in wait to catch a prey, Lam. 3. 10. She-Bears were the most fierce, 2 Sam. 17. 8. Prov. 17. 12. Hof, 13. 8. God therefore ufeth thefe creatures to execute his just judgments.

and tare fourty and two children of them] Such children as had learned to impiously to fcoff at a Prophet of the Lord, might justly be punished by the Lord. Their child-hood exempted them not from punishment , because it restrained them not from fin. The number of two and fourty, shews, that many of them were gathered together to practife this impicty. It may be that they were put on thereto by their idolatrous parents; and fo the parents were justle punished in the loss of their children. This coming forth of the Bears, and destroying the chidren, upon Elisha's cursing them, was miraculous and it was Elifha's third miracle. See v. 14.

V. 25. And he departed thence ] This flieweth, that neither the parents of these children, nor any other of the idolaters there living, durst attempt any revenge against Elisha. For this studen destruction of so many children much affrighted them, as Evod. 12. 29, &c. Besides, the hearts of all men are in Gods hand, to restrain them as it pleaseth him. See chap.

to mount Carmel] Hercof fee 1 King, 18, 19. This was a place whether Elijah had oft recourfe, 1 King. 18.42. It may be that Elijah had an habitation there, and therefore Elisha went thither. Or because it was a retired place, he might give notice to children of the Prophets, to come to him thither, that there he might more freely and fecurely confer with them.

and from thence he returned to Samaria] Elijah was at Samaria when he declared to Ahaziah his death, ch. 1. 2, 16. and Elisha was questionless with him there; in which respect he is faid to return thither. Of Samaria, see 1 King. 16. 29. This being a populous City, Elisha had opportunity of doing more

CHAP. III.

Vers. 1. Ow feboram the son of Ahab] This Jehoram was the second son of Ahab. Ahaziah was the eldeft, and succeeded his father immediately ; but dyed without children, and left this Jehoram his brother to succeed him. began to raign] Heb. raigned.

over Ifrael in Samaria] See 1 King. 16. 29. in the eighteemb yeer of Jehoshaphat King of Judah] Jehoram in the agreement yer of prospuspose king of pressen J concame

1. And he were sen fill to Tropping the King of Junear J

1. Jehofnaphat was then Vice-roy. In this refpect it

1. is 'aid, ch. 1. 7. that this Jehocam raigned in the fectod yeer

1. of the other Jehoram King of Judah. When Jehofhaphat went

1. went for the other form of the other form of the other for aid in

1. went for the other form of the other form of the other for aid in

1. went for the other form of the other for aid in

1. went for the transport of the other for aid in

1. we were sen for the form of the other form of the other for aid in

1. we were sen for the form of the other to Ahab to fight against the Syrians ( 1 King. 22. 2, &c. ) he time of need. left Jehoram his fon to govern the Kingdom; but when Je-tain that Jehoram was a most wicked man, 2 Chron, 21.6,&c. Whether he did it upon his fons ill government, or no, is un-

. 17. to his own death, ch. 8, 24.

V. 2. And he wrought evil ] The evil that he wrought is fee own v. 2. Manuse transpose cons. I are even than the wronger is the down v. 2. & ch. 6. 31. & 9. 22.

in the fight of the Lord | Sec 1 King. 21. 20.

but not like his father | He means Ahab who was the world of Kings. (1 King. 16.33.) and fold himfelf to do wickedly, 1 King.

and like his mother] Jezebel was his mother, of whom, fee or this word, flatue, in the fingular number, is put Synechdo-chically for many statues; all which he demolished, Of Ahabs The rame of the Lord] By divine inflinet, and by commit-inflor name of the Lord] By divine inflinet, and by commit-fion from the Lord; not on a revengeful minde in his own King and people returned to that detertiable idolary again; need of a reformation, in that those Idols, which his father had odiotis in vocas igent, and takes away the giory of their parti-al reformation. See ch. 10. 28, 29,31. Their two phrase clea-wed to, and departed not from, imply a firm refolution to abode to a taing, and an oblimate perfittence therein. V. 4. And Melba King of Mabi Metha is an Hebrew name, it fignifies lalvation. It was ancient name, given to a City, Gen. 10. 30. It was also given to one of the fons of Caleb, 1 Chr. 2. 42. Shaharaim of the tribe of Benjamin begat a fon in the country of Moab, and called him Mefha, t Chr. 8.8, 9. It may be, that thence the Moabites had that name: as here it is given to a King of Moab. was a beep master] A possessor of many sheep. His country abounded with that kinde of cattle, 162, 16.1.

and rendred] By way of tribute every yeer he fent.

unto the King of Ifrael For after the revolt of the ten tribes. the Kings of Ifrael held that jurifdiction over Moab, which David had got, 2 Sam. 8. 2. For Moab was on the other fide of Jordan; and it coafted upon the tribes which belonged to the Kingdom of Ifrael, Numb. 21. 13. See ch. 1 1.

an hundred thousand lambs] He comprize the under this title lambs, their dams also ; so as he meaneth sheep, young and old.

and an hundred shouland rams] These were also young and old. with the mool | They were rendred at that time , when their wool was best grown upon them, and before they were shorn. This was at the best time; and when they were most worth.

V. S. And it came to pass when Abab was dead Ahab was a valiant man, and had great armies, and so kept under those whom he found subdued by his Predecessors.

that the King of Most rebelled againft the King of Ifrael ] See ch. 1.1. Ahaziah the fon of Ahab bruifed his body with a fall , anon after he came to the crown, ch. 1. 2. and thereupon he could not well manage the affairs of his Kingdom. It may be that the Moabites took occasion from thence to rebel. But Ahaziah was worfe then Ahab; for he did not only worship Baal in Ifrael, (1 King 22.53. (but also fent to Baal-zebub the god of Ekron. God therefore left him; and this was the moft proper cause of Moabs rebellion.

V. 6. And King Jeberam went out of Samaria] He went out of the City where his Palace and court was, into the country, hither and thither throughout all his tribes, to gather up Souldiers; that fo he might repair the damage which his brother the same time ] Heb, in that day. Anon after Moab had begun to rebel. Moab began to rebel in Ahaziahs time; but so soon as Jehoram came to the crown, which was in that very year, he fought to reduce them.

and numbred all I/rael] All that were fit for war throughout his Kingdom. Of these hetook a view, as 2 Sam. 24. 1. or, he muftered them,

V. 7. And he went and faid to Fehoshaphat the King of Fudah] [aying, the King of Month hath rebelled against me] This was a common enemy both to Ifrael and Judah; and Moab Joyned with Ammon, and came against Jehoshaphar, before this, See

2 Chr. 20. 1, 35.
wilt thou go with me against Moab to battle ] This is the fum and substance of that ambaffage, about which Jehoram fent to Tehoshaphat.

and he faid, I will go up ] This is the fum of Jehoshaphats answer ; and it may feem strange, that Jehoshaphat should so readily yield to the King of Ifracl, having been reproved by a Seer from the Lord, for joyning with Ahab his father, 2 Chr.
19. 2. and having also been punished by the Lord for joyning with Ahaziah Jehorams brother, 2 Chr. 20. 35, 36, 37. But certainly Jehorhaphat conceived Jehoram to be better then either his father or his brother ; the rather, because he had put away the image of Baal, v. 2, and from thence he might hope that Jehoram would go on in a further reformation.

I am as thou art, &c.] See 1 King. 22. 4. V. 8. And be faid, which way fall we go up.] This question and he answered, the way thorow the Wilderness of Edom? It appears v. 9. that Jehoram had procured the King of Edom to take part with him, and in that refp. ft, this advice is the rather given; for they had thereby affurance that they might fafely go thorow the land of Edom, by which way they might the more unexpectedly fet upon the Moabites.

Jehoram propounds to Jehoshaphat, and that after they were met together with their armies; for Jehoram was ready to be ordered by Jehoshaphats advice.

V. 9. So the King of Ifrael went, and the King of Judah] Je-hram had made himself strong with the aid of two other Kingdoms besides his own, and thereupon went on the more confidently against his enemy.

and the King of Edom ] He that is here called the King of preffeth his former diffress. Edom, was only a deputy there, I King. 22. 47. but he is called King, because he was the supream Governor in Edom under the King of Judah.

and they fetcht a compafe] This compass was about the Wilderness of Edom. It was not the direct way to Moab. See v.8. of feven dayes journey ] By that which follows, it appears that they were all these dayes without water.

and there was no water for the hoft | This was an heavy judg. ment on fo great an army as was then gathered together in that place. Some lay the blame on the Commanders, that led the army thorow fuch a wildernefs; but it was their fin that brought fuch a judgment on them, And in particular, God would hereby different to Jehofhaphat his fin, in taking part with fuch Kings, before he had confulted with the Lord.

and for the cattle that followed them] Heb. at their feet, Under this word cattle, are comprized the horics on which they rode, were driven after the army. This much aggravateth the judg- most wrought upon Elisha.

b. ought fo great an army into fo great a diftrefs. alas] This is a word of much grict, fear, and aftonishment, ordinary.

Num. 12.11. Joh. 7.7. Judg. 11. 35. Jud 1.15.

that the Lerd hath called He impiously layeth the blame of their diftress upon the Lord, as ch. 6.33. See v. 9.

the[ethree Kings tegether] This he addeth as a further aggravation of the judgment; that not he alone, but two other: and these not private persons, but kings, on whom many de-pended. Three Kings with their armies. Hereby he impeacheth the divine providence, as if the Lord had purposely sought the ruine of three Kingdoms. to deliver them into the hand of Moab] For thorow want of wa ter, the armies were frenfeebled, as they could neither go on in their intended course, nor return home again; so as they must needs be made a prey to the King of Mosb.

V. II. But Febofhathat [aid] This picus King carries himfelf more prudently; though he much failed in joyning with

ner more prucently stooling ne much ratice in Joyning with these kings, yet by this judgment he is now made wifer. I there are here a Prophet of the Lord | This was his prudence in this great strait, to see k advice from a Prophet of the Lord, that we may enquire of the Lord by bim This was the end of has we may enquire of one Lera or of maj 1 ms was the end of the for a Prophet; for he knew, that the Lord made known his minde to his people by his Prophets, Amos 3.7. and one of the King of Ifreels fervants answered, and faid I trap.

san one of the King of 1 fracts for vanis anywerea, and just it the pears, that fome that were of the Kings Court were also well arquainted with the courses of the Prophets, 1 King. 18.7,12. bere is Elifb the fon of Shaphat See 1 King. 19.16. By this it appears, that Elifha either followed the army, or elfe was in fome place neer it, which this man was privy to; or elle he could not fay, here is Elifha which sourced water on the hands of Elijah This was an ordinahim on whom he attended : fo that it implyeth, that Elisha | manifest the miragle, as I King. 18. 34, 35.

just cause of fending to Jehoshaphat for aid; for Moab was a | ministred unto Elijah as his houshold servant. Elijah therefore ministred unto Bijan as in someone-train. Leplan tection was called Ethia's mafter, ch. 2. 3.

V. 12. And Jebo/haphat faid, the word of the Lord & with him] Jebo/haphat (upposed that Elijah being now taken away, this his fervant fucceeded him in his prophetical function, and had his spirit, 20 ch. 1. 16. 1 King. 18. 18. & 21. 20. It is probable, that Jehoshaphat had also heard of some of Elisha's fa-fo the King of Ifrael, and Feboshaphat, and the King of Edom] Kings in their diffres can go to the Lords Prophets. See chap.

went down to bim To that place where he was. They did not fend for him, but went themselves to him. This was a note of great reverence.

or great reversite.

V. 13. And Elift faid unto the King of Ifrael The King of Ifrael was the Generalifilmo, and he who gathered the relt together, and against whom the Lord had the greatest quarel, and therefore the Prophet first directeth his peech to him.

what have I to do with thee ] Heb, what to thee and me. So Joh. 2.4. It is as if he had faid, thou art an idolater, and I a Prophet of the Lord; how is it therefore that thou comeft to me ? or how canft thou think, that the Lord would answer thee by me?

how can't thou think, that the Lord would answer thee by me? I thin shows that the Spirit of Elijah was in him.

get the 10 the Prophets, feet. Sting, 18, 19, 11, may be chat those idolatrous Prophets and Sting, 18, 19, 11, may be chat those idolatrous Prophets also followed the camps, whether they, dd that or no, they were full tolerated in Hista; i here, tyone Elijah upbraidend unto the King of Hirach his toleration of fuch false Prophets, as could give him no fale coun-and the King of Ifrael faid unto bim] He could not justific himfelf for that which was upbraided to him, and therefore again nay] Upbraid not I pray thee this my fault. for the Lord hath called these three Kings together] Hereby he pleads favour ; if not for himfelf alone, yet for the two other Kings joyned with him; and he acknowledgeth the judgment to be of the Lord, that the Prophet might be moved to feek help and mercy from the Lord. Thus this phrase is somewhat other wife to be taken, then it was v.10.

to deliver them into the bans of Meab] His guilty confcience made him mil-give the worst. See v. 10.

V. 14. And Elisha said, as the Lord of bosts liveth before whom

I fland | See 1 King 17. 1.

furely were it not that I regard the presence of Fehoshaphat the intery necress not that a regard the prejence of Petoplinehat the King of Judah) Great was the piety and integrity of Jehofhaphat, 2 Chron, chapter 17, verf. 3, 4, &c. and chapter 19, verf. 3, &c. and this was it which moved that faithful Propher of the Lord to regard him. It was not the dignity of Kings nor and all manner of beafts, which being provided for their food, the number of three, but the goodnels of one of the three, which

I would not look toward thee nor fee thee] Thele were words V. 10. And the King of I frat! [tid] This King perfwaded the other Kings to go along with him. He it was especially that they were the words of a Prophet that had the Spirit of the Lord in him , and that in a measure more then

V. 15. But now bring me a minstel ] The Hebrew word fignifieth any kinde of Musician, even one skilful in finging, or playing on influments. Prophets used to have such, ( 1 Sam. 10.5.) and that to quicken their spirits, and to rouse them up from dulness and beaviness. Elisha's spirit at this time was from onners and nearmers. Emmas spines this was formewhat heavy, by reason of the idolatry and other wickednesses of the places and people, where and among whom he was. The minsteel or musician here intended, might be some was. Inclimates or muncian nere intended, might be some Levite, skilful in finging divine Pfalms, and playing them on a lute, harp, or other like infirument. When Ifaze would blefa his fons, he defited to cheer up his f wine, before he went about it, Gen 28.4,25. It may be also that Elisha called for musick, to cheer up the spirits of those that were present, to attend to his prophesie the better. Thus the lews had musick at their facrifices, to quicken up the spirits of the people to prayer and prailes, 2 Chron. ch. 7.6. & 29.

and it came to pale when the minftrel plaid ] This fhews , that by the means which he used, his spirit was quickened; so was statistic hand of the Lord came upon him ] A divine motion nation name of the Lora came upon the 1 is device motion of Gods spirit firred him up to prophefica she did. See 1 King. 18. 4.6. The gift of prophefic is from God. See ch. 4.27. V. 16. And be fail, they fail the Lord I Blith a being quickned in spirit, readily reveals the minde of the Lord, made known to him. make this valley full of disches] Heb. disches, disches. Of doubling the word, fee I King. 8.13. Here it importeth very many ditches. See chi4.3. He bids them make thefe ditches, to try their obedience, and to prepare means to hold water for their ry fer-ice, which he that attended another, used to perform to use. Besides, this making of new and dry ditches, did more Chap.iii. V. 17. For thus faith the Lord ] See ch. 2. 21. &r King. 12.

pe shall not see wind, neither shall ye see rain ] The wind is an ordinary means of gathering clouds together, and causing them to shoure down rain; but here is neither any means of rain feen, nor rain it felf falling from heaven.

yet that valley shall be filled with water I God can provide what is needful, without means, and that in aboundance. So there was no ordinary means to cause fire, I King. 18. 38.

to his need.

both ye and your cattle, and your heafts ] Gods providence ex-tendeth it felf to man and heaft. See Plal, 36.6.

V. 18. And this is but a light thing in the fight of the Lord] v. 10. Anaton would angot stong in our professor of the Loral Seev. 9. Though in kinde and benefitit be a very great thing; yet to the Lord it feems but small; for he intends a far greater bleffing. Gods bounty is oft extended to more then is designed.

red, 1 King. 3. 13.

he will deliver the Moshites all into your hand ] This was the greatest thing that then they defired, for it was the main end of their gathering together.
V. 19. And je shall smite every senced Gity He means cities of war with thick wals, and strong bul-works, and every choice city] Here he means such cities as had fair edifices in them, and whither people much reforted upon fun dry occasions and shall fell every good tree ] This may seem to be against Gods express law, Deut, 20.19. where they were forbidden to cut down trees for meat. But that inhibition was, in regard of those countries which they should subdue for their own habitation and ule. Besides, this may be an extraordinary permission for and ftop all Wells of water] This was a very great damage unto them, as Gen. 25. 15.

and marr] Heb. grieve. This is an elegant metaphor, where-by affections of reasonable men are attributed to the senseless every good piece of land with flones Hereby the land was made unuleful for tillage or passure. God would have the Moabites fo spoiled every way, as they might not dare to rebel again. Whereas it is said, ye shall smite, &c. It is to be taken as a prediction, a premise, and a command too; as ch. 8. 12. 1 Sam.

15.3. 1 king 20.28.
V. 20. And it came to pass in the morning when the meat-offering was offered. This was the time for the ordinary morning has offered. facrifice, Exod. 29. 39. Then the true and faithful Ministers of the Lord were at their devotion. We read of a like at the evening facrifice, 1 King. 18. 36. that behold] See ch. 2. 11.

therecame water by the way of Edom ] They were in the Wilderness of Edom, v. 8. and along from the country of Edom, they fee water running down to this Wilderness; but they knew no fpring head, nor river, nor any fuch like means, from whence it should come. This is Elishahs fourth miracle, See ch.

and the country was filled with water ] It did more then fill the ditches, for it lay abroad in the valley thereabout.

V. 21. And when all the Moabites heard that the Kings were come up to fight against them ] So famous a matter as the joyning to-gether of three armies out of three Kingdoms, could not but quickly be divulged far and neer.

they gathered ] Heb. were cryed together. By proclamation found of trumpets, and beat of drum, were called toge-all that were able to put on armer and upward] Heb. gird himfelf with a girdle. For they were wont with a warlike belt to gird their armor close together ; whence the Apostle taketh his and flood in the border ] In the utmost coast of their own land; for theirs was a defensive war.

V. 22. And they rose up early in the morning ] They might rife up the more early to fee whether the enemy were neer of the Sun And the Moabites [am the water on the other fide] That is over as red as blood ] There use to rife thick vapours out of waters, which the Sun at the rifing or fetting thereof cannot dispel; but fhining weakly through them, it maketh the waters to appear red, even as red as blood.

V. 23. And they faid, this is blood ] For they knew not how water could come into that dry Wilderness; for no clouds had gathered together in the skie, nor rain fallen from thence, ver. the Kings are furely [Lin] Heb. by deftroying are destroyed, Of this Hebraitme, see 1 King, chap, 8, verf. 13. By Kings and they have fraitten one another] Heb. amin his mighbour.

Of this Hebratime, see I aing cnap. o. verilly by using the meaneth themselves and their armies.

They themselves were so destroyed, 2 Chr. chip. 20. a3. See verf. 7. They might therefore think that others might do the now therefore, Moab, to the Spoil] That former conceit of the Ifraelites destroying one another, exceedingly deceived that ye may drink | Gods provision is for mans use according them, and made them go beyond their own borders; for otherwise happily they might have continued safe, and stood against their enemies. But by this incitation of one another, to the fpoil, they rush upon the enemies to their own great difadvantage.

V. 24. And when they came to the camp of Ifrael Because the quarrel was Ifraels, and the King of Ifrael got the men the quarret was tirgets, and the aing of tirget got the men of Judah and Edom to joyn with him; they all are com-prized under this title, Ifrael. The fore-mentioned conceit that their enemies were defitored, made them failily and too fuddenly come even to their enemies tents.

the Ifraclites rose up and smote the Moabites] It is probable that the Moabites came in no good rank, but diforderly, and thereupon the Ifraelites got the greater advantage against so that they fled before them] The Moabites finding how they vere deceived, were foon put to the worft. but they went forward smitting ] Or, they smote in it, even the Moabites even in their country. ] The Israelites having put the Moabites to flight, purfued the victory, and flew them every where, in the fields, and in the cities. V. 25. And they beat down the Cities, &c.] Here is fet down an accomplishment of all that was fore-told and enjoyaed before, Seev. 19.

only in Kirharaseth less they the stones thereof ] Heb. until he less the stones thereof in Kirharaseth. Kirharaseth was the chiefest and strongest City in Moab. It was so called , by reason of the workmanship and strength of the walls; menreation or the workmanning and irreugen or the walls; mention is made of it, Ifa, chapter 16. verf. 7, 11. By the flones thereof here mentioned, are meant the flrong flone-wall wherewith it was fenced. This they could not howbeit the flingers went about it ] Engineers, who with fuch violence forced stones against a wall out of their Engines, as now Gunners shoot bullets.

and smote it ] Or, battered it. The King of Moab with so many of his Souldiers as were left, got into this city, and fo defended the same as the enemies could not surprize it, as they had done other Cities in Moab. Yet they endeavoured every where to batter and beat down the walls thereof.

V. 26. And when the Hing of Mosh faw that the battle was too fore for him] He observed the violence of the assaulters to be so great against him, as he feared that he should not be able long to stand out, but that the enemy would enter into his city, and feize upon him.

he took with him feven hundred men that drew fwords ]

That were valiant and well exercifed Souldiers in to break thorow even unto the King of Edom ] His purpole was to have charged thorow the King of Edoms troops; fuppoling that they had been the weakelt, and that he might foonoft have prevailed againft them.

but they could not ] He found Edoms quarters better man'd, and stronger fer, then he supposed ; so as he was forced back and attempts ter that he topposed a south to the forces of a gain into his city.

V. 27. Then he took his eldest fon ] This relative, his; may have reference either to the King of Moab, or to metaphor, Eph. 6. 14. His meaning here is, that all of all forts, both younger and elder, find as never before went to war, and of experienced foulditrs, were guinced together, as Jolh. chap.

8. vert. 3. sperate case. This was a folly worse then that of the Baalites, who cut themselves, 1 Kings chapter 18. verse 18. If it have reference to the King of Edom, then was it his fon, being taken in the bands of the King of Moab, who in a spiteful revenge thus offered him up , Amos and the Sun shone upon the waters] He speaks of the first rising chapter 2, verse 1. Of sacrificing children, See chapter that should have raigned in his stead ] This is added to aggravate the hain ou fuels of the fact. and offered him for a burnt offering ] He flew him , and as a facrifice burnt bim on an alrar. upon the wall ] So as the enemies might fee it. He might tope hereby to move the enemy to raife the fiege upon the beholding of this refolute act of his. and there was great indignation against I frael By the King of Edom and his Souldiers, which might easily be, if he the was facrificed was the King of Edoms fon i or if he were the

Liliz

King of Moabs son, both Edom and Judah might be much | pounds to be informed, whether she had any thing by berahae grieved against listel, who was the cause thereof. Or there | was fit to be fold, therewith to discharge the debr. It's just might be great indignation and vexation of fpirit upon 3 or that debts be paid out of that which the debtor hath, and is among the tractites themselves, by realon of that desperate and miletable fact of the King of Moab, and they departed from him] They raised the fiege, and marched away, being much troubled at that lamentable spe-and returned to their own land ] Every King with his own fouldiers returned to their own Country; fo as they put an end to that battle. The Moabites might hence guther, that their god was pleased with that abhominable facrifice of the Kings ion, in that the enemies army raifed their fieg : thereupon, and went clean away. But they who are acquainted with Gods Word, know, that Gods minde is not alwaies manifelted by events. A prosperous event doth not simply justifie their act, to whom that event falleth out fucces fully.

CHAP. IV.

Vers. 1 [Ow] Heb. and. This copulative knitteth together the histories of Elisha. Where this history was performed, is not fet down. The mention made of neighbeurs, v. 3. imdlyeth, that it was in Samaria, or fome other City or Town. The history following is a miracle; and the fift that is recorded of Elifha. Sec ch.2.14.

therecryed] Crying bath reference to the extention of heart, or of voice; or of both. In regard of the extention of heart, it hath reference to God, who alone, knoweth the inward disposition of the heart. See Exed. 14. 15. In regard of extention or voice, it hath reference to man, who only can hear the voice. It may have relation to God, in regard of extention of both, (Pfal. 77. 1. & 88. 1.) and to man too, as here in a certain woman of the wives ] One that had been a wife ; for Prophets and other Ministers of God had wives in those dayes, fo had Apoilles alfo in those dayes, 1 Cor. 9.5. though Papills now deny that liberty to their Priests.

of the fons of the Prophets] See 1 King. 20. 22.

unto Elisha, saying She knew that Elisha was a Prophet of the Lord, and was perswaded that he could give her advice from the Lord, what to do in her present distreis. Besides, she had heard of former great miracles done by Elifha, and thereupon hoped the more confidently to receive fuccour from thy (ervant my husband is dead] Elisha was an head and governour over the ions of the Prophets, and in relation thereunto, they were filled his fervants, ch. 2. 16. besides, this word, fervant, is a title of reverence and of a dutiful refucet, and fo here used.

and tou knowest ] It appears hereby, that that fon of the Propher that was dead, was in his life-time well known to Elitha, who could well judg of the truth of that which his widow doth here testifie of him, concerning his integrity.

that the fervant \ She repeats again that title of reverence, to reft fie her humble disposition.

did fear the Lord | Under this phrase of fearing God , true piety and other graces befeeming his profession and calling, are and the creditor ] One in whose debt the fore-faid son of the Prophet was, which debt was not discharged in his life-time, fo as that creditor came to exact it of the widow and her children. By this it appears, that an honest man who fears God may be in debrond die in debt. For many occasions may fall out to difable a conscionable man from paying that which he ought to pay, and would pay if he could s come to take unto him my two (ons to be bond-men] Certainly the widow was not able to discharge the debt. And when there were no goods to discharge a due debt, the custome was then, to take the debtor himfelf if he were living, or, in case he were dead, his children; and either to take them or fell them for bond-flaves, See Matth. 18. 25. and Levit. 25. 39 Yet their faith in God. the law exprelly forbad the Jews to compell their brethren to ferve as bond-fervants. There are four Motives which this woman ufeth to prefs the Prophet to succour her, I Her own condition, the was a widow. 2 Her husbands function, he was a fon of the Prophets. 3 The kinde of debt, it was con-tracted by her husband in his life-time. 4 The danger wherein her children were thereupon.

V. 2. And Elifha faid unto ber] His answer shews his readi ness to do what he could do for her.

what fhill I do for thee] It reby he intimates, that he himfelf had not wherewith to diffharge her debt. It is somewhat like that which the King of If had to 2 woman that cryed the that which the King of Ife als faid to 2 woman that cryed for help, ch. 6. 16, 27. Where field I bely the, &c. or ruther its like that of the Apollit, As N. 3. & Sirrer and gold have I filled or no, and therefore call for another. If appeared to the contract of the Apollit, As N. another is a second or no, and therefore call for a nonder. If appeared to the contract of the Apollit As N. another is a second or no.

rellme, what haft thru in thy boule This question he pro- to have oyl in it.

among the Ifraelites themselves, by reason of that desperate not of absolute necessity for preserving life. What can be, must be let go, to pay a just debt; especially to save children from being bond-servants. The two interrogations were added one to another, the more to prepare the woman with confidence to expect forme relief, as verf. 14. See ch. 2.9. Act.

> and the faid, thine hand maid ] As the testified reverence in relation to the Prophet and her husband, v. r. fo fie also doth here in her own cafe. See 1 King. 1.13.

hath not any thing in the houle ] She means fuch things as might be fold, as Jewels, plate, corn, &c. For questionless she had bedding for her self and lons, and such other necessaries. But this flews that the was very poor.

this thews that the was very poor.

fave a pos of off] Her cafe in this kinde was little better then the poor widows, 1 King. 17. 12. Oyl was among the Jews of much ule, as to anount the head, to make the face fline, Pfal. 104. 15. to make cakes, 1 King. 17. 12.

V. 3. Then he faid, go borrow thee vessels These might be fome earthen large pots, or flands, or woodden runlets, or firkins. Such veffels they were, as were fit to hold great flore of oyl, that so there might be means to receive that bleffing which the Lord should give, as ch. 3. 16. & Juh. 2. 6,7. abroad, of all thy neighbours] By this means, the miracle might be the further divulged, the power of God more manifested, and more people induced to acknowledg Elisha a true Prophet of the Lord: By this means such as leat the vessels, fuch as bought the oyl, and the creditor, whose debt was difcharged with the mony, had occasion to enquire after the miracle, and to be instructed therein. even empty veffels] That the truth of the miracle might be the better ditcerned. See ch. 2. 20.

borrow not a few ] Or, feant not. Both in Hebrew and Greek, there is one word, wherein that phrase, borrow a few, is comprized. The Prophet intended, that the fhould have enough to discharge the debt to the full, and withal, that the fhould have means for a future lively-hood. V. 4. And when thou art come in, thou fhalt fhut the door ubon thee He giveth this charge of flutting the door, t. To get evidence of her faith, whether the and her fons being alone, the could in faith expect supply. 2 To put her in minde of calling upon God, when the and her tons had none to feek unto but only God. Christ bids us shut the door, when we go to priver, Mat, 6.6. 3 That the might not be interrupted nor hindred till the work were fully ended. 4 That it might more evidently appear that the supply which she had, was from and upon thy fons ] That they might be witnesses of the mircle, as Mar. 5. 40. and also helpers to her, in bringing and carrying away the veffels, as v. 6.

and fhall pour out ] Namely, the oyl that was in her own pot which the had before. into all those vessels] For by the divine providence, that oyl which was in her own per, fo increased, as it filled all the veffels which the borrowed. and thou firalt fet afide that which & full ] That fo every veffel one after another might be filled. V. 5. So fle west from him] This is an evidence of her confidence on God. The Prophet having given her a direction what to do in fecret, her felf and her fons, the is not over-foli-citous to have the Prophet present with her She believed that upon his word, her defire should be accomplished. Naaman by the contrary shewed his want of faith, 2 King. 5. 11. and Barack the weakness of his faith, Judg. 4. 8.

and fout the door upon ber and upon her four ] This her obedience to the Prophets direction , is a further evidence of her

"ho brought the veffels to ber ] Her fons as well as her felf teflifie their obedience to the Prophet, and to their mother, and

and she poured out] See v. 4.
V. 6. 2nd it came to pass when the vessels were full] Namely, all the veffels that fhe had borrowed.

that fle faid unto her fon] Either fhe fpake to one of her fons, who was not at this moment bussed in setting aside a full velfel, (for they might by courfe take a veffel one after another from their mother, or one might be imployed in bringing to from their mother, or one might be imployed in bringing to the empty veffels, and the other in carrying from her full veffel) or Synchedochically, the fingular number may be put for the plural, for for forn, for fine had two fons with her, verf.

hereby, that the veffel out of which the poured, fill continued

Chap. iiij. and he faid nate her ] That fon to whom the foske.

ance of Gods providence, to long as there is occasion to use it. This is Eliftha's fifth miracle. See cha. 2. 14:
and the oyl flayed ] If it had fill continued to increase, there Being no veffels to hold it, much oyl might have been loft.

God will not have his bleffings loft, Joh 6, 12, neither will be use his extraordinary power turther then needs, 1 King. 17.14. V. 7. Then the came and told the man of God | This the did, both to teftifie her thankfulnels, as Luk. 17. 15:16. and alfe to receive direction what to do with that great bleffing. and be [aid] The Prophet in approbation of her good difpofition, gives her a good direction.

Go [ell the oyl ] Oyl was a very vendible commodity, being useful to many purposes. See v. 2.

and pay thy debt] Or, creditor. This was a part of justice, and hereby we are taught to be confcionable in discharging and live thou, and thy shildren of the rest ] This gives evidence of the bounty of God, who oft gives more then his children ask. See a King, 3.13. She defired onely to have her debt discharged, but here is an over-plus given, namely, enough to discharge all her debt, and withal, to provide for her felf and for her children, for the future. This instance sutther showeth, self, what she most defined : for such a kindness is the best. that miniffers, widows, and children, are after the death of those ministers to be provided for V. 8. And it fell on a day ] Tais was after the former history of Elishas succouring a poor widow.

that Elishaps@cd | The Propher went up and down from place to place, to do the more good. to Shunem ] See ch. 1. 3. where was a great ] This indefinite particle, great, may be ap-plyed to any thing that makes one to be in high efteem ; as to fame or reputation, to honour, to wealth, to power, &c. chap 5 1. & 7. 6. Exod. 11. 3. Ella. 10.3. Gen. 24. 35. See chap. 10.6. So is Gods goodness to great ones, as well as to mean woman] Certainly this was fuch a woman, as Solomon deferiberh, Prov. 21. 10,11. &c. The heart of her husband trufted in her, and he committed the managing of the affairs of the house to her, and thereupon is she here iet down to be the entertainer of the Prophet: Besides sundry circumstances of the history declare her to be a very pious and prudent maand she constrained him ] Heb. laid hold on him. For they that are very defirous, and carneft to have a friend abide with them, will lay hold on him, or fast hold some part of his garment, to keep him from departing away. Of this holy confiraint, fee Luk, 24. 29. Act. 16. 15.

20 cat bread] To refresh himself with food, or, 28 we speak, to take a meales meat. See Gen. 3 1. 54.

And so it was, that as oft as he passed by ] This further shewof doing the more good.

he turned in thither to eat bread ] Because he found good entertainment and hearty welcom, he did the oftner vifit that family, that he might do the more good therein. Christ advifeth his disciples fo to do, Luk. 10. 7.

V. 9. And she said unto her bushand I Howsoever she welcomed him; yet the would not fet apart a special room for the Prophets ule, without his confent.

Behold, now I perceive that this is an holy ] This tiele holy, hath relation to his inward disposition and outward conversation. It comprizeth under it all those graces, which adorn a made him as careful for his holters, as the was for him, veri, professor and teacher of the true religion. Certainly, the Prophet had behaved himfelf fo pioufly, justly, foberly, charitably, and every way unblameably.

man of God ] See 1 King 13. 1. This title hath relation to the Prophets function. which passeth by us communally ] That is , very often. So oftas he had occasion to go that way, he came into that house, V. to. Let us make a little chamber ] Questionless there was room enough in the house for the Prophet to lodge in ; but her defire was to have a retiring place for the Prophets own use, and to be referved onely for him.

I pray thee ] As this is a phrase testifying reverence : so also earneft defire.

on the wall ] Their house might be by the town wall; as Rahabs was , Josh . 2.15. and the chamber being on the wall, the Prophet might thereby have the freer ingress and regress, Or, her meaning might be, to make a little chamber with a wall, or a partition, to feparate it from other rooms, that the Prophet might be the more private to himfelf, and let us fet for him there a bed] To lye on it, and a table] To lay his books, or other things, thereon.

and a first ] To fit upon it.

and a candle-fish? To hold a candle for light, as he should there is not a veffet more This gives evidence of the continu- have occasion tousent. All these were six for study and rest. Under them, other necessary commodities may be comprized. This is a good pattern of hospitality, much commended in feripture, Rom, 12. 13. Heb. 13. 1. 1 Pet. 4.9.

and it shall be when he cometh to us, that he shall turn in thinher]
By this accommodating all things sie for him, he will be encouraged upon all occasions to take up his lodging with up. V. 11. And it fell on a day that he came thither ] Namely to the Shunamites house.

and he turned into the chamber ] The chamber being fielt fhewed bim, and he being told, that it was to fitted and prepared for him, he did the more willingly accept of it, as prepared and lay there ] So as he was there day and night : and no question, but that both governours, and others also of the house, received many divine instructions from him.

V. 12. And he faid unto Gehazi his fervant The Prophet was fo taken with her kindness, as it made him, not onely to think with himfelf, but also advise with another, about recompenfing her kindness. An ingenious spirit, and a grateful minde, will be enquiring how to recompence kindness call this Shunamite] That the kindness which he intended to her, might be the more acceptable, he would know from her And when he bad called her, she stood before him. ] Expecting what the Prophet would with her. See v. 15.

V. 13. Andho faid unto him, Say now unto ber ] The Proplice by his fervant speaketh to the woman, that she might the more freely declare her whole minde : for persons that are in esteem, do work an awe in them who highly efteem them; fo as they dare not express their minde to them, so freely as to o-

Behold, thou hast been careful for us. with all this care ] This phrase implyeth, such care, as bath a fear of failing in some duty, mixed with it. It intenders a very fedulous and diligent

What is to be done for thee] This further thews that the Prophets defire was to do an acceptable kindness to her, such an one as the most defired.

wouldest thou be spoken for to the king ] Kings are in place to do acceptable courtefies to their subjects. This very woman had experience thereof, ch. 8.6. And hereby it appears, that the Prophet was gracious with the king; the rather; because of that great kindeness the Prophet did for hist, chap. 3 or to the captain of the hofte] The Prophet might fear, that this woman being a professor of the true religion, some injury might be done to her, or her husband, or her family, by fome fouldiers. The victory which this captain had over the Moabites, by the prophesse of Elisha, (ch. 3.18, 24.) might ingratiate the Prophet to him.

And the answered, I dwell among mine own people ] By this eth, that the Prophet uled to goup and down from place to phrafe, the means that the had to good content among her kinf-place, that he might vifit the faithful, and feek opportunities | folks and neighbours, as fluchad no need of any extraordinary favour from king or captain. She lived in peace, and had no quarrel with any: she had a competent livelihood, and was content with herestate. Should she have need of king or captain, her own friends might therein be helpful unto her.
V. 14. And he faid, What then is to be done for her] By this reply of the Prophet, it appears that Gehazi brought the forementioned answer from the woman to his matter. The Prophet carneflly defiring fome way or other to require her kindness, would not reft in that answer, but maketh this farther enquiry after fome other sindenels to be done her : his grateful minde

And Gehazi answered, verily, shehath no child ] Questionless Gehazi had further confulted with the woman, about this very thing, that is here mentioned, whether a child would not be acceptable unto her. Or knowing the disposition of women in those dayes, that wanted children; and withal that the had no child, he might think, that of all things a child would be most grateful and welcome to her : and he knew that his mafter could obtain a child of the Lord, for her.

and her husband is old ] This he adds to amplify that kinde of kindeness; for it is probable, that the woman was barren; and her husband withal being old, there was little hope of her having a child, without an extraordinary bleffing from God.

V. 15. And he faid, call her] By this it appears, that after Gehazi had once called her (asit is noted v. 12.) she went away from the Prophet, after her first coming to him, as Baththeba did from King David. See I King. 1, 28. or elfe that field calling her v. 12. must have reference to this, as if Gehazi had been commanded first to declare the minde of Elissa to her, and upon Gehazies return to his mafter, then he was commanded to call her to the Prophet.

and when he find called her, fhe ftood in the door ] This fie did

Chap, iiii.

by reason of a modest shamefuluels, which kept her from en- ! tring into the Prophets chamber, the like is noted of Sarah, Geo. 18, 10. V. 16. And be [sid] That which followeth, he spake to the woman her felf, face to face; for it is faid v. 12. that the flood before him.

about this feason | Heb. fet time. He means hereby, that time of the next year. See Gen. 18. 10.

according to the time of life The time of life here meant, is the time of a womans going with childe. Not that the should presently conceive, but that from her first conceiving the should go her full time, and then bring forth a fon ; and all within the space of a year. This was an usual kinde of expresby giving it fuck, or otherwife.

And [he [aid, Nay] This negative, doth not import a rejecting of the promife : but a little doubting of the truth thereof. It hath reference to the laft clause of the verse.

my lord | This is a title of reverence, for the had the Prophet in high account.

about man of God] See 1 King, 13. 1. She here useth this title to strengthen her faith; as if she had said, Will a man of God promise that which shall not be performed?

do not lye ] Deceive me not with vain hope; this shews her aw not trej Deceive me not win van nope; ints inewsber earnelt defire of obtaining what the Prophet promifed, and a kinde of binding him to the performance thereof, meta thy bandmated [This is a title of humility. See v. v. V. 17. And the woman conceived [This verife compared with the former, sheweth, that the promise, not in the substance onely, but also in the very circumstances thereof was accomplifted. The conception and birth of this childe was miraculous for it is probable, that the was barren ; her husband is faid to be old; and all this was done upon promife. So as this is the fixth miracle recorded of Elifha. See cap. 2.14.

V. 18. And when the childe was grown To fome three or four years at leaft: for he was able to go into the fields. it fell on a day It was fo ordered by Gods divine providence, who oft mixeth fowers with fweets.

that he west out to his father] It feems that the father much cockered the childe, and the childe dearly loved the father, whereby it was moved to go out unto him.

to the reapers ] His father went to over-fee the reapers, and he followed after his father. This circumftance sheweth, that this fell out in harvest time , when the fun shined very hot ; which might be some occasion of the childs sickness, if not the proper cause thereof.

V. 19. And he said unto his father, My head, my head] The childe being sorely pained with the head-ach, thus complaineth to his father. The doubling of the phrase, intimates an ex-tremity of head-ach. See Jer. 14.19. & 1 King. 8.13. and he said to a lad] The sather said to one of his younger fervants ; for fuch an one doth the hebrew word, translated lad, oft fet forth, verf. 22, 24. Judg. 16. 16. 1 Sam. 20.

Carry him to bis mother] The care of young children most belongeth to the mother. The father was bufied about his barveft abroad. Mothers, as they are most at home, so they are most tenderly affected towards their young children. See

I Tim. 5. 10,14. V. 20. And when he had taken him] The lad, before mentioned, took the young child into his arms, and brough him to his mother] He brought the little childe to the houle, and delivered him to his mother.

be fate on ber knees till noon ] It appears by this circumstance of time, that the childe went into the field in the morning, or about nine or ten of clock; and that the mother, observing it to be very fick, laid it into her bolom, and there held it, the better to quiet it,and refresh it.

ter to quiet it, and refreithit.

and then dyed | This was a very doleful accident. A mother to behold a childe fo much defired, given as an efpecial favour of God, and that by a miracle: a fon, an onely fon, paft the infancy thereof, able of it felf to go into the fields, fuddenly, merape thereor, and or it let to go into the neith, inducting, unexpectedly, within her arms, to dye. Here we see how the dearest rhat we have, are subject to be taken away from us, and how God in wisedom oft tryeth his dearest in the dearreft things that they have, Gen. 22. 2. & 37. 3.&c. Ezek. preparative to his departure.

V. 21. And [be went up] Into the Prophets chamber, verf and laid bim on the bed of the man of God] Hereby it is manifeel, that the had some hope of receiving him from death again. It is probable, that the did not make known the death of her shilds to any of her family, left the thould fill the house with Amentation and crying, and left any of them might hinder her form going to the Propher, as accounting it altogether in vain.

The caught him by the feet Hith. by his feet. Here is the first from going to the Propher, as accounting it altogether in vain.

The caught him by the feet Hith. by his feet. Here is the first from going to the Propher, as accounting it altogether in vain.

and flux the door upon him] Upon the dead childe, whom the and went out ] She her felf tarried not long in the chamber, left any should come to her in that while; but made fast the door, that none might come in before the Prophet should give direction what to do: left my finding the childe dead, might wind him and coffin him up. Belides, by this means, the would have the childe the more ready, and better prepared for the Prophet, when he should come. All these were evidences and figus of her faith, by which the received her dead. Taifed to life again, Heb. 11.35. V. 22. And for called unto her husband, and faid This the did, that she might have her husbands leave to do what she wants there is a year. At the second of the

I pray thee This is a word of reverent respect to her husband, and of an earnest defire of the thing it felf one of the young men ] This is the fame word that was tranflated, lad, v. 19. She meanes one of the fervants. and one of the affer Affes in those dayes and places, were used as hories now with us. See 1 King. 13.13. that I may run to the man of God That is, make all the speed

I can. v. 26. Jer. 51. 31. Joel 2. 4. and come again] This she addeth, to move her husband the rather to grant her request; because she would not be long

V. 23. And he faid, Wherefore wilt then go to him to day ] This interrogation, theweth, that he yet knew nothing of the childs departure. it is neuther new moon, nor Sabbath] Thefe were the times wherein Gods people used to go to Prophets for advise. For then people ceased from the work of their calling, and Prophets fet themselves apart, to instruct and advise, such as should parts let intentities spart, to intruct and authorities as includ come to them. Of new moons, see 1 Chron. 23-31. And fle faid, It shall be well Heb. peace. No offence will hence arise. The Prophet will take my coming to him in good

V. 24. And she sadled an ass She caused it to be sadled. and faid to her fervant ] This word is the same that verf. 19. was translated lad, and ver. 22. young man.

drive, and go forward ] Either the means that the fervant should put on her als apace, and run along himself by her; or otherwife, that he should ride apace before her, flack not thy riding for me Heb. restrain not for me to ride. Spare not to ride apace for my eafe, but make what hafte thou canft.

except I bid thee ] If there be any cause of flay, I will tell thee. V. 25. So she went, and came unto the man of God ] Of man of God, fee 1 King 13. 1. By the hafte that fhe made, fhe quickly came to the place where the Prophet was.

to mount Carmel] Here the Prophet had an habitation. See And it came to pass, when the man of God saw her a far off ]

Or, over against him It feems that the man of God was fitting at the door, (as Abraham, Gen. 18. 1.) when this woman was coming to him, and hereby law her the fooner.

that he faid to Gebaz i his fervant ] Gehaz i was attending upon him, and he used to communicate his minde to him.

Behold, yonder is that Shunamite ] She that bath shewed so much kindness unto me. V. 26. Run now I pray thee] Make all fpeed thou canft. See

v. 22. The greatest speed that man can make, is by running; he hath no wings to flye. to meet her] The Prophet would reflifie his kindness to her, before she could come at him.

and fay unto ber, Is it well with thee ? ] Heb. peace. Men use first to enquire after the welfare of persons themselves, with whom they have to do.

Is it well with thy bushand? ] Heb, peace. Her husband had joyned with her in giving good entertainment to the Prophete and withal, husbands are to loving wives, as themselves: therefore the Prophet enquireth after the welfare of her huf-

is it well with the childe | Heb. peace. The Prophet knew that her heart was fer upon her childe, therefore could not but ask after his welfare. These questions are thus diffinctly propoun-ded, to manifest that great care which the Prophet had of her and fine answered, It is well] Heb. peace. Her answer is diected to the two former questions, the latter case she reserved to her felf, till the thould come, her felf, to the Propher. V. 29. And when [became to the man of God to the bill] See v.

y. 27. And when for came is the man of Goa to the full See y.

25. That former phrase is spoken of her approach into the sight of the Prophet; this of his very presence.

[becaugh him by the feet] Heb. by his feet. Here is the first the Propliets words first that the was much perplexed in her markable, that the clidde being laid on the Proplets bed, and foul, which by this gesture sh: manifested. Hereby allo the Proplets staffly his ownappointment, laid upon the childs her reversend respect to aim is reshifted, (as Mat 18, 9) the face, the childe should still remain dead. Some attribute this him But this was too great officioulnels.

And the man of Go t [aid] See, I King. 13.1.

for ber foul is vexed within ber] Heb. bitter. The Prophet therefore would not have her, who was fo perplexed, to be

Surshar vovad and the Lord hath hid it from me] Prophets did not alwaies know all things. See ch. 6.6. 2 Sam. 7.3. and bath not told me | It is from Gods making known fecret things unto his Prophets, that they knew thom, ch. 6.12.

V. 28. Then fle faid. Did I defire a fon of my Lord? This interrogation imports a frong negation; as if the had faid, the former means was fruitless; and he might full pray, that Thou knowelt, that I never moved thee to ask a fon of the Lord for me: Io as it was not any importunity of mine that forced thee thereunto. I was not of Rachels minde, Gen. 30. 1. Therefore I have not pulled upon my felt this judgement, by mine own undue importunity.

Did I not fly, Do not deceive me] See v. 16. This she addeth, to put the Propaes in minde, that he of himfelf had promifed a that now fh: had no fon; but that he was dead, which the Prophet foon discerned, v. 19.
V. 29. Then he said to sebazi, gird up thy loyns ] See 1 King.

and take my 'taff in thy band , and go thy rosy] Because God oft wrought miracles by fuch external things as b longed to his fervants; the Prophet commandeth his fervant to ufe this Raff, as he appointed him. As Elijah used the mant'e, which he used to wear, to divide the waters of Jordan, so Elisha used the fame means, chap. 2 8, 14. Thus fundry miracles were Heb once bither and oxeethiber. He might rife up and walk wrought by Moles his rod, Exod. 4. 1, 3. Thus discases were cured by the linner that came from Paul, Act. 19.12.

teli: flay thee any whit at all. To this purpose is this phrase and if any (slute thee, answer him not again | Neither offering nor answering courtefies must any wighinder him.

and lay my staff upon the sace of the childe] This is the reason, why the Prophet bid his fervant take his flaff in his hand, namely, that he might lay it upon the childs face. Certainly the mother had covered the childe all over but the face, that being open, the flaff might touch the childe; or elfe by 2 Synechdoche, the face may be put for the whole body.

V. 30. And the mother of the childe faid, as the Lord liveth, and as thy foul liveth | See ch.2.2.

I will not leave thee] Though the durft not wholly diffrust the means which the Prophet appointed to be used; yet becaule the knew, that the Prophet himfelf was the man by whom God used to work miracles, the would not leave him, till he himself went to her childe, lest upon the failing of the former means, her childe shou'd not be restored.

and be arose and followed ber] The Prophet was willing to gratifie her, and the rather, because he himself might some-what doubt, whether the deed might be done by his servant or

V. 31. And Gobagi paffed on before them, and laid the faff upon the face of the childe] He obediently observed the charge that was given him by his mafter, v. 29. By this it appears, that the mother of the childe had given him the key of the door, or elle how could be have entred into the chamber, where the childe lay, for the had thut the door upon the dead childe, but there was neither voyce, nor hearing Heb. attention. The meaning is, that notwithstanding Gehazi did what the Prophet commanded, yet no evidences of life followed thereupon. The childe could neither utter any thing, nor hear any noife. wherfore he went again] Heb, he returned. He faw that he did no good by his stay, and thereupon returns. to meet him] To meet his Mafter; for he supposed, that his Master would come himself to see the issue of that which was and told him, faying, The childe is not awake] Not revived. For death is a kinde of fleep. See King 2.1. V. 12. And when Elifha was come into the houfe] For he quickly fullowed Genazi, v. 30. Behold, the childe was dead, and laid upon bis bed ] It was re-her reverend respect to min is cettinen, (as mar 20.9.) me race, me cauca mount min remain dead. Same attribute and alfo doth this to move the Prophet to hearken to her defire, as to the unbelief of Gehazi; fome to the unbelief of the mother alfo doth this to move the Propact to nearson to ner denie, as a to the onderest of Galact; should not let go his feet will be had granted her de- of the childs, (note Matt. 13.58.) But certainly, the Prophet had no warrant from God, either ordinary or extraordinary, but Gebagi come neer to thrust her amay] Gehazi herein had to do what he did, in commanding Gehazi to lay his staff upon but Gebarg cans neet to straig nee any 1 verbare incrin and 10 00 wates the distinct communiting verbare to by his stast upon creftp. et on 1 Milter, 1 os the Discheles had to their Lord, the child. He did it of his own head; and steedure 100d Mitt. 1 (1.13.) for he conceived that the was too troubleform to withheld his power, without which, all that man end of in nothing. Prophets themfelves, mult have their warrant from God, to do what they do. Though the Lord were pleased to use tha les her slone | The Prophet had a better opinion of her then | Prophets ministery in working miracles, yet did not the Lord his servant; he perceiveth that she had cause to do what she give him authority to use his servants ministery in that

> V. 33. He went in sherefore] The Prophet differning his error, talls himself to the work, > and fout the door upon them twain ] Namely, upon the Prophet himself and the dead childe, for he would now be alone, that he might be the more fervent; fodid Elijah, I King. 17.

> and traved unto the Lord] See 1 King. 17.20. This course of praying was not taken before, which may be one reason why his former error may be forgiven, and then that the childe may be reftored.

V. 34. And be went up and lay upon the shilde, and put bis mouth upon his mouth ] This he might do, in imitation of his master, who did the like, (1 King, 17.21.) and he might hear thereof. Though the statute of Elisha and this child were so different, as the eyes, mouth, and hands, the one could not for unto hers to move him the rather to reftore her for again to lye just even upon the other 3 yet the Prophet laid his as near life. By these questions, the gave the Prophet to understand, to the childe as he could, and that for the reason rendred.

Is King, 7, 21.

And be stretched bimfelf upon the childe This was an effect of the fervency of his first. By way of allufion, some inferthat we must apply our selves to all the necessities of the Saintse and other, that we must in such a manner spiritually apply our selves to Christ, and mystically stretch our selves upon bim. and the fiest of the childe waxed warm This was a fign that life began to come into the childe.

V. 35. Then be returned and wilked in the house to and frol about to revive his fpirit, and to thank God for the first fign of hearing his prayer. Men when they are very earnest in their If the uncet any man, falure him not ] Let no office of cour- | prayers, are oft moved to change the posture and gesture of and went up and stretched himself upon him ] Because the former fign was but of the beginning of life, he returns again to do as he had done before, v. 34. extending his spirit, to have that good work begun, perfected.

and the child neefed feven times ] This was yet a farther fign of life increasing in the childe, for needing is a strong motion, which cannot be without life: and feven times reiterated, implyeth ftrength with life.

and the childe opened bie eyes ] As the eyes with death use to be closed up, so the opening of them manifesteth life, and that apparently. Here we see, how God by degrees doth manifest his bleffing, that he might quicken up our fpirits to hold on in prayer, and make us more fentible of the increase thereof, and diffinctly observant of the greatness of it. This is Elisha's feventh miracle. See ch 2.14.

V. 36. And he called to Gehavi and faid, call she Shunamitel This sheweth, that neither Gehazi nor the woman were with Elifha when be ftretched himfelf upon the childe, See

v. 33.

jobe called ber] Quefficulels, he that first moved the Prophet for a childe to the Shunamite, v. 14, was very glad of the restoring her childe unto her, and therefore readily and quickly calle her.

and when the was come in unto him, he faid, Take up thy fon ] See 1 King, 17, 23. His meaning is, that though the left him a dead childe on the bed, yet he being revived, the might well take him, and enjoy him as the did b. fore.

V. 37. Then fhe went in and fell at bis feet ] Grief and paffion moved her to take the Prophet by the feet, v. 27. but now , joy and thankfulnels makes her to fall at his feet.

and bowed her felf to the ground ] This the did in testimony of her high esteem, reverent respect, and grateful heart; but all in a civil manner. See ch. 2. 15. & 1 King. 1. 23.

and took up her fon This verifieth the which the Apollle faith, Heb. 11.25. For a the widow of Zarephath, (1 King 17 23.) fo this Shunamite received their dead raifed to life. No queftion but that most joyfully and thankfully she took it up from the Prophets bed, and with a motherly affection hug'd it in her and went out ] From the Prophets chamber into her house; Howfoever, when the childe was dead, the fhut it up in that room, that it might not be known, v. 21. yet now with much

Chap.v.

joy the made known both the death of it, and also the raising man, fearing God; and in testimony thereof would dedicate his sirst fruits to the Lord; but because he could not carry otit to lite.

V. 38. And Elish came again to Gilgal] This Propher, (as is Malter before him) went up and down (like unto Christ, AR. 10. 38.) doing good. He was before at Gilgal, chap. 2. s, and therefore is laid to come again to it. Of Gilgal, fee ch.

and there was a dearth in the land Namely, in the land of Ificael. The idolatry of the Ifraelites, besides sundry other first, brought this judgement upon them. In the common intak time of dearth. Though it were but barley-bread, pingement, the true worldhippers of God, as these fonsofthe ((uch as was brought to Christ, Joh. 6.9.) Years such a dearth, judgement, the true worldhippers of God, as these fonsofthe ((uch as was brought to Christ, Joh. 6.9.) Years such a dearth, judgement, the true worldhippers of God, as these fonsofthe ((uch as was brought to Christ, Joh. 6.9.) Years such as the common of the common in the judgement, the true worlinppers of Ood, as their jons of the 100 so that the Very of the first of the wireled is exceedingly aggravated, in their it pulleth grengeance, not onely upon themselves and such as are like rengeance, not onely upon themselves and such as are like and full associated to the first wheat. them; but alfo upon the righteous : for whom notwithflanding, the Lord can provide in the midft of a judgement; as here he did, for this colledg of the Prophets. the weeth; that as disciples they sate on lower seats, to hear the instructions of their Master. See Act. 22.3. & 1 King. 10. 5. Flifty came to the collegges of the Prophets, to inftruct them, and they readily heard his word, as Mary did Chrift, Luk. 10. 39. It is probable, that at this time he did the rather come un-to them, to provide for them, and to keep them together, that, by reason of the famin, they might not be disperse and he faid unto his fervant.] This was one that did attend that colledge, to provide necessaries for them.

[et on the great pot] There were many to be fed, as appears v. 43. and therfore he makes the greater provision.

and feeth pottage for the sons of the Prophets 1 Questionless there was meat also provided, that the pottage might be the more favory and nourifhing : but by this means the meat fatisfied the more. V. 39. And one went out into the field to gather bearbs ] I feems, that they had not luch a garden of hearbs, as is mentioned, I King. 21.2. in that they went out into the field to ga-and found a wild vine ] Heb. a vine of the field. This was plant growing in fields and hedg-rows : the leaves whereo were broad, like the leaves of a vine.

and gathered thereof wilde gourds, his lapful] This kinde of plant, is taken to be Coloquintida] the leaves or hearbs where of, are bitter and poylonous. Of those he gathered store.

and came and [bred them into the pot of pottage] As they use to do with wholfom and favory pot-hearbs.

for they knew them not ] This sheweth, that he that gathered the wilde gourds intended no mischief; nor they who saw them put in, were accessary to any such evil; all was done upon ig-

V. 40. So they poured out for the men to eat ] Supposing that the broth had been fit to be eaten.

and it came to pass, as they were eating of the pottage] As they were ready to eat thereof, it being fet in diffies before that they cryed out, and faid ] It feems, that one that had tafted of the potage, found the danger thereof, and told the reft of it and thereupon they cryed out.

Othou man of God | Of this title, fee 2 King. 13.1. They here use it, the rather to move the Prophet to help them in this diffres, and to fnew the ground of their faith, that he was able there is death in the pot \ The broth therein is poyloned, and will novion all that eat of it. Death by a metonymie, is put for that which may cause death, as Exod. 10.17.

and they could not eat thereof] While it remained so poylo-nous. Afterward they did eat of it, v. 41.

V. 41. And he faid, then bring meal ] Not that meal had any vertue to draw out bitterne s or poyfon; but that by fuch a meanes, it might be discerned, that that vertue came from so his name was great among the people. God, who by his fervant appointed that means to be used, as Exod. 15.25.

and becaft it into the pot] For being guided by Gods Spirit, he believed that that means, (though unlikely in it felf) would and be faid, Poure out for the people, that they may eat ] He knew that all the danger was taken away; and therefore confidently causeth the broth to be set before them, that they may and there was no barm in the pot ] Heb, evil thing. This thews, that the ven me wherewith the broth was intected, was clean taken away, and that which was poyfonous before, was now made wholefom : fo as this was a plain miracle, and the eight miracle wrought by Elifha. See ch. 2.14.

V. 42. And there came a man fromBaal shalisab] This was the place in Ephraim which is called Shalifah, I Sam-9.4. And after Baal was there fhut up, it was called Baal-fhalifah.

and brought the man of God bread of the first fruits ] By this it appears, that this man that brought thele fruits, was a pious them to Gods houle, (as the law required, Exod. 23.19.) nor to the ordinary priests of the Lord; because, they were all in Judah, (2 Chron, 11, 13, 14.) he brought them to this extra-ordinary Prophet of the Lord, and to the colledg of the Prophets. Thus he honours God with his first fruits, Prov. 3.9.

twenty lowers of barley Besides the first fruits; so as herein he gave a testimony of his charity to the Prophets of God.

garment. The meaning is, that he brought corn not beaten out of ithe cares. These may be part of the first fruits, before mentioned. Such were appointed under the law to be brought to the priests, Deut, 18. 3,4. and such, people did use to parch and he [aid] This is to be applyed to Elisha.

give unto the people] To the sons of the Prophets, before nentioned, who were fliled the people, v.41.

that they may eat | For, for this end it was brought.

V. 43. And bis [ervitor faid] He that attended upon him, namely, Gebazi.

what, should I fet this before an hundred men? ] Though he had feen many miracles wrought by his Mafter, and thereupon had cause, readily to have obeyed his Master without any queftion; yet like Andrew, and other Disciples, being very weak of faith, he maketh doubt of that which his Matter intended, Joh. 6. 9. & Luk. 9. 1 3. he faid again] The incredulty of his fervant made him the more earnest in preffing his charge.

for thus faith the Lord ] This warrant he produced, to ftrengthen his fervants faith the more, 1 King. 12.24. They fall eat, and fhall leave thereof ] They shall have enough for the present, and also leave for another time.

V. 44. So be set it before them Elisha's servant upon the fore-named warrant and promise, being somewhat strengthned in faith, now readily obeys his mafter.

and they did eat, and left thereof ] This-is an evidence of a true miracle, like that which is noted, Matt. 14.20. Joh. 6.11, 12. Though this miracle were not altogether fo great an one, as Christs feeding five thousand men, besides women and children, with five loaves and two fishes, Matt, 14. 17,21. yet was it as true a miracle as that, being above the course of nature, a divine work. So as this is Elitha's ninth miracle. See according to the word of the Lord ] Sec 1 King. 13.5.

CHAP. V.

Verl. 1. Now Naaman The history concerning this man and also of his soul, and therefore he is the more distinctly and largely described; as first, by his name. 2. By his office. By his Masters esteem of him. 4. By his dignity. 5. By his victories, 6. By his prowess. (aprain of the hofte] This phrase oft sets forth the General of in army. See I Kings. This was a very great office.

of the hing of Syria This was Benhadad, ch. 8.7. was a great man with his master Heb. before his master. Qt this word, great, fee ch. 4.8. This phrase, with or before his mafter, implyeth, an high and great efteem wherein the king of Syria had him.

and honourable] Or , gracious. Heb. lifted up, or accepted in countenance. As he was advanced to high honour and dignity, because by him the Lord had given deliverance] Or, victory. It probable, that the army that went in defence of Syria, against the kings of Ifrael and Judah, 1 King. 22, 29. &c. was commanded by this Naaman in chief; and that this phrase hath relation thereunto. Though they were heathen, and enemies of Godspeople that got the better, yet the victory is attributed to the Lord; fo as heathen men are Gods instruments, Ifai.

unto Syria ] The whole kingdom was in danger, when the two kings came against Ramoth-Gilead, ( 1 King. 22. 29.) therefore the deliverance is extended to Syria.

He was also a mighty man in valour ] This hath respect to the courage and magnanimity of his minde; and to his military abilities, as the former phrase had to his success.

but he was a leper. ] Of leprosie, see Lev. 13.18. &c. Men of the greatest dignity, fame, and parts, are subject to the worst of difeates

V. 2. And the Syrians bad gon out by companies ] This is meant, of some excursions of troops into the land of Israel for spoil. See chapter 13. vers. 20, 21.

and bad brought away captive out of the land of Ifrael a little maid This maid might be abroad in the country, either alone, or with fome few that were not able to withfland the enemy, and fo taken. The fequel sheweth, that it was ordered by a ly Maiden, and thereupon brought as a Present to Naaman ability, as miracles are, 19 Maiorn, and necropon prought as a Freient to peanman about, as miracies are,

V. 7. And it came to pair when the king of I fract bad read the Litter, that be each bit clother! This was a fign of much pation,

V. 3. And the first much or miffref! I hough her militers

Litter, that be each bit clother! This was a fign of much pation, were one of the heather, yet the might well ule the maid 3 and

Gen. 37.39. Though he knew, that Elitha could work mi-her husband.

would God my Lord were with the Prophet] Heb. before the

would God my Lord were with the Prophet] Heb. before the Report. She means Elitha whom the believed to be a Prophet tequired, that the King of Ifrael fhould cure Naman with his of the Lord, and of whose great works she had heard. that is in Samaria ] Samaria is here to be taken Synechdochically for the Kingdom of Ifrael. See 1 King. 18.2. for he would recover. Heb. gather in. A leprofie did ufe to foread it felf over the body of a man. The gathering of it in, was a taking of it away.

of his leprofie ] Though the had not heard of any that were cured of a leprofie by Elisha, ( for Christ saith that there were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elizeus the Prophet, and none of them cleanfed, Luk. 4. 27.) Yet by other miracles that Elifha had wrought, fhe gathered, that he could cure this disease : yea she believed that the Man of God would willingly and readily do fuch a cure to fuch as should seek it of him; few in Ifrael believed as much, Luke chapter 4. verl.

V. A. And one went in and told bis Lord, fazing This may be meant of one that wished well to Naaman, being a fervant feels occasion of a new war, or fouldier under him; and thereupon went and informed him of what the maid had faid; or elfe it may be meant of Naaman himself, who having intelligence of what the maid said, told the King of Syria thereof. Thus this phrase, bis Lord, had reference to the King; for by reason of his place he might not go out of the land without the Kings leave.

thus and thus faid the maid that is of the land of Ifrael] See v.

her wholfome counfel was received her whollome countel was received.

V. 5. And the King of Syria fail] The Kings respect to Nazman made him readily to yield to what might be good for him, and though Naaman werea leper, and that disease counthe was careful to fend a speedy direction to the King. ed incurable, yet he would make a trial of what might be done. goto, go] Thefe words feem to be spoken to Maaman him-felf, so as the King in his great respect to Maaman admitted him into his presence. Or else all this conserence between the King and Naaman, might be by way of message one to the

and I will fend a letter to the King of Ifrael | The King of Ifrael was, at this time, Jehoram the fon of Ahab, ch.3. 1. who was an enemy unto this King of Syria; yet for his fervants fake great man that came out of Syria, not upon any flateliness or and he departed and took with him ] Heb. in his hand, He and as separting and area, with the minimum of the could not himleff in his faind carry all that is after mentioned; but because he took care that all should be carried, and all was one of the control and one of the control and all was a man be paid to one of the control and one of the control a pound sterling See 1 King. 16. 24. & 1 Chr. 22. 14.

and fix thousand pieces of gold When the distinct sum is not expressed, a shekel is ordinarily understood. Six thousand shekels of gold is seven thousand five hundred pound sterling, the defire that he had to be corred, made him testific such respect which is, the double quantity of the filver before-mentioned. to him from whom he expected cure. See 1 King. 10.16. If the word, pieces, be understood, the fum will arise according to the quantity of the piece.

and ten changes of raiment ] Of upper garments : fuch as our gowns or cloaks. These the Jews used oft to shift. Therefore gowns or coaks. I nest the Jews unded to thatt. Intercore angesof this of new garments were wont to be given or v. 1.0. And Elifa fan a melfanger to him, fasing] The Profent for Prefents. See Gen. 45. 22. Judg. 14. 11. Naman plot did not this in form, as is before noted, v.8, but he would carried fo much filver and gold, as is mentioned, and so many give Namana to understand, that it was enough no show the changes of raiment, partly for his own expenses and honour, minde of God without a Prophets speaking to him face to face, (for he had a great train, and a long journey to go) and partly or doing any particular aft bimself upon him; so dealt Christi to present bountiful Presents to the Prophet; for he thought, that the Prophet might be moved with gifts, as heathenifh and idolatrons Pricfts were, See Numb. 22. 7, 17. Naaman allo charge is for trial of his obedience; as, 1. That he should go might intend to give Presents to the King and his Cour- away from him, 2: That he should wash himself, which

V. 6. And he brought the letter to the King of Israel] It was Naaman that brought the letter.

now when this letter is come unto thee | The main fum of the letter, not the whole form thereof, is here fet down.

behold, I have therewith fent N daman my fervant to thee, that thou mailt recover him of his leprofie] His meaning is, that the King should proture the Prophet, to cure his servant; for he and fo taken. The fequel sheweth, that it was ordered by a facely providence of God. See i King. 11. 29. and for taking Heb. was before. For they that wait on others, ule to be in their fight to attend their misselfes commend over the Prophet, to do what he would have bein to do. Yet therein he was deceived a for Kings bare to do. Yet therein he was deceived a for Kings bare their misselfest or the search here. Such extra the search was deceived a for Kings have their order. not power to command their Subjects any thing above their Ability, as miracles are.

V. 7. And it came to pass when the King of Israel had read the letter, that he rent his clothes This was a fign of much passion, were one of the measurity yet me might wen me the maid in gratitude declare to her militers a means of curing racks, yet at this time he did not think thereof, or at least. would take no notice of it.

to kill and to make alive] This is Gods prerogative, Deut. 32. 39. 1 Sam. 2. 6. 9. 1 Sain, 2, 9, that this man doth (end unto me to recover a man of his leprofie]

He supposed, that to cure a leprosie was as hard as to raise the dead : Which was true. For neither could be done, but by a divine power.

wherefore confider I pray you ] This the King of Ifrael faid to wherefore conflact 1 pray you; I have the King or Heact laid to his own fubjects and counfellors of State, as 1 King, 20, 7. and see bow be seeketh a quartel against me! An occasion to wage war. This was the true cause of his passion. That which before he faid of making him a God, was but a fair pretence. The manner of the King of Syria's expressing of his minde in his letter v. 6. might give fome occasion to the King of Lirael to be jealous, and to fear left the King of Syria in confidence of his former fuccels against Ifrael ( I King, 22, 35, 36.) should V. &. And it was so when Elishathe man of God] See I King.

bad heard that the King of Israel had rem his clother It appears that there were some in the Kings Court to at well knew Elifha, and bare a good refpect to him, believing alfo that he was a Prophet of the Lord, by whom God had done great works, who quickly brought him word of Nazmans coming to 2, 3. Though the were a fervant, a maid, and a captive, yet the King of Itracl, of the letter that he brought him, and of the Wherefore haft thou rent thy clothes ] This is an implicite reroof; whereby he shows that there was no cause why the King thould manifest such passion as he did, seeing he knew that there was a Propher in his land that had done as great a miracle as the curing of a leprofic, and that before the King himfelf, ch. 2. 16,17,&cc. So as the King might have fent for the Prophet, to have known his minde in this cafe.

let him come now to me ] The Prophet doth thus fend for that pride, in regard of himfelf, but as the fervant of the Lord, and as one who in a great case was to make known the minde the Ifraelites took not fuch notice of the Prophet of the Lord tentalents of filver] Three thousand feven hundred and fifty | that was among them; God would have him made known to forraign nations, Luk. 4. 27

V. 9. Naman came with his borfes and with his chariet With fuch flate as he came to the King, he also came to the Prophet; and stood at the door of the house of Elisha He was willing to know the minde of Elisha before he presented himself to his presence; but questionless he sent in a messenger to him to fignifiche was without.

with the Ruler, Joh. 4. 50.

go and wash in Jordan seven times ] Every particle in this could be no natural means for taking away of leprofic. 3 That he should do it in Jordan, whereas there were many excellent Naaman that brought the letter, [6] fight ] This that relation to the fubflance of the letter, as times a thus was the obsdience and faith of a king of a matter tyed, th. 13-19-50 Christ tryed the man that was born blind, Joh. 9.7.

and 197 fielf feall come agein to thee ] A leprofie much eateth when the come much rather them when he faith noto thee, wash and be dear you the ft. in of a man, and beingeth upon him a thick fourfi.

When he require th a matter to easile to be done. Hereby they and then falle be clean This implyeth a perfect cure of the fnew'd their faith in the Prophets word, and that obedience difeafe : for a leprofie was a foul difeafe, and made a man unclean, Levit. 13. 45. He addeth this promife, to encourage him the rather to observe the charge that he gave unto

V. Lt. But Naaman was wresb] Naam in thought himfelf. by this answer, scorned and contemned by the Prophet; and because his own expectation, even in manner of doing that which he defired, was not punctually observed, his choler is ed himself. moved: Men are hardly fatisfied in the things they defire, if their own humor be not fulfilled.

and went away, and [aid] He manifefts his displeasure . to move his followers to be of his minde.

Behold, I thought] Heb. [aid, or, I faid with my felf; He will furely come out, &c. Here he plainly shews the reason of Lie difolesfire he will (urely come out to me) Men are prone to trust too much to external and visible means.

and fland and call on the name of the Lord his God ] This conceit favoured of fome piety; for hereby he acknowledged, that mer incredulity and diffemper, and accepteth of that faith what he did or could do, was by a gift given of God: yea by power immediately derived from God: for obtaining whereof, prayer was an especial nicans, and that to stand is a fit ge-and firing! Heb. move up and down, his band apon the place! Namely, upon his flesh that was infested with the leprose; this turther shews his dotting upon vifible means. Thus many are ready to prefcribe means unto God, and to tye him to one courfe.

and recover the leper ] He means himfelf, and hereby he shews, that he believed that God was able to cure him, and that by the ministry of his Prophet, but his faith was mixed with wain concest.

V. 12. Are not Abana Or, Amana, and Pharpar rivers of Daha [cas] Much is written of the clearnels, sweetnels, and usefulnels of these two rivers. The one is faid to run thorow many parts of Damalcus, whereby it comes to pals, that most of the houses in that City are furnished with ftore of good water. The other is faid to flow along by it; whereby their gardens, orchards, vineyards, meadows, and there could other places are made very fertile.

better then all the waters of Ifrael He by experience knowing the benefit of the waters of his own Country, supposed that not be better in another gation.

may I not walk in them and be clean This bath relation to the Prophets charge v. 10. and bereby the Syrian implyeth, me prophets carge v. 10. and unreof the Synan Implyeth, that the Irophet might have as well font him to the rivers in Damafeus, as well as to Jordan; and that they might have as great a vertue, to cleanfe him of his leprofie, as the water in Jordan. He supposed, that he was sent to Jordan, for the ver-

tue that was in that water. fo be surned and went away | Namely, from before the Prophers house.

in a rage | See v. 11. He doth not only flight the Prophets charge, but is also much incensed against him.

V. 13. And his servants came neer, and spage unto him, and [aid] Thele were faithful fervants; and though he were in a rage, yet they would not footh him up therein : but observing that he was unjustly and unduly moved, and that to his own prejudice, they made an affay to pacifie his minde, and that for his good, and give him good advife, my father] This title uleth to be given to all forts of fuperi-Exod. 20. 12. as to Kings, 1 Sam. 24. 12. to Priefts. Judg. 18.19. to Prophets, chap. 2.12. & 6.21. & 13. 14. and here ton Prince; yea also to men of age and dignity above others, Act. 22. 1. Here it may be given to Naaman, either in regard of his place, being a great man, v. 1. or in regard of his disposition, being milde and gentle towards his servants and careful of their goods, as a father of children; or in regard of the deliverances that he hath brought to his Country, which made him to be accounted and stiled a father of the Country. Whatfoever the particular refpett be, it is a note of reverence mixed with love. And whereas the word, fervants, is of the plural number, and this title of the fingular, it is because they were all of the fame minde : or because one toake for them If the Prophet There is an emphasis in this title. Thereby they imply, that he was a Prophet that gave the direction, and sherefore ought to be hearkened unto. had bid thee do fome great thing | Some difficult thing, which on the street of progress tong, occur current comparation would have required muck of and pairs.

would have required muck of all pairs, and any other and and admitted the street of th ought to be yielded thereto, without queltioning any probability or improbability about the means,

V. 14. Then went he down and dipped himself seven times in Forden I He went up deep into the river, and drenched himfelf over head and cars, fo oftas the Propher had enjoyned him. The Leprofie had fpread over his whole body, from the crown of his head, to the fole of his feet; therefore he fo dip-according to the faying of the man of God ] Having well taken his servants advice, he followed the Prophets direction both in the fubftance and circumftances thereof.

and his flesh came again like unto the flesh of a little childe, ] A little childes flesh is fresh, fost, clear, without sear or wrinkle. It here implyeth, that his disease was thorowcured, and his flesh in a better case then if he had had no leprofie at all.

and he was clean | Luk.4.27. This shews the accomplishment of the Prophets promise, v. 10. So as, God paffeth by his forwhich was wrought in him by the counsel of his fervants. This is Elifha's tenth miracle. See ch. 2. 14.

V. 15. And be returned to the man of God His passion was now clean allayed; and finding to his great comfort and bene-fit, the power and efficacy of the Prophets direction, his grateful minde makes him return to the Prophet again, like the tenth Leper, Luk. 17. 15.

be and all bit company ] That he might now testifie as great espect to the Prophet, after he had received the blessing, as he did before, v. 9. when he expected a bleffing.

and came and flood before bim] Namely, at the door of his house, as v. 9.

and be [aid] To Elisha, being come out to him.

Behold, now I know that there is no Ged in all the earth, but in Ifrael He believed that his cleanfing was by a divine power, and that it was the God of Elifha who brought it fo to pafs; and thereumon he acknowledgeth him not only to be a God hur alfo the one only true God. Thus that which Christ faith of the Centurion, Luk. 7. 9. I have not found so great faith, no mat in Israel, may be applyed to this Captain: and hereby it appeareth, that he was cured both in body and soul. Neither thought he it enough to believe in his heart, unless he also confessed the Lord with his mouth, Rom. chapter 10.vers.

now therefore I pray thee take a bleffing A gift in testimony of gratitude; So Gen. 33.11. This Prophet of the Lord was more honoured by this Gentile, then by most in Ifrael. of thy fervant | Sec 1 King. 18. 12. V. 16. And he said, As the Lord liveth before whom I stand ]

See 1 King. 17. 1

I will receive none] It was Gods honour that Elifha aimed at, more then his own profit. It was enough to him, that the God of Ifrael was acknowledged to be the true God. Miracles are the immediate work of God. That power God freely beflowed on Elifha, and therefore he would freely exercise the fame. Mat. 10. 8. Simon Magus was tharply reproved for a conceit clean contrary herounto, Act. 8. 19, 20. Befides, herein the Prophet shewed, that it was enough for him that the Syrian was healed; and hereby he would allure him the more to hearken to his counfel in other things, that did fo much good and he urged bim to take it ] This further verifieth the grateful disposition of the Syrian, and his true and earnest defire to have the Prophet receive somewhat. See the like, Luk. 24. 29. Act. 16. 15.

but be refused] The Propher having good ground to refuse all recompence, would not be forced from his principles.

V. 17. And Naaman faid, Shall there not then I pray thee be gi-ven This is a form of an earnest desire, 2 Sam. 12.26. He would do nothing without the Prophets direction and approbation, and therefore he makes this prayer unto him.

swo Mules burthen of earth to thy fervant ] See v. 15. So much as two Mules could well carry. Of a mule, see 1 King. 1. 33. Some think that he would take this earth out of Elifha's house, because he asketh him leave to carry it away a for if he had taken it otherwhere out of the land of Ifrael, he should rather have asked the King leave, or at leaft the owners of that land out of which he would take the earth. Or because he saw that the waters of Jordan were effectual upon the Prophets charge to cure his leprofie, he might think that the earth which the Prophet gave him leave to carry away, might be as confectated earth. But the words following thew the reason why he fed earth. But the words following new the reason way and defined to carry away that earth.

for the fervant will be neuforth offer neither lurna-offering not facrifice. Of huma-offering and facrifice, See 1 King. 3. 15.

ter , but by this miracle he was brought to fee, that Jehovah shipping the Lord. the God of Ifrael was the only true God; and the gods of other

I King. 18. 21. This shews him to be a true convert, in that on. The place how far he was departed, hath relation to the he turned from falle gods, to the only true Lord; and herein hiltory following about Gebazi, who followed Maaman anon he was a type of the calling of the Gentiles, I Theff. 1. 9. after he was out of Elifha's fight.

Now this thews, that the end of his define of to much earth,

V. 20. But Geba; the ferent as is before mentioned, was to make an Altar therewith to the true God; for an altar might be made of earth, Exod. 20. his fervant, it will appear, that fuch as are trained up under good 24. Howloever the Jews were bound to go the altar that was mallers, do not alwaics prove like their mafters, winnels Judas. in the Temple, and thereon to offer their facrifices, yet we cannot fay that Gentiles were 1 yed thereunto. The Syrian would hereby testific, that he worshipped the God of Israel, by erecting an altar of the earth of Israel: And this altar, with his factificing thereon, was a testimony to the Syrians among whom | might have done. he lived, that the God of Ifrael was the true Lord. We deny vert; and that inscontent of earlying that centurary, even in the fore-mentioned ule, favoured of superflitton, but his zeal stranger, but also an enemy to Israel. Thus he looks to Nawas good, and the ends that he aimed ar commendable,

V. 18. In this thing the Lord pardon Pardon supposets a covetousness had blinded his eyes. fault; it is therefore a fin which he here acknowledgeth, and craveth pardon for,

Chap.v.

taken paracon tor.

this when my mafter] The King of Syria, of whom, fee v. 1.

geth into the bond of Rimmon] Rimmon was the idol of the where the bond of Rimmon] Rimmon was the idol of the complish his implies purpose with whereby he much aggravateth his witesteners. Syrians, the word fignifieth a pomgranat. It is derived from a root that implyeth exaltation; for they exalted their idol into the room of a God. This also is the name of a man, 2 Sam, 4. 2. 2nd of acity, Josh. ch. 15-32. and of a rock, Judg. 20.44.

to worship there] The house of Rimmon was their idolatrous

Temple and place of worship, and be leaneth on my hand] It was Naamans place and office to be next to the King of Syria; fo as the King used to lean on him on all occasions. The like is noted of a Prince in Israel, ch. 7. 2. whether the King went, either to the idol-Temple, or any where elfe; Naaman must go with him. It may be that for the time of his leprofic he forbore that duty, but now his leprofie is taken away, he conceived that he must do the like again. Thus was he brought to do outward reverence before the idol.

worship towards the idol is set outs for the Hebrew word tranflated, bow down, is frequently used to set our divine worship, be supposed to be a messenger from Elisha, he lighted from his oft applyed to the true God, as Pfal. 5. 7. & 99.9. So alfo to Idols, Deut. 4. 19. and Ezek. 8. 16.
when I bow down my felf in the honfe of Rimmon] He repeats the same phrase again, to shew his detestation of the fact, and grief for the occasion of committing it.

the Lord pardon thy feroant in this thing ] This also is a repetition of what was faid in the beginning, which testifieth an earnest desire of pardon, that it may not be laid to his charge; many take this as a purpose of the Syrian, to joyn with Idolaters in their outward worthip ; but the words do not necessarily imply any fuch purp. fe: but rather a supposition of some frailty; as if he had faid, though I purpose to worship no God but the God of Ifrael ; yet if my Mafter require me to accompany him into the house of Rimmon, and there, he leaning on me, I be caused to bow down, the Lord pardon me. Thus be accounts his bowing a sin. Besides, that which he speaks of, was a matter belonging to his office; so as it was no purpole of worshipping the idol, but of continuing to do his service to the King. But the words may also be taken of the time past; as if they had been thus translated: In this thing the Lord pardon thy fervant, that when my mafter went into the house of Rimmon to worship there, and teaned ou my hand, and I bowed my felf in the houle of Rimmon: that I bowed my felf in the boule that he asked; for a talent of filver is three hundred seventy my just a to compley a quantum time a counter of just not complete that it is account or nutrice to take number of grantons, the forth pards, Re. Therevery words used in this free text, are in other places of the Scripture translated by the time that he had a minde of purchasing formerwhat for himself and paft, as this word NDD when he went, Pfal. 51. 1. & 52. 1. his posterity, as is intimated v. 26. & 54 1. fo the word translated, leaned, 2 Sam. 1. 6. and the other word, bowed down, Exod. 33.10. By this translation the young men, one garment of the text, concerning the time pall, many scruples and doubts are taken away, and all pretext for outward bowing before an idol removed. This exposition seems most proper, because in the verse before, Nazman protesteth, that he would not offer unto any other God, but unto the Lord.

V. 19. And he faid unto him, go in peace ] This is an usual fare-well-phrase, as Exod. 4.18. It doth not imply an approbation of any finful intention, but only a friendly dismission, without any reference to that which Naaman had faid. Or if it have relation thereumes; what can it imply, but an abfolu-tion; fignifying that God had pardoned his former idolary; or a confolation, intimating that God will bear with his frailty; or a direction, advising him, not to trouble himself about apiece.

unto other gods ? This shows that he was before an idola- / bowing before an idol, but to remember his promise of wor-jo he departed from him a little way ] Heb. a little piece of the Oct of these was to convert was the conver but unso the Lord Of this title, Lord, put for febrush, See tissed about his cure, and about the Prophets friendly diffriffi-

V. 20. But Gehazi the fervant of Elifha If that which is before noted of Elisha, be compared with that which followeth of natters, do not awates prove me their manters, white s judas. the man of God] See 1 King, 13, 1, ' [sid] Within himfelf, and to himfelf, as Mat. 9,3, beheld my muffer hath flared Nataman] Hath not put him to that coft and charges, for the cure he wrought upon him, as he

this Syrian] He adds this as a reason, why his master might not but that there might be much weakness in this new con- and should have taken that present which was offered bim: vert, and that his conceit of carrying that earth away, even for namely, because it was offered, not only by one that was a amans former condition, and not to his present conversions for in not receiving at his hands that which he brought] See v. 16. This sheweth wherein Elisha spared Naaman, but as the Lord liveth] See 1 King. 1 29. He bindeth him-felf to accomplish his impious purpose with a sacred oath,

I will run after him] This implyeth great speed; for the feet of wicked ones are swift to evil, Rom. 3. 15.

and take [omewhat of him] This sheweth his coverous disposition, in that he runs to take what his mafter utterly refused, v. 16. Herein, as much as in him lyeth, he takes away the glory of his mafters free-heartedness, V. 21. So Gehazi followed after Naaman] Evil men foon put in execution their evil intentions.

and when Maaman faw him running after him ] He discerned him to be Elisha's fervant, and supposed that such speed which he made, implyed fome matter of importance.

he lighted down The Hebrew word here ufed, implyeth a quickness or speed in his action. So Gen. 24.64. Joshua from the Chariet to meet him] This tellified that great good and I been my felf in the boufe of Riamon I In this phrase, his respect which Naaman did bear to Elisha, whereof he gives two evidences; One was, that at the first fight of him, whom Chariot. The other, that he turn'd back to meet him, and did not flay till the meffenger flould come and meet him.

and faid, is all well] Heb. is there peace. See chap. 4. ver.

23. The Hebrews comprize under this word, peace, all properous good things.

V. 22. And he faid, all is well] Heb. peace. Herein he anfivered directly to the question.

my mafter hath fent me, faying ] Both this, and all the following parts of his answer are forged and falle; and tendring them all in his mafters name, he doth his mafter the greater difhobehold ] He premizeth this, to make Naaman the more to heed his meffage even now] Since thou departedft away from my mafter.

there be come to me] He ordereth his speech, as if the Prophet nimfelf had been freaking unto Naaman. from mount Ephraim] There was a Colledg of Prophets.

two young men of the fons of the Prophets ] Such were most fit to receive money and apparrel from Elisha, and Elisha would be most forward to relieve such, and therefore cunningly he give them I pray thee a talent of filver It was no small sum and sweehanges of garments] See v.5. He moved for each of V. 23. And Naaman faid, be content] Be willing, and refule not to take my offer. take two talents These amount to seven hundred and fifty pound sterling; which shews Naamans gratitude, liberality, and bounty. And he mentioneth two talents, that so each of the young men before mentioned, might have one.

and hourged him] See v. 16. It feems that Gehazi complementally refused to take more then one talent, which he faid his Master desired. Herein cunningly he makes a pretence of faithfulness and bound two talents of filver in two bags ] They must needs be two great bags, that held three hundred feventy five pound

Chap. vi.

and laid them upon two of his [ervants] For one man could not well bear both the bags. and they bare them before him] Namely, before Gehazi, that be might see them go whether he would have them go.

V. 24. And when he came to the tower Or, secret place. The Hebrew word is Ophel, and is oft used as the proper name of a place, 2 Chr. 27. 3. & 33. 14. Neb. 3. 26. & 11. 21. It fignifieth an high place made for fafery; yea fometimes also a dark, obscure, and hidden place. Here Gehazi layeth what was brought, that it might be the rather concealed from his mafter, and yet kept fafely for his use.

be took then from their band | He took the filver and garments which Naamans fervants brought to that place, and dif-milled them, before Elifha his mafter should tee them, as and bestomed them in the house] The tower or secret place before-mentioned, was in that house where Elishathen abode. It may be a Colledg where sons of the Prophets were; or, Elifha's own house.

and be let the mengo He flayed them no longer then till they had delivered unto him the fore-faid commodities.

and they departed ] Quietly, and quickly, without staying for V. 25. But be went in] After he had made all fure, as he thought, fo as none should know it but himself. and flood before his mafter] With a bold impudent face, as if he had done nothing amils. This phrase implyeth, a readinels in a fervant to do what his Mafter should command. See I King.

Whence comest thou Gebari? ] The Prophet propounds his question familiarly calling him by his own name, to try if he would ingeniously tell the truth. It appears by this question , that he had been fome while absent.

and he faid thy [cruant] This title is a note of reverence, which this hypocrite could complementally give to his mafter, to make his Mafter the leis fufpect him.

went no whither] Heb. not hither or thither. Not to one place or other; not out of the house.

V. 26. And he faid unto him, Went not my heart with thee ? Haft thou been fo long with me and knowest not that God hath beslowed an extraordinary spirit upon me, whereupon I can difcern fuch things as are done in my absence ? Know, that in spirit, by a Divine vision, I saw thee run after the man, and the man light out of his Chariot to meet thee. I faw what he gave thee, and where thou laid'st it; I tell thee I saw all, though thou seek to conteal it from me.

Is it a time to receive money ,] This implyes, that if the occaand the state of t on good grounds. See v. 16. His now receiving, croft all the ends that his mafter aimed at, in refusing the reward. tion, See v. 6. Elifha and other Prophets, living among idolaters, ought at that time to avoid all things that might carry any shew of fire, as the former, v. 2. willingly he let them go, and willingdiffunour to their calling, or diffrace to their carriage, among lingly he went with them.

In distance of the went with them.

V. 4. So be went with them. fervant at that time to receive gifts, which might be taken for and so receive garments Thele were the very particulars that he had received, v. 23.

and olive-yards, and vine-yards, and sheep, and oxen, and mendivine Spirit perceive that Gehazi had it in his thought, to buy fuch things with the money he had of Naaman. For Gebazi might have a purpose to leave Elisha's service, and to dwell thus much, that they built no stately Palace, but such buildalone, and have fervants to attend him, and fuch inclosures and cattle as were fit for him. The manner of propounding Elifha's reproof interrogatively, much aggravates Gehazies fault.
V. 27. The keyofic therefore of Natanas | Such a leprofic as Natanas had. Of leprofic, See Levit. 13. 1, &c.

[hall cleave unto thee ] Shall feir upon thee. Thou shalt be as great a Leper as he was. Gehazi had a minde to be rich and glorious, and in high account; but now a punishment is in- be got again by ordinary means. flicted upon him, which separates him from ordinary communion with men, and made him feem bafe and abominable before all. God proportions the punishment answerable to the fin. He coveted Naamans goods; he gets his leprofie there- Elisha had. with. He had an impure minde, answerably his body is punand unto thy feed This may be taken both of the children he was confident that his mafter could get it again. which he then had, or of others that should proceed from him, in case he should have any children after this. His meaning is, 13.1. that a leprofic should so seiz on him and his posterity, as it | where fell it ] The Prophet was ignorant of this circumstance, thould not be taken away. See I King. 2.33. Yet as promifes, See ch. 4. 27.

with two changes of garments ] For fo many were defired, | fo threatnings had their limitations upon repentance, 2 King. 20. 5. Jon. 3. 10. See ch. 8.4.

for ever | Generation after generation, 1 King, 8. 12. jor ever_1 Seneration after generation, 1 king, 8.13, and be went out from his prefense a leger]. The judgment denounced, was initiantly executed. And because he was a Leper, he could no longer abide in his Masters prefence. See as white as frow] A leprofic brings a white fearf upon the parts infected therewith, Num. 12. 10. Exed. 4. 6. Here we fee the power of God manifested in his servants, by inflicting a kyrofie, as well as by taking it away. So Numb. 12.13. The like is often noted of Moles his bringing and removing the plagues of Egypt. This then was miraculous, as well as the taking away of Naamansleprofie, v. 14. And this is the eleventh miracle recorded of Elisha. See ch. 2. 14. Of doing contrary things by the same minister. See ch. 6. 18.

CHAP. VI.

Vers. 1. And the fone of the Prophets ] See 1 King. ch. 18. (aid unto Elifba] For he ever fince the rapture of Elijah was the head and mafter of those in Ifrael, which were called fons of Prophets. See ch. 2. 15. behold now the place where we dwell ] The Colledg or schools where they met to hear Elifha to inftruct them, direct them, and resolve their doubts. with thee] Heb. before thee. For they which dwelt there, food as attendants before Elifha.

is too firait for sa ] God fo wrought upon many by the miracles, and ministry of Elisha, as the number of his Disciples daily increased more and more; so as the place where they were before, was not spacious enough for them.

V. 2. Let us go we pray thee nato fordan] At Jordan there was not only conveniency of water, but also wood and other materials to build an house withal.

and take thence every man a beam | Every one fo much as he could roll down, and make fit to erect a meeting place withall. Or it may be, that they intended not only one spacious place to meet in, but also other rooms fit for habitation. This word, beam, is to be taken Synechdochically, for any material that might be fit for that edifice. and let us make us a place there] Namely, at, or by Jordan-where we may dwell This phrase shows that they intended not only one room for the Prophet to read in, and them to hear, but also other rooms to lodg in. and be answered, Goye] He readily yielded to so just a de-

V. 3. And one faid, becoment I pray thee] The meaning is, that he would vouchfafe and be willing to grant their defire.

did, Judg. 4. 8. And they were not deceived in their expectaand he answered, I will go ] He was as ready to grant this de-

V. 4. So be went with them] He was as good as his word, and therein fatisfied their defire, and was ready further to do what occasion should regular as v. 6.

and when they came to fordan, they cut down wood] They were diligent to accomplish that which they had intended. It is probable that some of these had sufficient skill to fell, square, and ferunts, and maid-forunts.] These particulus are added, in frame timber fit for a building; and that allo they could co-regard of cheazies purpose. See v. 22. For Elisha might by a verit, and do other things that were fit for habitation. But here only mention is made of cutting down wood, because of the miracle mentioned v. 6. But surely the circumstances show lings as might be fit for mean perfons to keep them from wind and weather.

V. 5. And as one was felling a beam ] Or, a picce of timber. the ax head ] Heb. iron. For all but the edg of it was of iron, that happily was steel.

fell into the water | Iron being heavy quickly fals to the bottom of a river, which being deep, the ax head could hardly and be cryed and [aid, alas] See ch. 3. 10. Master As this in general is a note of reverence, so in par-ticular it is here a note of that superiority and authority which for it was borrowed ] Things borrowed must be restored again. This made him the more defirous to have it again, and

V. 6. And the man of God faid ] Of this title, Sec 1 King.

and he shewed him the place ] His desire to have it again, | closely carried, and that none knew them, but such as were of made him ready to do what was required.

and he cut down a flick ] The Prophet himself cut down the flick. This flick was as the falt mentioned, ch. 2.21, and the meal, ch. 4 4t. and the tree, Exod. 15.25. Only a visible means of manif. sling the power of God in raising that iron. By the Prophets using of it, it was as a loadstone to draw the iron to and the iron did [wim] This was against the nature of iron. fo as it was miraculous; and this was the twelfth miracle wrought by Elisha. See ch. 2. 14. Some hebrew Expositors fay, that Elisha made this piece of wood in fashion to the helm or handle of an axe; one end thereof fit for the eye or hole in the head of the axe; and that this helm funk to the bottom | Elifha, or elfe the fame of Elifha's great works was foread where that head was, and so both of them were fitted together, and role up to the top of the water; and fo they make many miracles of one : But this is without warrant of Gods word

V. 7. Therefore faid be, Take it up to thee] The Prophet thought it not enough, that they should see such an extraordinary work done; but also would have the man, for whole fage it was done, partake of the benefit thereof and be put out his hand, and took it ] It so floted on the top of the water and came fo neer to the banck of the river, that with putting out of his band he might eafily reach it, and take it up, and fo he did readily.

V. 8. Then the king of Syria warred against Ifrael ] It appears by this, that this king bore an implacable hatred against Ifrael; for he had wrote a letter to the king of Ifrael, and defired a great request of him, which was granted, ch. 5. v.6, 14. Yet he continues to war against him.

and took counsel with his fervants These servants, were either Counsellors of State, or Commanders in war, called his servants, because they were his subjects.

vants, occause they were an subjects.

[sging, in futh and futh a place] The Hebrew words are used to set out a certain, but unnamed thing; whether person, as Ruth 4. 1. or place, as 1 Sam. 21. 2. Here it is put for the place. The first Hebrew word is drawn from a root which fignifieth hid. The other from D78 which fignifieth mute : fo as, it was fuch a place, as was fecret, and they who lay therein were filent.

[hall be my camp] Heb. incamping. There he laid Souldiers, as in an ambushment, having some intelligence that the King with his attendants would pass that way, and so they would fuddenly furprife them.

V. 9. And the man of God] See 1 King. 13.1. [ent unto the King of I [rael] By a divine Spirit he knew the feveral plots of the King of Syria , and discovered them unto the King of Ifrael. Though the King of Ifrael were an idolater, yet the Propher had respect to the nation, which was of the feed of Abraham, Ifrac, and Jucob, to whom a special covenant was made; and also to the true worshippers of God, that in Ifrael were mixed among the idolators, and to the infolency of the enemies, who if they had taken an advantage ag sinft the King of Ifrael, would have blafphemed the God of faying, beware | This is an admonition given by the Prophet to the King of Itrael, to keep him out of the fnare which the enemy had laid for him that thou pafe not fuch a place ] That thou come not neer it.

for thither the Syrians are come down] This is the reason of the fore-faid admonition; and it feems that it was fome low dale, because they are faid to descend or come down : and that fecretly to fet upon, and to apprehend or flay such as should pass by. This manifestation of the king of Syrias secret plots and practifes was miraculous. So as this is Elisha's thirteenth miracle, See ch. 2.14.

V. 10. And the lung of Ifrael fent to the place which the man of God told him, and warned him of ] He sent forth security or spies, to fearch whether there were any enemies there or no.

and faved himself there ] By his scouts he discerned that to be true which the Prophet had told him, and thereupon did forbear to go thither. Thus by avoiding their fnares, he is faid to fave himfelf; and with himfelf fuch as should have accompanied him. This phrase, of saving bimself, sheweth, that it was the kings person which the enemy especially aimed at, as 1 King 22.31.

the featifeth to be troubled withal, when ftrong ftorms and tempeff blow upon it.

and he called his (ervants | See v. 8.

doubts to them.

his frecial counfel.

is for the king of Ifrael ] Is in pay with him, as an intelligencer ; or which to preferreth him before us, as to reveal our

V. 12. And one of his servant said, None, ] Heb. no. Thou needest not fear any of thine own counsellors; there is none fo unfaithful and treacherous, my lord O king ] This is a reverend and loving compellation given to his soveraign.

but Elifts the Prophet that is in Ifrael ] This fervant had been with Naaman, or on fome other occasion in Ifrael, and there heard of these extraordinary things that were done by abroad in Syria, and this man had taken special notice there-telleth the ling of Ifrael the words that thou fleakest in thy bed-chamber] By other extraordinary and miraculous works, which he had heard of Elisha, he knew that he had the Spirit of God in him, and thereby could difeern the most fecret things that were done in any place.

V. 13. And he faid, Go and faic where be is ] The kings minde was so blinded, as he little thought of the divine Spirit that was in Elisha, though evidence thereof was given unto him; but thinks if he might know where the Prophet was, he him; out thinks it he might know where the Propact was, he could deal well enough with him.

that I may [end and fetth him] He fuppofed that he had to do but with a weak man, whom he could careh and fetch as it he who could fave his head to do the with a weak man, whom he could fave his pleased him; he confidered not, that he who could fave his pleated him; de connucred not, that he who consultate him king from danger, could much more fave himfelf.

And it was told him, faying, ] Kings have those that are ready to do what they require.

Behold, he is in Dothan] Dothan was a city neer to Shechem.

or Samaria, Gen. 37. 13,17.
V. 14. Therefore four he thinher hofer, and charitet, and a great hofe! Heb. hour hofe. The king looks only to outward means, and confiders not the power of God in this his fer-

And they came by night] Left being espied, defence should be made against this army, both from the city, and other parts of the kingdom.

and compassed the city about ] This shews that it was a great

V. 15. But when the fervant ] Or, minister, one whom Elisha had chosen to attend upon him in Gehazi's room. ad choten to attend upon thin in Genacia tooth, of the man of God] See I King. 13.1. was is sensity and gon forth! Upon some other occasions; not then fearing any luch danger.

behold au bofte compafed the city, both with horfes and chariets ]

This was the first time that he suspected any danger. The king thought to make sure of the Prophet, when he sent such store of armed men, with horfes and chariots.

And his fervant faid unto him] As foon as he espied the enemies hofte, be ran back to his maffer to tell him thereof Alas, my mafter ] See v. 5.

How fball we do? ] This is a phrase of despair, not unlike that which is mentioned of the king of Ifrael, chap. 3. 10. Though he were Elisha's servant, yet he did not well consider the spirit and power of Elisha.

V. 16. And he answered, fear not ] This is a phrase of incouragement, as Exod. 14-13.

for they that be with us, are most then they that be with them

Chron. 32. 7. This he faid, before his servant had seen what preparations God had made for their defence, that when he should see them, he might the rather know they came from God, because his mafter had made them known before-hand, Ifai. 48.5.

V. 117. And Elisha prayed, and faid] Prayer is a means, not onely of obtaining help in time of need, but also of enabling us well to difcern, and to make the best use of that help which he doth afford us.

Lord, I pray thee open his eyes, that he may fee ] It was a vision that was here represented to his fervant, which without a special gift from God, could not be perceived.

al gift from God, could not be perceived.

And the Lord opened the eyes of the joing man! This young man is the fame that (verl. 15.) was called fervant, or minifler. Minifler fers out his office; young man, his age.

I king 22-321.

Moore, nor traited T that is many times: fo as the enemy made many attempts to furprize the king.

V. 1.1 Therefore the hat of the king of sprize was for traubled for this thing T the word implyes, fach a trouble in his foul, as aftern by the eyes of the through of the companion of the trained, which of God opened. By the companion of the trained, which God opened. By the eyes of their body opened by for this thing T the word implyes, fach a trouble in his foul, as

And behold, the mountain was full of borles, and chariors of fire, round about Elisha The city Dothan was at the bottom of a mountain, fo as one in the city might fee things on the and [aid unto them ] In his trouble he communicated his mountain: In a vision Elisha appeared to this his servant on that mountain, compaffed about with fiery borfes and chariots; will you not shew me, which of us ] Or, which of them that These were no other then the Angels of God; a great multibelong to us. It feemets, that his ambushments were very tude of them were together, in manner of an hofte, like borfes and chariots, because the enemy that beleiged the city, came they changed their minde, and cryed let him be crucified. with like preparation, v. 15. The mountain is faid to be full of them, by reason of their great number. They appeared to be of fire, to manifest their terror; so as with the fight of them, all fear may be put out of the heart of this fervant, his direction. He means (such a finting of them, as should flay This particular doth verific that which is witten, Pfal. 34-7. and defrey them.

Chap. vj.

& 68.17. & 91.11. & Mat. 26.53. See ch. 2.11.
V.18. And when they came down to him] This is spoken of the hoste of the Syrians; they came down, for Dothan was in a low place, and the Prophet was come out of the city. It is probable, that they now came to him to enquire for Elifha, not knowing that it was he.

Elifha prayed unto the Lord ] By this Elifha acknowledgeth, that what he did, or would do, was from the Lord. and faid, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindness ] The blindness here intended, is not simply of the eyes of the body, as if therewith they could see nothing at all, but rather a blindnels whereby they were fo dazeled in the eyes of their minde and body, as they could not well diftinguish betwirt things and and body, as they could not well allunguish netwire tunings and perfons in the true and proper kinde thereof. Note Luk. 24.

16. Mark. 8. 24. See Gen. 19. 11.

And he smote them with blindness, according to the word of Elifas] See Chron. 5. 20. God foon granteth the defires of his fervants made in faith. Jam. 5. 17, 18. Elifas by prayer proto be blinded : Se as contrary works on diverse objects may be wrought by the same minister of God. See ch. 5,27.

V. 19. And Elista said unto them] It is supposed that they asked him which was the way to the city, where they might finde Elifha, and that Elifha makes answer to their question.

Thu is not the way, neither is this the city] This answer is no proper equivocation, but a meer ambiguity of speech, which upon due heeding might have been found out. They asking which was the way to finde Elifh 1, he directly answers them, not that way which they took, for Elisha was going to Samaria; nor that the city for Elisha was come out of it. In such a sense, John denyed himself to be Elias, namely, as they took Elias to be John, Joh. 1. 21.

follow me] Heb. come ye after me. He was not known to them, and therefore he bid them the more boldly to follow and I will bring you to the man whom ye feek] He meant so to show himself to these men, as they should differe and know him to be Elista, whom they sought; herein therefore he de-

But ] Heb. and. The copulative least fits this place, for he intended to show himself to them in Samaria. If therefore we thus translate it, and he lead them, it well follows upon his intent. This particle, but, implyeth, that he pretended one place, and lead them to another.

be led them to Samaria | Samaria was the chief city of the kingdom, where the King had his palace and court; where was a fetled militia, and such store of men and warlike furniture, as was enough to over-power and destroy all these Sy-vians.

V. 10. And it came to tale when they were come into Samaria] This proves that they were struck with such blindeness, as is that Elishs said, Lord open the eyes of these men, that they may fee Thus he undid what he had done before, as Jam. 5.

biflory. I. Angelsoming down as an holte of horis and lifeel.

Large of the defence of Elilia. v. 15. a The opening of white general special part this. After the fore-merital forms to the defence of Elilia. v. 15. a The opening of the it conde courteft in the wed to that holt which he fent into lifted.

Syrians with blindness, v. 18. 4 The opening of their cycles. See v. 14, 23. It is not here set down how long it was after again, v. 20. And all thefe upon Elifha's prayer; fo as thefe this. make up feventeen miracles of Elisha. See ch. 2. 14.

V. 21. And the king of Ifrael faid unto Elisha, when he saw them] It is supposed that Elisha had before-hand fent a mef- 15.19 fenger to the king, to fignifie unto him that he was bringing fuch enemies into Samaria; and fo advise him to have all his troops in readiness, that the enemy might be the more quaiand hypocritically, or, if he did it from his heart, he foon my. changed his minde toward Elifha, as appears, v. 31. Thus the Jews who cryed unto Christ, as he came into Jerusalem, Ho- and I King, 16,24. Though his subjects had found extraor-

Mart. 27.32. [half I fmite them] Because Elisha had brought them into the Kings power, the King would do nothing about them without and destroy them.

[ball I [mite them ] He doubles the phrase, to testife the great joy that he had in having them under his power; and the great defire that he had to destroy them all. V. 22. And he answered, Thou [halt not [mite them] The Prophet passeth by that mischievous end for which they came into the land of Ifrael, namely, to carry him to his enemies; and the inveterate hatred that the whole nation did bear against

Ifrael: and thereupon thought it enough, that they faw themfelves to be in the very pit of destruction, and that they might live to declare the power of God, even among the enemies of God, he adviseth to spare them, and not to destroy them. wouldest thou fmite those whom thou hast taken captive ] This phrase admits a double interpretation. First this; Men use not to kill fuch as in the field are taken captives, and stand not out in hostility : much less therefore ought the king to kill such as by Gods extraordinary providence are brought to him. The other is this, though he might flay those who are his own captives, yet he had no power over them, who are the Lords cured the eyes of his fervant to be opened, and these mens eyes | captives. He must deal with them according to that direction which he shall receive from the Lord : which direction follows afterwards.

with thy (word, and with thy bow] These were the two most usual weapons for war, wherewith enemies were vanquished, and therefore by name expressed, See 1 Chr. 5. 18.

[et bread and water before them] This is the direction which the Lord now gives to the King of Ifrael concerning the forementioned enemies. By bread and water all manner of suftenance is ufually meant in Scripture, as Deut.23.4. 1 Sam.25.

11. Ifa. 3. 1. Amos 8. 11.
that they may eat and drink] Herein this Prophet is a pattern of that practice which is commanded, Prov. 25. 21. Rom. 12. 20. He overcometh evil with good.

ard go to theirmafter] That lo they might declare to him what forbearance and courtefie they had found in Ifrael, notwithstanding his comity against Ifrael.

V. 23. And he prepared great provision for them] The King royally scassed them, as if they had been embassadors with an toy any scances treeting, and that from confederate Princes. Herein he thewed his respect to the Lords Prophet. and when they had early a Their centiles observed facts entire welcome, as they cast off all fear, and gladly accepted their royal enterrainment, intimated under these phrases of eating and drinking.

he fent them away ] Neither openly nor fecretly did he enterprize any mischief against them, but in peace dis-missed and they went to their mafter ] This thews that no evil at all ] was done to them. They came in fafety to him that fent them

(a the bands of Syria came no more into the land of Ifrael] There is fome difficulty in this phrase, by reason of the history immediately following; but it may be taken in three diffinet respects, noted, v. 18. because they follow Elisha into a place of such | 1 In regard of the bands of Syria; which being meant of these very bands, that were so courteously entertained, it may truly be said, that they never after this came as enemies against Israel. 2 In regard of the manner of coming; the bands of Syria made no more fuch in-roads into Ifrael, nor laid fuch ambushments as are mentioned v.g. This they feared, left by the Pro-And the Lord opened their eyes, and they saw See v. 18. Be-ments as are mentioned v.g. This they leared, left by the Fro-fides the miracle of discovering the king of Syria's plots and phet they should be discovered and surprized. 3 In regard practiles, v. 9. there are four other miracles mentioned in this of the time; for a long time the bands of Syria came not into that Benhadad King of Syria] It is very probable that it was and behold they were in the midft of Samaria ] They did di- the same Benhadad that was twice overthrown by Abab, and some topy were into maje 9 semarts 1 troy did detfinedly fee, and weld different dealinger wherein they were, being in the midft of their eaemies is 0 as they could not but

1 King, 20.20,31,329, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,329, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,329, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,329, and by when the Lord deing in the midft of their eaemies is 0 as they could not but
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hild Garden
1 King, 20.20,31,320, and by whole army Abab Hi livered him into their hands, See 1 King. 20. 52. and 1 Sam.

gathered all bis hofte] He before by experience had found, that it was in vain to fend fome troops or regiments against Ifrael; and therefore he gathereth together as great an hofte Ausgraff of the street of the as he could, and with it, in a manner, dared the God of Ifrael; as if that God who had caused fundry of his troops to be and went up and besieged Samaria] Of Samaria, see verf. 20. forus, Matt. 21.15. after he had been awhile in Jerusalem, dinary courtefie in Samaria, yet is he no whit moved therewith: but besiegeth even Samaria. Sec v. 8. 23.

V. 25. And there was a great famine in Samaria. This came V. 25. Annapere was agrees james en somersal ). Insectine by reason of the long sleep, against which they were not well prepared with victuals. But the moltprincipal cause was their idolatry, and other sine against God. and bebuld they befoged in They continued so to beleaguer the city, as none could come out for provision, or enter in with provision.

umill an affer head] An affer flesh is no good food, under the law it was unclean; whereas the firstlings of clean beatls were to be offered to God; the firstling of an ass was to be redeemed with a lamb, or the neck of it to be broken, Exod. 13. 13. Yet here, through the extremity of famine, it was not onely eaten, but bought ac a great price. Some think that the affes head is here fynecdochically put for a whole afs : but it is not probable, that in fo great a famine, fo much fielh could be fold together. It is the fafeft interpretation to take the phrase literally; and foir will better agree with the price of that which followeth. Indeed there could be but little meat in an affes head ; but in fuch a famine, a little was made to go far.

was fold for four fore pieces of filver The word, pieces, is not in the Hebrew. Where a funs of filver or gold, and no particular quantity is expressed, there a shekel ordinarily is underflood. Now a shekel of filver was, with the Jews, as much as two shillings fix pence with us. By this account an affes head two fillings in pence with us. by this account an alternative was fold for ten pound feeling. See 1 Chro. 22. 14.

and the fourth part of akab] A kab, is an hebrew measure, containing about a pottle of our measure, so as the fourth part of a kab was about a pinte.

of doves dung ] That which is here translated, doves dung may be taken for the corn which, a dove having eaten, remainmay or easen for the corn waters, a core naving eaten, reman-ted in her crop which a dove by flying out of the field into the city, might bring with her in her crop. Or, elfel it may be taken for that corn which came out of them with their dung. Or, as most take it, for the very dung its fell, but came from them, which the extremity of famin forced them to eat. And this may feem the more credible, becaufe it is implyed, chi 18, 27. that men by extremity of famine, may be brought to eat their own dung, and drink their own pifs. Some to mollifie this, day, that pigeons dung was then bought for fall; to feafon things withil, or, for fewel to drefs things with it. But we may well think, that fuch as were forced to eat their own children, as v. 28. might much more be forced to eat as bad as for free pieces of filter ] This according to the former com-putation, comes to twelve shillings and fix pence.

puration, comes to twelve intuings and in xience.

V. 16. And as the king of Israel was passing by upon the wall.

The king himself, in regard of his own good, could not in such an extremity be idle, or careless of the state of the city and therefore he oft paffeth up and down upon the wall, to fee how the city remained fenced, and how the fouldiers kept their ward, which way they might fend out for provision, how the enemy lay, and what batteries they might be providing against the city, and other like things, which were carefully to be look-observed how the king, day after day, passed by upon the wall, and watching her opportunity, made her complaint unto him.

Help my Lord, O king. ] Her case was such, and all other magistrates so for themselves, as she knew not whom to go unto, but to the highest foveraign. She propounds her case indefinitely in this word, help, that the might the rather move him to hearken to her. Of this compellation, my Lord O king. See

V. 27. And he faid, If the Lord do not help thee | Heb. let not the Lord fave thee. According to the former reading, it implyeth a difability in him to afford unto her any help, in that the Lord did not help her; for he supposed that she had called unto him for food, and thus it hath relation to that which sol-

Whence [hall I help thee ? ] Can I do more then God? Thus he thews that it is in vain for her or any other of his subjects to he thews teat it is in vain for ner or any other of his subjects to feek fulferance of him, God affording no fulferance to him or to any in the city. According to this reading, let not the Lord faue thee, it implyes an imprecation or a curie, as if the King should with some vengeance from the Lord upon her, for troubling him in that externity.

out of the barne floor, or out of the wine prefs ? ] These were the two ordinary means of affording sustenance : from out of the barn, all manner of corn used to be brought for bread; and from the wine-prefs, wine, which was an ordinary drink in or of their office, or of their prudence, or it may be in all thefe those consuries: As if he had faid, Ho knew not where to have respects.

any bread or drink.

V. 28 And the hing faid unto ber, What aileth thee? ] It is

V. 28 And the hing faid unto ber, without aileth weathful anrobable, that this woman, upon the Kings hafty, wrathful an-Iwer, told him that it was neither bread nor wine that the came for; but rather justice: And that thereupon the King should fay, what alleth thee; What is the cause for which thou com-

And the answered, This woman faid unto me I It appears that both the women, betwist whom the quarrel was, came together to the King, as I King, 3 - 16.

This woman faid unto me ] There was a compact between the two women to eat their children in order, one after ano-

Give thy son that we may eat him to day ] Upon the agreement it fell out, that the plaintifs son should be first eaten.

And we will eat my fon to morrow This was the condition that made her to yeeld to the former agreement. Seldom hath there been heard of the like, that mothers should eat their own children. Herein is apparent evidence of the accomplishment of Gods threatning, Levit. 26.29. Deut. 28.53. It is a great aggravation of this famine. See Lam. 4.10. Ezek. 5.10.

V. 20. So we boyled my fon and did eat him ] Extremity of hunger makes men and women forger natural affection. We have heard of some that have eaten their own flish, Ifai, 9.

and I faid unto her on the next day ] Heb. other day. The hebrew word may imply, that they kept one childe longer then for one dayes meat. Give thy fon, that we may eat him ] She that had not spared her own fon, would not by any means that the others fon should be spared. and she bath bid her [ou] Either to keep him alive, or else to cat him alone.

V. 30. And it came to pale when the king heard the words of the woman ] They were words that may move the bowels of the hardest heart that was.

that he rent his clothes ] This was a gesture of much passion.

See ch. 2. 12. & 5. 7.

and as be piffed by upon the wall See v. 26.

the people looked They were the rather moved, the more to heed him, because of the manifestation of his passion. and behold he had fackeloth within ] His upper garment, which was a long robe, being rent, the fackcloth that was unfackcloth, fee I King. 21.27.

upon his feft ] It appears by this, that he wore fackcloth next to his skin. This the Jews used to do, both to tellifie their unworthiness of any soft or fine apparel, and also to make them the more watchful.

V. 31. Then he faid, God de fo and more alfo to me ] This is 2 forme of an oath, of old much uled. Though he had a most wicked intention, yet he binds himself, by a toleron imprecation against his own foul, to accomplishit; so Act. 23, 14. See ch. 5.20. As he manifesteth much anger and passion; so also great raffiness and unadvisedness, in his suddain doing of

if the head of Elifbathe fon of Shaphat, ] Of this parentage of filtocosis by supering varyous control that perintings the Ellish, fee 18 (fig. 19.16).

[bill fland on him this day] He fwears to take off Ellinh's lead. No reason is rendered by him, why he finould thus proceed against Ellina; onely upon hearing an intance of the extremity of the famine, v.29. Thus his spirit is stirred up against there cryed a woman unto him, saying, ] It is probable, that the | Elisha, Many probable conjectures may be made of fliring up this wrathful rage in him against Elisha. I He might think, that Elifha was the cause of this famine, as his master Eligh had been of the drought in his fathers time, I King. 17.1. 2 He might think, that Elifha before this, by his prayers, might have removed the army, v. 8. 3 He might think, that Elisha could have procured food in this extremity, as well as no Eithia could have procured tool in this extremity, as well as ne procured rain, ch. 2, 17. 4 He might think that if the Syrians, thatwere difmiffed, v. 23. had been flain, Benhadad might have forborn to have befieged the city. 5 That Elifha promifed the King, that God would deliver the city: but he finding the extremity of the famine, despaired of deliverance, and thought himself mocked by Elisha, and thereupon is thus enraged against him. 6. The idolatrous Prophets, and others, might before this instigate him to take revenge of Elisha, and he now take this occasion to do it. V. 32. But Elista sate in bis house ] Either Eliste had an house of his own in Samaria, or cife he was entertained in house of his own in Samaria, or the newscenterance in fome friendshoule, as in his own. Here, though by the Spirit which God gave him, he knew the resolution of the king, yet his faith in God makes him stequetly in his house, not fearing what the king could do, Pfalm. 118, 6. &c.

and the elders fate with him] These Elders were such as feared God, and came to the Prophet for counfel and comfort in. that extremity : Called Elders, either in regard of their age and the king fent a man from before him | From his presence from himfelf, namely, to cut off Elifha's head. but ere the messenger came to bim] To make known the kings be [aid to the Elders] He underftood by that Spirit which God gave him, the kings purposeleven as he knew the king of Syria's plot, v. 12. And Gehazi's practife, ch. 5. 26. System by the first of State; including the means Journal the food that he food the three great efficies of State; include a means of the first of t to be flain, 1 King, 18.4. This aggravates the murderous minde of Joram, Mat. 23.25. have fent to take away my head ] Though I have descrived no such things at his hands; see the difference betwirt Jorams former affection to Elifha and this his prefent affection, faft at the door ] This Elitha Speaks to those that fate by him, that it they should keep him from entring in and executing his into those wicked instruments, as well-as to those that escape the

Is not the found of his masters feet behind him? ] This phrase implyeth, that the king himfelf followed hard after this meffenger whom he fent. See I King. 14.6. The interrogative puts the matter out of question, as if he had said, affuredly, his Mafter is neer at hand. Some think, that the king fo foon as he ner is neer at anno. Sound tamis, take the ring to foon as he had fent the messenger, was touched in conscience for that ungrateful and horrible fast; and thereupon came speedily after the messenger, to hinder the performance thereof, for God can quickly change cruel mens minds, Gen. 31.29. & 33.4. 1 Sam.

24. 17. and 26. 17.
V. 33. And while he yet talked with them] While Elisha was [peaking to the Elders that were with him.

Bebold the mesenger came down unto him] Either he came onely to the door and was not fuffered to come in, as v. 32. or the king had overtaken him and given him a countermand that he should do no hurt to Elisha.

and be [aid, ] Either the messenger, in the kings name, urzered the kings words; or the king hamfelf, who had prevented the messenger, spake as solloweth.

Behold, this evil is of the Lord The evil, which he means, was the famine; together with the effects that followed thereupon: as mothers eating their own children, &c. That evil, as it is a punishment of fin, is from the Lord, is a found orthodox principle, Ifai. 45.7. Amos 3.6. But as he layes it to the Lords charge, to be a matter of oppression and injustice, is an impious and blasphemous freech.

what should I wait for the Lord any longer? ] This argues much diffidence and despair in this imious prince. It seems that Elifha had made promise of succour from the Lord, which made the king to wait some while. But when he saw the great extremity of the famine, in a desperate diftrust he said, what (bould I wait, &c.

CHAP. VII.

Verf. 1. Hen Elisha said, Hear ye the word of the Lord ] This hiltory immediately follows upon the former; and that which Elifha here fpake, he fpake to the king verl. 7. and to the princes that accompanied him ; and to the Elders that were with him in his house, (ch. 6.31,33.)

Thus faith the Lord This was an usual preface of Prophets.

See I King. 12. 24.

Tomorrow about this time Because the king manifested a wearisonness in waiting, the Prophet, to strengthen his faith, fets down a fet and short time for sufficient succour. Herein Gods free grace, and rich mercy is cleerly manifested. Gods free grace, and rich mercy is circuity

Though the king was fo far from being brought to repentance, to be flain by the enemy, then to perish with hunger by that heavy judgement of famine, but rather added fin to sin, by that heavy judgement of famine, and circuity against his Prophers

V, 5. And shy rofe up in the trap-light ] There are two twiyet the Lord confidering the extremity wherein they were, promised present relief unto them, fhall a measure of fine flouer] The hebrew word, TND Seab, translated measure, held a peck and a pottle, and somewhat appears v. 9. 12 more. Three measures make one of our bushels. He mentioneth flour, not meal, and fine flour, which was finely fifted, to amplyfie the miracle.

be fold for a shekel ] For two shillings fix pence. Of a shekel.

See 1 King. 10. 16. & 1 Chron 22.14.

and two measures of barley for a field! Barley was a courser grain, then that of which the flour, before mentioned, was made. It is supposed to be wheat, Compare these commodities and prices, with those that are mentioned, ch. 6.25. and you shall finde a great difference betwixt them.

in the gate of Samaria ] The fouldiers that went out and rook those commodities for a booty, brought them to the gate of Samaria, and there fold them to the people. This circum-flance of the place, ratifieth the truth of the prophofic, as well word translated lord, importeth the third from the king : or children, 1 King. 21. 19. and had fuffered the Lords Prophets supposed to be the man whom the king sent to kill Elisha. ch. 6.31,32. For great ones were wont to be fo imployed, I King. 2.29. Of the kings leaning on an officers hand, fee chap. s. verl. r8.

answered the man of God and faid,] Of this title, man of God. fee i King. 13. 1. Though the king, and others prefent, rested filent at the promise of the Propher, as believing the Look when the messenger cometh, sout the door, and bold bim truth thereof, yet this incredulous prince opposeth against Behold, if the Lord would make windows in heaven] The hemey mound seep and from enting in and executing mound as brew word translated, windows, fignificth wide open places to they can, fo they do it by lawful and warrantable means: pour down corn in abundance, as water flowing through a they can, for they do it by lawful and warrantable means: pour down corn in abundance, as water flowing through a they can fluce. Gen. 7.11. He thought it impossible that such store of protocord in the store of the st vision could be got on earth, in so short a time; and therfore makes mention of heaven, as if from thence God could not fend it. Either he thought not of the manna which God rained down from heaven, Exod. 16.4. Or he opposeth this promise against that providence of God; as if he had said, Though God in the wilderness rained bread from heaven, yet now he cannot fo do, Pfal. 78.20.

might this thing be: ] This interrogative importeth utter impossibility; fo as this faithless and prophane prince, doth not onely question the Prophets word, but also Gods power.

And he [aid] Elisha replyed to that prince.

Behold. This particle is here premiled, to assure him of the certainty of the judgement.

Thou halt fee it with thine eyes] Thou thy felf shalt be an eye-witness of the truth of that which I have said. See vers. but [balt not eat thereof ] Infidelity deprives men of the benefit of Gods promifes which others enjoy. Mofes himfelf faw Canaan, but entered not thereinto, Deut. 3. 27. See the accomplishment of his threatning against his prince, v. 20.

V. 3. And there were four leptous men] The Jews say that hele were Gehazi and his three fons. at the entring in of the gate ] They might not be in the city, Levit. 13.46. yet because the enemy beleagured the city, they about about the gate thereof.

and they (aid one to another, Why fit we bere untill we dye ? ] They had continued as long as they could get any food; but it appears, that now they had nothing to fuffain them, which made them consult among themselves, as followeth. This is an evedence of the hard-heartedness of them that were in Sa-

V.4. If we fay, We will enter into the city ] Thus they reafon, not as if they could enter in, if they would, but as purting the cafe if they might enter into the city.

then the famine is in the city] This will do us no good, because we are not like to finde any food there. and we fhall dye there ] For want of fuftenance.

and if we fit still bere, we dye alfo] For there they had no sustenance at all, as was showed before.

now therefore come ] In a desperate case they incite one another to a desperate course.

and let me fall unto the host of the Syrians Though they be enemies, let us commit our felves to their mercy. This was their only hope in that desperate case. if they fave se alive, we shall live] They supposed that in that miserable plight, wherein they, were by reason of leprose and hunger, they might finde some mercy from the enemy.

and if they kill us we fhall but die] They put the worft that lights 3 one in the morning, at the break of day before the Sun beup, Mat. 18. 1. The other in the evening, about an hour after Sun-fet, Prov. 7. 9. This was the evening twy-light; as to go unto the camp of the Syriaus] To try what succour they may there finde.

and when they were come to the uttermoft part of the camp of Syria, behold, there was no man there ] So foon as ever they came to the place where the hoft of the enemy lay, they difcerned that all the enemies were gone from thence.

V. 6. For the Lord had made the hoft of the Syrians to bear a noise] This was some hideous noise that struck all the enemies into a great fear , yet it went no further then to the ears of hefe Syrians ; for none in the City heard it ; Nor yet thefe four Lepers. This noise therefore was miraculous, and it is the eighgenth miracle of Elisha. See ch. 2. 14. We read of a like miracle, 2 Sam. 5. 24. A judgment not unlike to this is noted

ch. 19. 7, 9.
of chariots, and a noise of horses, even the noise of a great boft ] as the former, of the time.

Of the time,

O which belonged to the king learning upon his hand. The hebrew many horses, the running of many charicos, the shoutings of Souldiers, found of trumpets, and beating of drums.

and they [aid one to another] Heb. a man to his brother. As all men in relation to their first father are brethren; so they that City being shut up, he was the sittest man to whom first they are of the same nation, and particularly of the same imploy-ment, use to be filled brethren. They were at their wits and they sold them, saying end, and knew not what to think, and therefore enquire after one anothers opinion; and most of them agreed in that conceit which followeth.

Chap.vij.

lo the King of Ifrael hath bired against was They had no ground to think that the King of Ifrael had done such a thing, but only they imagined that such a thing might be, because they knew not what elfe to think of that matter. the Kings of the Hittites] The ancient Hittites were destroyed by the Ifraelites, according to Gods charge, Gen. 15. 20. Josh. 12. 7,8. yet some of them might remain and grow into a nation; or fome other people of Islands may be here meant. and the Kings of the Egyptians ] The Egyptians were a migh-ev and warlike people, much feared of most Kingdoms ; under these the Ethiopians may be comprized; and in that respect the word, Kings, in the plural number, is used, to come upon us] Suddenly to surprize us and destroy us. V. 7. Wherefore they arose and fled ] That former conceit had poffeffed the minde of them all, fo as they durft not fland against them, but arose and fled, that is, speedily and hastily made away as fast as they could.

in the twilight | This mult needs be but a little before the lepers came. Had it been in the morning twilight, certainly in that day some of the watch-men in the towers would have espyed the enemy running away. This sheweth how seasonably the Lord ordereth fit occurrences to fall out togeand left their tents ] For they could finde no falety in them. and their horses and their asses For they thought they had no time to saddle them, and fit them for their flight.

and fled for their life] Imagining there was no way to escape, for the Ifraelites were in a firong defenced City before them : And if the enemy had come upon them behinde, how should they have escaped

V. 8. And when shefe lepers came to the natermost part of the camp] See v. 5. they went into one tent ] The first they came at,

and did eat and drink ] Refreshed themselves, being almost and carried thence filver and gold, and raiment] That therewith they might provide for themselves, even in after-and went and hid it ] Fearing lest if any of these Syrians should espy them , they would take away all from and came again and entred into another tent ] Their former good fuccess in one tent, makes them venture to enter into and carried thence also and went and hid it ] Their covetous minde makes them still to lay up more and more. Neither the mertal discase that was upon them, made them cease hoard-ing up, nor yet their knowledge of the need of their brethren in the City, made them as yet think upon them.

V. 9. Then they faid one to another] Now they begin fomething better to think of the matter.

we do not well ] Upon fight of their fault, they confess it one to another.

this day is a day of good tidings ] They now discerned that all the enemies were fled away, which could not be but gladsome tydings to their brethren in the city, who had been fo long befieged, and brought to that extremity which is mentioned ch. 6. 25, 28.

and we hold our feace] Thus they check themselves, for not making known to the city that good news which God at first brought to their notice.

if we tarry till the morning light ] Till it be day light, fo as they out of the city may difcern that the enemies are some mischief will come upon us] Heb. we shall finde punish. ment, Or, iniquity will findous. The Hebrew word fignifieth both usiquity and positioner. Their meaning is, that when the truth of the matter is found out, and they known to City, even they allo would be lot by fending them to thave notice thereof, they fhould be accounted unjust and comp.

This answer flews that it would be no great lofs if evil doers; and accordingly punished. See Numbers chap. they were loft. 32. verl. 23. Subjects are bound to make known fuch publike good things as concern the whole efface, upon pain of now therefore come Here they fir up themselves to communicate that good whereof themselves have been par-

the see may go and sell the Kings boughold J This was the faireft way, and belt becoming prudent inbjects, to make aboven a matter of fuch public concernment, first to the King and his counfellors with him, that they may the better have faid of the engray, be true or on.

order the fame for the common good of all,

V. 10. So they came and called to the porter of the Gity ] For the count nectare are thatter, and they add them, [sying] It appears that there were watch-men attending on the gaze, together with the Porter. In which respect this word, them, of the plural number, is used. They, the four lepers, v. 3. told the Porter and the watchmen with him that which follows.

we came to the camp of the Syrians ] This shows how they came to know what they do declare. and behold there was no man there] We could fee none at neither voice of man ] We could not bear any man fpeak or make any poife.

but horsestied, and affestyed] Tyed to the manger; not fadled nor fitted to be ridden on. and the tents as they were ] Furnished with beds, meat, drink, and other necessiries. V. 11. And he] The chief keeper of the city gate, to whom the lepers first told the case. called the porters | The keepers of the gate of the kings palace:

The City porter told the Kings porters what they had heard of the lepers.

and they told it to the Kings boule within] The Kings porters went into the Palace, and told fuch of the Kings boulhold, that they might tell to the King the fore-faid good tidings. V. 12. And the King arose in the night ] Upon the hearing of fo good tidings, though it were anou after he was warm in his bed, he arose out of his bed, more throughly to consider of and faid unto his fervants ] Such as were of his privy counfel.

I will now frem you what the Sprians have done to us ] This was an apprehension of his own, not well knowing what to think, but he makes known his minde to his counfellors, to try whether they were also of that minde or no.

they know that we be bungry ] Thereupon they may think that we will adventure upon any thing to get food, therefore are they gone out of the camp] To lay a bait for us, and to allure us to come thereinto to hide themselves in the field ] In some secret place, where we may not know where they are.

[aying, when they come out of the City] Leaving their gates we [hall eatch them alive] Coming suddenly upon them, and fo furprizing them.

and get into the City] After we have got their Souldiers that come out into our tents ; and fo shall easily make all in the City yield unto us. This shews that he was possessed with wonderful great fear; and that he either forgot or believed not the Prophets promife, v. r. which was the very next day to be accomplished : fear makes men suspett more then is meet; faith would have made him hope for fome good thing from this

V. 13. And one of his fervants | See v. 12. answered and said, Let some take I pray thee five of the horses that remain It should seem that all their horses in the city either died for want of provender, or were caten up by the men in the city, for want of other food, except five of the Kings horses. These are said to remain.

which are left in the City ] Heb. in it. This relative particle, it, hath reference indeed to the city; and therefore it is here well expressed by our English, Behold they are all as the multisude of Ifrael that are left in it ] Under this word, multitude, he comprizeth men and bories. Now they were all ready to perish for want of sustenance ; fo as if they should be taken by the enemy, it would be no great lofs, for they that tarry are like all to perifb.

Behold, I fay, they are even as all the multitude of the Ifraelites Because the case was too too evident, and apparently true, he flicks not to prefs the same words again, So Gal. 1.9.

are confumed] Are fo pined away, as they are ready to perish. This he faith, to answer a secret objection; for it might and let us fend and fee] Upon the fore-mentioned ground, this counfellor perswades the King to make a trial, by sending out fome to efpy how the camp of the enemies flood.

V. 14. They took therefore two chariet-horfes ] Two horfes that were wont to draw a Chariot. It is to be presupposed that they fer a man upon each horfe, and the King feet after the hoft of the Syrians The counsel

V. 15. And they went after them umo Fordan] Jordan was a great and deep river; and finding that there were no enemies a great and deep river; and mating that there were no ententes betwix Samaria and Jordan, nor any place where they may link within that compafs; but rather many evidences of their running away, they might well conclude, that they were and lo, all the way was full of garments] Which they cash from themselves that they might not hinder them in their and vessels. The Hebrew word translated, vessels, is put for fundry things useful to man; as for veffels which hold liquor, (Eft. 1.7.) for inftruments of musick, (Is. 22.24.) for inftruments of iron, (Numb. 35.16.) for hunting inftruments, (Gen. 27.3.) for warlike inftruments, (Gen. 49.5.) Here is implyed, that they caft away all manner of inftruments or uten-inhipeds that they had. See I King. 10. 21. which the Swians had caft away in their hafte ] That fear whereunto they were put, made them fly with all the speed they could, 2 Sam. 4.4.

could 2 23m. 4.4.

and the mellongers returned and sold the King ] After they had evidence of the flight of the enemy, they did not plunder for themselves, as the lepers did v. 8. but presently brought word to the king, how the case flood with the enemy.

V. 16. And the people went out ] By the people, are here meant the Souldiers that were fent forth.

and [boiled the sents of the Syrians ] That is , took away all the provision that they had left in their tents, and what elfe was fit to be carried away.

G a measure of fine flour was fold for a shekel, &c. ] See according to the word of the Lord] Made known to Israel by the Prophet of the Lord, verf. 1. This shews, that the sudden change of extream dearness of tood, to wonderful great cheapnels, and fearenels to plenty, was miraculous, because it was fore-told; for simply to fore-tell a thing is a miracle: So as this is Elisha's nineteenth miracle. See chapter 1. vers.

V. 17. And the King appointed the Lord on whose hand be leaned | See v. z.

to have the charge of the gate ] There to ftand, and to keep the people from a numitous running out of the city, which he feared they might do upon the news of lo great plenty. This is a very long time for a famine to continue, as Gen. 41. 57. 25 m. 41. 3. In Davids time was the caute of their Princes death, and ordered by the drivine was the caute of their Princes death, and ordered by the drivine was the caute of their Princes death, and ordered by the drivine was the caute of their Princes death, and ordered by the drivine was the caute of their Princes death, and ordered by the drivine was the caute of their Princes death. providence to fulfill what was fore-told, v. 2.

Prince had could not restrain the people from a tumultu-ous thrusting out. Thereby they thrust the Prince over, and in the gate ] The Souldiers bringing all manner of provision to the gates of the City, as v. 1. the people would not be kept from going out; which they did so hashily, eagerly, and disorderedly, as they trampled on the Prince that stood in the

and he died His very breath was preffed out of his body by the peoples trampling upon him.
as the man of God had faid | Though these words were not uttered in express terms, yet so much was implyed when the Prophet and sie went with her boussoid] She had as great a care over said, thou shalt not eat thereof; for certainly if he had lived, those that were of her family, as over her self; 1 Timothy he would have had a good share in that provision , and so have he would have had a good thate in that provined, and to have eaten thereof. This gives a cleer evidence of Gods ordering providence, in bringing to pass what himself hath fore-told.

And it is a just punishment of unbelief, that he which will not believe the truth of a promife, should not parrake of the benefit thereof. This punishment being according to the Prophets prediction was miraculous, and may be accounted the twentieth miracle of Elisha. See ch. 2. 14. who have when the King came down to him ] This plainly shews that the king himself was present when the Prophet fore-told this plenty, V. I.

is plenty, v. v.

V. 18. And it came to pair as the freen years end ] Thought
V. 18. And it came to pair as the freen years end ] Thought ing ] This hath relation to the beginning of the v. 20. that | Coefflout. King | This hath relation to the beginning of the v. 20. that faring, two measures of barley, &c. ] Compare the 18. and 19 verfes, with the first and second of this chapter, and we shall finde, that they do in their words and phrales agree; fo as they give evidence of Gods truth in accomplishing the word tew gare erwartee et rooss trutu in accompaning ter were of this Prophet, whether it be a word of promitie, or a word of the state of t threatning is denounced: In the 19, it is declared to be accom-plified.

V. 20. And so it fell out unto bim These words plainly shew the accomplishment of the aforcsaid threatning, for the people tred upon him in the gate, and he dyed Sec.

V. 17.

CHAP. VIII.

Verl L. Hen Though that which follows ver. 2, &c. be after the fuccour afforded to Samavia,ch. 7.1,&c. yet this prediction of the Prophet way well be fupposed to have been long before, and that the families there mentioned, with most occasioned, yet much increased by the Syrians frequent incade into the land of lized, where they committed much flood, and took away or foolied all flore of food. The extremity of the famine in Samaria mentioned ch. 6. 25. was the greater, because of the general famine throughout the whole land. So as that great famine in Samaria might be even then when this general famine was.

fake Elifba unto the woman | The Shunamite that had fhewed him special kindnels, ch. 4. 8,9,8cc. whose son he had refored to life! Chap. 4. 35. because this was an extraordinary work, and a very great bleffing bestowed upon her, she is described thereby, as a memorial there-[aying, arife and go] This is an invitation to do a thing with speed. See 1 King. 14. 2. She had shewed great kindnels to Elisha, ch. 4. 8, &c. therefore he doth what kindnels he can to her. See ch. 4. 13.

shou and thine bou[bold] Heb. boufe. This is a metonymie, the house out for the inhabitants therein.

and fojourn wherefoever thou canft fojourn] To fojourn,is to live as a stranger in a place. His meaning is, that she should enquire where sufficient provision was to be had, and there feek to be enterrained for her money. This could not be in her own coun-for the Lord hath called for a famine] This phrase sheweth, that samines, and so other judgments, are at Gods command. So Pfal. 105. 16. Jer. 25. 29. Hag. 1. 11. A Centurion ac-knowledged as much of Christs power over diseases, Mat. 8.9. and it [ball also come] The power of Gods command is fuch, as even ienseles creatures vield thereto. Instance the ten Egyptian plagues, Pfal. 105. 28, &c. upon the land ] This famine was not only in Samaria, as ch. 6.

. but throughout the whole Kingdom of Ifrael. [even years] This is a very long time for a famine to contithree years and fix moneths, Luk. 4. 25. In the time of the and the people rod upon him J Hunger makes men break Judges a famine continued ten years. Ruth. 1. 2,4. Men oft through itone-walls. All the authority and power that this continue in fin impenitently, and remove not the causes of famine, which are their fins; and therefore famine long conti-nueth. The famine in Elijahs time, 1 King. 17.1. The want of water in this Kings time, ch. 3. 9. moved not the King and his subjects to depart from their gross fins: Therefore God addeta a longer famine. V. 2. And the woman erofe] She believed the Prophets word, and thereupon quickly bestirred her felf, and arose.

and the tenth of the man of God] Of this title given to the Prophet, See I King, chap. 13. verf. 1. Herein the testified her obedience to God, and her provident care for her and sojourned] See v. t.

and lojourned | Seev. I: in the land of the rebilifiner | It is very probable that this famine was also in the land of Judah, or else questionless, this pious matron would have sought to have fojourned there, and not not among the Philistines, who were enemies of and not not among the Philistines, who were enemies of Gods people ; but it may be that at this time there was peace betwirt them and Ifrael. Ifaac on a like cafe did the like, Gen. 16. 1. and David upon another occasion, 1 Sam. 17.1,2. and Joseph, Mat. 2. 14.

that the woman returned ont of the land of the Philiftines | Her minde was on her own country. Necessity forced her to abide in the land of the Philistines.

and the west forth to ery unto the King ] After the was returned into Ifrael. It was usual of old to make complaints to and land, or her kindred had laid claim thereto. It feems that it was withheld from her. Sundry circumftances do evince that this woman was now a widow.

V. 4. And the King talked with Gabagi ] Gehazi was infected with a leprofie, ch. 5. 27. whereupon a great doubt is made about the Kings talking with him. For a leper was to beput out of the camp, Levit, 13. 46. Some think that this hiltery was afted before that of Naaman, ch. 5. 1, &c. and then there is no doubt about that point, because Gehazi was V. 8. And the King faid unto Hezael This Hazael was in then there is no doubt about that point, because 'Central was to not those a lone' but there is no recall to alter the order of the histories upon that ground: for, though the law commanded that the leper should dwell alone without the camp, yet it no (whereof feech, s.t.) because it required him to fight gather. way forbids one that is clean to talk with a leper: besides, Gehazi upon fight of Gods displeasure against him, and judgment upon him for his fin, might repent, and upon his remenupon him for his fin, might report, and upon his re-pertance have his judgementermoved, and the cleaned at his of 1001, I king at 3 c so as the King fent the greateft in his was an evidence of a good disposition, that notwithshanding Kingdom must to bimiels, as a Medinger to the Prophet. pertance use us juugnientremoved, and de cleanied. Anis was an evidence of a good disposition, that notwithstanding the punishment of leprosic inflicted on him by his master, he speaks honourably of him, and faithfully declares the great works which he had done.

Chap.viii.

the servant of the man of God] See chap. 4, 12. Of man the fertulate of the man of word over thing, q, 11. On them of God, See King, 13. 1.

faying, tell me, I pray thee, all the great things that Eliffa hash done! The biforcies of Elitha going before, do clearly thew 3, what wonderful great things that Prophechad done. Twenty miracles have been expresly noted to be done by him, ch.7.17. Sec ch. 2. 14. It appears that a great part of the time of the feven years famine, Elisha was at Damaseus, v.7. and was not in Ifrael to work more miracles there. A great fame there was of those which he had done. Some this King himself had feen, ch. 3. 20. & 7.6, &c. Others were famous every where almost. The King hearing a general rumor of many of them, defired to be diffinely instructed in the particulars by this servant of the Prophet, who was an eye-witness of most of

V. 5. And it came to pass, as he was telling the King, how he had restored a dead body to life. This was a great work indeed, and, to a natural mans apprehension, incredible; therefore God fo disposeth the falling out of the matters, as the King hath an

to an potent me raining our or the matters, as the Aing natural undoubted evidence thereof, in the flory following, that behold] This was for cleer a demonstration of the providence of God, in disposing matters most featonably, as it is most worthy to be observed the woman whose fon he had restored to life | See v. 1.

erjed to the King | See ch. 6, 26. It feems none cou'd or would relieve her, and therefore the comes to the highest in uthorty.

Jorber boufe, and for her land] See v. 3.

and Gebazi faid, my Lord O King] See ch. 6. 16.

28th is the woman, and this is her fon] He was so well acquainted with them, as he well knew them, fo foon as he cast nis eye upon them.

whom Elisha restored to life ] Chap. 4, 35,36.
V. 6. And when the King asked the woman ] Though that which Gehazi had told him of her fon were true, yet he much defired to be fully affured of fo great a matter by her felf, fhe being then prefent.

[he told him] That it was true, that her son had been dead, and that he was restored to life by Elisha.

fo the King appointed unto her ] He was fo taken with that evidence of Gods power and favour to her, as readily he grants a certain officer] Or, Enunch. See 1 King. 22.9. faying, restore all that was bers] Take order that all be restored to her again, and that nothing of hers be kept from her. and all the fruits of the field ] He means all the revenues that had been made of any of the commodities that had been raifed (ince the day that flee left the land ] Namely, the land of Ifrael. even till now The time here fet down by the King, intends many years; for the was adviced to go out of the land at the beginning of the famine, which continued feven years, v.z. but all the fruits that in that time had grown out of the land, could not have lasted so long; neither is it probable, that they would have been laid up in fuch a time of need. The revenues therefore, as aforesaid, must here be intended. And they being the revenues of so many years, must needs be great.

V. 7. And Elishacamete Damaseus] This being after the relief of Samaria with aboundance of provision, it cannot be suppoled that Elisha went to Damaleus for succour against the famine. The flory following fleweth, that God directed him thither, to fore-tell the things that are hereafter fet down. Of Damascus, sce 1 King. 11. 24.

and Benhadad the King of Syria] See ch. 6. 24.

was fick ] This fickness was not in the kinde of it mortal, v. 10. It is thence gathered, that it was thorow grief and fhame, upon the flight of his great army from Samaria, ch. 7.7. and it was told him] By some that knew Elisha, and the pow of God manifested by him, and that wished well to Benhadad.

[Aying, the man of God is come hither] Bisha had done so many famous works, as he was known to be a man of God, not only in Ifrael and Judah, but also among the heathen round about, and the flight of their hoft, th. 7.6,7. Of this title, man of intervened. But the Lord knew what Hazzel would do, (as (whereotice ca.5.1.) Decause it required min configuragement the people of God; or was put from it by the King; because he professed the true God of Brael, (ch. 5.17.) and that this Hazael was put in bis room, as Benajah was put in the room take a Present in thine hand] Presents were wont to be carried to Prophets. See ch. 5.5. & 1 King. 14 3.

and go meet the manof God | Such respect he bare to the Prophet, especially by reason of this his sickness, that though he were a King, he doth not fend for him, but fends to him where he was.

where he was, and onquire of the Lord by bim, [aping] The title, Lord, here, is the interpretation of Jehovah. See I King, 18.21. Hereby fee the difference betwirt Ahaziah, a King of Ifrael, and this lee the difference network Auszian, a aing of Brasel, and the Benbadak King of Syria, in their ficknefs. Abuziah fends to an heathenish Idol, chap z. vers. z. but Benbadak to Jehovah. Abaziah sends sor the Prophet of the Lord, to slay him; Benhadad fends to the Prophet, with a Prefent, to know the minde of the Lord by him.

[hall I recover of this difease] The words set out only a define to know the iffue of his fickness; but questionless, they intend also a defire of his prayers for his recovery; for he had heard what this Prophet had done for Naaman, ch. 5. 14. V. 9. And Hazael went to meet him] Both King and fubjects much respected and reverenced the Prophet.

and 100% a Present with him] Heb. in bit hand. See ch. 5.5.

even of every good thing of Damafeas This general partilee, every, is to be taken of several kinds; Damafeas had great fore of choice commodities : whatfoever precions and pleafant things Syria afforded, (and it afforded great variety) was brought to Damafeus. The Prefent therefore must needs be a very precious one, and also a bountiful one, as the words following thew.

fourty camele burden] A Camel useth to carry more then are affe, or horfe, or any other beaft that is used for carriage. (See I King. 10. 2.) We may hence infer, that this Present was greater then Naamans, ch. 5.5. What will not Kings and other great ones spare for their life and health?

and flood before him] This was a testimony of much reverence.

See ch. 4.9.

See ch. 4.9.

and faid, thy fon Bewhatad King of Strial Though a King, and of another country, yet fon to a Prophet. The title, fon, is here used in a Kinde of fubmiffion to the Prophet, implying the characteristics of the prophets. that he was ready and defirous to be inftructed by the Prophets for they who were schollars of the Prophets, and came to be in-flructed by them, were silled sons of the Prophets, ch. 2. 3.

hath fent me to thee, [aying] This warrant of his coming to Elisha, Hazael premiseth, the rather to move the Prophet to yield to his motion; because he came not of his own head but yield to his motion; Decause he came not or his own nead, but by the appointment of the King his Mafter.

[hall I recover of this diface] See v. 8. All of all forts are very defirous before-hand to know the iffue of their own or their friends sicknesses. See I King. 14.3.
V. 10. And Elisha faid unto him, Go, say unto him] The Prophet was ready to gratifie the King in his defire, and he doth is plainly and fully.

thou may [t certainly recover ] Heb. living thou shall live. See 1 King. 3.13. In the Hebrew there is a double reading; one in the text with 27 a negative particle. The other in the margin with 17 a relative particle. The former may be thus read, Say no, living then shalt live. They who thus take it, apply the negative to the word, live; as if it had been faid, affuredly thou shalt not live. The latter may be thus read, Say to him, living thou fhalt live. Or, as our English turns it, thou maift certainly recover. These may feem to be contradictory speeches. If the former reading stand, it doth fully agree with that which follows in the next clause. But most follow the latter reading, with the relative particle, Say to him. And thus this clause, Thou maift certainly recover, having reference to the nature of the difeafe, flevreth, that it was not fo dangerous, as nature of the outene, the very thing is a first felf, it would deprive him of life.

howbeit the Lord hath flowed the! There could be no external evidence to finde out that which followeth; and therefore he faith, that the Lord shewed it him. The Lord snoweth things to come, as well as well as prefent.

that he fall furely die ] Heb. that dying he fall die. See t King.8. 13. This is it that caufeth all the doubt; for it feemeth to con-tradict that former claufe, he shall live. But distinguish betwist the kinde of difeafe, and the event that followed thereupon, and and in Syria (resicully because for the mirade wrought on Naa-man, ch. 5, 14, and the differentiage for the Syrians countels, the 6, 612, and the differentiage for the Syrians recops, ch. 6, 20, and the differentiage for the Syrians recops, ch. 6, 20, and the differentiage for the Syrians recops, ch. 6, 20, and in their regard he might have lived, if no other thing had Nnnn a

v. 15.) and in regard of that event, it is truly faid, that he should affuredly dyc. To such a like purpose, but in a contrary event, another Prophet said of one, that in the event did not dye, thou shalt dye, and not live, namely, in regard of the afrerwards he faid unto him, in the name of the Lord, I will beal thee. For God by his almighty power overcame the power of that fickness; so as he recovered, and lived fifteen years afecr, ch. 20. 1,5,6.

V. 11. And he fetled bis countenance fledfaftly] Heb. and fet it. That is, removed it not from the object, on which he ferled it. This is spoken of Blisha, who looked wishfully (as we fpeak) upon Hazaels face, and turned not his eye from him.
small be was afbaned The antecedent whereunto this relative, he, bath reference, is not expressed thereupon one apply it to Elisha, as if he had continued to fix his eyes, till he had continued to fix his eyes, till he imfelf was ashamed with looking so long upon a thing. But it may more fitly be applyed to Hazzael, who was afhamed, and bluthed again at the Prophets looking upon him fo itsa-day.

and the man of God wept ] Being inwardly much moved with that cruelty which was now brought to his minde, concerning Hzazel, that he would execute upon the people of God. On fuch an occasion was another Prophet moved, Jer. 4. 19. 8.9.

"The state of the state

INCL AN OCCASION WAS ANOTHER PROPER MOVED, JET, 4, 19, 329.

V. 12. And Hagael [add, why weepel] When he observed the Prophet not only to settle his countenance upon him, but allo to weep, he was fittred up with an earnest defire to know my Lord | This is a title of reverence. Prophets of the Lord were had in high account, and much respect was shewed unto them by Kings, Nobles, Captains, and others. See v. 9.

and be animered, because I know. The ground of this know.

the guilt has thou wilt do unto the children of Ifree!] As other

Kings of Syria had born an immortal hatred against the children of Ifrael, fo the Prophet knew that this man also was of dren of nates, note the reports that was that an another the fame minde. The cull which he means, is particularly expected in the words following, their fiveng holds with thousefor mind. Thou wilt not think it enough to enter into their rowns and Citiers, and flooil them of their goods, but thou will burn to the ground their forts; or their goods; but thou win outh to the goods their forte, caftles, and other strong holds, the more to weaken them, and their young men wilk thou flay with the sword] Thou wilk give them no quarter for their lives; but kill all that thou canst and wilt dafb their children | Such as never had done them any hurt they would destroy, by knocking out their brains, as

Pfal. 13 7. 9.
and rip up their women with childe] This he would do, to take children out of the womb, and destroy children before they were born ; that if he could, he might destroy the remainder of Ifrael. Those were excessive acts of cruelty.

V. 13. And Harael faid, but what ] He was fo moved at the hearing of these, as he could no longer forbear, but expostulated the cafe as followeth.

is the fervant | Here he continues to express a reverend respect to the Propher, (as before v. 12.) though the Prophet had laid forth his cruel disposition.

a dog] As a dog ; fierce, cruel, mercileis, that will tear in pieces all that he comes at, See 2 Sam. 3. 8. Mat. 7. 6. Phil.

that he (hould do this great thing ] Such barbarous and inhumane cruelties, as no reasonable man would do; but savage, rayenous, and unreasonable beasts. It may be supposed that Hazael at this time did not think that he should do such cruel acts: but no man knows the depth of his own corruption. The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked; Who can know it? Jer. 17. 9.

and Elisha answered, The Lord hash shewed me] The Lord fearcheth the heart, and tryeth the rains, Jer. 17. to. all things are naked and open unto his eyes, Heb. 4. 13. infomuch, as he knoweth before-hand what men will do in after-times. Concerning this particular, the Lord thewed it to Elifha by that then shall be King over Syria This supream Soversignty was it, that not only gave him the occasion, but also incited and flitred him up to execute that cruelty. The Lord was just and righteous in putting him into that place; that so he might be the Lords foourge in punishing idolatrous and rebelhous Ifrael ; but those cruel acts were effects of his own evil disposition, which was in him before he was King. By this doth Elisha ratific that which before the Lord had done by Elijah, in ancieting Hazael to be King over Syria, I King.

Elijah, 1 King. 19. 16. or by special revolution.

V. 14. So he departed from Elifba] Having received an anfwer from him.

and came to his mafter ] Who had fent him, v. 8.

who faid unto him, What faid Elifha to thee | The King earn. eftly defired to know the Prophets answer, and therefore, as foon as he faw him, demands what it was.

tool as a leave min. contains want it was.

and be anjured, Herseld methat thou bouldif farely recover ]

Heb. Hiving thou fail live. He ulieth the very woods of the Propher, but in another fensile. At least, he relaceth but a part of the Prophets aniwer; Concerning the nature of the diffract. He concealed that which the King most defined, the iffue and event of that difeafe.

V. 15. And it came to pass on the morrow Hazzel fearing left the King should recover, (because he understood by the Prophet, that he himself should be King) was impatient of delay, and the very next day accomplished his evil purpose for obtaining the crown.

that he took a thick sloth ] This cloth is diversly expounded. Some take it for a blanket; Some for a cloth of hair; some for course canvil's. Surely it was such a kinde of cloth, as was most fit to ftop the breath.

and dipt it in water] This he might do upon a pretence to cool and refresh the King; as if he aimed at his present ease, and future recovery.

and thread it on his face ] That thereby he might stifle him. Thus the crafty murderer of his Soveraign, ufeth fuch a means to take away his life, as might feem a remedy to cure him, and might leave no mark or fign of violence offered unto

[6 that he dyed] The event was answerable to the murderers

[6] that no syed.] I he event was aniwerable to the murderers intent, and the Prophets andwer.

and Hazel raiged in ble flead.] I appears by this, that note of the Syrians fullpected this murder of their King. And therefore quelifoned him not for it; but, quietly fulfered him to Succeed the King in his throne : either because the King had no children, and Hazael was of kin to him; or because he was no children, and Hazzal was of kin to him, or because he was to fin powerful, a sonne durtle oppole againth kinn, or fo gracious with the prople, as they chole him.

V. 16. And in the fifty are of Henry This was while Jchofhaphat him fell lived, a King, a 1, 41, 42.

the fano foldbik fixing of Ifrael J There were two Kings living teccher of one assume, one the fon of Ahab, the other the fon of Jehofhaphat. Therefore for dillustrion fakes, he makes the mention of this Journal parentages, and filted him the feat of Feboshaphat being then King of Judab] To this time he did not only live, but also held his crown: Whereas Jehoram the son of Jehoshaphar, is said to be King of Judah, when Jehoram ton of Jenoinspare, state to be king or judan, when yearly the fon fired, began his rign, (ch. 1.17.) It is to be taken, not of an abfolute rign, but as the government of a vicerey: for he governed the Kingdom, together with his father, while his father went forth to the war. See ch. 1.17.

Feboram the son of Feboshaphat King of Judah began to raign] Heb. raigued. There is thrice mention of Jehoram , the fon of Jehodhapha, his raigning. One was a wice-roysin the last year of Ahab, and sirft of Ahaziah, ch. 1.17. The other was about six years after, which was the sist year of Joram, son of Ahab, here mentioned. For then Jehoshaphar made his son Ahab, here mentioned. For then Jebolhaphat made his fon King, even while he himself lived; and in this respect he is said to give the Kingdom to his eldest son Jehoram, 2 Chron. chap.

21. vers. 3. The third was when Jehoshaphat dyed, 2 Chr.

V. 17. Thirty and two years old was be when he began to raign] See . Chr. 22.2

and be raigned eight years in Ferusalem | Four years in his fathere life-time : and the other four after his fathers death. V. 18. And he walked in the wayes of the Kings of Ifeat]
This is especially meant of his idolatry. But other evils are alfo intended, See 2 Chr. 21. 4, &c.

as did the boule of Ahab] By house, is here meant Ahab himfelf, and his stock. They, besides the calves, served also Baal, ch. 16. 31. Herein the King of Judah immated them. for the daughter of Abab was bit wife Her name was Athaliab. She drew him to follow her fathers courfes. See 2 Chra 22. 2, 3. Wives use much to prevail over husbands, especially 22. 2, 3. When to cell See 1 King. 11. 4. and be did culi in the fights of the Lord! See 1 King. 21. 20.

Of the evil which Jeboram did, fee 2 Chr. 21. 6, &c.
V. 19. Tet the Lord would not defire Judd! He would not uterly call them of from being his people, though he fuffered enemies, as his fcourge, much to annoy and fpoil that King-don't, 2 Chr. 21. 16, 17.

for David his fervants [ake ] Sec 1 King. 3. 6. 8c 11. 12.

as he promifed to give him alway a light] Heb. candle or lamp? See I King. 11. 36. and to bie children] Generation after generation, till his facreffion ended in Chrift, Luk. 1. 31. V. 20. In bit dayes Edom revolted from under the band of Judab] See 1 King. 22. 47. & 2 King. 1.1. & 3.4,5. and made a King over themfelves] See 1 King. chapter 22.

Chap. viij.

chariots he means horfes, hole-men, all manner of Souldiers, and preparation for war and he rose by night ] That he might come upon them suddenly, and furprize them unawares ; fo Josh. 10.9. and Saul, . Sam. ti.ir.

and fmore the Edomites | Joram had the better of them , and put them to flight, and flue many of them. See 1 King. chap.

15.29.
which compared him about Though Joram came upon them in the night, yet the Edomites were fuch a numerous holt, and fo we'l prepared, as they compaffed Jorams army round about; yet the army of the Ifraelites fo manfully flood to it, as they put the Edomites to flight.

and the captains of the Chariots, and the people fled into their sents] Not a wing only, or a part of the army, but Commanders and Souldiers, even the whole hofte fled, and came to their own houses

V. 22. Tet Edom revolted from under the hand of Judah ]
Though the Edomites were at that time put to the worlt, yet the Ifraelites did not pursue their victory, but returned home again, and the Edomites gathered fuch ftrength together, as again, and the Eddinics gamered inchitengin together, as they could not be kept under, as they were in former times; but perfilted to maintain their own right; and to uphold that King of their own nation whom they had fet up. Herein was Jacobs prophery fulfilled, Gen. 17. 40.

unto this day | See : King. 9. 13. & 12. 19.

Then Libnah revolted at the same time | Libnah was one of those cities of Canaan, which was governed by a king of its own, and which Joshua took anon after his coming into Camaan, Jofh. 10 29,30. & 12.15. It fell to the lot of the tribe of Judah, and was in special manner dedicated to the use of the of Juana, and was in ipectal manner accidated to the me of the Levites, John £1. 9, 13. It was a frontier city, and one of those which the king of Assyria see 1900, when he came with his huge hoste to have taken Jerusalem, ch. 19.8. The revolt of this city was a matter of great consequence. After the revolt thereof, this clause is added, because he had for she Lord God of his fathers, 2 Chron. 21. 10. which some take to be the reafon why Libnah revolted from Jehoram. But it may also have a more general reference to the revolt of Edom, as well as of Libnah, yea, and to other judgements also that befell him. Herein we fee the wife providence of God, in ordering punishment according to the sin. Joram cast off Gods yoke, and revolted from him, and brake his covenant; and Edom and Libnah cast off Jorams yoke, and revolted from him, and brake their covenant with him.

V. 23. And the rest of the affs of Foram, &c. ] See 1 King. 11.41. & 14.19,19. V. 24. And Joram slope with his fathers] See 1 King. 2.

Joram reigned but twelve yeers, 2 King. 3. 1. and Joram and Ahaziah were both flain in a day by Jehu, cb. 9.24, 27. This twelfth yeer, must be taken current, and in the very beginning of it; for in the eleventh yeer of Joram compleat, at the end thereof Ahaziah is faid to begin his reign, ch. 9. 29. Some reconcile the difference thus, that Johoram being unfit to govern, by reason of his fore differes, Ahazia his fon began to govern in the eleventh yeer of Jehoram fon of Abab ; but in the twelfth yeer of Joram, Jehoram the king of Judah died, and then Afraziah properly began to reign.

of Judah died, and tent Angulan property began to reign-the foot of Abb (fine of Heart) Seev. 16. did Abarish the foot of Seberan king of Sudah begin to reign. I He bad three names. A Barish. 2 Azariah, 2 Cheo. 22. 6. 3 Jehachez. So other kings. Elizakim. 2 Jehojakim, ch. 23.34. 3 Joskim, 2 Chro. 3.15.
V. 26. Two and twenty yeers old was Abaziah when he began to reign] See 2 Chro. 22.2.

and be rei ned one yeer in Ferusalem] For in his first year he was slain,ch. 9. 27. and bis mothers name was Athaliah] See v. 18, the daughter of Omri] Athaliah was the daughter of Ahab, v. 18. and Omri was Ahabs father; fo as by daughter here is meant grand-childe. hing of Ifrael | See 1 King. 16.16.

V. 27. And he walked in the way of the honfe of Abab] The like is noted of his father, verf. 18. So as like father, like and didevil in the fight of the Lord] See I King. 21,20.

V. 21. 80 Jestem west overso Zzir] Zziri 3 a City in Idu-met. ... ... for be was the son in Law of the bouse of Abab.] As Athalish was said to be the daughter of Omri; because her tather Abab was Omries son: so Abaziah is said to be the son in law of was Omries ion: 10 Ahazian is faid to be the for in law of Ahab, because his father Jorann was the foo in law of Ahab. But because, it is not fimply faid, that he was the foo in law of Ahab, but of the boule of Ahab, Some infer that he had another wife of the house, or kindred of Ahab, and in that respect, is faid to be the Ion in law of Ahabs house.

iaid to be the fon in law or Anaus house.

V. 28. And he went with Jorum the fon of Ahabi As Ahaziahs father Jehoram King of Judah, and Jehofhaphat his grandfather, were bewitched with the house of Ahab, to affociate themselves therewith . fo was this Ahaziah also.

to the war against Hagael king of Syria in Ramoth-Gilead ]
This war was begun by Ahab, and proved fatal to him, 1 King. 22.3,34. So also it did to his fon.

2.3,34. So also it aid to als son.
and the Syrians wounded Foram. In those dayes, Kings put forth their own persons, unto great danger in battels.

V. 29, And hing Foram went back! Namely, from Ramoth Gilead.

to the healed in Fezreel] See 1 King. 18.46. of the wounds which the syrians ] Heb. wherewith the Syrians had wounded had given him] Heb. wounded. They were fuch fore wounds, as he durft not remain at Ramoth-Gilead, but came to a more fecure place.

at Ramab] He means hereby, Ramoth-Gilead, v. 28:

when he fough: againft Haratl king of Syria! See v. 23. It appeares that Joram, king of Ifacel, in this war, bad beaten the Syrians, and taken Ramoth-Gilead, in that he left Jehu the Capvain of his hofte, and the reft of his fouldiers there, chap.

1. Sc. and Abstable son of Jeboram king of Judah ] See v. 25. and Abstable son of Jeboram king of Judah ] See v. 25. went down to see Joram the son of Abab in Icroel ] He went with him to Ramoth-Gilead, and now he goeth to visit him also breause he was fick ] He was mortally wounded, and a wounded man is sometimes said to be sick. See 1 King. 22.34. Or, it may be, that by his wounds, he was cast into a fever; and in that respect, properly said to be fick.

CHAP. IX.

Verf. 1. Nd Elifba] The copulative particle, joynech this tinuance of one and the fame history.

thuance of one and the lame nitroy, the Prophet called one] Seeing the holy Ghost doth not here in particular mention who he was, it is too great cutiofity to determine him to be Jonah the son of Amittai, (Jonata) who they fay, was the widows fon of Zarepbath, whom Elisha raised from the dead, r King. 17.22,23. It is probable, that he was one not known to Jehu, and the others that were with him. o.

and was twicd whit his futhers] But not in their fepulchees, Chron, 21, 20, and was twice white his futhers] But not in their fepulchees, Chron 21, 20, and was twice and the futher white figure there would have been great fulfilliants about the reason of his coming, before the particular cale had been appreciated as the futher futher was the future of the futu that so the matter might be carried the more privately. Had and way owner want to protect a control of the cont And Abstrate his forrespectations fread. I this Abstrate was reason why be went not himself: but that is not probable, behis younged; ho, how he came to the throne, is showed 2 Chro. 2.1.
V. 2.5. In the twelfth year of fortan! That is, the last: For is stilled from of the Prophets, ch. 2.3.

and [aid unto bim, gird upthy logns] This phrase implyeth speed. See ch. 4. 29. In this case, as much speed was to be used as could be; because it was a weighty case, and a dangerous nied as contin oegoczute ir was a treigniy czie, anna campazone cale: and for fair an opportunity was offered as this time, by Jorams and A hazishi being together ar Jezceel, as if had dot, been taken, the like might not have fallen out spain and and adecibis lock of of in thim band. He did not fend him to and safe tons one of our name states | He did not lend nim to the Temple for holy oyl, but took that which was prefent; be-cause the matter admitted no delay. The word translated being is in hebrew the very same that is translated viol, I Sam. 10, 1. Now whereas mention is made of a horn of oyl, wherewith David was annointed, I Sam. 16.1. and Solomon, I King. 1. David was annotated, I Dam. 16.1. and Dolomon, I Aug. 1. 39. Some put this difference, that the horn of only did intimate a perpetuity of their kingdoms; but this viol or box, a defici-ency or failing in Sauls and Jehu's kingdoms.

and got Ramish Glated Though Joram, by reason of his wounds, had gon from Ramoth-Gilead, oh 8,29, yet his Captains and fouldiers, even his whole army, there remained to keep it fafe against the Syrians; by which means, Jehn had the fairer opportunity, being chief Captain or General over the whole hofte, to furprize Joram, when he was abfent from his

V. 2. And when then comest thinker, leek om there febrij Ho was the man whom God appointed to take vengeance on A. habs house. Wherefore that this messenger might not missake the man, he wills him to be careful in looking him out. the fon of Jehofhaphat ] This is added to diffinguish him from another Jehu, who was the fon of Manapi, and a Prophet, 1 King. 16.1.

Chap. ix.

end go in Be not affraid, though there be many together; all that profess the true God, especially in fincerity, are Gods go in where he is, that thou maiest the better speak to servants.

and make him arife up] Not by force, but by declaring that thou haft a meffage to him.

from among bis breihren | Brethren in office, fellow captains, v. 8. See 1 King 9. 13. & 20. 32. Thefe Commanders in war were then fitting together, to confult about their war-like affairs, v. 5. And this Elifha knew by that spirit which he and carry him to an inner chamber] Heb chamber in a cham ber. This part of the direction sheweth, that he was to communicate his meffage unto Jehu in private, left at the fuddain hearing thereof, there might be fome tumult, and fome (peedy carrying of the news to Joram in Jezreel.

v. 3. Then take the box of orl | See v. 1.
2nd pour it en bis head | That by this visible fign, Jehu might be the more confirmed in the truth of that meflago which was and fay, Thus faith the Lord ] See 1 King, 12.24. This di vine authority, which is alleaged for the warrant of his meffage, was to work in Jehu the greater reverence and confi-

I have anointed thee king over I [ratel] I who have the supream and absolute power over kingdoms, and that to put down and fet up what kings I please, have now appointed thee to this office. The word anointed, is used in relation to the forementioned rite. See 1 King. 19.16. Jehu is the onely king of Israel, from the division of the ten tribes, that was anointed; for as this calling to that high dignity, was expressely from God, so the task laid on him was the greatest.

then open the door ] It appears that the chamber door was shut and flee Come away with the greatest speed thou canst : eure, is used; therefore Angels are said to have wings and to flie, Isiai 6.2. for by flying, the greatest speed that can be made by any creaand tarry not ] The expression of the speed which he should make, affirmatively, and negatively, carrieth emphasis, and thews, that the messenger should not upon any occasion, tarry any whit at all, after he bad done his meffage; left he might incur fome danger to himfelf, and be an occasion of interrup-ting the business.

V. 4. So the young man The messenger was young, that he might the more speedily do his message : for young men use even the young man ] This ingemmination carrieth emphasis. It implyeth, that though the messenger were young, and the melispe dangerous, yet he did i pundually and holdy, the Proba! This title is given unto him, both in regard of his former deutation, and allo in regard of his prefent imployment, which was to fore-tel what Jehn thould be, and whathe hould do. went to Ramoth-Gilead | See v. I.

V. 5. And when he came ] To the place whither he was ap-behold, the captains of the hofte were fitting ] To confult, as a counsel of war, about their affairs. and be faid, I bave an errand] Some special thing to be made to thee, O Captain Jehu is here meant. He was Captain of the whole holte of Joram; and it feems that he was well known to this messenger.

and Jebu faid, mno which of all us ?] As yet he knew not the minde of the Lord, in that which hereafter is made known unto

And he faid ] The Prophet that was fent, faid, as follow-

Tothee, O Captain] This fhews, that he was in special fent to him.

V. 6. And he ] Jehu.
arofe] This word implyeth, a readinels, and quicknels, in that which is undertaken. See I King 14.2,4.

and went into the house The private chamber, before noted,

v. 2. that they two might be the more private.

and be poured the 9/1 on his head] Seev. 3.

and faid wwo him, Thus faith the Lord God of Ifrael] The Prophet holds close to the words of his charge, v. 3. wherein he shewed himself a fairbful Prophet.

V. 7. And thou [balt fmite ] Destroy. See I King. 15.29.
the house of Ahab] Ahabs posterity, and all that belonged to iby master] Ahab was his soveraign, and had chosen him to be in special imployment under himself. See v. 25.

be in special impleyment under numeli. See v. 25: that I may average the blood of my fervants the Prophets ] Blood is a crying fin, Gen. 4.10. especially the blood of Gods fervants and Prophets, Pfal. 116. 15.

and the blood of all the fervants of the Lord ] As Prophets, fo thor of the flaughter of the Lords Prophets, 1 King. 18. 4. and of other fervants of the Lord, I King. 21. 10. Now because of other tervants of the Lord, I tamp. 21.10. Now because Ahab was her inftrument to deftroy Gods fervants, and his fonstrod in his fteps, and also suffered her to continue in her Regency, and to do as she lift, her fins lay upon their necks, and the and they are all judged.

V. 8. For the whole houle of Abab [ball perifb] Sec. v. 7.

and I will cut off, &c.] See 1 King. 14.10. & 21.21. V. 9. And I will make the house of Ahab, like the bouse of Fero-boam, &c.] See I King. 16. 9. & 15. 29. & 16. 11. & 21. 22. These judgements are mentioned to restrain John from the like sins; lest the like vengeance should follow him. For Deroboam and Baasha were set up by God to be his scourge, to punish the evils of others, as well as Jehu himself.

V. 10. And the dogs [hall eat Jegebel ] See I King, 21.

in the portion of Jegreel, I In that piece of ground where Naboths viaeyard was, I King 21.23.

and there shall be none to bury her. ] See this accomplished.

v. 35,36. As it was a bleffing to have a decent burial, fo it was counted a curse to have no burial at all, Jer. 22. 19. Though the particulars, from the beginning of the feventh verse, are not expressed, as a charge given to this messenger, yet it is to be presupposed, that even for these also he had his warrant from him that fent him : for the Holy Ghoft, ufeth fometimes to fet down that which is delivered, both in a charge, and also in the execution thereof, but once.

And he opened the door and, fled ] This also was injoyned to this messenger. See v. 3.
V. 11. Then Jehu came forth to the servants of his lord ] He means those Commanders that were fitting in counsel, ver. 5. means those Commanders that were income us collect, ver. 5:

Both he and they were (bulgets, and fpecial officers of king Joram; therefore they are called fervants; and the king is called his lord, as Ahab (v. 7.) was called his mafter, and one faid auno him] One of the afore-faid Captains and Commanders.

Is all well ? ] Heb. witpeace? Was his meffage about

Wherefore came this mad fellow to thee? ] Certainly they threw him to be a Prophet; which Jehu's words following do import. It may be, that by realon of his fudden and hafty feaking to Jehu, they fo called him. And nodoubt, they did. the rather, because they knew him to be one of the Lords Prophets : for thus have Gods ministers, from time to time, Propiets: for thus have Gods minuters, from time to time, been accounted, as Jer. 29, 26. Hol. 29.7. Act. 26.24. 2 Cord. 5. 13. Yea, Christ himself, was so supposed to be, Mark 3. 11. Their ordinary prophetics were not pleasing to idolaters, and other wicked men; therefore they accounted them

And he faid unto them] Jehu made the answer. Te know the man, and his communication] Ye cannot be ignorant that he is a Prophet of the Lord; thereupon ye must needs know, that his message is from the Lord. By this he prepares them to take part with him in that matter which was ordered by the Lord.

uerea by the LOTA, V. 12. And they faid, it is falfe] This hath, in special, relation to the latter part of Jehu's answer, namely, that they knew not his communication. Herein therefore doth Jehu labour to farisfie them.

tell m now] They were earnest to know what the message was ; for certainly they suspected it was some weighty mat-and he faid, thus and thus spake he to me, saying ] Under these generall words are comprized the particulars of the Prophets

Thus faith the Lord | See v. 3, 6. He expressly declareth this, to incite them the more to take part with him in so warrantble a bufinels.

apie a bunnets.

I have anointed thee King over Ifrael | See v. 3,6;

V. 13. Then they buffed | God wrought upon their hearts, which made them to speedily undertake a matter of so great and took every man bit garment] He speaks here of their upper and out it under bim Because they had not ready cloth of flate, which used to be laid on thrones where Kings fit, and on fiate, which lifed to be failt on into life where Ange his, and the ground before the throne, where they tread; it they upon the prefent fudden occasion, the their own garments, to effifie their acknowledgment of him to be their King, and their readiness with all speed to fet him up as a King. We read the like done to Christ, Mat. 21. 7,8.

ontbetop] The Hebrew word here translated, cop, fignifieth a bone, and is fometimes indefinitely put for any hard thing, of the faires | Or, of alcents and degrees. This word figni-fieth an alcending, or a thing higher then another. There might | turn thou behinde me ] Thus he kept the mellenger from gobe, in the place where they were, fomething whereunto they ling back to his mafter, and revealing what he had feen, See afeended by fleps; thereupon they laid their garments fo, as verf. 15, therewith they made it a kinde of throne; it being higher then therewith they made it a kinde of throne; it being higher then the floor, they fet Jehu thereon.

and blew with trumpers Sec 1 King. 1.39.

[aying, Jehu is King.] Heb., raigneth. They express their acclamation as a matter concluded and warranted. For as God the disposer of Kings, had appointed him to be so, v.6. so they gave their confent thereto.

V. 14. So Jehnthe fon, &c. ] See v. 2.

confibred against Ioram | This is not to be taken of a treacherous conspiracy, because it had Gods warrant; but indefinitely, of feeking to destroy the living king.

now Ioram had kept Ramoth Gilead] This is to be taken either of that time when Joram was in Ramoth, or elfe Joram is faid to be here, because, by his appointment, the army re-mained there, whereof he was the head. See ch. 8.28,29. and all Ifrael ] The holte of the Ifraelites that was gathered out of all Ifrael.

because of Hazael The Israelites had taken Ramoth-Gilead. because of Hazzel The Israelites had taken Ramonn-onean.

See v. r. Either Hazzel might fill hold some strong fort in his hories with fast gallopping. Some interpret the word in a contrary sence, thus, he marched flowly rendring this reason, that city, and mererore me army there about to once min by, or clies, they might fear, left Hazael bring thrust our, might That he might the better draw Joram out of the city, because gather more forces and come to recover the city again; and gather more rortes and come to record the city again; a see in the open field, then in the city; for if the city had been that hing of Syria] See ch. 8.15,28, V. 15. But hing Ioram] Heb. Fehoram.

was returned to be heated in Jegreel See ch. 8.29.
of the wounds which the Syrians had given him] Heb. smote.

of the wounds within the system that given mm] rice. pnose. This word finiting, is in hebrew oft put for a mortal blow. See ch. 6, 11,22. 1 King, 15,29.

when he fought with Ha. act king of Syria See chap. 8 28.

And Jehn faid, If it be your minde Because he trusted to their aid, he would do nothing in this case without their con-then let none go forth, nor escape out of the city] Heb. let no carb in his christ] Fescapego, &c. His purpo'e was, on a suddain to surprize Jo-another, if need were, ram ; and therefore he labours to prevent all means that might give him any inkling of fuch a matter, left Joram baving nogree nun any manager town a matter, the state of the stat have been brought to the kings ears.

V. 16. So Iehu rode in a chariot They then used chariots in war for swiftness and conveniency; that in them, they might the better use the bow, or any other warlike influment. He went not alone, but in the head of an army.

and went to Iegreel] Towards it; and at length came to (for Ioram lay there) ] As he went thither, v. 15. fo he abode there. and Ahariah, &c ] See ch. 8. 29. This is here repeated, to fhew the ground of Ahaziahs deftiuction. See 2 Chron. 22.

6, 7.
V. 17. And there flood a watchman on the tower in Icercel See ch. 17.9. 2 Sam. 18. 24. 1 Sam. 14.16. Ifai. 21.5,6,11. Wer. & 62.6. Hrael was an inland countrey, and furrounded with enemies; therefore they had watch-towers in most of their cities, and watch-men upon them. and he spied the company of Iehu as he came ] This shews his diligence. He at this time knew it not to be Jehu's troops; but because they were indeed, so they are here faid to be fo. and [aid] This shows his faithfulness.

I fee acompany ] This general was all that yet he could dif-And Foram [aid ] Here behold Jorams care and pru-

Take an borseman] Who may swiftly go and return. and fend to meet them ] To differn betimes who they and let him fay, Is it peace ? ] He little suspected that they were fuch enemies. He supposed that they came, either for succour, being over-come; or triumphing upon fome new ex-

V. 18. So there went one on horseback to meet him, and said The fcout did his meffage speedily and faithfuly.

Thus faith the king, Is it peace? ] He propounds his meffage in the kings name, because he came from the king, and because he supposed they would give him the more direct answer. And Febu faid, what haft thou to do with peace? ] Heb. what is it to thee and peace ? See 1 King. 17. 18. The peace that thou his to the and peace 2 See 1 King. 17. 18. The peace that thou are some and the state of the sta

And the watch-man told, ] What he had feen.

faying, The mestenger came to them, but he cometh not again]
This was all that the watch man could declare. He could tell nothing of their communication.

V. 19. Then he fent out a second on horseback ] The king might wonder at his messengers stay; but not knowing the reason thereof, he sends out another single scout, to try is the could bring back any certain meffage. Men in doubt use to make one trial upon another.

which came to them and faid, &c. ] See v. 18. V. 20. And the watch man told, saying, &c. ] See v. 18.

and the driving ] Or, marching, is the she driving of Jehu ] Jehu baving been sometime a chief Commander: his manner, of marching was well the fon of Nimshi, ] Or, the grandchild of Nimshi. See verf. 2.

for he drives b furiously] Heb. in madness. As if he would kill the work intended, might more easily and speedily be effected against him, not only, more delay would have been made, but the king might have escaped. This were a fair interpretation, if the hebrew would bear it.

V. 21. And Joram said, Make ready] Heb. binde. See 1 King, 18.4. Certainly he did not yet fear an enemy. Had he yet feared any, he would not have exposed his person to such danger. But it was Gods work to harden his heart.

and his chariot was made ready] His subjects and fervants This is here repeated, to fliew the opportunity that Jehn had readily yeelded to what he commanded; and made no questi-

And Joram king of Israel, and Abaziah king of Judah, went out] This also was of God, that Abaziah should go with him, 2 Chron, 22.7.
each in his chariot ] For greater state, and better help one to and went out against Ichu] Not with a purpose to fight a-they went to meet him, to know the end of his coming.

make an etage from min.

signs talk integretal! There Joran was; and if the news so gos talk integretal! There Joran was; and if the news of logreat a matter had come to any in Jezreel, it would foon matter topafs, as the had gone cuts fock him in fisch a place, r King. 21.20. in the portion of Naboth the Ic reclite | See v. 10. This place might have put him in minde of the judgement threatned, 1 King. 21. 19. V. 22. And it came to past, when Isram saw Iehu ] As yet he feares no evil from that troop; and thereupon meets Jehu in that he said, Is it peace, Ichu > ] Is all well at Ramoth? Have you gotten any further advantage against the Syrians ? Or bave they gotten advantage against you? Why dost thou thus come from Ramoth with thy troops ? And he answered] Jehu now discovering the advantage which he had gotten, makes a quick and peremptory an-What peace > ] The interrogative implyes, a strong negation:

Thou maift not expect any peace, being fo wicked as thou fo long as the whoredoms] Whoredoms properly fet forth bodily pollutions of man with woman. Metaphorically they fet forth Idolaters; for God is an husband to his people, and they as a spouse to him. When they worship idols, they forsake the Lord their true busband, and profiture themselves to adulterers. In this spiritual acception the word is oft used, as Lev. 17.7. Judg.2.17. Jer. 3. 2. In both senses the word may here be taken. For Jezebel was a notorious adulteress, and Ido-of thy mother legebel] The fins of his mother are laid to his charge, because he suffered hersto continue in them, and dealt uot with ber, as Afa did with his mother, I King. 15.13. Yea, he continued in her idolatry; if he were not also an adulteand her witchcrafts ] Witchcraft is commonly used for a cunning device to deceive, Neh. 3.4. All idolaters, in this refpect, use witcherafts, and are therefore joyned together here, Neb. 3. 4. It may be that Jezebel wrought with the devil, and was a plain witch. Certain it is, that flie bewitched many with her cunning devices, as the Elders, Nobles, and others in Jezreel,1 King. 21.8. &c.

V. 23. And Ioram turned his hand ] He spake to his chariot-man to turn his horses. See 1 King. 22, 34. and fled For he was afraid, having no power to refift fuch light out of his chariot.

Chap. x.

an army as came against bim. and [aid to Abariah ] Who was not far from him : and whom he conceived to be in danger, as well as himlelf.

There is treathery, O Abariah, I Jehu and the rest that came with him were his subjects: for subjects to rise against their with an in well employed. I have been a market of the word of the was not clean flain in his charlot, as Jonot a warrant from God, as John in this case had, verf. and dyed there] He was not clean flain in his charlot, as Jo-

V. 24. And Febu drew a bow with his full [trength] Heb. fil-See I King. 13:33. Here it may imply that ftrength which Jebu put forth in drawing his bow.

ani the arrow went out at his heart | He was not shot as he met Jehu face to face, but as he fled from him; fo as the arrow pierced through his back-part into his heart.

and be funk down Heb. bowed. He instantly dyed. He wa not fmitten here, as he was by the Syrians, ch. 8.28. or, as Ahaziah was smitten, v. 27. but he was slain dow-nright. in bis chariet ] For he endeavoured to fly away in it, verf 21,23. V. 24. Then faid Febu to Bidkar his captain ] Bidkar before was a fellow-commander with Jehu, under Ahab, and Joram ; but now he was under Jehu, being one of those that proclaimed Jehu king, v.13.

Takeup and caft him ] Jehu would not suffer Jorans servants to carry him back into the city; but would have him pull'd out of the charior, and cast upon the open ground.

in the portion of the field of Naboth the Jegreelite ] See verf for remember, how that when I and thou rode together after A-bab his father ] Being under Ahab, Commanders in his army; in that respect, they followed Ahab as attendants; and had the fitter opportunity to fee what he did, and to hear what he fpake, or what was fpoken to him.

the Lord laid this burthen upon bim. Threatnings of Prophers, are ufually called burthens, Ifai, 13 1. Mal. 1.1. For as pners, are utually called burthens, tlat. 13 1. Mal. 1.1. For as burthens lye heavy upon the shoulders of a man, so divine judg-ments, both threatned and executed, lye heavy upon the soul of a man. This burthen was said to be laid on him, when the judgment was first threatned against Abab, ( 1King 21.24.) and it is now executed.

V. 26. Surely, I have feen Heb. if I have not feen, &c. This is a form of an oath. Something is to be understood to make up the fenfe, as thus, If I have not feen, let me not be accounted a God. This form importeth the certainty of a thing, and is to the lense well translated by our English, Surely I have seen. tice Jehu to lust, or at lest, to induce others to aid her, Jer. 4. Ir is like the doubling of the phrase, Exod. 3. 7. I have seen, I have feen, that is, I have furely feen.

reflerdar | This hath relation to 1 King, 21.19. For Naboth being flain in the evening of one day, Abab went the next day to take possession of his vineyard; and then Elijah met him there, and denounced this judgement against him. Yesterday is oft put for the time path, fee ch. 13.5.

the blood] Heb, bloods. For all his blood out of every part of his body was fied; and it was after fuch a manner, as if the blood of many had been shed.

of Naboth ] Sec 1 King 21.13. o) Nation? See I and 21.13. and the bleed of bit lows! This theweth, that Naboths fors were killed as well as himfelf. See I King. 21.13. faid the Lord! By the miniflery of Elipha. Though this be not experified in the hiftory, yet might Jehu hear it uttered by and I will require thee in this plat ] Or, portion. Namely, where Naboths vineyard was, See v. 10. faith the Lord | The Lord feeth the fins of the wicked to take vengeance of them in his time. now therefore take and cast him in the plat of ground ] See vers.

according to the word of the Lord ] See I King. 21. 21. Jehu in that which he did against Ahabs house, and against Baal, had an eye to the word of God; but not in other things. See ch. 10, 20, 21.

V. 27. But when Abariah the King of Fudah \ See chap faw this | Namely, that which befell Joram

he fled by the way of the Garden-house ] He durft not turn back in that open way that led to Jezreel, but fled by a byway without the fuburbs of the city, where their gardens and garden-houses were.

and Febu followed after him] Jehu had a watchful eye over the two Kings, and having flain one upon the place, he eagerly and faid, Smite him alfo in the chariot] There were fome of Jehu's Souldiers neerer to Ahaziah, then Jehu was. To them Jehu speaks, and bids them flry Ahaziah, even while he was upon their Queen; and thereupon, though they had a special in his chariot; that is, speedily : not giving him any time to and they did fo at the going up to Gur ] Gur was in the way to which is by Ibleam] This was belonging to Manasseh, Josh.

17. 11. as did Megiddo alfo. and he fled to Megiddo] See 1 King, 9. 15. Here Jofiah re-ram was, v. 24. For he was wounded in one place, and died in another. Whereas it is faid, 2 Chr. 23. 9. that Ahaziah led bis hand with a bows. In Ceriputer phrale, they that take a was hid in Samaria. It is thus to be taken, that feeking to hide thing into their hands, are faid to fill their hands therewith. himself in Samaria, be was discovered and brought to Jehn. who thereupon commanded him to be fmitten : upon which fmiting, the stroke being mortal, he fled to Megiddo, and there dyed. Or, Samaria may be indefinitely taken for the whole country, as s King, 18. 2. and then Megiddo may be comprized under Samaria. V. 28. And his fervants carried him in a chariot to Ferusalem?

After he was flain, Jehu looked no more after him : but fuffered his fervants to carry him whether they would. Or, Jehu might have respect to Jehoshaphat his grand-father (as a Chro. 22.9.) and in that respect suffer him to be carried to Jeru-and buried him in the sepulchre with his fathers ] The Jews counted it an bonour to be buried by their fathers. in the city of David | See 1 King, 2.10.

V. 29. And in the eleventh yeer, &c. ] See ch. 8. 25. v. 29. And nine circuity year, 8c. 1 See cn. 8: 25.
V. 20. And when 36th was come to 3epterfold Two kings being flain by Jehu, none durft oppole his cutrance into the city, but he quickly took possession flain and such famous mathematical flain and such famous mathematical flain and fluch famous mathematical flain fl ters concerning the death of two kings, could not but be quickly foread abroad, far and neer, and fo come to her ears. and (he painted her face ] Heb. put her eyes in painting. She had painted her face all over ; fo as her eyes were in the midft of painting. She shewed her pride and lightness herein. She could not be but well grown in years at this time; and in that respect this youthful and lustful setting forth her self, was the more detestable.

and sired her head] She fet her felf out in the greatest bravery that the could. This argued a very ftrange disposition. The accidents that fell out should rather have moved her to have rent her clothes, and tear her hair from her head, and flubbered her face with teares; but herein the thewed her great fournels, as if the would daunt Jehu, by thewing that the would yet ftill retain her royal flate; and not care, or fear what he could do to her. Some will have it, that the fo attired her felf to en-30. Ezek. 13.40.

and looked out at a window ] To out-brave him to his

V. 31. And as John entred in at the gate Either the Kings Palace was at the City gate, where feats of judgment used to he fet. Or the gate here mentioned, is meant of the gate of the Kings Palace, which was within the city. At this time was Jehu in his greatest pomp and triumph; which farther sets out her resolute and undaunted spirit.

fhe faid, had Zimri peace] Sue refembles Jehu to Zimri, and puts him in minde of Zimries end; whereof fee's King. 16.9, &c. The interregative implies a strong negation; as if she had faid, Thou well knowest that Zimri did not long prosper, but came to a quick,fearful, and utter deftruction. who flew his mafter? Therein the makes Jehu like Zimri, in that both of them kil'd their King. And as Zimri was a Commander in his Kings army, (I King. 16.9.) fo was John in his,v. 11. And therefore both the one and the others Soveraign is called Mafter. But though both of them therein agreed, yet they did what they did upon a far different ground. For Jehu had fuch a warrant v. 7. as Zimri had not ; whereupon Jehu needed not to fear fuch an iffue.

V. 32. And he lift up his face to the window] He heard bet voice, and was moved with her daring upbraiding speech; and therefore looks up to the place where the was, to fee if he might take prefent vengeance on her.

and faid, Who is on my fide? ] Who will thew that he takes part with me, and acknowledg me to be King.

who] This doubling of the word implies confidence, that ome would do as he would have them; and withal, an earneft defire, that they should shew themselves. and there looked out to him two or three] God wondetfully wrought on mens hearts, that they should so suddenly yiel'd to another King, and that in the presence of the Queen their Eunuchs | Or. chamberlains. Chamberlains of the Queen, or other great officers attending upon her. See r King. 22. 9. Certainly, they thought that some vengeance wou'd fall relation to her, yet by looking out, they give an intimation to Jehu that they were ready to do what he should command. V. 33. Am be fails, thom ha down! Jehu knew that she had been the cause of much blood, besides her idolary; and sherefore requires that she should be so tumbled down from that high room wherein the was.

fo they threw ber down] Though it was a hard charge given to them, she being their mistress, yet all hope of further advantage, by attending on her, being taken away, and that fear which Jehu had wrought in them, made them quickly execute the charge.

and some of her blood was sprinkled on the wall, and on the horses] It appears that her fall was from an high place, in that therewith her blood was fo sprinkled all about. Or it may be that the sprinkling of her blood was by the treading of the horses and he trod her under foot] Jehu with his troops, being on horseback, with their horses trampled upon her.

V. 34. And when he was come in he did eat and drink ] Having taken much pains in his expedition between Ramoth and Jezrecl, and having destroyed all that durft oppose against him, when he was come into the City, and faw all quiet before him, he refreshed bimself with meat and drink.

and [aid , Go [ce now ] His minde was not fo fet upon his re-past, as to forget what he had done. But being mindful of what befel Jezebel, he fends to fee her dead shis curfed woman] She was curfed in her former disposition, and now also in her present condition. and bury her] Burial was in those dayes counted an honour and a blefling. Wherefore though he had juftly taken away her life, yet he would afford her that honour.

for she is a Kings daughter] She was the daughter of the King of Zidon, 1 King, 16. 31. Though Jehu had upon di-vine warrant flain the two Kings of Ifrael and Judah, yet he had respect unto the King of Zidon; and, not willing to incense the King against him, he testifies some respect to

V. 25. And they went to bury her] Neither Jehu, nor they whom he fent at this time, remembred that which Elijah had whom he tent at this time, remembered that which Elijan mad fore-told concerning Jezebel, 1 King, 21, 13, otherwise nei-ther he nor they would have thought of burging of her but they found so more of her then the Andl, and the feet, and the palms of her bunds! All these were hard bones and under these questionless the thigh-bones, and other hard bones of the body are comprized : as for all her flesh the dogs had eaten it. She her felf was of a doggifh disposition; and in her life-time did fly upon and tear the servants of God: and thereupon is she justly torn in pieces and devoured by dogs. V. 36. Wherefore they came again and told bim] What they had found of her, and what had been caten of her. and be faid, This is the word of the Lord ] Evidences of fuch things as God bath fore-told, do bring to minde and memory fuch things as have been forgotten. which he spake by his servant ] Heb. by the hand of his servant.

which helpage by the ferrant | Hed. by the band of the ferrant.

See 1 King, 8, 52.

Ellight the Tiflakte | See 1 King, 17, 1.

fasting, is the persion of served | See v. 10.

fall doze cut the field of seed | See 1 King, 21, 23.

V. 37. And the anticle of seed | See the bedy with the doze.

shall be as doing upon the face of the field I Shall be contemptible, tredden under foot, and lie to rot in the open or any like qualification. in the tortion of Jerreel] See v. 10.

fo that they will not fay, This is fezebel] When all the flesh is tom from the bones of a living creature, who can know that fuch were the bones of fuch a party? This latter clause is not in the hiftory, 1 King. 21. 23. but yet it being here fet down, we are to account it as true as if it had been before expressly fet

CHAP. X.

Ver. 1. And Abab bad feverity fons ] Under this word, fons, amay grand fons also be comprized, Gen. 31.43.

Abab himself, and Joram his sen might have many wives, and many children by them ; yea Ahab might have more fons then are by name mentioned in Scripture, and they have also sons; and thus the number of fons amount to feventy. Great men of old were wont to have many children, Judg. 8.30. & 10. 4. & 12. 9, 14. 2 Chr. 11. 21.

in Samaria] This was the royal city, a populous city, and a well-fortified city; and thercupon in those troublesome times, the Kings children and kindred were there.

and Februarote letters ] As Naboth and his children were flain by letters from Abab and Jezebel, 1 King. 22. 8. fo their wealth, and other like excellencies. See chap, 5. yerf. 1. ehildren are by letters caused to be flain.

and [ent to Samaria] He knew that all Ahabs progeny was there.

unto the Rulers of Jegreel] These might indeed be Rulers of Jezrael; but yet now come to Samaria with the Kings children. for the greater fafety and fecurity.
to the Elders | See 1 King. 8. 1.

and to them that brought up &c. ] Heb. warriffeets. Such as had the tuition of the Kings children committed unto them, and were to concate them, and to take care of their fafety.

V. 2. Now as foon as this letter coments of only Jehn began ais letter to the fore-named Princes, in the fame manner that the King of Syria began his letter to the King of Ifrael, ch. 5. 6. feeing your masters fons are with you! These were not only the Kings Subjects, but also officers and special servants, and in that respect he is cal'd their mafter. See ch. 9.7. What sons are here means, is showed v. I.

and there are mith you chariots and horses, &c. ] These were and there are with you enatures and norses, e.c. I there were means of defending themselves against an enemy. And therefore to try whether they would stand against him, or yield tore to try whether they would than against thin, or yield unto him, he puts them in minde of the provision they had.

V. 3. Look even out the best and meetest of your masters sans It is probable that some of the seventy sons were of age and prowels; fo as still he seems to put them on to do the utmost that they could. and fet him on his fathers throne To fet one upon a throne; is in Scripture-phrase to make him king, 1 King. 2. 24. Here he means, that they should both make him and proclaim him ting. and fight for your Masters house] For those that are remaining of Ahabs flock, or in any special manner belong to him. Je-hu's meaning herein, is not, that indeed they should fight; but by this means he tries their disposition the more thorowly.

V. 4. But they were exceedingly afraid ] God that had appointed Jehn to be his fwerd, to destroy the whole stock of Ahab, puts a fear into their hearts, that notwithstanding the fore-mentioned defence which they had, they durft not rife up and faid, Behold two Kings stood not before him] Jehoram king of Israel, and Ahaziah king of Judah, are here meant.

See ch. 9. 21.

how then [ball we fland?] They might better have flood againft John, then both those Kings; because these kings were not at that time in the midft of their army. Jehu had then the command of their army, ch. 9. 5,17. But these were in a defeneed city, had store of ammunition; but fear possessed their

V. 5. And he that was over the house The chief of all those that appertained unto Ahabs house; or that had the command over the Kings Palace in Samaria. and he that was over the City] The chief Governour of Sa-the Elders also] Such Senators and Counsellors of State, as there remained to order the affairs of that City, or of the land.

and the bringers up of the children See v. 1. fent to Jehu, faying They all fate together to confult and advise about that weighty message which Jehu had sent unto them, and returned with one confent the answer following. We are thy fervants] At thy command, acknowledging thee our King.

and will do all that thou shalt bid us] Fear makes them flavishs for they interpose no condition of just, and honest, and faithful, we will not make any King ] We will not fet up any to oppose against thee, neither will we take part with any against thee.

do thou that which is good in thine eyes] Whatloever pleaseth thee, and thou shalt require of us.
V. 6. Then he wrote a letter the [cond time to them] Like a prudent and fubtile Commander, he gives them no time to deliberate about that which he requires of them , but instantly makes known what he would have them do. [aying, If you be mine] Heb. for me. to do as ye have faid. 'and if you will hearken unto my voice] Obey me, and do what require.

take je the heads] Cut off the heads. of the men, your Masters sons | Those seventy sons which are mentioned v. I.

and come to me to Fegreel] There Jehu abode, till he should know the minde of the Governours in Samaria. He means, that they should come with the heads of those sons, by to morrow this time] They had but a dayes respite from the time that Jehu wrote his letter, till the time that all he required fhould be done. now the Kings fons being feventy perfons ] See v. 1.

were with the great men of the City ] He means , all that were great in authority, dignity, honour, command, prudence, $4.8.

Chap. x.

a means of making great, Ifa. 1. 2. Sec v. 1.

foon as they had read it.

ioon as they had read it.
that they took the Kings [out] The feventy fons mentioned
v. 1. They apprehended them. and flew [eventy per/out] Too much care for their own fafety, makes them call off all care of the charge committed unto and put their heads in baskets] That fo they might be carried and pas main reason is marged. I had to tay in light be carried to tagether, as John had required, w. 6.

and fast bim them so freques! Though others carried this doleful burden, yet they allo went along therewith, as Jehu had required in this planale, Geme to me, v. 6.

V. S. And there came a messenger and told him, saying It seemeth that they were asraid at first, to come themselves into his presence; therefore they fend a meffenger in to him, to give him notice of their coming they have brought the beads of the Kings [ons] See v. 7. and he faid, lay pe them in two beaps I it was a lamentable spechacle, to see so many heads of Princes lying together. One heap might be laid on one fide of the entrance, and the other on the other fide on the other inde.

at the entring in of the gate] The gate of the city; the place of julice, where people uled to allemble together, Deut. 22.

15. Ruth. 4. 1. They were here laid, that there might be the more eye-witneffes of Gods just revenge upon the idolatrous stock of Ahab; and this was a fit place for Jeb; to clear his jus-flice therein, and to flew the ground for which there were fo many flain. See v. 10. untill the morning | It was now evening when they came; and it is probable, that the gates of the City were shut; and therefore he would do nothing till the next day appeared, that fo there might be the more witnesses thereof V. 9. And it came to pass in the morning ] He was careful betimes to make known his minde.

that be went out ] From his chamber and house where he lay all night.

and fload | That he might be the better feen and heard, and faid to all the people | Both those that came from Samaria, and others allo. For certainly lo fitrange a matter could ria, and others allo. For cereamy to trange a motive common to draw many people regether.

ye berightesm.] Though some apply this to those that came from Samaria, and slick whose seventy sons, as if Jelu had cleared them of all guile; yet the last clause in this yet? (but who slice all those)? Showeth, that John here speaketh to those that were only for ctators, and had no hand in the destruction of those whom he himself flew, or of those whom the men of Samaria flew. And those he acquitteth, that they might the more attentively hearken to the apologie that he made for the blood that was shed behold, I conspired against my master | He serteth forth his executing of Gods vengeance in that phrase which might feem to imply treaten, (see 1 King. 16.9.) that it being fer forth in the world fense, his defence of himself might make the deeper imprefilion.

and flew bim] See ch. 9 24.

But who flew all shefe?] This he faith, to flew that they who minch feem to have their hands as deep in blood as he; yet the apologic following extends it felf to them as well as to himfelf.

V. 10. Know new] By this evidence, he would convince them of Gods truth, in accomplishing his threatnings.

shat there shall fall unto the earth] This phrase is used of such sout two foult, du most the earth.] This phrate is used of fuch hinges a perfix, 1. King. 1, 43. . 35. m. 3, 15. m. 3 the hinges apend. 1. King. 1, 43. . 35. m. 3, 15. m. 3 the hinges apend. 1. King. 1, 43. . 35. m. 3, 15. m. 3 the hinges apend by treath of this regret execution of vergenace which was made, which the Level flake concerning the builted 'Abab.] That which is here in particular flockers of the boule of Abab, may be applied to all other threatings of the Lord against any other. for the Lurd but does that which be flade! He had caused to be accomplished that which he threatned to the very uttermost.

by on fervant 1 reco. by the coma of , e.c. 1 King. 3.56. Elijahs prophecy was publike, 1 King. 21. 27. and known almost to all: (See ch. 9. 25.) therefore is his name expressed, rather then the young Prophets, who in private gave the charge to Jehu, ch. 9. 6.7.

V. 11. So Jebu flew all that remained to the boufe of Alub in Seyred I la Jezzred had Aluba Palace, 1 King 21.1. and there were many of his kindred, many of his familiar friends, and and all bis great men] All fuch as Ahab had raifed and put in great places, or made rich. See v. 6. Ruth 2. 1. We call fuch and his hinsfolks] Or, acquaintance. Such as were by kindred, which brought them up] Heb. made them great. Education is | Prophets of the Groves, which cat at Jezebels table, r King, 18. wond progress to the state came to them ] So Ahaba table; such as were maintained by him, and theretupon called, bis Priefts.

until he left none remaining In this vengeance on Ahabs house, his zeal was as great as could be expected.

V. 12. And be arofe, and departed and came to Samaria Now that he had tryed the fidelity of those that dwelt at Samaria unto him, he readily comes into that great city, which was the Metropolis or chief city of the Kingdom of Ifrael.

and as he was at the flearing boule ] Heb. house of fleepheards binding fleep. Where they were wont to binde and flear their sheep. The Hebrew word implying only binding, it may be applyed to a flaughter-house also.

in the way] Namely, as he was going to Samaria.

V. 13. Jehu met] Heb. found. Though he fought not for them, yet when he espyed them, his minde was set to destroy them ; therefore he may be fald to finde them in his defite. though not in his endeavour. with the brethree of Abaziah King of Judah] In 2 Chr. 22. 8. thele are called the Princes of Judah, and the fons of the beathren of Ahaziah, that ministred to Ahaziah. Ahaziah was Jorams youngest son and he had never a brother lest. For the Arabians had taken away all the other sons of Joram, 2 Chr. 21.17. therefore the word, brethren, must here be taken in a large sence, for his brethrens sons, or other of his kindred. Lot was Abrahams brothers fon, Gen. 1. 5. yet called his brother, Gen. 13.8. The title, breibren, is oft taken for any kinsfolks. These are also stiled, the Princes of Judah, 2 Chr. 22. 8. because places of dignity and government were committed unto them. And they are faid to administer to Abaziah because they were officers of his court.

and faid. who are sell He would know who they were before he offered any violence unto them, to clear his justice in what and they answered, we are the brethren of Ahariah They declare the truth; for they feared no evil to follow thereupon-care the trung for they reared no evit to follow thereupon-and we go down to falue! Heb, to the pease of &c. To with peace and prosperity to them. Of this pharle, See ch. 4.16. the children of the King, and the children of the Yugen! That is, of Joram the King of Ilrael, and Athaliah his wife. Yet Alab also and Jezebel may be here meant; for the tike, Queen, was continued to Jezebel after her hubbands death. It appears by this answer, that they knew nothing of Jorams and Jezebels, and Ahaziahs death; and of the vengeance that Jehu had executed on Ahabs flock: which made them fo readily to declare, not only who they were, but also why they came: which was more then Jehu asked them.

V. 14. And be faid, take them alive | This charge he gave, because he had them in his power, so as they could neither defend themselves, nor flee away; and the rather, that the cause of flaying them might be made known to them, which was the affinity with the house of Ahab.

and they took them sive I Jehu had now fuch a power, as all of all forts, whether on his own fide, or on the other, were ready to obey him. See v. 7.

and flew them ] The reason of this act is thus rendred, 2 Chr. 22.8. When John was executing judgment upon the boule of Abab, be flew them. So as it was a part of his commission, 1 King, 9. 8. to flav these also.

at the jit of the [hearing. hou[e] See v. 12.
commo and fourty men] Though fingly confidered by themfelves, they were many; yet to Jehu's army they were but a fewneither left he arm of them] In this, his zeal extended it felf o the uttermoft.

V. 15. And when he was departed thence] Namely, from that V. 15. Alla when us was acquired topiced (Namery) non-mar-flearing, hould, Heb. found. Seev. 12. februadab the [on of Rethab] This Rechab was a Kenite 1 Chr. 2.5. He defeended from Jethro, Mofes his father-in-law, Exo. 2. 21. & 18.1. &c. Judg. 1.16. & 4.11. They were a pious generation, and joyned themselves to the people of * Excomplimed that which no targates good very distrinoi.

a plous generation, one pyrind cutmelines to use proper of photography, and popular man, and fore-feeing the fluid copbery was publishe, a King, a.i. zr. and known almost to 18.1 (Sect. 6p., 2x.) therefore is his name experiedly, a three controls in some experiedly, a three controls are controlled to the Lowegave good directions to his pulserity. Jet. a three controls are controlled to the Lowegave good directions to his pulserity. Jet. a three controls are controlled to the Lowegave good directions to his pulserity. Jet. a three controls are controlled to the Lowegave good directions to his pulserity. Jet. a three controls are controlled to the Lowegave good directions to his pulserity. Jet. a proper controlled to the controlled to the control of the controlled to the c and therefore for honours fake, Jehonadab is here stiled the fon and thetestore for Bonours lake, Jenonadan is nere tune use we of Rechab, and their posterity are called Rechabites, Jer 3,7-3, coming to meet him] Queftionlefs Jehonadah knew that Jehan was Good minilities, to execute were genace on A habb houles and therefore might purpolely come to meet him.

and he faltend fimil Heb. belief all the nor might purpolely come to meet him.

and he faltend fimil Heb. belief all phonadahs, for he was now the head of the him. I have belief all phonadahs, for he was now the head of the him to the him to greater man, Heb. 7.7. This was a restimony of Jehu's high steem of Jehonadab, and of his good respect to him. and said, Is thineheart right] He means hereby an upright and entire heart to him.

and his Priefer Such as were his peculiar Chaplains, or fuch is he had prefer d to their places. We read of four hundred I do there? and dott their approximate the control of as my beart is with thy heart ] Doft thou in truth affect me as and Achonsidah answeed, it is ] Heb it is, and it is. This doub- | dedicated to the worthip of Baal; as the house of the Lord, Eas groundane supressary us 1 rate 1 ns., name 1 ns. 1 nas coun-ling of his affirmation, added in great emphase, See a King 1 King 8.16. 8.13. Hereby he affures him, that he did approve him, and did to be used by the supression of the supression bear a good respect to him.

if it be, give me thine hand] This he said for a surther pledg of his entire affection to him.

and be gave him his hand] He was willing to give him all the afforance he required.

and be took him up to him into the chariot ] Hereby Jehu testifies his high efteem of Jehonadab, whom he took into his chariot for safe and honours fake. V. 16. And he faid, Come with me] Jehu fought countenance by the company of Jehonadab, whom all the people had in high by the company of _enonatap, whom an the people had in the account, for his piety and prudence, and feeny get for the Lord] The Lord by his Prophet had commanded him to do what he did, chapter 9, verf. 6,7, and therefore he might call it zeal for the Lord. See 1 King.

fo they made him ride in his chariot] Jehu's attendance moved him to accept Jehu's honourable offer, and to accompany him; and withal, helped him into the charior. V. 17. And when be came to Samaria] As he intended and began his journey thereunto, v. 12.

be flew all that remained unto Abab] Seventy of Ababs posterity were flain before, v. 7. yet there remained fundry others that were allied to him; or fome other way apportained unto him: These also he slew in Samaria] What he had done before in Jezveel, v. II that he now doth in Samaria.

ne how doth in Damaria, it is the base of the first still be bat defined him] Under this relative, bim, which hath reference to Ahab, all that any way might be accounted but the worlding. his, are comprized.

migur toe more minuare immert into incm.

and faid unto them, Ahab ferved Baat at little] Ahab ferved Baal more then any had done before him, 1 King. 16, 31, 32.

but Jehn would here make the people believe that Ahabs pra-Stile in this kinde, was not comparable to that which he in-but Jehn shall serve him much] This he pretended the rather to move all Baals Prices to assemble to him; and to to move all lists. Priests to assemble to him; and to and laid, If any of the men whom I have brought two your take away all sear of hurt or dunage to the worthippers of hands.] Those whom Jehu intited to come into lists temple, Basl. It feems that the people were too much addicted to that were thereby brought into the hands of those that belonged to idolatry, in that Jehu makes this outward profession before the Temple of the Lord.

V. 19. Now therefore call unto me all the Prophets of Baal? which pretend to be inspired by him. all bie [crounts] Which profes him to be their Lord, and all bis Priests] Which offer facrifice to him.

let none be wanting ] As he destroyed all that remained unto Ahab, v. 11, 17. to he would do the like to all that any way fubjected themselves to Ball.

for I have a great facrifice to do to Baal] He had no purpose to do fo. It was a meer pretence to deceive the Baalites; though his end therein were good, yet this means that he uleth, whosever shall be wanting, he shall not live ] By this threatning he bringeth those into the fnare, which otherwise might have but febu did it in fubritty] It was fuch a fubrile courfe ;

as thereby he accomplished what he intended. See vers.

to the intent that he might destroy the worshippers of Basi] This was a good end; for the law commanded that idolaters should was a good and ; for the tax commenced that the advances in one be defitive ed. See Deut. 13,22.5.

V. 20. And Jebu (aid., proclaim a folemn affembly] Heb. fautlisse. Or, fautlisse a feet day; as in the law is appointed by the Lord, Deut. 16. 8. So Exod. 32. 5. Levit. 23.36. Joel for Baal] For a folemn worthip and fervice to be performed to him. and they proclaimed it ] Jehu's officers openly made known that which he pretended, far and necr. V. 11. And Jehn fent through all Ifrael] He fent the aforefaid proclamation not only into every firect of Samaria, but alfo through all the ten tribes.

and all the worshippers of Baal came] They saw no cause to mistrust the truth of that which Jehn pretended, and therefore came boldly.

fo that there was not a man left that came not ] Certainly they might be deflroyed for their idolatry.

and they came into the house of Basil There was a special house and they came into the house of Basil There was a remple built for this idol in Samatia, I King. 16. 32. It was a temple and the nunger same seem sometimes one end to another | Ot ; so full, as their faces or mouths were close together, and there was not a corner empty. See ch. 21. 16. Thus were the Egyptians emboldned to ruft, into the Sea, Exo. 14. 23.

V. 22. And be faid unto bim that was over the veftry That had the charge of keeping all fuch things as appertained to the worthin of Baal bring forth vestments for all the worshippers of Baal] All fore of idolaters were wont to have peculiar vestments for their idolatrous fervice.

and he brought them forth vestments This was done that the Baalites might be the more beguiled, and think that Jehuin-Datalies migne de une more orguica, and toink that Jenu indeed intended what he presented.

V. 23. And Februrent, and Februadab the for of Rechab into the budge of Ball! They went not children to worthin that idol, but to deliver fuch as might upon curiofity go to fee their ferhippers of Baal.

Impers of Ball, and laid unto the worshippers of Basi. These he knew would be so zealous of their dol, as they would fuster none, but such as were of their own minde, to be there present.

fearch and look that there be here with you none of the fervants of jestes and some that there we note must you making the jervanus, up the Lord This title, ferousts of the Lord, it is opposite to that former, worfhippers of Bast. Neither of these would endure that the other part should joyn with them in their levites. Such respect did Jehn bear to these latter, as he would have none of

but the worshippers of Baal only These he devoted to de-according to the [aying of the Lora, wontown according to the [aying of the Lora, wontown according to the [aying of the Lora, wontown according to the [aying of the lora of Jebu appointed fourscore men without ] He appointed them to fland without at the doors of Baals temple, to keep those that were within from flying away, and to destroy such as should offer to come out.

the 1 empte of the Lora.

eftage [ By coming out of that house and flying away.

be that letteth him go, bis life shall be for the life of him] The word translated, life, in Hebrew fignificits, the soul. Now the life of the body confifteth in the union of the feul with it. His meaning is, that wholoever suffered any of the Baalites to slip away, he should dye for it. See I King. 20.

V. 25 And it came to pass as he had made an end of offering V. 25 Ama reamen pape on the manage at one by opening the burn-offering This is to be taken of Baals chief Priefly, who then offered the burnt-offering here mentioned. Now Jehn tarried till the offering was finished, that there might be time for other idolaters that were not then come to enter in among them.

and Jehu faid to the guard] To fuch officers as attended his and to the Captains | Such as had a command over Souldiers] Both these were other then the fourscore men mentioned v.s.4.

got and fig them] This was the end why Lobu at this time got a and fig them] This was the end why Lobu at this time aftendbed them together. See v. 19. It may be for his time and first time came for his time and got the some came for his time and got them. As the charge to flay the Be salties, should defire ye very one of them, and they just them with the edg of the found! I theb, the mouth of the salties have the salties have the salties and they can be salties and they can be salties and the salties are the salties are the salties and the salties are of the fword. For as the mouth of a ravening bealt devoureth the prey that it taketh; fo by the edg of the fword many are deftroyed and ,as it were, devoured.

and the guard and the Captains cast them out ] They cast the dead bodies of the Baplites , who were flain , out of that house where they were flain , and out of the city, to ravenous beafts and fowls, affording them no burial, which aggravated the judgment. and went to the city of the house of Baal ] This is to be taken of some special city, where there was a choice temple for Baal, or else it is distributively to be taken for every City where an house of Baal was. Some take this City to be Samaria it felf.

V. 26. And they brought forth the images] Heb. statues. That expected at a leaf on a manage page, some many consumers to the page of the pa of idolatrous images. See 1 King 14. 23. out of the house of Baal ] Sec v. 25.

and burnt them ] This they did in fign of the greater deteffa

Chap, xi.

tion of them, and that they might not be used again for idola- cities in Manafich, a Chro. 5.11. Josh. 17.1. The fore-mentiotry. V. 27. And they brake down the image of Baal] That principal ftatue, which was deemed to be Baal himfelf. See I King.

16. 31. This image they brake all to pieces.

and brake down the boule of Baul They utterly demolished and made it a draught-house] That is, a Jakes, or as we fav, a Privy This also they did, to testifie the abominableness of the idol which there flood, and of the idolatry which was there used. See the like, Ezr. 6. 11. Dan. 2. 5. and 3. 19. See alfo Levit. 26. 20. The idols of the Gentiles had a name given unto them in Hebrew, which fignifieth dirty, or dungy gods. See 1 King. 15.12. In this respect, a Jakes was a fit house for them.

unto this day] See 1 King. 9-13. V. 28. Thus Febra destroyed Baal out of Israel] Israel is her out for all the ten tribes; fo as two things are here implyed 1. That Ahab, Jezebel, and their posterity, had caused Bza to be worshipped in all the tribes. 2. That Jehu's zeal against Baal was such, as he caused that idolarry to be rooted out of all the tribes, wherefoever it was established.

V. 20 Howbeit | Men zealous in fomethings which are commendable, may grievoully fin in others.

from the fins of Feroboam the (on of Nebat ] See 1 King. 11.

who made Ifrael to fin] See 1 King. 14. 16.
3 chu departed not from after them] See ch. 3.3. to wit, the golden calves that were in Bethel, and that were in

Dan] See 1 King. 12. 28,29.
V. 20. And the Lord (aid unto Febu) By the ministery of fome Prophet. Divers conjectures are here made about the dom; who thereupon had the greater advantage toulurp the Prophet that should bring this message: some say Elisha, singdom, after the food dath, fome the young man that brought the first message about his to the thing thing the position of the thing t

Because then hast done well ] The thing that Jehu did, is here commended, not his manner of doing it. in executing that which is right in mine eyes ] In destroying

Baal, and Ahabs flock.

and haft done unto the boufe of Ahab according to all that was in mine heart | Which I had determined, fore-told, affd comman- manity and natural affection. ded to be done. To destroy such as God would have de-Broved, is acceptable unto God.

this promife accomplified; for Jehoabaz was Jehu's fon, ch.

13. I. Joash his grand-child, chap. 13.9. Jeroboam the third the daughter of king Jeram] from Jehu, ch. 14.16. Zachariah the fourth, ch. 14.29. fhall fit on the throne of Ifracl. ] As kings shall raign over

V. 31. But Jebu took no heed] Heb. observed not. Or, regarded not.

to walk in the law ] See 1 King. 2.3.

of the Lord God of Ifraet | See 1 King 8.15. Though Ifraet had for faken the Lord, and worthipped idols, yet the Lord had not-clean cast off Ifrael.

with all his heart ] See 1 King. 2. 4. They who in some things do what good God commands, but transgress in other things, do not ferve him with all their heart.

Ings, de incitering that the for be departed ast, &c. ] See 1 King. 16.19.
V. 32. In those dayer ] Even while Jehu lived.
the Lord began to cut I fract [fort] Heb. to cut off the ends of Ifrael This was done by fuffering Hazael to take away fome of their coalts, as is expressed in the words following.

and Hayael (mote them in all the coasts of Israel) Here begins that prophelie to be accomplished, which was fore-told by Elifhah, ch. 8. 12.

V. 22. From Fordan Eastward] Heb. toward the rifing of the sun. The particulars here intended are specified in the childe, that she might the better tend him. the next words: He means the other fide of Jordan, which in the bed-chamber The Priests had chambers built on the Andres conquerco, and took from Shorn and Og, Numb. . 21, 24, 25. That country lay Eaftward upon Canaan.

All the land of Gilead ] All that countrey which by Moles was diffributed to Reuben, Gad, and half Manaffeh, Deut. 3, 12, The first part of the state of the Gadites and the Reubenites, and the Manaffites All thefe inhabited the land of Gilead, taken in the largest sense. from .. roer] This was a city in the furthert coast of Gad.

Deut. 2. 36. A native, or inhabitant thereof, was called, an nurle. Arocrite, 1 Chro.11.44. which it by the river Arnon ] See Numb. 21. 13,24. Deut weven Gilead and Bafban. ] Or, even to Gilead and Bafban.

ned particulars, thew, that Hazael had out Ifrael thort indeed. as v. 22. and done much mischief to them.

V. 34. Now the reft of the afts of Jebu, &c. ] See 1 King.

and all his might] See 1 King. 15.23. are they not written, Sc. ] See I King. 16.27.
V. 25. And febu flept with his fathers. Sc. 7 See I King.

and Jehoahaz, &c. ] This fon of Jehu had a right to the crown by Gods appointment, v. 30. See 1 King, 26.28. V. 16. And the time Heb. the dayes were, See 1 King.

that Febu raigned over Ifrael in Samaria ] See 1 King. 16.

was twenty and eight yeers. ] This was the longest time that any of the kings of Ifrael hitherto had raigned; onely Jeroboam the third from him, raigned longer, ch. 14.23.

CHAP. XI.

Verf. 1 And when Athaliah the mother of Abaziah] 2 Chr. and married to Jehoram the fon of Jehoshaphat. (See ch 8. 18,16.) by whom the had Abaziah here mentioned. [aw that ber fon was dead.] For he was flain by Jehu, ch. g.

[he arofe] She usurped the crown, and advanced her felf to the threne, and was Queen. Of this word, arofe, fee I King. 14. 2,4. It is probable, that when Ahaziah went with Joram to the war(ch. 8,28) that he left his mother to govern the king-and destroyed all the (eed royal) Heb. seed of the kingdom. and Arabians, 2 Chron. 23.16,17. Others were slain by Jehu, ch. 10. 14. The remainder Athaliah here destroyes: so as fire thought there was none left to lay claim to the crown. Questionless some of this sced-royal came out of her own womb; But idolatry and ambition, made her cast off all hu-

V. 2. But Jehosheba] She is called Jehoshabeath, 2 Chron. 22. 11. . It is there faid, that the was the wife of Febojada the prieft. Priefts were then in fuch high account, as kings marri-

the daughter of king foram It is not likely that the was Jorams daughter by Athaliah; for then Johojada the prieft, (being fo good a man, as he was, ) would not have married her, being the daughter of fuch an idolatrefs It is therefore fuppofed, that king Joram had her by another wife.

fifter of Abaziab] By the father.

took Joss this fon of Abaziab] He is called Jeheash, ch. 12.2.

He was at that time but a yeer old, at most. See v. 21.

and fole bim from among the kings fons which were flain] This phrase implyeth, that this childe was laid among the dead corps of his brethren. This is supposed to be done by his nurse; and so much made known by her to Jehosheba, who privily took him away. Abaziah's nurse having notice of the Queens intent, to destroy all the royal seed, kept her self and the childe from being taken, till Jehosheba took them to her felf. See did herein as God himself afterwards did, Jer. 26.

26. and Joseph, Matt. 2. 14.
and they bid bim Under this word, they, of the plural number, Jehosheba and her husband Jehojada, are comprized; for with his advice and affiffance, the did what the did.

even him and his nurse ] Jehosheba finding the childs nurse to careful of him, and faithful to him, as the was, hid her with Moses conquered, and took from Sibon and Og, Numb, 21, sides of the Temple, 1 King, 6.8. Jer. 35, 22. Ezek, 40.45, 46.

34,25. That country lay Eastward upon Canaan.

Some of these were lodging chambers wherein Priests had their beds: others were to hold and preferve fuch things as were useful for those that did the services of the Temple. In one ld where to have found him.

(6 that be was not flain | With the reft of his brethren and kindred. V. 3. And be was with ber] The childe Joath, and his bid in the house of the Lord ] Chambers and Courts appertaining to the Temple were filled the house of the Lord. See

I King. 6. 26. fix years For it was fo long before Jehojada could finde a Gilead here fignifieth a city, Gilead and Bathan were two fair fair opportunity to feetle the King upon his throne. See and Athaliah did raign over the land] The land of Judah is | that none breaking in do any violence to the King, or to any here meant, over which that wicked woman raigned by force and ulurpation; for the had no title thereunto.

V. 4. And the feventh year ] Jehojada fo long concealed the King; because he thought himself till then not sufficiently prepared to defend the King against the Queens power. It cannot be thought but that all those six years, he cast all the waies be thought our trust an those my years, ne cant an the water that he could, how to suppress the usurping Queen, and set the King upon his throne. And in this time he questionless communicated his counfels to fome faithfull friends. But now he thought it no wisdom to suffer that usurper to continue any longer, nor yet her idolatry to get more ftrength and infect the more. Besides, it might be prejudicial to the young King, to be kept any longer in such a private and retired course of life. be kept any tonger in racu a private and terred course or are.

It was now high time that he thould be brought forth and made known, that a royal spirit might be the better put into him, and he might be educated in a Kingly manner: and further, the people might be by this time very fenfible of the Queens tyraunical government, and of her eagerness to advance Baal Jehojada] This was the high Priest at that time, and of the house of Zadock, whom Solomon put in the room of Abiathar, I King. 1. 25. He was a very good and prudent man, a supporter of Church and State, and fo continued till he was an hundred and thirty years old, 2 Chr. 24.15.

fem and for the Rulers over hundreds, with the Captains and the guards These were Levites; for they were brought into the house of the Lord. They are by name fet down, 2 Chr. 23.1. The Levites had their companies, and troops, and Captains, and Commanders over them, as well as others of Ifrael. See and brought them to him into the bouse of the Lord ] They might be before in their feveral cities, and from thence Jehojada might fend and fet them; and in the house of the Lord be might the more fecurely communicate his counsel with them.

and made a covenant with them ] This covenant might be, to depose Athaliah, to fet Joash on the throne, to put down idolatry, and to establish true religion. When good Governours undertook to reform religion, they used to begin with a cove-nant, to binde themselves and their subjects more stedfassly thereto. See 2 Chr. 15. 12. & 29. 10. & 34. 31. Ezr. 10. 3. Neh. 9.38.

and took an east of them ] Of secrecy and sidelity. Hereby he would binde them the more firmly to their covenant, 2 Chr. 15.14. Neb. f. 12. & 10. 29.

in the house of the Lord ] The place where Priests and Levites did their services, and none else might come thither, 2 Chr.

and shewed them the Kings son That by sight of him they might have the furer evidence of the reality of Jehojada's ingentions, and might be the more quickened up to do what possibly they could, to bring him to the possession of his

v. 5. And be commanded them, faying In to weighty a cause, the good Priest takes upon him the authority of a Commander : for he was at this time the Kings Protector.

this is the thing that ye shall do ] This he premiseth to make them the more attentive to his direction.

a third part of you] The Priests and Levites were so divided, as they might ferve in the Temple by courfe, I Chr. 24.1,&c. Luk, 1. 8,9. While one part ferved in the house of the Lord, two parts rested, and went unto their own houses; but at this time they were all affembled together, and according to the faid division, into three parts, they were affigued to several shat enter in on the Sabbath] To do fervice, wherein they continued from Sabbath to Sabbath, fo long as their course continued, 1 Chr. 9. 25. This shews that they were all Le-of the Kings boule Of that gate that leadeth out of the temple into the royal Palace. And here a firong watch was fet, left any should iffue out of that Palace, to destroy the King. This was the north-gate. Some understand by the Kings house, the chamber where the King now was kept.

[hall even be keepers of the watch ] Shall carefully and dili gently watch.

V. 6. And a third part shall be at the gate of Shur This was the east-gate. This is also called the gate of the foundation, 2 Chr. 2 2. 5. By it were feats of judgment, Jer. 26. 10. It is called the bigh-gate, (ch. 15.35.) by reason of the fairness and height of it ; and the new-gate, (Jer. 36.10.) after Jotham had new built it, 2 Chr. 17.3.

and a third part at the gate behinde the guard] At the backfide of those that kept the watch, v. 5. This was the fourth fo fall ye keep the watch of the houfe] Ye shall thus keep the house fafe and secure.

other person or thing in the house.

V. 7. And two parts Or, companies. Heb. bands. As the two hands of the body protect it from danger, fo thefe two two hands of the body protect it from danger, to there two hands of men were to protect the king.

of all you that go forth on the Sabbath Namely, they who had finished their course, and had thereupon liberty to go to their own habitations, were also now to abide, (Seev. 5.) and to guard the King, Or, if there were but two parts, then it may be thus turned, And two parts, even all you that go forth, &c. 2 Cbr.

even they shall keep the watch of the house of the Lord] See about the King ] There where the King was placed.

V. 8. And ye shall compass the King round about ] For, if any of Athaliahs part thould with violence and by force thrust in they would be fure first to set upon the King; therefore he wifethey would be lure first to let byon the Aing; therefore ne wile-ly takes care to have him the most surely guarded. every man with his weapons in his hand.] This was an extraordinary case, and therefore an unusual course is taken; for Levites were not wont to fland armed with warlike weapons in their names.

and he that cometh within the ranges ] Within those ranks and orders of men that were set to defend the King. les him be flain] This charge was also given upon an extraordinary cale. Though mans blood were not ordinarily to be thed in the house of God; (for, a person guilty of blood, and laying hold on the Altar, was to be taken from it and flain without, (Exo. 21. 14.) yet in extraordinary cales it was not unlawful. Sec 1 King. 2.31.

unlawful. Sec 1 king 3-31.

and beye with the King 1 Some were to oppose against all violence that should be offered; others to guard the King. as he goeth out, and as he cometh in ] Continually ; whether he come into the Temple and there abide, or go out of it to his V. 9. And the Captains over the hundreds ] They who are mentioned v. 4, mentioned v. 43, did according to all things that Jebojada the Prinfs commanded ]

For God flirred them up to help Jehojada in that great work which he had undertaken, to fettle the King upon his throne: They were therefore very willing to be ordered by him. and they took every winning to be ordered by nim.

and they took every man ] Every Captain or Comman-his men that were come in on the Sabbath] To terve their course in the house of the Lord.

with them that should go out on the Sabbath ] That had finished their courses; and were by order to have gone to their own houses, had not this extraordinary case fallen out. and came to febojada the Priest To know his pleasure, and what fervice he would require of them. V. 10. And to the Captains over hundreds ] For themselves and for those men that were under them.

did the Priests give King Davids Spears and Shields | Such warlike weapons as were reserved for trophics and monuments of Davids victories. See I Sam. 11. 9. 2 Sam. 3. 7. Or they might be such as David had dedicated to remain for fome special and extraordinary uses stime and occasion should that were in the Temple These weapons of war may be reckon-ed in the number of the things dedicated by David, and brought into the temple by Solomon, 1 King. 7-51.

V. 11. And the guard flood The guard of Levices mentievery man with his weapons in his hand ] With such weapons. as the Priest had given them, v.10. and others that they might have from other places.

round about the King ] According to the direction given from the right corner] Heb. shoulder. For as the shoulder from nor rigor corners reco. Journey. For as the mounter flicketh out of the body, and knitteth the body together; fo doth the corner of an edifice. It is of fuch use to a building, as a shoulder is to the body.

of the Temple] Of the great Court belonging to the Temple. See v. 4.

to the left corner of the Temple ] That is from North to along by the Altar and the Temple ] He means the great brafs Altar for burnt-offerings. This flood at the East-gate of the Priests Court. See 1 King. 3. 36. 2 Chr. 24. 21. and the great edifice, properly called the Temple, stood west against that Altar.

V. 12. And he brought forth the Kingt fon] Jehojada having prepared all things for the fafety of the King, he brings him out of that private place, where he had been kept fecrer for many years, to fhew him to all the people, that they might fee him, and acknowledg bim for their King. He is here filled, that it is not broken dewn Or, from breaking down. Or, wastrang that he and all that took his part had, to engage thom.

Chap. xij.

could by no show of right be taken for a Queen; but all that took part with her were traytors, and not they that sought to put her down.

and put the crown upon him] A crown is proper to a king, and his true title is hereby teffified.

and gave him the testimony] That is, a book wherein the law of God was regultred. Therein was testified what God expected of his people, and what they might expect of him, and in such respects it was called the testimony, or the covenant. See 1 King, 3 15. Exod, 25 16. The original was in the ark, 1 King 8,9. See also ch. 22.8. There might be copies of this testimony, and a special one remaining with the priests, and the priests might put that into his hand. See Deut, 17.18. and they ] Jehojada, his fons, and others that tooke part with them, 2 Chro. 2 3. 1 1. madehim king ] By using the folemnities that appertain to a King, the chief whereof are here mentioned.

and anointed him ] This also was another rite used about Kings at their inauguration. We do not read of all kings that they were anointed. For fuch as immediately fucceeded their parents as heirs apparent, their title being no waies questioned, fare upon the royal throne without any fuch special anointing; but fuch as were immediately chosen of God, as Saul, 1 Sam. 10.1. David, I Sam. 16. 13. Jehu, ch. 9.6. were anointed fu alfo, they who were prefered before their elder brethren, as Solomon, 1 King. 1. 34. and they who were made Kings in who had their right interrupted by an usurper, as Jahoashin God would not for sake him. This place. Here are three speciall rites used to this king at the fetling of him on his throne. One was the putting a crown to little purpole, unless the people joyned with him; therefore upon his head, which was of gold, curioufly wrought and fet with precious flones. See 2 Sam. 12.36. Another, by putting the restimony into his hand, to shew what was his warrant and direction for what he should do. The third was, anointing him : to give evidence to his true title, and to make him depend on Gods protection and bleffing.

and they clap'd their bands ] This was a visible expression of great joy, Plal. 47.1. Ezek. 25.6. and faid God fave the king Heb. let the king live. See 1 King.

V. 13. Aud when Athaliah heard] The royal palace was not far from the temple, fo as the might eafily hear fuch acclamations as were there abouts.

the noise of the guard ] Of such as in the great court stood about the king, v. 11.

and of the people] The shoutings and rejoycings of such as were in other courts, or going up and down, to and from

[be came to the people] To the multitude that were in and about those coasts.

into the temple of the Lord | She violently brake through the ranges, mentioned v. 8. and came into the court where the king and Levites that guarded him were, which is here called the temple. See I King 6. 36.
V. 14. And when she looked ] For having rushed so far as the had done, into the very place where the king was, the might behold the king flood by a pillar ] There that brafen feaffold which Solomon had made, and whereon he stood when he dedicated the temple, (2 Chron. 6. 13.) was fet, and thereon was this king, with the crown on his head, now plac'd, fo as locking up the might foon behold him.

as the manner was ] This bath relation to the kings standing on high; fo did other kings before and after, 2 Chron. 6.13. &

34. 31. ch. 23.3.

and the princes In this extraordinary cafe the princes of the land (if thele were fecular princes) might come into this court, or otherwise they might stand about the King, though they were in the other court.

and the trumpeters by the king Levites used to be trumpeters. See (1 Chro. 16, 42 ) as well as the priests, 2 Chro. 5, 12. But the priefts appertained most properly to found with trumpets, See 2 Chron. 13. 12.

and all the people of the land rejoyced ] Certainly they were weary of an usurpers raign, and could not but be much affected at the fight of a king descended from David, and having an undoubted title; and thereupon expressed as much by their

and blew with trumpets | This was the act of the trumpeters before mentioned, and it was an accustomed rite at all great folemnities, especially at Kings manguration. See I King.

1. 39.

and Athaliab rent her clothes | See ch. 4. 7. As this was a fign of much passion, so also of much scorn and disdain. and cryed, Treason, treason.] Athaliah, because the had usurped the crown, thought that the fetting of it upon the right king felves fo far as they did for him. So long as he lived. Athaliah | was treason: But the treason was on her part; her usuroation was the treason. V. 15. And Fehojada the prieft commanded the captains of the hundreds, the officers of the hoffe! See v. s.

Have her, forth without the ranges | The ranges which are mentioned, v. 8.

and him that followeth ber, kill with the [word ] He means, fuch as should follow her to defend her, and maintain her for the prieft had faid, Let ber not be flain in the house of the Lord 1 Thus much was implyed, v. 15. where he faid, Have her forth without the ranger. See 1 King. 2.31.

V. 16. And they laid bands on her] To carry her out of the place where the was. Or, they made a way for her.

and five went by the way by the which the horses came into the kings boufe ] This was a beaten way or an horfe-way; and that betwirt the temple and the royal palace. This was the openeft and readicft way.

and there was she slain. ] In that common rode ; and, it may be, among the horles. Thus her death was not much unlike her mothers, ch. 7.33. As in fin the was like her mother, fo in the punishment. It was a matter observable, that none appeared to defend her : but the Lord had alienated the hearts of the people from her. They were weary of her government, and glad of a change.
V. 17. And febojada made a covenant between the Lord and the king That the king should serve the Lord and maintain troubletome times, when the land was in great fear and dan- his worthip, and to root out idolatry. This he did to binde ger, the former King being flain, as Jehoahaz, ch. 23.30 And the king more folemnly to his duty; and to affure him that and the people ] He knew that the kings indeavour would be he bringeth the people also into covenant, that they (hould be the Lords people ] That they should fear and ferve the Lord, and every way carry themfelves as becometh the people of God.

between the king also and the people ] It was a civil covenant that was made betwixt thefe; namely, that the king should well govern them; and they obey him in the Lord.

V. 18. And all the people of the land went into the boule of Baal] By this it appears, that Athaliah had established that grand idolatry of Ahabs house in Judah, which Jehu cast out of and brake it down, his alters, and his image brake they in pieces throughly ] See ch. 10.29. Herein they flew their faithfulnets, in a [peedy execution of what they had covenanted, and their zeal in the manner of doing it. and flew Mastan the prieft of Baal before the altar ] This they did, either because that prieft fled thither for refuge, as i King.

try, as ch. 23. 16. appointed officers ] H. h. offices. The offices were before appointed by David; but Jehojada fet apart fuch as should execute those offices. over the house of the Lord. ] To fee the worthip of God duely performed; and the fervices of the temple well done. V. 19. And he took the rulers over hundreds, & c. ] Such as are mentioned, v. 4.

and all the people of the land ] Such as were there present. This he did both for the greater safety, and security of the king, and also for his greater honour and glory.

and they brought down the king from the house of the Lord] After all the rits of his coronation were finished, Athaliah flain, and the fore-faid covenants made.

And came by the way of the gate of the guard ] That gate which was guarded, for the better fecurity of the king. It is called the high-gate, 2 Chron.23.20.

to the Kings house] That Palace which Solomon built for himfelf and his fucceffors, 1 King. 7. 1, 8. and wherein Athalian had formerly dwelt.

nad sometry (west, and he fate on the throne of the Kings!] Openly as Kings were wont; and this to show his indubitate right, 2 Sam. 3. 10. 1 King 1. 46. & 2. 12. Herein God performed his promise.

V. 10. And all the people of the land rejegred | See verl. 12.

and the City was in quiet ] For all the people took Jehoath for their King, and none rofe up against him.

their rang, and none rote up against min-and they fixe Athaliah, Sc.] Seev. 16. V. 21. Seven years old was #chosfh when he began so raign 1 He was about one year old before Jehosheba took him into her custody, and she hid him fix years, v. 3.

CHAP. XII.

Verf. 1. TN the feventh year of gebul 2 Chr. 24.1. When Jehn I took upon him the Kingdom, he flew Ahaziah the Achoash began to raign] See ch. 11. 12. and fourty years raigned be] Most of these years were in the dayes of Jehojada, and in that respect it was a prosperous time of Beersheba] Hereof see a King. 19.3. This being a city belonging to Judah, it sheweth that this woman was no alien, but born within the Church.

Kings are mentioned, See 1 King. 15. 10.

V. 2. And Ieboash ded that which was right ] In the matter of fuch external acts as he did; but not in the uprightness of his heart; for he was a notorious hypocrite, as Saul (r Sam. 10. 9.) Rehoboam (2 Chr. 17.) Abijah, (2 Chr. 13. 4.) Amaziah (2 Chr. 25, 2.) and fundry other, in the fight of the Lord ] As in the presence of the Lord; or fo, as the Lord approved it; not in regard of his manner of doing it, but in the regard of the things that were done. So ch. 14. 3.

all his dayes, wherein fehojada the priess instructed him. ] Je-hojada was a very good man, and very careful for the good of no pass a very good man, and very execute to the good of treed from the care and charge of repairing of the temples governing of both; and because he was the means of prefer- therefore the words following are added. ving the kings life, and fetling bim on the throne, Jehoash could not but hearken to his counsel; the rather because Jeho that charge lye upon them, they would rective no more mothe king revolted from the Lord, 2 Chron. 24. 17,18.
V. 3. But the high places were not taken away ] See 1 King.

15.14. As good kings suffered high-places to remain; so did also the good high priest Jehojada, the people still This seems to be the reason, why they were tolerated; because the people so doted on them. See I King.

(fill facrificed ] Slew and offered up beafts to the Lord. The thing was good, but the place was unwarrantable, See Deur. and burns incense in the bigh places ] See 1 King. 9. 25. and

3. 4. V. 4. And Jehoash said to the priosts ] It is probable, that the king gave the direction following, by the advice of Jeho-

All the money of the dedicated things ] Or, bely things. Heb. hoitnesses, See 1 King, 7.51.
shat is brought into the house of the Lord ] Being given towards the Lords fervice. This is exemplified in three kinds of treafores that appertained to the house of God.

even the money of every one that passeth the account ] Which every one enrolled among the Ifracities, being twenty years old and upward, was enjoyed to give, Exod. 30. 12.&c. This is called the collection of Moses, 2 Chro.24. 6,9. because Moses fieft appointed it to be collected. This was the fieft kinds of reafure.

the money that every man is fet at ] Heb. the money of the fouls of his estimation. Which the priest was to value according to the law, Levit. 27. 2. &c. This was the fecond kinde of trea-and all the money that cometh into any mans heart ] Heb. afcendeth upon the beart of a man ] Which a man freely purpofeth; or, which arifeth from his own voluntary, and free disposition. See Exod. 35. 5. &c. This was the third kinde of trea-to bring into the boufe of the Lord ] To be used about such things as apportain to the temple; whether it were for repair thereof, or for making holy veffels, or for any other divine fer-

V. s. Let the priests take it to them ] They were not onely to take what was brought, but they were also to go up and down to those several cities, to gather it, 2 Chro. 24.5.

every man of his acquaintance] Whom he knew to be liable to that tax, or to be willing to contribute, 1 Chro. 29. 9, 14. The Levites had their cities in every of the tribes, and thereby came to have acquaintance throughout all Ifrael, and let them repair the breaches of the house ] There were questionless many breaches, by reason of former neglect of repairing the temple; but especially by reason of Athaliah and her childrens violence, 2 Chro. 24. 7.

whereforcer any breach shall be found. ] His defire was, that the temple should be throughly repaired. One reason might be, because himself was in his childhood brought up in the temple, and preserved from great danger.
V. 6. But it was so, that in the three and twentieth yeer ] Heb.

in the twentieth yeer and third yeer ] Jehoash was but young when he began to reign, and therefore it is no great wonder ther of Jehoath, fix years compleat, after that Athaliah raign- | of king Jehosh) Namely, of his reign, not of his age; for ed, et. 11. 3. So as this mult needs be the ferenth yeer of at that tund he was about thirty yeer old.

the priefts had not repaired the breaches of the boufe. ] They were neither diligent in gathering what was enjoyned (a Chr. 24-5.) nor faithful in disburfing, that which they had gathe-

14. 5.) not raturus in assuring, trac which they also gause-redupon the temple.

V. 7. Then king Jehoash called for Jehojada the priess, and the other priess, and said unso them.] By this is appears that the king Judah.

V.7. 10m stay young causa for Honjada the print, and she and his mothers name was Libedb J Why mothers names of had a power over prints and Lovier, to the care that the king had a power over prints and Lovier, to the care that temple, and the things appertaining thereunto, (hould be well ordered, (See 2 Chro. 29.4,5.) but yet he had not power to exercise their functions, 2 Chro. 26. 16.
Why repair ye not the breaches of the bonse? ] The king blames them for their neglect of fo great and needful a work. now therefore receive no move money of your acquaintance] Go no more about to the cities of the people, to gather any more money of them. See 2 Chro. 24. 5. Because that which had been gathered, was not imployed to that use for which it was gathered, he reftraines them from gathering any more, but deliver it for the breaches of the boule.] That which ye have received, deliver, to be referved for those that have the charge of repairing the temple.

V. 8. And the priests consented to receive no more money of the people] The priefts confented hereunto, because they would be neither to repair the breaches of the house] Rather then have

v. 9. But Jehojada the priestrook a chest ] He was not willing that the repair of the temple should be wholly neglected, therefore feeing the former way of collecting money had no better fucces, he took this other course, and that by the kings appointment, 2 Chro. 14.8. That which is called the treasury, (Mark 12.41.) was fuch an one.

and bored a hole in the lid of it ] That thereby fuch as were and bored a rose their benevolence into the cheft, and fet it befide the altar This was the great altar for burnt-offering, which flood at the entrance of that part of the temple, which was called the priefts court, a Chro. 4. 9. to which entrance the people might come, but no further.2 Chro. 22. 6. Sec 1 King 6.16. on the right fide] That was the fouth.

as one cometh into the house of the Lord ] This was at the East end of the temple.

and the priests that kept the door ] Heb. threshold. For the door of an house thutteth over the threshold, and there stood the Levites, 2 Chro. 8.14. & 34. 9.
put therein all the money that was brought into the bouse of the Lord.] The priests standing by the altar, received of the people their free-wil offerings, and what they received they put into the cheft. Or, the people might themselves put in what they pleafed, and that in the fight of the priefts. V. 10. And it was fo, when they faw that there was much meney in the cheft ] This they might easily discern, because they kept the door, v. 5.

kept the door, v. 5.

that the kings feribe Or, feoretary. See I King. 4. 2. He was that the kings feribe ond Stave might know what was contriand the big priest came up] Or, high priests officer. 2 Chron.

14.11. There were two witnesses, both of them publick perfons ; one for the State, another for the Church, that fo all fuspition of fraud might be taken away. and they put up Heb. bound up in bage. Having put up the money, they fealed up the bags.

and told the money that was found in the boufe of the Lord.]

That fo it might be justly known how much there was ; and whether there were enough to buy fuch things as were needful, and to pay work-men.

V. 11. And they gave the money being told into the bands of them that did the work ] He means mafter workmen, who had a that had the over-fight of the house of the Lord] About the repair thereof.

and they laid it out ] Heb. brought it forth. to the carpenters ] Heb. morhers en timber. For timber is the proper matter for a carpenters work.

and builders ] Some diffinguish these from carpenters, and take them to be another fort of work-men. that wrought upon the house of the Lord. ] Whatsoever their kinde of work was, it tended to the repairing of the temple.

V. 12. And to masons ] These were such as laid hewen ftones in the building. and howers of fine ] Such as cut great stones out of the

that the repairing of the house of the Lord was fo long put for materials and workmanling, to sepair the breaches of the and to buy timber, and hewed from They gave money, both house of the Lord. Sec v. 5.

or was carried out of the temple for the house to repair it ] This was the end of bringing in and carrying out the money here mentioned.

V. 13. Howbeit, there were not made for the house of the Lord? v. 13. However, were were not make for two poules of the Charlet about repairing the houle, with all need-ful repairations, as they would not lay out any of the money upon any other thing, though otherwise useful in the temple. boots of filter, &c. ] See 1 king, 7:50.

trumpets | Of the ule of these, fee Numb. 10.2.&c.

any vessels, &c.] Though such things were not made till the temple was sully repaired, yet afterwards they were made, 2 Chro 24 14

V. 14. But they gave that to the work-men] He means the money before mentioned.

bought materials, and did all the workmanship for the said money.

V. 15. Moreover, they rechoned not with the men, into whose band they delivered the money Master-workmen are hero meant: such experience they had given of their faithfulness, as they were trufted with great fums of money, according to their demand; neither was there an account of every particular expence exacted of them.

to be bestowed on work men] These work-men were fuch as did the work themselves; the other were over-feers of them.

for they dealt faithfully ] Heb.in faithfulnes. They laid out the money to those very uses and purposes, for which it was committed to their trust.

V. 16. The trefbals-moner 7 Such as was for fatisfaction of wrong done, Levit. 5.15.

and fin-money That while was for fin-offerings, Levit.

***3. was not brought into the boule of the Lord] Some brought trefpals and fin-offerings in their kinde; these were the prick; Levit.7.7. Other, that dwelt far off, brought money, Deut. 4.2. This was to be disposed by the priests, and not to be put into the fore-faid cheft, for repair of the temple it was the priefts ] It was his to buy facrifice there-wim.

V. 17. Then Hazael king of Syria] See ch. 8. 13,19. went np, and fought against Gath J Gath was the city which David had formerly recovered from the Phillitins, I Chron. 18.1. and the Jews held it to this time. It was one of the cities which Rehoboam fortified, 2 Chron. 11. 8. He oft fmote Ifrael, ch. 8. 12. & 10.31.

and took it ] This was after Jehoash his revolt, 2 Chron.

24. 23.
and Hazael fet his face to go up to Ferufalem] He peremptoril resolved, and prepared himself to do to Jerusalem, as he had reloived, and prepared minimer to divide potentiaries, as included one to Gash. See Jer. 42.15, Lisk, 9.51.

V. 18. And Jehody hing of Judob wok 4th the balkones! thing! Heb bilantifles. See V. 4. that Jeholyahan, See. J. See I. King, 7.51. and Jehoram, and Abargib bil fathers, kings of Judab, had dedicated! These two kings were adolaters, the 8.18.27, yet noticed! withstanding they might in the beginning of their raigns dediwinnianding they might in the beginning of their raights decided from things to the temple: other for cultione fake; because all their predecessors had so done; or in a superstitions concett, thinking that dedicating something to the temple, might make them prosperous, notwithstanding their idolaand his own hallowed things] What before he had dedicated to God, fear and diffidence makes him alienate from God, and

below on an enemy, and all the gold that was found in the straight of the boile of the Lord | 11.18.) that those dedicate things were fanctified and brought again into Gods house. and in the kings boufe] He spared neither the Lords nor his own treasures, to stop therewith his enemies mouth, ch. 18.

and fent it to Hazael king of Syria ] This was the enemy on whom he bestowed all the fore said treasures.

and he went away ] Heb. went up. from Ferusalem. ] By this it appears, that Hazael twice inva-ded Judab, for here he departs away before he had entred Jerusalem, but after this he spoiled Jerusalem, 2 Chron. 24.

V. 19. And the reft, &c. ] Sec 1 King. 11. 41. & 14. 19, 29. Many things about Jehoafh his revolt, and Gods judgements on him, are fet down, 2 Chro. 24. 17. &c.

V. 20. And bis fervants arofe) Neer bonds of relation re-firain not men traiteroully minded, from murderous acts.

and made a confirmacy] Heb. confirma a confirma. The for all that was laid out ] Heb. went forth. The money being | doubling of the word, adds emphasis. I hough God justly in the temple, that which was given to work-men went forth, | brought this judgement upon Jehoash, yet these instruments did it traiteroufly, (as Zimri, 1 King. 16. 9.) therefore they were juftly flain for this fact, ch. 14. 5. in the boule of Millo] Or, Beth-Millo, See Judg. 9.6. and

1 King, 9.15.
which gotth to Silla.] This word taken appellatively, figni-fieth a beaten way, and is taken for a caufey, betwitt the city and the temple. Some take it for a city, not far from

V. 21. For For achar] Called alfo, Zabad, 2 Chron. 24. 26.

the (on of Shimeab ] She was an Ammonitefs, '2 Chron. 4.

and Febogabad the fon of Shomer] the is called Shimirith.

ana 3-0007ava ine you of somety ine is canto Saumirith, Chron. 24-26. She was a Moabitels. and his fervants fnote him, and he dyed] See v. 20. and they buried him with his fathers, in the city of David] See King, 2, 10. But he was not buried among the kings, thron 24.25.

and Amaziab bis (on raigned in bis flead] Though traitors flew the father, yet the people fet his fon upon his turone.

CHAP. XIII.

Verf. I. TN the three and twentieth yeer ] Heb. in the twenti-| 1.1 | N the topee and a mention for | rich . Mode is |
| elb yeer, and third feer. |
| ff-alb the [on of . Abaxiah] | See ch. 11.12. |
| fing of f-adab] | See ch. 11.12. |
| ff-ababax the [on of f-thm began to raight] | See ch. 10.35.

over Ifract in Samaria | See 1 King. 16.19. and raigned feventeen yeers. | It is faid, v. 10. that Jchoaffs, the fon of Jehoahaz, began to raigh in the thirty and feventh yeer of Joath. Now betwist the three and twentieth, and feyeer of Joah. Now betwint the three and twentieth, and fer-can and thinties here of Joah, here were but fortured yeers. A doubt therefore hence arifeth, how Jehosbar could raige a revenue yeers. Two andreen may be given hereunce, a life in which a trial of fevenuen yeers, be taken of the beginning of the three and twentieth yeer, and the account made from the end of the two and twentieth eyer, and the accounte made from the recommend current; for as he raigned but fatteen yeers com-plear; and withal, if the thirtie feventh yeer mentioned, were lose he accounted complear, then this account of feven-teen may well fland with the account, mentioned. v. 10. for from the end of the two and twentieth, or beginning of three and twenty to the end of thirty feven, there are fixteen, of three and userny to the end of thirty fever, there are fixeen, yeers complex, and feventeen current. See a like account; a Kingaya. Such accounts are frequent in facred feriputer, Or it may be shart Jeboabse feeled his fon Jonian on the three, two or three yeers before his death. Thus might Jeboabse ringing feventeen yeers, and yet his low feet there yet in the feel of the shart of the sha phat did before this, fettle his fon in the Kingdom, two or three years before his death, even while he himselflived. See ch. 8. 16.

V. 2. And he did that which was evil in the fight of the Lord]

See I King. 14.22.
and followed] Heb. walked after, the fine of Jeroboam the fon of Nebat, which made I fract to fin]

See 1 King. 16.19.

be departed not there from ] See ch. 3.3.

V. 3. And the anger of the Lord ] Anger attributed to God, fetteth out his diflike of evil, and his refolution to punish cell doers. When any way God manifesteth his dislike, and his re-doers. When any way you mannetter as on the state in steel folution to punish, he is faid to be angry.

was kindled! Because Gods anger is terrible, it is resembled to fire 3 and in that respect, said to be kindled.

Dies to fire; and in that respect, and to be smarted, againft Isted! He means the ten tribes. Though they were a Church of God, yet for their idolatry he was as a fire, yea, a confuming fire to them, Deut, a. a., Hebr. 12.29, and he delivered them into the hard I its food that giveth unto chemies, that power that they have over his Church.

See [sai 10.5,6.
of Hazasl king of Syria] See ch. 8. 13,15.
and into the band of Benbadad] See I King. 15.18.

the fon of Hattel] Though Benhadad a former king was flain. by Hazael, ch. 8. 15. yet did Hazael give his fon that name; oy riazzet, ca. 8. 15. yet did riazzet give us ton mat tame; becaule it was a name common to many Kings of Syria. Thole, two Kings much annoyed the people of Ifrael. Some mone place, and fome in another; fome at one time, and fome at-all their dayes ] This relative, their, may have reference, either to Jehu and his fon; and so it implyets, that both Hazzel, (as ch. 10.32.) and also Benhadad afflicted Israel all their dayes. Or it may have reference to Hazael and his fon ; and fo it thewes, that thefe two Kings of Syria afflicted Ifrael all their Chap, xiii. V. 4. And Iebasha: besought the Lord I Idolaters, and other taking in the first year of Joath King of Iliacl, amounteth to God, Judg. 10. 10. 1 Kung. 11. 27.

and the Lord hearkened umo him] In regard of temporal mercies. God oft heareth wicked ones, 1 King. 21. 29.
for he fam] This phrase is oft attributed unto God, after the manner of man; and that to fet out his pity and compassion, manner of man; and tract to let out us poly man. Gen. 31.43. Exo. 3.7, the opprefilm of Ifrael That fore affiliation wherewith the kingdom of Ifrael was much opprefied.

because the King of Syria oppressed.

because the King of Syria oppressed.

By many plunderings, and taking away persons and goods, 1 King chap.5.

V. 5. And the Lord gave Ifrael a Saviour, a Deliverer ] For Saylour nere meant was Jenoam, v.55, 10 mm and may ue and maded Jerobam his fon, ch.14,25. Some expofitors fay, that immediately upon the prayer of Jehoahaz, God fent an angel to reftrain the rage of the Syrians.

fotbat they went out] The inhabitants of those cities which the Syrians had taken, were freed from their enemies, from under the bands of the Syrians ] From their power and jurisdiction, Numb. 31. 49.

and the children of Israel dwelt | Quietly and secureintheir tents] That is, in their houses. See & King. chap.

as before-time] Heb. as yesterday, and third day. Yesterday is put for the time past, 2 King. 9. 26. Heb. 13. 8. The third day, being added thereunto, implyeth continuance of time day afrer day. See 1 Chr. 11. 2. Heb. 13. 8.

but walked sherein Heb. he walked. Continued in that ido-and there remained] Heb. ftool. As it was in former times. the grove Which Abab made, 1 King. 16. 33.

aljoin Samaria He did not only worthin the calves in Dan and Bethel, but also worshipped Baals grove; and that not only in other places, but also in the head City of the kingdom

V. 7. Neither did he leave] This hath relation to v.4. where she king of Syria is faid to oppress Ifrael; so as the fifth and the sing of Syria is laid to oppressized; to as the fitth and fixth ver, are brought withinka parenthelis, of the people to 4 choosing. Under the word, people, are here comprized fouldiers, such as were exercised in war.

but fifty borfemen, and ten Chariots ] This flieweth that many horsemen were destroyed, and many chariots taken away by the enemy. and ren thousand footmen] These were but very few for a king-for the King of Syria had destroyed them ] This verifieth that which is written, ch. 10. 32.

and had made them like the dust by threshing ] As over-much threshing may bruste and break corn, and make it like dust; ther Elishs faid, floor] To show that when God calls men to fed Ifrael, they were exceedingly weakned, diminished, and made contemptible. V. P. Now the reft of the acts, &cc.] See 1 King. 14 19. and his might ] This thews that Jehoahaz was a valiant man, V. S. Now the refer of the arts, e.g., [3 ce; 1 kings. 14].

and his might J has there that Chendra vras a validation mean, and that in his conflicts with the Syrians he manifelled much the the many of deliverance from Syria. This he added, to the the many of the conflicts with the Syrians he manifelled much the what the Lord would deliver them even from that enemy the valour of fuch a wicked man to be in vain. If God be againft him the more thereof. men, all the might that they have can do them no good, 1 Sam. 7. 50.

are they not written, Sec. ] See 1 King 16, 27.
V. 9. And Hobashay lept. Sec. ] See 1 King 16, 18.
V. 10. In the thirty and feventh year of Josib King of Judab, &c. 7 See v. t. and reigned fixteen yeers] Two or three of these were in the reign of Joash king of Judah, and the rest in the dayes of Amaziah, ch. 14 1. V. 11. And he did that which was evil, &c.] Sec v. 2. and he departed not from all ] Or, from any, Pfal, 103. 2. V. 12. And the reft of the affs, &c. ] See v. 8.

V. 13. And Foalh flept, &c.] See v. 9. The life and death of Joalh king of Ifrael, are thus briefly passed over, because the most memorable things that he did, were by vertue of Elisha's mon memorane tuningstrarie and, were by versue or Eminas, prophecy, V. 15, &c. and in the history of Amaziah 3 and therefore they are referred thinker, ch. 14, 8.

V. 14, Now Elifh was fallenful? Elifha mult needs bean 14.

old man. For suppose him to be but twenty years old when Elijab first called him to be a Prophet, Ahab reigned at least four years after that, 1 King. 20. 26. & 21. 1. Ahaziah raigned chap. 3. 2. Jehu reigned twenty eight years, chap. 10. 36. gun. Jehozhez reigned seventeen years, ch. 13. 1. This account V. 19. And theman of God See 1 King. 13. 1.

V. 4. And 10000001 (propagative 1.071) iconomers, and other; esting in the riting year of Johan Aning of Hales, amounted to which performs, in their extream necessities, can call upon foundations, in their extream necessities, can call upon foundations, and the Lord Metriced annu bind in Integral of temporal mericis God of thereth which do not s. i. King. 21.39.

and the Lord Metriced annu bind. In regard of temporal mericis God of thereth which do not s. i. King. 21.39.

and the Lord Metriced annu bind. In the Composal mericing in the riting of the composal mericing in the riting in the riting of the composal mericing in the riting of the riting of the riting in the ritin of his fictiness whereof he dyed] Sickness is an ordinary force of the factors whereof the agent of the state of the control of th This inflance flieweth, that the best are subject to fickness and and Foash the Ring of Ifrael came down unto him] To visit him. Though he were a wicked man, v. 11. yet having heard of the many great good things which the Lord had done for Ifrael, the y. 5. Annuel Lor give I flat a Satisms. a Universal 1 earlier they whom God ulefts to deliver people from their oppreffers, are called Saviours, (fs. 19. 20. Neh.9.17. Colad. v. 1. The land the saviour bere meant was Jedousli, v. 25. To bim also may be be might try if any good thing might yet further to done by his collection. and wept] When he came and favy the Prophet fo neer the time of his departure, he could not forbear weeping; and that through grief of the lofs of such a Prophet. Howsoever Gods Ministers may be lightly esteemed in their life-time, yet their departure ufeth to be bewailed.

over his face] Leaning over the bed whereon Elitha lay.

and faid, O my father, &c.] This was a title of reverence and love, yet given by a king; and that a wicked one, to a Propher of the Lord. Of this phrase, see chap. 12. ver. 12. By this title, the king acknowledgeth the Prophet to have a fatherly care of that kingdom, and to be the best defence that it had; on which grounds he came to vifithim, and to try if fo be he might receive some good encourage-V. c. Neursbeig shey departed met, &c.] See 1 King, ch.
6. 19.

V. 25. And Elishs faid unto bim The Prophet was moved with the terms and protession of the king, and thereupon gives the figns following.

Take bow and arrows ] These instruments were here enjoyned to be taken, both to firew, that there should be yet more war; but withal, that the king should destroy the enc-and he took unto him bow and arrows] The king expectand he took nate him how and arrown! The king expecting good from the Propher, ready doth what he holds.

V. 16. And he fail to the King of Ifeat, pur this head upon the com! Holds made thin head to sum the tom! Holds made thin head to come to have a sum that he had been the had upon in Sec. 3. A man the turb had had upon in Sec. 3. A man the turb had mulyon in Sec. 3. A man the turb had mulyon in Sec. 3. A man the turb had mulyon in Sec. 3. A man the turb had mulyon in Sec. 3. A man the turb had mulyon in Sec. 3. A man the turb had mulyon in the sec. 3. A man the turb had mulyon in the sec. 3. A man the turb had mulyon in the sec. 3. A man the turb had mulyon in the sec. 3. A man the turb had been the sec. 3. A man the se end estimate part b. banas upon the Kinge bands | This he did, as a fign that the Lord would fight with bim, and for him, and to threw that good fucerfs comes from God. For the Propher was herein Gods flead, See Gen. 49.14.

V. 17. And he faid, open the window essuard For Syria lave: Oward. and be opend it ] See v. 14.

and be flot ] He perfeveres in his obedience.

and he faid, the arrow of the Lords deliverance | This is a fien that the Lord will deliver Ifrael.

valeur, though he had no good fuccess. For God in justice made | chat most annoyed them. And the phrase is doubled, to assure for thou feals smite the Syrians in Appel | See 1 King 20.16. Some expound the word according to the meaning thereof, thus, powerfully.

till they have confumed them] This certainly he should have done, if he had nor himfelf been too negligent in purfuing the good fuccels which God at first gave. Or those particular armies which Joafh should overcome, are here fore-told to be confirmed

V. 18. And he faid, take arrows] He adds this further fign, to shew that God would not once only help him, but also continue good faccefs to him. and be took them] See v. 15 and he faid to the king of Ifrael, finite upon the grand] The Prophet doth dillinely require these several acts of him; both to try his faith and obedience the more, and also to make him the more diffinctly observe the many victories that God would give him; yea also be would show that mans endeavor must be used in Gods work.

and be finote thrice] Herein he testified his willing pess to hold our in what was required.

and stayed. I Here now he manifesteth his remistwo years, 1 King. 22. 51. Jehoram reigned twelve years, ness and wearifomness in that which he had well be-

MILES AND THE PROPERTY OF THE that the King might have gathered from the Prophets words, that he thould have imitten oftner then he did. He well knew that he from have futures other teen he did. As we also we that all the fore-named figns prefigured victories against the Swians: This should have made him continue to finite, till the Propher had bid him coafe.

and faid . thou shouldst have smitten five or fix times \ Very then hadft shou smitten Syria till thou hadst consumed it ] To follow Gods work fo long as occasion is offered, is the ready fill purfued, they may be utterly deftroyed.

whereas now thou first fmite Stria but thrice I See v. 24. God refrained his fuccets against the enemies, to punish his negligence and flothfulnels.

V. 10. And Elifba died] See v. 14.

and they buried him] This bath relation to his furviving friends; and it may be that the King took some crae thereabouts, and that he had an honourable burial. See 1 King, chap. 14

v. 13. and the bands of the Moabites ] See chap. 1. ver. 1. & 3. 5. The Moabites having revolted from Ifrael, took all opportuniries to annov Ifrael invaded the land] By incursions which their troops made into the land. See ch. 5.2.

at the coming in of the year In the spring, when plants began to sprour, and cattle to increase. By this means they did the

V. 2: And it came to pass as they were burying a man ] As they were carrying him to his grave , for this grave whereinto he was calt . was not made for him. that behald 1 That which follows is a very remarkable matter.

even a ftrange miracle. they fixed a band of men | Enemies marching towards the place where they were. and they cast the man into the Sepulchre of Elisha T Elisha was very lately dead and buried; not covered over with earth, as we now for the most part use to bury men: but laid into a Sepulchre covered over with a great flone, as Christs was, Mat. 27.60. and either the Sepulchre was not vercovered, or the from might easily be removed. These friends that carried out the dead corps, being frighted upon the fight of the enemy, hashily cast the corps into that Sepulchre, and when the man was let down! Heb, went down. For heavy things readily fall down.

and touched the bones of Elifba] This is here noted, to fhew the means which God would have used for the effecting that miracle which followeth. And because Elisha's body (for by his bones, his whole body is meant) was used, this that fol-lows, may be reckoned among the miracles of Elisha, and accounted his one and twentieth miracle. See chap. 2. vers.

herevived] It is faid before that he was dead. The miracle was wrought by the dead corps, to shew that it was Gods power, and not any vertue in Elisha, whereby such great works were done. For a dead man to revive and live again, is a plain miracle. This was thus wrought at this time, to give the King and people of I rael a fign, that their dead decayed flate fhould revive, and flourish again; and to make them believe God could as easily do that, as this. Besides, this was a general fign for all believers, who by faith touch Chrift, that they shall and flood upon bis feet ] This is added to manifest the truth of the miracle, and to amplifie the fame. For he had not only breath put into him ; but also he was inabled to rife, fland, ver. 2. and do the works of a living man.

V. 22. But Ha ael King of Syria] See chap. 18. verl, 12.

oppreffed Ifree!] See v. 7. all the dayes of Jehoahaz. This is added, to shew that Joath was the Saviour promifed, v. 5. V. 23. And the Lord was gratious umo them ] Gods free grace is the ground of that good he doth to men.

and had compassion on them ] By reason of that misery wherein he faw them to be. See v.4.

and bad reflect unto them ] Though they were most unworthy because of bis covenant] As God of his free grace is moved to enter into covenant with his people, thereby to binde himfelf to do them good , fo by the fame grace is he moved to continue that his covenant; yea many times, though his people forfeit with Abraham, Ifaac, and Facob] These were the three Paeriarks, which were the progenitors of all the twelve tribes; with the first of these God first made his covenant, and extendIfrael, as P[2], 105. 8, &c. of freeing them from affilicion, Exo.2.24, and of his patience in forbearing to take vengeance. as here, and a Chr. 21. 7.

and would not defirer them! Utterly: fo as clean to caft them.

out of the land. neither cast he them from bis presence] Heb. face. So as they should have no communion with him, not be accounted his 47 yet | This intimateth , that afterwards he did caft them from his presence; and that because they obstinately persisted in their idolatry and other wickedness. See ch. 17. 18, &c.

As for the present, God would further try, whether at length they would turn to him, or no. Gods long-suffering is hereby

V. 24. So Hazael the King of Syria dyed] This Hazael was he that did most mischief to Ilrael, See ch. 8, 12. His death therefore was an occasion of some case to Ifrael.

and Benhadad bis fou reigned in bis flead ] See v. 3. This Benbadad wasalfo a cruel enemy to Ilrael, as is intimated v. 3. But he was not fo bad as his father.

V. 25. And Jebosh the son of Jeboshaz took again ] Heb. returned and took. When one is said to do a thing again, in Hebrew he is faid to return to it, as Numb. 11.4. Now because the Israelites had formerly enjoyed the cities here mentioned, Jehoash is here said to return and take them. We say, he recovered them. Herein Jehoash shewed himself to be says terested the same return return return return return return to be the Saviour mentioned v. ; out of the hand of Brithadad the for of Hazatel So weak was he, or fo strong was Jehoash, as he could not hold what was before gotten.

the Cities which he ] Or, his father Hazael. For this re-lative, he, may have reference either to Benhadad, or to Ha-had taken out of the band of Feboabay bis father, by war] The oppression of Ifrael mentioned v. 4. must needs be great, when the enemy took whole Cities from them. three simes did Josfb beat bim] This verifieth the fign given and recovered the Cities of Ifrael] Such as were taken by the

CHAP, XIV.

Vers. I. IN the second yeer of Joss so of Jeboshaz King of Israel This computation is to begin after the death of Jehoshaz; for Joss King of Israel reigned but sixteen yeers, ch. 12. 10. take a year or two from fixteen, and the account nentioned v. 23, will well fland.

reigned Amaziah the fon of July King of Judah] In Hebrew he is cal'd Amaziahu. The former name figuifieth the firength of the Lord. The latter, the firength of the Lord. As his father oath was a notorious hypocrite, to was he. Both proved idolaters, 2 Chr. 24. 17, 18. & 25. 14.

V. 2. He was twenty and five yeers old Heb. a fon of swenty and reigned twenty and five years ] Of these he spent twelve yeers as a banished man in Lachish, v. 19. 2 Chr. 25. 27. See in Jerufalem] See 1 King 11.42.

and his mothers name was Jehoaddan of Ferufalem. Of expresfing the Mothers name of a King, See 1 King. 15.10.
V. 3. And he did that which was right, &c. ] See chap. 12.

yet met like David bis father ] That is , not with a perfect heart, as it is explained, 2 Chr. 25, 2, For David was a man after Gods own heart, I Sam, 12. 14. Act. 12.22. But Amaziah did what he did to please men, as Joash his father had done before him. Both of them in the beginning of their done before him. Dott of them he the beginning of them reign fremed to be better then indeed they were.

be did according to all things as Fosfib his father did] Though both of them began well in outward thew, yet both of them revolted, and turned to idolatry, 2 Chr. 24. 12. and 25.14.

V. 4 Howben, the high places were not taken away] See I King.

as yet the people did facrifice] This is added as one reason why the high places were not pur down. The King was loth to displease the people by croffing their custome. See I King.

and burnt incen[e] Sec 1 King, 9, 25, on the high places] Sec 1 King, 3, 2,4. V. 5. And it cames to play to so on a the Kingdom was confirmed in his bordon, as his undelite to him and to his feed, Gen. 17, 7, 8 And to the reason it doubted right, (as 1 King, chap. 28, verl. 14, 25.) for by in that extent to the second, Gen. 26, 3, 4. Yez, and to the reason of the treason raised against his fathers, (chap. 22. verse 21.) There were sears, troubles, and dangers, in the their armies one against another, themselves being as Generals that he flew ] When he saw a fit opportunity, and found to be cut off. The blood of any man, unjuftly flain, deflicts the out-coast of his dominions. Amagini bring over-confident bis [ervants] These were both his fathers subjects, and his own fubjects, and in that respect called servants. Besides, they might also have special offices, and be of the Kings houshold, which had [lain the King his father] Chap. 12. 20. Three realons are here couched, to shew the equity and necessity of executing that justice which he did. 1 They committed murder.

Chap. xiij.

2 They flew a King. 3 That king was his father.
V. 6. But the children of the murtherers he flew not] This is the murtherers children being left alive, might feek revenge for their fathers death. according unto that which is written in the book of the law of

Moles The five first books of the Bible are counted under the law of Mofes; but the book of Deuteronomy is here especially meant, and that in ch. 24, 16, wherein the Lord commanded, [sying] All the precepts set down in facred Scripture, are Gods commands; and accordingly to be obeyed. she fathers shall not be put to death for the children] So on

Deut. 24. 16. nor the children be put to death for the fathers] There is the fame equity for both. but every man shall be put to death for his own fin] By this law the Lord jultifieth his equal dealing with men, Jer. ch.

18. 20.
V. 7. He flew of Edom] These are called children of Seir, (2 Chr. 25, 11.) from the place of their habitation, Deut. 24, 8. These Edomites were subdued by David; but in the time of this man great grand-father, they rebelled; See ch. 8. 20.
And though they were overthrown by Jehoram, yet notwithflanding they continued to rebell, to Amaziahs time. Therefore he gathered a great army against them, 2 Chr. 25. 5. and flew them with a great flaughter.

in the valley of [alt] There was a water issuing out of Jordan, the necessary of part 1 nere was a water munity out or joroam, out of which arriest much fair, called by #uffin, and others, Affebatus. or, Affebatuse. A valley by it, was called the valley of fair, s. San, 8: 13. Pfal. 60. I. It is supposed to be that which is San, 8: 13. Pfal. 60. It is supposed to be that which is San, 8: 13. Pfal. 60. It is supposed to be that which is called the valley Shaveh, Gen. 14: 17. And that valley where the battle with the King of Sadom and others, was fought, Gen. 14. 8. and where David flew 18000 Edomites, 2 Sam. 8. 13.

ten thousand ] And he cast ten thousand more from a rock , who thereupon burft in pieces, 2 Chr. 25. 11, 12. Thefe latwan decreupon outrin pieces, 2 . 01, 25, 11, 12. I nete rater ten thousand did, without all question, after they were zaken, stand out obstinately, and would not yield to the Ifraelites, and therefore were cast down from the rock.

Illateutes, and teerelore were cast down from the rock.

and took Cold) Or, the rock. This word, Selah, fignifieth a rock. Selah was also a fair city, so called, because it describes and Indah with the I Kings, and other Commission of the rock. Selah was also a fair city, so called, because it describes and Indah with the I Kings, and other Commission of the rock. Selah was also a fair city, so called, because it does not controlled the rock. Selah was also a fair city, so called the rock of the rock. This word, Selah, fignificant is a rock of the rock the normon of it gothed! This word, according to the normon of it, figuifich eledicate to God; which name Annazish might give to this city, in tellimony of his obedience to God, when God fent a Prophet to him, to diffusit those toops which he had hired out of Ifrael, 2 Chronicles, chap. 25, 9, &c. and the York of the Annazish flould come to him.

They met with head in the God for the Prophet to him, to diffusit those toops which he had hired out of Ifrael, 2 Chronicles, chap. 27, 9, &c. and the York of The York of They met with head in the God for the Prophet to him, to diffusit those toops which he had hired out of Ifrael, 2 Chronicles, chap. 27, 9, &c. and the York of They met with head in the God for the Prophet to him, to diffusit those to the York of They met with head in the God for the Prophet They are the York of They met with head they are they have the York of They met with head they are they have the York of They met with head they are they have they are the are they are they are they are they are they are they are they 25.9, ecc. unto this day ] See 1 King. 9.12.

V. 8. Then Amaziuh font messengers to Febrash ] After he had got the victory over the Edonnes, he waxed proud and infolent; and supposing he should still prevail, seeks surther indicerte; and uppening as insoure true prevant, texts surface; in the utilities of judan, text surface; war againful others; year after that descellable idolotry upon the best level to the fore-field victory, God left him to himself; fo as he ran prudence, for a long to fight in the emmisse land, rather than in into courses that tended to his perdition. See 2 Chron. 25. his own.

the son of Feboahaz son of Jehn King of Israel ] See chap. 13.

1,9.
[aying, come] This is a word of challenge, as 1 Samuel

1 king, 13-16.

1 king, 13-16. the King of Israels answer, and other consequences shew, that it implies a plain combate; as if he had said, Let us stand one against another in the open field; and this he means, of fetting verfe 2.1.) There were feats, troubles, and dangers, in the beginning of his reign. The mutherest of his fabre, were in the regard men, and had a great command, or were in high account with the people, which moved him for a time to far-bear revenge. 25. 13. He might also do it, to restrain I fract from plundering that the [Ion] When he law a fic opportunity, and tound 15, 13, He might also do it to retiran Hirel from planating bits own iterguish, then he executed quittee upon them. This of more Cities; thinking it better to decide the quarred by murther being of their Soveniga, they the rather deferved main battle, hand to hand, then folder better control for the control f to be cut on. The cotool of any man, supputy tam, enemal the functions of the band, Namb, 5; 33, and recycle for venegacing. Gen. 4. of soon frenigh, might call to minds Jeroboams first de-10, much more of a King. Blood fooser or later bringeth juil fellion from the book of Judah 1 King. 1 2, 38, cm, and allow fection from the house of Judah, 1 King. 12. 2, &c. and also Jehu's flaughter of fundry Princes of Judah, ch. 10. 13. and be the more stirred up to take revenge, and to bring all Ifrael into subjection to Judah again.

Into tubjection to Judan again.

V. 9. And Jehasifs the King of Ifrael fent to Amaziah King of Iudah, Jajing Jehoalh was every way as proud and bold as Amaziah, and returns him a most feoraful answer. They are like two proud Champions, that make and return a challenge in the loftieth terms they can.

2 They firm a king. 3 That king was his father.

V. 6. But the children of the muriberarche flow was 1, flow and This is a Judg. 9.8. The king of I first, in derifton, refembledt the preferred right before (ear of danger. Fear of danger was, that | low, not worth to the referred. low, not worthy to be reckoned among trees. He files it a thiffle in Lebanon , because Judah was within the promised land ; but yet as a thiffle which grew under all the Codars that were in Lebanon, fent to the Gedar that was in Lebanon He resembles himself to a Cedar, which is the tallest of trees, t King. 4-33, and here-by implies, that he himself was the chiefest of Kings.

by implies, that he numbel was the chiefet of Kings. [aping, give thy daughter to my fon to mife] They which feek marriage of their childe with anothers, [uppofe themfelves to be equal with that other. Hereby Jehoash intimates that Amaziah thought himfelf as good as the king of Ifrael, which he takes in great fcorn.

and there paffed by a wilde heaft] By this wilde heaft the king of lirael meaneth his own army, by reason of the might and power of it. and trad dewn the thiftle Clean vanquished and trampled and troa down to e to the total vanquinted and trampled under foot Amaziah and his army.

V. 10. Thou half indeed finitien Edom ] Heb. finiting finitien. Herein the king of Israel consesses the before which the king of Judah had over another kingdom; but lo, as withall he intimates, that that was no sufficient cause to make him think of timates, that that was no luminent cause to make sim tunk or prevailing against Hitsel.

and thine heart hat biffed the sup] I chould doth herein firike upon the right fring, and plainly sheeved what it was that made him lend the fore-faid challenge, namely, the pride of his heart, occasioned by his victory over Edom. The like is noted of Hezekiah, 2 Chr. 32.25. glory of this, and tarry at home] Heb. at thy house. The meaning is, as if he had thus faid, If thou wilt needs boaft thy felf by reason of that victory, do it in thine own country, among for why shouldst thou meddle to thine burt ] Cast thy self into mischief. This is a distinctive exprehation; rather taking his folly, then giving him advice.

that thou shouldst fall That is perish, or be destroyed. Here-in Jehoash shews himself as consident of success as Amaziah did. If it had feemed meet to the Lord, he might also have failed of his hope.

naying in Amazin mount come to him.

and he and Amazinh King of Mudblooked one another in the face?

They met with their armies in the field, face to face.

at Buthlemedh, which behavel to Indeb.] John 15, 10, 8: 21.

16. This Bethlemeth is faid to belong to Judah, because there was another Bethfhemefh in the tribe of Naphthali, Jofh. 19. 38. The field therefore whereinto Jehoafh went up, was within the limits of Judah, fo as Joath ordered the matter to, as the battle was fought in the land of Judah. It is a point of his own.

V. 12. And Indab was put to the worff ] Heb. was fainten before Ifrael. This army of Judah being put to rout, and followed by the Ifraelites, is faid to be finiteen before Ifrael. and they fled every man to their tents ] To their own houses. See the fon of Ahaziah] See ch. 11.2. at Bethshamesh J Sce y. 11.

King, 12,16. the fon of Ichoafb] See v. 1.

and came to Fernsalem | It am hofile manner, with his army, | cth of Uzzith, ch. 15.8. now Amaziah reigning twonty nine and come to fertifate I to an nonne manner, with all amy, having Amaziah has priloner, and to came in riumph, and brake down the wall of fertifate. This he with his amy might enter into that city. Others render this reach, that he inhabitants in Jerutalem flood out to fulfly against him, as he was forced to batter and break down the wall. from the cate of Ephraim ] That gate which opened towards might either leave their City open, or at least not quickly make up the breach again.

V. 14. And he] Jeboath King of Israel: took all the gold and filver] Which as a treasure was laid and all the veffels that were found in the house of the Lord ] Not those which were for daily use in the holy place; but such as were laid up in the treasury of the Temple. See 1 King. ch.7.

and in the treasures of the Kings house] Such treasures as be-said sin the treaspers of the Kingt boule ] Such treatures as of-long to the King hindle. See I King, 14.36. and bibliggs ] Hob, loss of parating. These were either children of the King, or other noble persons, for a pledg of keeping covenant. The King of Heach naving made what posits throught meet in Jeruslaem, for free the King of Judah, whom he bad taken captive, upon cerrain conditions imposed you the King of Judah, and his thip-cles; and for the nuc-upon the King of Judah, and his fubicits; and for the furer reformance of buthe covenant on Judah'para, and for a fecurity of future peace, he rook hoflage:

and trianted As Sensited; Howdover he had gotten a great victory, and made much fool, even in the middle of Jetullem; yet he thought not himfelf frong enough to hold the Kingdom of Judah to himfelf, and to mitte it to the kingdom of Itrael;

therefore he returned home.

V. 15. Now the reft of the afts of Jeboafb ] See chap. 13

v. 12.

gadhie might] See ch. 13. 8. Under this word, might, his valiant deckyl againtl Amazish v. 12.13. and allo againtl the Syriang, ch. 13. 5. ac comparison of the Syriang, ch. 13. 5. ac comparison of the V. 16. And School floyi, ch. 15. 15. See th. 13. 12.

v. 16. And School floyi, ch. 15. See th. 13. 12.

kosth loyel in the very larm year wheter his goe that Canon yellowy, in 50 doc all the choice of the Syriang Control of the scourged his children with it. Here we see the pride of both Kingspunished. The pride of the King of Judah, with great loss and damage. The pride of the King of Israel, with his life. V. 17. And Amaziah the son of Foodb King of Judah] Se

ver. 1. lived after the death of Jehoafs fon of Jehoahaz Ring of Ifract fifteen years ] He lived indeed, but it was a most milerable life,

V. 18. And ibe reft of the affir of Amaziah, &c. ] See I King

14,10,39. Now they made a confirmary against him in Jerusalem]
N. 19. Now they made a confirmary against him in Jerusalem]
So many of his subjects, and such mighty ones, plotted, and wrought treason against him, after his idolatry, (2 Chr. 25, 14, 15.) andafter the great mischief he had brought upon his kingdom, by challenging the king of Ifrael,v. 8. as he durft not fland out against them.

and be fled to Lachifh] Lachish is a strong city in the borders of Judah, 2 Chr. 11. 9. Ila. 36. 1, 2.

but they fent after him to Eachife ] They who confpired against him, having intelligence of the place whither he was fled, and feating, in case he should cleape, that he would take revenge of them, purfued their plot, and fent their Ministers after and flew birn there] His royal Majesty and Kingly authority no whit deterred them from that bloody treason. Of the time when this treation was plotted and executed, See v. 21.

V. 20. And they brought him on horfer In a Charlot drawn with horfer. Thus was his grand-father Abaziah carried, ch.

9-28; and he was buried, &c.] See ch. 9-28.

V. 41, And all the people of Indub] It appears that the common people also, as well as the great ones, were pleafed well enough with the taking away of Amaziah, in that no mention is made of feeking after any revenge of his death, but they all agree to fet up his fon.

perce to tet up us ton.

1004 of ariab] He is called Uzziah, Many memorable things are recorded of this Uzziah, a Chr. 26.1.8c.

1005 of Exteen years old] This fixteenth year of his age must be reckoned from the death of his father Amaziah, which thus appears: Teroboam the fon of Joafh began his reign in the years, (v. 2.) if fifteen be taken away from those nine and years, (1/2), interested was away from note mee and with twenty, then remains fourteen; adde to these eight and thirty of Uzziabs, there will arise the sum of fifty two, which was the time of Uzziabs region, ch. 15. 2. & 2. Chr. 26. 3. out of these must be taken at least eleven years, to make the just account of Jeroboams one and fourty. These eleven (or twelve, because years of Kings use to be reckoned current) must needs

Amaziab, he fled; and the people took his fon, and made him Amazanana neu ; ana use people toos na ston, ana made nine king about the fouth year of his age. Eleven or twelve years after this, they who firlt conspired against Amaziah, might ei-ther then, first hear where he was, or then upon some occasion be more inraged against him, and thereupon slay him: And the people renew the Kingdom again to Uzziah his fon , and fettle him upon the throne, after his fathers death; which was in the fixteenth year of Uzziah. See more of this, chap.

V. 22. He built Elath ] Elath was an ancient city, whereof mention is made, Deut, 2, 8. but it was fo decayed, as by repairing and fortifying it, it might well be faid to be and restored is to Indab] It appears, that the enemy bordering upon Judah, had taken it, and therefore Uzziah is said to rettore it to Judah. In Ahaz his time it was lost again, chap.

after that the King flept with bit fathers | See 1 King, chap.

V. 23. In the fifteenth year of Amariab the fon of Ioash King of Iudah] See v. 1. This Jeroboam was of the third descent from Jehu. See ch. 10, 30.

Ieroboam the fon Iosih King of Ifrael began to reign in Samatia] Namely, over all Ifrael, as his Predecessors had done.

and reigned fourty and one years ] This is the longest that ever any of the Kings of Ifrael reigned, from the division of the Tribes, to the captivity of Ifrael, and the most victorious.

V. 24. And he did that which was evil in the fight of the Lord ]

See 1 King. 14. 22. & 21. 20.

he departed not] Sec ch. 3. 3.

from all the fins of Jeroboam the fon of Nebat, &c. See 1 King.

16.19.
V. 25. Hereford the east of Ifnel? Cities which were betwist Judah and Herel, and were then under the power of lifted, but of right appertiated to Judah. These coatls were appointed by God hintleff that oh is people. Numb. 24. 8. from the earing of Hunath and to See of the Ideal? Compare Deut; 28. with Deut, 21.7. That which he here called the fea of the plain; is commonly called the late of the plain; is commonly called the late of the la the plate, is commonly called the lair-tea, according to the word of the Lord God of Ifrael] Gods fore-celling of things to come, theres, when they are come to pals, that they were ordered by divine providence, which he spale by the hand] That is, by the ministry. See of his (ervant Ionab the fon of Amittai the Prophet] Matth. 12. 19.40. called Jonas. This was the fifth of the fmall Prophets.

King. 8. 53.

We read not before of any fuch prophecy; but yet it is certain by this text, that there was fuch an one; and it might be in the dayes of Jehoahaz, when in his trouble he prayed to the Lord, and the Lord heard him, ch. 13. 3,4.

which was of Gath-Hepber | This was a City in the tribe of Zebulon, John. 19.13.

V. 26. For the Lord (aw the affliction of I [real] See chap.

that it was very bitter] This certainly hath relation to the

that is we've other 1 has certainly take reason to the time of Jehodasize, th. 13, 34,7.

for shere was not say flow how left 3 See 1 King, 14, 16. It may here in hy, that none were lafe, whether he were flowt up in a place of defence, or left abroad; whether he were great or mean, whether he had means or not.

not any helper for If first 1] Neither could the King of If the limitfel, nor not with Princes, help them from their oppressions by the enemy; neither could they get any forming liceous reason of them.

to aid them.

V. 27. And the Lord faid not ] He had not yet determined. that he would blot out the name of Ifrael from under beaven] Utterly destroy them from bearing the name of a kingdom on Though then he had not faid, yet afterwards he faid it (Hol. r.6, 9.) and did it, ch. 19. 18. See ch. 13.23.
but he [aved them by the hand of Ieroboam the [on of Isash] This thews that Teroboam also was a Saviour mentioned , th. 13.

5, 25. V. 28. Now the reft of the acts of Icrobeam, &c.] See verl.

fifteenth year of Ameziah, and reigned fourly and one years, hm 23. Jeroboams (on began his reign in the eight and thirti won, 2 Sam. 8:6. and Rezon got 2guin, 2 King. 11.74.

but now Jeroboam recovered. Of Damascus, See 1 King. (14.23, About two or three years after that such a conspiracy 11, 24.
and Hamab] See v. 25.

which belonged to Intah, for Ifrael, ] Of old it did fo but now Jeroboam united it to the kingdom of Ifriel.

Chap. xv.

eroboam united it to the kinggom or kingl.

set. they not writism, &c.] I King. 11.41.

V. 29. And Ieroboam [ipst, &c.] Set King. 2.10.

and Zachariah the for reigned in the flead] This Zachariah was

Verf. 1 IN the twenty and seventh year of Ieroboam King of Is. began Azariab] Or, Uzziah, v. 13,30,32,34 to reign] I his phrale, began to reign, is in Hebrew, reigned. So as , began is not in the text; yet it cannot be denyed, but that this word, reigned, is oft translated thus, began to reign, as tak un wongerge-s, no te camine unit, segan verges et al. 1 in the bert of taken, it multi in the bert of taken in the bert of Laugh 19-13. Cut them off.

[on of Amagiab King of Iulab] See ch. 14. 21.

V. 9. And belief that which was cult intellight of the Lord death; for he began to creign with his faither twelve years bedeath; for he began to creign with his faither twelve years bedeath; for he began to creign with his faither twelve years bedeath; for he began to creign with his faither twelve years bedeath; for he began to creign with his faither twelve years

V. 9. And belief that which was cult intellight of the Lord

Stephen and the first faith of the creation of the stephen and twentich year of Jerobeam here mentioned, there was no king twentich year of Jerobeam here mentioned, there was no king long continuance of fine, and that in forced formultion, one that the continuance of fine, and that in forced formultion, one that the continuance of fine, and that in forced formultion, one that the continuance of fine, and that in forced formultion, one that the continuance of fine, and that in forced formultion, one that the continuance of fine and the in forced formultion, one that the continuance of fine and the in forced formultion, one that the continuance of fine and the inforced formultion, one that the continuance of fine and the inforced formultion, one that the continuance of fine and the inforced formultion, one that the continuance of fine and the continuance of fine and the inforced formultion, one that the continuance of fine and the continuance of fine fetled: but an inter-regnum, or a Protector only to govern the kingdom. But that opinion of inter-regnum would much interrupt the computation of years by king after king. As for the other opinion of a Protector, Azariah might be king in his child-hood, and yet have a Protector; but then he needed not have been the fecond time declared King, when he was fixteen years old, if he had been feeled a king in his former years, and that his father being dead. Besides the time of Amaziah's reign, which was nine and twenty years, ch. 14-2. cannot well fland with his cutting off by death in the feventeenth or thand with his cutting off by dears in the reventement of eighteenth year of his reign. To prolong the life of Amaziah to the fixteenth year of his fon Azariah, (as ch. 14, 11) and to give turto Az rish treelve years reign, while his tather lived a private hife, will faithfu many doubts which artic about the computation of the years of the kings of Judah and Ifrael mentioned in Scripture.

V. 2. Sixteen years old was be when be began to reign ] See

ch. 14. 21.
and he reigned two and fffty years in Ierusalem] Of these two and fifty, twelve were frent in his father Amaziahs time. See ch. 14 21. and four in his fon Jothams time. See y. 30. and his mothers name was Iecholiah of Ierusalem] See 1 King. 14. 10.

V. 3. And he did that which was right in the fight of the Lord] Sce ch. 11.2. according to all that his father Amaziah hed done] As his father Amaziah began his reign fairly, but ended it wickedly; fo did this Azariah. See 2 Chr. 26. 16, &c. V. 4. Save that the high places were not removed ] Sec 1 King.

the people [aerificed] By the Priests, who willingly yielded to gratifie them. and burnt incenfe] See 1 King. 9.25.

[fill on the high places ] Notwithitanding that the King endeavoured to have facrifices and incense offered up only in the Temple.

Tempie.

V. 5. eAnd the Lord finise the king] Of the reason hereof, See 2 Chron. 26.19.

so that he was a leger unto the day of the death] Kings, as well as others, are subject to the louthsomest diseases, wherein they may continue as long as they live.

and dwelt in a several house ] Heb. a house of freedom; Free from all company. For lepers, under the law, were counted unclean, and therefore were feparated from ordinary commerce with others, Levit. 13 46.

and fotham the hings fon was over the house ] Over the court and Jonnan the tangs for mass over the bonfe J. Over the court and kingsiom: for he raigned as king, while his father was a keper, which was four year, v. 30.

judging the people of the land J. Though his father were living, yet he did the office of a king, as faithfully and diligently, as if he had been King alone.

V. 6. And the rest of the acts of Azariah, Sec. See 1 King.

V.7. So Agariab fleps, &c.] See 1 King. 2. 10. & 2 Chro and they buried him, &c. I lo the field or place of burial, where other kings were buried ; but not by their lepulchres, 2 Chro.

other sings were buried; but not by their reputatives, a. Carv. 26.23. See 2 Chro. 24.25.
V. 8. In the thirty and eightly set of adjustib, hing of fluids, did Zebrish the for freebown with all Zebrish the for freebown with a fluid zebrish, ch., and the filterenth year of Amzzish, ch.,

14.23. Adopt two or three years after that futn a confpiracy was made against Amaziahas he was forced to flye from Jeru-falem. This was in Amaziahas eighteenth year. Then the people falen. This was in Amazian seignteenin year, there me people made Azariah his fon king, who raigned in his fathers life time eleven years: and after that raigned one and fourty years time eleven years: and after that rangued one and roarry years more, which make up the two and fitty years, mentioned, v. 2.

By this computation, it appears, how Jeroboum died in the V. 3.9. And Lerosam 1975, 502.) was accomplished.

White Zachariah was the fourth by lineal defcont from Jehu 3 and in him the promise funder to Jehu (th. 10, 30.) was accomplished.

White Zachariah was thirty eight weak of A 2211th, and how Zachariah Jeroboams three years before the confined was a funder to Jehu (th. 10, 30.) was accomplished.

White Zachariah was thirty eight weak of A 2211th, and how Zachariah Jeroboams funder years of the confined was the c makes up the one and fourty years of his raign. See clap, 14, 13, 12, 13, 13. This computation held with the chronology of the raigns of the kings of Judah did steel, over Ifsetti in Sometal's Des the Mill steel, over Ifsetti in Sometal's Jee the History of the steel of Judah did steel, for month's Jeen and many recreatements, but such computations much interrupt the mill chronology. Zastaviah certainly was cut off in the first year of his property of the steel of the wickedness of the house of Jehu, in the several generations of his children, was so great, as the Lord would no longer suffer that flock to remain; but God having accomplished his prolong continuance of 1111, and that in leveral generations, one after another, much incenfeth Gods wrath. This is here rendred as a reason, why God cut off Zachariah in the begin-rendred as a reason, way you call on Lathanian and the begin-ning of his raign, v. 2, to. be departed use from the flux of Ieroboum, &c.] This was that great his, wherin all his fathers before mentioned, and also other great movmerm an instances before mentioned, and also other his Predecellors, Kings of Ifrael, had continued from the first division of Ifrael from Judah. See 1 King, 12,20. V. 10. And 5 bullum the fon of Isbello J This was some great V. 10. Alia Stranger 101 pen of 24010 J 2018 was some great. Commander in the Kingdom; and, as is probable, in the army alio: such an one as Omri, I King, 16, 16, 17, and Jehu, ch.

conspired against bim] As Zimri did against Elah, 1 King.

16. 9.

and [mote him before the people] Openly, publikely; Firth, he might plut against the King fecretly; which is implyed under this word confilted, and then having got the prople to favour his cause, and to be on his side, he might smite him, as is here and flew bim] This fets out the kinde of smiting the king, ana the other is an interest one the kinge or initing the king, even unto death, as 9.72.77, and raigned in the field.] It was an ambitious afpiring to the crown, which made Shallum traiterouply confipre against the

king.
V. 11. And the reft of the sill, &c. ] See I King 14.10
V. 11. Ithis was the word of the Lord, which he fields was 1this] Gods loce-telling things to come, is an evidence, that they are ordered by his providence, confidering that they fall they are ordered by mis provincine, community and may out according to his word.

faying, Thy son shall fit on the throne of Ifrael to the fourth generation. See ch. 10, 30. Herein was Gods word accomplimentation.

fied to the full; for there were four generations of Jehn's fons; behides Jebu aimieur, and sir came to pass J Gods word hath been, and ever shall be accomplished, and that every way, as it is revealed. In the continuance of Jehu's stock thus long, we may observe Gods continuance of your stock that long, we may obtain your wildom, in intermingling justice and mercy; justice, in cutting lifteel short, even in Jehu's time, ch. 10.33. and in delivering Ifinal (hort.even in Jehu's time, di, 10,32. and in delivering Ifinal into the hands of the kings of Synt, in the days of Jeboshbac, di, 13, 45. Mercy allo, in continuing Jehosh (t. 18, 13, 15, 13) and Jerobam, fuginizer, di, 11,425. Mercy allo, in continuing Jehosh (so the fourth general) Seev. 10. V 13. Shallom the for of Idah's Seev. 10. V 13. Shallom the for of Idah's Seev. 10. days in the wine and thirty year of Unitable king of Iu. days in the ciple and thirty year of Unitable Synthesis (so Idah's) in the ciple and thirty year of Unitable Synthesis (so Idah's) in the ciple and thirty year of Unitable Synthesis (so Idah's) in the ciple and thirty year of Unitable Synthesis (so Idah's) in the ciple and thirty year of Unitable Synthesis (so Idah's) in the Ciple and thirty year of Unitable Synthesis (so Idah's) in the Ciple Synthesis (so Idah day] In the eight and thirty year of Uzziah, Zachariah began to raign, which was after the greater part of that year was spent; for Zachariah raigned but half a year, and is here im-plyed to be flain in the thirty ninth year of Uzziah. This Uzdonan, warm bearing 16.19.

Gen. 19.14.

in Samaria] See 1 King. 16.19.

It is Samaria] See 1 King. 16.19.

It is Samaria] See 1 King. 16.19.

Menahem was Captain of Zashrain's army, 22 Omri was the Captain of Zashrain's army (11.11).

Menahem was 10.11.

Menahem wa Caprain of Elah's army. He hearing that Shallum had flain his mafter, came with the army and destroyed Shallum, as Omri destroyed Zimrie, 1 King. 16.17,18.

Ment. up from Tirzab J. Of Tirzab, See 1 King. 14.17.

.mees.up/rm.11/20]. VI 11/21a, See 1/210g.14.17.
and came to Samaria ] To the chief city of the kingdom, where the Kings palace and throne was. See 1 King. 16. 29; and smore Shallom the son of Labely in Samaria, and sembin ] caule he did it with a traiterous and ambitious minde, God foon destroyed that instrument of his justice.

V. 15. And the rest of the acts of Shallum] Sec 1 King. 14

19. V.16. Then Menahem (more Tiphfab] Tiphfah was a citie feituate in the way to Tirzah. Menahem destred to pass through it, are in the way to 1 in an Atlantan defined to pass through its which because he was denyed to do, his wrath was exceedingly incenfed. Of Tiphish fee i King. 4, 24, and all that were observed. He spared money meither great nor mean, nor old nor young nor male nor female. Wrath mixed with forme and difdain, makes men spare none.

and the coasts thereof from Tirqab] Some conceive the diflance betwirt these two cities, to be about fix miles.

because they opened not to bim, therefore he smote them] Because they would afford him no refreshing from their city, nor entrance into it, much less passage through it, he destroyed them. Thus dealt Gideon with the men of Succoh, upon a like ground; and with the men of Penuel alfo, Judg. 8. 5. &c. and all the women therein that were with childe, he ript up.]

This is a great aggravation of his rage, that women great with childe, thould not be spared, but their wombs opened, because the gates of the city were not opened to bim. Some take this meraphorically, for forts and towers wherin men were, that he metaphorically, for tores and towers wherin men were, that me did even rip them up, by forcing an entrance into them. There is a like phrase used, Ames 1.13.

V. 17. Inthe nine and thirtieth year of Azariah king of Ju-

v. 17. Interance to intring year of externo weig of ji-dell I net foace of one year, (namely, from the thirty eight to the thirty ointh year) of Azarish king of Judah, there were four king in Ifrael, fucceeding one after another. Jero-boum, Zachariah, Shallum, and Menahem. Now was the time of Ifracls calamity; for judgement after judgement followed them, till they were utterly deftroyed.

beran Menabem the fon of Gadi to raign over Ifrael, &cc. ] See 1 King 16.29.

V. 18. And be did that which was evil ,&c.] See 1 King.

15.26. V. 19. And Pul the king of Syria] 1 Chron. 5.16. By other authors he is fliled, Phul-Belofus, and Belofus. Affyria and Babylon are accounted to be one Monarchie. After the Syrians, that had been long deadly enemies to Ifrael, the Affyrians annoyed them much more, and that from time to time, till they had utterly ruined the kingdom of Ifrael, 2 King.

came against the land] The land of Ifrael, that part especially which was on the other fide of Jordan, 1 Chron, 5. 26.

and Menahem gave Pul a thousand talents of filver] This a mounts to three hundred seventy and five thousand pounds fterling. See 1 King. 16. 24. & 1 Chro. 22.14.

1bat bis band might be with bim One end questionless, of gi-

note on pana migor or with our jude end quettioniers, of giving that fum of money, was, to move him thereby to depart from him; but withal, it is probable, that he made the fum the greater, to procure aid thereby from him, against other forraign invalions.

to confirm the kingdom in his band ] Menahem came to the crown by treason, murther, and usurpation, and thereupn might juftly fear intestine infurrections, and inward rebellions against himself. For usurpers and tyrants cannot but live in contipual fear , he fought therefore, by might and force, and that of a forraign enemy, to confirm and fecure his own kingdom to bimfelf.

V. 10. And Menahem exacted ] Heb. caused to come forth. Forced to bring forth.

the money of Ifrael] Namely, of his fubjects, inhabitants of even of all the mighty men of wealth] Such as were best able to pay the great fums that he exacted.

of each man fifty (bekels of filver) Six pound and five shillings; for a shekel was two shillings and fix pence. See ch. 7. 1.

10 give to the king of Affria ] For the reasons rendred.

fo the King of Affyria turned back, and flaied not there in the land ] There being so fair a filver-bridg for that enemy to pass over, he foons takes the opportunity and departs; fome, o-therwise then hath been noted, say, that the distinction of perfons, before noted, was in relation to Puls fouldiers; that each of them should have fifty shekels a piece. But then, why ot them should have sitty incress a piece. But then, why should it be faid, that the money was exacted, to give to the king of Affyria? Besseles, they say, that this money was given as a yearly tribute to more the king of Affyria to continue his aid to the king of strate. But a thousand talents was too vast a fum to be, year after year, given to an enemy.

V. 21, And the rest of the acts of Menahem, &c. ] See 1 King.

V. 22. And Menabem flept,&. ] See 1 King. 2.10.

and Pekabiah bis (on raigned in bis flead ] Though Menahem maraigned in bis stead ] Sorv. 10. Though Shallum were | were a wicked and a cruel kingyer God suffered him ten yeers Gods instrument in destroying the last of Jenu's stock, yer bethe rather, that he might be a scourge to rebellious stratel. His the rather, that he might be a scourge to rebellious Israel. His fon indeed succeeded him, but not long, as appears in the hiftory following

V. 23. In the fiftieth year of Azariah king of Judah] Menahem raigned ten years, v. 17. which passed betwist the nine and thirtieth and sittieth year of Azariah.

Pekabiab the fon of Menabem] This is the fift king of Ifrael whom Azariah king of Judah faw in the time of his raign.

began to raign over Ifrael in Samaria ] See 1 King. 16. 22.

and raigued two yeers] God punished Menahem in his son, as he punished Baasha in his, 1 King. 16.8. V. 24. And he did that which was evil, &c.] See 1 King. 14.

V. 25. But Pekah the fon of Remaliah , a Captain of bil

Great Commanders in war, have oft proved ambitious of regal dignity, and pernicious to their foveraigns, 1 King. 16. o, 16. ch. 9. 5. v. 10, 14.
conspired against him] See 1 King. 16.9. and smote him in Samaria] In the chiefest city of the king-in the palace of the kings boufe] Where may a man think himself more secure then in his own house ? Yet so bold was this Captain, as to fee upon his Soveraign in the royal Palaces tors Captain, as to ret upon nis oversign in the royal Palace; where he was attended with a guard night and day. with Angob and Arith] These might be two Assantiantes, which conspired with Pekab, and aided him in this treason and murther. Some take them to be on the kings fide, and to be murgner. Some take them to be on the Rings nor, and to be flain with the king. There be that take them to be names of places, and translate this preposition, with, as if it were by, or neer unto, or in. Indeed Argob is other where the name of a place, but of a region, as Deut. 3. 4,13,14. 1 King.4.13. The other word, Artib, fignifieth a lyon; and they would have the house intended by it to be so called, because the image of a lion flood at the door thereof. But I take the former acception of these two words for Conspirators with Pekah, to be most agreeable to the letter and sence here intended.

and with him fifty men of the Gileadites ] The fe might also be Conspirators with Pekah, which is the most probable; or as fome will have it, they might be on the kings side, and slain with him.

and be killed bim] Pekah killed Pekahiah his Soveraign.

and reigned in his room] See v. 14.
V. 26. And the rest of the acts of Pekehiah,&c.] See I King.

14.19. V. 27. In the two and fiftieth year of Azariah King of Judah]

This was the last year of that king, v. 2. Pehab the fon of Remaliah began to raign, &c. ] See 1 King and reigned swenty years] Though he reigned fo long, yet was his reign very troublesome; and in the end thereof he was violently cut off, v. 30. Hereby was his treason and murther V. 28. And he did that which was evil, &c.] See i King.

14.21.
V. 29. In the dayes of Pekah King of Ifrael, came Tiglab-vilefer King of Affria] This was the fonof Pul, mentioned v.19. He was hired by Abaz king of Judah, to annoy this king of Israel; and that because Pekah, and Rezin king of Syria, joyned together to invade Judah, Isa. 7. 1. See ch. 16.7. The fignification of this name, Tiglath-Pilefer, is remarkable; it is the removing of captives. See ch. 17.6. and took Ijon, and Abel-Beth-maathab] Of these two places, fee 1 King. 15,20.

and Ianoab] This was scituate on the borders of Ephraim,

Josh. 16. 6.
and Kedesh, and Hazor, Judg. 46. 1 King 9.15. These two were in the tribe of Naphtali, Josh. 19.32.36,37. and Gilead ] See ch. 10.33.

and Galilee] See 1 King. 9.11.
all the land of Naphtali] This was one of the tribes of II-and carried them captive to Affria] The inhabitants of the places before named, were carried away captives. The places whither they were carried are feedown, 1 Chr. 5.26. namely Halah, and Habor, and Hara, &c. This was the beginning of Hann, and Hador, and Hara, etc. a nis was the organized liftents captivity. Two tribes and an half byond Jordan, and Naphrali, yea and Zebulon too, on this fide Jordan, were now carried away. To this milerable condition of the lifactlites hath the Prophet relation, [18, 9.1.

V. 30. And Holeas before of Eleb, made a confirmal against Pekeb,&c.] See v. 25. As Pekah served his Soveraign, so he himself was dealt withal by his subjects.

in the swemieth year of Inthan the fon of Uzziah ] This twentieth year must be accounted from the time that Jotham began to reign in his fathers life-rime. See v. 5. for after his fathers death he reigned but forcen yeers, v. 33. Some fay, that he lived four years after these fathers, having given up the fathfull. Though this title do in a manner appropriate the Lord king done to his son Abze. But no mention being as yet made to David, to se in special manner bis God, yet rectules note.

Chap. xvj.

V. 21. And the rest of the acts of Pelash, &c. ] See t King.

V. 32. In the fecond year of Pekah the fon of Remaliah king of V. 3.1. In the fection of party free to the party free the contraction of the feeting of the fee after fixteen years of Johann raign, Ahzz began to raign, in cast behinde their backs, a athing not to be regarded. the seventeenth year of Pekah, ch. 16.1. Now betwike the fecond and feventeenth there are not fixteen years compleat, Sec : King. 15.2.

See 1 King, 15.2.
began ighishin the fun of steqish, &c.] See ch. 15.1.
V. 32. Five and trensty years and was he when he began to 'tigin] Salely by himfelfilius father being dead.
and he radgred forteen yeer in Fernaldem] See v. 30.
and him without name was frensh 1 See v. King. 15.10.

Lead the see of 27.26.2.1 In most he share his 27.26.0 was a see that the see of 27.26.2.1 In most he share his 27.26.0 was a the daughter of Zadok] It might be, that this Zadok was a prieft, for priefts married Kings daughters, 2 Chron. 22. 11.

priett, for prietts married kings daughters, 2 Chron. 22. II. and Kings might marry priefts daughters.

V. 34. And be did that which was right. Right is here to be taken, both for the matter of what he did, (which was therein agreeable to Gods word;) and also for the manner, which was uprightly, fincerely. For there is nothing recorded of Jotham which may argue him to be an hypocrite, or an apostate; as in the light of the Lord | See co. 12.2. be did according to all thus his father uzziah had done. ] This is to be restrained to the good things that Uzziah did; and that before he presumed to offer incense, 2 Chron. 26. 4.

V. 35. Howbeis, the high places were not removed] See 1 King.

the people facrificed and burnt incense still in the high places] See He built the higher gate of the house of the Lord ] See ch. 11.

6. This is noted as a part of his piety; and it is fet down in fome opposition to the peoples practife. They doted upon high places; but his care was to build and beautifie the house of the Lord, and the things pertaining thereunto.

V. 36. Now the rest of the acts of Josham Sec 1 King. 14.

V. 37 Inshofe dayes the Lord begsu to fend against Hudab ] In the latter end of Jothams raign, enemies might confult about invading Judab. For the Lord had a quartel against the peoples doting on high places; but that which enemies began to ples outing on nign piaces; out that which enemies organ to plot in Joshans time, they put in execution when Ahaz raigned, ch. 1645. Ifsi. 7.1. This multi needs be in the begin-ning of Abaz raign. For Pekah lived but three yeers, at the moit, in Ahaz raign. Pekah raigned twenty yeers, and Ahaz began his raign in the seventeenth year of Pekah, ch. 16.1.

Regin the hing of Spria He and his predeceffors were deadly enemies against Ifrael; yet he, with the king of Ifrael, and the king of Iliael with him, could joyn in confederacy against and Pekah the fou of Remaliah] See v. 25. This Pekah, in Ahaz time, flew in Judah an hundred and twenty thousand in one day, 2 Chro. 28.6. V. 38. And Joshum Sept with his fathers, &c. ] Sec 1 King. 3, 10,

CHAP. XVI.

Vers. 1. This beseventeenth year of Pelish the son of Remalish ] This is to be taken of the yeer current. See chap.

Abag the son of Jotham king of Judah, beganto raign ] This was a woful change; an idolarrous son succeeded a pious

V. 2. Twenty yeers old was Abaq when he beganto raign] By this account. Ahaz was but eleven years old, when his fon Hezekiah was born; for he raigned but fixteen years; twenty and fixteen make fix and thirty. And Hezekish was five and ewenty yeers old when he begin to raigo, ch. 18.2. Some retwenty years out when he begin to raigh, cn. 18.2. Some re-fer the relative particle, be, to Jotham, who was mentioned in the clause immediately before; as if it had been thus ex-profiled, twenty years old was Abay, when Jotham began to raigh. We have a like interence, 2 Chro. 36. 9.
and raigned fixteen yeers in Ferusalem ] He continued on his throne as long as his father, ch. 15.33, but his fathers raign was a bleffed time, his most wretched. is throne as ways, the most wretched, and did not then which was right] This is expressly contrary of the most which was right] This is expressly contrary of the most with the most state of David, 1 King, 14.8.

[10] In this day, See th. 15. 30. [18.9] In this day, See th. 15. 30. [18.9] In this day, See the most simple of the most si to that which is recorded of David, 1 King. 14.8.

to David, to be in operal manner als Ood, yetheralungs not others. See Joh. 20.17.

V. 3. But he walked in the water of the kings of Ifrael] Their way, or course of life, was idolatrous, impious, and every way according to the abominations of the heathen] The most abominable and detestable things that the heather committed. There is a great emphasis in this word, abonington, which is called to aburact.

whom the Lord ceft out before the children of Ifrael] Thele tohom the Lora case out before the contaren of Afratt 1 latere heathen were the Canaanites, the worst of Nations: nations that were accurst of God, Gen. 9. 27. Jer. 18. 25, 27. the heathen burnt their children to death, for a facrifice to their idols, which the Jews learned of them. This kinde of facri-fice is fee out, fometimes by offering up their children for a fahee is tee out, fomentimes by othering up their children for a la-crifice, as Pial. 106. 37.38. 19. 7. 31. 8. 19. 5. Sometimes, by caufing them to paid through the fire, as 2 Chr. 3.6. Jer, 32.35. Tue idol to which they confer ated their children, was Molech. Hereof, fee 1 King. 11. 5,7. The place where the Ifraelites used so to deal with their children, was called the walwhich may argue must no earn opportuse, no an apostate; no there is of Joshin A. Oftens, 14.17, and of Amzeish, S. Chron.

25.14, and of Uzzida, 2 Chro. 16. 16. So as that which is been gottened of Joshin, may be taken in the largest extent, of the control of t ley of the fon of Hinnom. Hinnom was the name of a man, his The toph, tympanun, timbrel, or drum. See the Notes on Exod. 15. 20. At their facrificing of children, they used to beat a drum, and found other instruments, that the cry of the child might not be heard. Therefore they called the place Topheth. Of facrificing children in this valley, sec 2 Chr. 28.3. & 33.6. Of Tepheth in that valley, fee Jer. 7.31,32. Of their cruelty therein, fee the notes on Levit. 18, 21, from that cately used in the valley of Hinnom, which in Hebrew is 277772 Gehinnom, the Greek word Iniva, Gehenna, which fignifieth Hell, arifeth, Matth. 5. 22,19. Yea Topheth alfo is ufed in a like fignification, Ka. 30.33. Of Gehinnom fee the note on John 15.8.

ofh. 1, 2.

V. 4. And he faceificed] See 1 King. 3. 2, 15.

and hurst incessed] See 1 King. 3. 2, 15.

in the high place? See 1 King. 3. 4.

and on the hills, and under every green tree. See 1 King. chap?

V. 5. Then Regin king of Syria, and Pekab,&c.] See chap.

15:37.

Cams up to Jerufalen to war ] It appears that they came with a formidable army, in that they came so far into the land, as to the walls of their chiefest city. It is evident that they intento the wants of their chiefelt city. It is evident that they intended utterly to find ue the kingdom of Judah: For they meant to fet another king therein, [1377.6.

and they befored Aba?] He was at this time in Jerusalem; which was begitt with enemies.

but could not overcome him. ] For the Lord fent his Propher

Isaiah to Abaz, to tell him that the enemies counsel should not fland, Isi, 7.7. God determined not as yet to destroy the house of Judah; but his purpose was still to continue a light house of Judan; but his purpose was trill to continue a light for David in Jerusalem. See I King. 11.36. Ahaz was a most impion. King; but God in delivering him, had respect to his promise made to David.

to be promite matter o DAVIO.

V. 6. it has time] Either in coming to Jerufalem, or, in departing from the fame. The former is the most probable.

Refulking of Syria recovered Elast to Syria? This peract implyeth, that formerly the Syrians had possession of Elasth had ving gotten it from Ifrael, to whom of old it belonged, Deut. 2. 8. 1 King 9. 26. Uzziah reftored it to Judah, ch. 14.22. And now Regin recovers it again to Syria.

and draue the Jems from Bleth] Forced them clean to depart from thence.

and dwelt shere] The Syrians took the full possession thereof and awerstored 1 ne syrians took the sun poneision increor to themselves. Besides, they killed many, and took others captives, 2 Chron. 28. 5. Pekah also slew a great number in Captives, 2 Chron. 10.5. Fenau artonewa Brat. Industry Judah, and took many captives, 2 Chron. 28.6, 8. That flaughter was questionless before their joying together to be-Hugarter was questionies before their joining together to be-fireg Jerufalem; for the king of Affyria going, againft Da-mafeus, was a means to draw Rezin from befinging Jerufa-lem, After Rezim wasfeparated from Pekah, Ahaz might think lem, atter Kezim wasieparatea irom sekan, Anaz migot think himfelf frong enough to grapple with Pekah, and thoreupon ventured a fight; wherein God left him, and to he was fhame, fully over-come. Though Pekah were an idolater, and a very wicked man, yet God at this time used him as a fore scourge to punifi another idolater. He was foon after this, deffroyed.

V. 7. So Abay fent meffengers Though the Lord had ex-

Chap.xvj.

prefly promifed that Pekah and Rezin should not bring their premy promises that reckan and reczin mound not bring their wicked plot to pass, I.a. 7. 5,7. Yet faithless Ahaz durst not rest upon Gods promise, but leeks to humane help.

rest upon Gods promite, but feeks to humane help, es righth-Ridfor King of Affria) Sec ch. 24, 2, This was an ambitious man, and loughtro get all nations under his dominion; yet doth Abez most flavishly feek to him.

minion; yet doth Ande most liavility lees to nim, [15815, I am thy forusin] I am content to be thy tributary in [16915, I am thy forusin] I am content to be thy tributary in [1692, I am thy forusin] I am to ferve thee.

1692, and thy [1693] Under thy protection to be preferred by thee, as a foo by his father; promifing to obey thee as becomes a fera fon by his tather; promiting to obey thee as becomes a ler-vant; and to rely upon thee as becomes a fen. Some take thee words, as a define, thus, Let me be thy fervant and thy fon. come up) For Jerufalem was upon an bill.

sand fave me] Deliver me and my prople.

one of the hand] From the power. of the king of Syria and out of the hand, &c. ] See v. s. V.S. And Abag 100k the filver and the gold, &cc. ] See ch. 12.18

and 18.16.

and fent it for a prefent to the king of Affiria It must need be a great prefent, that wrought so much as this did, with such a

a great present, that wrought so much as this did, with such a king as the king of Syria was.

V.9. And the king of Affiria bearkned unto bim Not to come up, as Abaz defired, v. 7. But to lave him; which was the principal thing that he defired.

for the king of Affria went up against Damaseus ] Heb. Damenefot. See I King. 11.34. This city was in the confines of Syria; but sometimes in the Israelites power also. See ch. 14. 28. The king of Affyria went to Damascus purposely to di-23. The king of Atlyria went to Danialcus purpolely to di-vert the King of Syria from Jerufallem; and Rezin was moved thereby to forfake the firege, and to defend his country. Up-on alike ground, Saul was moved to turn from following David, 1 Sam. 23.28.

and took it Clean vanquished it, and took the possession thereof to himfelf.

and carried the people of it captive to Kir] This Kir was a city and carried the people of it captive to Kirl This Kir was a city in Media, as may be gathered from Illa a. 2, 6 where Elam and Kir are joyaed together. This was expressly forcetold, Amos 1. 7. There was another Kir in Moaklian 1.5. But have in on the cut mean.

If the Refring By this appears, that Revin hinfeld went in the force to Dampiers. He should be made the control to The Company of the and firm Ketin i by this it appears, that Rezin himself went in his own person to Damascus. He deerly bought his confpiracy with the king of strategiants Judah. V. 10. And King Abst. went to Damascus i Heb. Damme.

fek.
10 meet Tiglath Pilefer King of Affria] He went to meet him, to congratulate his victory, and to obtain further aid agunt the Syrians; but all in vain: for the King of Affyria

28. 23.
and faw an alter that was at Damafews I dolaters are much to ken with ourward flews. They have no certain rule to be guided by their rule is their own and other mens inventions. But pious pystier rule is their own and other mens inventions, but prods and religious persons have God Word to be their rule; to which they hold close. This makes these constant in their ser-which they hold clote. Init makes trace contrain in neur ter-ving of God, but the other are very changeable, and King abac feat to Trijab the Prick! It appears that this Prick! Was a temporizer, and one that Abac knew to be ready to do what be would have him to do 5 or elle he would not have committed fuch a matter tohim.

the fashion of the altar, and the pattern of it ] Such a pattern as the jajoien of the atter, and not pattern of 11.3 much a pattern as was every way fathioned according to that alter.

according to all the workmaniship thereof.] Both in the feveral measures thereof, and also in the ingravings and deckings

V. 11. And Urijabibe Prieft built an altar according to all ther King Abay had feet from Damafees 3 The Priest was, or should have been better instructed in the Law, Mal. 2. 7. Bur thould have been better instructed in the Law, p. 21, 2.7. Dut they who fet themselves to please Princes, regard not Gods Law, Gal. 1.0. Though there be one letter difference betwin this Urijah and Uriah, mentioned Isa. 8, 2. Yet they may well be supposed to be one and the same person. And if so, then be which was accounted not long before a faithful one, proves now most unfaithful to the Lord. fo Vrijab the Prieft made it against King Abaz came from jo Ornan we evich make in agains King a wax came from Tommeloss! That the King might fee how ready and how for-ward he wax to conform himself to his will; and to please him, though it were in that which the Priest could not but know to be much displeasing to God. V. 12. And when the King was come from Damafem, the king [aw the alter] As the Prieft had made it ready for him, fo the king was very defirous to fee it.

and the King approached to the Alter] He himself in his own and offered thereon ] With his own hands; berein Ahaz committed two great fins. One was, to usurp the Priests office, as Uzziah his father had done 2 Chron, 26. 16. The office, as Uzziah his father had done a Chron. 16. 16. The other to bring in a firange altar into the boule of God. In this, he is fall of sciencie unto the god of Damsleun, a Chron. 28, 23. He knew that the Syrians offered facrifices, other idols, not fall attrawtered his was pattern 1, 60 a berein he preferred the Idols of the Heathen before Jehovsh, the God of preferred the Idols of the Heathen bettore Jenovan, the Used of Irred. This is pleaded against Irred. Jer. 29,11. Of the reason which he renders hor this. See 2 Chron. 28.21. V. 12, and he burns his barns offering ere. J Of the feveral kinds of the offerings here mentioned, See 2 King. 3.5. which are the first of the third of of third of and firstlyted the blood of his mean offering; I Hele, which were his in special for himself. This rate of spiraking blood, was revealed by the law, Exod, 44.6. I twar a type of the application of Christly blood, Hebr. 9, 13, 14-19, the last of the last which was now new made, and the last of the last of

v. 11. He did this to dedicate this his arrar, toolaters leek many outward rites to imitate Gods the worshippers.
V. 14. And be brought also the braces Alter That great Altar which Solomon made, 2 Chr. 4.1.

which was before the Lord ] Which fo flood in the Priests which was before size Lord J Which to mood in the Frants Court, as one standing by it might see through the porch and holy place, into the most body place, where the ark shood; in which respect it is faid to be before the Lord, Exo. 40. 29.

which respect to many fine houses. That part of the court which from the fore-front of the houses. The transcript of the temple, from between the attraction the temple. If the the from between the attra and the house of the Lord ] That the Lords altar might not stand between the islater and the Temple.

and put it on the north fide of the Altar He put the Lords altar on the fide of his altar, so as it could not well be seen by such as came to offer factifices, he see his own altar in the midft.direally before the entrance in the temple, where the Lords altar betore thood.

V. 15. And King Aba; commanded Urijab the Prieft, [ajing]
As he commanded the Prieft to make this new altar, so he commands him to use it according to his pleasure. upon the great altar] Hereby he means that new strange altar; which was not in quantity, yet, in his account, greater then the Lords altar.

burn the merning burnt offering | Sec v. 13.

burn the merning burnt offering | Sec v. 13.

and the brazen-altar | Which was the Lords, v. 14. Some and the bragen-alter] Which was the Lords, v. 14. Some upon this fills, bragen alter, infer, that the new alter was of gold. Idolaters will fiperen coof for their idolaty. Bull be for most injurie by] When I fee caule. He means the bragen alter. Thus be would have his own alter to be conti-crite; balely and flavinly ne conforms numer to me angle will, and that in the matter of Gods worthip.

17. 17. 434 King Abaz cut off the borders of she bales ] Of these borders and bales, fee 1 King 7.27, 28, 86. The meaning is, that Ahaz defaced the ornaments and beauty of those holy is, that Anaz detaced the ornaments and beauty of those body vessels which Solomon had made, and removed the laver from off them. There were ten lavers which all shood upon bases, I King. 7. 38. he cook them all off.

and took down the Sea from off the branen exan that were under a? Of this Sea and the Oxen, fee a King 7, 24, 35, the did not clean take away these things for we treat that they remained in the temple at the time of the copitivity. Jet. 2, 20. His imparty in this appeared, that he defaced and disordered the body though or the Lord.

and put it upon a pavement of flones If Solomons fetting the Sea and lavers upon supporters were an ornament, furely this fetting them upon the pavement was a kinde of disparage-

V. 18. And the covert of the Sabbath ] Hereby is means V.18. And the covert of the ordered pirectory is meaning aplace in the temple for the prieft, who on Sabbaths, or weeks, kept their courts, (Seech. 11.5.) to reft therein. This court is otherwise taken by others; but in this all agree, This court is otherwise taken by others; but in this all agree; that it was a retiring place, which was covered over to keep men from rain and weather. This he took away, and the kings entry without! The gallery without the couple, whereby the King alcended from his own palace to the house of God. Hereof fee 1 King 1.07; and the house of God where the house of God house. The doors thereof he that up, 2 Chronico got God shoule. The doors thereof he that up, 2 Chronical Contracts of the contracts of the contract of th for the king of Affria Partly to collogue with him, by thewing his deteflation of the werthip of God, and holy things of God, and parely to cut off all by-passages to his palace, through fear of the king of Affyria.

V 19. Now the reft of the alls of Ahay, Sec. ] See s King, 14.

Chap.xvij. Annotations on the fecond Book of Rings?

most pious son succeedern an idolatrous father.

CHAP. XVII.

begat to crigin, Hence arfich a doubt, how Hoffirs flouid of begat to crigin in the welfish year of Anaz. By this computation there are twelve years over-reckoned. The there've clean caketh away this doubt, in that it faith, Hoffirs reigned.

Cean caketh away this doubt, in that it faith, Hoffirs reigned.

V. 5. Thembeking of Aprile came up] After he had found The word, began, is added by the translators. I will not deny but that the Hebrew word here used, is oft put to set out the beginning of a Kings reign, 2s 1 King. 14. 21. 2 King. 8. 16. beginning of a kings reigo, as i king, 14, 13, 1 king, 8, 16, 1 Take it ro, and then all they parts between the death of Petah and the roelith of Abaz, are fivallowed up by reason of the great compute star were in Hirad, as also by reason of the great compute star were in Hirad, as also by reason of that per a star were in Hirad, as also by reason of that per a star were in Hirad, as also by reason of that per a star was the fired parts. As it was the faired and largest, to gover which the King of Allyria bad over lirad in those days, Pekah, and reigned in his flead, yet that may be taken of Hothea's fetting himself upon the throne so soon as he had killed Pekah; but because the people pulled him down again, and ed Pexan 3 out occause the people putted nim down again, and fuffered him not to reign quietly, till this twelfth of Abaz, he may be here faid to begin his reign. Or, though he did continue to reign immediately after Pekah's death, yet the King of Affyria might make him his vaffal, and he continue to reign of Allyria might make him his validal, and he continue to reign meerly as a tributary to the King of Alfyria; and in that re-fped; has to be accounted as no reign. But in the twelfth year of Ahaz, Hofiica rebelled against the King of Alfyria, and refused to be tributary unto him; and therefore now in this twelfth year of Abaz, he is faid to begin to reign, because he now reigned as an absolute King.

now reigned as an absolute King, nine years] Of these he reigned six, before the king of Assyria came against him, and in the other three the city Samaria was belieged, and at last taken, ch. 18.9, o. See v. 4,5.

V. 2. And be did that which was evil in the fight of the Lord]

See 1 King. 14 12.

but not as the Kings of Ifrael that were before him] He did evil in that he continued in Jeroboams idolatry; But other king sof

Ifrael ferved also Baal, as 1 King. 16. 31. Yea, and all the host of heaven, v. 16. and committed fundty other abominations, v. 17. Hoftea invented no new idolatry. It is also probable that he suffered his people to worship the Lord, as they themfelves thought meet, and made no laws absolutely to tye them to any one kinde of idolatry, as Jeroboam had done, I King. 12. 28. and Omri, Mic. 6. 16. Such of his subjects as were willing, he permits to worship the Lord in his holy temple at Jerusalem, which was forbidden, 1 King, 12.28. If that which is noted (2 Chr. 30.11.) of the inhabitants of Afher, Mais force (2 km; 18:11.) of the innautants of Ather, Ma-anfieh, and Zabulon coming to Jeruslaem to the Passover, were before the carrying away of the linealities captive, then there is an evidence of his fulfering his people to go to Jeruslaem, there to observe the ordinances of the Lord. Gad doit pour out the full vials of his wrath upon a king or people that are not altogether fo wicked as their Predeceffors, to thew, that he executeth judgment, not only for the first of the prefent time, but alfo for the fins of former times. Smaller fins added unto greater, are an aggravation, and provoke wrath.

V. 3. Against him came up Shalmanefer king of Affyria] This king is taken to be the fon of Tiglath-Pilefer, who was a great

Ring is taken to be the form of rigiding richt; who was a great oppreffor of first, ch. 15, 25, 25, 24, and Hofbes became his fervant? After Tiglath-Pilefer was dead, Hofbes thought he might free himfelf from that yoke which was put upon his neck by the king of Affyria, and pay no more tribute to his fon ; hence Shalmanefer takes the occasion to come against him, and so far prevailed, as he became tributary to him also; and thus is stiled his servant.

and gave him] Heb. rendred to him. Because Hosh a enjoyed that liberty which be had, upon condition of the tribute he paid, he is well faid to render what he gave.

Prefent Or, tribute. This was not only one great Prefent at once, but a tribute year after year. See v. 4.

V. 4. And the king of Affria found conspiracy in Hoshea] The conspiracy here meant, was breach of Covenant, as ch. 24, 20. Ezek. 17. 13, 14,15. Hoshea about this breach of Covenant, consulted with his Counsellors of State, and in that respect it may be called a conspiracy; but there is another reason hereof rendred in the words following.

rendred in the words tollowing, for he had been continual concient and potent kingdom: And there had been continual contlation betwist that kingdom, and the kingdom of Affyria; Hoshea therefore fends thither for aid against the king of Asyria, and upon promise of his aid, refuseth to continue what he had covenanted with him.

and brought no Prefent to the king of Affria] Sec v. 3.

V. 10. And Abre fleps, &c. ] See 1 Ring. 2, 12. 1 de fe bad done year by year ] This proves the Prefenc to be an and Hey bight bis fon regued in his flead.] A bleified king... A annual tribute.

annua tespute.

thereforethe king of Alijtis fout him up] This is, here spoken by antespation; tor questionless the king of Alijtis had taken samaria before he could flut up the king thereot.

and bound him in prison] Heb, in an house of fouting up. This Vect. 1. N the twelfibyear of Abre King of Judab began Holden, 8c. It is field chap. 15, 30. trace Holman Holden, 8c. It is field chap. 15, 30. trace Holman as they excanned go abroad. The king of Alfyria thus desir with flow Pekah and reigned in his flead, in the twentich year of the king of Ilrael, before he carried him away captive into and Highes, Sc. J. is faid chap. 15, 30. that Holhes a strength of the strength of conspiracy in Hoshea, v. 4. throughout all the land] He brought a great army, and with it passed from city to city, conquering and subduing all places, and before d is three years By this it appears that the city was well fenced, fortified, furnished, and every way prepared to hold out an enemy; or elfe fuch a potent enemy, as the king of out an enemy; or ene incn a potent enemy, as the king or Affyria was, would (ooner have entred into it. V. 6. In the ninth year of Hofbea] For in the feventh year $2-maria began to be besieged, and was taken in the ninth, ch. 18. 10. The seventh and minth year being accounted current, the fiege may be faid to continue three years, the king of Affriatook Samaria] He had either battered down fo much of the walls, as was sufficient for his whole army to enter in thereat; or elle the inhabitants were fo ftraitned by enter in thereat; or elle the innabitants were to iteratine by the long fiege, as they yielded up the city to their enemy.

and carried Ifrael away into Affrica This was an unter rejecting of those ten tribes, whereby they came to be in Gods account Lo Ammi, (Hof. 19.) no people of Gods. To this day they remain as a people call off. For we do not read, that ever after this, they returned to their own habitations. From the beginning of the division of the ten tribes from Judah, to this their last captivity, there are reckoned about 260 years, and placed them in Halah and in Haber These are Cities in Assyria, whereunto Hara is added, r Chr. 5.26.

by the river Gogan or, Nehar Gozan; so as both words by the treet Gogan; Or, Nehr-Oozan; 10 as both words joynty together make the name of one City, and in the cities of the Medes; These were other cities then they which are before mentioned to be in Assyria. For Media was then under the king of Affyria; As the king of Affyria carried these Israelites into other countries, so he brought people from other countries to inhabit the land of Ifrael, See v. 24. V.7. For foit was ] In this and fome verfes following is flewed how long Ifrael had continued to provoke the Lord, and how much, before he executed the fore-faid judgment on them.

that the children of Ifrael had finned against the Lord their God Peoples fins pull down Gods judgments upon them, especially when they continue long in their fins, which had brought them out of the land of Eryps From their field which Dad orongot them out of 100 tama of 12ff | From toeth mit beginning to be a nation. See 1 King 8.9.

from under the hand of Pharach king of Egypt | This is added to fee forth the great m:rey of God towards them in their begining to be a free people, in that he delivered them from a milerable bondage. This mercy much aggravateth their fin.

and had jeared other gods They toon began to be idolatrous, Ezek. 20. 8, &c. V. 8. And walked in the statutes of the heathen] They follow ed their own inventions, customes, orders, and ordinances. God long before this threatned, that their land should spue them out for inch abominations, Levit. 18. 26, 28.

whom the Lord cast out from before the children of Israel This fets out their obstinacy and impudency in finning against God; in that they committed the very things for which the inhabitants of that land, were cast out before them.

and of the hings of Ifrael which they had made ] The Israelises themselves, without any command from the Lord, made Jero. boam king, 1 King. 1 2.20. fo they made Omri king, 1 King. 16. 16. and fundry others after them. Both thefe kings made ftatutes for idolatry, 1 King. 12.18,29 Mic. 6.16. So also did other kings. In these statutes did the Israelites walk.

V. 9. And the children of Ifrael did sceretty ] Heb. they hid. Or, covered, or cloaked over what they did.

those things which were not right ] Not agreeable to the right rule, which is Gods word, but rather contrary thereunto; thefe things they coverely and decentulty did, upon pretence of ferving God: Yea, beside their open idolatry, they did many fecret abominations, Ezek, 8 12. against the Lord their God ] Against his Will, and to the difficuour of his name. and they built them high places in all their cities | Sec 1 King. 3. 4. These were places for idulatry.

Annotations on the second Book of Rines.

towers uted to be up and down in the country, to defery danger towers used to be up and down in the country, to delay danger.

after off, ch.9.17. yea, they had watch towers in many places to look to their cattle, and to watch their orchards and vineto look to their cattle, and to watch their orchards and vine-yards. Their givest and populous cities were wont to be fenced. This iden; has provietbil speech; whereby the exitent of their idolary is set out; and that, to be every where, in country and city; in meaner and givest places, from one end of the land to

V. 10. And they fet them up images Heb, flatues. See ch 10.26.

and groves] See 1 King. 16-33.
in every high bill and under every green tree] See 1 King. 14-23.
V. 11. And there they burnt intenfe in all the high places] Of

V. 1. India there they turn anceste as alto bigs places 1 Officency, feet king, 9-35; and it behauber! Who were alters from the Commonwell to file 10-4, and had not the light of Godd word to direct them that which was acceptable to God, whom the Lord carried any before born! See ch. 16-3; and wrought wirket birthgs! This is a general phrafe, which
and wrought wirket birthgs! This is a general phrafe, which makes the comparison of the comp impirty against God, but also wrongs, oppersions, and outer like fins, against their neighbour.

hyprode; the lard to arger] Though, it may be that was not the end that they aimed at, yet it followed as a fruit and effect of their fins: And as a cause of the judgments of God on them. See 1 King. 14. 9.

V. 12. For they (erved idols] The Hebrew word fignifies dirty gods. See 1 King. 15.12.

whereof the Lord had faid unto them, ye fhall not do this thing] where the Lord had fait unre there, re fails need to the tength of Deute. 19. Golden cyclic charge coming at all prevailed with them is the corrupt bears of man is oft fittered up, the rather them, the control of made view the sense of the control of the contro ana agasty. Massay 1 nough the casion of vous pungment of final be here principally intended, yet he makes mention of Judati allo, that Judah might by the judgment on firad be warned before hand; and alloyshar, when judgment should be executed on Judah, the equity of Gods procreding against her might be the better diferried might be the curre different.

In the control of th ty matters as courd not, but by a tuyine spirit, or effective the fame perfon hath both titles many times given unto him, 5 km. 9.9. Compare 1 Sam. 3.10. with 1 Sam. 9.19. Hereby is intended in this place, that God did affoord unto his person only ordinary Mondfert, as Priefly, and Levites, but affor extraordinary, as Prophets and Scers.

and extraordinary, as reoperts and ocers.

The yeaftes year cell weight, Jet. 18, 11, & 25,5, & 35, 15.

Hereby, as Gods metry is worderfully amplified in accepting finites, if they turn to him, {Exck.18 2.1, 10 mans oblinary is exceedingly beggravated in that he hearkenth not to fo gracious an invitation. and keep my commandements and my ftatutes] See I King. 1. according to all the law which Fammanded your Fathers He means their fathers in the wildernels, to whom God by Moles means their fathers in the wildernels, to whom 100 by Moles gave his law as a rule for them, and their pofferity. Pall, 781,66. and whith I fent to you by my fervants the Prophets] Prophets, wete in special manner called Gods servants, and diltinguished wete in special manner caused your servants, and outnegumed from where, d.9.7. for they were extraordinarily initructed in the Will of the Lord, and were to guided by the Spirit of the Lord, at they were most faithful in doing his Will. This late chaste doub flow that God contrinct not himfelf once to make known his Will to their fathers, but time after time, inculcated known his vysi to their rathers you time and distinct the phis Prophers, upon fucereding generations.

V. 124. Natwithfunding they would not bear Behold here the offlingey of men against Gods gracious dealing with them.

entitutes of men againt your gracious ocating with them. but buffeed their net 2) Deut, 31.27. This metaphor im-proceds a flubborn disposition, which will not bow, nor fubrit to Gods Will, 2 Chr. 250.6. &t (6.11. Prov. 29.1. Har, 84.4. Jet. 7. 26. The metaphor is taken from beafts which will not bear the like to the nesk of their futhers.] For children to imitate their fathers in wickedness, is a great aggravation of the evil.

shat did not believe in the Lord their God ] Deut, 1.32. Pfal. 78. 22,32. & 106.24. This is here noted as the caule of all other their wickedness. Unbelief is a mother-fin.

V. 15. And they refetted bis flatmer] This adds a kinde of impadency to their former obstimacy mpmoency to their totaler containty.

from the conser of the watch men, to the fenced city] Watchnies, see a King. 2. 3. Godsteitmunies are said to be against them, because they transgressed against them, and thereupon them, become they transferred against them, and thereupon pulled upon their own pares, the penalise annexed to them. In this report of flaunes are faid not to be good, Excitation of the penalise annexed to them. In this report of the penalise and the penalise a

V. 16. And thy left all the Communications:) They who take lable, to transgets our Communications, will form transgerial and make constructed of some g. 8. a. 8. and and the most of the Lord Left (Fed. 2) and g. 2. The called motion, but of the property Exod. 3. a. 8. The called motion, but of they were made of fuch metal as might be motion, and for affine and our supplies of the property of the motion, and for affine and the property of the motion and the state of the motion and the state of the state of the state of the motion and the state of the state of even roo calver] See 1 King. 12. 28.

went mo tation; See a ting, 14.3; and mode agrees See it king, 16.3; and mode agrees See it king, 16.3; and morphiped all the help of heaven.] The flars, which as an hoft are many, fer in good order, keep their rank, accready to do what the Lord will, and placed in heaven, Judg. 5, 20. See Deut. 4. 19. Ier. 8. 2.

2nd levved Basl) See 1 King. 16. 31.

Vi 17. And they cauled their fore and their daughters to pale through the fire] See ch. 16. 3.

and used divination] Heb. divined divination. This they did by intercourse with the devil, see Deut. 18. 10. Jer. 14- 14-Ezek. 21.21. Act. 16.16. 1 Sam, 28.7. divination was a conjecturing of things future, or things concealed and fecret. and inchamments! Heb. They inchanted. To inchant or ufe and restamments) tieb. They momental to the inchantment, is by words or figure to make pretence of doing fome rare thing. Of charming (repents, see Plal, 8.5. Excles. 10.11. Jer. 8.17. the hebrew word doth also figurific to disjoint to dispose the distance of th or to know what is done in secret; to divine, Gen. 44. 5, 14. and fold themfeloesto do evil ] See 1 King. 16.33. & 21.10.

and fold themselvesto do evil | See 1 King, 16.33. et 21.10, in the fight of the Lord | See 1 King, 14.22. to prockee hinto shipt | See 4 King, 14.9. v. V. 18. Therefore the Lord was very angry with I frael | See ch.

V. 18. Interpretable of the land wherupon the and removed them out of his fight | Out of that land wherupon the eyes of the Lord were continually after an especial manner, fet, Dut. 14:19. where the evidences of his gracious prefere were.

Deut. 11-12. where the evidences of his gracious prefence were, and where his Charch was, v. 20, 35 ch. 23, 27. This the withen no compliment of that which the ford threated before. Hof. 1. Evidence was need off but the tribe of Hudah only I shade I had at comparison of Benjamin and Simeon, as affociated f are comprised for many of Benjamin and Simeun, as affociated to the miclose to Juda's together with the Prietis and Leviner, Secr. King. 1, 13. 2. Ch. 11. Ch. 2005. The Communications of the Law V. 19. ... 16 Juda be the Communications of the Law V. 19. ... 16 Juda be the Communications of the Law V. 19. ... 16 Juda be the Communication of Historical Charles and the Communication of Historical Charles and the Law V. 19. ... 16 Juda be the Woodle not be warned to Juda be the Law V. 19. ... 16 Juda be the Communication of Topober, 10.1. 4, 17. 4, 20. ... 18 Juda be the Communication of Topober, 10.1. 4, 17. 18. The Law V. 19. ... 19. ... 18. The Law V. 19. .

er, only the ten tribes are comprized under all the teed or abtract; And to them it deth the more properly belong, because their captivity was never yet returned, so as they were indeed rejected. Judah was not/o; yet because mention is made of Judah's walking in the way of lifted, w. 19. in some respect is may be extended even to them also, because they were intermediated.

wards carried away captive by the enemy.

and affilled them] By fundry judgments before, and in their

and delivered them into the hands of Boilers ] Kings of Syria (cla and delivered them into the head of Guilers], Kings of Sprin (ch. 13.3.7.) and kings of Alfrins, (ch. 13.3.7.) and ch. 2. Chr. 13.4. and in the time of Massifich, a Chr. 13.4. and in the time of Massifich, a Chr. 13.4. and in the time of Massifich, a Chr. 13.4. and the characteristic of the most of bis fight] Sec v. 13.

13.1. The first first first the best of plants of the characteristic c and they made Feroboam the fon of Nebat king] 1 King; 12.120.

King; 12.16.
and feroboam drove Ifrael from following the Lord ] By tling means to keep them from going to the houle of the Lord, r. King. 12. 23. 4s also by causing them to follow other gods, King. 12 28, 29. and made torm pro agreement which was to worthing caves in flead of Good, feer things 12. 30. Idolatry is a great fin inthe kinde of it. The Ifraelites idolatry was the greater, in that it fipread throughout all the ten tribes, and continued til they were carried away captive.

V. 22. For the children of Ifracl walked in the fins of ferebean which be did ] See 1 King 14-16. From the time of Jereboam the first, till the espiritry; there were twenty kings, king. Some understand that other inhabitants should be sential and ten several flocks. (See the argument on both books of the room of those that were shin by the lyons; and so a new (Kings) yet all agreed in the find espectation in the reasons planation made. 1 King. 13. 26.

Chap.xvii.

ning. 13. 20.
shoy departed not from them] See ch. 3.3.
V. 23. Muill the Lord removed Ifrael out of his fight] See as he had faid by all his fervants the Prophets \ Heb. by the hand of all. See 1 King. 8, 53. he means all that God had ftirred up in those dayes, to fore-tel this judgment, as 1 King. 13.22. & 14. 16. 2 King. 8. 12. Hol. 1. 4,6,9. Amos 5.27. Mic. 1. 6. (o was Ifrael earried away out of their own land to Affria To those everal countries which are mentioned v. 6. unto this day] See 1 King. 9.13. Of this judgment on Ifrael, it may be faid even fill in this our time, unto this day, for fill they remain cut off.

V. 24. And the King of Affiria brought men] Shalmaneler brought fome, as here in this place. See v.3. Afterward Efer-Haddon (who was Senacheribs fon) brought others, Ezr.4.2. from Babylon | Heb. Babel, This was the chiefest City in and from Cuthab] No mention is elfewhere in facred Scripture made of this city. It is supposed to be in the Confines of Syria, and from Aus, &c. ] Or, Ivs. Deut. 2. 23. This Ava and Hamath, and Sepharvaim, were Cities which the king of Assyria had conquered, cb. 18.34.

and placed them in the Cities of Samaria ] Those Cities are here meant which appertained to the Kingdom of Ifrael; which mation. Kingdom was called Samaria, from the chiefest City in that kingdom, See 1 King 16. 24.

instead of the children of Ifract 7 The king of Assyria having removed the Ifraelites to Cities in other Countries, v. 6. placed flrangers in the cities of Ifrael, that in all places they might hold what they had, not as inheritors of their own bur as his vaffals, Joseph uled the like policy, Gen. 47.21. these were they which in the New Testament were called Samaritans, Mat. 10. c. Luk. 9. 52. they had learned of the Pricits that were fent to them, V. 27. that the great Patriarks were the fathers of those that dwelt in the ten tribes : Thereupon they dwelling in that great City, laid claim to that priviledg. Joh 4.20.

and they poseffed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof ] For the Ifraclites were forced to leave it, v. 6.

V. 25. And fo it was at the beginning of their dwelling there]
This hash relation to the time before a Priceft was fent to them.

that they feared not the Lord ] They neither inwardly did know, or believe in Jehovah the true God; nor outwardly did they yield any worthip or fervice to him : they did not fo much as perform such service to him, as the idolatrous Ifraclites did, who worshipped the true God, though after a wrong manner.

therefore the Lord fent lyons among them ] All creatures, even the most rayenous, are at Gods command. See 1 King. 13.24.

which flew fome of them] The creatures which God fendeth do that, for which God fends them. God the rather inflicted this heavy judgment on them, because they being in his hand, the land which he had chosen for a special habitation for himself they did not fo much as take notice of Jehovah to be the true

V. 26. Where they shake to the King of Assyria, saying They could not speak to him by word of mouth, being so far distant from him as they were ; but by letters, or messengers, they made known their minds to him.
the rations which thou half removed and placed in the Cities of

Samaria] See v. 24.

know not the manner of the god of the land ] They know not his minde how he will be worthipped and ferved. It was a foolish conceit of the heathen, to imagine that every nation, country and city, had their own proper God; thereupon they conceived, the rather by the judgment inflicted on them, that the Land of Ifrael had another God; then the gods of the lands from whence they came.

whence they came:
therefore he hash fent lyons, &cc.] See v. 25.
V. 27. Then the King of Assiring a commanded, saying He was not willing that his subjects should be utterly destroyed, therefore he quickly hearkens to their complaint.

carry thither one of the Pricits whom ye brought from thence] He means not one of the true Pricits, that defeended from Aaron; for they attended at the Temple; but one of that kinde which Jeroboam had ordained, 1 King. 12. 31. For fuch were they that were carried captive from Samaria.

let them go and dwell there] He mentioned before but one of the Priefts, but here he uleth the plural number, let them; there-fore, either a Synechdoche is ufed, one Prieft for many; or the plural number here for the fingular; or elfe here is implyed the putal number note not the infigure; of our actes is impact on Pricted and its company, wherein other Pricts all off may be included; yet further, under the plural number here, may be comprised the Pricts and the melificages that came to the proof, and actions, going before, may be undertified either the Decomprised the Pricts and the melificages that came to the proof, and actions, going before, may be undertified either the proof.

and let him teach them the manner of the god of the Land 1 Two things are here intended, first, that the Priest should instruct the people in the knowledg of the God of Ifrael, who was the God of that land. The other, how that God thould be worthipped.
V. 28. Then one of the Priefts when ther had carried among from Samaria] See v. 27. came and dwelt in Bethel] This was a city wherein one of the golden calves were fer, 1 King. 1 2. 20, but it is probable, that golden cawes were ter, I hang, II. 20. Dur III by Doubles, war, the Calf was eaken away, because it was of gold, and taught them how they floud fear the Lord The Pried made known unto them, that Jehovah was the God of that land, and alfo in general declared, what kinde of flaraments, facilities, feafts, meats, and other-like rites were to be observed in honour of Jehovah. It may be that he instructed them in some superflitious courfes, whereunto the Ifraclites, before their captivi-ty, were addicted; yet because the true Lord was made known by, were addicted, yet occasive the true Lord was ande known to them, this phrate is used, how they floud feet the Lord. The judgment of lions questional is was removed, because the true. Lord was acknowledged, though he were not altogether word thipped after a right manner. When in Ababs time, the II. racities acknowledged the Lord to be God, though the calves were continued, yet the drought was removed, I King. 18 39, 41, &c. temporal judgments may be removed, i king. is, 39, 41, &c. temporal judgments may be removed upon a turning from fome grofs fins, though there be not a through refor-

V. 29. Howbeit every nation ] Heb. nation nation. Gen. 7.2. made gods of their own] Idols of their own native Country. They are stilled gods, in regard of the peoples esteem of them. They are thick gods, in regard of the peoples effective to them, see 1 Cor. 8. 9. People are much addiced to the things of their own country. See 1 King. 1.8. and put then in the bonfes of the high places 3 See 1 King. 1.2.3 twhich the Samaritans had made 1 The Itizelites which before their captivity dwelt in Samaria, and other Cities appertaining to that Kingdom, are here called Samarians.

every nation in their Cities wherein they dwelt Thus one City, exty hatton in our cities wortening await] a mis one city, had one God, and another City had another God. V. 30. And the men of Balylon made succosh Benoth] "his; and the other titles following were p oper names, which the brathen gave to their feveral idols. Jurcoth-Benoth, according to the Hebrew notation fignifieth, coverings of daughters. This idol was fashioned like an hen or a fowl.

and the men of Cuth made Nergol ] This Cuth is the forme that was called Cuthah, v. 29. Nergol was fet forth in the thape of a Woodcock.

and the men of Hamath made Ashima] Hamath is before mentioned, v. 24. Their idol Afhima was fet out in the fhape of a

And the Avites | These were inhabitants of Ava.v. 24. made Nibhaq and Tartak] The Avites had two forts of gods; thers had more. Nibhaz was like a dog. Tartak was like an als.

oners and more was the dead of a track was the en air, and the Schwitzer inhabitants of Schwarmy, v. 3+, burns their children is free] See ch. 16, 2; to Adrammelted, and Anammelted). These were the fame that Molech was, See 1 King, 11, 5, Adrammelted, according to the Hebrew notation, fignificity a glorious king, Anammelted, are affiliating king. Both these names may not unfully be applyed to Satan, the idol to whom they burne their children. In their eftern Saran was glorious; yet he brought upon them that af-fliction of facrificing their children to him. The former name was also given to two of the sons of Sennacherib, ch. 19.37. The idel Adrammelech was made in the shape of an horse, and Anammelco in the form of a Mole. Hereby is verified that which the Apoftle faith of the Gentiles, Rom. 1. 23. the goals of Sepharasin] These people had also many gods. V. 32. 80 they feared the Lord] They had an high efteem of the Lord, and bare a reverend respect to him, Zeph. 1.5. and made unto themselves of the lowest of them Priests of the high places ] Thus had Jeroboam done before. They had no Prietts of the Lords ordaining, and the greater fort cared not for that office, fo as they were willing to take any that would offer himfelf. See 1 King. 13. 33.

which faceifieed for them in the houses of the high places I Light of nature taught men to have a distinct function for divine fer. vices, and fome of that function to offer up their facrifices. Of the houses of the high places. See 1 King 12. 31.

V. 33. They feared the Lord | See v. 32. and ferved their own gods ] Though they acknowledged the God of Israel to be the true God, yet they did service and worthip to idols.

after the manner of the nations | Of those nations from whence they came, and where the gods which now they worshipped formerly were, Zeph. 1. 5.

heathen, whom the Affyrians brought thither.

V. 34. Untothis day ] See 1 King. 9. 13.
they do after the former manners ] This is meant of the Ifraclites which were carried captive into Affyaia. The former menner bath relation to the time wherein they lived in their own land, before they were carried away captives. From this verse to the last, the obstinate disposition of the Israelites in their captivity, and in the places wherein they then lived, is on the true God.

they fear the Lord ] They testifie no respect to God . neither inwardly nor outwardly.

neither do they after their flatutes] By their flatutes, are meant fuch statutes as the Lord ordained for the Israelites, as proper and peculiar to them.

or after their ordinances | Ordinances were fuch directions for Gods worthip, as God had ordained for his people.

Or after the law or Commandement | Of the difference betwixt statutes, Commandements, and laws, See x King. ch.

which the Lord commanded the children of Jacob] This shews the reason why they were called theirs, because they were enjoyned to them.

whom he named I [rael] By this he puts them in minde of the great mercy which God shewed to their ancestor, from whom | unalterable in their former evil courses. the twelve tribes were descended, when he first gave him that name, Ifrael, Gen. 32. 28. and of the gracious promifes made to him and his posterity, when that name was again confirmed to him, Gen. 35. 10, &c. This is here mentioned as an aggravation of their obstinacy. See the like, 1 King, chap. 18.

V. 15, With whom the Lord had made a Covenant | This hath relation both to Abraham, Ifaac, and Jacob, and also to their polterity, Gen. 17.7. & 26.4. & 28. 14. Exo. 19.5.

and charged them, [aying] This is added as a condition to be observed on their parts, that thereby they might have the surer evidence of Gods keeping covenant with them.

7 e final not fear other gode] Judg. 6, 10. This forbids an inward effects of any thing, but the Lord, as of a God. nor how your felves to them This forbids an outward manifeitation of any fuch efteem, Exo. 20.5.

nor ferret them | This forbids all duties of piety to be perform ed to them, Deut. 5.9.

nor facrifice to them] This was a particular kinde of fervice, and proper to him that was accounted a God. Herein Ahaz failed, 2 Chr. 28.22.

V. 36. But the Lord who brought you out of the land of Egypt] See I King. 8.9. This mercy is here mentioned, as a motive to the duties tollowing.

with erest power | This hath relation to the ten plagues of Egypt, and to the destruction of I haraoh and all his host in the red Sea, together with the Ifraelites paffing through, as on dry land, Exo. 9. 14. & 11. 1. & 14. 4, 18,29.

and a firetched out arm. See 1 King. 8.42. So extraordinary was the power manifested in rescuing strael out of Egypt, as God by way of refemblance to man, is faid to ffretch out his arm; that is, to extend his ffrength: Or it was fuch, as it plainly appeared to be the arm of the Lord, even a divine power. See Exo. 6. 6. Deut. 5. 15. Jer. 32. 21. Ezek. chap. 20.

Him [hall ye fear ] Deut. 6. 13. Fear importeth fuch an inward reverend efteem of God, as it makes us careful in avoiding all things that offend him, and in doing what may pleafe and him [hall ye worship] Worship, when it is distinguished from fear of God, signifieth an external manifestation of a high efteem of God; and that by fome warrantable gefture of the body, as kneeling, bowing, profitating the body before the

Lord, Pfal. 95. 6 Job 1. 20.

and to him [hall ye do facrifice] As inward fear and outward worship were due to God alone; so facrifice also, which was an especial evidence of the one, and of the other. Of facrifices,

See 1 King. 13. 4.15.
V. 37. And the statutes, &c.] Sec v. 39. 1 King. chap. 2.

which be wrote for you If this be properly taken, it letteth forth the Decalogue or ren Commandements, Exo. 31. 18. & 24. 1. But metonymically it may be taken for fuch Commandements as Moles wrote from the mouth of God, and delivered to the people, Exo, 24 17.

ye [hall observe to do for evermore] This applied to the ceremo-nial and judicial law, implyeth a continuance of them all the while that the policy of the Jews remained : Yea, it implyets a further perpetuity in the truth and substance of them, which was and re [bal not fear other gods] See v. 35. V. 38. And the Covenant that I made with you ] See v. 25.

idolatrous [fraelites, which were before in Samaria : Or thole | ye flall not forget] That which is forgotten, is as not known: and therefore it cannot be well observed; this negative is much preffed by Moles, Deut. 6. 12. & 8.11.

neither [hall yo fear other gods] This is here the third time preffed, as v. 35,37. Fear of other gods will either keep out or drive out a right fear of the true God.

V. 39. But the Lord your God je [hall fear ] It is not fufficient to withdraw our hearts from other Gods, unless we fet them up-and he shall deliver you out of the hands of all your enemies \ God takes care of fuch as fear him, both to provide for them, and also to protect them, yea and to deliver them from their enemies. The Covenant before mentioned on Gods part, together with the conditions annexed, for Gods people to observe, is here for down to aggravate the rebellion of the Ifraelites and to justifie Gods proceedings against them.

V. 40, Hembeit they did not bearken] No mercies work upon obstinate hearts.

but they did after their former manner] See v. 34.

V. av. So these national Here he returns to set forth the disposition and carriage of those men whom the King of Asiyria had brought out of other Countries, and placed in the City of Samaria; of whom, fee y, 20,80c. I hele somewhat altered their former practice, but the Ifraelites in captivity remained feared the Lord ] Acknowledged Jehovah to be a God, and did iome fervices to him. See v. 32,33.

and ferved their graven images This shews that their fear of the Lord was unfound and fervile. See verf. 33. Zeph. chap.

both their children and their childrens children] Their posterity, generation after generation, till the last destruction of the temle by the Romanes. The amaritans mentioned in the New Festament, were of this posterity.

as did their fathers, fo do they ] They continued a mungril generation, halting betwist two religions. See 1 King. ch. 18.21. unto this day \ See 1 King. q. 12.

CHAP. XVIII.

Verf. 1. Ow it came to pais in the third year of Hofbea] This third year is to be reckoned from the beginning of the nine years mentioned ch. 17. 1. Ahaz reigned fixteen years current, ch. 16. 2. Hofhea beginning to reign in the twelfth year of Ahaz, there remain four, to make up the fixteenth of Abaz , but in reckoning years current, the laft ufeth teenn of Abaz; our in reckoning years current, the last ulerh to be swallowed up, and in this refor of Hezekiah's reign takes beginning from the third year of Hostea; which being com-plete, may be brought to the end of Ahaz his reign, and beginning of Hezekiahs.

the son of Eldh King of Ifrael] See ch. 17.1. that Hezekiah the son of Ahaz King of Judah began to reign ] 2 Chr. 28. 27. & 29. 1. He is called Ezekiah, hat. 1. 9. See chap. 16. 20. Here a pious fon succeedeth a most impious fa-

V. 2. Twenty and five yeers old was he when be began to reign] Sec ch. 16.2.

and he reigned twenty and five yeers in Ferufalem] By this account he was fifty four years old when he dyed.

bis mothers name alfo was Abi] Or, Abijab. 2 Chron. 29. 1. Abi fignifies my father : Abijah, the father of the Lord. Why the names of mothers of Kings are fet down, See I King. ch. 15.

the dauehter of Zachariah | Some take this Zachariah, to be the King of Ifrael, mentioned ch. 14. 29. Josephus the Jew faith, that he was of Jerufalem. V. 2. And he did that which was right in the fight of the Lord]

See 1 King. 14. 8. & 15.5.
according to all that David his father did | Here Hezekiah, in the fincerity of his heart, and integrity of life, is made like un-to David his father, both by natural descent, and royal succesfion. See I King. 3. 14. & 9.4.

V. 4. He removed the high places ] 2 Chron. 31. 4. This was according to the commandement of the Lord, Deut. 7. 5.

Of high places, fee 1 King. 3.4. and brake the images] Heb. flatues. See ch. 10.26. See also

King.23.13.

and cut down the groves ] Of groves, See 1 King. 16.33.
and brake in pieces the brazen ferpent that Mofes had made] Numb. 21. 8,9. This branch ferpent was first erected, as a means to cure such as looked thereon, of the sting of fiery ferpents; It was continued as a monument of Gods great mercy towards the children of Ifrael : It was also an especial type of Chrift, Joh. 3.14,15.
for unto those dayes, the children of Ifrael did burn incense to it]

Of incense, See : King. 9, 25. Because God had used it as an especial means of curing their deadly sting, they so much do-ted thereon as to yeeld divine honour thereunto. Therefore | Hofhen was the first of Hezekiah, vers. 1. Thus the fixth of did this good king break it in precess, and occuming a comparing one Kings raign with another, are oftonger dishonoured thereby. When things lawfull, and useful, years of comparing one Kings raign with another, are oftone are nerverted to Idolatry, they may lawfully be destroy. [vivallowed up, because the years are reckened current. See and he called it Nebulhtan. The word fignifies, brafs, or brazen. By this name he gave the people to understand, that it was but a piece of brass; and that there was no deity in it; and therefore no worthip to be done to it, no facrifice or ineense to be offered unto it. Some that read it, they called it, namely, the people, when they faw it fo broken to pieces,

Chap. xviij.

V. S. Hetrufted This is laid down, as the ground of all that piery, integrity, zeal, courage, and other graces, here-after mentioned. For faith, and confidence in God, is a mother-Grace.

in the Lord God of Ifrael | See ch. 8. 15.

in the Lord God of Hutel | See ch. 8. 15.
So that sfree him, was more like him, among all the kings of Julab | This may literally, and properly be taken. For in this particular, of reforming religion, the went beyond all that fucceeded him. In good Joshib time there was more idolatry in the land, among the people, then in Hezekiahs time, Jer. 2. in the land, among the people, tear in Hizzesians time, 16:3; 6,11. Enflets, Hizzekiah began his reformation in the very first moneth of his raign: But Josha hi nis eight year, 2 Chro. 34. 3. But above all, there were such animaculous effects of Hezzekiahs prayer, 2s of no kings clic, ch. 19.15. & 20.2, &c. wer asy that were before him J Apply this to such as were present.

perly called Kings of Judah; namely, fuch as raigned in Ju-dah, after the result of the ten tribes, and we shall finde none of them like to Hezekiah. As for David, Hezekiah is faid so be like to him, v. z. and Hezekiah is the first that is noted to have removed the high places. But to remove all doubts about this phrase; know, that this phrase, none like him, either after or before him, is a proverbial speech, which highly commends one. Proverbs carry a general fenfe, wherein they hold grue, though one or two particulars may feem to make against them. The like is faid of Josiah, chap, 22, 25. So in discom-mendation, fundry wicked ones are said to do worse then any before them, as I King. 16 25,30.

V. 6. For be clave to the Lord This phrase implyeth a close and fast adhering to a thing, so as not to be parted from it. Thus a man is faid to cleave to his wife, Gen. 2. 24. and Ruth of Jeroboam, 2 King. 3. 3. In this respect, the Apostle exhor-teth to cleave to that which is good, Rom. 12. 9. And we are oft exhorted to cleave to the Lord, Deut, 44, & 10 20. Josh 22.8.

and departed not from following him] Heb. from after him. See r King. 9. 6. This negative, added to the affirmative, punish the fins of Judah, discover the weakness of Hezekiah, thews the force of that word cleaving. but kept bis commandements ] This is a proof of following the which the Lord commanded Mofes ] Mofes was that Minister by whom God made known all those commandements, which should from time to time, be a rule to his people. V. 7. And the Lord was with him ] As he was with Abra.

ham, Gen. 2 1.22. Sec 1 Chro. 22.11. and he professed whitherforver he went forth | God bleffed all his enterprises; whether in war, or in fortifying his defenced father was forced to be, ch. 16.7.

and [trued bim not] This shews, in what respect he is said to rebel; they who do not ferve fuch as they are made fub iect unto, are faid to rebel. Now indeed, the Kingdom was left by his father to him, in a fubjection to the King of Affyria; but he being no way bound to serve as his father did, because he used by way of ransome, what thou shalt require. Thus he seeks his liberty, and cast that yoke from him, he is faid to rebel. to buy his peace. Or that phrase may be used, in regard of the King of Assyria's opinion, he thought that Hezekiah rebelled, though he did

V. 8. He fmote the Philistims ] The Philistims had, in the V. 8. He finete the Builifium! The Philiftims had, in the and five hundred pounds fterling. See T. Chr. 22.42.

zign of his father Aboz, taken many cities from Judah, and thirty takens gold! An hundred twelve thouland and a Circo 28.18.11c had therefore just caude to finite them, that [ive hundred pounds fireling. The value of each metal was the is, to destroy them. See I King. 15.29.

even unto Gaza] Heb. Azza. This was one of the five pounds, principallities of the Phillithms, I Sam. 6. 17. Sec I King V. 15. and the borders thereof ] Such parts as coafted, or bordered upon the land of Ifrael. from the tower of the watch men to the fenced cities. \ See chap.

V. 9. And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Hezekiah] did this good king break it in pieces, that God might be no Hofhea, fhould be the fourth of Hez-kiahs; but the first or last verf. 1.

verl. 1.

that Shalmamerer king of Affyria? See ch. 17.3. The hiftery of Iliraels captivity fet down, ch. 17. 6. is here again repeated, to flow, how God can preferve the godly, when he defitoyeth the wicked, 2 Pet. 2.9. came up against samaria, and besieged it.] See ch 17.5.

V. 10. And at the end of three yeers they took it ] See chap.

even in the fixth year of Hezekiah] He being three yeers in belieging it, the first of those three, was the fourth of Hezekiah, the second his fift, the third his fixth. that is the ninth year of Hofbea] ch. 17.6.

Samaria was taken ] ch. 17.6.

V. 11. And the king of Allyria did carry away Ifraei umo Affyria, &c. ] chap. 17, 6.

V. 12. Because they obeyed not the voyce of the Lord, &c. ] This reason of the Lords giving his people over to their enemies, is largely amplyfied, ch. 17.7, &c. Of this stile, servant of the Lord; See 1 King.3.6.
V. 13. Now in the fourteembyeer of hing Hegehiab] 2 Chr.

32.1. Ifai.26.1. This was eight yeers after that the King of Affyria had carried Ifrael away captive. Certainly, Senacherib, in those eight years, was occupied about subduing other countries, or else he would not have suffered Hezekiah to have enjoyed quiet fo long. But there was a greater cause then, that namely, Gods providence, whereby he kept Hezekiah from being interrupted in his work of reformation, till he had finished the same, See 2 Chro.32.1. did Senacherib] Heb. San he-rib. This was the fon of Shal-manezer. See ch. 19. 12. It appears, that Shalmanezer had work enough to do with other nations, in that he fuffered the King of Judah, who cast off his yoke, to remain quiet so long as he did; or it may be, that he discerned the Kingdom of Judah to be too strong for him to get it; but after his death Se-nacherib his fon waxed more bold, and attempts to do what his father did nor.

come up against all the fenced cities of Judah] He means such I find to cleave to ther mother, Ruth 1.14. And the men of cities as were well furnished and prepared against an enemy, Judah unto their King, 2 Sam. 20.2. And Jehoram to the fins thercof.

and took them] His army with which he came, was a very formidable army; for there were flain by God an hundred fourfcore and five thousand fouldiers of that army, ch. 19. 25. no marvel therefore, though he took them : God herein might and bring more glory to his Name, in the enemies after-confusion, ch. 19. 32, &c. He took many of those Cities, not all: he thought to do more then he did, 2 Chr. 32. 1. In his conceit of conquest, he was conquered, ch. 19.28,35.

V. 14. And Hezekiah king of Judah fent to the king of Affyria] Herein he manifetted his weakness. Though before the danger his heart failed him; yet when he was in the danger, he was courageous himfelf, and incouraged others, 2 Chron, 22.

to Lachifb] See ch. 14. 19. The king of Affyria was before his enterprites; whether in war, our in tortaying his atteneous interesting to the property of 2 Chr. 22 2,&c. but continuance and increase of danger quail'd his spirit.

return from me] That which he durft not attempt by force, he sceks to redress by treaty.

that which thou puttest on me will I bear I will willingly pay, and the King of Assyria appointed unto Hezekiah King of Judah] For him to pay as a ranfome.

three hundred talents of filver] An hundred twelve thousand fame, fo as the total of all is, two hundred twenty five thougand

V. 15. And Herekiab gave him all the filver that was found in the boule of the Lord, &c.] See 2 King. 16.8. Thus had Ahaz bis father, an impious idolater, done before him, to this King of Affyria's father. Such a father as Ahaz, was no good pre-fident for fuch a fon as Hezekish. The beft have their failings.

V. 16. At that time did Hezekiah cut off the gold from the deors of the Temple of the Lord ] This aggravates Hezekiah's In the very beginning of its. Seev. 1.

whith was the [eventh pear of Hoften, Sec.] The third year of fault, in that the did not only fool the Temple of the treasfure thete-laid] Piety moved Hexekiah in the beginning of his reign, to repair with gold what his father bad pulled off, 2 Chron. chap, 29. verl. 3. but now fear makes bim pull off the fame and gave it] Heb. them. There were many places of gold, and those pull'd off from many places, and therefore it is faid and more puts do tricom many piaces, and therefore it is faid in the pural number, he gave them, so the King of Alfrid.] This king was a mortal enemy to the lews; yet to prevent danger, Hezekiah prefents a bountiful Prefent to him.

V. 17. And the king of Allyia fent] He received the present, but flood not to the condition, nor kept his word. For having received the money, he would have Hezekiah give over himfelf wholly to the will of his enemy, and deliver Jerufalem into his hands, v. 31,32. Tirtan and Rabfaris, and Rabshaheb] These were three great Commanders in the King of Affyria's army. But Rab-thakeh was the chiefest of them all, and their spokes-man, from Lachish to king Hezekiah ] At this time the King of Affyria lay in siege before Lachish, or else having taken it, he abode therein.

with a great hofte ] Heb, heavy bofte. This implyes that he had taken Lachish, or else he would not have raised his army from before it, and fent them to Jeru'alem. He fent this huge hofte, to terrific Hezekiah, and to make him yield to his

and they went up and came to Ferusalem] They were ready and forward to put the charge of their Soveraign and General and when they were come up ] Jerulalem was on the fide of an hill and therefore they went up to it they came and flood by the conduit of the upper pool] This conduit was without Jerufalem; into which water was let out of a lake in a field; and from that conduit was water conveighed into the city. Hereof mention is made, Ifai. 7. 3. It is fliled the upper pool, because it was above the conduit, that water might the better defrend from that pool into the conduit. Befides, we read of a lower pool, Ifai. 24.9. From that this upper pool is diffinguished.

which is in the high way of the fullers-field ] The word tranflated bieb. was fignifieth also a causey-way. Some take it to be a way paved with flones; others a beaten-way. The field did, to be matters of impiety and facciledg. Of high-places, is flifed the fuller: field, because fullers did there use to wash, See 1 King, 3.4. dryc, and ftrerch out their clothes.

V. 18. And when they had called to the king ] To speak with him for they were not admitted into the city. But the King and his Counsellors not thinking it meet that the King himfelf thould go to him in his own person, messengers are there came out to them, Eliakim the fon of Hilkiah] This was that pious Governour, of whom mention is made, Ifai, 22, which was outr the housbould] See 1 King. 4. 6. By this title it appears, that Shebna's office was transferred upon this Eliakim, according to the prophefic mentioned, Ilai 22.21.

and flobra the Scribej Or, Secretary. See I King. 4-3. Because another office is here ascribed to Sheba, then was Isaizz. flewardsfhip, the King would not have made him his Scribe or fidence. Secretary. Others are of opinion, that Shebna here mentioaccretary. Onners are or opinion, total sincona mere infentio-ned, was an old man, and though he were put from being over the houthold, for his difability well to manage that great place 3, yet the place of the Kings Scribe or Secretary, being an ho-nourable place, and a place that required not on much pains and care as the other; he was made Scribe.

and Josh the sonof Asab the Recorder | See 1 King. 4.3.
V. 10. And Rabshach (sid unto them | Because the King. himself came not forth to them, v. 18, they require that their meffage be delivered to bim.

Thus faith the great king] This is a proud and prefumptu-ous preface. They prefs the name of their King, as Prophets were wont to prefs the name of the Lord of hofts, Jet. 6. 9. Zach. 1.3. See v. 29.
What confidence is this wherein thou trustest? ] He slightesth

Is not companies to the whortest town trajects 2 are inguited and feorest confidence in all others, tout in hintelf:

V. 20. Thou fairff Or, talkeff. He reckoneth up those grounds of confidence, which he suppose the Hezekish and his people might have to stand against the King of Assyriah, and takes upon him to manifest the vanity of them all.

(but they are but wain words) Heb. word of the lips. Such words as are onely uttered with the mouth, but come not from Hezekiah, as is more manifest v. 24.

thereof, v. 15. but also pulled the gold from the doors thereof.

Such place of gold are here mean as were list upon the doors.

Fing. 6. 15. They are fruitlefs, worth nothing counted and the strong of the sure of of firength, are both of them most necessary for defence against an enemy. But this, by way of derifion, he objecteth to Hezekiah, as if he had neither ; and therefore faith, they were vain > now on whom doft thou truft? ] This is a fecond supposed ground of Hezekiahs confidence, that he had fome other to rruft on but himfelf.

> that thou rebellest against me ] Hereby he implyeth, that if Hezekiah had not some other to trust upon then himself, he would not dare to rebel against the King of Assyria. V. 21. Now behold | This phrase sheweth, that what follow> eth is uttered in way of derifion, thou truffeft ] Heb. truffeft thee, Reposeft thy felf and thy upon the flaff of this bruifed reed | He ufeth this metaphor of a reed, because Egypt lying low among rivers, had much reedy ground. Egypt is here relembled to a staff, by reason of that pretence which it maketh of belp and support; to a staff of reed, by reason of its impotency; to a bruised or broken reed, by reason of the damage that is like to accrue from thence. For a reed broken or bruifed, is fharp and full of teeth, and pierceth into a mans fl. ft., Ifai. 36.6. Ezek.29.6,7.

even upon Egypt, on which if a man lean, it will go into his hand and pierce it ] In these words, he maketh a particular expression of his intention, under that metaphor of a staff of a bruised

So is Pharoah king of Egypt unto all that truft on him] Hereby he implyeth, that Pharoah hath failed, and ftill will fail all that place their confidence in him.

V. 22. But if yo say unto me, we trust in the Lord our God]
This is a third ground of confidence which upbraids to Hezekiah. This indeed was a found, fure ground, and he alleadgeth it in the full extent thereof, by expressing the title Jebovah, under this word, LORD; and also by adding that special relation which was betwixt God and the Jews, in this phrase, our God. God can demonstrate, even to enemies, the ground of his faints confidence; but they fleight, it and pervert is not that he whole high-places Here he labors to prove, that even this ground of confidence was but vain, and that by accounting fuch matters of piety and holy zeal, which Hezekiah

See 1 King. 3.4.

and whole altars Hezekiah bash taken away ? ] Among other figns, means and inffruments of idolatry, altars whereon facrifices to idols were offered, were principal ones. These indeed, together with high-places, did Hezekiah toke away, 2 Chro. 31.1. but therein he much pleafed God, and no way offended him, as this blafphemer avoucheth. and bath faid to Judab and Ferufalem] To the inhabitants of these places, which were in his dominion.

Te shall worship before this altar in Ferusalem He means that great Altar which was made by Solomon, for all manner of great Attar wnten was made by solethon, for an insinter of factifices. With emphasis he expressed hit, under this particle, see, 2 Chron. 32.12. Yet herein is he deceived, in that he saith, incense was to be burnt upon it; for there was one great altar of brass for facrifices, 2 Cron, 4. 1. and another of gold for incense, 2 Chron. 4. 19. 1 Chro. 28.18.
V. 23. Now therefore This is an inference which he makes

I pray thee ] This in the Hebrew is but one little word of two letters | which is here often taken for a meer complement or supplement, and translated now. As Pial. 111. 1,2,3, 4. We can take it no other waies here. Our English phrase, pray thee, is oft fo taken.

give pledges] Or, hoftages. His meaning is, that they should willingly submit themselves, and give assurance of their

to my Lord the king of Affria For in his name he agitated this and I will deliver thee two thousand horses] Here he returns to speak in the Kings name, as he beganv. 19. Or it may be, that the King had given him power to perform what here he if thou be able on the part to fet riders upon them] This is a plain whereby he implies, that Judah bad neither ewo thoufand horfes, nor yet two thouland menable to be troopers. And thus he may in fcorn use the former phrase, in his own name ; as if he had faid, I my felf am able to affoord thee two thousand horses, but thou hast not men enough to use them. Thus he prefers not only his Master, but even himself also before Chap. xviij. V. 24. How then with then turn away the face ] Deny what Prophets phrase to God, See v. 19.

Transferd. See : Runk. z. 16. 20. Or it may be taken, for put Let not He which decembeyon? He would make them believe is required. See r King. z. 16, 20. Or it may be taken, for put-of one Capsain of the least of my Masters (ervants] He doch not only prefer his Soveraign, and himfelf a but also every Captain, even the lowest and meanest of the King of Assyria. before the king of Judah himfelf.

and but the stuft on Eggos | He thought that all Hezekiahs truft was on Egypt (to whom he fought not at all in this cafe; ) and therefore as he prefied it, v.21. fo here he returns to it again.

for chariots and for hor[smen] Of all nations, Egypt most a-for the states and to implement of all nations, agyptimous a-bounded with the fee. See I. King, 10.18. V. 15. Am I now come up without the Lord?] This blafthe-mer, having as be thought, lufficiently discovered the vain con-fidence of Hexikish, now he laised down the ground of his mallers confidence. And that is, a falle pretence of Gods fending him. For the interrogative, implyes in this place a negative. And this phrase, without the Lord, implyes a commission, direction and affiltance from the Lord. Indeed it was by Gods fecret counfel, that he came, Ifai, 10. c. &c. But he knew it against this place to destroy it. This is the end which he nimed at in coming against Terusalem, and thereupon be pretends that God fent him for that end. This he faith, to affright them

The Lord faid unto me, Go up againft this Lind and desirey it]
He never had any such message from the Lord; but either willingly he suggests a falshood, to accomplish his own ends the fooner; or he might have an imagination of fome fuch

V. 26. Then pain Estagration from of Psissian, man outcome, and Josh Because these three were sent by the King, v. 18. they are all named; but Eliakian only spake; the reit affented to what he said unto Rabsh keh. See v. 17.

freak I pray thee ] See v. 23. 22 thr forunts ] He ufeth this phrase of subjection complementally, that he might gain audience, and not provoke in the Syrian Language Though the Syrian were a diffinct language from the Hebrew; yet in many words, phrases, and kindle of prenounciation, it came neer the hebrew.

(for we understant it) ] They being courtiers were skil'd in forraign languages; as Courtiers, Nobies, and Gentry use and talke not with us in the Jews language] Some hence gather, that this Rabshakeh was a Jew, and trained up among them; for though the Jews might be skilful in other languiges, yet very few in other nations learned the Jews lanin the ears of the people ] So as the people may hear and un-this are on the well] By this phrase, he sheweth what kinde of people he meant, namely, such fouldiers as were placed on the wall of the ries, to amaintain it.

V. 27. But Rabsbakeh said unto them ] Rabshakeh was so far from being moved with Eliakims complemental speech, as he is thereby the more flirred up to make the people conceive his minde and meaning; and the more to affright them. Had Eliakim well confidered to whom he spake, namely, to an implacable enemy, he would certainly have foreborn to jutter what he did. It was a rafh and unadvifed motion.

Hath my mafter fent meto thy mafter ] Both of them were fent from their own King.

and to thee, to fresh these words? ] These phrases, thy and thee, are intended exclusively; as it he had thus faid, to him and bath he not fent me to the men that fit on the wall | See v. 26.

nation was from mark inclinationally feel to the study [58]. As Journey of their goest names are experience, course, the thop may on their own dung, and drinks their own pifs with gave 1 Heb., the water of their of the. For mencale to make water betweinsteheinfeet. Hencely, he simplyeth, that it they come by the Affyrians: or the godd of Samaria are underflood. yield it mor, they were likely to endure all the extremities of a under this relative, they, fiege, and be brought to extream hunger and thirit, and have nothing no latisfic the same.

V. 28. Then Tabshakeh stood and cryed with a land norce ] Heb. great 201ce. The greater a found is, the farther it is board. He lift up his voyce the higher, that more might hear him, the more to affright them.

in the Icur language.] This Elizkim got by his unadviled motion to his enemy. Heiftirged him up the more to affright.

that all the encouragements which Hezekish could give them, would be to no purpole.

for he fall, not be able to deliver you I He was not well acquainted with Gods almighty power, whereupon Hezekiah ttuffed: And by which he was delivered. one of his hand 1 From the power of the king of Affyria.

V. 20. Neither let Hezelijab make you truf in the Lord ] Proud men feck to draw Gods people trom their confidence in the Lord. For this fheweth, that Rabshakeh was perswaded that Hozekish did move them to trust in the Lord. faying, The Lord will furely deliver to Heb. delivering will eliverits. See t King 8.13.

and this city fault not be delivered into the hand of the King of Affria] He was over-confident in getting Jerulalem; and too peremptory, in thinking that the Lord would not, or out a not deliver them.

V. 31. Hearken not to Hezehiab ] He thought that it was He-zekiah's perforation that kept them from yielding, and therefore zekish's perivasion that kept them from yeeuing, and theretore he fo much fiftisch upon this fiting. Seev. 29. 30. make an agreement with me by a preferr) Or, feek my fausur. Heb. make with me a bliffing, His meaning is, that they fhould make peace with him, or tender a preferr to him. Or, by a prefent procure their peace and come out to me] Yield to me, and deliver the city to my

and then eat yelevery man of his own wine, and every one of his own fig-tree, and drink we every one the waters of his own cittern T the looser; or the might have an inagination of loom [inch | own fig. rate, and drinky everyone the maters of the conditions of the moderal lines is been also as the moderal lines of the work of the moderal lines in both and the moderal lines in both as the property of the plants, is, in implicit, that if conquering other nations, v. 34, but also in taking, fundry they would yield to him, they should by his permittion, and uncitted in John and by realon of the startledgy which sleep posted three kines from the internaces, and parather posted three kines and the first post of the fruit of their labors. Vines and sign trees, were special considered the property of the fruit of their labors. Vines and sign trees, were special vines and they were very plentially, and very were very plentially, and where they had not rivers, they had ponds and work, and considered the control of the first plants of the vines were the plants of the very plentially, and so the plants of the plants of the very lars are here expressed fynechdochically. V. 32. Umill I come ] This implies a limitation of his promife, namely, that upon their yielding to him, he would depart, and fuffer them quietly to enjoy what they had, and after a time come again.

and take you away to a land like your own land] Hereby he implyes, that he would deal with them, as he had done with Ifinel, ch. 17.6. He plainly tels it, because he could not but know that they would fear that he would fo deal with a land of corn and wine a land of bread and vineyards, a land of oyl office, and of honey ] These particulars were plentiful in Ju-dea, and he implying, that he would fettle them in places that should abound with all needful commodities, as Deut. 32. 13. 14. See Exo. 3.8. Job 20.17.

ooled difference betwixt their standing out against him, and yielding unto him. If they yielded, they fhould live. If they perfifted to fland our, they could expect nothing bur and bearken not unto Hezekiab, when he per [wadeth you] Or,deceiveth vou. Sec v. 21.

faying, The Lord will deliver jou ] See v. 30.

paying, the low me united pays 1 Seev. 30.

1. 33. Hath am gods of the nations delivered at all 1 Heb. delivering delivered. See 1 King. 8.12. bis land out of the third of the King of Affiria 1 Herein he equals the idols of the pations to Jehovah the only true God. See

v. 35. See alfo v. 30.

V. 34. Where are the gods This is a most infolent infults. tion of a mortal man.

of Hamath and Aroad | Thefe were Cities of Syria. See Ier. where are the gods Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah] Thefe Were other Cities vanquished by the King of Affyria, chap. 17.

V. 35. Who are they among all the gods of the Countries that bave delivered their country out of mine band] See v. 33. His pride maketh him inculcate again and again the fame things, and that against those when he had accounted gods. He advanceth himfelf above them all.

that the Lord fhould deliver fernfelem out of mine band] Here again he doth equal the true God Jehovah with plain

V. 36. But the people held their peace, and answered bira we a and fibble fring. Hear the metal of the great King, the King of mord.) The people like what if the had followed upon Elisking affects. See M. 19.

**See M. 19.

**Comparison of the representation of the properties of the properties of the people of the p Alluvications of the first communication was found in the first proper. This parale implyets, as a raming far the first added as one special reason or their florest. The king is up of the fear on high to God that is in beaven; so allo more than one of the first proper, that their might make them give from the first proper in the form of the mer, whereby the enemy might take fome advantage, and be for the remnant that are left! Heb. found. By the remnant, the more exalperated. Befdes, filence is oft a contempt of an he means those that remained in Judah, who were comparainfolent fprech.

indoen threeth.

9. 37. Then same Elitelin, Re. | See v. 18

with their cluber real | Heb. rents of their cluber. This rite

1 Chro. 8.6. Secondly, Shalmanazer that clube away the transfer of rending cluber, was of old after down occasion of grief, as triber, 1.73.6. Thirdly, this numbers had effected an experiment of rending cluber, was fold after the rendered with the fear of this enemy, an experiment of took difficulture, as a figure of green the rendered many. Of the control of the rendered cluber, as a figure of green the rendered many. Of the control of the rendered rendered rendered many. Of the control of the rendered contrition. (2 King. 22.11, 19.) and also upon hearing of blafphemy, as in evidence of great indignation, Mat. 26, 65. All these may be here intended.

and told him the words of Rabshaheb | That the King himself might as deeply apprehend the danger, wherein they all were, as they did; and might the more feriously advite about preventing the danger that hung over their heads.

CHAP. XIX.

Verf. r. And it came to pair when Hezekiah heard it I Ifai.

17.1. This hath relation to all Rabinakeh's Failings, mentioned in the former chapter; and withal it is added, 2 Chron. 32. 16. that Sennacheribs servants spake yet more against the Lord God, and against his servant Hezekiah. that he rent bis clothes Even as Eliakim, and others had done befare, ch. 18.37.

and covered himfelf with fackeloth] Of the use and end of and covered similar with placehold of the line and child of this rite, (see 1 King. 21. 27. and went snot she boule of the Lord] There to make folema grayer; and to offer facrifice. See 1 King. 8.33,62. V. 2. And be few Eldskim, e.g., See th. 18.18. and she Elder of the Prinft? Infleed of Joah the Recorder, thele Elders are now fent. As those were elder in age then others; so had they a government over other Priests and Le-sovered with [ackeloth] Both King and Priests and Nobles were all covered with fackeloth; because it was a common and publike danger that hung over all their heads; fo Jon.

mito Ifaish the Prophet, the four of Amos ] This was that Prophet whose propheties are regulared in the book of God, and set before all the rest, Isa, 1.1. He sent to this Prophet, to incheiore all the rell, 131, 11, 114 lent to this Proposit, to know the filler of this danger, to be directed by him what to do, and to have the benefit of his prayers; for it was one part of a prophers function, to pray for people, Gen. 20.7.

3. And they faild unto him, Than faith keepfaid) Heze-kiab, put their mediage into their mouth, and they answerably kun put their metage into tacir mouts, and tacy atmetasty, deliver it as from him.

"this day is a day of resulte and reluke! At this time we are executingly moleculed by the enemy, who doth not only be-face our city, but also exceedingly reproach us.

and kitflewin JO, provosation, by halphening the great name of God, they do much provoke God himfelf.

for the children are come to the birth, and there is not firength to bring forth This is a parabolical speech. In it Jerusalem that | 8, 22. intigration | This is a parabolical speech. In its evolution that is was befieged as refembled to a somain it travel; it in inhabiting, comfants in the womb; the Arcighnets of the firege, to make the and other taming of the perturn enemy, to opins of travell; the Semacherite bound the taking of Lachifto be too difficults. Semacherite bounders, to the distillation of the woman in travell task as that time, and therefore leftirs, for it was a very trong the contraction of the contracti do not now help us, we perifh.

[V.4. Is may be] This, is a phrase taken from men, when they conceal their minde in fuch things, as there is from hope they will do. In this place, it is nor a phrase of doubt and diffidence, but of good hope and confidence, as John 14.12. 1 Sam.

the Lord thy God | See | King. 1.17. He ufeth this phrase and that by confounding the devices of to proud an enemy, and that by confounding the devices of to proud an enemy.

"stomathe king of Affrita, his mafter, hab fent to reproate] To blatcheme and dithonour Gods name, the living God? That God, who fash life of himself, and in idols, is to reproach him: fo did Rabshakeh, ch. 18.35.

and will reprove the words which the Lord thy God hath heard]

To reprove such words, is, to show how vain and false they are; -going to reprote much in 10 old (Robinstein, cal. 23).

"and will reprote wind which the Let alth God hinbhard will be a state of the Let alth God hinbhard tively, in regard of former times, but a remnant. For first, a

V. 5. So the fervants of Hezekiab came to Ifaiah] These servants were those hunourable and venerable persons, which are mentioned, v. 2. for they were of the Kings court, and in that respect as his houshold servants. Besides all sorts of subjects are fervants to their Soveraign. These readily do the Kings meffiage.

V. 6. And Ifaiab] Luk. 3.4. called Efair.
J. 6. And Ifaiab] Luk. 3.4. called Efair.
J. 6. Lord water from, Thus finally pe [ap to your mafter] The Lord whose eyes are in every place, beholding the evil and the good, well knowing the enemies militairyous minde, and Hezekitah's well knowing the enemies milehtevous minde, and Hezekiah's faith, foon revended his minde to his Prophet Islaih.

Thus faith the Lord] See 1 King. 12. 14.

Be not affiaid of the words which thus haft heard] Herein the Lord encourageth his humble fervant against the proud threats of the entemy, mit which the fervants of the king of Allystal. The hebrew word properly fignifieth, young men. See ch. 4.14. The plural number is here used, though Rabshakeh onely utered words, because many affilied him, and consented to his blafphemy, ch 18.17.18.

have blafthemed me] By making me no better then an idol, ch. 18.35. God here appropriateth the quarrel to himself, the their proud enemy.

their proud enemy.

V. 7. Beheld, I will fend a blaft upon him] The hebrew word properly figurifeth a winde. Here it figurifeth, that which like the blaft of a terrible tempest, should over throw his formidable army, or drive it as chaff clean away.

be [hall bear a rumor] This he did when Tirhakah came to fight against him, v. 9. and when destruction fell upon his whole army, v.35.

and [ball return to bis own land] Which he was forced to do upon the lefs of his army, v. 36. and I will cause him to fall ] God wifely and righteously ordereth the plots of the wicked.

by the (word in bit own land] How this was accomplished,

V. 8. So Rabshakeb returned] Rabshakeh himself without the army, that was left ftill before Jerufalem. He might return to the King of Affyria, to inform him of the Jews unalterable refolution, and having heard of Tirhakah, to advile with the King, whether it were meet to remove the army, or and found the king of Affria warring against Libnah ] Libnah was also a strong frontier city in Judah. Thereof, See chap.

REAGAINS OF THE PAPER S DEPOSE OF THE PAPER that the King of Affyria had two great armies at this time, one before Jerusalem, and another before Libnah.

V. 9. And when he heard [ay] This is meant of Sennacherib, who heard this rumour, either from Rabshakeh, or some other way.

of Tirbakah king of Ethiopia ] Heb. Cufb. The Ethiopias sudd to raile huge hofts. See 2 Chron. 14. 9. therefore this news must needs affright the King of Affyria.

the cost by one joet lang. 1.17. Heymen this pursue, we have been supported by $Gd_1$ to fit injury the more to call upon the Lord, who not made the King of $Alfysis.

After this probability of $Gd_1$ in the strength of $Gd_2$ in the field the strength of $Gd_2$ in the field, the k case out to $fgh_2$ again the? Whether le went to the field, the k case out to $fgh_2$ again the? Whether le went to the field, the k case out to $fgh_2$ again the? Whether le went to the field, the k case out to $fgh_2$ again the?

After the field that the field that the field that the field that the case of the other was called the strengthed, the kind of the $Gd_2$ in the field, that the strength of the works called the other was called the strength of the field that the cities of Judah. be [ent ] Heb. be turned and fent. He defifted from his enterprize at Libnah, and fent.

bhishene and dibboout toos name. the living Gal T has God who bash life of himfell, and in the living Gal T has God who bash life of himfell, and in himfell, and core formained by who also hash the power of organization in the control of the number and rank of damb and fenfles of the control him fold fold should be a control him fold for should be control to the financial control him fold for should be control to the financial control him fold for should be control to the financial control him fold for should be control to the financial control him fold for should be control to the financial control to the financi

had written by word of mouth, left Hezekiah fhould lay the | applyed to God, after the manner of man, to make men better letter afide and refuse to read it : or, that both by word and letter state and reture to read it: or, that both by word and concern writing, he might the more certifie him. It no thy god it whom that traffel deceius the. Sec. ] This in fence, effect was elevered before by Rablinkeh, ch. 18, 29, 30. He might think that wha? Rablinkeh had pokento the Souldin. her. ers on the wall, chapter 18. verf. 27. was not reported to Hezekiah, or elfe, that by inculcating the same thing again and again, he might the more terrifit Hezekiah, a Chron.

32 18.
V. 11. Behold, then half heard what the Kings of Affyrizhave done] This also was in effect delivered by Rabihakch, ch. 18.

to all lands] This universal particle, all, is to be restrained to the nations thereabouts; or to be taken of all that he attempted to take, or Synechdochically, for many.

by destroying them utterly ] Not that he slew all, but dis-peopled them of their own inhabitants, ch. 17. 6,24.

and shalt thou be delivered? ] This interrogation imports a flrong negation, Gen. 18. 17.

V. 12. Have the gods of the nations delivered them] See chap.

18. 33., which my futbers] Predecessors, as his father Shalmanester, (ch. 17. 36.) his grand-father Tiglath-Pileler (ch. 15. 29.)
his great grand-father Pul, (ch. 15. 19. have destroyed ] See v. 11.

as Gozan] See ch. 17. 6.

Haran See Gen. 11.31.
and Rezopb This is faid to be scituated in Mesapotamia.

and the children of Eden] Some take Eden for the proper name of a man. Others, for that Country wherein the garname of a man. Others, for that Country wherein the gar-den of God was (Gen. 2. 8.) feituate in Caldea, Eck. 27. 23. Thus, children of Eden, are put for the inhabitants there-of, as (Eur. 2. 21, 26.) children of Bethlehem, children of which were in Thelasar] This is taken for a Country by some;

with owere in inestaling into statem for a Country by Iomes by others, for a forterfe by Euphrates. V. 13. Where is the King of Humath, &c. ] Of these places Rabshake made mention th. 18.34. Only instead of goods, the word, King, is here used. By these two words it is implyed, the word, king, is nere used. By these two words it is implyed, that neither their god, nor their king, could deliver them. V. 14. And Heretish received the letter of the hand of the messenger, and read is His faith wade him ready to hear and read the worst that his enemy could say or write.

read the worft that his enemy could say or write.

and Hreefelds were a pins the banke of the Lord! See v. 1.

and Iproad is! He last the letter wide one. This he did, that by the fighte of the bladphenics which were into the bankings which were into the bearings which were into our fixing he more threefely. When men read in letters, things grievous to themselves, and dithonortable to others, they will open to the second of the seco the letters, and show them to those others, and say, behold, all others might know as much. fee, read what he hath written against you.

before the Lord] Before the Altar, which was a representation of Gods prefence. So Solomon, 1 King, chapter 8, ver. 22, 28. Or, it might be before the door of the temple, thorow which he might fee the most holy place, where the Ark was, which was the most special evidence of Gods presence, Levit. 1. 3. 1 Chron. 16. 1. 1 King. 8.64. See ch. 16. 14.

V. 15. And Herekiah prayed before the Lord] See verf. 14. Hezekiah did not make a dumb shew, when he spread the letter before God; but withal maketh a servent and effectual and faid, O Lord God of Ifract] See 1 King, chap, 8. veri

15, which dwellest between the Cherubins] The Cherubins were placed neer the ark, (1 King, 8, 7.) which was the most principal representation of Gods presence. There did God use to declare his munde, Numb. 7, 80. The reupon he is faid to fit, or dwell there, Pfalm 80. 1. The King to strengthen his faith in a present answer to the control of the repulse his faith in a present answer to the control of the repulse his faith in a gracious answer, thus sets out God; the rather, be-cause the golden Cherubias were the most glorious types under the law, (1 King. 6. 23, &c.) and they fet out the glory of God; as Angels do now, Mark 8.38. or as heaven doth, Mat. 6.9. See 1 King. 6. 23. 1 Sam. 4. 4. thefe Cherubins did alfo put the King in minde of the Mercy-feat, which represent-thou art the God] This he acknowledgeth in opposition to their making of God an idol. See ch. 18. 35.

even thou alone of all the Kingdoms of the earth] Not of Ifrael nations. Every Kingdom had its own idol; but none of those idols was the true God. thou haft made heaven and earth] This effect proveth him to

to be the only true God, Jer. 10.11,12.

applyed to God, after the manner of man, to make men better conceive how God hears their payers. open Lord thim open and feel. These phrases are used in the same sence, to assure men, that God seeing their misery, will pity heavile words of Scanacherib ] His meaning is, that God would give fome evidence that he heard them; for the words of Sennacherib were intered before. which hash fear him ] This relative, him , bath reference to Rabshakch, ch. 18. 19. They who enjoyn others to do an evil, are accounted the doers of it. to reprossh the living God] See v. 4.

V. 17. Of a truth Lord] This is a phrase, whereby a truth but such a truth as maketh nothing against the point in hand; is granted.

the Kings of Affyriahave destroyed the nations and their lands ? This the King of Affyria faid of nimielf, v. 11. and Hezekiah denies it not. So as a truth is to be granted to an enemy,

V. 18. And have cast ] Heb. given. Fire is as a devouring beaft; as therefore we are faid to give ravenous beafts, that which we call before them; fo this phrase is used of such things as are cast into the fire. their gods into the fire | Such flatues and images, as they imagined to be gods.

guned to be gods.

for they twee me gold! None in deed and truth. This is rendred as a realon, why men had fuch power over them.

but the work of gones band? Men and all over creatures, are the work of Gods hands. It is therefore flrange blindness, to account the work of mens hands, to be Gods."

wood and flone These were the most common materials, our of which they framed and formed their gods.
therefore they have deftroyed them] This they could not daye noregive sog view entry ex veril 1 uns they could not wave done, if they had been true Gods.

V. 19. Now therefore O Lord win God 3 See 1 King. 8, 28.

This is speken in opposition to what he had hid of the gods of the nations. As if he had fill, because thou art not as they, but a true God; the only true God, and in special manner a God unto us. I befeech thee fave thou us ont of his band | Out of the hand of

Together note; and those use one of the Roman Jour of the name or Semancherib, or from his power. That special relation of the Lords being their God, makes him the more earnest and stedfast, in desiring and expecting preservation sour tim. that all the Kingdoms of the earth may know! Hersekish in his prayer had respect to the glory of Gods name, as well as to his own preservation; and for the power and providence of God to be known far and neer throughout all Kingdoms, makes much to the glory of God, that thou are the Lord God, even thou only ] This Hezekiah knew, and acknowledged before, v. 15. but here he defires that V. 20. Then Isaiab the fon of Amos] See v. 2.

fonto Hezelith, fajing ] So foon as Hezekiah had end-ed hisprayer, God teeltines his hearing and accepting it, by a speedy gracious return thereof. See Daniel chapter 9. Thus faith the Lord God of Ifrael | Sec 1 King, chap, 12. 24.

8 8.15.
that which thou haft prayed unto me against Sennacherib King inst which took that prayers unto me against community a single of Affired. This word, against, shewith that Hezekiah prayed not only for his and his peoples prefervation; but also for fome judgment to fall on the enemies. Imprecations against obstinate enemies may be made.

I have heard ] I have taken fuch notice thereof, as I am refolved to grant it

V. 21. This is the word that the Lord hath Spoken concerning bim ] This is the warrant which the Prophet had to declare his meffage. On fuch a warrant may Christs Ministers be well embolaned and much encouraged.

the Virgin This title is given to the state of the Jews, in study peculiar respects:

1. In relation to their king, and to the government under which it was. It had in that respect remained faithful. 2. In relation to God; at this time the was incorrupt in religion, and as a virgin, not defloured. 3. In regard of the first constitution thereof. When that state was to put cacking in mine of the actrystear, water represent part reteach to works me time, and interverse committee in each technic of grace, Heb. 4, 16. & 9.5. See I Chronicles, particular and Solomon time, it was a wight, and it being a yet no call off, it was full accounted a wight. A lar regard of one call off, it was full accounted a wight. first feeled in Mofes his time, and afterwards confirmed in those many, which in the corruptest times, remained faithful. 5. Because that flare continued ftill in that land which God the Father thereof gave her, and wherein he fetted her; for it is the part of a virgin to abide in her fathers houfe. 6. Because alone 3 though in a peculiar respect, he was the Lord God of the part of a virgin to abide in her fathers houre. 6. Because Israel, yet in his general Sovernignty he was the God of all she was fair, beautiful, and comely, (as a virgin use to be) in regard of the temple, divine ordinances, and other excellencies conferred upon her. 7. This resemblance may also have respect to her present weak condition; for a virgin, in regard of her fex and youth, ufeth to weak. True it is, that Ifrael after V. 16. Lord bom down thine car and bear These phrases are stre fell into idolatry, is called Virgin, Amos 5.2. and Judati alfo, Jer, 18. 13. & 31.21. But this was in relation to their for fruitful field. Of Carmel, fee 1 King, 18. 19. By these titles no, jet, 10, 13, 00 31, 21, Dut this was interaction to make tot appropriate the fields, vineyards, orchards, gardens, and other mer times, before they were Idolaters; and also in relation to are meant, the fields, vineyards, orchards, gardens, and other their duty, what they should have been. It is also true that | like places in Judea and Jerusalem. Some take these words but that is in regard of their temporal efface, that they were Judah. Whither we take it metaphorically, or properly, it fetoutwardly glorious, and unconquered; or elfe in regard of their priding and setting forth themselves as a virgin, Isa. 62. 5.

This hindreth not, but that Gods people may in other respects overcome all.

and Terufalem.

hab defiled me The proud King of Affyria despited, derided, and scorned the Jews: Therefore the more to manifest the Jews contempt of the proud King, it is here faid, that that Virgin and daughter despited him. Thus these two metaphors may have relation to the present weak estate of the and laughed them to fcorn] Laughter is an external fign of the daughter of Ferufalem bath shaken ber head at thee] Shaking of the head is another fign and getture of contempt and fcorn.

There is an elegancy in doubling those phrases, daughter of Zion, daughter of Jerufalem; and there is allo great emphasis in multiplying the phrases, and signs of derision and scorn. These are Brther amplified by the Apoftacie, wherein the virgin and are orther amplified by the Applicate, wherein the virgin and daughter, though female, in that respect weak, doth in a maner dare the proud King to his face; but all this is upon confidence in Gods succour afforded to the Jews: and of the vain attempts of the king of Affyria. And it is observeable, that it is God himfelf who thus fets forth his people, our-facing their

V. 11. Whom haft thou reproached and blafphemed] See v. 3. 4. All manner of blasphemy is a reproaching of God. His blasphemy and reproach was, his making the Lord to be like the gods of the nations, and to be able to do no more then they could, cb. 18. 35.

and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice] This bath relati-and lift up thine eyes on high Both this and the former are gestures of infolent arrogancy. This reproof is set down inter-rogatively, to make him and others Judges of that folly, and to convince them the more thereof.

even against the holy One of Ifrael ] This answer to the former question, doth to the life set forth their folly, and that by a description of him whom they blasphemed. He was the description of nim whom they distinguished. He was the Lord God, who is boly, in regard of his effential property. The boly One, by an excellency and property: none like him therein. The boly One of Ifrael, in that he hath dedicated and confecrated bimself, to be in a special manner Israels God. See Psalm. 71. ver. 22. Isa. ch. 1. ver. 4. Ezek, ch.

V. 23. By thy messengers] Heb. by the hand of Thy mesfengers. These are those which are mentioned, chapter 18.

thou haft ] See v. 16.

reproached the Lord] See v. 3,4,22, and baft faid] Though the words following were not in fo with the nuttitude of my chariots I am come up to the height of the mountain, &c. ] The proud and arrogant speech of that enemy is expressed in elegant and pertinent comparisons, By com. ming with the multitude of his chariots, is meant a conquering and triumphing manner of shewing himself. By mountains, are meant, Cities of Judah: by the beight of them, the midst of them; or the chief places or ftrongeft forts and towers in he deftroyed. See Ifa. 50.2.

to the fides of Lebanon] He refembles Jerufalem to Lebanon, which was goodly and fair to behold.

and will cut down the tall Cedars thereof Heb. the tallness. &c. This Hebraifme carrieth emphasis with it, and implyeth very high and tall Cedars.

and the choice firre trees thereof] Lebanon was full of Cedars and fire-trees. Of the excellency of thefe, fee I King. 5.6, $. By these are set out the King, Nobles, and other eminent per-

and I will enter into the todging of bie borders] That is, his frontier towns where fouldiers lodg and into the forrest of bis Carmel] Or , the forrest , and his eth out the proud spirit of Sennacherib, who accounts nothing impossible, or so impregnable, but that he can pass through and a nis ningreia not, out that close people may in other respects overcome and the refembled of a virgin, Jer. 31-4.

be refembled of a virgin, Jer. 31-4.

be daughter of Zini | That which was called a Virgin, is blace where none were before, as Numb.s.1.18. He means also called daughter; because that people was as a daughter berought not not brought not not not proper, nor any other places for water; whither he ponds, nor any other places for water, whither he should come, yet he could provide water enough for himfelf and his whole army; could either dig up fprings of water, or cause strangers to bring water enough to and with the fole of my feet have I dryed up all the rivers of besieged places ] Or , senced places. His meaning is , that with the treading or his numerous army, he stopped all the streams that ran into the places that stood our against him. This is a very proud brag; both of providing for himfelf, though his enemies did what they could to diffices him, and bring him to want water or food, as appears in the former verle; and also of annoying his enemies, and bringing them to diftress and want; notwithstanding the great care they had, and pains they took to provide for themgreat care tney man, ann pains tury rook to provide for them-felves, as in this verie. Herein he derides Hezzkiahs care and diffigence, both in flepping the water of the fountains, and the river that ran through the midft of the Country, and also in bringing water into the City, 2 Chr. 32. 3,4,30.

V. 25. Haft thou not heard long ago, how I have done it, and of aucient times that I have formed it? Now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldst be to lay maste seneed Cities in-to ruineus beaps ] Or, hast thou not beard bem I bave made it long ago , and jermed it of ancient times? Should I nome bring it to be laid waste, and fenced Cities to be ruinous hast thou not heard ] The Prophet changeth the person ; and bringeth in God, answering the proud brags of Sennache-rib; wherein God tels him, that he had no cause to boast of how I have done it ] God himself professeth, that he did that which Sennacherib arrogated to himfelf. See Ifa. 10. 5, 7, and of ancient times that I have formed it?] God here also showeth, that he of old purposed and determined that to be done which Sennacherib did.

now have I brought it to pafs ] My former ancient counsel is now put in execution, that thou founds be This God speaketh to Sennacherib, who should be his scource and sword.

to lay passes fenced ciries To vanguish and overthrow strong and well prepared cities, forts, and castles.

into ruinous heaps] Being battered down even to the ground.

The other reading that is in the margent of our Bibles, implyeth thus much; that God had afore-time of old choic the Jews to be a nation peculiar to himfelf, and fetled them in that land wherein they were, and thereupon Sennacherib might well and Day 1411 1 bough the words following were not in 10 wherein they were, and thereupon Sennacherib might well many follobles uttered, either in Sennacherib street, or by his think, that God would not give them over it into his hand, to melkingers, yet the fence was, Or, though the's words are be unterly foolied and rimsted. And where he faith, Haft thou not expected in the flory, yet they might be uttered, or written the words are beautiful in the flory, yet they might be uttered, or written they were, and thereton, and thereton he had God and the control of the contr not beard, his meaning is, that it was so well known through-out all ages, and in all places, as it could not but come to the hearing of Sennacherib.

hearing of Scunacherth.

V. 26. Therefore their inhabitants were of small power ] Heb.

foot of shand. By a mans hand his power is most manifested; and he is said to be short of hand, who cannot reach that which he puts out his hand unto. This hath relation to that which is noted v. 25. of Gods giving those over to Sennacherib whom they were dismayed and confounded ] They who are of short hand ; that is, they who cannot maintain themselves against an enemy, cannot be but much difmayed, and thereupon with fhame much confounded.

as the grass of the field ] Which useth soon to be cut down with the lythe, or to be eaten up with beafts, Pfal. 90. Ifal and as the green berb] Green herbs in the garden, if they be not plucked up, will foon wither.

arthe grafs on the houfe top] Grafs there , having no depth of earth to grow on , cannot long continue, Plalm. 139.

Chap.xix.

pariodic force out are supported an intrasuity of those woo pariodic force out on the pariodic force out of the continue.

The pariodic force out of the continue of the continue of the continue out of the c and practice within doors and without, Pfal. 121. 8. Deut, and thy rage against me] Hereby his blasphemy against God, may be intended; but especially his furious attempts against being in effect the same that was implyed by this parase, Gods people. See Act. o. 4.

V. 18. Because thy rage against me] Sec v. 17.

and thy tamust ] Thy preparing arms, men, horses, and other things six for war; thy marching up and down with them; ty. thy affaults and thy threatnings.

is come up into mine ears ] Is known to me. This phrase is attributed to God after the manner of men. They hear fuch respect to his own glory, are all here comprized under this things as come to their cars, and what they hear, they know | word, gest and take notice of therefore I will put my book into thy nofe ] I will deal with thee beafts, or with great fifthes, into whose nose, or mouth, if an book in man. be put, they may be drawn or led up and down, whither a man with horfes, especially with iturdy fleeds, by a bridle they turn them whither they lift, Jam. 3.3. Pfal. 32.9.

and I will turn thee back by the way which thou cameft That is, to thine own Country. See this accomplished

V. 36. And this shall be a fign nmothee] The Prophet here in the Name of the Lord, turns his speech from the enemy, to Hezekini and his people; and to firengthen their faith the into the City, as be should not come so neer, as to show a more in that deliverance which is here promised, he gives them arrow into it. This is especially to be taken of his intended the fign following.

ye [hall cat this year] This was the year of reflawherein they fowed no corn at all. See Levit. 25.4.5.

[uch things as grow of themselves ] That crop which artifeth from the shedding of the last harvest, and groweth up of it felf, without any plowing, or fowing the ground by man. Though the enemy came that year into the land, and there-and in the fecond year ] That is, the year which went after that year of reft.

that which springeth of the same In this second year the enemy was in their land, and so annoyed them, as in seedtime they could not fow their ground. Yet the Lord fo it bleffed their land, as of it felf it brought forth an harveft, Even this year also. Herein especially lyeth the miracle, that the enemy coming upon them in their year of reft, and keeping them from fowing their land the yeer following; the g11. Ezek 36.2. and for my from and for my from and for my from the ground should yeeld of it self sufficient food two years tegeand in the third year fore ye and reap] Here is both an exhortation and a promife. An exhortation to use their accustomed means for obtaining a good crop, some A promise, that they should partake of the benefit of their pains; and and plant vineyards] He encourageth them not only to use means for that which was most necessary, as corn; but also for that which was for their delight, as vines, and the wine that it, v. 32 came from thence.

and eat the fruits thereof ] This also is a promise, and it fhews, that they should not only have store of provision in their barns and vessels, but also themselves eat and drink thereof, for their nourishment and refreshing.

V. 30. And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judab ] Heb. The escaping of the house of Judah that remaineth.

finall yet again take root downward ] Heb. finall adde root. This fimilitude is taken from plants, whose roots do first Ints immittate is raten from plants, whose record of many grow downward in the earth, before they can grow upward. By taking root downward, they gather (ip from the earth, and are made fleady. Thus by Gods blefling on that people, they were established in their land, and had means of ple, they were ellabilised in their land , and had means of affault against Jerufalem, v. 32. or in that which returned from their wings, as they shad done in former times. The enemy had the Ethiopians, before they had done any thing against Jerumout unfeld them, and hindred them in their callings, ladem. Therefore it is promifed, that they should add root, or again take root. See Ifa, 27.6.

V. 31. And out of Ferusalem shall go forth a remnant 7 This hath relation to the present condition of the Jews , who and as tern blaffed before is be growning ] Such corn never is, that they fhould freely, without fear, go out of the City, one to maturity, but withereth away: All these arc fit comparisons to feet out the importory, and inflability of those who are left of God, they cannot long continue.

eft and contriveft by thy felf, or with others, Pfal. ch. 139, ver, and thy geing end, and thy coming in What thou doll attempt at thy geing end, and thy coming in What thou doll attempt perified by the release of the enemy, but from effects ped through Gods providence, and of these he speak-> out of mount Zion] This is added, either for elegancy fake out of Geniglam: Or, because Zion was a City fettuated within the walls of Jerusalem; so as they that remained in the one, or the other, should have the same liber-the real] The fervent love of God to his people, and his fiery indignation against his enemies, but especially, his earnest of the Lord of hofts] See 1 King. 18. 15.

Shall do this ] This shall be done by the Lord himself upon as men use to do with Bears, wilde Buls, or other wilde the fore-named reasons, and not by man, nor for any thing

V. 32. Therefore thus faith the Lard, concerning the King of Affrial This is added as the reason of the former promise, which and my bridle in thy lips This hath relation to mens dealing was the removing of that which might otherwise have hindred

He shall not come into this Gity The enemy was now going He jume to constitute that J face enemy was now going against the King of Ethiopia, verf. o. and thought to have returned, and have taken, and entred into Jerusham: But here is shewed, how far he should be from accomplishing that his purpose.

nor [hoot an arrow there] He should be so far from entring return, with that army that marched with him against the Ethinor come before it with [bield] Here is a Synechdoche, whereby one warlike weapon, and that defensive, is put for all warlike preparation, both defensive and offensive. nor east a bank against it] Nor raile any batteries, See 2 Sam, and shall not come into this City \ See v. 22.

faith the Lord] This is added to firengthen his faith.

V. 34. For I will defend this City to fave it] What God undertakes, shall afforedly be performed; Mortal men thought to destroy it, but the mighty Lord undertook to preferve for mine own fale] To give an evidence of my power, providence, mercy, goodness, and care over my Church, that my name may be acknowledged, feared, and praised. See Isa, 48.

and for my forwant Davids falso | See 1 King. 11.12. See also V. 31. And it came to pass that night] Isa.37.36. There are two opinions concerning the time when the deflruction following fell out. One is, that it was the night after this King of Affyria returned from the Ethiopians, and came again towards Jerulalem. The other, that it was the very night after this prophecy was made; wherein the enemies were fitting themselves to affault Jerusalem, for they had not yet affaulted that the Angel of the Lord] Such an Angel as defiroyed the Iffacilites in Davidstime, 2 Sam 24, 16, God is here pleafed to use an Angel in executing his judgment on this proud enemy, that the judgment might the more evidently appear to be of that Lord, whom this enemy had before vilified, ver. 10. ch. 18.35.

went ent | From the Lord.

and fmore Utterly destroyed, and flew; fome think by a plague, others by fire, others by an earthquake; whatfoever the particular means of destruction were, surely it was extraordinary. See the last note on this verse.

in the camp of the Affrians | Either in that camp which Rabfhakeh first brought (cb. 18. 17.) but had not yet made any an hundred fourfeore and five thoufand ] This army must needs be a very great one. The number of fouldiers that were flain, importeth as much. Indeed we read of greater, as 2 Chron-14. 9. but it may be, that all this army was not destroyed. were now besteged and shut up in Jerulalem. The promise This is certain, that all the mighty men of valour, and the Leaders, and Captains were cut off, 2 Chr. 22. 21. and without these what could the common Souldiers do ? and when they grofe ] such as were spared. This must be taken of the meaner lort, who carried the news to Sennacherib. their Commanders , what to do about affaulting Jerufalem. hehold they were all 1 The universal particle, All, may be taken of the greater part, or of the better part; namely, the Commanders and Officers. They were fuch, as were accounted in a manner All. dead Corps They were destroyed. But this which is noted of their Coips, implyeth, that they were not confumed with fire nor fwallowed up with the earthquake. V. 36. So Sennacherib King of Affria departed ] With forrow and finme, 2 Chr. 32.21. his proud Peacock-feathers were now pulled off from him. Thus God abaleth the proud. and went and returned] Herein he verified the prophefie, 55. and dwelt at Nineueb) This was the head-royal City of Assy. ria. See Gen.10.11. This implyeth that he had no great mind to renew his wars

V. 37. And it came to pass as he was worshipping Howsoever this were an idolatrous act, yet the heathen accounted this kinde of worshipping to be prety; and in that, in this act he was fluin, it aggravateth the parricide of his fons, that they were not any whit restrained thereby.
in the house of Nifroch bis god] This phrase, his god. imply-eth, that this was fome special God of Sennacherib, for there was an other general god of the Affyrians, which the heathen call Jupiter Belas. Though the Lord by the great destruction of his army, had fhewed himfelf to be the true God , yet was not he thereby moved to acknowledg the Lord to be fo. falle god could not defend him, no not when he was worfhipthat Adramme'eth This was also the name of an idol. See

ch. 17.31.
and Sharezer] This word according to the Hebrew notation, fignifieth a Prince of treasure.

his fous ] Even they that came forth of his own bowels bis/our] Even, they that came torth of his own downess, the dat, to this that reflect to its outward acts, and to the many of the first proposed to be his iddee from a, and to to end what the did, being according to the rule of righteeunfest, be except exactly e

(more him with the fword | So as they flew him. The judgment on this blatphemer of God, was in fundry respects very remarkable: r. That he should see so great and well prepa red an army, fo fuddenly destroyed. 2. That he should be forced to flye with fiame into his own Country. 3. That him-felf fhould be flain, and that in the temple of his idol, in the act of his idolatry, by his own fons, and that by two of them conspiring together therein. Let proud men and blasphemers' lay this example before their eyes.

and they escaped into the land of Armenia Heb. Arrarat. See

Gen. 8. 4.
end Efar Haddon bis fon reigned in bis stead This man was the laft of the Affyrian Monarchs. Of him, fee Ezra. chap. 4. V. 2.

CHAP. XX.

Vers. 1. N those dayes] 2 Chr. 32. 24. Ifa. 38. 1, This hath reference to the history immediately going before, and it implyes, that anon after God had preserved. Hezekiah and his people from the attempts of the kirg of Affyria, he wifted him with the fickness following; both might be in the same year; for Sennacherib came against Hezekiah in the fourreigned but nine and twenty years, ch.18.2. and he lived after this, fifteen years. The enemies coming into his land might be in the beginning of the year, and his fickness in the latter was Hezikiab fick unto death] His fickness was unto death, in regard of the kinde of it, which is probable to be the plague. See v. 7. and in the strength of the disease, which had seized upon him. It might have feized upon his vital parts, and fo be incurable, as they who have the tokens, in regard of ordinary means; for his recovery was extraordinary : He might be thus visited for his good; as, 1. To try his faith. 2. To give him occasion of considering his disposition to God-wards. To quicken him up to pray more fervently. 4. To ftrengthen his faith by more miracles and the Prothet Ifaiab the fon of Amos ] This was that excellent Prophet, whose Prophesies are registred in facred Scripture, and fer in the first rank, came to bim | Some take this as a voluntary and friendly vifire of the Prophet: The rather, because Hezekiah was fo good a King; But the words following thew rather that he was and faid unto him, Thus faish the Lord ] See 1 King. chap.12.

(et thine hause in order ] Heb, give charge concerning thine house. Make thy Will, and give order about ordering of thy family, and Kingdom, after they decrale, 2 Sam. 17. 23. This was the more needful to be done, because he had no son, see v. 3. This is a good ground of mens making their Will 3 the rather, because the direction is fent from God himself.

for thou fhalt die and not live ] This is not to be taken of Gods absolute determination, but of the nature of the difeafe, which was such as could not be recovered by any means that any creature could ufc. See ch. 8, 10. See also Jonah 3, 4, 10.

V. 2. Then he turned his face to the wall.] He might thus turn his face, that he might be more free from diffracting obsects, and so the more fervently call upon God; or the temple might be that way to which he turned: Now because Gods presence was manifested in the temple, Solomen prayed that God would hear the prayer of fuch as made their prayer towards it, 1 King. 8, 44. answerably Saints, when they were absent from the temple, used to pray towards it, Dan. chap and prayed unto the Lord, [aying] His prayer was for recovery. It appears therefore, that he took the fentence of death, (v.1.) not to be absolute, for then certainly he would not have prayed against it; and though in the ordinary course of nature it were incurable, yet he believed that God was able to cure it. See 2 Sam. 12.22.

V. 3. I bestechthee, O Lord, remember now ] This phrasa doth not imply that God can forget his fervants goodnels, but Therefore the Lord causeth bim and others to see that bis he useth it to throughen his own faith, by calling to minde that God did not forget, but remember the fame.

bow I have malked before thee in truth ] See 1 King. chap. 2.

and with a perfect heart] See t King. 8 6t. and have done that which is good] As the former branches bad efpect to his inward disposition, and to the manner of what he did, fo this bath respect to his outward acts, and to the mater or what me and, noting according to the twie of rightcounteds, 1 King 3, 9, Pal. 14.1, 16.7, 3-9. This in other places is called right, 1 Sm. 1. 2.3, See 1 King 1.5.5, in his fight 3 See 1 King 1.4.8. These things Hezekish pleadeth, not as meritoricus causes but only as a condition annexed to the Covenant, see I King, 2. 4. So as herein he only pleads Gods truth in keeping Covenant, fo Exo. 32.13. Neh.

and Hezelijsh wept fore] Heb. with a great weeping. Though the approach of death be in it felf terrible to nature, yet we are not to think, that it was fimply fear of death, that wrung thefe tears from Hezekiah, he being fo pious a man as he was, and having received fo many evidences of Gods favour, as he had ; but rather the glory of God, and the good of the Church of God. For God had promited to David, that his houle and Kingdom should be established for ever, 2 Sam. 7.16. that is, that one coming by lineal descent from him, should generation after generation fit on his throne. But at this time he had no fon to succeed him: For Manaffeh, his eldeft fon, was born three ton to necessary for managers, one now, was out inter-years after this; which thus appears: It was fifteen years af-ter this before Hezekish dyed, v. 6. and Manafich was then but twelve years old, ch. 21. 1. He might think that by want out tweive years old, co. 21.1. re impact unifstant by wain of a fon to facced him in the Kingdom, Gods promite might feem to fail, and fo his honour be impeached. As for Gods Church, be might fear that there might be many divisions and contentions about the Crown, because he had no fon, by whom the just right might be determined. He might also fear left Idolatry fhould again creep into the Church after his departure. teenth year of his reign, ch. 18. 13. And in the fourteenth year I will not deny but that some grief might possels him upon to of his reign his steknels fell out; which thus appears: He studen a taking, after so great a deliverance from to potent an enemy, as he was miraculously freed from.

V. 4. And it came to pais before If aiab was gone out into the middle Court] Or, city. It this be taken for the City, it implyeth the midfl thereof, for the Kings Palace was on that fide of Jerusalem where the temple was; over against it was Zion, which is oft called the City of David, 1 King. 8. 1. The space betwixt thefe two might be called the middle city, or the midft of the City. If it be taken for the middle Court, it means the Court of the Kings Palace, which is mentioned, I King. 7. 8. both places may intend one and the fame thing; namely Gods speedy return of a gracious answer to Hezekiahs prayer, as is implyed in the words following.

that the word of the Lord came to him, (aying ] God declared to Isaiah , his purpose of much mercy to Hezekiah. Sco

V. 5. 6. V. 5. Turn again] Hereby God implyeth, that he had anothes meffage to fend to the King.

. XX. Allinvocations of the block of cretifing to ask a fign, If it, 7, 12, 3c.

and sell tree/ide the Capatin of my people I may be, that the block of or returing to ask a fign, If it, 7, 12, 3c.

and that I feall go up it is the body of the Lord the chief day 1 he produced y make the use of every branch of the promife, and my. Or otherwise, Captain may be taken for Governour and chief Commander, in time of peace, as well as of

Chap, xx.

Thus [aith the Lord] See 1 King. 12. 24. the God of Dwid] The Lord is in special manner stiled the God of David, in regard of Gods foecial favour to David, manifelted by many promifes made to him, 2 Sam. 7. 12, &c. and by many bleffings conferred upon him and also in regard of Davids ftrong confidence on God, and intire reforct to him. Thus also is the Lord stiled the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Exod. 2. 6. the God of Eliah, 2 King. 2.14. the God of Daniel, Dan. 6. 26. the God of Shadrach, Meshech, and Abednego, Dan. 3.28.

thy father ]For though there were twelve generations betwist line, H:zekiah came from David.

I have heard thy prayer, I have feen thy tears ] Of Gods hearing and seeing, see ch. 19.16. God hath this title, O then that bearest prayer, by a property ascribed to him, Plal. 65.2. and he is said to have a bottle to put his Saints tears into, Plal.

behold I will heal thee] He means by healing, a perfect reon the third day ] This implies a miraculous recovery, in that it was fo foon. Christs cures are proved to be miraculous, by this circumftance, Mark 1.31. & 2.12. thou [halt go up] This was an evidence of health and ffrength 20 Mark 2, 12 he would be forward to do.

V. 6. And I will add unto thy dayes ] The time of a mans life is fet out by dayes, by reason of the brevity thereof, Gen. 49. 7. Now God is said to add, in regard of the nature of the dileafe, which would have put a period to his dayes.

fifteen yeers | This is the onely fet time of life made known to man, specially so long before, that we read of. Indeed God bath certainly determined the set time of every mans life, Job. 7. 1. but he doth not use expressly to make it known; for then would man be too fecure; and not fo watchful against death, as he should be. This good King Hezekiah did not render again, according to the benefit done unto him; for his heart was lifted up, 2 Chro.32.25.

and I will deliver thee God did not onely hear his prayer in that particular, which Hezekiah defired, but also super-added more mercies. See 1 King. 3. 13.

and this city ] The places over which good governours are,

and tone only Interplaces over which gone governous are, fare the better for their governours fake, one of the hand of the king of Affrica | Some hence infer that Hezekiah was fick before the destruction of the King of Affyria's army. But the feries of the hiltory imports the contrary; And this phrase doth not necessarily intend as much ; for this promife might be made, in regard of further attempts of the in Babylon fee the shadow a dial in Jerufalem, go backKing of Affyria, which Hezekiah might fear.

and I will defend this city | Not onely from the affaults of that King, but also from all other dangers. This is an amplification of the mercy promifed.

for mine own sake, and for my servant Davids sake ] See chap

.7. And Isaiah said, take a lump of sigs ] Figs have a mol lifying and ripening vertue; they are a fit remedy for an hard God oft in his extraordinary works ufeth means, as a visible evidence that the disease is cured by him ; yet the kinde of difeate, and suddemness of the cure, shewed, that it was a miraculous cure. Christ in his miracles oft used means, Mark.

and they took and laid it on the bile ] A bile useth to be an effect arising from the plague; hence it may probably be collected, that this was a pague fore.

and he recovered. ] Means appointed by God shall be effectual. The promise made, v. 5. of healing Hezekiah, is herein accomplished.

V. 8. And Hezekiah fald unto Ifaiah ] This is to be taken, as spoken before he was recovered.

What [ball be the fign that the Lord will heal me] He defires a fign, not as doubting of the truth of Gods promife; but as one fentible of the weakness of his own faith; and therefore defireth a fign to ftrengthen the fame. This he did the rather. because the promise was of so difficult a matter, and because it feemed to thwart the former word of God, that he (hould dve. v. 1. See Judg. 6. 17, 37. Besides, he did not simply ask a sign; but taking it for grant that God would give him a sign, he asketh what that sign should be. Thus the virgin Mary, though the believed that the thould bring forth a fon, yet kingdom. asketh,how fhall rais be, Luk.r. 34. His father Ahaz was re-

Freprudently maxem use of every branch of the promite, and feeketh to have every particular made good unto him.

V. 9. And I faish fadd, This fign flust thou have of the Lord] God is ready to grant the defires of his fervants, that are rightly made, and on good grounds.

that the Lord will do the thing that he bath spoken Miracles are to affure us, that Gods word shall be accomplished.

Shall the shadow] He means the shadow of the shile of a sup-go forward ten degrees, or go back ten degrees. ] It was all one with the Lord, to do the one or the other; he refers it there-fore to Hezekiah's choice, left he should, after the first grane, defire the other, as Gideon did, Judg. 6.39. and allo that Hezekiah's faith might be the more ftrengthued thereby, upon his David and Hezekiah, yet by lineal defeent, and that in a direct | choosing that which he thought the most difficult. Concerning the mention of ten degrees to go forward or backward, it is to the mention of ten degrees to go to tward or decement, it is to be supposed, that this message was brought to the King at high-noon; when the shadow might equally go as many de-grees backward, as forward. The number of ten, implies, that the degrees must be but half hours at most; For a dyal useth to be divided onely into twelve equal hours, fo as there is liberty for the shadow to go backwards, or forwards, but fix degrees at the most. But if the degrees were of half hours, there may be four and twenty of them.

V. 10. And Hezekiah answered, It is a light thing for the [badom to go dorn ten degrees] This is spoken in regard of mans Jamon seg outpriess agrees 1 tons spoken in regard or mans apprehension: and in companision to the shadows going back-ward. For its the proper course of the sun, to go forward; the miracle would onely have been, in the speedy, and more then ordinary hallning of the shadow forward; which notwithstanas Mark 2.12.
man abe busiles fine Lard | There to give publike thanks for his recovery. This fets out the duty of those that are recovered, and more then distributed to do, and the disposition of Hezekish , what they ought to do, and the disposition of Hezekish , what disg, simply in its fell, is a very great matter, extraordinary and miraculous. For the fun that caufeth the shadow, is constant in his course, and never runs more swiftly or speedily at one time then at another. But to go backward, would be xtraordinary and miraculous in the very thing it felf, (for the fun never doth fo of it felt;) and also in the suddenness of it, which this other intended. nay but let the shadow return backward ten degrees.] The choice being referred to Hezekiah, he prudently chooseth that, which to himfelf and others, appeared to be the most strange, and which did most confirm his faith. V. 11. And I (aiab the Prophet cryed unto the Lord ] Earnestly prayed. See I King. 17. 20. Warranted means may and must be used, for obtaining things promised, & King 18. 41.

must be used, for contaming usings promised, a single so we level 14.1.5. Ereck 36.37.

and he brought the [hadow ] This God did by causing the Sun to run backward. They certainly are deceived who Sun to run Dackward. They certainly are deceived who imagin that the miracle was only in the findow; as if the fin and gon his courfe, but the findow had gon backwards, otherwile heat the fun did I fill. 3 f. 8. it is expertly find, the fun returned ten degrees. Befides, it is faid, a Chro. 31. 31. that the ambdifiedor of the Princes of Babylon came to him, to enquire of the wonder that was done. How could they ward, contrary to the course of the fun ? but they might easily observe the running back of the sun.

ten degrees backward ] That is, from twelve at noon to feven in the morning. In this dillance, there being five hours, they make ten degrees of half houres.

by which it had gon down in the dial of Ahaz. Heb. degrees, Ahaz had made a fair, lafting dial, which was common for all, of all forts, to lock upon. By this dial, the course of the sun was openly and distinctly discerned. Questionless the shadow went backwards in all fun-dials. But this is here mentioned, because it was a great dial, stood in a place whither many of all forts resorted, and which the King himself also, out of the window of his bed-chamber, might cafily differn.

V. 1 2. At that time Beredach-Baladan | He is also called Merodach, figs of Babylon, as Pharoab to the Kings of Babylon, as Pharoab to the Kings of Edylon, Jerson. See r King. 2. 39. Evil-Merodach, ch. 25. 27. had his name thence the fon of Baladau] This shows the reason why he was called Berodach-Baladan, even for descent sake; because his father was called Baladan; fo as this was his fir-name; and it implyeth, that he came from his father by natural descent.

hing of Babylon] This hath relation specially to Berodach-Baladan, who is taken to be the first that raised the Babylonian Monarchy upon the ruin of the Affyrians. He is thought to be a vice-roy or deputy in Babylon, under the King of Affyria, and that he took advantage from the destruction of the army of the Affyrians, ch. 19.35. and from the murther of Sennacherib by his own fon, ch. 19. 37. and from the youth of Elarhaddon, who raigned in Sennacheribs steed, to usurp the fent letters] By the hand of an ambaffador, 2 Chro. 32. 31.

amballadors, whom they left into forraign countries, to fend they fem, etc. ] See v. 13. Hezekiah herein dealt fairly with prefents to that other King to whom they fent their ambassadors, I King. 4. 21. especially when they fent in a fair and for he heard that Herekish had been fick.] This was one rea-fon of fending his ambaffadors, and prefents unto Hezekish, namely, to congratulate his victory and recovery, as a Sam. 8, 10. & 10.20. Another reason was to enquire of the won-8. 10. & 10. 20. Another reation was to enquire of the wonder about the funs going backward, z Cbro. 32-31. For quefionless, all the world, especially, Aftronomers, Aftrologers, and others, that took notice of the course of the hoste of hearth. ven, could not but observe such remarkable alteration, as the funto go backward fo many degrees as it did. True it is, that many in all places of the world might observe it, and yet not know the ground and reason thereof. But it is probable, that they in Babylon had heard, that the Lord of heaven and earth, tney in papyion nan nearo, that the Lord of nearen annearth, had caufed that alteration, and that upon Hezekiah's recovery, therefore they fend, both to congestulate Hezekiah's recover-ry, and allo to be more fully influcted in the caufe of the funs going backward; and it may be withal to ingratiate him-felf into the favour of Hezekiah, that he might have affiltance from him, in case of need against the King of Assyria, whom he 12. 34. knew to be Hezekiah's mortallenemy.

V. 13. And Hezekish hearkned unto them ] He gratefully accepted their kinde vifitation; informed them in the ground of the miracle, and entred into league with them, according to their active.

and shered them the house of his precious things: ] Or, spictrySpices of old were counted very precious commodities. See 1 King. 10. 2. & 10. 15, 25. Kings therefore used to lay them up in their treasuries.

the filver and the gold ] Thefe have ever in all nations been count d precious treasure.

and the [picer ] Herenf, fee before.

and all that was found in his treasures In fuch treasures as belonged to himfelf. there was nothing in his house In his royal palace.

nor in all his dominion In other houses that belonged to him in other places, in any part of his kingdom. Some extend this general phrase to the temple, as if he had brought these heathen ambaffadors into the house of God, and shewed them all the treasures thereof. But it is not probable, that so picus a King would fo far exceed the bounds of piety, and so apparently transgress the law of God, as to bring heathen into the house of God, especially into those parts where the treasures of the Lords house were. the Lords bouse were.

this Hezekiah shewed them nit] It is apparent, that Hezekiah was too much pushed up with the blessings that God bestowed upon him, as with the great deliverance that he had from the King of Affyria, with his recovery from a mortal difeafe, with the great miracle wrought upon his recovery, with the costly and precious presents that all the nations round about brought him, by reason of these bleffings of God bestowed on him, (2 Chro 32.23.) For certainly,it was one special means of his great treatures, that he was magnified in the febt of all nations, and bad many gifts brought unto him. It is faid, that his heart was lifted up, 2 Chro. 32, 25, and in this pride of heart, he fliewed to the ambaffadors all his trea-

V. 14. Then came Ifaiah the Prophet unto hing Hezekiah, an: (aid unto bim ] The Lord was not willing that that festering corruption of pride fhould continue, and puff him up more and more, and therefore fends Ifaiah to prick that bladder, and to make him more humble-minded.

What faid thefe men > And from whence came they unto thee > These interrogations are prepounded, not so much for information, as for the more evident conviction of his folly.

and Hezekiah faid, They are come from a far countrey ] Thi be faith, to amplifie the great honor that was done unto him ; in that not onely the nations neer unto him; but also such as were far off, congratulated his bleffings, and sought friendship even from Babylon] This thews that Babylon was a countrey far semote from Jerusalem. It is said to be, betwixt fix and feven hundred miles from it. Hereby we fee, how far the Jews were carried captive from their own countrey. V. 15. And he [aid. What have they [een in thine boufet ] By this third question, the Prophet brings the King more through and a prefent unto Herekiah ] Kings were wont with their | and Herekiah answered, All the things that are in my house have the Prophet, in that he minced not the matter, but made known the whole truth.

V. 16. And Ifaiab faid unto Hezekiab, Hear the word of the Lord This preface is premized, to make him the better mark Loraj I his pretace is premuzea, to make nin the better mark what the medige was.

V. 17. Behold the dayes come] This phrase implyeth a time future, but yet such a time as should assuredly fall out. that all that is in thine bonse! Which thou thy self hast laid and that which thy fathers have laid up instore to this day 1

Kings did use to leave treasures to their children, and that generation after generation. [hall be carried into Babylon] This began to be accomplished in his fons time, 2 Chro. 73.11. but was further accomplished in Jehojakins and Zedekiah's time, chap. 24. 13. & 25. 13.

nothing [hall be left ] This was accomplished to the full, at Zedekiahs captivity, 2 Chro. 36.18. Jer. 27. 19 &c. face of Prophets hath, in this phrase, Thus faith the Lord, I King.

V. 18. And of thy fons that Shall iffue from thee, which thou fhalt beget ] Either immediatly, (as Manaffes and, his brothers. 2 Chro. 3 3.11.) Or, fucceflively, as Dehojakin, and other fons and socyretions symment 1 their alto were precious commo-dities, and of much use in their times.

"and to much use in their times.

"and the though of his armor 1 Or, 3 ewits. Hele, or field, is in our good if peace and truth by Good in this phrase implyed as much kings of the Jews fuel to have house full of armor. See film, as merciful 3 so as he acknowledgeth Goods judice mixed with 22. 8. Cant. 4.4. All Kings also in all ages have had their mercy. This interrogation, is it not good? is a fleadfast ac-2.3. R. Canta 4. All Kings also in all ages have had their mercy. This interregation, ### morgone is a uncatival attendance of professional states of the property of the professional states of the property of the professional states of t thus. If teace and truth be, flieweth that Gods mercy was manifeiled in the mixture of both those together.

in my dages ] While I live. This phrase is added, not simply, as a defire of peace and truth only in his time; but in relation to the threatning applyed to his fons time; lo as he acknowledgeth that forbearance of judgement in his time, who had deferred it, to be a great mercy.

V. 10. And the reft of the acts of Hezekiah ] See 1 King. 15. 23. Many other acts of Herzekiah, especially concerning his reformation of religion, are registred, a Chro.29.8 30. 8 31. And no question but many more were recorded of him in their and all bis might] See 1 King. 15.23. Great might was shewed against the Philistines, ch. 18, verf. 8. and likewise other countries, which diffinelly was fet down in their civill bom be made a tool and a conduit ] Of thefe, fee ch. 18. 17.

Nch. 3.14. 2 Chr. 32. 4,30.

and brought water into the City] This he did, both for the benefit of the people in the City, and also to with-draw water nefic of the people in the City, and allo to Witte-draw water from the centry, 2 Chr. 23,459. He might well do both those, by bringing water in pipes under ground, are thy not written, Rec.] See: King, 14.99.
V. 21. And Headigh flop with his father? See 1 King, 2.
10. Of his homoutheb burial. See: Chr. 32.33. and Manaffe his four retigated in his fleat]. This is one of the most woful changes that ever was in Judah. Hezekiah was one of the best Kings, Manasses one of the worst. Such a change is noted, 1 King. 22. 50.

CHAP, XXI.

Verl. 1. Manaffes was twelve years old when he began to reign] 2 Chr. 33. 1. He was born three yeers after his fathers great recovery. See ch. 20.6. and reigned fifty and fow years! This was the longest that ever any Judg or King of Judah or Israel ruled. His great grandfather Uzziah reigned two and fitty years; but in many of those yeers he was that up, and dwelt as a leper in an house part, a Chro.26.3.1. Of these fifty and five years, many were passed over in the youth of Manasses. Others in great mifery, and captivity : Others in a time of repentance. All these being taken away from the five and fifty, there will nor be fo many left for the time of his wickedness, as many imagin, Many years, and that with a crown on ones head, is no fure evidence of Gods favour. in Ferusalem] In the beginning, and in the end, and in many yeers of the middle of his raign, he was in Jerufalem; but in fone part thereof he was a priloner in Babylon.

and his mothers name was Hepbyibab] Of fetting down the and no monors name was Hopotonal Or letting down the names of Kings mothers, See I King I, 1,10. This name Hepbzübah, was that title whereby God tethified his delight in his Church, Iti. 62. 4. Some from this very name, gather, thather parents, who gave it, and the her felf, were plous perturbed the property of the p fons, whereby the impiery of her fon Manaffes is much appravated, because he degenerated so far as he did, from such a father, and from fuch a mother as he had.

V. 2. And he did that which was evil in the fight of the Lord] See 1 King. 14.22. The evil that he did, is comprized under chefe three heads. 1 Idolatry, verf. 3. 2 Sorcery, verf. 6.

3 Cruelty, v. 6.16.

after the abominations of the beathen] See 1 King, 14.24. If a due and through view be taken of the particular abominations, which Manaffes did, as they are fet down in the verfes following, the truth of this aggravation of his wickedness, will most evidently be manifested.

whom the Lord caft out, &c.] See 1 King. 14.14.
V. 3. He built up again ] Heb, he returned and built, See

V. 3. He outsi ip again. I i i i o te tentiona una votte. Occ. Ch. 1, 2, 5, & 2. Chr. 0, 3, 2, the bigh-plater.] See I King, 3, 4, which Hezeltiab his father had defired.] ch 18, 4. This is a great aggravation, that an impious son should set up again that idolatry, which his own pious father had pull'd down. and he reared up altars for Baal | Herein he imitated his grand-father Ahaz, 2 Chro. 28. 2 and impioufly supposed him to be wifer then his father Hezekiah. Of Baal, see

Chap. xxj.

1 King, 16-31, 32.

and made a grove] As did Ahab, King of Ifrael. See 1 King, 16-33. This idolater coming by lineal defcent from Athalish the daughter of Ahab, 2 Chro. 22: 10. 2 King. 8, 18. was more inclinable to follow his idolatrous kindred on the mothers fide, then his pious predecessors on the fathers and worshipped all the hoste beaven] See ch. 17. 16.

and fored them ] See I king, 16-31. & 2 king, 17-16.

V. 4. And be built Altars in the boule of the Lord ] Jer, 32.

4. Here are two further aggravations. One is, that he multiplyed altars, which was unlawful, Josh. 22. 19. The other was, that he brought altars of his own invention into the house of the Lord. Herein also he imitated his idolatrous grandfather Ahan, ch. 16.19.
of which the Lord had faid, In Jerusalem will I put my name

2 Sam.7.13. Jerufalem is here mentioned because the temple

2 Sam, 7.13. Jerusaem is nere mentoned preasure the temple was in that city. See 1 King. 8. 13,16,17.
V. 5. And be built altars for all the hofte of heaven See ch. 17 16. Altars were to worship those to whom they offered their facrifices on them in the two courts of the bouse of the Lord] See t King. 6. 36.

One of the Courts here meant, was that where the Altar of the Lord was fet, and where the Priefts and Levites executed their ordinary functions; whereby he sheweth that he equalized his Altars to Gods Altar. The other was the court of the Ifraelites, where the people met together to worship God, and here he fet Altars, that he might draw on all the people to worthip his idols.

V. 6. And he made his fonto pals thorow the fire] Of this inhumane superstition, See ch. 16.3. This shews, that he continued long in his idolatry. For he could not have a son in the beginning of his reign, because he was but twelve years old. v. 1 And it probable, that his fon was grown to fome years, before he made him thus pass thorow the fire. In 2 Chr. 21. 6. It is faid, that he caused his children to pass thorow the fire. This as appears, v. I . aggravateth his idolatry, in that he exercised that inhumane cruelty upon more fons then one.

and observed times] The Hebrew word properly fignifieth to over cloud, Gen. 4. 19. It is frequently applyed to fuch as overour count, vom. 4, 19, 118 trequently applyed to luch as over-cloud, or over-fladow what they do, as juglers ult o do 9, and to fuch as observe the clouds, the planets, the flars, flying of fowls, and other like things; and thereby jugle of matters pre-fent or future. Such are called South-Sayers, (Ifa. 2,6. Mic., 22.) Enchanters, (Jen. 27-96.) Forterers, (IIa, 77-3,) and ob-ferver of times, here, and a Char, 33.6. Under this title they are all forbidden, Levit. 19 .: 6. Deut. 18. 10,14. They were counted observers of times, who by the stars pretended to foretel future contingents; or by the flying of birds judged things at fuch and fuch times, to be fit or unfit to be done; or on other figns or occasions, dayes to be lucky or unluckie. Some-times they would judg by the birds finging, as well as flying, and fometimes by looking into the intrals of beafls, and uffel embaniment? See ch. 17.17.

and dealt with] Heb. made. By the devils subtle yielding to them, they made evil spirits familiar with themfamiliar spirits ] The hebrew word, 318 Ob, fignifieth a gods. See 1 King. 15.12.

Lev. 19.31. Deut. 18. 11. They who dealt with fuch, are threatned to be cut off, Lev. 20.6. This was Sauls fin, (r Sam. 28.7.) for which he dyed, 1 Chro.10.13. and wigards ] The hebrew word [2007] Ideonim: fignifieth fuch as are thought to know much, called in greek, ingnineta nea as an word wigards, importeth fuch as would be thought to be wife and full of knowledg. They undertake be thought to be whe and not of knowledg. I ney undertake to know all things; even fecret and future. We also call them, conting-men. They are in all the fore-named places joyned with such as deal with familiar spirits. be wrought much wickedness in the fight of the Lord | See 1 King.

toprovokehim to anger] See 1 King, 14, 9.
V. 7. And he fet a graven image of the grove which he had made] Appertaining to that grove v. 3. Some conceive that on this image the grove was curioufly carved, or ingraven, or cast, to represent that grove. So as he would have a memorial of his idolatrous grove, on the idol thereof, though it were bottle, Joh. 32. 19. They who meeve intres or even in the belly as a bottle; and the spirit seemeth to speak out of their belly, with a low hollow voyce. Such an one is called in greek, 1972/2000, one that had a spirit speaking in the belly, I(ai. 8. 19. & 29. 4. By flich, answers were often-times given to questions and cases propounded. And this idolatrous King would alwaies have fome to have fuch a foin rit to resolve his doubts. This he required to be an oracle.

Such as pretended to have thefe fpirits, were by the law to be floned, Lev. 20.27. The law also forbad to deal with such.

al of his toolatrous grove, on the most thereof, though it were removed from the grove, in the house of which the Lord said to David and to Solomon ble soil. This house was the Temple of the Lord. The high account which God would put upon it, is amplified by the charge which God giveth about it once and again; first to David, then to Solomon, Sec 2 Sam. 7. 10. I King. 9. 3. chapter 23.

in this bouse and in Ferusalem ] Jerusalem was counted an holy City, Neb. 11. 1, 18. Ma. 52. 1. Dan. 9. 24. Mat. 4. 5 & 27.53. and the temple an holy place, 1 King. 8.8. Ezr. 9.8. Act. 6.13. Heb. 9.12. and therefore they are both joyned tegether, to aggravate his wickedness which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel] See 1 King. 44: will I put my name for ever] See 1 King, 8.13,29.

V. 8. Neither will I make the feet of I fract move any more out of the land | I will not fuffer them to be carried away captives to another land; as ch. 17. 5.

which I gave to their fathers] Sec 1 King. 8. 34.
only if they will observe to do] This being the condition of Gods promite, their observation thereof gave them affurance of Gods performing his promise. But their failing therein made the promife void.

according to all that I have commanded them] This phrase in this place, intendeth especially the moral law, Exod. chap. 20.

and according to all the law that my fervant Mofes command. ded them] This phrase points at the ceremonial and judicial law, Exod. 21. 1, &c. There are three words, ( 2 Chro. 23. 8.) whereby those three kinds of laws are diffinguithed, I laws; This is fet out in the two tables, which God himfelf wrote, Exod.34.38. 2 Statuter; These were for governing the State, Exod. 21.18. 3 Ordinances; These concerned the worship of God, Levit. 1. 1. &c. Of this ftile, fervant of the Lord, See 1 King. 3.6.

V. 9. But they hearkned not People fetled in idolatry, reand Manasses seduced them] By example and encouragement, to do more evil then did the nations ] For they fet up more to a more cuts than the nations I for they see up more idole; and finned againft more light, and againft more means afforded to turn them from their fins. See Jer. 2. 10,11. whom the Lord destroyed before the children of Ifraei] See

V. 10. And the Lord spake by his servants] Heb. by the band of hi feromers. See 1 King. 8,53.
the Prophets faying ] God afforded Prophets to Judah and Ifrael, in their worst times, to draw them from their impi-

V. 11. Because Manasses king of studab bath done these aba-minations] By abominations are meant abominable things which the Lord loathed and abhorred. The abstract abomi-nations, addeth much emphafis, and hash done wickedly above all that the Amorites did] See v. 9. Under Amorites all the heathen were comprized, Gen.

which were before him] Which lived in the land before the Jews possessed it. and hath made Judah also to fin with his idols ] Heb; dungs threatneth judgement, before he inflicteth it, to draw men to repentance.

Schold 1 That which follows, is a most remarkeable man

Ism bringing such evil ] This phrase implyeth a neer approach of judgement. upon Frusalem and Juduh] Upon city and countrey. See

ch. 23.17.
that wholeever heareth of it] Whether he be hard-hearted, or foft-hearted; great or mean; Prince or people. both his ears [hall tingle] He shall have as it were a ringing found in his cars aftrighting and aftonihing him.

V. 13: And I will fretch over Jerusalem] This metaphor is taken from fuch as intend to dig up fuch and fuch ground; to flew, how much they intend to dig up.

thelise of Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Ahab | The measure and the weight of their judgements; that is, like judgements. Work-men ule by rule, measure and weight, to make up and break down their works, Isai, 34. 11. Amos 7. 7,8. By the line of Samaria, is meant the utter defolation thereof, ch. 17. 6. By the plummet of the house of Ahab, is meant the utter destruction theref, ch. 10.11.

meant the unter defluction therels, ch 10.11:

and I will wipe Gradden as a num witeto Adily, wiping it and
and I will wipe Gradden as a num witeto Adily, wiping it and the like the like of the wipe and sameth is open the face theree]. The three of Jecusiaem's refembled to a dilty, the face theree]. The three of Jecusiaem's refembled to a dilty, the face theree]. The three of Jecusiaem's refembled to a dilty, the face theree]. The three of Jecusiaem's refembled to a dilty, the face theree] to be a face of the sole of the like is that his faster ferved, and we flipped inhabitants thereof, to the fiith thereon. Maids use to wash and wipe clean away the filth on the difh. Thus flould the and whee clean away the fifth on the diffs. Thus smould the inhabitiants of Jerulalem be clean taken away, and the flate of the Jewstuterly over-thrown, and turned up fide down. V. 14. And I will for idea to remain! See th. 19.4. And I will for idea to remain! See th. 19.4. And I will for idea to remain! See the 19.4. And I will for idea to remain! See the 19.4. And I will for inhabition of the idea to remain and the see that the in as men for, and in their inheritance. This is added, to fhew ch. 12.20. that no outward priviledges could exempt them from judge-and deliver them into the hand of their enemies ] When God once forfak th a people, they foon fall into their enemies power. For God doth not onely with-hold his protection and they shall become a prey and a spoil ] This is the advantage that enemies quickly take of fuch as fall into their hands. to all their enemier ] When one creditor bath cast a debtor its as total enemes; when one creater that can a dotter into prison, all other the creditors will quickly bring their actions against him; so all forts of enemies.

V. 15. Besause they have done that which is evil in my fight]

See r King. 11.6.

er I king. 11. 0. and have provoked me to anger] See I King 14. 9. fince the day that their lathers came forth out of Egypt] See King. 8.9, 16. In the 20. chap of Ezekiel, the Prophet diflinctly fleweth, how the people of Ifrael did from their first coming out of Egypt, generation after generation provoke the even unto this day] See 1 King. 9.13. & 12.19.

V. 16. Moreover, Manaffes fleed innocent blood very much] He fleed the blood of fuch as deferved not death; who were no malefactors, but upright and righteous, till he bad filled Jerusalem from one end to another] Heb. from mouth to mouth. By mouth he may mean a gate, or entrance, or corner of the city, and foit imports, from one fide to another. This is an hyperbolicall expression of his unfatiable cruelty; and it implyeth, that not onely eminent Prophets, who to his face denounced Gods judgements against him; but alfo all forts of people, who would not conform to his idolatry and wicked courfes.

befides his fin wherewith he made Judah to fin] See v. 1 1. 1 King 12. 10. Besides Manasses seducing his people, v. 9. He alfo compelled them to fin, by flaying such as refused. The count, he was taken away in the prime and ftrength of his (pecial fin here intended was Idolatry.

in doing that which was coil in the fight of the Lord ] See ver.

15. By his example he drew his people to fin.
V. 17. Now the reft of the acts of Manaffer, and all that he did]

Both evil and good, 2 Chro. 33.3,12,3c. and his fin that he finned.] Sin may well be taken more largely here, then in the former verse; and it may by Synechdoche comprize under it, not onely idolatry, but also oppression, murther, forcery, facriledg. grether not written,&c. See ch. 20.20.

V. 18. And Manaffes fkpt with fahers] 2 Chro. 32. 20.

and was buried in the garden of his own house It is probable, that he had built a fepulchre for himself in this garden, while he nifested his zeal of Gods glory, as duties of piety. take ne and omit a lepiticise to mineral state of himself, ble father] See ch. 18. 3.

[inved. Whether he did this upon a mean account of himself, ble father] See ch. 18. 3.

[inved. Whether he did this upon a mean account of himself, ble father] See ch. 18. 3.

[inved. Whether he did this upon a mean account of himself, ble father] See ch. 18. 3. judging himfelf unworthy to lye among other Kings, or whether the people would not fuffer him to be buried among them, is not expressed I leave it as uncertain.
in the garden of U2726] Uzzah might be a former owner

V. 12. Therefore thus faith the Lord God of Ifratt] God of it, and thereupon the garden ftill carry his name. Some conceive, that under this name Uzzah, King Uzziah is meant. and that the field where he was buried, 2 Chro. 26. 23. was made a garden, and that this is the garden here intended.

and Amon bis fon raigned in bis fteed] We read how Amon imirated his fathers fins, but not that he repented as his father

V. 19. Amon was twenty and two yeers old when he began to raign 30 as he was born in the forty fifth of his fathers age, which is supposed to be after his fathers repentance.

beraigned two yeers in Ferusalem] God faw it high time to cur off fo wicked a King within a year or two.

and his mothers name was Meshullemeth, the daughter of Harut See I King 15.10.

of fotbih.] Or, fotbath. Which was a town in the tribe of Iudah. It was of old one of the stations, where the children of Ifrael refted in their journeys through the wildernels, Deut. 10.7. It is called Jorbashah, Numb. 33.34. This place fleweth, that the was no alien, but an Ifraelitish

V. 10. And he did that which was evil in the fight of the Lord] See r King, 11. 6.

as his father Manaffes did ] In the former part of his reign, before his repentance.

in In his Idolatry, oppreffion, murther, forcery, facriledge, them] See v. r. 3. V. 22. And he for fook the Lord God of his fathers, ] See I King.

Q.Q. All idolaters forlake the Lord. and walked not in the way of the Lord. ] See I King. II.

V. 23. And the fervants of Amon conspired against him] See and flew the king in his own boufe. ] This implyeth, that they were such servants as attended the King in his house. V. 14. And the people of the land flow all them that had confhired against king smou] Amons eldest fon was now very young, and unable to revenge his fathers death; therfore the prople from them; but alfo flirreth up enemies to be the executio- undertake it, and effect it; for it was an especial part of and the people of the land made Iofiah bit for king in hit fleed. ]

This was a bleffed change, as when Hezekiah fucceeded Ahaz, ch 16 10

V. 25. Now the rest of the 46ts, Sec. ] See v. 17.
V. 26. And he was buried in the sepulchre ] This may have reference to Manastes his father, as if he had faid, in his fathers fepulchre; whereof fee v. 18. Or, it may be, that Amoa had made a fepulchre for himfelf, as his father Manaffes had in the garden of UZZah ] See v. 18. So as this garden now became a place of burial for Kings.

and Iofiab] Matt. to. He is called Iofias. bis (on raigned in bis fleed ] See v. 24.

CHAP. XXII.

Verf. 1. Jossa was eight year old when he began to raign] 2 Chro.3 4.1. Though he were but young, and inceeded an idolatrous father, yet he proved very pious, and a great bleffing to that kingdom. His name fignifieth, the falvation of God, and he well answered that name, in that he made Ged his falvation, by trusting in him, and also through Gods help faved his people all his dayes, from idolatry, and from forraign enemies. This King was by name prophessed of, above two hundred and thirty yeers before this. See I King.

and he raigned thirty and one yeers in Terusakem] By this acdayes, being thirty nine yeer old.

and his mothers name was Iedidah | See I King. 15. 10. This name fignifieth, beloved of the Lord. It is probable, that the was a pious woman, and that the feafoned her fon in his younger yeers with piety, and this was an evidence that the was beloved of the Lord.

beloved of the Lord.

the daughter of Adajah of Boscath.] This was a city in the tribe of Judah, John 15, 39. So as the was not an alien, but born and brought up in the Church of God.

V. 2. eAnd he did that which was right in the fight of the Lord | See 1 King. 14.8. & 15.5. and walked in all the wayer of David ] He means those righteous courses, wherein David walked; especially those that mais the onely way wherein men ough 'to walk. All aberrations are, either to the right-haad, in their excels; or to the left-hand, in their defect. Josiah did carefully avoid all aberrarions on both hands. The Metaphor is taken from 1 travellers, who are carefull, to walk on in that way which leads them to the end of their journey, and will not turn out of that way to the one fide or the other , Numb. chap. 20. of that way to use one has or the other, plumo, chap. 20. verf. 17. I Samuel, chap. 6. verf. 12. A strict circumspection over the course of a mans life, comprized under this phrase, is oft commanded, Deut. chap. 5. vers. 31. Josh.

Chap. xxii.

3. And it came to pass in the eighteenth year of King Fofiab ] The eighteenth of his reign is here meant, 2 Caron. 24. 8. Many things which were great evidences of this good verf. 3. In this place, it hath relation to Shaphan, not to Meshullam. Shaphan was the Scribe. In a Chron. 34. 8. Methiliam: Snapan was too Scribe. In 2 Chron. 34. 8. there were other fent with this messenger, namely, Maleiah, and Josh, both which were great officers; which manifested that great respect which the King had to this work in to the boule of the Lord ] Where Hilkiah the Priest was. The main end of this meffage was, to take order for the repairing of the house of the Lord. So much is expressed, 2 Chr. 34. 8. We do not read of any folemn repairing of the Temple fince the reign of Jehoash, in the dayes of Jehojadah the Priest, 2 King. 12. 2,5. Though there were many reformations, and purgings of the Temple, especially in Hezekiahs time, a Chr.

29. 3, Sc. Now many years had passed betwite the time of Jehoash and Josiah, namely above two bundred; so as the Temple must needs stand, at this time, in great need of much repair.

V. 4. Go up to Hilkiah the high Priest. This was a good high Priest, and carefull to put on all things that might make to the stability and beauty of the house of God, and to the pure worship of God. It may be that he was the father of Jeremiah the Prophet, Jer. 1. 1.
that he may (um the filver which is brought into the house of the Lord ] Questionless, order had been taken in the former yeers of this good King, to collect money for this purpole. Some of this good along, to concer money for tins purpoir. Some fuch order, as we read of 2 King. 12. 4, 9. and now care is taken for disposing that money, to the end for which it was collected. By summing the filver, he means telling it, to see how much there was.

which the keepers of the door ] Heb. threshold. See chap. 12

ver. 9.

bave gathered of the people ] By receiving it of such as came to the house of the Lord, there to offer their offering. V. 5. And let them deliver it into the bands of the doers of the work ] There were two forts of menthat are stiled, doers of the work. 1. Such as had a charge to fee it well done. 2 Such ver. 19. as laboured in the work it felf, called , work-men. Itake the former to be here meant.

that have the over fight of the house of the Lord] These were the same, that in the words before are fuled, doers of the work. They are expressly noted to be Levites, and fer down by name, 2 Chronicles, Chapter 34. verse and let them give it to the doers of the work, ] Here the phrase is used for work-men, such as are mentioned in the next verfe. which is in the boufe of the Lord | Such work as appertaineth to the Temple, for the strengthning and beautifying of the to repair the breaches of the house ] Such as were made by the violence of idolaters, or by continuance of time. See chap. 12.

V. 6. Unto Carpenters, and builders, and Mafons ] Under thefe three heads are comprized all manner of artificers, whose work was requifite for repairing of the Temple. See Chapter 12. and to buy timber and bewen stone to repair the bouse ] For the very flone-walls, besides rafters, beams, and other things made of timber's were decayed. See chapter, 12. verf. 11, V. 7. Howbeit there was no reckning made, &c. ] See chap.

12. verf. 15. The persons that were thus trufted, were Lebecauso they dealt faithfully ] Heb. in truth or faithfulness. See

ch. 12.15.
V. 8. And Hilliah the high Priest faid unto Shaphan the Sovide | See v. 3, 4.

I have found the book of the Law in the boule of the Lord ] He means the original copy which Mofes wrote, a Chron. 34.

14. This Mofes caufed to be put by the fide of the Ark, Deut. 31. 26. It might by the diforder in Manafles and Amonstime, be laid afide; or, it might by fome pious Priest, be laid up in some secret place of the Temple, lest it should be taken away by the idolaters, and burnt, or otherwise destroyed. Great question is here made about the strangeness of the law at that time; for, by their high account of this book, it may feem. that there were but few copies of the Law, in that Hilkiah the 34.8. Matry unspectified in the way set young, he began to eight yeer of his reign, while he way set young, he began to feel the Lords and in the twelfild yeer, he began to purge furdah and Jeruilden, a Chron. 34.3. Hence many infer, this great reformation which is noted chapter as, yet 1. 38.

was done before that which is here noted in this Casponaria of the control of the set of the control of the set of the control of the set of the high Priest, sent this as a choice Present to the King, and in

And Hillitiab gave the book to Shaphan See v. 3.

and he read it He himtelf was defirous to know, at leaft, the contents thereof, that fo he might fee the greater reason for delivering it to the king.

V. 9. And Shaphan the Scribe came to the King] For he was

V. 9. And Soughain new script causes to the Antigar rot me was fent by the King to the Priefly, 2. and brought the King word again? This word, again, hath reference to the Kings furficending of Shaphan, and to a fecond coming of his to the King. We also in this fente do 18y, inch a meffinger came again.

Thy fervants] He means Hilkiah, himself, and other messengers whom the King can. have gathered] Heb. melted. For things melted, being of the fame kinde, use to gather together, the monty that was found in the house Being contributed by fuch as were well devoted to the service of God.

and have delivered it into the band of them that do the work] That had a charge to fee it well done.

that have the over fight of the boule of the Lord ] See

V. 10. And Shaphan the Scribe shewed the King, saying ] He showed the book to the king, and declared how he came Hilhiab the Priest hath delivered me a book, ] See and Shaphan read it before the King. ] Questionless, he read it upon the Kings appointment and command, as Jer. 26.

V. 11. And it came to pass when the King bad heard the words of the book of the law Surely he had not heard them to the tull, before this time; which implyes a neglect fome way or other: for, there was a charge given, that the king should read therein all the dayes of his life, Deut, chapter 17.

that he rent his clothes ] Of this rite, See Chapter 18. verse 37. It shews, that the King was deeply affected with that which he heard; as is more fully expressed, V. 12. And the King commanded Hilkiabthe Pricft] Sec.

and Abikam the fon of Shaphan ] This was another Shaphan then the Scribe and Achbor the fon of Micaich] He is called Abdon the fon of Micab, 2 Chr. 34, 20. Either he might bave two names, or otherwise there might be some different pronuntiations of the fame name.

and Shaphan the Scribe ] See v. 3.

and eAfahish a fervant of the Kings, faying ] This is a description of a Courtier , that is alwaics at the Kings hand

V. 13. Goye, enquire of the Lord for me ] The good King hearing the curies denounced in the law that was read to him, and knowing how much his Predeceffors had transgressed that and knowing now much his Predecetiors had transgrelled that law, supposed, that the judgments denounced therein, were even then hanging over their heads; and therefore fen to en-quire when those judgments were like to fall out: And whether there might be any means to pacific Gods wrath, and prevent those judgments, and for the people, and for all Judah] By the people, he may mean fuch as used to meet at publike affemblies: And by all Fudah, all other of that Kingdom, whether men, women, or children. His care was as great for his fub ects, as for him-concerning the words of this book which is found ] He means in particular, the judgments that were denounced in that baok.

for great is the wrath of the Lord that is kindled against in ] Though in his dayes, there were no apparent manifestations of SECE

Gods wrath ; ver by that which he had heard of the fins of the | that hath taken fuch hold of an house, as it cannot be quenched, Code wrate ; yet oy user written as man march or use may or use; inset assu measures motor or as nouse, a sit cannot be querkened, land in former innes, he might well conclude, that Gods wrath it! little the host be clean bannet down.

John the Meraphor, he refembleth Gods wrath or V. 18. But to the Ring of Juliah] Here the givesh unto the a fire. See Deut. 32. 22.

See Deut. 32. 22.

Locale our fathers have not best kened unto the words of this book. Under Fathers, he comprizeth Amon his immediate father, Manafles, his Grand-father, Abaz, and other Predeceffors before them. By not bearkening, he meaneth their rebellion, espe-tore them. By not peargening, as measured usen repetition, eight cially in worthipping Idols, to do according to all that which is written concerning us.] That which is registred in Gods Word; for general directions or prohibitions concern all ages. See Rom. 15.4. I Cor. ch. 10.

6.11. V va. So Hilkiah the Prieft, and Abigam, &c. ] See verf.

went unto Huldabthe Propheteffe ] It pleafed God to endov women with an extraordinary ipirit, to fhew, that he is tyed to no fex; Though he forbad women ordinarily to exercise a Ministerial function in the Church, I Tim. 2.12. I Cor. 14.34. yet he would leave liberty to himfelf, to bestow his gifts as pleafed him. Miriam was a Propheteffe, Ex. 15,20. and Deborah, Judg 4.4. And Anna, Luk. 2.36. There were then extraordinary Prophets in Judah, as Jer. 1. 1, 2. Zeph. 1.1. and it may be, sary respects in judan, as Jer. 1. 1. Zeph. 1. 1. and it may by Urijah, Jer. 26. 20. Yet this woman san ow fent unto because he was neer at hand, even in that city, and known to be endued with an extraordinary spirit; so as they had respect to the gift of God, rather then the person on whom the gift was bestored.

the wife of Shallum the fou of Tekea ] Hereby this Shallum i distinguished from the Kings son, Jer. 22.11. And from Stallum Jeremians kinsman, Jer. 32. 7. and is here set down for honour fake ; for it was a great honour to have fuch a the fon of Harbas | Or, Hafrab 2 Chr. 34.12. the difference is only in the transposing of letters.

**Keeper of the Wardrobe | Heb. garments. Holy vestments are here meant, appertaining to the Temple. See Neh. chap.7.

v. 72.
now for dwelt in ferufalem in the Colledg ] Or, in the fecond part, By the fecond part, is meant a part of the City divided from that part where the Kings Palace was. Some take it to be the middle Court, mentioned ch. 20. 4. Being taken for a Colthe middle Court, mentioned cn. 20. 4. Being taken for a Colledg (as well it may be for taken) it implyes the place where Prophets, and fuch as are children of the Prophets, bad their usual abode. Of Prophets, See 1 King. 18.4. And of places for prophets abode, see I King. 6.1. and they communed with her ] About the kings Message and about those things which were written in the

V. 15. And [he faid unto them, Thus faith the Lord] See 1 King.

God of Kirstel] See 1 King. 8. 15.

tell the man that fent you to me] She files the king, man, to fhew, that though he were a king, yet he was but a mortal man; but the doth it not in any contempt of his royal y; for the addeth this phrafe, [that fent jou unto me] which implyeth authority, the doth afterward expressly call him , King of Judab ,

V. 16. Thus faith the Lord] See v. 15. bebeld ] It is a very remorkable matter that follow-

T will bring evill \ Sore and beavy judgments mon this place ] Upon Jerusalem, and all Judah. and upon the inhabitants thereof ] For not only the houses and wals of cities were demolished, but also the dwellers therein, were either destroyed by plague, famine, or sword; or carried away even all the words of the book which the king of Judah bath beard ] She means all those curses which were written in the

V. 17. Because they have forsahenme ] See 1 King, chap. 11.

v. 33.
and have burnt i nornse unto other gods ] See 1 King. ch. 9. that they might provoke me to anger ] See 1 King. ch. 16.

with all the works of their hands ] He means especially the Idols that were made with mens hands a together with their Altars, groves, and other things that were made by men for idolatrous sherefore my wrath [hall be kindled] Sec v. 13. againft this place ] See v. 16.

and [ball not be quenched] The meaning is, that the time was and pass on or gathered it is the meaning to that the come for judgment to be executed, to the turner extripation of the Jews out of their land; and though the good king Joshi found mercy himself, yet his people, retaining their rebellious and foliatrous diposition, should be unterly defined, as a fire

v. 18. Days nor Aing of Junuary stere the given units the King, his just title, See v. 15. whith fest you to enquire of the Lord Hereby the sheweth, that a she was a Prophetess of the Lord, and that the king did so account of her Thus (hall ve (sy to him, Thus (aith the Lord God of Ifrael) See 15. Hereby the theweth, that the pake not of any private motion of her own, but from the Lord. as touching the words which thou baft beard ? See verf.

11.

V. 19. Because thise beart was tender Soon moved at the hearing of judgment. A tender heart is a foft heart, and it is opposed to an hard and obstinate heart.

poten to an mare and continued near the Lord ] Josiah humbled his foul for his own and others fins; so to do, is a matter acceptable unto God, Micah 6. 8. when these beardest what I facte ] Gods judgments made known unto us, give just cause of humbling our soul before God.

against this place, and against the inhabitants thereof] See v.16.
that they should become a defolation] Hereby is meant, that Jerusalem and the land of Judah should be empried of all her inand a curfe] That the Land should lye under the curse and vengeance of God, and have all the curses written in the law, executed upon her.

and baft rent thy clothes] See v. 11.

and west before me] See ch. 20. 3.

I also have beard thee ] I have observed what thou hast done, and regarded and accepted what thou de(dith the Lord ] She oft inculcateth her warrant, to make her word to be the better heeded.

V 10. Behold therefore | See v. 16.

I will gather thee unto the Fathers ] Thou shalt dve as well as thy Fathers, and be in eternall glory with and shou shalt be gathered into thy grave] Or, thy graves. The word is of the plural number, to let out a fair and fumptuous grave ; or elfe one of many graves. So 2 Chronicles, 16. 14.

38. 35.24.
in peace] Two things are intended hereby, 1. That he flould end his dayes while his Kingdom was in peace, before the defolation and curse mentioned yer. 19. should fall out. une estoration and curte mentioned ver. 19. Insulid alli out.
3. That he flould die in peace of condicince, and in peace with God. The great troubles of Ifrael followed after his death, True itis, that he dyed in war, and was flain by an enemy, ch. 23, 29. buthe was not an enemy that invaded the land, or had any quarted against the land of Israel, before that time. Though any quarrel against the land of three, before that time. I should be failed much in provoking the King of Egypt, yet was there not then apy trouble in Ifrael; neither did his sudden and violent death break off his peace with God: but thereby he was taken from the evils to come; as many righteous men have been, Ifa. 57. 1, 2. and thine eyes that not fee all the evil This is rendred as the reason of his dying in peace; after his death, the evill here intended tellout.

which I will bring ] God hath his hand in all judgments which befall children of men; especially such as befall his Church, Isa. chapter 1. vers. 21. Amos chap. 3. ver. 6. Job 45: 7: apon this place] Sec v. 16. And they brought the King] The Meffage was in part a dole-full meffage, yet they faithfully related it, as it was delivered to word again] See v. 9.

CHAP. XXIII.

Verf.: A Nd the King fent 1 This, that is here noted, was done before the book of the law was found, 2 Chr.; 34. 3. Even in the twelfth year of his reign. and they gathered unto bim ] The meffengers whom the King feat for that purpole.

all the Euler] See I King, 8. I.

of Huddh and Jerufalen ] Of country and city, that were differred abroad in the Country, or abode in Jerufalen

V. 2. And the King went so into the boule of the Lord] He went thither, to offer up facrifices to the Lord, to call upon him for pardon, and to enter into a folemn Covenant with him, and all the men of Judab, and all the inhabitants of Fernfalen with him ] Because all forts had finned, and the judgments

P. XXIJ.

were like to fall ajon them all, the King brought them all to to be burnt, or otherwise spoiled, in the fields of Kiron I in the fields themselves observe those ordinances wherein they instruct and the prophets | Those extraordinary Prophets which were then among them; as Jeremiah, Zephaniah; and also they who are called children of the Prophets, (ch. 2. 3.) are here and all the people, both [mill and great] Heb. from [mall, even unto great. Under this phrase, the common fort of people, women and children, and strangers also, are comprized. See Deut.

Chap, xxiii.

31. 11. John 8.35. Neh, 8.3.

and he read] He caused one of the Priests or Levites to read.

in their cares.] Audibly, and diffinely, so as all they might hear and understand all the words of the book of the Covenant] It is called the book of the Covenant, because that Covenant which God had made with Ifrael, was contained therein. See 1 King. 8.9. which was found in the boufe of the Lord ] See Chapter 22.

V. 3. And the King stood by a pillar ] See chapter 11.

and made a Covenant with the Lord ] They promifed and vowed to be faithful fervants to the Lord. Sec 2 Chron. 34. Ver. 32.

to walk after the Lord] This and the other branches following, are parts of the covenant that he made. To walk after the Lord, is to observe that which the Lord prescribes unto us, Of this and the other phrases following, see 1 King. 2. 3, 4. & to perform the words of this Covenant that were written in this book To do that, which by vertue of Gods promile, was preferibed to them, and expresly fer down in that book. Of every covenant beween God and man, there are two parts : One is, a promife of grace and bleffing, on Gods part. The other is, of duty and obedience on mans part, Gen. 17.8,9,10.

and all the people [food to the Governant] They gave their confent to it, and bound themselves to perform it. It appears fent to it, and bound themleives to perform it. It appears by the Prophets complaints against the people, even in Josian time, (Jet. 3, 6, 10, 11.) and by the peoples running to ido-latry openly and impudently, after Josiahs death, that this pretence of standing to the Covenant, was but feigned. The king tence of standing to the Covenant, was but teigned. The king did entirely with his whole heart, what the people did disfem-blingly with their mouth only. But Josiah conceiving and hoping the best of them, brought them to this covenant; beeause ordinarily a covenant, as well as an oath, is a forcible means to binde men to the good behavior

V. 4. And the King commanded Hilkiab the high Pricft] See

ch. 22. 4.
and the Priefts of the second order] Those which were in the next order to the high Prieft. The Priefts which were next unto them, that lineally descended from the high Prieft. Aaron left two fons, Eleazar and Ithamar, Numb 3.4. They who de cended from Eleazar, were of the first order. They who descended from Ithamar, were of the second order. His meaning is, that all fort of Priests were called, to imploy their service in purging the Temple.

and the keepers of the door Heb. threshold. as ch. 22.4. & 12.

9. These were Levites.

to bring forth out of the Temple of the Lord | Such things as are not fit for the house of the Lord, are not to be kept therein, but all she vessels that were made for Baal] All manner of instruen toe vajeus tots were mane jert Dani | All manner or instru-ments and utenfils; as allars, bafons, ours, and whatforver belonged to the worthip of their gods. Idolaters instituted the Lords fervants, in making fluck veffels for their gods, as were made for the fervice of the Lord. Under their allo, may be comprized images and their appurtenances. Such things had Manaffes, (ch. 21. 4, 7.) and Amon, (ch. 21. 4, 7.21.) and other idolatrous Kings before them, brought into the house of order assistations Alings perfore taems, prougatinto tae nonie or the Lord; which though in the time of other good Kings, and in the former years of Jofiahs time, they had not been ufed, but feet after in fome by-places, yet full they remained in the Temple: But now the zeal of Jofiah would not fuffer them to abide there any longer.

and for the grove] Of a grove, See 1 King. 16. 33. This grove was neer to the Temple, that idolaters might with the greater delight, worthip their idols there.

and for all the hoste of heaven ] Many idolaters accounted the Sun, Moon, and other Stars, to be gods, and yielded Divine worthip to them. See 2 King. 17-16.

and he burnt them Many of the vessels before mentioned, were.

of pretious matter, and curious workmanship; get the pious King would not fuffer them to confinue as they were. He utterly deffroyed them.

without Jerusalem J Detestable and contemptible things abominable silibiness. were wont to be carried out of the City, when they were dron did run along. See 1 King, 2. 37.

and carried the after of them unto Bethel] Bethel was the City and carried the ajoes of them unto memoral Dethiel was the City wherein Jeroboam fer one of his golden calves, 1 King 12.19. It was about eight miles from Jerufalem: For the inequity of it, it was called also Bath-aven, Hos, 10, 5. To stain that conceit which many had of the holiness of this idolatrous city, the zealous King layes the after, of those idolatrous vessels which he had burnt in Detnet.

V. 5. And he put down] Heb. caufed to cesfe. Suffered them not to enjoy their idolatrous functions, or use their idolatrous couries any longer.

the idolatrous Priefts Heb, The root 725 Camar, whence this word cometh, is used to set forth the heat and ardency of this word content, is specificated the next and ardency of the bowels, when one is moved with compafilon, as Gen. chap. 43. ver. 30. 1 King. 3. 26. Hof. 11. 8. It is also used, Sam. 5. 10. for the blackness or shrinking of the skin with famine. This title Chemarim was given to idolatrous Priefls, either by reason of their preposerous zeal and servency about their idolativ; or because they used to wear black clouders or because they were much exercised in burning factifices and incense. The Jewish Rabbins give this title to Monks, many Ifraelites did entertain these Chemarims in Josiahs time, Jer-3. 6, &c. Zeph. 1. 1,4,&c. as many Papills do yet fill entertain Mals-Priests in England, whom the Kings of Judz: had ordained He means such idolatrous Kings as regarded not the Priefts of the Lord, but had Priefts of their own making, 1 King, chap, 12, v. 31, 32.

to burn incense] See 1 King. 9. 25. This shews the reason of their name Chemarim. unto Baal] See 1 King. 16. 31.

to the Sun and to the Moon The Moon was accounted by idolaters, the Queen of heaven, Jer. 44, 17. and the Sun, a great god. This they called Phoebus, her Phoebe.

god. This they called Phæbus, her Pheèbe, and tothe plantil Or, streket figur, oc, confiellations. The Plantes are those, which in English, are called the feven wanding Stars, because they are not fee in their orbs, as the multitude of flars are, which we commonly call, fixed flars. multitude of thris are, which we commonly cult, need this. The Sun and Moon were two of theft's Summ, Jupiter, Mars, Mercury, Venue, were the other five. Every of thefe were accounted prime gods, or goddeffee, by the heathen. The irrefue figur are those which are placed in the Zone the summer of diack, and each of them appropriated to a diffired moneth, and to diffinct and feverall parts of the body. Every one of thefe figns is counted a conflellation; or the gathering toge-ther of many stars into one figure or shape. All the fixed stars are brought under one figure or flape. All the fixed flares are brought under one confiellation or another. The Hebrew word importeth, fuch things as fend down an influence; and this the feven Planets are supposed to do moil effectu-and all the hoft of heaven] All the other stars, besides those that are comprised under the former names. See 2 King.

V. 6. And he brought out the grove from the house of the Lord We cannot think that a grove could be planted, and made to grow in any parts of the Temple, properly to called. So that, either the house of God is taken for the Courts that were about the Temple, (whereof fee t King. 6. 36.) or elfe he means that image, whereon a grove was engraven, chap.

without Ferufalom, &c.] See v. 4. and flamp it small to powder] To tellific the greater detellaand cast the powder thereof upon the graves of the children of the people] z Chr. 34. 4. Of such people as had idolatrously wor-shapped idols. This also he did, in detestation of such as had been idolaters; and for a fore-warning to fuch as then were, or afterwards might be idolaters: In particular, he flowed, that they delerved to be beaten to powder. By children of the people, arc fer forth the common fort of people.

V. 7. And he brake down Both to manifelt an utter dete-flation of that filthiness, and also to keep them from being fo used again. See the like zeal, ch. 18. 4.

the bouses of the Sodomites | See 1 King. 14. 24. that were by the house of the Lord | Idolaters so distained the Lords holy house, as they joyned the most filthy and abominable things thereto.

where the women were hangings Heb, houses, or, curtains, whereby they might keep themselves from the sight of others: Idolatry and all manner of filthiness use to go together. for the grove ] They had their little houses, or tents, or booths, in their grove, which was a delightfome place, and they thought to make it, to their impure fouls; the more delight fome, by their V. 8. And he brought all the Priests Here sons of Aaron, had defiled themselves with idolatry.

out of the cities of #adah] Where they had exercised their idolatry. For though the Lord had only one house, and that in lerusalem; yet Idolaters had their idolatrous places in every and defited the bigh placer] See I King. 3.4. These he defiled by destroying the Altars, and other religious ornaments in them; and by causing dung, and other filthy things to be where the Priest had burnt incense ] See 1 King. 9.25.

City.

from Geba to Beetsheba, from the North to the South coast]

See 1 King. 15, 22, & 19, 3, and brake down the high places of the gates] Such high places as were publikely erected at the gates of the cities, whither the greatest fort of people did refort.

that were in the entring in of the gate of Johnathe governour of the City] He means not Johnathe fon of Nun, who conquered Canaan, and ferled the Ifraelites therein; but another ed Canaan, and tetted the tiraeties therein; our another man of the lame name, was a man of great place in Josha's dayes, and had caufed high places to be erected by his own house. Josiah in his reformation spared none, no not the g cateft.

which were on a mans left band at the gate of the city] They might be without the City, but neer the entrance there-

V. 9. Nevertheless, the Priests of the high places ] Such as were mentioned v.8. but had renounced the idolatrous places and fervices.

came not to the Altar of the Lord in Ferusalem] Were not permitted to offer facrifices on that Altar; but they and their po-flerity were removed from their Prieflly function. See Ezek.

44. 10.1 1,12,13.
but they did eat of the unleavened bread among their bretbren Under unleavened bread, are meant the loaves of thew-bread Under unleavened bread, are meant the loaves of the wherea that were fet before the Lord, Livit.44, 5, 6, 6c. and that, part of the meat-offerings which was referved for Aaron and his fons, Levit. 2.1, 2, 3, 8c. By this one kinde of provision for the Pricits, all their provisions meant; and thereof might the Pricits here mentioned be made partakers. Though they might not do the proper offices of Priests; yet they were to be maintained by that allowance which was due to the Prieft, See Ezek. 44.29.30.31. V. 10. And he defiled] As v. 8.

Trobeth which is in the valley of the children of Hinnom ] See that no man might make his fon or his daughter to pafs thorow the fire] This was a cruelty which idolatrous Kings of Judah had used towards their children, ch. 16.3.

used towards their confidence, in 0.3.

10 Moledby See 1 King. 11.5.

V. 11. And betook away the borfer this the Kings of Julab bad given to the Sun] These were living and light horses, which were from time to time nourished and kept, to ride with speed, and to carry men to those places where they might see the first rifing of the Sun; that fo they might worship the Sun at the first perping of it. This was an idolatrous profitie of the Perfians, and the Israelites had learn'd it of them. This phrase, He took away, implyeth that they were living hories. Had they been only images of hories, he would have burnt them as he did other images, and superstitious monuments, v. 4. By giving these to the Sun, is meant, a religious, or rather the entiring in of the buffe of the Lord! Which was the Eaft-end; for the Sun rifeth in the Eaft, and that way they might the foonest clay the rising thereof.

by the chamber of Nathanmelech the chamberlain | Or, Eunuchs or, officer. See I King. 22. 9.
which was in the Subarbs | Namely, of the City; which City fome take to be Zion, the City of David.

fome take to be Zion, the City of 12440.

and hurst be Charias of the fun with fire ] They are called Chariots of the Sun ; because they were made and dedicate to the honour of the Sun . By the help of the fore-mentioned horses, they and many in them, might quickly be drawn to hories, they and many is them, might quickly be drawn to fome place where the first fitting of the Sun might to feen. Or, as the heathen had, so the idolertous Hiracities might have a picrous image of the Sun, and that fee in one of these draw-riots, which being fallend to the fore-mentioned bories, might the drawn up and down, for all forces of people to fee, admire, and adore that image. It is here faid, that the charious were burned, but the hories taken away which further implyeth, that the burles were living creatures; but the chariots made of word.

V. 12. And the alsays that were on the top of the upper chamber of Abay] Fair greathouses were then wont to have flat roofs leaded over, (Diut. 22. 8. Mar. 2. 4.) On these, Idolaters used to erect altars; specially to the host of heaven, Jer. 19.13. Zeph. 1.5, Abaziah, an idolatrous King, had fuch a roof over his upper chamber, 2 King, 1. 2.

who had their calling to be Priests, are meant; yet such as which the Kings of Judah had made! As Ahaziah in his time; had desiled themselves with idolatry. This is a great aggravation of their idolatry; they contented not themselves with alters in Temples, in groves, on bills, and other like places on the ground: but must needs erect some al-To on their house tops.

and the digary which Manaffes had made in the two courts of the house of the Lord ] See ch. 21.5.

did the King best down ] This he did according to the law.

Deut.7.5.
and brake them down from thence] Heb. ran from thence. He caused them to be tumbled down, broke to pieces, and beaten cauled them to be tumbled down, proce to pieces, and bearent to powder. It may feem frange, how these should stand till Josah's time, seeing it is said, that Manasses after his repen-tance, cast our of the City all the altars that he had built, cance, care out of the sary an the atters that he had built, 2 Chr. 33.15. But they might remain and be fill, though they were cast out of the City: Yes, Amon might bring them again to the places where Manasses had first fer and caft the duft of them into the brook Kidron ] See verfe

V. 12. And the high places that were before Ferufalem ] Of high places, see 1 King 3. A These might be without the citys but before the chief entrance thereinto: so as out of them they might look into the Temple, and out of the Temple which were on the right hand of the mount of corruption ] That is, the mount of Oliver. It is called the mount of corruption; because they had there corrupted themselves by their idola-which Solomon the King of Ifrael had builded] This circumthews, that though the high places were first erected by one news, tract toough the night places were first effected by one that was accounted a very wife King, and also had continued many generations; yet he was not assess to demolish them. Gods word to him was more then the practise of a wife man, A your word to him was more then the practile of a wife man, or antiquity. Herein he excelled all the good Kings that were betwirk Solomon and himself. It may be, that these high places erected by Solomon, were not frequented or much used in the dayes of Asa, Jehoshaphat and Hezekiah; and thereupon were fuffered to abide : but Amon might again put them to those idolatrous uses for which they were first crecked : and thereupon Josiah take that occasion, utterly to demolish them, that they might not again be fo used.

for Ashareth, &c.] Of all these idols, see 1 King. ch. 11. v.

did the King defile] See v. 8. V. 14. And he brake in pieces the images] Heb. Statues. See King 10.26.

and cut down the groves | Of groves, fee I King. 16.33.
and filled their place; with bones of men | This was one way and flict their flace; will be one; of men I his was one way whereby he defiled places, (as v.8, to.) and thus he dealt with them, to keep men from using them any more, so superfittiously as they had done formerly. Those bones of men, he took out of the graves of idolaters, v 16.

of the graves of dolaters, v 16.
V. 15, Moreover the dates that was as Bebtel 1 King.ri.33.
20.13. 1. Though Jeroboam the first had Bethel in his policilion when he erected alters there, r King.ri.33, Ver was it afterwards word by Abijak King of Judah, z Chri.13.19. ig-deed that part of Bethel where the idol was, the Kings of Itael quest cate part on secure water the town was, the fungs of that retained till their capitity; y but Ifrael at this time was carried captive out of the land; and they that inhabited the land, did not much care for the islois and for the isloiarrous places which the Ifraelites had fet up: therefore it is find, that Jofish did to all the houses of the high places that were in the Cities of

to an increment of the might places that the thirth in the same as he had done to them in Bethel, v. 19.

and the high places which Fersboam the for of Nebat] Here may be meant that house of high places which Jeroboam buile;

"King, 12. 31.
who made Ifraelto fin, had made] See 1 King, 12. 30.
bosh that altar and the high place be brake down! He let nothing and burns the bigh place ] After he had broken it down.

and flampt it fmall to powder] See v. 6. and burnt the grove] The grove where his house of high plaand narm nee grows 1 no grows where his noute of high places was. See 1 King. 3. 4. & 16. 33. That Jeroboam had groves, is evident 1 & ing. 14. 15.

N. 16. And as 3-362 numed hims[df] This implies a spread evidence of Gods providence, to bring to pass what was fore-told (1 King. 13, 2.) above three hundred years before be spyed the Sepulchres that were there in the mount ] That was by the idolatrous stratiles accounted an holy place; and thereupon their Priefts were there buried, and they had fome monuments over their graves, to continue a memorial of their names. Those monuments continued till Josighs time, and he being there prefent, foon efpyed them.

Chap. xxiii.

and polluted it Burning of Priefts bones upon an altar, could not but be accounted a great pollution, at leaft, by idolaters. according to the word of the Lord which the man of God proclaimed] See I King, 1, 2, &c. Gods word shall affuredly in due time be accomplished, though the date for the accomplishment thereof be long.

who proclaimed shefe words ] This is added, to flow the faithfulness of the man of God, in doing his message.

V. 17. And ho said, what sitle is that I see? ] There was some

Y. 17. And no sast, what there is not 1 feet 1 Incre was some grave-flone, and a superfeription upon it, or else a pillar by Sepulchte of the man of God, such an one as Jacob set upon Rachels grave, Gen. 35. 20. wherein the story of that man of God was engraven. See I King. 13-30,31.

and the men of the Gity told bin This shews, that they which dwelt in Bethel (which city is here meant) were oft put in minde, by this monument of the flory of the man of God; thereupon they well remembred it, and could readily tell the King the ftory, as it followeth.

it is the sepulchre of the man of God, &c.] See 1 King. 13. 1, and proclaimed these things that thou hast done against the altar of Bethel] See v. 16.

V. 18. + And he said, let him alone ] The King was moved hereunto, tither by special inflinet, or else by the story that he heard of the man of God.

let no man move his bones ] God hath care, even of the dead fet. no man move no source. ] One date care, even or the dead dry bones of his Saints, that they may quietly reft. fo they let his bones alone ] Heb. to efeate. They did not take his bones our of the grave, as they had done the bones of his pones our or the grave, as they have more the bones of others, v. 16.

with the bones of the Prophet that came out of Samaria] That was the old Prophet, which with a lie deceived the man of God , yet that old Prophet believing the truth of that which the man of God had faid, received this recompence of his faith, and had that which he defired and expected, accomplished. See 1 King. 13. 21.32. V. 19. And all the bouses also of the high places] See v. 15.

& 1 King. 13. 32. The whole Country and Kingdom of Ifrael was oft called Samaria. See 2 King. 17. 24. In this extent is the word Samaria here used. which the Kings of Ifract had made to provoke the Lord to anger wonto to a cing of jatas con make or proceedings of the See 1 King 14.9.

3- [Sephitopic and] See v. 11.

and did to them, according to all the affirshat behad done to Bethell See v. 15. It is probable, that the Cities of the country of Samaria in fundry tribes (mentioned a Chr. 34.6) were seen that the statement of the st under the jurisdiction of the king of Judah, at that time; and that many in those tribes yielded themselves to the king of Judab, 2 Chr. 30. 1,10,11. As for the royal City Samaria, it is not faid, that the King entred into it; for the inhabitants is not laid, that the King, entred, into it; its rine inhabitants thereof cleaved close to their idols, 2 King, 1.7, 41.

V. 20. And be flew J Heb. farified. After the had flain them, he burnt them upon their altars, whereby he defield those altars, as v. 10.

411 the Priests of the high places that were there It may be that these idolatrous Priests resisted Josiah, and did what they could thele dolateous Priests required, Johan, and our water they could to binder, and thereupon he flew them.

upon the altar] See the first note on this verse.

and burns mens bones] Deed mens bones, such as are men-tionesy, 16.

and returned to ferufation! Though for reformation fake, he went into the idolatious rithes, set he means not there to abide; therefore when his, most was faithed, he went to his own City, where his Royal Palace was, and where the house of God was.

of Uod, was.

V. 21. And the King commanded all the people, [sping] That which follows, was immediately upon the Covenant which Jofish and his people made, withthe Lord. See 2 Chr. 24+3, Rec.

& 35.1. That therefore which followed, was an effectal feut and effect of his covenant.

keep the Pafferver 2 Chr. 35. 1. Of the description of the Recepture regioners] 2 Aut. 35. 1. Or the deficiency of the Palsover. See Eso. 12. 1. 86c. unto the Lord your God! See 1 King. 8.61. The Palsover was a facred ordinance, and therefore to be observed to the honour or wood, as it is written. Exo. 12. 3. Drut. 16. 2. in this book of the Covenaur.). The relative particle, this, bath reference to that book which Hilkiah found, 6h, 2. 2.8. and the king then had with him. It is called the book of the covenant; because therein the covenant betwixt God and his people, was fuch preparation, fuch humiliati onfuch detestation of idolatry, verf. 14.

August 19. XXIII.

was moved thereunito by some divine instinct, to accomplish such reformation of religion, such devotion and solemn renovation of the covernant. See the solemnity of this Passeover, 2 Chron. 35. 1, &c.

 Chron. 35.1, 86c. from the days of the fudges that judged Iffsat! The Judges lived neer to the time of the inflimation of this ordinance, and fo might be the better directed in the observation thereof. The laft of the Judges may be here means because mention is made of Samuel, (who was the laft) 2 Chron. 38, 18, and fo this phrafe implyes the beginning of the stablishing of the Kingdom of lined.

men in all the dayer of the Kings of Ifrael ] Hereby may be meant the reigns of David and Solomon, who reigned over all the twelve tribes, and in that respect might have a greater multitude of people, and more frore of facrifices; and yet this ordinance not be kept after such a spiritual manner as this was.

nor of the Kings of Judah] From the beginning of Rehoboams reign, who first lost the ten tribes, (1 King. 12. 20,21.) unto this very time of Joliah.

V. 23. But ] This particle hath reference to the former verto in the eighteenth year of King Josiah] Of his reign ; but the fix and twentieth of his age n and twentieth or ats age.

wherein this Passover was holden to the Lord] Sec v. 21. in Jerufalem] There was the house of God, and thither they were commanded to go to keep the Paffe-over, Deut, 12-5. &

V. 24. Moreover] This question es, hath relation to the Kings former reformation, v. 4, etc. and that of the Passeover was after this.

the workers with familiar spirits and the wigards See chap. 11.

v. 6.

and the images.] Or, Teraphim. These were taken for houshold-gods. Teraphims were fashioned in the shapes of men.
Such an one Michol put into Davids bed, 1 Sam. 19.13. The Such an one extends put into Davids bed, 1 Sam. 19.13. The heather conflicted with fuch. Excl. 21. 21. and answers have been returned by them, Zach. 10.2. but that was cither by the fubrily of the devil, or by the forgery of their Priefls. Teraphim (translated Idelatry, 1 Sam. 15.23.) is reckoned as mong things most deterfable to God.

and the idols [ See ch. 17, 12, & 1 King 15, 12, and all the abominations ] All abominable idolatry and other filthy wickedness. See nKing, 14, 14, that were fred in the land of Indah, and in Fernfalem He that was careful to reform other places, would not neglect his own most proper dominion. This therefore is here inferred to that which is noted v. 15. 19.

did Fosiab put away ] He clean removed, and utterly destroyed, that they might not be used again. that be might perform the words of the law Levit. 20.27. Deut.

18. 11. His eye was especially on Gods Word, for a warrant which were written in the book that Hilkiah, &c. ] See chap.

1. 8. 4. And life must him was there so King before him] In an boly real and thorour reformation; and allo in the integrity of his life, ordered according to all Golds Law, as the words following the Section 1. Section 1 jamin, v.19. and in conforming himfelf to the law of God, as in this verfe. Besides, he was never pust up 22 Hezekiah was 2 Chr. 32. 25.

2 Chr. 32.25.

that sured to the Lord] This phrase of turning, is not to be taken, as if he had ever departed from the Lord; for when he was a childe he fought after the Lord, 2 Chr. 34.3, but it hath relation to his father Amon, and other idolatrous Rings, who turned from the Lords He did not fo; he turned to no other, with all his heart, and with all his feut ] See x King.chap -2.

yetl. 4.

and with all bis, might] With the untermost extent of his foul, with all the faculties thereof; and of his body, with all the parts thereof. He put forth his utmost endeavour to serve the parts thereor. He put form in summon endeavour to terve the Lord, 2 Sam. 6. 14. 1 Chr. 13. 8. according to all the law of Mofer] Seew. 24. Because Mofes was the panman of all the laws that God prescribed to the Jews; Gods law is stiled the law of Moses,

Jews : Gods law is threatne law of Moles.

"neither after him areferbers any like him.] After him there was not a good King. And those Governours that were over the Jews after the captivity, none was like him in holy zeal,

V. 26. Notwithflanding the Lord turned not from [ Gods

V. 12. Surely three root my holden futh a Paforer | With a refolition, to rake vengening, chap. 24.4. I Sam, chap. 3;

fin, that ic incenfeth Gods wrath, and to imply the heavy and in, that to incenteth Doos wratn, and to imply the heavy and fore judgments that should follow. where with his anger was findled | Sec Chap. 22.13, 17. 45511 | 3udab | They who profes themselves to be Gods people, may exceedingly provoke his wrath. because of all the provocations | Heb. angers. For fins provoke that Manasses had provoked him withat!] Indeed Manasses repent.d, and questionless, obtained pardon, 2 Chr. 33.12,13. but that pardon was for his own person only: For the people in his time, and after his time, even in this good Kings time, and after his time also, continued in his fins; and therefore and after his time allo, continued in his fins; and therefore his fins were theirs, and juffly punished in them. Befides, though God pardoned Manafles himfelf; yet for Manafles fins; he might juffly punish Manafles politerity, who continued in those fins. Thus were all the Ifraelites, generation after generation, that continued in Jeroboams fin, punished for the fame: Yea heinous sins, though they be pardoned, may leave a perpetuall scarr in the name of him who is pardo-

V. 17. And the Lord [aid, I will remove Fudah alfo] God had given a long time of repentance to Judah, after he had had given a long time of repeniance to Judan, after ne had caft off Iracl; yer Judah waxed worst ethen Iracl, Jer. 3. 11. Therefore the Lord jully denounced this judgment, out of my fight) See ch. 17. 18,2023. & 24.3. or I beservenwed Iracl See ch. 17. 6, &c. and wilk caft off the City Jerufalem) See ch. 21. 12. In Jerufalem was the teniple. This therefore was a great aggravation of the judgm nt.

on et the judgm nt.
which have obj(m] See 1 King. 8. 44. and the house of which I fait 1, My Name shall be there] See 1 King 8. 16. 19. × 9. 3. & ct. 2. 7.
V. 28. Now therest of the adts, &c.] See 1 King, 15. chap.

ver. 13.
V. 29. In bit dayer Pharaob Nicho King of Egypt] 2 Chr.
35. 10. Pharaoh was a common name to Kings of Egypt, as Abimelech to Kings of Pailittins, and Cæfar, to Romane Emnotinuscent to Kings of Patititins. and Calar, to Romane Em-pertors. See I King I. 1. 49. Nocho is added, to diffinguish this Pharach from others: as Hophra, Jer. 44. 30. armin against the King of Affirial This flews, that Pha-rach had no quarted against Joine, or his people, but only against the king of Assyria. The kingdom of Assyria was at that time extreanily weakned, if not in the power of the Babylonians. Some take the Babylonian kingdom to be here meant; and called Affyria, because that had been a title of great fame. See 2 King. 20. 12.

to the river Euphrates ] See ch. 24. 7. There was a City called Charchemin, bordering upon this river Euphrates, 2 Chr. 35.10, that being now in the power of the King of Affyria, Pharaoh went to recover it. Either the inhabitants thereof, had fome way or other annoyed fome of the Egyptians; or elle, in former times it had belonged to the king of Egypt, and therefore he came to fight against it.

and King Josiah ment against him] Part of the land of Judea lay betwist Egypt and Charchemith; fo as Pharaoh could not well go with his Army to Charchemith, but through part of Jofians kingdom. In this refpect Jofian might have cause to Johans kingdom. In this relipect Johan might have cause to go with an Army against Pharaoh, that he might binder him temp passing thorow his Country. Or it may be, that Josah was willing to do a kindness for the king of Asiyria; and in that relpect, would endeavor to hinder the king of Egypt from inrespect, would endeavor to minder the sing of Egypt from in-vading the land of the king of Affyria. But whatfoever the cause were, herein Josinh failed; that notwithstanding the King of Egypt funt him word, that he intended no burt to him, nor to his people; and withall, informed him, that he went upon nispeople; and within, informed limb; that the west upon Gods appeignment: and it is probable; that Pharaoh had fortie Prophet to inform him in the Will of God about that point; (1 Chr. 35, 21.) yet Josiah would persist in going our against and he flew him ] Pharaoh flew Jofiah. The Archers that were in that army of the king of Egypt, flew Jofiah, 2 Chr. 35. 23. But what is done by any in the Army, is attributed to the General. Josiah was not immediately flain in the battle; but he was fo wounded, as he dyed of that wound, and thereupon he is faid to be flain, So 2 Chr. 35. 23, 24.

at Megidde] So t King, 9, 15; when he had feen him.] So foon as Army was fet against Army in the fight one of another, and had begun to fight. See V. 30. And bis fervants carried bim in a Charlet dead ] Deadly wounded. By fervants are here meant, in general, fuch fubects as were Souldiers ; in particular, his lite-guard, or Cour feers, and furth as were of his houlfield. "" from Megiddo]. It is faid, 2 Chr. 35, 24: that he dyed at Jerusalem, he could not therefore be dead at Megidddo; for from thence he was carried to Jerusalem.

the firected of of its in authorised with the firected of court, and there is a manner of man, to agravate the lemonthes of court, there might be have belt means for cure, and there, if and the people of the land ] 2 Chr. 36. 1. All of all forts are here understood, who did what they did, with an unanimous confent. rook 5-thoular the (mof foliab). He was also called Johanan, 1 Chr. 3, 15, and Shallum, Jer. 12, 11, We read in 1 Chr. 3, 15, that Joshia had four ions, Johanan, Johakim, Zedekin Shallum. Seeing Jehoshaz is not rhere mentioned, he is by many states to be the fame that Johanan was both because Jehoshat in is impossed to be elder then Johanan was both the case this Johanan was both the case this Johanan was found to be supported to be elder than Johanan was found to be supported to the case of the reason why the people made him king. See v. 36.

and annointed him] See ch. 11. 12. This they did, to settle him more furely in the kingdom. See the reason hereof, and made him King in bis fathers Read ] This was a wofull change; for he was far unlike to his father.

V. 31. Feboahaz was twenty and three years old when he beand be reigned three moneths in Ferusalem] He lived longer.

but the king of Egypt put him from his throne, v. 3?.

and his mothers name was Hamital] See I King. 15. 10.
the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah] Of Libnah, fee ch. 8. 22. The mention of this place, diffinguisheth this Jeremiah, from the Prophet who was of Anathoth, Jer. 1. 1. See chap. 24.

V. 32. And he did that which was evil in the fight of the Lord] See I King. 11.6. This flews, that he walked not in the fleps of his good father Jofiah; but that in the flore time wherein he reigned, he returned to idolatry, and that he endeavoured o bring in again those evils which his father had caft out. This she of whom Ezekiel, 19, 1, &c. ipeaketh, decording to all that be fathers had done ] Jofiah himfelf cannot be here meant, but former Predeceffors, as Amon, Manaffes, Ahaz, and fuch like.

V. 32. And Pharash Nesho] See v. 29.

put him in bands] He iaid him in prifon, and fo kept him aff, till he should come again and carry him into Egypt. See at Riblab, in the land of Hamath] Both these places were in the circuit of the land of Canaan given to Israel, Numb. 34. 8, 1. See ch. 25.6.

that be might not reign ] Or, because he reigned. Pharaoh inst be migot not reign] Or, pressure ne reigned. Parasol differenced, that the people had fet him up in a faction, and that in oppofition against himfelf, and therefore he made speed to qualit that faction, and within three moneths, pitts down him whom the people had fer up.

and out the land to a tribute Heb. fet a mulet upon the land. This he did, in revenge of that opposition which Josiah had made against him, v. 29. of an hundred talents of filver] This amounted to thirty seven thousand and five hundred pound sterling. See 1 Chron.

1.3.14. and states of gold.] This was three thousand seven hundred and fitty pound thering. See 1 'Chr. 1.2. 14. Vs. And Brates Medb.] See v. 19. made Elizaimi This was the fiftt name of this man here mentioned. It fignifies the Set Piggs. This thereof the pitty of the states colonis and the loope that he had of kim; but he bindle! did not suffere this name. "This name was given to that good Governous that is mentioned, ch. 19. 18. & (fin. 8... 20. There was alfo a Prieft of that name, Neh. 12. 41. and two of Christs Predecessors, after the dates of Eliakim here mentioned, had this name. One in the legal descent, Mat. 1.13.

mentioned, had this name. One in the legal delicent, MA-1.13. The other in the natural delicent, Luk. 2300. the four of photo the King J This diffunguisheth the Eliakina bere mentioned, from all the others. This by many is taken to be Joshie cladef fon, and their to the Crown. In the room of Johab his faster! He faith nor, in the room of Jehoahaz, because he was fet up tumultuously by the people; and in regard of his thore and troublefome time, he was reputed a no king.

and turned bu name] This Pharaoh did, as an evidence of his power over him. For conquerors oft used to change the names of fuch Kings as they vanquished, to shew, that they accounted them as their substitutes and vaffals. He that bad the power over Daniel and his three companions, hereby manifelled that power which he had over them, Dan 1.7.

to Febeiakim] Mat 1.12, called Jakim. Jeboiakim hath the fame notation and fignifications that Elizaim had a for the first fillable meach of them, is a name of God, and both fignifie end took Februhre away] He took him away from the place on in the fourth yeer, Jer. 25. 1. This is further exident, in where he had bound him, v. 33. Yea, and from the land, where that the year wherein Jehoiakim was last taken captive ( which where he had bound him, v. 33. 1 e 2, and from the land, where he had a while reigned as King.

Chap. xxiiij.

and he same to Egypt] He did not go thither of his own accord, but he was carried thither as prifoner and captive, by the King of Egypt.

end died there] This was fore-told, Jer. 22, 12, the isthere called Shallum ; and that prophecy of Shallum plainly theweth, that this Jehoahaz, and that Shallum, were two names of one and the fame person.

V. 35. And Febriakim gave the filter and the gold to Pharagh]

This hath relation to the three and thirtieth verse, meaning the hundred talents of filver, and talent of gold there mentioned. Upon this condition he held his Crown, and therefore would not fail to pay it, but he taxed the land to give the money ] He laid a rate upon all but be taxed to et and to give the money | He laid a rate upon all his subjects throughout the land of Judah. The land is here put, by a metonymic, for the inhabitants thereof, according to the Commandement of Pharabl Heb. month of

This charge of Pharaoh hath, in general, relation to the fum of Aus change of transaction and, in general, relation to the ium of money that was to be paid, not to the particular manner of raising it. The King rais'd it by a levy upon all his subjects; because the had no treasury of his own: For it is probable, that the King of Egypt had spoiled the King of Judahs treasures, as the king of Egypt and ipouted the king of Judans treatures, as Shifhak King of Egypt had done in Rehoboams time, I king, 14, 26. Other Kings of Judah uled to pay great fums to their enemics, out of the treatures of their own house, and out of the treasures of the house of God, as Afa, 1 King. 15.18. Jehoath, treatures of the house of God, as All, I King. 15, 16. Jenozin, chap. 12. 18. Hezzekish, ch. 18. 15. he exalicithe filter and the gold of the people of the Lind.] The people were not very willing to pay it, but thorow fear of him and of Pharaoh that fet him up, they paid it, and thercupon he of everyone according to his taxtion According to that rate or ium which the King, with his Officers, had laid on every

to give is une Pharash Nechob] It was not for any positive so give h may Pharab Netabel It was not for any positive publick good, but only to faiths on energy.

V. 36. *Jobishion was twenty and five year old wheals be legan rerigilly by his age of Jehoiskin, it appears that he was older then his brother, who but three months before this, is faid to be but wenty and there years old. Others fay, that this time of Jehoiskims age, mult be reckoned from the death of Jehoiskims age, mult be reckoned from the death of Jehois. of Jeboistims age, mult be rectioned from the death of Jebon-lare, who, about two years after the was carried into Egypt, dyad, v. 14. Now while Jehonhez lived, though he were a captive in another land, Jeboistim might be accounted a chief Governor in his brothers ablence; but not a full and abloture king. They who hold Jeboistim to be the elder brother, fay, that Jebonhez was a more flern and flour man, better able and more florward or fland againfile Planch, then Jehoistim. He is taken to be the first Jepon, mentioned, Egol, 19. 3. The po-de-showers of from 4500 chief with the property of the pr ple, thorow a firong faction, choice him, and anointed him, thinking to establish him the more firmly in the kingdom, as 1 King.

1. 39. Sec v. 30.

and hereigned eleven years in Jeru[alem] These ye are to be reckoned from the time that Pharaoh fet him on the throne and his mothers name was Zehulah] See 1 King. 15. 10. Je-hoiakim and Jehoahaz, though they had one father, yet they had not one mother. See v. 31.

the daughter of Pedaish of Rumah ] This shews her to be an Ifraelite.

V. 27. And he did that which was evil, &c.] See v. 22. He took no warning by the judgment on his brother, verf. 33. Much evil of this King is fet down, Jer. 22. 13, 17, & 26. 20. &c. & 36. 21,22,23. & 52. 23. Ezek. 17. 5,6,7.

CHAP. XXIV.

Verl. 1. [N. bis dayer ] This bath reference to Chap. 28. 16. where mention is made of the beginning of Jehoiakims reign. It is laid, in his dayes, not, in the beginning, beamin eigh. Its reast, in as anyes, not, in the beginning, because there were about there years of his reign passed over before this time. It is faid, Dan. 1. 1. that that which is here antationed, fell out in the third year of the raign of Jebonákim; ammely, in the latter end thereof; bur Jer. 25.1. in the tourth year of his reign, namely in the beginning thereof. In the third yeer Nebuchadnezzar began his expedition; in the fourth year he laid his fiege against Jerusalem.

ne tato me rege againt crimaiem.

Nebuckatnezar King of Babylon] This was Nebuchadnezzar the second, or Nebuchadnezzar the son. His sathers name also was Nebuchadnezzar, who had subduced the Assyrian Monarchy; and thereupon began to creft the Babylonian Monar-chy. He had also subdued many other nations: His dayes be-that one year venecou Jennakin was initiaken captive. (water was his eleventh yeer, ch. 23, 36) was the feventh of Nebuchadaezza, Jer. 32, 28, essemp] Namely against Tetufalem. The occasion may be scacción Manely againd Lendlem. The occasion may be this; The King of Beyor tour action the King of Afgrayation was to the King of Belyor tour action to disquee Christophin, which belonged to the King of Beyor tour per Christophin, and cruming to Jerulalem, mate this plousible, that the King of Egypt per tour per Christophin, and cruming to Jerulalem, mate this plousiblem the graph of Beyor is Johnstein therepon became tributary to the per dispers, and, as is probable, affilted him in his wars; but Nebuchad-nezzar recovered Charchemith again, and imote the King of Egypts Army there, in the fourth yeer of Jehotakim, Jer. 46. and to be revenged on the king of Judah for affilling him; and also to get thereby a fair and free passage for his Army into Egypt, came against Jehojakim and his land.

his subjects throughout the sand of Juliah. Inclinate succepture, the succession of and therefore entred into a composition, and made a Covenant with him.

three years | Thefe were the fifth, fixth, and feventh years of Jehoiakim. In these yeers no performed his covenant with the King of Babylon, king or banylon, then beturned From the King of Babylon, to the King of Egypt. It is probable, that Babylon being far from Judea, and Egypt, were unto it. Jehoiskim confided in the King of Egypt, were then the King of Babylon: Yea it may be alfo, that the king of Egypt follicited him with fair promites, to be and rebelled against him] Jehoiakim rebelled against Nebu-dhar roenes againg time J Grobakim receiled against Mcou-chadnezzar. See ch. 1. 1. 8 1.7. 4. V. 2. And the Lord fent against him Spe 1 King, 12.15. bandr of the Chaldeer J Chaldees and Babylonians were all one; the former name was from the Country Chaldea: The one; the former name was from the Country Chaidea: Inc. latter, from the City Babylon. and bands of the Syriam! Thefe Syriams were alwaies ene-mies to the lifecilies. Now they were brought under the pow-er of the king of Babylon, and ferred under him.

and bands of the Moabites These Moabites came from Lot, Gen. 19. 37. these also were mortal enemies against the Ifraelites. Sec ch. 1.1.

raelites. Sec ch. 1.1.
and binds of the children of Ammon] The Ammonites came allo from Lot, Gen. 19. 38. and were as great enemies to the liraelites as the Mosbites. All the bands here mentioned, fer-Ilraelites as the Modbitts. All the bands here mentioned, served under Neubuchadnezzar, and made by an Army. Some take it, as if these several bands had by themselves made indes into Judes, and made much spoyl therein.

and southern against Fudeb.] This involvating once and again of Gods fending enemies against his people, shews, that it s a point not flightly to be paffed over.

10 doffroy it] This is spoken in relation to the intent of the enemies, who had a purpose unterly to destroy it; To make way to that purpose, God sent them forth; for they so far prevailed, as the King of Babylon took Jehoiakim, his wife and childrer, many of the Princes of the land, and part of the veffels of the house of God, together with the Kings treasures, and carried them away out of the land, 2 Chr. 36 6.7.

according to the word of the Lord ] Chapter 10. 17. and which he spake by Heb. by the hand, See ch. 8.53.

his servants the Prophets See ch. 21.10. Prophets are in fpeciall manner Gods fervants; because by him they are fent upen his speciall meffages Ifaiah was one of the Prophets bere meant, ch. 20. 17. Jeremiah was another, Jer 25. 9. Urijah another, Jer. 26. 20. Huldah also may be reckoned amongst them, ch. 22. 16.

3. Surely at the Commandement Heb. month. See chap.

23: 35. of the Lord came this upon Judab] God doth not only permit, but also appoint and command enemies to affict his people, when they fin against him. If a. 10. 6.

for the fars of Manaffer] See ch. 23. 27.

for the fars of Manaffer] See ch. 23. 26.

according to all that he did] This is to be applyed to the evils according to all that ne usa 1 tons is to be appropried that he did before his convertion.

V. 4. And also for the innocent blood which he shed 1 This fin is in particular mentioned; because it is a crying sin, Gen. 4.

10. and it desileth a land, Numb. 35. 33. See 2 King. chap.

for be filled Jerusalem with innocent blood ] See chap. 21.

which the Lord would not pardou] Though this fin, 25 well as others, might be pardoned to Manaffes, upon his repentance, toly. The the announcement many outer nations: Library to the control of the cont where much blood is shed; besides, if there were not many | Therefore so son as the King of Babylon came in his own per then living in the lead, that had a hand in shedding that inno-tent blood which was shed in Manasses time; yer the present of Judah preserved the safety of his kingdom before his own cent blood which was ined in Mananites time; yet the prelient King and his people might shed blood in their dayes, and there-upon God in revenging of that blood which they shed, might also call to minde the blood that was sted in Manaffes time; and all the blood joyned together make the greater cry, and God be moved thereby to execute the forer vengeance. See Jer. 12. 17 & Ezek. 19.6.

ance. See Jer. 3. 19. Se Eark. 19.6.
V. 3. Yapp where off pithe affer, Sec. J. See x King. 15. 22.
V. 6. 80 globalders Jer with bit fathers! This is to be taken in a general force. As cleath last face, and all this fathers, or predeceding sided; for all plenishtim died. But concerning the produceding their father of bit sides, it was different from the distribution of the significant of them all. For between them to blobalders, if not of them all. For between the sides of the sides

36.6.) and as he was going capture to bapyon, a catee; and without any burial, or mounting for him, he was as an afacth forth beyond the gares of Jeruslaem, Jer 22.18, 19, and debiathen he for reigned in his fleed! Jeboiakim was allocalled Jebooiaki (* Etono. 3, 16.) which fignifieth the Lords firength; and in contempt he was called Contah, (Jer.

river is called Short, John 13/3, it is taken you cannot be supported by the See 1 King. 8.67, unto the river Euphrates 1 Or, the river Euphrates, see Gen. 2.14, & 15.18. The river of Egypt was on the South of the land of lifteel, and the river Euphrates on the North. The forland of Ifrael, and the river Euphrates on the North. The for-met belonged to the Egyptian, the latter to the Babylonian-all this pertained to the King of Egypt] And lay betwiex the worfor-tail overs. This is here noted, as to thew the reason, why the King of Egypt durift not again come out of his land, a-gainst the King of Egypt durift no again come out of his land, a-gainst the King of Egypt to the too three, boar luck cause the Jews had to ruth to Egypt to the reason when the king to regard V. S. Probability of the Control of the Con

See 2 Chron. 36.9. So foon as his father was dead, they fer up his fon on the throne, in hope to be defended by him against the Babylonians, and be rigated in Ferufalem three meachs! Ten dayes are added auto these three months. Chro 36. Old dayes and added auto these three months. Chro 36. Old dayes and moneths, als in Scipture frequently to be left out, and to make the number run the more roundly. The reason why he continued no longers reasted to 11.11. There is but a letter and be maker runner and Nebufaled.

difference betwirt this name, and that which was given to the brazen ferpent, being broken in pieces, ch. 18.4. Of Kings muthers names, fee I King 15. 2, 10.
the daughter of Elnahan of Jerufalem This is added, to flow that the was no alien. See ch. 14. 2. & 17. 2.

V. 9. And be did that which was svil, &c] See 1 King. according to all that his father had done] This is added as a according to all that my faller man about 1 to aduct or reason, why he was cut off to foon, Jer. 2, 2, 2, 3, 30.

V. 10. At that time! This time is faid to be, when the year was expired, or at the reum of the year, which was about the fpring; then Kings used to go out to battle. See 1 King.

20.31. mbefrunns of Nebubda-nazzar King of Bahyan, cameny a-gaint $g-midem] The army of Nebubda-decazar is compri-aced under this partia, the fevants, 6%. They were fuch as were under his command. Nebubda-decazar mighe fear, that Jehoiskim would rebel againth him, as his father that done i therefore he thought it not meet to filling has no see a full crowns, the rather, because he was fit on the throne without and the city was besieged ] Heb. come into siege. This hebraism amous sty was opingera) reconstruct reasying. I not necessaria in an elegant figure; because the city was compalled about with the fitge, it is fail to come into the fitge, V. 11. And Nethrolds recycle Rings of Ballon came againg the city] He bimfelf in his own person came. He fent his army before him. v. 10.

and his feroants did befiege it They continued in the fiege thereof, till their King came, thereof, till their King came.

V. 1. And Scholights the King of fluids went out to the king of Bullylan] Jeremish the Propher had rold the King of Judob, that if he yielded himfelf to the King of Bullylonshis life fluids he preferred; and the city and remple kept from definication.

fatety.

be, and bis maber] The King of Babylon, who hated Jehoiakim, understanding that his widdow was living, would nor fuffer the to remain in Jerusalem, lest site should plot against him. Jehoiakims wives also were taken, v. 1; and bis ferrunss] His Courtiers, and such as were of his and ble princes | Such as were of the royal blood, and fuch noble persons, as were of his counsel, and acquaintance. For many of the princes of the land were left in Zedechias time, Jer.

and his officers ] Or, Eunuches. and the king of Babylon took him] To be his prisoner and ent the king of Babyins 100 kml. To be his priloner and captive: For the carried him captive to Babylon, v. 1, st. 1987, and the captive to Babylon, v. 1, st. 1987, and the king of Babyins 100 kml in the eight year of be the state of Babyins 100 kml in the glay year of his fall on a fact the time of Jeholskims reige, which continued caption of the continued the state of the continued the continued the state of the sta

Neutralnezzant gang any tang yi labite that hith relation to the Lord's for the had forfaken the Lord, John and John and take away thole treatures at least to much thereof as they could meet withal, I king. I. 4.26. & 2. king. 1.4. I.4. and ther treafures of the Kings bouled The Kings of Judah, had allog reat treafures of their own, I king. 44. 26. & 15. 8. Herein the threatuning mentioned, ch. 20. 17. Ifai. 39.6. was accomplished.

and cut in pieces ] The enemie of Gods people, had no respect to the sacred things of God; But cut them in pieces, that he might the more coveniently barrel them up together, and carry might the more contently Joseph and the state of the day away the greater quantity. See ch. 29.13.

all the wifelt of gold] The general particle, all, oft used in this and the next verse, must have some limitation; as, all that he could finde: Or, all that he thought meet; for there were the could finde: Or, all that he thought meet; for the were the could finde: Or, all that he thought meet; for the Wister. be could hade: Or, all mathe thought meet; for there were left velfiles in the houfe of the Lord, and tradiues in the Kings houfe, Jer. 27. 18; 20, 21. 0., the general particle, all, may imply, that it was fin the Kings power to bave taken away all. After this, were many more velfels carried away, chap. 25. 13, and all the princes 1 Sec vers. 13.

and all the princes 1 Sec vers. 13.

and all the princes 1 Sec vers. 13.

and all the princes of the princes of the War, and well experienced therein, and had manifelted good courage, See a Chron. 17. 13.

coura to biological deptived 1 There is mention made, vers. 16.

of feven thous fand, and all os thousand more: 10 as by this account, the whole cumber of experiences arried away with Jebotskim, was eighteen thousand. See more thereof, v. 16.

and all the orify man, and Smalled Somothy and they are invoked with Smalled the Carpentines of the Smalled Somothy.

The King of Babylon therefore, to prevent fourse oppositions.

The King of Babylon therefore, to prevent fourse oppositions agained hum, alse away fulle workmag, a smight be of greated use to that purpose. See the first Note on this verse. I craftsmen be taken in a larger frence for Pisch-layers, and Maisns, and tother Artifistres, the ration before rendred, will be the more forcible.

none remained ] This is not fimply to be taken ; for Zedekiah, and fundry princes, officers, and other forts of people remained in Judea, after Jehoiakim was carried away. The phrase is to be taken, of that power which Nebuchadnezzar had over all, and that none remained, but such as he appointed and per-

(are the porreft fort of the people of the land] These the Con-queror did not much seek after, nor cared much for. He might purpofely leave all them, to manure and till the land, ch. 25. 12. Chap, xxiv. V. 15. And beistried sup Hebiatobias Balylon] 2 Ch. 36. [. until behat clif them are from the freedom? This partie in10. Eth. 26. Jehozachin having yielded himielt ou the king [p] plyesh an utter frong the time out of the land of Judah, and of Babylon, v. 13. he had his life preferved unto himibut his City of Jerufalem. Where God in special manner monifiels. V. 15. Ana occarrica away jennacom to isappost.
 Efth. 2.6. Jehoachin having yielded himlelf to the kingrof Babylon, v. 12. he had his life preferved unto himsbut his enemy would not fuffer him to abide in his own native countries. try, left he should rebel as his father had done, v. I. But God fo provided for him, that though he were thirty feven years in prifon, yet at length he was reflored, and had great fain priority yet at kengin ne was reitored, and not great ra-yours done unto him, ch. x2, 27. It is exprely faid, 3 fer. x4, 45, 5,8c. that the condition of Jeholachin, and of those that were carried captive with himinto Babylon, was far better then the condition of those that remained in Jerufalem and and the kings mother] See v. 12.

and the kings wives] Both kings and others used to have and the kings wines! Both kings and others used to have many wives in those dayes.

and his efficies! Or, cannoth, See 1 king, 21. 9.

and the nighty of the staft! This word, mighty, may here comprise under st, Princes, Nobles, Carpains, valuant mens, wealthy men, men exceed learnin any Science, and the nighty of the staft! This of the staft of the staft numbers being added to the ten thousand, v. 14. make up eighteen thouland.

all that were strong and apt for war ] This description hath [pecial relation to Souldiers that followed the war, even them the king of Babylon brought espirocto Babylon] Se-

V. 17. And the king of Babylon made Mattaniab his fathers brother king in his staat ] Jer. 37. 1. & 52. 1. This relative, bis, twice used, hath relation to ] shoiach in the last king be-fore this. The king of Babylon had now an absolute power over all the land of Judah, and as an evidence thereof, he fets upon the throne whom it pleafeth him. He took the Scepter from one, and gave it to another. This other was first by his parents called Mattaniah, which significant, the gift of God. The Jews of old were wont to give fignificant names to their children. He was one of Josiahs fons, Jehoiachins uncle, and in that respect, said to be his swhers brother, that is, Jehoiachins brother; for Jehoiachin and Mattaniah, were both of them Josiahs sons. He reigned in Jehoiacans it stage this name to Zedolish] As the king of Egypt had dealt with Eliakin, chap. 23 34 to did the king of Babylon do here with Mattaniah. See the reason hereof, ch 23334. Nebuchadnezzar had bound this Mattaniah by solenn oath, to be tributary to him. See v. 20. & 2 Chr. 36. 13 therefore he gave him this name Zedekiah, which fignified, the juffice of God, implying thereby, that if he broke his oath, he should finde and feel the scarful effect of Gods justice, to reign, and reigned eleven years, ch. 23.36.

and be reigned eleven years in Ferufalem] all those years were ther only by the father ; for his mothers name was Zebudah.

that was coming against them, Jer. 27, 4.11. but the Army V. 1.9. And be did that white 128 e.il., &c.] See v. 9. and of the Egyptions faw themselves too weak to offset with the 2 Chr. 26.12. Mutch vell is recorded of him in the propher- Chaldeans; and thereupon the Egyptions, returned to their cy of Jereny. He and his people are retembled to a basker of on hand, and the Chaldeans to the feege very naughty figgs, which could not be cauch, they were for very naughty figgs, which could not be cauch, they were for very naughty figgs, which could not be cauch, they were for very naughty figgs, which could not be cauch, they were for very naughty figgs, which could not be cauch, they were for very least the substitute of the very large very large very large. And the stream of left 24. He to be very large ver with his Princes brake the Lords Covenant made with his Subjects, Jer. 34. 8, 11, 17, &c. He confented to the caffing of Jeremiah into a loathforme dungeon, Jer. chap. 38. ver. 5. He hearkened not to the Word of the Lord, Jer.

V. 20. For through the auger of the Lord ] See 1 King. 12. 15. Gods anger had long and much been provoked, and that in the dayes of many kings of Judah; fo as, he was refolved to forbear no longer; and thereupon, in his justice fuffered Zedekiah togo on in those courses which would bring utter destruction. See ch. 23, 26, it came to passe in Fernsulam and Indah. For the Jews in City and country, every where, followed the evil courses of their

City of Jerufalem. Where God in special manner mannete-ed his preferee. See chap. 23, 27; 18th Zeideligh rebellet againft, the king of Bahylon]. This claufe hath reference to that founder plantle, it came to paffe, that Zuideligh seedled. See. As Jehoislian had vebellv.r. to did Zedekiah here. The king of Babylon fought to be the Monarch of the whole world; and thereupon, he went from kingdom to kingdom; to being them under libjection to himfelf. Herein God made him his fcourge, to punish the world, that every where had long and much propumili the world, that every white had long and mustif pro-voked him. The Pophet personal planish ymade hrown as much to all the Nations thereaboure, Jer. 51, 9, 60. That nations not fering God, nor segrating its Word, Gought to combine themselves against Nebuchadnezar; and under-landing that Zedetish Indivorsion foosity to the king of Ba-bylon, four their Ambulishers to Zedetish; Jer. 27, 3: to hologogical planish of the National Populary and to be no longed his wildl. The Machadnezars, and to be thus all of them prevailed with Zedetish and prince, his ooth and this was the cause of his redeling and rules. In sooth and this was the caule of his rebellion and ruine,

CHAP, XXV.

Verf. 1. And it came to puffe in the ninth year of his reign] ference to Zedekiah, mentioned, chap. 24.20.

in the tenth moneth, in the tenth day of the moneth]. Hereby it appeareth, that this fell out toward the latter and of Zedekiahs ninth year. Because woful consequences followed upon that which is here mentioned to have fallen out in this tenth moneth; there was an annual Fast kept by the Jews all the time of their captivity in the tenth moneth, Zach, & that Nebuchadne gar king of Babylou carne] This was he that first fet upon Jehosakim, chap. 24. 1. and took him, 2 Chr. 36. 6. who also carried his son, Jehosachin, captive into Babylon, ch. 24.15. and being provoked by Zedekiah, attempts the like against him, and effects it, v.7. be and all his bost against Jerusaiem) Zedekiah having rebelled against Nebuchadnezzar, fortified that great and strong City Jerufalem against him.

and patched against it There for his Army, and with it be-freed the City, and they built Forts against it] The enemy difference, that this City was well fortshed, and that they could not casily and speedily enter it: Therefore he prepares for a long fiege, and builds ftrong places without the wall, for Engines to be raifed on them to batter the City, and to make pallage thereinte. Some take the word, Ferss, for a warlike Entherefore. Some take the word peris, for awarine Bil-gine, like a turter, whereby hey might throw great flones into the City, and against thewalls; this word is used, Jer, 51.4. Ezek, 4.2. & 17.17. round about) It must needs be a very great Army that could compals about to great a City as Jerusaleim was. By

The month influe thin term the sum of the part of the whole to feet all the state of the part of of th City round about, had quickly notice thereof, and purfued covering, antiversion of extensions (i.e., 25).

The transition of the manifold couldes, and the regard deven part in Japan defense of the manifold couldes, and the substruction of ed, because the Chaldeans-heard that the king of Egypts host was coming against them, Jer. 37, 5,11. but the Army fourth, is well supplyed out of Jer. 22.6. because in this fourth insneth the City was broken up, an annual Fast was kept all the time of the captivity, in the fourth moneth, Zach. 8.

the famine prevailed in the City Though they had laid in flore of provision into the City, yet they being so block'd up for a year and a half, as they could not themselves go out to bring in new provision, nor any other bring in any to them, the famine must needs be very great : And though by fparing and flinting them that were in the City, unto a fet uantity of bread and meat, and that but a finall one . they did long ftrive against famine, yet at length the famine for prevailed against them, as many were overcome, and perished thorewith and there was no bread for the people of the land ] This is cipecivily meant of the common and meaner fort of people. For Tett

Chap, xxv.

Jer. 37.21. This famine for prevailed against many, as they were forced to ear one another. It is faid, Ezek, 5.10. that the were socces to eat one automet. 165 1806, 1826, 5.10. time the brooken down in the bith moneth, an annual Faif was kepe by fathers should cat their fons, and the forestheir fathers, See the Jesseall the time of their captivity, in the fifth moneth, Lama, 10. Befides this Jamine, the petilionee also was very Ezek, 7. 3.

Jame, 10. periods this ramine, the periodice and was very fore in this City, Jerus 16, 79. 82.41, 10. and therein was used by the enemies infomuch, as the enemies entred there-into, and the Princes and other Commanders in the king of Babels army fare in the middle gate, as in a place of judgment, Jer. 39. 3.

and all the men of wer which belonged to Zedekiah fled ] This with them. This they did, when they saw the entering also fled with them. This they did, when they saw the entering entering into their city; so as all hope of standing out against them any into their city; to as all hope of tranding our against them any longer, was taken away, they fled therefore to fave their lives, by night? Thus they did, to conceal themselves from the enemy, that he might not deform them.

by the may of the gate | This was a fecret way, through a poy the maje granges; I may was a lectric way, through a por-ference, see, or back-door.

**Driven new was a back-door, and that they are (upposed to be within the great wall of the city, and that in the one of them, there was a back-door, and that they digged a paling through the door with the great wall of the city.

**The control of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene
are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playto, Sec Gene are (and a guard) of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a guard; O, as Gene [ay, chief playton] of a g argea a panage cnoron the oner war in the night time, and that by a valit under the ground, they went under the great will of the Gray, and under that prowing the the first sunsy; yea a principal Commander therein, put in tuft will be from the wildernesse. These walls are said to be by the kings and principal Commander therein, put in tuft wildernesse. These walls are said to be by the kings and principal Commander therein, put in tuft wildernesse. garden, to intimate, that they were fo neer the kinge Palace, flight might not be diferred by the inhabitants within, or the now the Chaldees were against the city round about ] See the last note on v.1. By this means the king and they that fled with him, were the fooner discovered.

and the king ] The king with the men of war before mentioned, Jer. 52.7.

went the way toward the Plain Or, wilderness. This wilderness reached to Jericho. See v. 5. Jer. 39.5. & 52.8.

V. 5. And the Army of the Children pursued after the king ] Either fome of them that lay round about the city, elpyed them, or elfe fome fcour, or other perfon, gave them notice thereof. and evertook them in the Plaint of Jeritho] In the tribe of Benjamin, Jofh. 18. 21. They were not far fled before they were and all bis army was [cattered from bim] In this common danger every one shifted for himself, and most of them neglected the sing. These that were thus scattered, are supposed to be the men that came to Gedaliah, v. 13. Jer. 40.7.

V. 6. So they took the king They of the army who pursued him, v. 5.

and brought him up to the king of Babylon ] They would not themselves slay him, nor let him escape, but tendered him, as:

a great Present, to their Soveraign. a great Present, to their Soveraign.

18 78/lbd/) See ch. 33,33. Here the king of Babylon himfelf remained, till he might fee the iffue of the war. This place being betwirt Judea and Babylon, the king might here the better receive intell gence about the atfairs of his own king-better receive interligence associate the attents of its own lang-dome, and about the fuccels of his army, and they gave judgment upon bim] Heb, the judgment with bim. The king of Babylon and his attendants, expollulated the cafe with him, about his breach of covenant, which he had and the jugitive that field away. Heb. fall away.

and the jugitive that field away. Heb. fall away.

to the king of Babylon as if they had conferred dist the king of Babylon. Bout the judgement that they should execute the sound of the sound the judgement that they should execute the sound of the sound the judgement that they should be also the sound that they should be a sound that they should be a sound the judgement that they should be a sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound to the sound that they should be a sound that the should be a sound that they should be a sound that they shoul breach of covenant, should refer him to a Counsel of war, for them to determine what judgment was fit to execute upon

V. 7. And they flew the [one of Zedekish] It is probable that Zedekish took his fons with him when he fled; They therefore being taken in the flight, fell into the enemies power. It fore being caten in the figur, reli into the enemies power. It may be also that they consented with him in his rebellion against the king of Babylon, and therefore are slain.

before bis ejer! He being present, and beholding this bloody spectacle, the judgment on Zedekiah was herein much aggravated.

and put out the eyes of Zedekish' Heb. made blind. This was done at Riblah; fo as, though he were carried to Babylon, yet he could not fee Babylon; wherein the Prophecy of Exe-kiel was accomplished, he shall not fee Babylon, though he kiel was accomplished, neman not see Susying, though the fall die there, Ezck. 12, 15 saffe] They little respected his royal dignity, but dealt with him as a notorious malefactor, and carried him to Babylon] There he dyed, as a miserable prisoner, but his milery mored pity and compassion in many:

did the children break in piecus | There could be no use for the afforded him burial, and mourned for him, Jer. 34.5.
the things before mentioned, beside that use for which they there was force bread left for the king and the chiefer fort, V. S. And in the fifth month] Because the house of the Lord and other houses were burnt, and the walk of Jerufalera broken down in the fifth moneth, an annual Fast was kept by and on the feverth day of the moneth ] On this day he began to make spoyl, and on the tenth day (Jer. 52. 12.) he clean burnt which is the nineteenth year of king Nebuchadnengar . king of Babylen] Nebuchadnezzar began to reign in the fourth year of Jehoiakim, which was the first of Nebuchadnezzar, Jer.

Ezek. 7. 3.

125. 1. Now Jehoiakim reigned seven years after that, and Zedekiah eleven. This being fomewhat after the eleventh year, fell out in the ninetcenth year of Nebuchadnezzar. It might be betwirt the eighteenth and nineteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar. Some things here for down, being done in his eighteenth year, Jer. 52,29. Others in the nineteenth, as here.

came Nebutaradan Captain of the guard | Or, chief Marfball.

the king Princes, and other inhabitants of Jerufalem and exas ordinary people did not use to come thather; so as their cutted judgment on them, his wrath was so incensed, as he would not force an house or wall belonging to that city thereore about a moneth after the city was taken, he fends acruel Commander to make havock of all.

V. 9. And to burnt the hone of the Lord This was an evidence of the enemies propliane and impious disposition; but withal, of Gods rightcous judgment. When external means of Gods worthin are prophaned by his people, God cares not to have those external means utterly spoyled.

and the kings beafe, and all the boufes of Jerusalem ] Gods house, and kings house, and other houses, were all alike to the impious enemy.

and every great mans house] This comprizeth all the fair houfes within and without Jerusalem. In the city he spared no house at all, Jer. 39.8. & 52.13. Without the city he burnt only great mens houses.

he burnt with fire] Thus he spoyled the houses, all the materials, and all things in them that the enemy cared not to carry away.

V. 10. And all the army of the Chaldees This army confifted

v. 10. enna as meamy of the Chainers! Ins army confilled of findry forts of people, and those of feveral nations; ch. 24.
2. And all of them mortal ensmises to the Jews. that were with the Captain of the guard! This Captain was that cruel Nabuzaradan whom the king of Babylon fent to Jerusalem, v. 8.

brake down the walls of ferusalem that were round about] Some in one place, others in another; fo as that great work was the fooner difpatch'd.

V. 11. Now the refi of the people that were left in the city] This is spoken of the people of the Jews, that did not siye away with the king, and the men of war, mentioned v. 4.

pears, Jer. 40.1. that these were carried in chains, lest they should get away; the express number of these is let down, Jer. 52.29. namely, eight hundred thirty and two persons.

V. 12. But the captain of the guard | Sec v. 8. loft of the poor of the land | Such as were most accustomed to labour, and best exercised in husbandry.

to be vine dreffers] That they might take care of vine-yards, orchards, and other places where trees of all forts of fruit were planted, that they might not fall to decay, but continue to y ield their fruit.

yeard their truit.

and hubband-men] Who might plow, fow, and otherwife till the land, and rear the crop that it flould bring forth. This the king of Babylon did prudently, that he himself might receive profes from this plentful kand which he had fubdued.

V. 13. And the Pillars of braffe that were in the house of the Lard | Of thefe, fee I King. 7.15.

and the bafes ] See 1 King 7, 27, 18, 37, &c. and the brazen Sea that was in the bonfe of the Lord ] See

1 King. 7. 23, &c. did the Chaldean break in pieces ] There could be no use for were at fifth made: therefore the Chaldees, that had no mind | not Lievtenant General; for Sophar was the General, Jer.

to put them to that u(c, brake them to pieces. See ch.24.13. 52.25.

and carried the brais of them to Babylon | The brais whereof and to worth the carrying to Babylon, chap. 20. 17. Jer. chap. 17.

V. 14. And the pots, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the speeds Some of these particulars are mentioned, 1 King. 7. 45. But shovels, snuffers, and spoons of brasse, are northere by name mentioned; yet being here fet down, were without question, all made, being useful for the altar of brafs, and the fire that was burnt thereon, and fleih that was fod, and lights that were thereahour.

and all the veffets of brafs wherewith they ministred ] There were other veffels then those that are here mentioned, needfull for the fervice done about the great brazen altar; and therefore this general is added to the particulars.

180k they amay | These being small, so as they might well be laid together; and being fit also for study uses in other places, they did not break in places, but carried them whole as they were, to Babylon.

... V. 15. And the fire pans | Thefe were to take fire from the great brazen Altar, and to carry it to the Altar of gold, to burn incenfe thereon; for they were of gold. and the bowls | Sec 1 King, 7.50.

and fact things as were of gold] There were fundry other things of gold, besides the fire-pans and bowls, 1 King. 7.48, &c. They are all comprized under this phraie.

in gold, and of filver in filver ] This phrase implyeth, that he carried away the golden and filver veffels in their kind, as he found them, and that diffinctly by themselves.

the Captain of the guard took away ] He brake them not, carried them whole as they were. See y. 14. With those which they took in the time of Jehoiachin, they dealt otherwife, chap. 14.13.

V. 16. The two pillars See v. 13. & 1 King. 7.15.

one Sea Heb. the one Sea. That Hebrai fin hath an empha fis. It was fo great, (1 King. 7.23.) as there needed no more then one; yet there were ten lavers made, 1 King. 7.38. and the bases which Solomon had made for the house of the Lord]

See 1 King, 7.17,8%c, the braffe of all these vessels was without weight ] See 1 King, the enen

V. 17. The beight of one pillar was eighteen cubits ] See 1 King. 7. 25. & Jer. 52. 21. and the Chapiter upon it was braffe ] Of the very fame metal and the Confirer spoots was orage | Or the very some metals whereof the body of the Pollar was.

and the beight of the Chapiter three cubits | Sec. King. 7.16.

and the wreathen work, and Pomegranus upon the Chapiter round about] See I King 7.17.

all of braffe] So fine and excellent was the brafs, as they might work it into any curious work. and like unto thele bad the fecond pillar with wreathen work 1 The two Pillars were every way uniform. V. 18. And the Captain of the guard | Sec. 8. Prieft. Of this mans pedegree, fee ( Chr. 6.14.15. It is there faid, that Jehozadak, who was Seraiahs fon, was carried into captivity by Nebuchadnezzar. Hence we may infer, ther both father and fon were taken ; but the father was flain at Riblah, ch, 5.21. and the fon carried into Babylon. and Zephaniah] This Zephaniah was the fon of Maafeiah, Jer. 37. 3. Hereby he is diffinguifhed from another Zephaniah, 1 Chr. 6.36. This Prieft was one of those whom Zedekiah fent to Jeremiah, to pray for them, Jer. 21.1. & 37.3. It feemeth, that he was a man of fome authority among the people, in that Shemaiah wrote to him from Babylon, to reprove Je-remish for writing to the captives at Babylon a comfortable letter, Jer. 20, 24,25, 27. There was a faithfull Prophet of the Lord of this name, but before this mans time, Zeph. 1.1 There is mention made of two good men , Joliah, and Hen, There's mention made to the captivity, Zach. 6. 10,14. But of choice that were featured from Zedekiah, when he field whether they were the fons of this man, or no, is uncertified from Jedekiah, when he field creetly our of Jerufalem, v. 5:

tain.
the fecond Prieft ] See chap. 3. 34. Zephaniah was next in office to the high Prieft, and chief over the Levites, Num. 3. 32. Seraiah and Zephaniah were now, as of old, Aaron and Eleazar : Eleazar and Phinchas, Zadok and Alumelech, Zadok and Abiathar, 2 Sam. 8.17. & 20.25.

and the three keepers of the door Heb. threshold. See ch. 12

9. 8: 22. 4. V. ro. And out of the City he took an Officer ] Or , Eunuch. See t King, 22.9. It feemeth that this Officer, and the two Priefts before mentioned, and the others following, lurked and five men of them ] It is faid, Jer. 52.25. that there were the things of the Temple were made, was very fine badle, LKing, 7. 25. The Chaldees therefore might well think it fore, and the Scribe following, and care will be a just agree.

ment; the number of leven will be thus made up, of these that were in the kings preferred. Heb, fan the kings face. These were great men, and of high place; either of the kings bed-chamber, or of his privy Countel. They were of fuch account with the king, and in fuch office, as they might, upon count with the rang, and at toth office, as they might, upon all occasions, have tree accelle to the king, to speak unto him face to face. See Extra 1.14, which were faund in the city.] See the first note on this verse, and the principal Scribes of the high. The stribes of the captain of the high contract of the captain of the high. The word translated stribe, is by four teacher for a proper name, as if it were thus translated, Sophar, Captain Advantages. of the hoft. Thus may he well be reputed to be the General of Zedekiahs army, as Naaman was General of the king of Sy. ria's army, ch.5.1. The fame phrase granslated, Captain of the hoft, is attributed both to Nasman, and alfo to this man which muftered the people of the land | This act was more proper to a Captain or General, then to a Scribe; and it confirms that which is noted, of taking Scribe (Heb. TED Sophar.) for a proper name and threefeere men of the people of the land Though they were not in any fpecial office, and therefore faid to be, of the people; yet they were not of the poorer and meaner fort; for such he lefe behinde, v. 13. But some wealthy men, such as feared to he furnrized that were found in the city] Where they had hid themselves. V. 20. And Nebuzaradan Captain of the guard] See v. 8. took these and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblab] See v. 6.

V. 21. And the King of Babylon fracte them 7 Sec v King.

and flew them? All those that were before mentioned, ver, 8, 19. that had taken part with Zedekiah, and counfelled him to break his covenant with the king of Babylon. who had got fome intelligence thereof, and therefore flew them; at least, they stood out to the uttermoft; and did. not go out to the king of Babylon, (as Jehoiachin and others did, chap. 24. 12.) and to put themselves into the power of at Riblah in the land of Hamsth] See v. 6. & ch. 23.33.

[6 Judah was carried away out of the land] Such as remained alive, and were not escap into other Countries, as v. 23.nor left by the king of Babylon in the land, as v. 22.

V. 22. And as for the people that remained in the land of Gudah] [cr. 40.5.9. These were such that had not obstinately stood out, but yielded to the king of Babylon, according to Jeremiahs frequent and earnest exhortations, Jer. 21.9. & 27.12, mans requent and carnet exportations, for.2.1.9, & 27.1.5, 10. $3.2.7.1.5, 10. $2.7.1. who was Gedaliah the fon of Amaziah, Zeph. 1.1.

ruler] As the king of Babylon left many of the poorer and meaner fore in the land of Judah; so also he lest fundry of the Chaldees, v. 25. Now he furmifed that there might be differences betwixt the people of different nations, and that the people left in Judea might raife tumults, if they bad not a Governour to keep them in order; therefore he substitutes Gedaliah, who was a Jew, but as all the circumstances of his hittory flow, a pious, a prudent, a meck fpirited man, who hearkned to the counfel of Jeremiah, and submitted himself with the firt, to the king of Babylon. Jeremiahs willingness to abide with Gedaliah, Jer. 40.5,6. gives proof of the pious and meek spirit of Gedaliah.

V. 13. And when all the Captains of the army Jer. 40.7. It is probable, that these Captains and their Souldiers were for to and their men] He means the Souldiers that were under rheir command heard that the King of Babylon had made Gedalish governour ] Such publike matters are foon divulged and spread abroad. there came to Gedaliah in Mig pab | Mizpah was a city in the tribe of Benjamin, Joh. 18.16. It was a frontier City betwixt the two kingdomsof Judah and Ifraci, 1 King, 15, 22. To this place might the people of all parts of the land come to him.

The great City Jerufalem being destroyed, this was the sittest place for him to abide in.

even Ishmael the son of Nathaniah ] See this man further de-

In the city after the enemy had taken it: But they were found for the city after the enemy had taken it: But they were found for the city after the enemy family and the city after the enemy family like was at least a Coloncly if such as we for ever the must of word the city and for the city and the city they and their men ] See the fecond note on this ver. 1.

V. 24. And Gedaliab [ware to them] That which he fware to them, was, that he would not betray them to the Chaldees, but rather protect them, and fuffer them to live quietly in the land. Of this he affured them by oath, that he might make them the more confidently reft upon him. See I King. 2.8.

and to their men | See v. 23.
and faid unto them, Feer up to be the fervants of the Chaldees] san jan since 1981, Rear 381 stocker jerosans of the Chandra. The Chaldees were those that had defroyed their City, and carried away most of their land into Babylon; the Jews there-fore had cause to fear them. But Gedaliah having received assurance from the king of Babylon, that they should not be molefted by any from hun, if they would remain faithful to him, labours to affure them also, that Nebuchadnezzar would keep his word; to as they need not fear them. He woma neep nis word; to as ney need not tear them. He puts in this to be tervants, to flew, that fidelity was required of them; and on that condition they need not tear.

dwell in the land] Make choyce of places and houses, where you think you may be most secure.

and serve the King of Babylon] Acknowledg him to be your Soveraign, and apply your felves to no other.
and is shall be well with you? You thall live quietly and se curely in the land, and enjoy the commodities thereof.

V. 15. And it came to passe in the seventh month.] This being a moneth wherein, by the destruction of Gedaliah, the land of Judah was brought into utter desolation, the Jews in capti vity kept an annual fast in this moneth, all the time that they were in captivity, Zach. 7.51. that Ibinate the fon of Neibaniah, the fon of Elifhama] This Ithmiael by his parentage, is diftinguished from Illumael the fon of Jehohanan, 2 Chron. 23 1, and fundry others of other of the [ced royall] Heb. of the kingdom. One that descended from David. Or was (as we use to say) of the blood-royal. This is added, to intimate the cause of his cruelty upon Gedalish; namely, envy and disdain, that one, whom he thought inferior to himself, should have the government committed to came, and ten men with him] These ten men were such as came with him from the King of Ammon; for that king put him on the more, to destroy Gedaliah, because the Aumonites did bear an investerate harred against the Israelites. See and from Gelalish, that be dyed They first came in appearance peaceably, and Gedaliah entertained them as friends; but while Gedaliah and others of his friends were feathing with this Ishmael, Ishmael treacherously flew him. Gedalial was fore-warned hereof before-hand; but he would not believe thereport that was brought to him against Ishmael: fo through his credulity and confidence in a notorious diffem-through mis creaming and chimoster in a hostonic minus-bler, as liftmacl was, he pertilited. See the flory hereof large-ly and diffin felly fer forth, Jer. 40.13,80. & 41.1,80. and the flow and Chaldherisha were wish binn as Mitpub] It was not only evry again (defallar), but allo a cruel minde against all that subjected themselves to him, whether Jews, or Chaldees, that made him to execute this crucky. He there-

Chaiges, max made min o execute us cuerly. He therefore delivoyes all that he could meet withal.

V. 16. And all the people both finall and great] They were truck with a great fear, that the king of Babylon, to revenge the blood that was thus treatheroully fined, would defiroy all that remained in the land of ludah.

and the Captains of the Army arole In this case, the men of war had no more courage then the common fort of people. They arose from the places of their habitations, to go out of that sand.

and come to Egypt ] They did not prefently go to Egypt.

There are many palfages of these Captains and people, noted by the Prophet Jeremiah, before they entred into Egypt. For fifth, they rescued from Ishmael such as he was carrying away firth, they released from I filmnel luch as he was carrying away captives to the Ammonites, Jer. 4.11, &c. After chast, they went to Jeremy, with a pretence, to know the minde of God, but differability, Jer. 4.11, &c. Yes further, when Jeremy had told them the minde of the Lord, they accuse him of fail him of the Lord, they accuse him of fail him of fa when they are in Egypt, Jeremy denounced from the Lord utter destruction against them in Egypt, Jer. 43. 8, &c. and HAT DESCRIPTION SEASUREMENT IN EXPIP, Jet. 43, 5, 6C. And 44, 1, 8C. Hecupon, this oblinate popel by the blame of all their milery upon the Propher, and upon the Lord who fren him, and judies themleties in their former idolatous courfes, and proced to continue therein, Jet. 44, 17, 8C. Thus they mire abily perifix.

Thus they micrably perith.

V. 27. And it came to pife in the feven and thriticib year of the capitairy of feboiachin king of feudabl. This was the fitty fifth year of his age. See chap. 24. 8. So long had Nebuchadnez-zar kept him in prifon, though he had voluntarily yielded himfelf unto him, chap, 24-12. But howfoever he had to many years fuffered imprisonment, yet because, upon the advice of a Propher of the Lord, he had yielded to his enemy, God preferved his life, and at length brought him out of prilon.

in the twelfib moneth, on the feven and twentierb day of the moneth This is faid, Jer. 52. 31. to be on the five and twentieth day. The work might be a day or two in effecting. The king of Babylon might confult about delivering Jeholachin, and might decree to do it on the five and twentieth day; but the publication and execution hereof night not be rill the fewen and twentieth day. Or he might be let out of prilon on the five and twentieth day, and lift up above other kings, and brought to the king of Babylons scale on the feven and twentieth.

this Evilmerodath king of Babylon ] This man was fon to this Evilmendath king of Bubjus J. This man was ion to Nebuchadnezzar. Hiftorians write that Nebuchadnezzar was so offended with this his son j, as he cast him into phion, and that in prison, he and Jehoiachin became acquainted together; and by that means found the favor that is hereafter mentioned. But whether that be true or no, fure it is, That God inclined the heart of Evilmerodach to favor, Jehoiain the yeer that be began to raigu] So foon as he had the power in his own hands, he showed mercy to that poor captive king.

By this account Nebuchadnezzar raigned fourty four years: for he began his raign in the fourth yeer of Jehoiakim, Jere, 25. 1. who raigned seven yeers after that: Adde to those feven, feven and thirty of Jehoiachins imprisonment, and they make up fourtyfour.

did life up the head of Febriachin king of Judah, out of prifon.] at all the flat access of grounding by Junea, way friend, the buile of studying. For men in pulso are included. By Ifting up the head, he means an alteration of the condision, or a delivering of the person of Jehnachin. Prilippers use to hang down the head, Gen. 49. 13. But when they are keed, they cheeffully siles up the bead.

ency cheeriniyaite up the bead.

V. 28. And he flack finally to him.] Heb, good thing: with him. Thus is this phratic 'ulpd,' r king, 22.7. Jet., a.e. under this phrafe of fpeaking kindly, is comprided a friendly coutage, fall' dealing, and besttowing anany good things upon and fet his throne above the throne of the kings Byachrone is meant a civil efface. The king of Babylon afforded fome vidences of a royal dignity, to fuch kings as he held in cap-

king.
that were with him in Babylan Whom fill he retained out of their own dominions; in the city where his own royal throne wase and this much tended to the amplification of his drone wase and this much tended to the amplification of his on royalty. V. 3.9. Midchaged bit prifin german: I Prifoners in prifion after towers mean apparel: but the king of Babylon ordered, that the king of Jadah being freed our of prifin, floodly went royal apparel; Jack a become a lang. This implyes an alternation of his former miferable condition, as Pall, 3.0.11. and he tild a stream? I he did meal, or, he did dime and fip. Bread is put for all maner of inflemance, Desurd, 3.0.11. Appendix mily I has been did not proved to the property of the pro holds properly, folong as Jehoiachin lived.

V. 30. And his allowance was a continual allowance] For himfelf, and for his retinue, elf, and for his retinue. given him of the hing] At the kings cost and charges, a daily rate] A fex allowance provided for him every day, for every day] Heb. The things of a day, in his day. Of this phrafe, fee & King 8. 79.

the state of the s

Some commence and the second commence of the ANNOTATIONS

On the fielt Book of the en signal in the signal to so the control of the co HAVING THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF THE PART

The general Argument of the two Books of Chronicles, He two Books of Chronicles weight de combiled in one. They both contain an History of three thousand fair fair hundred fifty and feen year at these; even from Adam, the sins man, (1 Chron. 1.1) to the vision of the Haelice from the Bahylonish capitaity 2 Chr. 36, 22. Yea, the genealey of Davids posserity is exceeded for surface. I Chr. 2419,862. There was the same perman of the two Books of Chronicles, than must be the band of Erra, as appears by the mo last wester of the second Book of Chronicles, and Chronices, who was o we can of exts, as appears of the two lays veries of the Jecond Book of Chronicles, and the three first of the book of Exas. Which are almost, the Jame, word for word. By this is appears, that they need provide the indicate in a second in the property of the Histories were taking out of records, that work top the form of the Histories were taking out of records, that work top the form of the Priests, or Levites, all the time of the Application.

The special Argument of the first Book of the Chronicles.

A N History of two thousand nine hundred feur seven years, is registed in the first Book of Chro-Anities. Of them, was thousand nine hundred sourty and seven years are passed over so recting Genealogies; Faitiles. Of them, we thousand time hundred journy and joven years are payled over, bux ceiting Genealogies; a few first fifth original pellages being been and there inferred, and the data by Saul added thereto, 1 Chron. 10. The leavest fifth of Saul added thereto, 1 Chron. 10. The leavest fifth of the same of God providing in preferring his Church, generation, after generation, and memorials thereof. For the Genealogies are far the melt part, of fuch as appearing to the thought for the first Took, is every more are added about the alls of David, in the time of his reign, with whole death the first Took is every

The Title.

The first Book This diffinction is expressed, by reason of the division of the Chronicles , as the Church hath under for many generations. See the general Argument.

Afthy Committee 1 A Chronicle is a register of Acts done, time after time. The Hebrew title is, words of Acts done, time after time. The Hebrew title is, words of Acts on, the character of Acts done, time after time. The Hebrew title is, words of Acts or, or, decided fages; which importes the fame that the title Chronicles doth. The Greek title 18. of contrasters, Remainders, This title hath relation to the Books of Kings; as if the Books of Corposites hid gathered up what the Books of Kings had left out. True it is, that in the Books of the Kings sheep are frequent references to the Book of the Chronicles; but thefe Books of facred Chronicles cannot be there means because they were not then penned. See the general Argament of these Books. Besides, many things there referred to the Books of the Chronicles, are not found in these Books.

man and woman, Gen. 1, 27, 2nd 2, 23, and 3, 22, 24, Yea, and all man-kinde as Gen. 5, 6, 6 Pfalm. 82, 7, Sheh] In this first genealogie, the names onely of men of Abel. In this respect it is faid of Enoth the think that then began ments all upon the name of the Lord, Gentland to of the first managiven to him by reason of the mould out of which was the casts, Gentland to the control of the mould out of which was the casts, Gentland to the control of the mould out of which was the casts, Gentland to the control of the mould out of which was the casts, Gentland to the control of the mould out of which was the casts, Gentland to the control of the control o they begat ions and augusters. See Gen. 5. 12,600, 1989. V. 3. Herood) This man is expreshy faid to be the seventh from Adam, and this genealogy declarest for to be. 4th prophered in his time of Christs coming unto judgement. nhà and woman, Gen. 1-37, and 2-13. and 3, 1-2-4. Yea, and all mass kinde, as Gen. 26. & Pollan S. 7. and all mass kinde, as Gen. 26. & Pollan S. 7. and an age of a work of the control o Shein his jeg and to in the cett. This Shein was not admis j acceptance thereof, it is take that he was not a cert in the fill on, Cain was his fifting, Cain, s. s. He was not on cards after the three hims policity were an implois generation, and belonged not to jet disking and they was followed by the Church. Abel was Adams next fon; but he before he him that he should not see death. The translation was the cuntil. Auct was causin next our, for me, requests plant and the mount necessary. And translation was, half by the hold of the mean and the mean Acets deart, herth was born and then name succu was given unto him, because he was put or appointed inflead of innortality to immortality. Thus was he translated as Hilled Acet, 2610-475. For Shelah figuified, put placed, or, and placed of plantages of the proposed of the plantages of the plant Begil. This was the first and claim fon of Sheth; and as the indicate of the sheet of this world. I sheet of the sheet of